On the basis of information which has been developed in the course of investigating [redacted] and her family of New York City, together with information supplied by G-2 and a Bureau informant, it would appear that members of the America First Committee entertain the hope that the Committee may again become a political force; that they are biding their time in contemplation of this eventuality, despite the fact that the organization ostensibly concluded its activities following the entrance of the United States into the war. The above-mentioned Bureau informant has reported that the Committee has now gone underground under the leadership of Charles A. Lindbergh.

With regard to Lindbergh, you will recall my memorandum of January 29, 1942, setting forth the fact that it was developed through technical surveillance in the course of investigating [redacted] that Lindbergh spoke at length on December 17, 1941, at a dinner meeting of members of the America First Committee assembled at the home of Edwin S. Webster, Jr., 35 Beekman Street, New York City. Webster was New York Secretary of the Committee. It is recalled that Lindbergh stated that for years America has been speaking of the "Yellow Peril," yet we are now fighting on the side of the Russians and Chinese. It was reported that Lindbergh appeared discouraged with the United States Government on account of the fact that in his opinion it has no plan nor does it know for what it is fighting.

It is also recalled that my memorandum of January 29, 1942, set forth a communication received from G-2 with regard to this meeting addressed by Lindbergh on December 17, 1941. This communication sets forth the gist of Lindbergh's remarks, according to reports of two persons who were present, as follows: (S-1)(Q)

"There is only one danger in the world - that is the yellow danger. China and Japan are really bound together against the white race. There could only have been one efficient weapon against this alliance, underneath the surface. Germany itself could have been this weapon. The ideal set-up would have been to have had Germany take over Poland and Russia, in collaboration with the British, as bloc against the yellow people and bolshevism. But instead, the British and the fools in Washington had to interfere. The British envied the Germans and wanted to rule the world forever. Britain is the real cause of all the trouble in the world today (S-1)(Q)

"Of course, America First cannot be active right now. But it should keep on the alert and when the large missing lists and losses are published the American people will realize how much they have been betrayed by the British and the Administration. Then America First can be a political force again. We must be quiet a while and wait the time for active functioning. There may be a time soon when we can advocate a negotiated peace." (S-1)(Q)

ACTION

Inasmuch as it appears that the America First Committee is being revived and may be contemplating activities detrimental to the war effort of the United States, a memorandum has been prepared relative to the structure, activities, and connections of the Committee as it was organized prior to its allegedly going out of existence following our entry into the war. A memorandum of transmittal of the above-mentioned memorandum has been prepared for the Attorney General, together with an appropriate letter of transmittal to the White House. The cover memorandum to the Attorney General and the letter to the White House contain the pertinent information relative to the recent reports concerning the revival of the America First Committee as an underground organization.

The activities of the America First Committee will be closely followed on the basis of reports concerning its revival as an underground organization. In this connection the Attorney General is being advised that an investigation will be conducted into the various ramifications and connections of the Committee, unless in his opinion reason obtains for not conducting such investigation.

Respectfully,

D. M. Ladd

[redacted] was certain that the organization had completely disbanded following the declaration of war and that no further activities of any kind were being carried on. Gentlemen:-

I am quite interested in the protection, etc. of the United States and the Allies, being an American citizen and British descent.

I am very well aware of the fact that there is a lot of feeling in this City for Germany, whether they are naturalized or not - it makes no difference with most of them. I have a lady friend who long before the war became a very good friend of mine - she is from Germany and is a naturalized citizen. She told me herself that she has three brother-in-laws here in Detroit and they work in defense plants and that they did everything they could do, to the last, to keep from doing defense work, as, of course, they are helping make things which the allies are using to fight their own relatives in Germany.

So I feel that these naturalized Germans are the boys who cause a lot of trouble in the factories here - they tell me that plenty of these large machines break down, for no good reason, and that production is held up in many ways. I do not trust one of them as far as I can see them and I guess no good loyal American does.

Another thing, I heard over the radio from some radio commentator that the America First Committee was going to be investigated, contributions, where to, from whom, etc., I do hope that the FBI will do this very thing, especially in this City, it will maybe do a lot of good and show where the most of the feeling lies. There is a man by the name of Gerald L. K. Smith here, who is no better.

April 6,1942;

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge,
Washington D.C
Dear Senator Lodge.

I am hoping that this letter will reach you after you have returned refreshed from your Easter recess. It is about something which troubles me very much because of its sinister implications

We all know that the Amtorg Company in New York formerly was the headquarters of the OGPU but now that Russia has become sacro sanct and no one must breathe a word of criticism about her I fear that thosheadquarters have spread all over the country. And that Boston is not free from their sinister practices.

To be specific. At the out-break of the warthe younger men of American First enlisted. And quite privately entre nous from what I have observed in the face of one of them at least,I should say that the War Department was making him pay for his beliefs. I saw him to-day and he looked like a man who had been tortured. I hardly knew him. They made him kitchen police and i it is possible that hard work has produced the change. To go on— The women of the party continued to keep in touch with each other by meeting once a month at lunch,but of course not carrying on their former activities. Now suddenly they have been subjected enquiry by the FBI on charges of subversive activities. It came to them as a complete surprise. They have no idea who is at the bottom of it but suspect that one of their members is a traitor At least,she brought one day two women as guests and throughout the meeting these women took notes of what was happening in shor hand, Nobody asked why because they had been accepted as guests of a friend. And it was after their visit that the investigation began.

Also the Secretary was visited by women who urged her to bring the members into a peace society and she thought that they were trying to trap her. But she kept clear of them.

Now my contention is - that if we are not to be treated to the methods of the OGPU,they have a right to know who sent the investigators and why.

I do not altogether accept their explanation because another seems just as plausible to me . It could be the Wilkie campaign carried on under coverhe having announced his intention of purging the Republican party of America First members. Of course there is Bushnell to help with all his power - he could be an OGPU all by himself and no one who heard him speak at the Republican meeting can doubt where he stands. Claiming Wilkie as a leader. Then there was Wilkie's rally at the Women's Republican Club a short while ago when he spoke of the Republican leaders adding modestly " Of which I am one."

And then there are the Agar-Eichelberger combinatio who held the red rally in Symphony Hall last winter,shrieking with joy when the red flag was unfolded. To play the Internationale it seems has become a commonplace.

I am writing to you entirely on my own iniative without the knowledge of the others. But this is what I am insisting - if we are not already a totalitarian state they have a right to know the names of their accusers and of what they are accused. With specific, explicit statements. Let those short hand women read to some authority what they wrote - although I am not sure that it would not be a garbled version of what ever they heard

Please help me in this. Once before you showed a letter of mine to J. Edgar Hoover and got his advice. Cannot you put the case to him hypothetically without names or places ?

Yours very sincerely,

Re: AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE;
INTERNAL SECURITY - C.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated April 25, 1942 confirming information and instructions telephonically communicated to Special Agent [redacted] of this office by Supervisor [redacted] of the Bureau, on April 23, 1942 and concerning the examination of material relating to subversive activities in the possession of [redacted] by Mr. SAMUEL BISGYER, of the Special Defense Unit of the Department.

On April 28, 1942, following several days of contact with Mr. BISGYER, Special Agent [redacted] of this office, accompanied Mr. Bisgyer in his call upon [redacted] New York City. However, at the time of this interview [redacted] informed that all of the material in question had been returned by him some time ago to [redacted] and who is known to the Bureau and the New York field office. b7c b7c

At this time [redacted] advised that he had secured such material which pertained to subversive activities, particularly concerning the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, in contemplation of writing a series of articles or a book exposing certain Fifth Column activities in the United States. He spoke considerably, and with apparent sincerity, about the necessity of exposing such activities through journalistic efforts and his hope that such could be accomplished with the cooperation of the Department of Justice and other governmental agencies.

It should be noted that at the time of this interview, [redacted] mentioned that he understands that [redacted] mentioned above, and from whom he had secured his material and to whom he had returned it, is about to publish a book of a similar nature, although he indicated that he questioned the veracity of any matter set forth by [redacted]

Subsequent to the interview with [redacted] Mr. BISGYER indicated to accompanying agent that it was his belief that most of the material in ques-

[redacted] had furnished considerable material upon the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE and similar organizations. Such material was produced by [redacted] and upon examination proved to be reports of his informants relating to activities and personnel of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE prior to its official dissolution in December of 1941. A preliminary examination of such proved it to be largely worthless material in the nature of bare allegations, Mr. BISGYER so expressing his opinion. However, arrangements were made with [redacted] for further and more detailed examination of the material in his possession and for the furnishing of duplicate copies of such to the New York Field office where such is possible. It is anticipated that this will be accomplished within the near future and any material of value concerning the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE will be included in reports of the investigation of it which is presently being conducted and any other information of interest from such source will be promptly furnished the Bureau.

TITLE	CHARACTER OF CASE
AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE	INTERNAL SECURITY:G

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Investigation has disclosed that the America First Committee has apparently never been active in downstate Illinois, although a few meetings were held prior to the outbreak of war with Japan, and that no activities of the Committee are presently being carried on in the Springfield division. The Lincoln Park Chapter of this Committee was chartered on July 24, 1941 by the Corporation Division, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois, but no information available at Springfield as to its present activities as same are apparently centered in and around Chicago.

- R.U.C. -

REFERENCE: Bureau letter dated March 16, 1942.

DETAILS: Upon receipt of referenced Bureau letter appropriate inquiry was instituted in all principal communities in the Springfield division with a view to ascertaining the extent of activities of the America First Committee prior to United States entry into this war, as well as the extent of the Committee's present activities in this division.

AT SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS

Interviews were conducted by the writer with numerous sources of information in this city, including the following:

It was ascertained through these sources that the America First Committee had never had an organization in Springfield and had never held any meetings here, nor is there any indication of any present membership in Springfield in this organization.

It may be stated that about one year ago Agent attended a public debate held at the Centennial Building, Springfield, between a representative of the America First Committee and a representative of the Committee to Defend America by Defending the Allies. This was attended in a personal and not an official capacity. The writer does not recall the names of the speakers but does recall that both were from Chicago, the representative of the America First Committee being an instructor at the University of Chicago. Debate was very mild and nothing was mentioned which could be construed as subversive.

AT DECATUR, ILLINOIS

Agent personally contacted the individuals listed below regarding this matter:

It was ascertained from the above individuals that this Committee had never had a branch in Decatur, although a public meeting was held in Decatur in the early part of 1941, at which a Chicago America First speaker gave an address. All of the above informants advised that the Committee is totally defunct so far as Decatur is concerned and that there is no indication of any underground movements allied with this organization.

b7C
b7D

AT PEORIA, ILLINOIS

[redacted] advised Special Agent [redacted] that only two meetings of the America First Committee were held in Peoria and that these were during summer of 1941. An effort was made at that time to get the organization going in Peoria and the American Legion kept in close touch with the situation. However, the entire project fell through due to the fact that no one could be prevailed upon to be a candidate for any of the official positions in the organization. [redacted] He advised that since those meetings there has been no attempt whatever to revive the organization.

AT DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

The following individuals were contacted by Special Agent [redacted] b7c relative to this matter:

These informants stated that the Committee had never been active in Danville and that it has never had nor does it now have any semblance of an organization here.

AT CHAMPAIGN, URBANA, ILLINOIS

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] b7c

[redacted] was contacted and he advised that at one time an attempt was made to organize an America First Committee [redacted] but their petition to organize was tabled [redacted] and no further attempt was made. Since that time no other organizations of similar nature have sprung up. [redacted] could provide the petition and other correspondence regarding the Committee.

[redacted] which stated that a petition was received from [redacted] b7c b7D acting Chairman and requesting permission for the recognition of the America First Committee.

[redacted] also furnished the petition in this instance which listed the following people as petitioners: [redacted] b7c

There was a letter in the files [redacted] dated [redacted] addressed to the America First Committee, [redacted] quoted as follows: "Dear Friends: We wish you success in the organization of an America First Chapter and should like to contribute to your chapter if you will please write that you received this letter. Father O'BRIEN is doing so much for our cause that we should gladly help to defray the expense of bringing him here as a speaker. With sufficient publicity we feel Father O'BRIEN would draw a large audience and create such enthusiasm that America First would grow strong in this locality" and was signed [redacted] and [redacted].

[redacted] advised he had never had any indication that the America First Committee was ever organized or ever held any meetings in Champaign-Urbana and neither were there organizations of similar character in existence at the present time.

[redacted] He advised that the America First Committee was never organized in Champaign-Urbana but was only in the discussion stage; that not too much interest was taken in it and so it just faded out of the picture. [redacted] said that [redacted] had been the most active one in getting the petition signed [redacted] Further, he stated that there were no organizations of a similar nature that he knew of now located in Champaign, Urbana.

AT ROCK ISLAND AND MOLINE, ILLINOIS

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

[redacted] advised that the Chairman of the America First Committee Chapter in Moline was J. R. ROSBOROUGH a young attorney who is highly reputable and thoroughly patriotic and loyal. He stated that Mr. ROSBOROUGH could be contacted discreetly for any information desired concerning the activities of the America First Committee.

[redacted] advised that he agreed [redacted] inasmuch as he honestly believed at one time that every effort should be made to prevent this country's becoming involved in the war. He stated that the Committee did not meet with much success in Moline and Rock Island; that it had about two meetings which were fairly well attended and received a small number of memberships in this locality. [redacted] advised further that in accordance with the expressed position of the Committee he was certain that all activity had ceased in this chapter [redacted]

[redacted] whose identity is known to the Bureau, advised that so far as he knows there has been no attempt made to retain a nucleii within the now defunct Moline Chapter of the America First Committee, which was the only one in Rock Island and Moline, Illinois. In this connection he advised, however, that he had heard that there had been some such attempt to maintain some organization among the former members of the Davenport, Iowa Chapter of the Committee. He could furnish no more specific information regarding this report.

AT EAST ST. LOUIS, ILLINOIS

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

E. R. MCHALE, Assistant United States Attorney, who is a member of the American Legion and who follows civic affairs closely, advised that he had never seen any indication of the above Committee in East St. Louis.

[redacted] stated that there had been no indication that this Committee had functioned in this city. He checked the [redacted] with negative results. He mentioned that [redacted] who had been an Officer of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, would be able to furnish definite information in this regard.

[redacted] stated that the America First Committee apparently never established a branch in East St. Louis. He said on one occasion it was announced that a speaker representing this committee would speak at the City Hall, and he said a check revealed that either two or three people attended this meeting. He commented that this Committee apparently had a good deal of strength in St. Louis, Missouri and he thought it likely that a number of residents of East St. Louis had attended some of the public rallies of the Committee in St. Louis.

The persons interviewed stated there was not the slightest indication of any activity on the part of the Committee in the vicinity at present.

AT SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS

Reference is made to Chicago letter dated April 17, 1942 in which this office was requested to obtain certain information concerning the incorporation of the Lincoln Park Branch of the America First Committee.

In accordance with that request the records of the Corporation Division, Secretary of States's office in Springfield were checked and it was ascertained that the Lincoln Park Chapter, America First Committee, was chartered by the Corporation Division on July 24, 1941, certificate #11366. The object of the corporation, as set out in its certificate of incorporation, is quoted as follows: "To encourage and maintain in the United States of America, 1. peace and the democratic ideal, 2. program of adequate defense, 3. in furtherance of peace in this continent a policy of non-intervention in the affairs of other continents."

The Incorporators and Directors for the first year are listed in order.
E. T. KIEHL, 440 West Huron street, Chicago
H. E. LARSON, 1044 West Byron Street, Chicago
C. O. SANDS, 111 West Washington street, Chicago

The business office of the Corporation is listed as being located at 3752 North Clark Street, Chicago.

It was further ascertained that this corporation had not yet filed the annual report of its activities, which was due in February 1942, and that unless same is filed in the immediate future steps will be taken by the Secretary of State to dissolve the Corporation. No further information concerning this organization is available at Springfield.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

DATE 10-17-90 BY SP1 [illegible]

On March 12, 1942, Mr. Henry Paynter of the War Productions Board called at my office with reference to the attached clipping covering the recent speech of Donald Nelson. He pointed out that the WPB was very much disturbed since it appeared that the Navy Ordnance was on the verge of breaking relations with the WPB.

By way of background, Paynter advised me confidentially that the full conversion program of the automobile and other industries would not be worked out until August or September, and right now the WPB schedule was only 50 per cent on schedule in production; that the only possible way of making any progress was to speed up industry by putting pressure on for longer hours and fuller use of productive equipment. Further, that Nelson is exerting terrific pressure on industry to speed up and there is some fear that labor might revolt.

The fear that the Navy might break with WPB is based upon the fact that the Navy has indicated they feel that Nelson's pressure might have a tendency toward Sovietizing American industry.

Paynter has reason to believe that the Navy opinion came as a result of [redacted] pointed out that [redacted] is very close to [redacted] and that [redacted] had apparently persuaded [redacted] and in turn [redacted] the Navy, that at present the production drive had dangerous ramifications in that Nelson was asking labor to give up its rights.

Paynter told me that the Timkin Ball Bearing Company was a competitor of S.K.F. [redacted] according to Paynter, has no connection whatever with Wenner-Gren.

Paynter also pointed out that [redacted] on the recommendation of [redacted] was employed on a consultant basis with the Navy Department. [redacted] it will be recalled, is [redacted]

Late yesterday I received a telegram from Paynter advising that [redacted] was secretly paid by [redacted] was the chief secret financial backer of the America First Committee and that [redacted] was a secret paid adviser to Mr. Lindbergh, General Wood, and Senator Wheeler. [redacted] according to Paynter, told a former partner that he would fight for Germany under certain conditions. Paynter pointed out he expected more information within the next day or two.

RECOMMENDATION:

Insofar as the Henry Paynter request is concerned no action is necessary on the part of the Bureau, although an Assistant Secretary of the Navy did write a letter to the Bureau requesting information on [redacted] last week. As soon as Paynter returns to Washington I will get all of the details from him, and it is entirely possible that some of his information might be of assistance in the current investigation of the America First Committee.

Paynter talked to [redacted] who paid [redacted] through [redacted] In this connection [redacted] stated that [redacted] did not want payments made in such a way that they could be checked. Paynter stated a friend of his called [redacted] on the phone; that [redacted] stated [redacted] had stumbled on to a plot to make industr walk the greased plank. In this connection, [redacted] told Paynter that [redacted] hates Russia, and that prior to the German invasion of Russia, he made the statement that he would fight with Germany should Germany ever fight Russia.

I asked Paynter if they were going to advise any high officials in the Government. He stated he didn't think so.

I feel that we should talk to [redacted] immediately, and certainly if he makes a statement about Bard, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, I believe the White House should be advised about it.

Produce Now Or Be Slaves, Nelson Says

Blunt Notice Served On Management and Labor by WPB Chief, Fears Public Wrath

Production Director Donald M. Nelson last night delivered labor and management a blunt warning that they had "a last chance" to cooperate in an intensified drive for munitions manufacture, and that if they failed the "flames of public wrath" would consume the standards of American freedom and force production by totalitarian methods.

Speaking in the second of his series of radio broadcasts to the Nation, Nelson said the way he proposed to increase production was for the Government to set the schedules, supply the materials and make the facilities available, leaving labor and management to "bend every conceivable effort" from that point on.

But if this method fails, he said, in the face of an enemy who uses the "way of bondage, of force," the necessity of having weapons so "transcends all other matters in the public mind, either political or economic," that neither free labor nor the principles of free enterprise by management could survive the resulting public wrath.

Dramatically Simple

In one of the most dramatic appeals for labor-management cooperation in recent months, Nelson painted a simple picture of "tackling this thing in the traditional American way—getting together, cooperatively, to fight the thing through to a finish."

[redacted] want to buy [redacted] and quick," Nelson declared, "We tell you, now as that today before the American people. That is our last chance to show that a free economy can survive and be strong. If free men in America don't use the strength which freedom gives to turn in a far better job than the slaves of [redacted] economies, then freedom [redacted] and that, I may add, includes the freedom of enterprise to which we are looking to deliver these goods."

The public, Nelson said is far from complacent and wants production with such "intensity of feeling" that it will make sure it gets it "one way or another."

Wants Part-time Use

Indicating the possibilities of the drive he announced last week to raise existing production rates by 25 per cent, Nelson said that if all equipment now involved in war production were used 24 hours a day, seven days a week, "we would practically double the man-hours" now going into military production.

Nelson noted that 20 per cent of American war plants now operate only five or five and one-half days a week. Many plants, he added, close on Sundays. In many others, the second shift uses only 40 per cent of the plant facilities, and the third shifts use only 20 per cent.

This, he concluded, means that thousands of machines needed for munitions work now stand idle part or all of every weekend and from 9 to 16 hours every weekday.

In another illustration, the production boss said that if the facilities of all the Nation's 31 aircraft engine and propeller plants were used to the same extent as those of the three with the best records, production could be increased immediately by 26 per cent.

Similarly, if all of America's 180 machine-tool factories operated at the same level of utilization as the top three, machine-tool output would be stepped up by 45 per cent, he said.

Admitting a "slack" production, Nelson insisted there was no single cause, and that blaming any one group, or "smearing," or "name-calling" would not help.

Nelson acknowledged that the cooperation he asked between labor and management would not be easy and said he was aware of the "tradition of mutual rivalry and suspicion in some plants vital to our war production."

Also Must Share Sacrifice

"But," he added, "I was never surer of anything in my life than I am that we either work together for the common good or we shall inevitably share the common evil of defeat."

"We have but little time. That time has been bought at the price of American boys fighting on lonely islands, in steaming jungles; by American boys aboard storm-tossed warships warding off the death that strikes from the clouds and from beneath the wave; by American boys fighting in the best warplanes in the world, planes of which we must make more and more fast. If through selfishness, inertia, indifference or any other cause we let them down, then the American people will damn us forever more," he said.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

Call: 8:15 p.m.

Henry Paynter called to advise me concerning [redacted] He does not want to be contacted at his office at all.

[redacted] He has had somewhat of a change of heart since then, although not a complete change. He has very strong ideas on witch-hunting and he does not wish to be a party to anything of that sort. He is willing to tell all about America First, including his relations with [redacted] but he does not want his name involved in any way. b7c

Paynter further advised that this contact was made for him through a man by the name of [redacted] talked to [redacted] on long-distance today and arranged for Paynter to talk to him.

I told Paynter to tell [redacted] that we would have an agent contact him within the next few days.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

As of possible interest to you, information has recently been received from a confidential source that a disagreement has arisen between the Navy Ordnance Bureau and the War Production Board over acceleration of production. It was stated that this possible rift was based upon the fact that the Navy feels that the program as outlined by Donald M. Nelson is a step toward Sovietizing American industry.

The informant continuing, states it is his belief that [redacted] had persuaded [redacted] of the Navy and others that the production drive had dangerous ramifications. It will be recalled that [redacted] presumably upon the recommendation of [redacted] was retained on a consultant basis with the Navy Department [redacted] you will recall, is [redacted]

At about the time of the origin of the America First Committee, [redacted] allegedly made the acquaintance of [redacted], the arranged to influence him with a view to guiding the activities and policies of the America First Committee. In this regard, he reportedly lavishly and continuously associated Charles A. Lindbergh, General Robert E. Wood, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, and other leaders associated with the America First Committee, although he kept his affiliation carefully concealed.

[redacted] in January, 1941, reportedly proposed to [redacted] and others that he felt it desirable to raise a fund of $50,000 to open an office in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of magnifying developments and creating publicity which would embarrass the President, Harry Hopkins, Leon Henderson, and others. This Committee would also provide material which could be used against the Administration in the coming Congressional elections. Along these lines, it is reported that [redacted] was successful in raising between $35,000 and $40,000 for the establishment of this office through the following individuals:

b7c

Further, [redacted] reportedly with the assistance of [redacted] mentioned above, arranged a meeting in Chicago during January or February, 1941, with leading figures in the America First Committee, for the purpose of soliciting funds to open the above-mentioned office in Washington, D. C. [redacted] on one occasion, expressed his sympathies to the effect that if Russia entered the war against Germany, he would join the German Army and fight for Germany. It was stated to be the opinion of those who should know, that [redacted] was making an effort to sabotage the American war effort, and that he had completely justified his position in his own mind.

Another individual has reportedly explained the activities of [redacted] in discrediting the production drive as follows, [redacted] has uncovered a plot of a group in Washington to make American industry walk the greased plank." It has also been stated that [redacted] is apparently of the belief that it is his duty to "rescue the country from the New Deal even if we lose to Hitler."

With further reference to [redacted] he admittedly has financed the America First movement and has taken an active part in furthering its policies. He also admits close association with [redacted] in that work. However, he reportedly has not recently been in [redacted] with him. It is understood also that the business associates of [redacted] are somewhat concerned over his attitude toward the present war since he has expressed himself to the effect that the President should have kept the United States out of war and that he expected this country to lose the present conflict. b2c

I thought it desirable to bring this matter to your personal attention since [redacted] is now affiliated with the Navy Department, and in view of the allegation by the confidential source mentioned hereinbefore that he was possibly responsible for the rift stated to now exist between the Navy Ordnance Bureau and the War Production Board.

This material is being submitted to you for any action deemed appropriate, and I wish to state for your guidance that I am in no position to vouch for the reliability of the sources of the information supplied.

Dear Bob:

On my trip to New York, I ran into something quite unrelated to the purpose of my trip that I thought I ought to tell you about.

I may be taking too grave a view of the circumstances, but what I ran into seems to me to be a serious, organized threat to sabotage our production drive from very questionable quarters.

In short, it would appear that a man now retained by the Navy to handle their end of the drive is actually a man who was the secretly paid publicity adviser of the America First movement, Lindbergh, Wood, Wheeler, and a man who also has secretly solicited large sums of money to maintain and operate an office here in Washington set up for the sole purpose of embarrassing the Administration in its war effort, with a view to the coming Congressional elections.

The man is [redacted] and he was retained by James Forrestal, Under Secretary of the Navy, by letter dated March 4, 1942.

[redacted].

[redacted] was secretly paid by [redacted] became a principal financial supporter of the America First movement.

[redacted]. While I was in New York, I called on several of them for the purpose of

COPIES DESTROYED 3/16/44 K-16

explaining the nature and urgency of our production drive. As you know, this was not my mission in New York, but I had some time between appointments and thought it would be useful to tell personal acquaintances about the campaign. I told them it seemed to me that our national safety might depend on how much complete, wholehearted cooperation we got from industrial and financial management circles in the next six weeks.

I found that a number of them had the impression that the Management-Labor Committee plan, adopted from English experience, was said to be a "plot to Sovietize America." I explained to them that the origin of this version was the Berlin radio on March 4 (about which we have talked before and about which Mr. Nelson made his speech last week). One friend of mine mentioned the name of [redacted] in this connection. I do not wish to embarrass this friend under any circumstances as it so happens that he is a man who does have and will continue to have occasional personal relations with [redacted].

However, as a result of the statement, I naturally made some further inquiries.

Among other persons, I talked to [redacted] formerly with [redacted] has been an acquaintance of mine for some years. He left that firm and became the partner of [redacted] in January 1939. [redacted] now holds a responsible position [redacted].

[redacted] told me that when he first went to work with [redacted] that he, [redacted] both held strong isolationist views. When the America First movement developed, they were interested in it. [redacted] made the acquaintance of [redacted]

[redacted] arranged to finance [redacted] in order to have [redacted] guide the America First movement, according to [redacted] said that [redacted] insisted on concealing the payments that were being made through [redacted].

In this connection, [redacted] regularly and continually counseled Lindbergh, Wood, Wheeler and other leaders associated with the America First movement, although he kept his connection carefully concealed.

[redacted] said that about a year ago [redacted] proposed to [redacted] and to others that it would be a good idea to raise a fund of $50,000 to open an office in Washington for the purpose of magnifying developments here in order to creat publicity which would embarrass the President, Harry Hopkins, Leon Henderson, and others in order to provide material which could be used against the Administration in the coming Congressional Elections.

[redacted] said that he was beginning to change his views about the America First movement and that this latest plan of [redacted] caused him to decide to break with [redacted] Prior to his break, he said that [redacted] gave him to understand that [redacted] had raised all but about $10,000 or $15,000 of the $50,000 from the following persons:

[redacted] made it clear that he had no evidence that these men had put up the money, but said that [redacted] had told him that. He said that [redacted] also told him that [redacted] helped him arrange a meeting in Chicago during January or February of 1941 with a number of figures active in America First financing in order to solicit funds for the purpose of maintaining the Washington office to discredit the Roosevelt Administration.

b7C

In the course of their discussion about dissolving their partnership, [redacted] said that [redacted] told him that if Russia went to war with Germany, [redacted] would join the German army and fight for Germany.

[redacted] told me that he would be willing to tell the above story under oath to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to Congress, or to any other appropriate Federal questioner.

He said that it was his honest belief that [redacted] was making an effort to sabotage our war effort and that he thought [redacted] had completely justified his position to himself. [redacted] said that he called [redacted] had explained [redacted] present activities in discrediting the production drive by saying:

"[redacted] has uncovered a plot of a group in Washington to make American industry walk the greased plank."

[redacted] said that [redacted] believed it was his duty to "rescue the country from the New Deal even if we lose to Hitler."

I was informed by responsible men in Wall Street that [redacted] has recently been in close communication related matters with former president, Herbert Hoover.

[redacted] admitted to me on a rather personal basis that he had been dealing with [redacted] in this matter, but he was quite surprised when I told him the above connections of [redacted] Since [redacted] talked quite frankly to me on a personal basis, I should not like to embarrass him in this connection. b7C

I talked to [redacted] in his office at [redacted] and he admitted that he had financed the America First movement and had taken an active part in it and had had close association with [redacted] in that work. [redacted] told me he has recently married and has not recently been in touch with [redacted] and said that he would get in touch with him and request him not to do anything to interfere with the war production effort. [redacted] said that he thought the President could have and should have kept us out of war and that he expected we would lose the war. He did not seem greatly disturbed about this prospect. He did say that he thought no one should interfere with the war effort but did believe that "an opposition must be maintained."

Through mutual friends, I learned that [redacted] other partners are and have been considerably disturbed by his attitude on the war, but do not know what to do about it.

Needless to say, I have launched a good many other inquiries through personal friends.

I realize that I have no direct official concern in all the above, but I do believe I would be remiss in my duty as an American citizen and as a government employe if I did not do everything proper to bring this matter to the attention of the appropriate persons.

I do believe this is a shocking situation in which a man who is the secret and guilty acting adviser of an agency that has persistently performed Hitler's work in this county — and who has secretly solicited money to set up an agency in Washington for the express purpose of embarrassing our war administration at a critical time — should certainly not be permitted to remain a responsible officer of government in a position where he can effectively and apparently has been effectively attempting to sabotage the war effort.

I do not like to meddle in things which do not directly concern me and I certainly have plenty to do to keep myself busy, but I did think it was my duty to look into this thing within the time and means I had available; I believe it is my duty to acquaint you of these facts; and I earnestly urge you to acquaint Mr. Nelson, Secretary Knox, and the President with these facts. I think also you should pass this information along to Messrs. Hopkins and Henderson since they were also involved. At the very least, I think this entire matter should be thoroughly investigated by the appropriate agency and if the statements made to me are borne out, I believe the proper authorities should seriously consider federal criminal action to determine whether an effort has been made to obstruct our war effort.

Sincerely,

Henry M. Paynter

Dear Mr. Nichols:

I was unexpectedly out of town Sunday and Monday, which is why I did not phone you Sunday afternoon.

[redacted] informed my friend [redacted] that on reconsideration and that since his story would involve third persons in an unpleasant way, he thought he should tell it only after a specific request, "preferably from the FBI."

I had asked [redacted] who was going to follow through and talk to him in my absence, to let you know the outcome, but he thought that since [redacted] did not show up there was no point in calling you.

As it now stands, we do not propose to do anything more about the matter.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

From time to time Henry Paynter has been furnishing leads as to some of the secret backers of America First. On March 20 in a memorandum I set forth considerable of this material and the Director stated "I think we should get to the bottom of this mess." This information was furnished to the Attorney General. However, it does not appear that any of the individuals were interviewed who had a part in the backing of America First.

I am now in receipt of a letter from Henry Paynter which is attached with reference to [redacted] of New York who was [redacted] for the America First Committee and who has agreed to furnish the Bureau complete details regarding the formation of America First. [redacted] has stated that since his story would involve third persons in an unpleasant way he thought he should tell it only after a specific request, preferably from the FBI. I think our investigation of America First would certainly not be complete unless we do make these interviews.

AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE	INTERNAL SECURITY - C

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

A notice in the San Diego Union newspaper advised that a Local Unit of the America First Committee was being organized in San Diego on February 10, 1941. This Local Committee operated first under the Chairmanship of Colonel GEORGE W. FISHER and later under JAMES B. ABBEY. Financial difficulties were incurred through the existence of the Committee. Units were organized in neighboring towns under the sponsorship of the San Diego Committee and a Women's Division was also organized but operated under considerable dissension. An attempt was made by members of the Executive Committee to discontinue operations on October 15, 1941, but was over-ruled by other members. [redacted] b2 b7D states that there has been no activity in the San Diego Committee since its discontinuation in December of 1941.

This report is being written at the request of the Bureau made by letter dated March 16, 1942, which requested that a review of the files in the Field Division be made for background information and that following that investigation be made to determine the present activity existent.

No active investigation has been conducted, however the following information has been obtained from the files of [redacted] and to some extent from memoranda in the Field Office file. b2 b7D

The files [redacted] reveal that a newspaper article dated February 10, 1941 announced the organization of a Local Committee of the America First movement in San Diego with offices at 644 San Diego Trust and Savings Bank Building. Appearing as Chairman was Colonel GEORGE W. FISHER of the United States Army Reserve, who is stated to be a politician closely identified with the Republican Party who has in the past been accused of Anti-Semitism. . It is noted that [redacted] b7

The first meeting which is known to have been held by this Organization to which the public was invited was held on March 13, 1941 at the Russ Auditorium where Governor LaFOLLETTE appeared. LaFOLLETTE delivered a speech which the files [redacted] revealed to have been Anti-British and Anti-Administration. These files further indicated that the Auditorium was only partially filled and that from the applause the impression was gained that the gathering was made up principally of Anti-British individuals as everything that was said in ridicule of Britain was readily applauded while remarks which were pro-American received only moderate applause. b2 b7D

It is to be noted that [redacted] is the subject of file [redacted] in the San Diego Field Office where memoranda indicate that he was against this country's entry into War but that he was not pro-German. The file also indicates that he was in opposition to the ROOSEVELT administration. b7C

Information from the files [redacted] indicated that at the time of this meeting the organization in San Diego had 416 members.

The next meeting revealed was held on May 22, 1941, at which time Colonel FISHER stated that it was his intention to resign from Chairmanship on May 28th as he had been recalled to active duty in the United States Army. The thought was expressed by members of the Committee that the next Chairman should be an individual with a military title or a businessman of consequence with a good reputation.

The files [redacted] revealed that JAMES B. ABBEY was elected to the position of Chairman effective July 1, 1941. ABBEY was formerly District Attorney in San Diego.

On June 6, 1941 another public meeting was held at the Lincoln School, at which time Dr. RICHARD F. CARLYLE delivered the address. The files [redacted] revealed that this speech was decidedly Anti-Administration and that the statement was made by CARLYLE that the Government was crooked and was really in the hands of criminals. He criticised the infirmities of the President's Cabinet. That file also indicated that those in the audience had stated that there were approximately 340 persons present, most of whom were judged to be past 45 years of age and more than half of whom were thought to be of German descent. [redacted] In the front of the building [redacted] a number of Communists were distributing pamphlets advertising a peace mobilization meeting to be held on the following Friday.

Information from this informant's files revealed that the Committee in San Diego was having some difficulty in obtaining adequate finances to carry on its operations and that on June 10, 1941 had circularized all of its members and those on its mailing lists offering 100 "Defend America" seals at $1.00. [redacted]

The next large meeting to be held in Southern California was on June 20, 1941 at which time Colonel LINDBERGH addressed members of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE at Los Angeles. Active solicitation was made in San Diego to obtain a sufficient number of reservations to charter a special train from this city but only 104 reservations were gotten. Of these only 44 actually traveled to Los Angeles by train although approximately 150 others were reported to have driven there.

The expense involved in preparing posters and in the effort to obtain a large number to attend this meeting caused the Committee to have a deficit of approximately $200.00. It is reported by the informant's files that at this meeting the Socialist Labor Party and members of other groups distributed circulars. On this trip this informant states that many derogatory remarks were made concerning President ROOSEVELT and his Cabinet.

In an attempt to improve finances, a meeting of the Budget Committee was held on July 1, 1941 and it was approved that dues of $1.00 per month would be charged for each member who could possibly afford to pay that sum. Previously the organization had been operating chiefly on a contribution and membership fee basis.

In July of 1941 the files [redacted] revealed that a colored section of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was organized in San Diego. Those members belonging to that organization were very mild in their ideas and favored aid to England, although they were apparently not anxious to send any men to foreign countries for purposes of war. The files of this informant failed to reveal any activity on the part of this colored section. b2 b7D

On August 1, 1941, at a meeting of the members of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, it was announced that a Women's Group was to be organized with the first meeting to be held on August 7th. At the first meeting of that Group there were 18 members present and by August 19, 1941, the membership had grown to 38. Also in the month of August, chapters under the supervision of the San Diego Committee became active in La Mesa, Chula Vista and Imperial Valley, California. Each of these had its Local Chairman, but operations were conducted through a Headquarters Office in San Diego under the direct supervision of the San Diego Committee. Membership in these groups was not large there being approximately 50 in La Mesa and Chula Vista and in the vicinity of 100 members in Imperial Valley.

On October 3, 1941 a large public meeting was held at the Ford Bowl in Balboa Park, San Diego, at which time Senator BERTRAM K. WHEELER was the feature speaker. The files [redacted] revealed that b2 b7D there was an attendance of approximately 5,000 people and that a large percentage of those attending appeared to be members of the Industrial Class. It was estimated that approximately 75 men in uniform were also in attendance. These files further indicated that there was a good representation of Local Communists and Bund members present. There was stated to be no enthusiastic applause and it was also commented that literature was placed on all cars parked within the vicinity of the auditorium by those alleged to be Communists announcing a speech to be delivered in the following week entitled, "Foe of Appeasers." At this meeting FRANK O'FARRELL is stated to have said that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE telephone wires had been tapped and that membership rolls had been checked for Communists by the FBI.

The following morning on October 4, 1941, there appeared in the San Diego Union and reappeared in the afternoon paper the following quotation, "Frank O'Farrell, of the America First Committee, under auspices of which Wheeler spoke, charged the Federal Bureau of Investigation had 'tapped' our wires and looked over our membership lists looking for Communists."

Special Agent in Charge HAROLD NATHAN contacted [redacted] b7C who stated that as far as he knew no such activities had been participated in by the San Diego Office of the Bureau and that he himself did not hear the statement made by O'FARRELL. He stated that he regretted that O'FARRELL had made that statement.

Special Agent in Charge HAROLD NATHAN also contacted [redacted] b7C b7E

The matter was brought to the attention of the Editor-in-Chief of the San Diego papers, Mr. E. T. AUSTIN, by Special Agent in Charge NATHAN and the morning issue for October 7, 1941 of the San Diego Union covered a statement that the FBI had not been active whatsoever in that direction.

On November 10, 1941 a public meeting was held at the ROOSEVELT Junior High School and was conducted entirely by the Women of the San Diego America First Committee. The speaker was Dr. HYMAN [redacted]ISCHNER who is of Jewish descent. The attendance which amounted to 633 individuals was indicated by the files [redacted] to have been made up principally of those of German extraction. A contribution of $100.00 was taken up in the form of a collection. b2 b7D

It was noted that the files [redacted] indicate that considerable dissension arose among members of the Women's Division of the America First Committee and that meetings frequently were accompanied by personal arguments among those present with regard to individual beliefs.

On November 22, 1941, 100 local members of the America First Committee were addressed by Judge EDWARD J. KELLEY, who at that time stated that he was not a member of the Committee. It is noted, however, that the files [redacted] indicate that KELLEY was one of the early members of the Committee. KELLEY'S speech indicated an Anti-British inclination as revealed by the files of this informant and stated that Britain "was a real disturber of the World for generations past." Some disorder was noted at this meeting and the audience had to be brought to order by those on the platform.

[redacted] was consulted on May 1, 1942, as to any information that he may have of activities of this Committee at the present time and it was stated by him that there is no activity whatsoever existent. He said that his informants had been very closely connected with the Committee and would be aware the moment that any activity began. It was further stated that [redacted] will be obtained and will be supplied to this Field Office.

He stated that a meeting was held at 8 p.m. [redacted] informed that he took an interest in their meeting in that he did not know its purpose but stated that he did not hear anything subversive and that as far as he was concerned it was not very much in the nature of a meeting as the place was not filled and apparently no activity was going on.

A perusal of the morgue records at the Norfolk Virginian Pilot reflected that on September 13, 1941 an article was printed entitled "DUNNING Warns Against War." The article reflected that acting chairman A. J. DUNNING, JR. told members of the local America First Committee on September 12, 1941 at Birtcherd's Dairy that they should make their voices heard against this effort to entangle us in the eternal bickerings and strife and murder in old world affairs. Will conduct a very discreet investigation to determine whether the set up by the America First Committee in the Newport News area is now being used by foreign interests or by individuals cooperating with foreign interests in such a manner as will interfere with national defense effort.

It is suggested that approaches to persons who were formerly connected with the committee should be made only after it has reasonably been ascertained that they are not part of any underground organization now functioning.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Apparently no united effort being made by extremist element of dissolved America First Committee, N.Y.C. since its dissolution. New organizations created and supported by members of such element include Americans for Peace headed by Horace J. Haase; Gifts for Our Boys headed by Mrs. Alice Holmes; Women United headed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wicker-dorf and Beatrice Brown; Salute Our Men, Inc. headed by Mrs. Esther Bennett and Post War World Council headed by Mrs. Marie D. Hilliard. All such organizations and leaders apparently attempting to gain support of former isolationists and anti-administration elements of America First Committee and majority advocate a negotiated peace. Indications that some possibly possess partial files of New York America First Committee. Foreign elements within such organizations as yet undetermined. However, such officers of New York America First Committee, including John T. Flynn, chairman; Edwin S. Webster, Jr., secretary; H. Dudley Swim, treasurer; and Robert L. Bliss, are apparently refraining from open affiliation with, or support of, new organizations. Americans for Peace publishing weekly news letter and chapter of such reported being formed St. Louis, Mo.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Kenton, Ohio; Indianapolis, Indiana; Buffalo, N.Y.

DETAILS: At New York City

In view of Bureau reference letters indicating that efforts were possibly being made to keep the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE alive and active and the possibility that such might be used in a manner detrimental to the best interests of the United States, a review of miscellaneous information on file in the New York Field office and concerning the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE disclosed the following information:

Under date of December 12, 1941, [redacted] whose identity is known to the Bureau, in a memorandum to the New York office reported as follows: "A highly confidential source has reported that E. V. GREGORY, head of the speakers' bureau of the subject committee, presented a teletype message that he had received from General WOOD which read 'Don't give up the sponge. The America First Committee will continue on a changed platform against Communism, totalitarianism, etc.'".

A memorandum from the same source dated January 9, 1942 reported that, "Since the outbreak of the war many committees were started by America First members and their affiliates of the 'Christian Front'. The official purpose of these committees is to provide entertainment and social facilities to soldiers and sailors and to do a lot of flag waving. But in many cases the under-lying motive is to establish contacts with the Army or Navy for propaganda purposes, impressing upon the men that they will only fight and die so that Communism may flourish here.

"These committees are particularly active in the Queens and Brooklyn sections of New York City and the driving personalities behind them are the same that used the America First Committee for anti-administration and anti-Jewish propaganda prior to the outbreak of hostilities".

Under date of January 12, 1942 a memorandum from the same source stated as follows: "At the recent meeting of the executive board in Chicago, General Wood had a fight on his hands before he could put through a resolution dissolving the America First organization. The New York crowd favoring LINDBERGH wanted to keep it alive because the organization was going into politics and they had spent $34,000 for advance publicity books, etc., which is now almost a total loss. However, the New York crowd which is also connected with a good many Catholics in the New York-New England area, has decided to carry on. They are trying to think up some special patriotic outfit under which they are going to work. No matter what the outfit's name is, the same mess of pro-Nazis, Coughlinites, etc. will be connected with same."

Attention is also called to the reports forwarded by the Bureau to the New York Field office secured from a confidential source which report the meeting held at the home of Mr. EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR., Beekman Place, New York City, former New York secretary of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, and attended by approximately 50 persons formerly active in the New York organization. It should particularly be noted that following the speech by COLONEL CHARLES A. LINDBERGH at such meeting, in which Lindbergh stated that America First can not be active at the present time, Mr. HORACE J. HAASE voiced his sentiments for keeping the organization active inspite of the necessity for the leaders of the AMERICA FIRST, such as General WOOD and EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR., to remain quiet. At such time HAASE is reported as having indicated his intentions of keeping the organization active in a quiet way and of offering to maintain the organization files and records.

Also contained in the copies of such confidential reports is a report of a similar and smaller meeting at the apartment of MRS. MARIE D. HILLIARD, 7 Park Avenue, New York City, on December 17, 1941, the attendance of which was largely composed of former active members in the New York organization of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE. It is reported that HORACE J. HAASE spoke at this meeting concerning the needs for a new organization and it is reported that a desire for such was indicated by such former members as MRS. HILLIARD; Mr. CULLEN, former chairmen of the Bay Ridge unit of the America First Committee; MRS. MARJORIE LANE, now connected with Women United; AMOS R. E. PINCHOT; EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR.; and JOHN G. SCOTT, editor of "Money", who it was reported would print the advertising for the new organization in his paper "Money" and would mail out 10,000 copies.

A copy of a confidential report dated January 17, 1942 from the same source and transmitted to the New York Field office by the Bureau stated in substance that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE is going to be kept intact and it is believed that the FORD interests in Detroit, Michigan are going to finance it in a careful manner; that the organization is not going to mix into the war very much but will be kept intact for the purpose of carrying on the hate campaign against President Roosevelt. It was further reported that GERALD L. K. SMITH of Detroit, Michigan has secretly been on the FORD payroll for at least 3 years and that the Central Control Commission of the Communist Party believes that GERALD SMITH has the complete mailing lists of the AMERICA FIRST group.

The New York files also contain a memorandum from Confidential Informant A dated January 24, 1942 captioned AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE; MISS MARJORIE KENNEDY, 1711 Popham Avenue, Bronx, N.Y.; and which states as follows: "On January 22, 1942 a meeting and dinner of former workers of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was held at JOE KING'S RATSKELLER located on Third Avenue and 17th Street, New York City. Miss Kennedy was in charge of this dinner committee and mailed out notices. She was a stenographer with the NO FOREIGN WAR COMMITTEE and later with the America First Committee. She is described as a rabble rousing type of person. ————".

A confidential memorandum from the same source under date of January 31, 1942 states as follows: "It is believed that the AMERICA FIRST group in the east under the leadership of the COUGHLIN followers are soon to come out with a new outfit. When they do, JOHN L. LEWIS will quietly approve. LEWIS has been receiving praise from the Coughlin followers recently and this praise is being used in almost every section of the country. According to reports from the CIO at Washington the group has carefully set up the country into districts. They have revised all the mailing lists and in addition they have made arrangements with other groups which can be classified as pro-Nazi for an exchange of mailing lists. This arrangement is now in effect and many of these pro-Nazi groups are circularizing so called patriots with the sale of literature, etc. These lists are not being carelessly handled because of the fear that some may demand a government investigation of their activities. However, it has been learned that the AMERICA FIRST and their so called supporting groups have now a secret mailing list of 8,476,000 names of people in this country. A vast number of this list are on the West Coast and lately a great many of the foreign speaking groups have been circularized. There is no doubt but that certain sections of names from the major lists have been used in sending out this mail."

Under date of February 9, 1942, [redacted] in a memorandum furnished the following information to the New York Field office: "An AMERICA FIRST underground organization under the leadership of CHARLES A. LINDBERGH is being formed. The first evidence of this is two secret meetings which were held at the homes of persons high in the AMERICA FIRST organization on December 17, 1941. More than 50 persons were present at 10 Beekman Place, New York, home of AMERICA FIRST leader EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR., to hear CHARLES A. LINDBERGH counsel the continuation of the AMERICA FIRST type of organization. The second meeting, held a few days before in an apartment on lower Park Avenue, was sponsored by a women who was one of the New York heads of WOMEN UNITED, America First auxiliary. It is understood that these are the first of a series of house parties which will keep alive America First contacts.

"The meeting at the Beekman Place address was a dinner given for the members of the speakers' bureau of America First. Those present were the minor subleaders; borough heads, district heads and leading speakers ————. The second meeting held at the lower Park Avenue address discussed the formation of a new organization with a more open anti-Semitic program than the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE utilized. Present at the meeting were the persons active in WOMEN UNITED, an America First auxiliary, and an editor of a small financial magazine whichhas spread the of Zion.————————" Undoubtedly the last portion of the memorandum quoted above refers to JOHN G. SCOTT, editor of "Money", 1165 Broadway, New York City.

Under date of February 25, 1942 the Boston Field office in a letter to the Bureau and under the caption GIFTS FOR OUR BOYS, AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE GROUP; INTERNAL SECURITY with a copy for New York advised as follows: "From a reliable and confidential source it has been reported that literature and requests for contributions are being distributed under the title of 'GOB'. The letterhead lists the office as being 150 Broadway, New York City. The Gifts Headquarters is room 1144, Plaza Hotel, New York City. Literature states that if we must have a war we must win the war and claims that the intent and purposes of the group is to boost the morale of our men. It is suggested that these gifts be not less than the amount of $500. Active are MRS. IDA M. COOPER, Mr. and Mrs. HOLMES, JOHN BURKE, THELMA BERRICK, MRS. De LUCA, Mr. and Mrs. AMOS PINCHOT, Mr. and Mrs. NIXDORF and ANDREW SMITH, who is Bronx chairman of the America First Committee, and MRS. BENNETT of the No Foreign War Committee. These names will be recognized as active America Firsters which proves that this organization is not disbanded but intends to operate in an underground fashion."

In an effort to ascertain more definitely the nature and extent of the alleged present activities of the America First Committee in New York City, agent contacted [redacted] Informant at such time stated that he has not been in close contact with any of the members of the organization or reliable informants concerning same for some time. However, he stated that it had been his observation that numerous of the more radical members of the original America First Committee in New York City were carrying on their anti-war, anti-administration agitation through other new organizations. He stated that he believes the most active of these newly formed groups are AMERICANS FOR PEACE at 1165 Broadway, New York City, which has recently been organized by HORACE J. HAASE, who was formerly quite active in America First Committee particularly in the Brooklyn section of New York City; and WOMEN UNITED under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES NIXDORF and BEATRICE BRONT, 54 West 46th Street, New York City. He exhibited to agent a copy of a mimeographed statement recently circulated by HORACE J. HAASE and AMERICANS FOR PEACE and bearing Haase's name as acting executive chairman of such organization, such statement setting forth the principles and aims of the new organization, informant remarking that he believed such statement indicated that this group is presently acting for the America First interests in New York City. Informant made such statement available to agent and photostatic copies of such are being retained in this file in the New York office and also will be furnished the Bureau and interested offices.

At the time of this interview [redacted] stated that he believes considerable information pertaining to any present activities of the America First Committee in New York City could be obtained from [redacted] are mentioned by the Bureau in its memorandum concerning the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE forwarded with reference letter of March 16, 1942. However, inasmuch as the files of the New York Field office contain considerable questionable information concerning [redacted] it is not deemed advisable to make contact with him at this time. Informant advised that he would attempt to discreetly secure any information available concerning the present activities of the American First group which he would promptly furnish to the New York Field office.

[redacted] upon interview by agent advised that [redacted]. He stated that during the summer of 1941 it had become apparent to him that the organization membership was becoming largely foreign and possibly subversive. He stated that he had maintained some doubts concerning the organizers and officers but because of his belief in the basic isolation principles of the America First Committee he had continued working with it although from time to time he would furnish information concerning questionable members to the New York Field office. He further stated that during the summer of 1941 definite friction had developed in the New York organization because of the radical tendencies of some of the officers, principally upon the anti-Semitic issue, and that a radical group headed by EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr., secretary, who is himself violently anti-Semitic, and a group which in his opinion is more conservative although called radical by its opposition headed by JOHN T. FLYNN, chairman, were distinctly divided and friction was prevalent principally because of the anti-Semitic issue. He stated that it was his understanding that because of the differences and friction in the New York organization, [redacted] had been sent from Chicago to New York City to attempt to effect a reconciliation and the smooth operation of the New York organization. According to informant, [redacted] main job in the New York organization had been in this line.

Concerning the actions of the New York organization following the opening of hostilities on December 7, 1941, [redacted] advised that upon December 8, 1941 representatives from all chapters had congregated at the Committee headquarters, 515 Madison Avenue, New York City. VINCENT GIACQUINTO [redacted] the chairman of the Bronx chapter, was selected as spokesman for the group and following a conference with JOHN T. FLYNN, AMOS R. E. PINCHOT, EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr., and EVELYN PALMER, all members of the New York executive committee, GIACQUINTO advised the chapter representatives that an executive committee meeting with all members present would be held at headquarters that afternoon, December 8. At the afternoon executive committee meeting, it was decided unanimously (after telephonic communications with national headquarters in Chicago) to suspend all further activities pending a final decision of the national committee at an executive meeting to be held in Chicago on December 12. Pending this meeting, only county headquarters were to remain open, no more literature was to be distributed and all posters were to be taken down.

b2 b7D b7C

On December 13, JOHN T. FLYNN returned from the national executive committee meeting in Chicago and immediately sent a report to chapter chairmen advising them of the decisions of the national committee, which were briefly as follows:

1. Official dissolution of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in the interests of a national unity.
2. The forwarding of all records and money on hand to the national executive committee in Chicago for a final accounting and disposal.
3. The destruction of all signs, posters, literature, letterheads, etc. and discontinuance of all activities under America First auspices.
4. The payment of two weeks advance salary to all employees, terminating their employment on December 27, 1941.

[redacted] continued, saying that JOHN T. FLYNN had carried out the mandates of the national committee. He had stationed a guard from the Holmes Protective Agency at the New York headquarters to insure the safety of the records until they could be delivered to Chicago. The employees were paid and all offices were closed. The general consensus of opinion of the organization was that although they did not want war the best thing was to pitch in and help win the war in the interests of national unity. However, informant stated that the extremist or radical element referred to previously has, in his opinion, constantly refused to recognize the mandate of the national executive committee. He stated that the first sign of an attempt to carry on activities against the administration and the war was the party held for the former street speakers of America First at the home of EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR. on December 17, 1941 at which LINDBERGH spoke, which meeting was referred to previously in this report.

Immediately following this meeting, former AMERICA FIRST members were quietly sounded out as to their opinions and feelings for continuing AMERICA FIRST activities under an entirely new setup. The spark plug of this movement is MRS. ALICE HOLMES, formerly in charge of the America First chapter office at 67 Liberty Street, New York City, and whose husband has been a stock broker in New York City for many years. MRS. HOLMES is violently anti-Semitic and has openly boasted that she can raise unlimited funds. Informant stated that she is known to have displayed checks totaling several thousands of dollars the morning after LINDBERGH's speech at Des Moines, Iowa in September of 1941. Informant further stated that although the meeting of AMERICA FIRST personnal which was held at JOE KING'S RATHSKELLER, Third Avenue and 17th Street, New York City, on January 22, 1942 and which has been referred to previously in this report, was sponsored by MARJORIE KENNEDY, who worked on the filing system at America First headquarters, New York City, he stated that Miss KENNEDY has neither the brains nor the initiative to formulate or control group activities. He said that it is known that MRS. HOLMES was responsible for such meeting and is one of the key persons in the present activities of keeping the America First group alive. He advised that MRS. HOLMES is sponsoring a new organization entitled, "Gifts For Our Boys" which is situated at 150 Broadway, New York City, and that the meeting on January 22 referred to above was the first open attempt to reorganize the old America First members.

Although more than 100 invitations were sent out for this meeting, only 66 attended, among whom were MRS. HOLMES; KATHERINE LARKIN; MARY NORTON, sponsor of the Impeach Roosevelt Movement; ANDREW SMITH, secretary and treasurer of the Bronx county chapter of America First; TRUMAN BLACKWOOD, [redacted] HOPE SKINNER; and FRANCES ZIMMER, all of the above mentioned individuals having been active participants in America First work in New York City. It was agreed at this party that similar parties would be held for the express purpose of reorganizing America First members but it is significant that it was also agreed not to mention AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE but to organize an ostensibly new organization. b7C prominent people she is easy prey for any scheme similar to that of the new organization.

MRS. ROSE De LUCCA, former secretary of Queens County America First, is working with MRS. HOLMES and ANDREW SMITH to organize the new group. [redacted] stated that MRS. De LUCCA is not anti-Semitic and has an abundance of energy and makes friends easily but stated that he believes she is impressed by the meetings and because of the fact that she has a son in the Army and because she had been to dinners with several b2 b7D

Informant stated that a second meeting was held on January 23, 1942 at the Forest Hills Inn, Forest Hills, Long Island, invitations having been sent out by MRS. ARTHUR G. JUST, former chairwoman of the Elmhurst unit of the Queens chapter of America First Committee. He stated that approximately 80 people attended this meeting and he believed it significant that no collection of funds or solicitations were made to help defray the reunion expenses, indicating in his mind that some of the original financers of the America First group in New York are behind the new organization. [redacted] stated that at this meeting Mr. HENRY CHRIST, former chairman of Queens County America First, spoke against forming any new organizations and expressed the hope that those members would do all in their power to aid the war effort. However, informant expressed his opinion that Mr. CHRIST's sincerity along such lines is doubtful and he does not believe contact with him in this investigation would be advisable. He stated that none of the parties present who were at the former meeting on January 22 at JOE KING'S RATHSKELLER made their presence known although it is probable that more than a few were present. He stated that he believes that unless many of the former members of the America First Committee are completely fooled by this small group of extremists who are trying to promote disunity under the guise of helping the boys in the Service, the new organization, GIFTS FOR OUR BOYS, will be limited to the same small extremist element which created the organization.

It should be noted that according to Informant, following the official order of dissolution of the America First Committee, all funds and membership records were to be forwarded to Chicago headquarters for final accounting, distribution and disposal. However, he stated that he is sure some of the individual chapters had retained most of their membership files and that these are now in the possession of individuals. As an example of this, he stated that he knows that [redacted] still maintained in her personal possession most of the membership records of that unit. He stated that he believes he has access to those records and has no doubts that [redacted], who he advised seems now to be mainly interested in CHRISTIAN FRONT activities, is making them available to other organizations.

He also stated that the directors of the New York America First organization had maintained a special file record of all contributors of $500 and over which, he stated, was always closely guarded and supervised.

Following the dissolution of the organization, according to [redacted] this file was taken by Mr. E. DUDLEY SWIM, treasurer of the New York organization, and removed to his office at the NATIONAL INVESTORS CORPORATION, 120 Broadway, New York City. He pointed out that possession of this file is deemed highly advantageous, particularly from the standpoint of securing further contributions in movements along the same line and stated that he feels sure such is being preserved by Mr. SWIM at his office for future use.

At the time of this interview, [redacted] made available to agent [redacted] informant stated that in his opinion the following listed units of the America First Committee in the New York City area are continuing their efforts and activities more or less as a group:

BRONX SECTION:
The South Bronx Unit - ANGELO LANGELLO, chairman
The Westchester Square Unit - FRANK E. KAHL, chairman
The Wakefield Unit - DOMINIC D. MATTURO, chairman

BROOKLYN SECTION:
Bay Ridge Unit - MRS. GERTRUDE WILLIAMS, chairwoman

QUEENS SECTION:
Astoria Unit - MRS. K. K. FRANK, chairwoman
Corona Unit - MRS. ROSE De LUCCA, chairwoman
Elmhurst Unit - MRS. ARTHUR G. JUST, chairwoman
Richmond Hill Unit - MR. BUNK, chairman

WESTCHESTER COUNTY SECTION:
New Rochelle Chapter - W. J. BAXTER, chairman
Mt. Vernon Chapter - D. A. TESTA, chairman.

[redacted] expressed his desire to cooperate further in this investigation and advised that he will discreetly resume his contacts with the individuals and organizations which are evidently continuing to function and that all information he can develop will be promptly furnished the New York office.

Special Agent [redacted] contacted [redacted] b2 b7D b7C concerning information which he might have in his possession indicating the continued activities of individuals and organizations connected with, or springing from, the America First organization in New York City. It should be noted that under date of March 3, 1942 informant had furnished to the New York office a report concerning the organization AMERICANS FOR PEACE and HORACE J. HAASE, the pertinent contents of which in connection with this investigation are hereinafter set forth.

Female Psych

HORACE HAASE [redacted] b7D At the same time he informed NYE about his new organization and while he stated that he knows NYE can not participate in building up the organization, he asked NYE his views. SENATOR NYE [redacted] allegedly stated that he is too busy to participate or read HAASE's book but stated that "his views are still the same" and wished HAASE every success; "that he believes a peace now would be much better than peace later but unfortunately our leadership does not even try to negotiate".

[redacted] both active supporters of AMERICA FIRST, are interested in opening chapters of AMERICANS FOR PEACE in Brooklyn. Both endorse the program heartily, particularly with regard to the fight against Union Now and the reelecting campaign in the Fall. They also stand for a quick, negotiated peace and against the administration.

ERNEST E. WHEELER, formerly of the New York executive committee of America First, answered that he was not interested in joining AMERICANS FOR PEACE. [redacted] b7D However, informant's personal note indicates disbelief in WHEELER's statement.

AMOS R. E. PINCHOT advised HAASE that he is writing a book against the administration, claiming to have no money free to contribute, but he is interested and endorses the four points of the program against Union Now, against Communism, against the administration and for a quick, negotiated peace.

[redacted] and with them their 100 members of WOMEN UNITED want a close cooperation with HAASE. They also agree upon every single point of the program.

b7C

[redacted], all of America First, promised help and endorsed the 4 points heartily. [redacted] New York and a frequenter of Brooklyn America First headquarters, answered favorably although regretted that he cannot become a member because of his being drafted. However, he sent a $2 contribution to HAASE.

KURT MERTIG and his CITIZENS PROTECTIVE LEAGUE, well known to the Bureau and the New York Field office, even took up a collection for HAASE, HAASE having spoken twice before MERTIG's group within two weeks, both times demanding that America get out of the war and saying that, "our first objective is the earliest possible peace". A report of HAASE's speeches before the above mentioned meetings was contained in the New York World Telegram for March 20, 1942 entitled, "Peace Speaker 'Found No Nazis in Yorkville'". Informant's report indicated that HAASE had excused himself to MERTIG for what he had told the newspaper reporter and assures MERTIG that he considers him a good citizen.

[redacted] of St. Louis, Missouri, an active member of the America First Committee and believer in the single tax, is forming a chapter of AMERICANS FOR PEACE in St. Louis, and endorses four points of the program. Informant's report included [redacted]

b7D

MRS. A. C. PATERSON, Hotel St. George, Brooklyn, 75 year old speaker for America First Committee; JOHN G. SCOTT, editor of "Money"; and CHARLES INGERSOLL, editor of DEMOCRACY, are all reported 100 percent with HAASE. It should be noted that investigation has disclosed that both SCOTT and INGERSOLL share office space with HAASE at 1165 Broadway, New York City and MRS. PATERSON is actively working for HAASE in his office.

A Queens group of America First Committee members grouped around [redacted] do not want to cooperate with HAASE because he is not radical enough in their estimation.

[redacted] endorses the program and makes propaganda of it.

[redacted] made available to agent [redacted] pertaining to and indicating continued activities of the AMERICA FIRST organization in New York City [redacted] b7D The following information is set forth [redacted] and is being set out in chronological order as of its receipt by him:

January 1, 1942 Informant reported a definite split between the followers of JOHN T. FLYNN and EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. The Webster group felt that FLYNN is too radical although he has been, and always will be, opposed to the introduction of the Jewish question into the organization. Report indicated that Informant was in contact with WOMEN UNITED organization and secures the sentiments of America Firsters from such source.

This also reported a meeting of women at the Hotel Plaza for the purpose of organizing GIFTS FOR OUR BOYS, such meeting having been organized by [redacted].

On January 12, 1942 Informant's reports indicated that GIFTS FOR OUR BOYS was composed principally of [redacted], who it was indicated, were the real originators of the organization; MRS. ROSE De LUCCA of the Queens chapter of the America First Committee, who allegedly stated that she could circularize 45,000 members and raise $1,000 in a week; MR. ANDREW SMITH, leader of the Bronx County chapter of America First Committee. However, Informant reported that there was a definite split between [redacted] and [redacted] because of irregularities on the part of [redacted] in handling contributions received and because of differences in views, it being reported that [redacted] was severing her relations with the organization and forming an organization of her own entitled SALUTE OUR MEN, INC.

On January 15, 1942 Informant's report stated that so far as known EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. has not attempted to organize a new group of old America First members. However, it reported that [redacted] of the Brooklyn organization of America First had made such an attempt but that such had bogged down for lack of leadership. b7C

On January 24, 1942 Informant reported that LAWRENCE DENNIS, who is known as the author of "The Coming American Fascism", and publisher of the Weekly Foreign Letter, was planning for continuance of America First Committee propaganda with the help of GENERAL WOOD and DOUGLAS STUART. The purpose of the new program was allegedly to stop the war and by advertising the menace of the white nations, America, Britain and Germany, weakening or destroying themselves by continuing the war to the advantage of Russia and Asiatic countries. It was reported that DENNIS was attempting to get backing for his program from the old guard of the America First Committee.

On February 3, 1942 [redacted] reported that there was a move underway to solidify AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE members into a new organization to fit the present situation or to merge it with some organization friendly to the America First Committee and operating on a basis to the liking of the leadership of America First Committee. It was reported that in Detroit, Michigan negotiations were in progress between America First Committee leaders and GERALD L. K. SMITH of the COMMITTEE OF ONE MILLION for unification and consolidation of these two organizations. Informant stated that the America First Committee in Detroit and vicinity would probably move enmass into Smith's organization. b2 b7D

On February 9, 1942 [redacted] reports indicated that HORACE J. HAASE was beginning work as assistant editor on the STATE COURIER of the State Republican League, Union City, New Jersey under CHARLES INGERSOLL who is editor of DEMOCRACY and who reportedly shares office space with HAASE. Informant reported that HAASE in this work helps to gain influence in Republican Party politics which would permit him to tie it in with revised America First groups. b2 b7D

On February 11, 1942 informant reported that HAASE had received no reply concerning his request for aid from EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. [redacted]

Also reported was [redacted] reported that HAASE's principal concern is to reorganize and to bring together in one large group all of the former Isolationists and anti-administration elements. It was stated that he is restive in his present flag waving job but hopes to get a permanent, organizing job from whatever new movement emerges from the remnants of the America First Committee. It was stated that he desires to enlist the support of the German-American element. b2 b7D

the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE membership for her new organization but was opposed to any support from the CHRISTIAN FRONT element. [redacted] b7C b7D [redacted] It was reported that there would be a meeting in the near future between AMERICANS FOR PEACE and [redacted]'s organization.

On February 24, 1942, [redacted] reported that WOMEN UNITED under the leadership of [redacted] and [redacted] were very active in anti-war groups and were corresponding a great deal with MRS. BURTON K. WHEELER and SENATOR NYE, formerly active in America First. Informant reported that most active participants in WOMEN UNITED, in addition to those mentioned, are [redacted] It was also reported that this organization was largely financed by [redacted] It was reported that this organization was extremely anxious to enlist in the organization any women formerly active in the America First Committee and their platform was based upon anti-Communism and anti-Union Now principles. [redacted] was reportedly doing the printing for the organization and very active in raising funds. b2 b7D b7C

On February 25, 1942 [redacted] report stated that MRS. ALICE HOLMES, former chairwoman of the America First unit at 67 Liberty Street, New York City, was continuing the organization and promotion of GIFTS FOR OUR BOYS at 150 Broadway, New York City but little was known concerning the results of her efforts as yet. b2 b7D

On March 2, 1942 HORACE J. HAASE was reported as collaborating with Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES NIXDORF of WOMEN UNITED who had promised him 100% aid from their organization. It was also indicated that support would be forth coming from [redacted] and [redacted], formerly active in Brooklyn America First organization. b7C

Informant's report dated March 14, 1942 stated that EVELYN PALMER of New York America First had arranged a meeting between LAWRENCE DENNIS and COLONEL LINDBERGH, DENNIS desiring to convince Lindbergh to solicit funds from HENRY FORD for the continuation of America First activities. However, it was reported that LINDBERGH declined any proposal made by DENNIS, it further being indicated that most of the America First members looked upon EVELYN PALMER as an Nazi agent and feared too close association with her.

Under date of March 19, 1942 [redacted] reported that HAASE in his efforts for AMERICANS FOR PEACE was securing aid from AMOS R. E. PINCHOT and was maintaining close contact with WOMEN UNITED. HAASE's association with, and speeches before, [redacted] the CITIZENS PROTECTIVE LEAGUE, were also reported. It was reported that HAASE was communicating with SENATOR NYE, CHARLES LINDBERGH and numerous others in an effort to secure the support of prominent individuals. It was further reported that [redacted] indicating strong support and desires of forming chapters of his organization, AMERICANS FOR PEACE, in St. Louis, Missouri by [redacted] and from [redacted] in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Under date of March 19, 1942 Informant's report contained the following allegations secured from a source of information in Chicago: GENERAL WOOD is reported to have choice documents of the America First Committee from all overthe United States, secured at the time the organization was dissolved, in his SEARS ROEBUCK COMPANY office. Whenever former leaders of the America First Committee in Chicago meet they talk about the absolute necessity of a compromise peace with the Axis. On their program, the drive for such a peace will follow the pre-election campaign. LINLBERGH's name is frequently mentioned but apparently he is completely silent, which is probably part of a well planned scheme.

On April 7, 1941 [redacted] reported that EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. had apparently refused to become a member or to contribute to HORACE J. HAASE's organization, AMERICANS FOR PEACE; also that H. DUDLEY SWIM, former treasurer of the organization, had apparently indicated no desire to cooperate with HAASE although he had not flatly refused cooperation. This report stated that WEBSTER does not trust HAASE and he not only refused to become a member of AMERICANS FOR PEACE or to contribute, but even refused to give HAASE recommendations to any other America Firsters. Also reported was the fact that DR. BUCHANAN and REVEREND OLSON were the only members of the executive board of the former Brooklyn America First Committee who had favorably reacted to HAASE's letters. It was reported that REVEREND OLSON was arranging a meeting at his Lutheran Church in Brooklyn for the 15th of April for the express purpose of affording the opportunity to speak and further his organization plans. At this time it was also reported that HAASE intended publishing a semi-monthly news letter, the purpose of which was to coordinate all peace movements.

It was stated that he had suggested the idea of unification and coordination to approximately 50 organizations.

On the same date it was reported that [redacted] b2 b7D

It was also reported that an individual named [redacted] b7C

For the information of the Indianapolis Field Division, there was also reported [redacted] who expressed her b7C desire to organize a chapter of AMERICANS FOR PEACE in Indianapolis and who stated that she is willing to personally pay some of the expenses for a mass meeting in a hall seating 2,000 persons if BLASE would come to Indianapolis to deliver an address on "All Out Against the Administration".

Also reported was that DR. BUCHANAN and REVEREND OLSON were making efforts to organize a Brooklyn chapter of AMERICANS FOR PEACE, the meeting place of which was to be Rev. Olson's Lutheran Church in Brooklyn. It was reported that former America, Firsters would meet there to discuss effective measures of building up AMERICANS FOR PEACE to a strong organization in Brooklyn.

On April 24, 1942 [redacted] b2 b7D However, it was indicated that BLASE's efforts to date had been largely negative and he was having difficulty in securing financial assistance.

For the information and attention of the Buffalo Field Division, on such date was also reported [redacted] b7D indicating 100% agreement with the organization of AMERICANS FOR PEACE [redacted] and indicating a possible effort toward the formation of a chapter of this organization in Buffalo.

also obtained photostatic copies of two printed statements made by her in opposition to war and the draft bill and asking for peace, one being addressed to the Congress of the United States and bearing date of December 15, 1941. In such statement, dated December 15, 1941, [redacted] states in effect that the war is an inside job and a plot to get the United States into a world revolution; that she has had inside information prior to Pearl Harbor through sources in Naval Intelligence concerning a "mass murder" in some outpost; that the President should be impeached and has been working more for foreign interests than for the United States and calling for a negotiated peace and "traditionary policies of Isolation".

In the other statement of [redacted], dated March 4, 1942, she discusses her association with the late SENATOR LUNDEEN and the injustice done to GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERICK. She defends Congressman HAMILTON FISH and terms PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT a deliberate traitor.

Also furnished to the New York office with the above was a photostatic copy of a statement of [redacted] b7c indicating his accord in a "general peace offensive" outlined by the AMERICANS FOR PEACE organization and expressing his belief that such movement, under the leadership of HORACE J. HAASE, will loom as a formidable force in the months to come. However, this statement does not indicate any more than passive agreement with the activities and sympathies of such organization.

Attention is directed to the article appearing in LIFE magazine of April 13, 1942 entitled, "The Voice of Defeat", specific attention being directed to that section of the article dealing with New York City, much of which has reference to HORACE J. HAASE and the AMERICANS FOR PEACE organization. It should be noted that such article states that the real aim of AMERICANS FOR PEACE is to "break down the united American war effort" and it also attributes to HAASE the claim that such would be done through "small peace groups led by comparative unknowns" being organized in various localities which would carry on their work locally and not seek to form a national organization. HAASE reportedly stated that such groups will carry different names and appeal to all kinds of political prejudice. The article referred to also states that "Haase has used the Brooklyn mailing list of America First to circularize more than 400 chapter chairmen and other leaders in this movement." It should be noted that the article referred to also makes mention of the meeting of top ranking America Firsters held at the home of EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. in December, 1941, and mentions the continued activities of a few leading American Firsters such as MRS. LIVINGSTON ROWE-SCHUYLER, [redacted] b7c

[redacted] stated that he believed the America First Committee in Kansas City and vicinity was a dead organization and that he had not been approached nor did he know of any activity on the part of any former members of the America First Committee since its formal disbandment in December 1941.

[redacted] furnished Agent with a copy of a history of the America First Committee of the Kansas City Chapter which was prepared by [redacted] and this history is being set forth below for informational purposes:

> The Kansas City Chapter of the America First Committee had its inception at a luncheon given at the Hotel Muehlebach, 11-20-40. This luncheon was given by Mr. H. W. Luhnow, President of the Wm. Volker Company. Present by invitation from Chicago were, Mr. Regnery, Mr. R. Douglas Stuart, Jr., Mr. Bliss, and Mr. Hanford McNider. Thirty-five or forty other local guests were also present. Among these, Mr. Ray P. Moseley, President of Moseley and Company, organizer of a similar idea "Stay Out of War Society," presided at this meeting. After speeches by the America First group and an explanation of what they stood for, the meeting voted Mr. Luhnow should, as a committee of one, select a working organization.

Out of this meeting was formed a Kansas City Chapter with Mr. Ray Moseley Chairman, Mr. Porter Hall and Mr. H. W. Luhnow as Vice-chairman, Mrs. E. H. Vincent, Secretary, and Mr. David Childs, Treasurer. Included also in the Executive Committee were, Mr. Roy K. Dietrich, Mr. Heath Moore, Mrs. E. C. Meservey, Jr., Mrs. Franklin Murphy, Dr. Bruce R. Trimble and Mrs. R. J. Higgins. Approval from Chicago was granted this line-up but no charter sent. Whereabouts of notification unknown.

The first office was opened at 1017 Baltimore Avenue, with Mrs. E. H. Vincent in charge. After a period of six weeks the office was closed, due to lack of urgency in the war situation and the loss of office space to permanent renters. In May, when conditions seemed to justify the reopening of an office, one was opened at 1008-1010 Main Street, with Miss Lenore Harline in charge. The opening of this office followed the Clark Rally which was held at the Scotish Rite Temple. Both Senator Bennett C. Clark and Ex-Governor Alf Landon spoke to a capacity crowd. Among those who came to the Main Street address was Mrs. Ethyle A. Stevenson, who made a filing system and stayed to assist Miss Harline. On June 9th this office space was also rented permanently and necessitated the AFC moving to 1006 Baltimore Avenue.

On June 19th, the Nye meeting was held at the same place as the Clark Rally, after which a small steady influx of new members made their appearance. We began to receive numerous threatening notices through the mail and a huge red "V" was painted on the window one night. Mrs. Meservey resigned from the Executive Committee. Norman Stamps, University of Kansas City student came to assist with the work, thereby bringing the number of volunteer office workers to three.

The Executive Committee participated in so far as some of them gave discourses over the radio, introduced guest speakers, and attended Executive meetings to decide the activities of the Chapter etc., Mr. Moseley asked to resign at this time, due to heavy business demands of his company. He was persuaded to remain and the Committee was reorganized with him as Chairman of the Advisory Committee exception, being Dr. Bruce R. Trimble, who was elected Executive Director of the new Executive Committee - Lenore Harline, Secretary, Ethyle Stevenson, Treasurer. Mr. Roy K. Dietrich resigned from the Executive Committee before the Committee became the Advisory Committee. One of the main reasons for reorganization was the definite need for a more active local office to hold local meetings, have speeches and keep the people interested — the members of the Executive Committee could not devote all their time to the furtherance of this goal due to business demands.

On August 9th the office moved again to 1009 Grand Avenue. This was by far the best location having a large display window. The Committee went forward with new impetus and a small news bulletin was planned and started. We were doing fine with as many as thirty-five people coming in a day, when the owners decided to sell the building. The entire window space, with the exception of about five feet was blocked up with a huge yellow and black "For Sale" sign. Callers fell off and a mild depression set in — but the situation readjusted itself and though the number of callers was never the same, we still were going forward. Incorporation papers had been filed but had not been approved.

By the first of September the organization depended mostly upon the publishing of "Shield America" in its endeavor to keep the country out of war and availed themselves of the use of radio programs and letters sent to members along with the telephone groups lending their support. With the start of cool weather there was a period of intensive propaganda used against us. Almost every morning before opening up it was necessary to remove empty liquor bottles from in front of the door and erase red swastikas from the small available window space. After about ten days this stopped. With the organizing of the gigantic letter writing campaign through Chicago for all Chapters to write to Congressmen, the Kansas City Chapter organized a letter writing group, the effectiveness of which far exceeded our idea of successful cooperation. Thousands of letters were sent to both Houses of Congress from Kansas City. This was all done in the attempt to persuade Congress to uphold the Neutrality law.

Advised that there was to be a national convention in Washington, D. C. the Committee sent Dr. Trimble and Ethyle Stevenson to represent the Kansas City Chapter. From this convention, new enthusiasm was instilled in the Kansas City office and the letter writing campaign completed. A series of radio speeches and round table discussions were heard over the radio stations -- eight in number. On November 14 Mr. Moseley resigned from the Advisory Committee. The office again moved to 642 Law Building, 12th and Grand, the last home of the America First Committee in Kansas City.

On December 8th, following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Mr. David Childs resigned from the Advisory Committee and the remaining committee voted to follow the lead of Chicago and dissolved.

The America First Committee in Kansas City was a continuous up hill fight with not a single newspaper or public instrument on our side. However, with all the stumbling blocks in our path, we slowly and steadily gained numbers and I am sure that we will not be forgotten.

[redacted] also furnished a copy of a letter addressed to him by [redacted] Kansas City, Missouri, dated 1-10-42, which advised that the day following Japan's attack upon Pearl Harbor the America First Committee at Kansas City, Missouri, received a telegram to stand by for further orders. Subsequently a letter came which asked for a committee meeting to ascertain the opinions of committee members as to the future status of the America First Committee. A meeting was held and a telegram was sent to the Chicago headquarters that the majority of the advisory committee favored adjournment. Subsequently all files of the America First Committee at Kansas City, Missouri, were forwarded to the Chicago headquarters. [redacted] stated these files were to be stored in General WOOD'S safe at Sears Roebuck and Company, Chicago, Illinois, and their reports on the committee's activities would be sent by the Chicago headquarters to the Dies Committee.

[redacted] advised that the committee was formally disbanded by the vote of the executive committee on 12-9-41 and that the files of the America First Committee had been transmitted to the America First Committee headquarters in Chicago, Illinois.

[redacted] advised that at no time since the formal disbanding of the group has she ever been approached by any organization or individual with the idea of reviving the America First Committee and she knows of no activity on the part of any members of the America First Committee to revive the organization.

[redacted] She stated that the America First activities in this area were confined mainly to Kansas City, Missouri, and vicinity and that she knew of no active promotion of the America First Committee in any cities in the Western District of Missouri.

[redacted] advised that in October 1941 a [redacted] visited her and that she was apparently the head of an organization known as the Fellowship of Reconciliation. This group was apparently endorsed by [redacted]

The indices of the Kansas City Field Office reflect no information concern[redacted]

The indices of the Kansas City Field Office reflect that on 2-4-41 the Bureau transmitted a copy of a memorandum dated 8-16-40 summarizing information in the Bureau's possession concerning the organization known as "Fellowship of Reconciliation." This memorandum revealed that this organization is a known pacifist organization formed after the World War. A separate case file is being opened in the Kansas City Field Office in order to determine the officers and activities of the Fellowship of Reconciliation in this district.

[redacted] stated also that in January 1942 two men whose names she did not know but who she believed were connected with the Kansas City Power and Light Company, approached her and advised they were connected with an organization known as the Circle Council of the Constitution. This organization is located in Kansas City, Kansas, and its address, membership, purpose and officers are not known. It was [redacted] impression that this group is a neighborhood organization which has meetings and discussions on the Constitution, Article by Article. The men who visited [redacted] said if the people understood the Constitution the present war could have been side tracked. [redacted] remarked that she did not give these individuals [redacted]

The indices of the Kansas City Field Office do not reflect any information concerning the Circle Council of the Constitution and a separate case file is being opened by the Kansas City office to determine the officers and activities of this organization.

Special Agent [redacted] ascertained at the office of the Secretary of State, State House, Topeka, Kansas, that the America First Committee is not nor has it been incorporated under the laws of the State of Kansas. b7C

Special Agent [redacted] advised he was unable to locate any evidence of the existence of the America First Committee in Topeka, Kansas, or vicinity.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

- At Columbia, Missouri -

The following persons who are reliable sources of information for matters reflecting political trends and development of political organizations were contacted at Columbia.

[redacted] stated he had never b2 b7D heard of any attempt to organize an America First Committee in Columbia and he was positive there had been no action on the part of this committee in that vicinity during recent time.

[redacted] and who is definitely opposed to the idea of the America First Committee as it previously existed and stated he has never received any information that there was an attempt to organize an America First Committee at Columbia, Missouri. He advised however if there had been such a movement in this vicinity [redacted] would have knowledge relative to this matter. b7C

#32

[redacted] stated the America First Committee in the State of Missouri, so far as he knew, was now non-existent. He stated at one time he heard that [redacted] who resides at [redacted] Missouri, was somewhat of an isolationist and was sympathetic towards the ideas of the America First Committee. He stated if he were in it, he would probably so advise; that he was considered as a fine, patriotic man and would disclose any information he might have.

[redacted] stated also that a Miss EVA JOHNSON, deceased, had likewise been sympathetic with the movement in Columbia, Missouri.

b7D

Outside of these two people he stated he has never heard of any activity on the part of the committee. He stated there was some local talk about the America First Committee but no organization had ever taken place and no one had ever attempted to organize it in Columbia generally. He stated the community around Columbia was generally very bitter toward the committee and due to BENNETT CLARK'S connection with this committee he had lost favor with the voters of Missouri.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] as a result of CLARK'S attitude he knew that he could not win another election in Missouri and many people who had formerly stood by CLARK in the Democratic Party had expressed their disapproval of his stand.

[redacted], stated that while in St. Louis, Missouri, he was approached by members of the America First Committee to join their organization but that he had no stock in the group and did not sympathize with them. He stated he was in favor of all out war on the part of the United States and he would cooperate to the greatest of his ability to aid in that cause.

[redacted] advised he had been connected with [redacted] for the past 52 years. He stated he kept abreast of political times; that he had been [redacted] and he had never heard of any activity on the part of the America First Committee in Columbia, Missouri. He stated if there had been such a move he believed he would have some knowledge of it. He stated he knew of no members of that organization in this part of the state.

b7C

- At Jefferson City, Missouri -

[redacted] office of the Secretary of State, and the writer examined the records of the Secretary of State which contained therein a file for the America First Committee, St. Louis Chapter.

#33

This organization was granted a proforma decree for incorporation by the Circuit Court in the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, on Thursday, 7-17-41. The incorporators of this organization were:

JOSEPH FORSHAW	Chairman
OSCAR E. BUDER	First Vice Chairman
OSCAR CORMAN	Second Vice Chairman
HARRY S. BROOKS	Attorney

An examination of the file failed to indicate any attempt had been made to disband this group or discontinue their rights under the incorporation.

Photostatic copies were made of the entire file of the America First Committee of St. Louis, Missouri, and these are being retained as a part of this file in the Kansas City Field Office. The secretary of this group apparently is GEORGE P. MUELLER inasmuch as a letter addressed to the Secretary of State is signed by him.

[redacted] stated he was well acquainted with political movements in the State of Missouri; that he himself was a politician and had been connected with the Secretary of State's office for many years; that his home was in Springfield, Missouri, and he had never heard of any attempt to organize the America First Committee in Jefferson City, Missouri, and he did not know of anyone in this vicinity who belonged to that organization.

The following persons were contacted, all of whom are reliable and are closely connected with political movements in the State of Missouri: b2c b7c

CHARLES SEIBOLD — United States Commissioner

[redacted] said that last summer he had heard some talk relative to the America First Committee in Jefferson City but that he had never heard anything specific about it and had never heard of anyone in Jefferson City being connected with it.

[redacted] stated that he was on a committee in charge of the Lindbergh trophies and had come into contact with the America First Committee in St. Louis, Missouri, and for that reason he had taken a vigorous part in the Committee to Defend America in opposition to the America First Committee. He stated he had never heard of any attempt being made to organize the America First Committee in Jefferson City; that it was his belief it never had existed there and did not exist there at the present time.

[redacted] stated he had traveled throughout the State of Missouri with his inspectors and had never heard the America First Committee mentioned outside of Kansas City and St. Louis, Missouri.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

b7C
b7D

- At Springfield, Missouri -

[redacted] who had attended all America First Committee meetings prior to his departure for the West Coast during the fall of 1941, related there was no activity in the above organization in Springfield at the present time. She based this belief on her knowledge of the past activities of the committee and her knowledge of its membership. She assured Agent that in the event any information of any kind or character was received, she would immediately communicate such information to Agent or the Kansas City Field Office.

#35

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

At Wichita, Kansas

Inquiry made of several individuals in Wichita, Kansas, including [redacted] Special Agent of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, [redacted] United States Probation Officer, Wichita, Kansas and [redacted] failed to reflect that the America First Committee ever acted openly and actively in Wichita or vicinity.

In discussing this matter with [redacted] he stated that he had never heard of any meetings of the America First Committee being held in Wichita, Kansas and he had never heard any individual being mentioned as being the leader of such a group in Wichita, however he did state that [redacted] a noted attorney at Wichita, Kansas, with offices [redacted] Building, would in his general attitude come as close to being an adherent of the America First Committee as any individual that he knew.

[redacted] was also questioned regarding his knowledge of whether the America First Committee had ever operated in Wichita and whether it was now defunct. [redacted] stated that he had no information indicating that the America First Committee had ever operated in Wichita and pointed out that [redacted] was decidedly opposed to the isolationist policy of the America First Committee; that also to his knowledge there had never been any meetings of the America First Committee at Wichita, Kansas, and that possibly the nearest place the America First Committee had received any prominence was in Oklahoma City on the occasion when Col. CHARLES LINDBERGH was to address a large audience there.

[redacted] stated that on two occasions during the latter part of 1941 [redacted] ran an advertisement for the America First Committee, [redacted]

It was considered possible, therefore, that because of the fact that [redacted] had been mentioned as a possible member and leader of the America First Committee, that the new group now being formed might be an organization of the nature indicated by the Bureau, formed for the purpose of keeping alive a nucleus which might later be used in a way detrimental to the present war effort.

b7c

In connection with the America First Committee, it is recalled by the writer that one ZELLA BOSSENBONSKA, who has written articles for the paper "Publicity" published by ELMER J. GARNER at Wichita, Kansas, at one time in an article appearing in "Publicity" signed as the secretary of the America First Committee. [redacted]

The America First Committee had a rather uncertain career at Denver. It was organized in the Spring of 1941 and on October 28, 1941 COLONEL E. W. DUNCAN of Lowry Field declared it off the reservation for members of his command. This action was taken on information that members of his command had not only frequented the headquarters of the America First Committee, but had also been active in the distribution of pamphlets, buttons, etc.

Later on the Committee sponsored the appearance of LAURA INGALLS at Denver, and on the outbreak of the war it was dissolved. At the time of the Committee's dissolution in Denver, according to newspaper reports, ARTHUR A. BROOKS, State Chairman, was quoted as follows:

He further advised that he believes since the attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese, these people have truly abandoned the America First Committee and have no longer any sympathies with the program formerly promogated by that organization.

The Informant stated that he had been reliably told that all of the State records were in the possession of MERLE H. MILLER, local attorney who was State chairman of the America First Committee [redacted] b7c

A review of the file in the Indianapolis office discloses that [redacted] and said that his committee had received newspaper clippings from the Chicago Daily News of February 12 and 22, 1941 indicating that the German-American National Alliance was financially supporting the America First Committee. He said that the Indiana Committee for national defense was opposed to the America First Committee and had sent a story to the newspapers to the effect that the German-American Alliance was lending financial support to this particular committee. b7c b7D

A clipping appeared from the Indianapolis Star, dated February 23, 1941 which set forth that WILLIAM FORTUNE, director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, was appointed as chairman of the board of directors of the local chapter of the America First Committee. The clipping set forth the following information: Mr. FORTUNE is also a member of the central committee of the National Red Cross.

The local chapter of the America First Committee was organized February 22, 1941, following a meeting at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. MERLE H. MILLER, temporary executive committee chairman, announced that the bulk of the work would be carried on by a group of younger men, but that policies would be directed by a board of directors composed of the following citizens, in addition to Mr. Fortune:

> JOHN W. ESTERLINE, chairman of the board of Esterline-Angus Company; president of the Community Civic Association, and leading figure in the city-manager movement from 1921 to 1929.

A. E. BAKER, 1941 honored citizen of the Indianapolis Community Fund.

The REV. C. H. McPHEETERS, pastor of the North Methodist Church.

Offices of the chapter were to be opened immediately at 30 North Pennsylvania Street. Among those attending the meeting were WILLIAM L. FORTUNE, BURCH NUNLEY, JOHN BRUHN, RALPH SWINGLEY, GORDON CUTTLER, DAN YOUNG, HARRY T. ICE, STANLEY LAWTON, FRED WELLMAN, EDWARD McLAREN, DOYLE ZARING, BRUCE PALMER, TED NICHOLAS AND EDWARD J. GREEN.

On February 11, 1941 a letter was directed by this office to the Bureau setting forth that [redacted] A speaker before the group was one McCARTHY, first name unknown, but well known in Cincinnati and connected with the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Norwood, Ohio. McCARTHY is said to speak occasionally on radio programs in the Gibson Hotel, Cincinnati.

b7C

During his talk, McCARTHY stressed the point that the United States should do absolutely nothing to assist Great Britain in her present struggle against the Axis Powers. He condemned the British for their attitude in the past toward the United States and during the course of his talk he mentioned in somewhat complimentary terms the organization, America First, Inc. He did not attack the United States in any way and did not especially make any pro-Nazi utterances but as indicated above his talk was particularly anti-British. He left the impression that he particularly favored such an organization as America First, Inc., although he did not definitely state that he was in any way connected with that organization. The only information contained in the files of the Indianapolis Field Division concerning America First, Inc. is contained in a memorandum on subversive organizations in the United States sent out to the various field divisions and the Bureau by the Chicago Field Division by letter dated November 27, 1939. A copy of this letter was furnished the Cincinnati office for its information and assistance should the Bureau desire further inquiries made with reference to the identity and activities of speaker McCARTHY.

A clipping dated April 3, 1941 from the Indianapolis Star announced that a forum was planned to follow a talk by JOHN T. FLYNN, writer and economist, who would discuss "The Next Step to War" on that date in the Cadle Tabernacle under sponsorship of the America First Committee of Indianapolis. The meeting was opened to the public without charge as announced by MERLE H. MILLER, executive chairman of the committee who was to preside at the talk. Dr. ERROL T. ELLIOTT, pastor of the First Friends Church, was to give the invocation, and Miss JANET AYER FAIRBANKS of Chicago, former Illinois member of the Democratic national committee, was to introduce Mr. FLYNN. Community singing was led by CURT DAVIS and MYRON RODABAUGH was the organist. The reception committee which was to greet Mr. FLYNN upon his arrival in Indianapolis included BURCH NUNLEY, DOYLE ZARING, EDWARD McLAREN, DAN YOUNG and Mr. MILLER. Mrs. BRANDT C. COWNEY was the hostess for the dinner to be held at the Athletic Club. At this dinner Mr. NUNLEY was to be chairman and toastmaster.

Another clipping from the Indianapolis Star, dated March 2, 1941, stated that MERLE H. MILLER addressed a group of [redacted] hundred women at an America First Committee meeting on May 1, 1941. Mr. MILLER at this meeting explained the purpose of this committee, and said that "the difference between a dictatorship and a democracy is that in the latter people don't have to take stuff lying down".

The people can say whether they want to go to war. At this meeting the following committee chairman: Publicity, Mrs. J. B. BOYLE; arrangements, Miss MAY HAYES; attendance, Mrs. H. BURCH NUNLEY; finance, Miss JANE DECKER; membership, Miss EVELYN VICK. The committee was to meet on May 2, 1941 for the purpose of perfecting plans for Senator Clark's speech.

had attended the meeting scheduled for mothers of draftees. This meeting was in charge of Mrs. BRANDT DOWNEY, [redacted] Indianapolis, Indiana. b7c

The speaker was Mr. MERLE H. MILLER, [redacted] Indianapolis, Indiana, a local attorney.

The meeting was attended by approximately 105 ladies, the majority of whom were under 35 years of age, and apparently of a high type and of good appearance. We did not attend the meeting personally, but obtained the following information from several different ladies with whom we talked after they had left the meeting.

The meeting was mostly for the purpose of organizing, and much time was spent in appointing committees, etc. The campaign for members is to be conducted mostly by telephone.

The purpose of this organization, as far as could be learned, is to avoid sending troops to Europe, at any cost; they are not opposed to aiding Britain short of war, but believe this country should first adequately arm itself before sending supplies to England, and when supplies are given to England they should be hauled, and convoyed, by the English Navy, and the United States should not, at any time, haul any war materials to England or convoy any vessels. They are evidently of the opinion that Hitler cannot possibly attack this country, and that it is unnecessary for this country to send an expeditionary force to Europe.

We talked to an unknown lady, who left the meeting during the time Mr. MILLER was speaking, and she said she interrupted his speech when he mentioned something about this country being able to survive if completely isolated. She said he did not answer her question, and that she was asked to sit down by Mrs. DOWNEY; and she then left the meeting and as she did so, Mrs. DOWNEY requested her name and she gave it to her.

After Mr. MILLER had completed his address, he left the meeting and he was followed into the corridor by a lady whom we believed to be Mrs. DOWNEY, and she thanked him for his speech and asked him to try to make arrangements to have CHARLES LINDBERGH come to this city to address one of their meetings, and Mr. MILLER replied he had already tried to make such an arrangement and that he probably would be able to get LINDBERGH here in the near future.

A clipping dated December 2, 1941 was taken from the Indianapolis News and was headlined "America First in '42 Campaign". This clipping was headlined in Chicago on December 2 and added that the America First Committee would support Congress Candidates who have approved war policies. This clipping is quoted as follows.

The America First Committee reported last night that it will take a hand in the 1942 congressional elections by supporting senators and representatives who "have kept faith with the people's mandate to avoid participation in the war."

The committee said flatly, in announcing the program, that "it will not be used as an attempt to build a third political party."

The organization, opposed to American intervention in conflicts abroad and sponsor of a series of rallies in all parts of the nation, outlined its political policies in a statement issued by its national committee.

"Today America is confronted with a condition which strikes at the basic principle of the American way of life--government by consent of the governed," the manifesto sets forth.

"We know from the experiences of other countries that Fascism results when the legislative branch of the government surrenders to one man its power to make decisions for the people. In the face of this same trend toward Fascism in America the immediate duty of the American people is to return to congress only those representatives who faithfully execute the people's trust.

"This program will be undertaken in a spirit free from partisanship and without regard to the political affiliations of the candidates."

The statement contends that congressmen who oppose steps toward war had been subjected to "drastic pressure by the administration," and adds:

"Mr. WENDELL WILLKIE, too, has indicated his intention to attempt to purge Republican senators and representatives who dare to support the pledge in their own party platform against entering the war. The America First Committee, therefore, now feels it to be its duty to enable its members in any state or district to counteract these pressures and themselves to mobilize their supporters behind those public officials who oppose further steps to involve us in war."

On December 13, 1941, a clipping was taken from the Indianapolis Star which set forth that the America First disbanded in Indianapolis. This clipping reads as follows:

> Indiana headquarters of the America First Committee will be closed immediately and members will be notified by letter during the week end that the committee has been disbanded, MERLE H. MILLER, Indiana chairman, said yesterday.
> Mr. MILLER's announcement followed a statement in Chicago by national directors announcing disbanding of the organization.
>
> However, an American Red Cross unit organized under auspices of the local America First Committee will continue in operation, Mr. MILLER said.
>
> Two other services operated by the local America First group will be retained. One is a group which has supplied Sunday night dinners at the local Service Club. The other helps to provide recreational programs at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

[redacted]

These people have been, according to their own statements, very active in the America First Organization, financially and personally.

[redacted] and the writer checked the "morgue" of the Indianapolis Star and obtained the following information:

In a meeting held May 29, 1941, an address was given by BURTON K. WHEELER, senator from Montana, before eight thousand persons. Chairman of the meeting was JOHN. ESTERLINE, and Senator WHEELER was introduced by MERLE H. MILLER.

On July 2, 1941, a meeting was held at 40 North Pennsylvania Street, at which WILLIAM H. REMY, attorney, was the principal speaker.

On August 11, 1941, a clipping appeared which set forth the State Committee. This Committee was organized along the lines of permanent Congressional districts and political subdivisions. A chapter was to be organized in each county of the State. This

On September 12, 1941 CLARENCE E. BENADUM of Muncie, Indiana, an attorney, addressed a meeting of America First, 40 North Pennsylvania Street, and on September 19, 1941 WILLIAM A. MULFORD addressed a meeting at the same place.

On September 13, 1941 a statement appeared by WALTER FRISBIE and MERLE H. MILLER in which they criticized CHARLES A.

LINDBERGH for his speech at Des Moines, Iowa shortly prior to that date.

On October 31, 1941 A. R. YOUNG, for whom no residence was given but who was born in England, gave a talk for the America First Committee at 40 North Pennsylvania Street. A meeting was held on October 3, 1941 at Caleb Mills Hall at Indianapolis, at which Reverence EPHRAIM D. LOWE, secretary of the Indiana Christian Missionary Association, gave the invocation. MERLE H. MILLER was the chairman, and Dr. JOHN A. BRIEN, University of Notre Dame, was the principal speaker.

A clipping dated May 3, 1941 announced the meeting on May 4 at which United States Senator BENNETT CHAMP CLARK was to give an address on the subject "Shall We Go to War" at the Cadle Tabernacle. This article announced the meeting of out of town delegates which was under the supervision of EARL JEFFRY, who is in charge of State organizational work for the national America First Committee, and WALTER SHIRLEY, who was head of similar activity for local groups.

On May 4, 1941, an article appeared stating that Senator CLARK was to be introduced by WILL H. REMY, former county prosecutor, and that the invocation was to be given by Father JOHN PATRICK REIDY of Ladywood School. BURCH KUNLEY, vice-chairman of the Indianapolis chapter, presided. At the time of his arrival, Senator CLARK was met by a group of overseas veterans, under the leadership of DAN FLICKINGER. This article also set forth that various committee heads had been chosen, and the chairman of the womens' organization was Mrs. DAN YOUNG; vice-chairman, Mrs. MERLE MILLER and Mrs. VEDNA CARTER. The secretary was Mrs. H. F. GILLIE, and the corresponding secretary was Miss LYDIA BATES. The secretaries of various committies, publicity arrangements, and attendance were the same as set forth previously in this report, and the co-chairmen of these committees were set forth as follows: publicity, Mrs. RUSSEL COX; Mrs. MARY PATTERSON, member; co-chairman of the arrangements committee was Mrs. FRANK ECK; members of the committee, Mrs. JOHN GAGE, Mrs. NORVIN STRICKLAND. The co-chairman of the attendance committee was Mrs. DON McINTIRE.

On May 22, 1942, an article appeared in which MERLE H. MILLER, executive chairman of the America First Committee in Indiana, announced that BURTON K. WELLER, Senator of Montana was to speak.

On October 28, 1941 an article appeared announcing that a state convention of the America First Committee would be held in Indianapolis on November 8 and 9, 1941. This convention would be under the leadership of Miss VERA SESSLER of Fort Wayne, who had charge of the membership committee. FRANK MURRAY of South Bend was in charge of the program, JOHN PAUL BASSETT, Kokomo, was in charge of meetings, KENNETH RAUB, Gary, Indiana, in charge of publicity, and FRED WELLMAN, Indianapolis, was to be in charge of finance.

On November 2, 1941 an article appeared in the Indianapolis Star stating that the State America First Committee was to convene on November 8 and 9, 1941, Indianapolis, and that FRED WELLMAN, Indianapolis business man, was to be the convention chairman of this first state convention of the America First Committee.

On November 9, 1941 the temporary state officers were announced as follows:

Temporary State Chairman	MERLE H. MILLER Indianapolis, Indiana
Co-chairman	Mrs. O. C. BARON Elkhart, Indiana
Temporary Secretary	Mrs. MILDRED GILLIE Indianapolis, Indiana

Of particularly interest at this time is to be noted that in the clipping dated March 13, 1941, at which time it was announced that the America First Committee was being disbanded, Mr. MILLER the state chairman advised that three service groups organized by the America First Committee would remain in existence. These were the American Red Cross Chapter organized by the America First Committee; the group which supplied Sunday night dinners at the local service club, and the group that aids in the recreational programs at Fort Benjamin Harrison for inductees. Efforts will be made to ascertain whether these three service groups are still in existence and who is directing their present activities, if such is determined.

In the first piece of literature was a copy of instructions on "How to Write a Letter to Washington". This leaflet, although not signed by the America First Committee, was obtained [redacted] but the source of the leaflet is not remembered by him. The leaflet sets forth the correct form for letters to be addressed to the Honorable FREDERICK E. VANNUYS, Senator RAYMOND E. WILLIS, and also Representative LOUIS LUDLOW. b7C b7D

A leaflet was obtained which was distributed by the America First Committee of Indianapolis, 30 North Pennsylvania Street, telephone Riley 1613. This leaflet quotes an article which evidently appeared in the Chicago Tribune February 26, 1941. This article set forth the reference should be made to encourage the establishment of new chapters, particularly in those regions in the east where internationalism is rampant, and it pointed out that the opposition to the America First is formidable. Another article obtained [redacted] was a booklet entitled "America and the War", by ROBERT M. HUTCHINS, president of the University of Chicago, with the sub-title "The Path to War is a False Path to Freedom". [redacted] was of the opinion that he obtained this booklet at the meeting at which Senator WHEELER spoke on March 9, 1941 at Cadle Tabernacle. [redacted] stated that these names were noted on the back because he believed they were recognized at the meeting. b7C b7D

Also obtained was a copy of a drawing by PARRISH, which was copyrighted by the Chicago Tribune in 1941, headed "Foreign Entanglements". This drawing showed President ROOSEVELT, WINSTON CHURCHILL, and JOSEPH STALIN seated above a barbed wire entanglement in which a United States soldier was helplessly entangled, and evidently mortally wounded.

A booklet entitled "Our Foreign Policy," by General ROBERT E. WOOD, acting national chairman, America First Committee, was also obtained [redacted] This booklet was a speech made by General WOOD before the Chicago Council on foreign relations. It bore the national address of the America First Committee, 141 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, and stamped thereon was the address of the America First Committee of Indianapolis, 30 North Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, Indiana. On the back of the booklet appeared the national committee of the America First Committee, which is set forth below:

General ROBERT E. WOOD	Acting Chairman
R. DOUGLAS STUART, JR.	Director
J. SANFORD OTIS	Treasurer
CHESTER BOWLES	ALICE ROOSEVELT LONGWORTH
DR. A. J. CARLSON	FRANK O. LOWDEN
WILLIAM R. CASTLE	HANFORD MACNIDER
MRS. BENNETT CHAMP CLARK	THOMAS E. MCCARTER
IRVIN S. COBB	RAY MCKAIG
JANET AYER FAIRBANK	STERLING MORTON
JOHN T. FLYNN	AMOS R. E. PINCHOT
BISHOP WILBUR E. HAMMAKER	WILLIAM H. REGNERY
GEN. THOMAS HAMMOND	CAPTAIN EDWARD RICKENBACKER
JAY C. HORMEL	EDWARD L. RYERSON, JR.
GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON	LOUIS J. TABER
CLAY JUDSON	MRS. BURTON K. WHEELER
KATHRYN LEWIS	DR. GEORGE H. WHIPPLE
	MAJOR ALFORD J. WILLIAMS

Another booklet was obtained [redacted] entitled b7c
"Can Hitler Invade America?" which was published by the America First Committee, 141 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois. This booklet was comprised of facts compiled for the America First Committee by JOHN T. FLYNN, from information gathered from military authorities and writers on military affairs. The sum and substance of the pamphlet as to the invasion of America is to the effect that no foreign power or group of powers can operate across the ocean and stand in combat with the American Navy and planes operating from home bases. On the back page of the booklet appeared the national committee of the America First Committee, and a statement to the effect that the greatest service to be rendered to the country is to write at once to your Senators, your congressman, the President of the United States and your local newspaper protesting against any further steps to involve the United States in any further wars. It also set forth that the individual should send in his name as a member of the America First Committee, which is working to save America from this war.

[redacted] turned over to the writer a form bearing b7c
the address of the America First Committee of Indianapolis, Inc., 40 North Pennsylvania Street. This card on one side had space for the person to "pledge opposition to Communism, Nazism and Fascism," and stated that "I want to help keep America out of Europe's war, and agree to write my congressman". This card had space for the name, address, and telephone of the individual, and at the bottom had spaces to be checked if the individual wanted to "write letters, telephone, work with speakers bureau, do clerical work, organize others, whatever you need". On the back of the card appeared the principles of the America First Committee which are set out as follows:

1. The United States must build an impregnable defense for America.

2. No foreign power or group of powers can successfully attack a PREPARED AMERICA.

3. American democracy can be preserved only by keeping America out of this war.

Another leaflet obtained [redacted] was distributed by the America First Committee of Indianapolis, 40 North Pennsylvania Street, entitled "What Can I Do?" with the sub-heading "Democracy in Action". This leaflet sets forth that only the opposition of the people through their letters to Washington has thus far kept us out of war. Members of Congress and the President, too, are both guided and restrained by the views of the people back home. It goes on the say that it is the duty of the citizens to write to their Senators, Representatives, and the President on any important issue and that the most important issue at the present time is the question of the nation going to war. The leaflet further states that letters should be written at periodic intervals to the President reminding him of his pre-election promises. Letters should also be written to the editors of local newspapers and people should join the America First Committee in an effort to keep us out of war. On the back of the leaflet excerpts from the speeches made by President ROOSEVELT in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn are quoted, all of them to the effect that the President has stated that this country will not go to war.

b7D

There was also obtained [redacted] a leaflet entitled "Can Hitler Invade America?" which is a re-print from the Reader's Digest, April, 1941, the article having been written by JOHN T. FLYNN. This leaflet states in effect that possibility of invasion of the United States is extremely remote and that the United States could be entirely self-sufficient in event of a German victory. It would not be necessary for the United States to cooperate with the Germans after a possible victory by them, for they could economically best HITLER.

[redacted] furnished the writer with a copy of a printed letter which, although not distributed by the America First Committee, bears the heading of AMOS R. E. PINCHOT, counsellor at law, 101 Park Avenue, New York. It is to be noted that PINCHOT is one of the national committee of the America First Committee, and [redacted] thought that this letter would be of interest in connection with instant investigation.

The letter written by PINCHOT is addressed to President ROOSEVELT, dated October 24, 1941, and is extremely critical of the manner in which President ROOSEVELT allegedly was bringing the United States closer to war. PINCHOT compared President ROOSEVELT's actions and policies with those of Chancellor BISMARCK of Germany immediately prior to the Franco-German War in 1870, and expresses the opinion that President ROOSEVELT is just as responsible for the United States being brought into conflict as BISMARCK was in starting the Franco-German War.

Mr. PINCHOT also criticized the President for his handling of the firing upon of the United States destroyer GREER, and compares this incident with the Ems Telegram through which BISMARCK was able to bring about the Franco-German War.

The above letter is being forwarded to the New York office for its information in the event that it has not here to fore received copies of the same.

ENCLOSURES:

To the Bureau: 9 pieces of literature

To New York: Letter written by AMOS R. E. PINCHOT, dated October 24, 1941.

for our troubles than to fight for democracy at home. As Hitler made the Jews his scapegoat, so we are making Hitler ours. But Hitler did not spring full-armed from the brow of Satan. He sprang from the materialism and paganism of our times. In the long run we can beat what Hitler stands for only by beating the materialism and paganism that produced him. We must show the world a nation clear in purpose, united in action, and sacrificial in spirit. The influence of that example upon suffering humanity everywhere will be more powerful than the combined armies of the Axis.

The Path to War Is a False Path to Freedom

AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE
30 N. PENNSYLVANIA INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANAPOLIS,

America and the War

Address by

ROBERT M. HUTCHINS

President of the University of Chicago

This address was broadcast over the NBC (Red) Network, January 23, 1941

I SPEAK tonight because I believe that the American people are about to commit suicide. We are not planning to. We have no plan. We are drifting into suicide. Deafened by martial music, fine language and large appropriations, we are drifting into war.

I address you simply as an American citizen. I do not represent any organization or committee. I do not represent the University of Chicago. I am not a military expert. It is true that from the age of eighteen to the age of twenty I was a private in the American army. I must have somewhere the very fine medal given me by the Italian government of that day in token of my co-operation on the Italian front. But this experience would not justify me in discussing tactics, strategy, or the strength to which our armed forces should now attain.

I wish to dissociate myself from all Nazis, Fascists, Communists, and appeasers. I regard the doctrine of all totalitarian regimes as wrong in theory, evil in execution, and incompatible with the rights of man.

I wish to dissociate myself from those who want us to stay out of war to save our own skins or our own property. I believe that the people of this country are and should be prepared to make sacrifices for humanity. National selfishness should not determine national policy.

It is impossible to listen to Mr. Roosevelt's recent speeches, to study the lease-lend bill, and to read the testimony of cabinet officers upon it without coming to the conclusion that the President now requires us to underwrite a British victory, and apparently a Chinese and a Greek victory, too. We are going to try to produce the victory by supplying our friends with the materials of war. But what if this is not enough? We have abandoned all pretense of neutrality. We are to turn our ports into British naval bases. But what if this is not enough? Then we must send the navy, the air force, and, if Mr. Churchill wants it, the army. We must guarantee the victory.

WE USED to hear of "all aid short of war." The words "short of war" are ominously missing from the President's recent speeches. The lease-lend bill contains provisions that we should have regarded as acts of war up to last week. The conclusion is inescapable that the President is reconciled to active military intervention if such intervention is needed to defeat the Axis in this war.

I have supported Mr. Roosevelt since he first went to the White House. I have never questioned his integrity or his good will. But under the pressure of great responsibilities, in the heat of controversy, in the international game of bluff, the President's speeches and recommendations are committing us to obligations abroad which we cannot perform. The effort to perform them will prevent the achievement of the aims for which the President stands at home.

If we go to war, what are we going to war for? This is to be a crusade, a holy war. Its object is moral. We are seeking, the President tells us, "a world founded on freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear." We are to intervene to support the moral order. We are to fight for "the supremacy of human rights everywhere."

With the President's desire to see freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear flourish everywhere we must all agree. Millions of Americans have supported the President because they felt that he wanted to achieve these four freedoms for America. Others, who now long to carry these blessings to the rest of the world, were not conspicuous on the firing line when Mr. Roosevelt called them, eight years ago, to do battle for the four freedoms at home. But let us agree now that we want the four freedoms; we want justice, the moral order, democracy, and the supremacy of human rights, not here alone, but everywhere. The question is whether entrance into this war is likely to bring us closer to this goal.

HOW can the United States better serve suffering humanity everywhere: by going into this war, or by staying out? I hold that the United States can better serve suffering humanity everywhere by staying out.

But can we stay out? We are told it is too late. The house is on fire. When the house is on fire, you do not straighten the furniture, and clean out the cellar, or ask yourself whether the house is as good a house as you would like. You put out the fire if you can.

The answer is that the house is not on fire. The house next door is on fire. When the house next door is on fire you do not set fire to your own house, throw the baby on the floor, and rush off to join the fun. And when you do go to quench the fire next door, you make sure that your bucket is full of water and not oil.

But, we are told, we are going to have to fight the Axis some time. Why not fight it now, when we have Britain to help us? Why wait until we have to face the whole world alone?

Think of the mass of assumptions upon which this program rests. First, we must assume that in spite of its heroic resistance and in spite of the enormous supplies of munitions which it is yet to receive from America the British Empire must fall.

Second, we must assume that the present rulers of totalitarian states will survive the conflict.

Third, we must assume that if these regimes survive they will want to attack us.

Fourth, we must assume that they will be in a position to attack us. This involves the assumptions that they will have the resources to do so, that their people will consent to new and hazardous ventures, that their task of holding down conquered nations will be easily completed, and that the ambiguous attitude of Russia will cause them little concern.

Next, if Britain falls, if the totalitarian regimes survive, if they want to attack us, if they are in a position to do so, we must further assume that they will find it possible to do so. The flying time between Africa and Brazil, or Europe and America, does not decide this question. The issue is what will be at the western end of the line? This will depend on our moral and military preparedness. A lone squadron of bombers might conquer a continent peopled with inhabitants careless of safety or bent on slavery. We cannot assume that any combination of powers can successfully invade this hemisphere if we are prepared to defend ourselves and determined to be free.

On a pyramid of assumptions, hypotheses, and guesses therefore, rests a decision to go to war now because it is too late to stay out. There is no such inevitability about war with the Axis as to prevent us from asking ourselves whether we shall serve suffering humanity better everywhere by going into this war or by staying out.

The chances of accomplishing the high moral purposes which the President has stated for America, even if we stay out of war, are not bright. The world is in chaos. We must give our thought and energy to building our defenses. What we have of high moral purpose is likely to suffer dilution at home and a cold reception abroad. But we have a chance to help humanity if we do not go into this war. If we do go into it, we have no chance at all.

THE reason why we have no chance to help humanity if we go into this war is that we are not prepared. I do not mean, primarily, that we are unprepared in a military sense. I mean that we are morally and intellectually unprepared to execute the moral mission to which the President calls us.

A missionary, even a missionary to the cannibals, must have clear and defensible convictions. And if his plan is to eat some of the cannibals in order to persuade the others to espouse the true faith, his convictions must be very clear and very defensible indeed. It is surely not too much to ask of such a missionary that his own life and works reflect the virtues which he seeks to compel others to adopt. If we stay out of war, we may perhaps some day understand and practice freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear. We may even be able to comprehend and support justice, democracy, the moral order, and the supremacy of human rights. Today we have barely begun to grasp the meaning of the words.

Those beginnings are important. They place us ahead of where we were at the end of the last century. They raise us, in accomplishment as well as in ideals, far above the accomplishment and ideals of totalitarian powers. They leave us, however, a good deal short of that level of excellence which entitles us to convert the world by force of arms.

Have we freedom of speech and freedom of worship in this country? We do have freedom to say what everybody else is saying and freedom of worship if we do not take our religion too seriously. But teachers who do not conform to the established canons of social thought lose their jobs. People who are called "radicals" have mysterious difficulties in renting halls. Labor organizers sometimes get beaten up and ridden out of town on a rail. Norman Thomas had some troubles in Jersey City. And the Daughters of the American Revolution refused to let Marian Anderson sing in the national capital in a building called Constitution Hall.

IF WE regard these exceptions as minor, reflecting the attitude of the more backward and illiterate parts of the country, what are we to say of freedom from want and freedom from fear? What of the moral order and justice and the supremacy of human rights? What of democracy in the United States?

Words like these have no meaning unless we believe in human dignity. Human dignity means that every man is an end in himself. No man can be exploited by another. Think of these things and then think of the sharecroppers, the Okies, the Negroes, the slum-dwellers, downtrodden and oppressed for gain. They have neither freedom from want nor freedom from fear. They hardly know they are living in a moral order or in a democracy where justice and human rights are supreme.

We have it on the highest authority that one-third of the nation is ill-fed, ill-clothed, and ill-housed. The latest figures of the National Resources Board show that almost precisely 55 per cent of our people are living on family incomes of less than $1250 a year. This sum, says Fortune Magazine, will not support a family of four. On this basis more than half our people are living below the minimum level of subsistence. More than half the army which will defend democracy will be drawn from those who have had this experience of the economic benefits of "the American way of life."

We know that we have had till lately nine million unemployed and that we should have them still if it were not for our military preparations. When our military preparations cease, we shall, for all we know, have nine million unemployed again. In his speech on December 29, Mr. Roosevelt said, "After the present needs of our defense are past, a proper handling of the country's peacetime needs will require all of the new productive capacity—if not still more." For ten years we have not known how to use the productive capacity we had. Now suddenly we are to believe that by some miracle, after the war is over, we shall know what to do with our old productive capacity and what to do in addition with the tremendous increases which are now being made. We have want and fear today. We shall have want and fear "when the present needs for our defense are past."

AS FOR democracy, we know that millions of men and women are disfranchised in this country because of their race, color, or condition of economic servitude. We know that many municipal governments are models of corruption. Some state governments are merely the shadows of big-city machines. Our national government is a government by pressure groups. Almost the last question an American is expected to ask about a proposal is whether it is just. The question is how much pressure is there behind it or how strong are the interests against it. On this basis are settled such great issues as monopoly, the organization of agriculture, the relation of labor and capital, whether bonuses should be paid to veterans, and whether a tariff policy based on greed should be modified by reciprocal trade agreements.

To have a community, men must work together. They must have common principles and purposes. If some men are tearing down a house while others are building it, we do not say they are working together. If some men are robbing, cheating, and oppressing others, we should not say they are a community. The aims of a democratic community are moral. United by devotion to law, equality, and justice, the democratic community works together for the happiness of all the citizens. I leave to you the decision whether we have yet achieved a democratic community in the United States.

IN THE speech in which Mr. Roosevelt told us, in effect, that we are headed for war, he said, "Certainly this is no time to stop thinking about the social and economic problems which are the root cause of the social revolution which is today a supreme factor in the world." But in the same speech he said, "The need of the moment is that our actions and our policy should be devoted primarily—almost exclusively—to meeting this foreign peril. For all our domestic problems are now a part of the great emergency." This means—and it is perfectly obvious—that if any social objective interferes with the conduct of the war, it will be, it must be instantly abandoned. War can mean only the loss of "social gains" and the destruction of the livelihood of millions in modest circumstances, while pirates and profiteers, in spite of Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to stop them, emerge stronger than ever.

The four freedoms must be abandoned if they interfere with winning a war. In the ordinary course of war most of them do interfere. All of them may. In calmer days, in 1929, the New York Times said, "War brings many collateral disasters. Freedom of speech, freedom of the press suffer. We think we shall be wiser and cooler the next time, if there is one; but we shan't." The urge to victory annihilates tolerance. In April, 1939, Alfred Duff-Cooper said that "hatred of any race was a sign of mental deficiency and of lack of a broad conception of the facts of the world." In April, 1940, Mr. Duff-Cooper said that the crimes of the German militarists were the crimes of the whole people and that this should be kept in mind when the peace treaty was written.

WE CANNOT suppose, because civil liberties were restricted in the last war and expanded after it, that we can rely on their revival after the next one. We Americans have only the faintest glimmering of what war is like. This war, if we enter it, will make the last one look like a stroll in the park. If we go into this one, we go in against powers dominating Europe and most of Asia to aid an ally who, we are told, is already in mortal danger. When we remember what a short war did to the four freedoms, we must recognize that they face extermination in the total war to come.

We Americans have hardly begun to understand and practice the ideals that we are urged to force on others. What we have, in this country, is hope. We and we alone have the hope that we can actually achieve these ideals. The framework of our government was designed to help us achieve them. We have a tremendous continent, with vast resources, in a relatively impregnable position. We have energy, imagination, and brains. We have made some notable advances in the long march toward justice, freedom, and democracy.

If we go to war, we cast away our opportunity and cancel our gains. For a generation, perhaps for a hundred years, we shall not be able to struggle back to where we were. In fact, the changes that total war will bring may mean that we shall never be able to struggle back. Education will cease. Its place will be taken by vocational and military training. The effort to establish a democratic community will stop. We shall think no more of justice, the moral order, and the supremacy of human rights. We shall have hope no longer.

WHAT, then, should our policy be? Instead of doing everything we can to get into the war, we should do everything we can to stay at peace. Our policy should be peace. Aid to Britain, China, and Greece should be extended on the basis most likely to keep us at peace, and least likely to involve us in war.

At the same time we should prepare to defend ourselves. We should prepare to defend ourselves against military or political penetration. We should bend every energy to the construction of an adequate navy and air force and the training of an adequate army. By adequate I mean adequate for defense against any power or combination of powers.

In the meantime, we should begin to make this country a refuge for those who will not live without liberty. For less than the cost of two battleships we could accommodate half a million refugees from totalitarian countries for a year. The net cost would not approach the cost of two battleships, for these victims, unlike battleships, would contribute to our industry and our cultural life, and help us make democracy work.

But most important of all, we should take up with new vigor the long struggle for moral, intellectual, and spiritual preparedness. If we would change the face of the earth, we must first change our own hearts. The principal end that we have hitherto set before ourselves is the unlimited acquisition of material goods. The business of America, said Calvin Coolidge, is business. We must now learn that material goods are a means and not an end. We want them to sustain life, but they are not the aim of life. The aim of life is the fullest development of the highest powers of men. This means art, religion, education, moral and intellectual growth. These things we have regarded as mere decorations or relaxations in the serious business of life, which was making money. The American people, in their own interest, require a moral regeneration. If they are to be missionaries to the world, this regeneration must be profound and complete.

WE MUST try to build a new moral order for America. We need moral conviction, intellectual clarity, and moral action: moral conviction about the dignity of man, intellectual clarity about ends and means, moral action to construct institutions to bring to pass the ends we have chosen.

A new moral order for America means a new conception of security. Today we do not permit men to die of starvation, but neither do we give them an incentive to live. Every citizen must have a respected place in the achievement of the national purpose.

A new moral order for America means a new conception of sacrifice, sacrifice for the moral purposes of the community. In the interest of human dignity we need a rising standard of health, character, and intelligence. These positive goals demand the devotion and sacrifice of every American. We should rebuild one-third of the nation's homes. We must provide adequate medical care in every corner of the land. We must develop an education aimed at moral and intellectual growth instead of at making money.

A new moral order for America means a new conception of mastery. We must learn how to reconcile the machine with human dignity. We have allowed it to run wild in prosperity and war and to rust idly in periodic collapse. We have hitherto evaded the issue by seeking new markets. In an unstable world this has meant bigger and bigger collapses, more and more catastrophic war. In Europe and Russia the efforts to master the machine are carried out by methods we despise. America can master the machine within the framework of a balanced democracy, outdistance the totalitarian despotisms, and bring light and hope to the world. It is our highest function and greatest opportunity to learn to make democracy work. We must bring justice and the moral order to life, here and now.

IF WE have strong defenses and understand and believe in what we are defending, we need fear nobody in the world. If we do not understand and believe in what we are defending, we may still win, but the victory will be as fruitless as the last. What did we do with the last one? What shall we do with this one? The government of Great Britain has repeatedly refused to state its war aims. The President in his foreign policy is pledged to back up Great Britain, and beyond that, to the pursuit of the unattainable. If we go to war, we shall not know what we are fighting for. If we stay out of war until we do, we may have the stamina to win and the knowledge to use the victory for the welfare of mankind.

The path to war is a false path to freedom. A new moral order for America is the true path to freedom. A new moral order for America means new strength for America, and new hope for the moral reconstruction of mankind. We are turning aside from the true path to freedom because it is easier to blame Hitler

AMERICA FIRST.

The America First movement sprang into being as nearly spontaneously as any organization ever did. Many men and women at almost the same moment came to the conclusion that something had to be done and done quickly if this country was to avoid folly and the disasters which flow from folly.

The President and those about him were busily spreading the false fear of invasion. The administration was receiving the powerful assistance of the William Allen White committee as it was then called. Only a few newspapers and individual voices were expressing opposition. The war shouters were having things pretty much their own way.

The turning point may well have been Mr. White's gloating speech when the press agents gave him their annual award. That declaration of how he had put his campaign over made it all too clear that unless the common prudence of the country expressed itself the decision would go by default. We should find ourselves in a war which we had not made, for spoils which we did not want; and in that war we should lose our liberty as well as hundreds of thousands and perhaps millions of our young men.

And so the America First committee came into being and into action. It grew very rapidly. It drew its strength from all walks of life, from men and women of varying political and religious faiths. Because it was the expression of the common sense of the nation, the movement was blessed from the start with common sense leadership.

There were at least two groups of noisy hyphenates who would have liked to use the committee: The professional Irish-Americans and the professional German-Americans. The committee would have nothing to do with either of them. The America First movement was and is just what its name indicates. It is against participation in the war not because it hates England, which it doesn't, and not because it loves Germany, which it doesn't, but because it believes that America's foreign policy should be formulated with a view to the welfare of America and not primarily for the benefit or injury of any other nation or group of nations. Accordingly, the hyphenates and all others who had an ax to grind were given the bum's rush. Strenuous efforts have been made to get something on the committee but they have all failed. There isn't anything to get.

Today the America First movement, blessed as it is with a wise and patriotic leadership, is the most important as it is also the most promising political phenomenon in the United States. Naturally the movement got its start here in the heart of the continent because here the patriotism of the people is least alloyed. We have no colonial background; we have always been Americans. Our country is America. The instinct which led to the organization of the America First committee to combat organized internationalism was strongest here, but we have no monopoly of patriotism.

The movement is spreading rapidly and its spread should be given every encouragement. As quickly as possible chapters should be established elsewhere and particularly in those regions in the east, where internationalism is rampant.

The opposition to America First is formidable. Great names in what is called Society, great names in international finance, great wealth, are encouraging the American people to believe that they can enter the war without sacrificing life and liberty. The game is a reckless one. After the dictatorship bill comes war and after war the end of the republic. It is to avoid that chain of disasters that America First came into being. A nobler cause never invited the support of patriotic men and women. The finest thing an American can do is join America First.

U. S. Holds Upper Hand On Nazis In Trad

'A favorite argument of the interventionists is that if Hitler conquers Europe, he will be able to cut off our foreign trade, deny us necessary strategic materials for our defenses and other industries, and strangle us into submission to his Nazi regime. This theory holds that a Hitler victorious in Europe could declare economic war upon the United States still, without firing a shot, reduce us to a weak and helpless nation.

This argument is utterly false. It has been emphatically refuted by Bernard Baruch, head of President Wilson's War Industries Board during the World War; by John T. Flynn, George N. Peek, Samuel Crowther, and a host of other eminent and qualified economists.

The simple fact is that if Hitler wins the war—controlling even countries like Russia, Sweden, Spain and Portugal which he has not yet conquered—his trading position, his ability to choose the countries with which he will do business, will be weaker, not stronger. Every country in Europe that Hitler conquers not only makes him less able to cut off American trade, but also makes it more urgent for him to do business with the Western Hemisphere. For there is not one country that he has occupied that does not depend desperately on the outside world either for necessary raw materials to keep its industries going; for manufactured goods, such as clothing; or for food—for meats, fo[illegible] for grains.

Germany Always Forced To Trade Outside Europe

Germany has always been forced to do business with the outside world to get food for her people and raw materials for her industries. She has always been forced to import huge quantities of oil, for her synthetic industry supplies well under half her needs. Without that vital fluid her panzer divisions could not roll, her trains could not run, her vast industries could not function. She has always needed copper—essential for her electrical industries. She has needed rubber, lead, tin, foodstuffs.

When this war is over and her reserve stocks are depleted, Germany will need these things again. They are not in her own soil for her to take. Where can she turn for them?

She cannot get them from the countries she has conquered, for those countries are all in the same desperate position. If Hitler takes France and Italy into his economic sphere, for example, his headaches will only be intensified. France and Italy likewise need food imports. They also need raw materials. A few countries—like Denmark, Spain, Hungary—produce some surplus foods, but hardly enough to serve the needs of a Nazified Europe. And they need raw materials. Some countries—like Albania, Greece, Norway, Sweden—can provide a few raw materials. But they need food—food which the already hungry continent cannot give them.

Nazis Dilute Own Strength
With Europe's Weaknesses

As a result, in Nazifying Europe, the Germans will have diluted their own economic strength with Europe's economic weaknesses. And, according to the Brookings Institution—a recognized, impartial economic organization—this Nazified Europe would have to buy from the outside world each year TWICE as much food, THREE TIMES as many raw materials as did Germany herself in 1937.

Clearly, these facts prove that Hitler will be in no position to dominate world trade. In a study on this subject, issued in June, the Brookings Institution said: "The important requirements of Nazi Europe are so large and so varied that she is scarcely in a position to buy or refrain from buying at will."

Nazi Europe therefore must import —or reduce itself to starving impotence. Without food imports, Europe's population would have always to suffer on short rations, lacking in cereals, fats, vegetable oils, meats and dairy products. Without raw material imports of cotton, wool, silk, jute, flax and hemp, the textile industries would be crippled—the people without clothing. Without industrial mineral imports, all manufacturing, mining, transportation, communication and farming would be seriously hampered.

Even Russia Cannot Give
What Germany Needs

Even with Russia under his thumb Hitler would be little better off. He would still have to depend strongly on imports from outside Europe. In 1937, Russia could provide only fourteen per cent of the total food the rest of Europe needed to import. Today food is rationed in Russia, and Stalin's policy of destroying farm lands when retreating before the Nazis means there will be food shortages for years to come. In 1937, Russia could provide only eight percent of Europe's raw material imports.

Nor could Russia provide Hitler with the vital oil he needs. The interventionist Fortune magazine itself admitted this June that Russia "has no oil to spare." Soviet oil is vitally necessary for the half-million tractors on Russia's collectivized farms. Oil today is strictly rationed in the Soviet, and Stalin is forced to import regular and high-octane gasoline from the United States to keep his war machine running. If Hitler took Russia's oil, the farms could not be cultivated, for—as a result of the destruction of 15,000,000 horses in the farmers' uprising against collectivism in the twenties—only tractors are available, and these tractors use sixty percent of all the motor fuel produced in Russia. If Hitler takes the oil he needs, therefore, he cannot get the food he needs; and if he takes the food, he cannot get the oil.

Plainly, a Nazi economy that included Russia and the Balkan countries formerly dominated by Russia would still need desperately to buy food and raw materials in the world market. Hitler would have to trade with the Americas. And we could set the terms. For here we produce what he sorely needs.

Western Hemisphere
Has Vital Raw Materials

We have here the copper, and in the past the now Nazified Europe drew on us for eighty percent of its supply. We have the lead—necessary for storage batteries of automobiles, trucks, tanks, tractors and submarines. In the past we provided Europe with two-thirds of its lead import requirements. Nazi Europe has virtually no nickel resources. Nickel is an essential alloy for armor plate. For this Hitler would have to trade with Canada, while holds a virtual world monopoly. He would need cotton, and even if he controlled cotton-producing Egypt, he would still have to trade with Canada, which holds thirds of his needed supplies. The United States is the world's largest producer of cotton. These are a few of the things that Hitler needs—things he will have to get by trade with the Americas.

To get food for a Europe starved after years of war, Hitler would have to trade with us. Already the United States and South America are storing up huge supplies of foodstuffs to ship to an emaciated Europe at the war's end.

While it is evident that Hitler must trade with the Western Hemisphere, however, by no means do the Americas have to trade with Hitler. With the exception of a few food items which are not essential to us, such as tea and spices, we have in the United States an abundance of every kind of food—meats, fruits, vegetables, cereals, dairy products. We are equally secure in the matter of raw materials.

There are fourteen "strategic materials" listed by the Army and Navy Munitions Board as vitally necessary for American defense and other industrial production that are either not produced in the United States or are produced in quantities inadequate for our needs. These materials are antimony, chromium, coconut shell char, manganese, manila fiber, mercury, mica, nickel, quartz crystal, quinine, rubber, silk, tin, tungsten. But every one of these essential materials can be obtained in the quantity we need from the other American countries, or completely serviceable substitutes for them can be found in North or South America.

Antimony Production Here
Relieves Dependence On China

For example, the United States now buys antimony from China. This is a necessary steel alloy, used in the manufacture of ammunition—shrapnel, shells and bullets. We produce some antimony in this country. Our own production, coupled with increased production in Mexico and Bolivia, can make us self-sufficient in that vital metal. We produce little nickel, necessary for armored plate in tanks, battleships, planes. But we can get more than we need of nickel from Canada, which produces 85 to 90 percent of the world's supply. Much of our tin now comes from the Netherlands Indies and British Malaya. We have a large reserve on hand; a new smelting plant in Texas is nearing completion [illegible] will turn out 18,000 tons a year; our smelters can be put in operation [illegible] Bolivia's large tin resources; and we can use glass as a substitute for tin products, such as tin cans.

With every other product essential to the United States the situation is the same. We can either get it elsewhere [illegible] the Americas have an adequate substitute. Almost raw materials, the [illegible] This country normally produces [illegible] fifths of the world's steel and could, if necessary, produce far more. One U. S. steel company today has an output equal to that of all Germany. We produce three-fifths of the world's oil, a third of its coal, a third of its copper, four-fifths of its sulphur, one-quarter of its lead, three-tenths of its zinc.

We are independent of Hitler, and even if all the products of a Nazi Europe and the countries under [illegible] domination were denied us, could continue to produce all we [illegible] for our own use and protection. United States does not have to do b[illegible] ness with Hitler or any combinatio[illegible] Hitlers.

U. S. Can Undersell
Nazis In World Markets

In view of America's impregna[illegible] trade position, it is obvious that [illegible] have nothing to fear from competiti[illegible] with Hitler for markets outside [illegible] Hemisphere and a Nazi-dominat[illegible] Europe.

Nations buy where they can get [illegible] most for their money, where they [illegible] sell their products in exchange. T[illegible] has always been true and will [illegible] to be true regardless [illegible] gaining the upper ha[illegible]

Bernard Baruch, one of A[illegible] most eminent economists who [illegible] an advisor to President Roosevelt, often scouted the argument that [illegible] country need fear competition [illegible] Hitler in post-war trade. In an [illegible] view with the Wall Street Jou[illegible] June 6, 1941, Mr. Baruch decla[illegible] Germany, not the United States [illegible] be "on the spot" economically [illegible] Nazis were to win control of t[illegible] rope—a continent.

Clearly, with Hitler facing a d[illegible] ate shortage of raw materials a[illegible] war's end, many of which he can[illegible] tain only from the Americas; with [illegible] hemisphere able, if necessary, [illegible] vide itself with every [illegible] necessary [illegible] for even defense [illegible] requirements; with th[illegible] United States [illegible] undersell Hitle[illegible] in trade with the outside [illegible] have nothing to fear from a Nazi [illegible] ropean victory.

Hitler cannot invade America wi[illegible] his tanks; he cannot invade us with [illegible] trade. If he should ever try, he wou[illegible] be writing the ticket for his own [illegible] struction.

Can Hitler Invade America?

(from the Reader's Digest of April, 1941.)

JOHN T. FLYNN

ans are told that the war in s our war, because if Hitler England the United States is a will invade America. And ople believe this so firmly that willing to go to any lengths British defeat Hitler. A great al question of the day is, there-AN Hitler invade America?

w we what Hitler would ren order to do so.

t of all, remember that the coun-es he so far conquered are much er, all put together, than the d States. Their total populations
: 110,000,000. Ours is 130,000,000.
are seven different countries,
small compared with Germany, (except Norway) right on Ger-y's land frontiers. Hitler attacked h one separately. All he had to do s to roll across their borders with vast mechanical equipment.

Germany has 80 million population, gigantic army and an air force THREE times the size of Britain's. England has only 40 million people. But when Hitler turned on England there was the English Channel—only 23 miles wide at its narrowest point. Ten months after France fell, he still had not even attempted to cross that narrow strip of water with soldiers or tanks. When he attempts to invade the United States—or Canada—he would face the problem of crossing with his armies 3,000 miles of the Atlantic Ocean and confronting 130,000,000 people on a small island with small natural resources, but a vast nation with 130,000,000 people and resources far exceeding his own.

This Map Shows the Vast Distances Hitler Would Have to Travel With Tremendous Numbers of Men, Food, Oil and All Kinds of Equipment If He Ever Tried to Invade America

[illegible] would be such that Hitler would have no [illegible] they are supplied with an endless supply of [illegible], armored trucks, machine guns [illegible] cannon and mortars, anti-aircraft [illegible] and anti-tank guns and motor- [illegible] squadrons and planes. If Hitler [illegible]pted to invade America he would [illegible]o bring not only his soldiers but [illegible]s equipment. Without it he [illegible]e helpless.

[illegible]n army leaders have always [illegible] attempt to conquer us with- [illegible]ring enough men here to do [illegible].

How many men would that [illegible]en Hitler went into Poland, [illegible]as his borders, he marched [illegible]0,000 men. When he moved [illegible]Holland, Belgium and France not less than 2,000,000 men. [illegible]t a fair assumption that to de- [illegible]e United States here he would [illegible]at least as many men as he took France? Could Hitler conquer country with less than three or [illegible]r million men?

But let us suppose that Hitler might [illegible] crazy enough to try to beat the United States with 1,000,000 men. How much equipment would he have to bring along? Figures based on the equipment carried by American army units show a staggering amount of equipment necessary for such a force, though they are very much under what the Germans carry. But, on the American system, Hitler's million invaders would have to bring with them, among other things, over 44,000 guns of various types; over 100,000 vehicles, including 4,500 tanks; and nearly 10,000 planes.

Such an army would have to bring its food, its oil, its ammunition until the country is conquered. It would require, each day, 9,000,000 pounds of rations and supplies, 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline, 150,000 gallons of oil. The quantities of shot and shell needed would be staggering. After Hitler's army got here, it would have to keep open a continuous flow of provisions, fuel, ammunition and replacements of arms and equipment. Transporting this vast army, and the equipment and supplies it would require, is beyond the power of any country.

Initial Force Of 50,000 Most That Can Be Sent

Hanson W. Baldwin, military expert of the New York Times, says: "The world's tonnage facilities are such that no combination of powers could possibly transport more than [illegible] men in a month. An initial expeditionary force of 50,000 would be the maximum that could be brought against us, if the size of convoy, number of ships and planes needed for proper [illegible] and the like are considered."

In the World War we sent 2,000,000 men to France. But we had the ships of twelve countries and the American, British and French navies. The Germans were without a fleet. [illegible] enemy shore and sent engineers and mechanics ahead of them to build ports and docks to unload the equipment.

Let us suppose that Germany has defeated England and taken the British navy. She now decides to send her army to America.

U. S. Navy Would Be More Formidable

Germany, even with the British fleet, would [illegible] complete command of the seas. The American navy would have to be wiped out. Two things must be remembered. First, at the end of this war the American navy would be larger than the German navy and the British navy combined. Second, Germany would have to do its naval fighting on this side of the ocean. Three thousand miles away from their own coasts this navy would be helpless against a navy merely its equal in numbers but three times its strength in effective fighting power.

Much is made of the point that our fleet would be divided or wholly engaged in the Pacific, or that it could be closed out of the Atlantic by bombing the Panama Canal. This is a decisive argument for keeping out of England's quarrel in the Orient and keeping the bulk of our fleet where it might be really needed. The weight of naval opinion is that Japan would never dream of carrying a war to these shores. Her interests are in the East.

If 30 or 40 Nazi ships with 50,000 men, convoyed by warships, attempted to land here, they would not sneak in on some dark night. Plane scouts would herald their approach days in advance. They could not empty their cargo on an open beach, but must first obtain possession of a secure harbor.

Warships convoying troop transports would be open to almost certain disaster from shore artillery, always considered superior to seaborne guns. When these coastal defenses are reinforced by shore-based air forces, no military commander would attempt landing. The inability of the British to land in Norway once Germany had gotten there first and the deadly power of manned airplanes against British convoying warships in the Mediterranean leave little doubt on this question. It was this which led General Hagood to say in 1937: "America is the strongest military nation on earth—that is, the easiest nation to prepare for defense." And in 1938 Rear Admiral Cook told a congressional committee: "I do not think that any fleet could make an effective landing on our coast, whether we had a navy or not, provided enough shore-based aircraft are available."

Even the planes used by this invading force must be transported to this country by ships. They cannot come as hostile craft and find a friendly landing here.

Invading Armada At Our Mercy

For every man transported there must be at least seven and a half tons of shipping. An attacking force of 100,000 thus would require 750,000 tons. Averaging 5,000 tons, this would require 150 vessels, convoyed by a flotilla of seven battleships, several aircraft carriers, seven light cruisers, a couple of minelayers and at least 70 destroyers. Imagine this immense armada, moving slowly over the seas 5,000 miles from its own base and at the mercy of our navy and air force, and compelled to land at a port protected by heavy guns and mine-sown seas. The idea is fantastic.

To come here after defeating England, Hitler would have to set out upon a vast military adventure, using up all the resources he has. And he would leave behind him on his rear Russia, which would welcome his plight, and 200,000,000 sullen people in Europe who would be watching the moment to cause him trouble. That moment would come when he was compelled to strip himself in Europe to fight here. Dictators don't take such chances.

President Admitted Invasion Is Impossible

The President said in his Message to Congress on January 6, 1941: "Even if there were no British navy it is not probable any enemy would be stupid enough to attack us by landing troops in the United States from across thousands of miles of ocean, until it had acquired strategic bases from which to operate." Here is a complete admission that invasion is impossible, from the lips of a man who has done more than any other to frighten us with the fear of invasion.

The President saves his point by insisting that Hitler would first have to acquire bases in this hemisphere. Those bases would have to be much closer to the United States than is Germany, otherwise there would be no sense in bases. Brazil is the South American base to which the President is found of referring. This is because Hitler could take over West Africa and concentrate his forces at Dakar, which is only 1,600 miles from Pernambuco in Brazil. Hitler will be able to cross over the Atlantic at this narrow stretch to Brazil and, as Senator Claude Pepper has described it, roll on through Venezuela, Colombia, Central America and Mexico to the Rio Grande.

This proposal is so grotesque that it hardly calls for an answer. Before he started from Germany he would be 3,300 miles from the United States. After traveling 5,000 miles to Brazil he would be farther away from the United States than when he started. And he would have to march a million men with all their supplies through tropical jungles and over rugged mountains!

Experts Discount Greenland Threat

Others tell us he will go to Greenland, but military and aviation experts know it is impossible to build bases there to accommodate either naval or airplane units large enough for attack here. Even if it were possible, Hitler could not do this unless he had command of the seas. And if he had command of the seas he wouldn't go to Greenland.

There are, however, other bases from which attacks might be launched: Newfoundland, Bermuda, the West Indies, or any British or Dutch or French possessions in the neighborhood of the northern coast of South America. But American warships could almost the very day that England fall take possession of these places without firing a shot, spending a dollar, or losing a man.

As for Newfoundland, there we would pursue the policy we would adopt for all of Canada. We would announce that we would resist with force any attack upon that country. The same arguments which prevent the impossibility of a frontal attack on the United States apply to Canada backed by the United States.

Conquest by fifth-column penetration is suggested. Secret agents can certainly AID an invader, but they could not be of decisive aid in a country as large as ours nor effect POSSESSION of any country in this hemisphere. Some go so far as to say Hitler could take over Brazil by telephone. I have been able to find no military authority who believes that Germany could seize a country on this continent except by military conquest and occupation.

Air Fleet Non-Existent That Could Conquer Us

But how about aerial conquest? Well, there is not in existence any fleet of planes that could menace us from Europe or from any base such as Greenland or the Azores. Some bombers could get over and drop a few bombs. But everyone knows by now that you do not conquer a country merely by dropping bombs on it. It must be occupied.

Americans are willing to aid Britain because they hate fascism, they are against Hitler, they look upon the English government, despite its aristocratic character, and its empire, as more civilized than Hitler's dictatorship. They are willing to help through a generous sympathy. But they should disabuse themselves of the panicky illusion that they must help Britain because a victorious Hitler would conquer America next.

We must provide this country with defenses that will make an invasion by any force, however great, impossible. But few Americans want to create a force capable of invading Europe or Asia and carrying on an aggressive war there. AND IT IS A SIGNIFICANT FACT THAT THERE IS NO MILITARY AUTHORITY IN THIS COUNTRY WHO BELIEVES THAT AN INVASION OF AMERICA BY GERMANY—WITH OR WITHOUT THE BRITISH FLEET—IS POSSIBLE.

America First Committee Principles

1. The United States must build an impregnable defense for America. With such a defense no foreign power, or group of powers, can successfully attack us.

2. Americans should and do cherish the ideals of democracy and abhor dictatorship, but the welfare of one hundred thirty million Americans and the preservation of democracy on this continent demand that the United States keep out of foreign wars.

3. The cash and carry provisions of the existing Neutrality Act are essential to American peace and security. Within the limits of that Act, Americans may properly aid Great Britain. Aid to her beyond the limitations of the present Neutrality Act would weaken our defense at home, and might well involve us in conflict. We oppose any change in the law which would permit American vessels to enter the combat zone or which would permit the American Navy to convoy merchant ships through that zone, as any such course would inevitably plunge this country into Europe's war.

4. With proper safeguards for the distribution of supplies and the maintenance of our neutrality, Americans should, to the limit of their ability, give humanitarian aid to the suffering and needy people of England and the occupied countries.

Introducing General Wood

By Clay Judson

Former President of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations

We are at a crisis in our international relations. On the decisions now made by the people of this country and their leaders may depend our national welfare for generations to come.

At earlier meetings you have had presented to you dramatically, brilliantly, emotionally, the views of those who believe that the ideal of American life now demands a full participation in the war between England and Germany, and a willingness to take all the risks of war which that involves.

Now there is another view, equally patriotic, equally above question from the standpoint of ideals—but diametrically opposed in its spiritual and its practical approach to the problem. This view sees America's destiny as the preservation of peace for its 135,000,000 people; the abstention on any account, and no matter how emotional the appeal, from European and Asiatic wars; the maintenance of the processes of democracy and of civilization.

Those who hold this view are certain that we cannot enforce democracy on the rest of the world by force and arms. They believe war will be ruinous to everything we cherish most, and they believe we can avoid war, and should make every effort to do so.

This is the view of the man who addresses you today. He was born sixty-one years ago in the State of Missouri. Forty years ago he graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His first military service was in the Philippine insurrection. As Chief Quartermaster at Panama during the days of the canal construction under General Goethals, he was charged with the duty of acquiring food, clothing, and supplies for the 40,000 employees and officials in the canal zone. During the World War he had a major responsibility for supplying our entire military establishment. After the war, in civil life, his ability gave him immediate recognition in the commercial world, where he served for ten years as President of Sears, Roebuck & Company, and is now the Chairman of its Board of Directors.

For his outstanding services during the World War he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal. He is a Commander of the British Order of St. Michael & St. George. He is a Knight of the French Legion of Honor. At present he is the Acting Chairman of the America First Committee.

I am honored in presenting to you General Robert E. Wood, who will speak on "Our Foreign Policy."

General Robert E. Wood's Speech

"Our Foreign Policy"

I hesitated to accept the invitation of my friends, Dr. Lichtenstein and Mr. Utley, to address this gathering for two reasons—first, because I do not feel on a par as a speaker with the very eminent persons who have addressed these gatherings; second, because my views are opposed to those of a probable majority of my listeners—and I may add—opposed to those of some of my dearest friends and relatives. I have a brother-in-law on the William Allen White Committee.

But it is one of the beauties of a democracy that in time of peace, at least, men are free to express their opinions and honest men respect opposing opinions if those opinions are sincere and free of ulterior motive, and now is a time for all honest men to express their convictions.

The Hour of Decision

This country is on the eve of momentous decisions. The results of these decisions may be so far reaching that they may have an effect for good or bad on the life of this country for at least a generation. I am at the stage of life when I do not care as to the effect on myself or my own generation. I do greatly care what the effects will be on my children and grandchildren and their generation.

There are two schools of thought in this country on the subject of our foreign policy. They may be termed "Interventionists" and "Isolationists." These terms are not exactly descriptive, because all interventionists are not extreme interventionists and most isolationists are only isolationists as to Europe and Asia, but not isolationists as to the balance of North America and South America.

I except from my discussion those who have ulterior motives—anything except the welfare of our country. That would include the Communists who really desire to destroy our Government; the Nazis and members of the Bund who put the interests of Germany above those of this country; some ultra-pacifists who forget the interests of their country in their desire for peace at any price; a limited number of extreme Anglophiles who put the interests of Great Britain above those of their own country.

Our Common Ground

These schools of thought are in violent opposition, but there are certain points of agreement among all classes except perhaps what may be called the lunatic fringe of our population.

These points of agreement are:

First—The necessity for a strong defense—a strengthening of our army and navy and air force. Our people are practically unanimous on this subject—the only differences are on differences of detail. It is obvious that the richest nation of the world, in a world of force, must make itself impregnable.

Second—The belief that no foreign nation must obtain possession of any part of the two Americas and that the United States must be prepared to defend the North American continent, and at least that portion of the South American continent as far as the Equator. There is some difference of opinion as to whether military and naval protection should go as far as Cape Horn.

Third—Access to our great industrial plant by Great Britain within the limits of the neutrality law—that is, unlimited right of purchase by Great Britain of planes, tanks, munitions of war, raw materials from private manufacturers, provided she can pay for them and provide her own transportation. And this I may add is a very great aid.

Without this aid now being given, England could not long carry on the war, for her supplies of raw materials, her steel making capacity, munitions and plane plants are insufficient for a long major war. Without the production facilities of the United States she would be crushed. Theoretically, Germany is entitled to the same privilege—actually, on account of the British blockade, she cannot use our facilities, but she has no right to complain. I believe the overwhelming majority of the citizens are in accord with these three principles. I know I am.

Here Differences Begin

But it is when we get beyond the third point that opinion diverges sharply. The present administration in power, probably the majority of our editors and columnists, a very influential body of public opinion as represented by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding Britain is in favor of our government turning over some of our flying fortresses, more destroyers, more planes, and merchant ships. Others, even more extreme, favor an outright alliance with Great Britain and a declaration of war on Germany.

Now what are the fundamental arguments for this point of view? They may be reduced to three principal reasons:

First—The totalitarian state with its ideology, with its record of persecution, is repugnant to our ideals and should be destroyed, even if we have to enter a war to accomplish this result.

Second—Our own protection depends on Britain as our first line of defense, and if she falls, we are exposed to the onslaught of a totalitarian combination. Per se, it follows that we must give England all the aid we can, even at the risk of entering the war.

Third—If Britain is defeated, it will be impossible for a free competitive, unorganized and unmanaged industrial system to compete with a totalitarian system.

War Does Not Destroy Ideologies

As to the first reason, you cannot destroy an ideology by waging war on it. The conditions created in Europe by the Versailles Treaty were largely responsible for the rise of Hitler and the Nazi philosophy. The history of Europe for the last 100 years is a story of cruelties, persecutions, injustices. No government was more repugnant to our ideals and ideas than the old Czaristic regime of Russia—it had over many years a series of pogroms, but we remained on friendly terms with Russia. Up to 1917 we had always remained true to the principles of foreign policy laid down by the founders of our country: the policy of keeping aloof from the quarrels of Europe and Asia.

The Communistic regime of Russia under Lenin and Stalin was equally opposed to our principles and was detested by the majority of our people. Nevertheless, we have maintained our relations with Russia, and we have certainly had no idea of making war on that country.

Sentimentalists or Realists?

A nation cannot be a knight-errant. It must be realistic. Great Britain, during her entire history, has been coldly realistic, and her success in building up her Empire has been due to her realism. As individuals we can give vent to our generous impulses or even to our pet hates, but our statesmen, our editors, our moulders of public opinion must consider that it is not their individual fortunes and lives that are to be considered, but those of 130,000,000 of their fellow citizens.

Now as to the second reason—our military defense in the event of a German victory. Our country has gone through a curious transformation of thought since May 10th. From an underestimate of the military and economic strength of Germany, it has gone to the opposite extreme of overestimating that strength. From some of the remarks heard on the Eastern seaboard in June, we would have thought that New York and Boston were in imminent danger of being bombed.

Bombings Alone Cannot Win

Now the events in Spain, Poland, Belgium and France showed the major importance of the air arm when supported by tanks, infantry and a modern army. But Spain showed that bombing of cities, unsupported by an army, cannot win a war or even shake the morale of a population if the nation is of tough fibre like the Spanish and English peoples.

Apparently the Battle of England is demonstrating the same principle. Unless an army can cross the Channel, the German air force cannot impose a decision on England. Casualties and material damage —yes. The 15,000 casualties in London so far are but a drop in the bucket for a nation of 45,000,000 people; more casualties were incurred in single days of the Verdun, Ypres and Somme offensives. The destruction of apartment houses, stores, public buildings do not constitute a blow to the military strength of a nation. If the docks, railroads, power plants and munitions plants are put out of commission, it does affect the military effort, but unless it is done on a gigantic scale the nation cannot be subdued, and all evidence is to the effect that military damage thus far has not been of such a serious character as to severely impair the island's defense.

Can England Be Invaded?

As for an invasion, at the great risk of being called a false prophet, I doubt whether any invasion will ever be made, and if it is attempted, it will be decisively repulsed. To land 250,000 Germans in England, with mechanized equipment, ammunition and necessary supplies, would be a gigantic operation. Once landed, that force would have to face 1,500,000 Englishmen under arms, fighting on their own island behind strong defenses. And to land those 250,000 Germans means practically complete mastery of the air, blocking off the English fleet, complete control of the Channel—none of which objectives have yet been attained after more than a month of intensive effort. To sum up, I doubt whether the island can be conquered, and I am quite sure the British fleet cannot be put out of commission.

Now we come to our own danger of invasion and the perfectly fantastic hysteria that pervaded this country after the battle of France. I think any competent military or naval expert, certainly the vast majority, will tell you that there is absolutely no danger of an invasion of the United States even if Germany is completely victorious, and I doubt whether she will be. The amount of shipping required for the transportation of even 250,000 men of a modern mechanized army with their ammunition and supplies over 3,000 miles of ocean is colossal and it is to be presumed that our own navy and air force will not be idle.

No Army Can Attack Us

If it is impracticable or at least exceedingly difficult for an army to cross 25 miles of Channel, what valid grounds are there for supposing that a large army can cross 3,000 miles of ocean to invade a continent?

Some will inquire—why should it not be possible for Germany to seize bases in Mexico or Central America and attack from those countries. Again, that presupposes an overwhelming sea power. But even if that sea power were present, there would again be the same difficulties of a 3,000 mile long line of communication for an invading army. And an army once landed must cross an exceedingly difficult terrain before ever arriving at the Texas border. I think that hypothesis may be safely dismissed.

Panic First—Then War!

Now we come to the favorite bogey—air attacks. I quote from Major Al Williams' recent speech, reprinted in the Congressional Record—"Oceans and extended lines of communications are still vital factors in modern warfare. President Roosevelt's panicky flight schedule for the air invasion of America is ridiculous, worthy of Hollywood and certainly not of the White House. To support my argument against the President's wild flight schedule for a foreign air invasion of the United States I offer a single incontrovertible reason. With all their air power the Germans could not attack and subdue England from air bases 300 to 500 miles distant. Instead they seized air bases on the north coast of Holland, Belgium and France 20 to 100 miles distant from the coast of England. Each and every stage of the fantastic itinerary for the air invasion of America would have to be conquered for the establishment of major air bases for the enemy attempting the job. The President must know this—but apparently the pattern is panic first, and then war."

An Exhausted Germany Is Harmless

All of this presupposes a completely victorious Germany, ready at the end of a long and costly struggle, to immediately embark on a new and perilous adventure across 3,000 miles of ocean against a nation of 130,000,000 people. The present war represents seven years of preparation on the part of Germany. So-called total war represents a prodigal expenditure of labor, money and effort. Steel is rapidly consumed, aircraft and mechanical equipment are rapidly worn out, reserves of all kinds are exhausted, not to mention the wear and tear on human beings. A nation that for seven years has been given guns instead of butter is apt at the end of this war to demand more butter from its leaders.

So on every count it seems inconceivable to me that Germany at the end of the war, even if aided by its allies, who will be in a worse condition of exhaustion than Germany itself, will attack the United States. And if this country with its 130,000,00 people and its two great natural ocean barriers cannot defend itself unaided by Britain or anybody else, it does not deserve to survive. The great nation that has to trust to others for its defense is on the downward path to destruction.

Europe Must Have Our Goods

Now as to our economic problems. An economic war after the war—the loss of our European, Asiatic and South American trade. I have a high personal regard for Walter Lippmann's brains and ability, but I believe his picture of an unequal contest between a totalitarian economy and a free economy is misleading. After all, when two nations or two continents each have things the other needs trade eventually results regardless of the feelings each may have for the other. Europe needs us more than we need Europe—our materials and products are more important to her than hers to us. True, Germany has reduced largely its purchases from us, but more from necessity than choice. As far as South America is concerned, we can always obtain the lion's share of the trade of Mexico, Central America, Colombia and Venezuela because we buy the metals of Mexico, the coffee and bananas of Central America and Colombia, the oil of Venezuela. In those countries, our geographical location must always give us the edge. We can take the coffee of Brazil but not its cotton; so its trade will naturally divide between Europe and the United States. It is in Argentina and Chile that our troubles come. We cannot take the meat, cotton and wool of the Argentina because we produce those products ourselves. The same applies to the copper and nitrates of Chile. We cannot sell unless we buy and that is a far greater obstacle than all Nazidom.

It must not be forgotten that Germany put on an intensive drive for trade in South America in the period 1936-1938, and if my recollection of the figures is correct, while Germany's percentage of the trade gained somewhat, the gain was not large, and it was largely at the expense of Great Britain; our trade declined only a fraction of one per cent.

We'll Get Our Share of Foreign Trade!

No man can foretell the future, but as long as we have products South America can use and above all, if they have products we can use, we will get our full share of the trade. As for Asia, the same remarks pertain as to Europe. Japan needs us far more than we need her. Our trade with Japan incidentally runs between five and six times the trade of China, whom we are making such great efforts to help. Even if Japan gets control of the Dutch East Indies—and that is not assured—she is going to be more anxious to sell us rubber and tin to obtain dollar exchange than we are to buy the products. And if war with Japan comes, we can get Bolivian tin and develop our synthetic rubber. We are certainly as resourceful as the Germans who are filling 90% of their rubber requirements with the synthetic article.

In 1937 Colombia's trade with us was 168,000,000 pesos, with Germany 40,000,000. Of Venezuela's trade, the United States took 12.5% of their imports and furnished 53% of the exports, Germany 13.6%. Of Costa Rica's imports, 42.5% came from the United States, 23% from Germany. Of her exports 45% went to the United States and 19.5% to Germany.

As for lack of organization, if needs be, we can meet fire with fire; we can set up export cartels and mass purchasing organizations and we can do this without danger to our system.

The Americas Must Stand Together!

Americans like myself feel that our true mission is in North America and South America. We stand today in an unrivalled position. With our resources and organizing ability we can develop, with our Canadian friends, an only partially developed continent like North America and a virgin continent like South America. The reorganization and proper development of Mexico alone would afford an outlet for our capital and energies for some time to come. And while I think we should try in every way to maintain the friendship of our neighbors to the South, I think we should also make it clearly understood that no government in Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean South American countries can be tolerated unless it is friendly to the United States and that we will make every effort to prevent the spread of totalitarian influence there.

Instead of what seems to be a sane objective we are on the verge of throwing our treasure and our blood into a European war, with consequences that no one can foretell.

I respect the honest views of honest Americans, no matter how opposed they may be to my own, but there are two matters that I resent: First is the attempt to smear any one opposed to what I might call the majority publicized viewpoint of what we should do in this war. When the editor of a New York "newspaper" denounces Col. Lindbergh as the head of the Fifth Column in the U. S., we have reached the summit of mud slinging. You may disagree violently with Col. Lindbergh, you may feel he has made serious mistakes, but you have no right to denounce a courageous, patriotic American citizen as a traitor merely because he disagrees with your views. This is as bad as the Nazis, an attempt to suppress freedom of speech.

The other point I resent is the way the issue is being presented to the American people. We are being edged into the war without the masses' knowledge. We have the anomalous situation of the polls showing a majority of the people favoring a course that is bound to get us into the war, while the same polls show 88% of the same people oppose actual entry into the war. That shows that the minds of the people are confused.

How Wars Are Sold to Us

Many of my hearers were adults at the time of the previous war and were familiar with the propaganda that led up to that war. If you want to know the history of that propaganda and its falsity, read a book by Sir Philip Gibbs with the title of "Now It Can Be Told," in which he admitted the outrageous lies that were perpetrated on the American public. And Sir Philip Gibbs was no German but the leading English war correspondent, knighted by his King. The London Economist in a recent issue said it was only a question of time until American public opinion could be brought to the point where we would actively enter the war.

I believe a majority of the people who are advocating "aid short of war" do not desire us to enter the war. But there are others who do desire us to enter the war, who are taking the necessary steps to prepare the American people for active participation, who would enter it tomorrow if they dared, who are today in practical alliance with England, and unfortunately they are the people who are shaping our national policy today. You hear in Washington today that we are now in the war. You hear predictions from men, and men who ought to know, that we will actively enter the war within sixty days after the election.

The American people should think this matter through. The course we are pursuing is bound to involve us in the war. You cannot play with fire and not get burned. You cannot have your government, not private manufacturers, transfer its equipment to foreign powers, you cannot have your government in an unofficial alliance with a foreign power, you cannot be a meddler in Indo-China, berate Italy and Germany without eventually involving the nation in war, and if war comes I venture to predict that we will repeat the history of the last war. When the declaration of war was made in 1917 originally it was intended to send only the Navy to the assistance of the Allies.

Man-Power, Too!

Joffre came over in the spring of 1917, told the plight of the French Army after the 1917 spring Champagne offensive, where whole divisions of the French Army mutinied, and implored us to send over a token force, otherwise France would collapse. We sent Pershing and the First Division, about 30,000 men. Then came the impending collapse of Russia, frantic calls for more men, then the great German offensive of 1918 and the rout of the British Fifth Army, more frantic appeals, until finally we put under arms 4,000,000 men, sent 2,000,000 men to France, spent 20 billion dollars and had 150,000 casualties. I need not refer to our treatment by our former allies after the Armistice. They took the loot, we did not even get thanks.

I do not often agree with the editorials on foreign policy in my friend Frank Knox's paper, but there is a recent editorial with which I am in 100% agreement. The editorial quoted two recent speeches by both Presidential candidates in which both pledged themselves never to send American boys to France. The editorial spoke of both these pledges as political bunk and very truly stated that if we entered the war we would enter it to win, and, if necessary to win, we would send an expeditionary force—and that is the absolute truth.

The People Must Know the Truth

The issue should be honestly presented to the people. If we aid Britain, short of war and beyond the limits of the Neutrality Act, it ultimately means war and should mean war. If we enter the war, we must enter it with all our strength in men and money. That is the only way to win a war.

If the military reports from abroad are correct, I feel there is no doubt that Great Britain can defend her island, her dominions like Canada, Australia and New Zealand. She may lose Egypt, the Suez and Gibraltar, though this is extremely doubtful. So far the Italians have shown no signs of real offensive strength. There is little doubt that England can make a negotiated peace by which she can keep her fleet and her colonies, but which will leave Germany the economic control of Western Europe. But she cannot decisively defeat Germany unaided. Her statesmen privately admit that, and say that for her to gain a decisive victory we will have to actively enter the war. One of the great mistakes made by the Allies in this war was that in its first six months they thought they could win a safe economical war, with France sitting behind the Maginot line and England maintaining its blockade, with little expenditure of blood and a minimum expenditure of treasure. For us to actively enter the war means ships, planes, money, men, expeditionary forces. That is the issue that must ultimately be presented to the American people, and it should be presented openly, honestly and squarely.

Our Own Democracy Will Be Sacrificed

In deciding this issue, the American people should face the costs. We start with a debt of $50,000,000,000. With the enormous cost of waging modern war, the cost of sending forces over 3,000 miles of ocean, of engaging our navy in the Far East, we would ultimately face a debt of from 100 to 150 billions. Victorious or defeated, we will be faced at the conclusion of such a war with great economic dislocations —the rich would face a capital levy, the middle classes impoverishment, and the masses a lowered standard of living and the loss of most of the social gains so far secured.

Competent observers believe that if the war is prolonged in Europe over one or two years, it will result in Communism in all Europe, and a species of National Socialism in England. If we are involved, it probably spells the end of capitalism all over the world.

Defend America First, Last, Always

I would unhesitatingly say to throw everything we have into a war to defend the United States or our own sphere of influence, which is the North American continent and part, if not all, of the South American continent. I do not think the American people should make these sacrifices to interfere in the quarrels of Europe and Asia, old, sick and overpopulated continents with ancient rivalries that cannot be healed. It is up to the American people to decide whether they want to make these sacrifices to preserve not England but the British Empire, and help regulate Europe and Asia. But they should make the decision with all the cards on the table, not misled by artifice and subterfuge.

But if that decision is given affirmatively, I think you will find Americans like myself, who sincerely believe such a course spells disaster to the nation, will be at their posts of duty in the service of this country. I am old fashioned enough to believe in the toast offered by Stephen Decatur back in 1816, "Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be in the right: but Our Country, right or wrong."

Poll Tax Fight Gets Big Start; Victory Assured By Coalition

One of the greatest anomalies of modern times is slated to go. A condition in which 10,000,000 Negro and white American citizens are denied the right to vote while the nation spends billions to preserve democracy and extend the Four Freedoms to every corner of the globe, is about to be corrected. A coalition of congressional sponsors of anti-poll tax bills in the first session of the 78th Congress and a coalition of organizations behind these bills was made known last Tuesday to PV via phone immediately after the last signature to the congressional declaration was obtained.

A lesson was learned in last session's fight to remove this dead and disgraceful weight to American progress. The Geyer-Pepper Bill was not brought by petition to the House floor for a vote until the second session. The delaying tactics of the opposition, in the face of large appropriation bills, made possible a filibuser by the Southern block that killed the bill. This un-American filibuster still rankles in the minds of patriotic citizens and is predicted to be an important factor in further arousing the people to support the fight. Organized action has grown to such proportions over the last two years that a snow-balling effect is expected.

MARCANTONIO ENTERS BILL

The unified strategy has been placed behind Bill HR 7, introduced in the House by Vito Marcantonio (ALP of NY). Petition No. 8 to discharge the Judiciary and the Rules Committee is now on the Speaker's desk and 14 Congressmen had already signed. The main thing now is to get the rest of the 218 signatures as quickly as possible in order that the bill will come up for an early vote in the House so that it will get to the Senate in time to prevent a filibuster there late in the session.

The speed with which the requisite 218 signatures are obtained depends upon the power of the drive in each Congressional District. The people of one state can not oblige a Congressman of another state to sign. The fight must be made by the people, Congressional District by Congressional District, each Congressman moved by the people he represents.

Setting up of anti-poll tax committees in each Congressional District with white and Negro organizations, labor unions and progressive win-the-war organizations spearheading, to bring pressure on each Congressman to sign the petition, is the order of the day, according to leaders of the fight. Much of this strategy was planned at the Washington Conference called by the National Conference to Abolish Poll Tax.

ORGANIZATIONS JOIN

The entire labor movement and hundreds of civic, racial and political organizations participated and answered the conference call. The National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax, a superb machine representing all groups, voted the Friday preceding its Conference to support the Congressional coalition on the poll tax bills.

National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, with headquarters in New York, said, "This coalition inside Congress and out, is the biggest blow for progress of the American people and against the poll-taxers that has yet been struck." It was this organization that published last year, the most comprehensive Memorandum No. 3 explaining every phase of the poll tax question, and sent them to every Congressman and by the thousands throughout the country.

BROADCAST CAUSE

Congressman Vito Marcantonio in a recent broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company said, "In this war the effects of anti-poll tax legislation extend beyond our own borders. Not only will the abolition of the poll tax lift the morale of the 15 billion loyal Negro Americans in this country and thereby forge that national unity which is so essential to victory, but it will be living evidence and reaffirmation to our United Nations Allies and to the Colonial peoples, in India, Africa, Latin America, and the Caribbean of our earnest and high resolve to win the battle for a free and democratic world. The best demonstration of our sincerity to extend democracy all over the world is for us to extend it now, before the war is over, to everyone within our own borders."

The Congressman pointed out that this is not force legislation against the South. "We in Congress," he said, "have heard thousands of fine Southern people of all races and creeds who under understand the vital issue involved . . . and who want to see it through. . . . It is supported by all branches of the labor movement, CIO, AFL, and the Railway Brotherhoods. It has the overwhelming support of church people, Catholic and Protestant—of women's organizations, of organizations of Negro people and other minorities. . . ."

$2,000,000 Bond Drive Gets Off With a Bang!

Spurred by a $80,000 purchase of war bonds by the National Maritime Union, the campaign to raise two million dollars in [illegible] bond and stamp purchases among Negroes in the northeastern [illegible] swung off to a fast start last week. Vice Ferdinand Smith, secretary of the powerful seamen's union and member of PV's board of directors.

The campaign is being conducted in Greater New York, including New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Helping to coordinate the efforts of all groups in the campaign are PV, the NYAmsterdam Star News, NYAge, each of which papers is contributing $200 in bonds toward prizes to be awarded to the individuals or organizations selling the greatest number of bonds. A $100 bond is first prize for individual competitors. Second prize is a $50 bond. Third prize is a $25 bond.

PRIZES OFFERED

For the group competition (clubs) there are prizes of bonds valued at $100, $75, $50 and $25 for the four groups selling the most bonds.

There is also a special competition for women's auxiliary groups, with prizes of $100 and $50, in bonds.

Among children under 12 years of age, competition in sale of war stamps offers a prize of a $25 bon[d] for the child under 12 selling t[he] greatest number of stamps [among] school children.

For the New Jersey area t[he] NJHerald News is donating $[200] in bonds to be distributed as prize[s] as follows: Club selling highe[st] number of bonds, $75; individu[al] high sales winner, $75; child [sell]ing highest number, $25 a[nd] women's auxiliary topping its fi[rst] $25.

In Connecticut and Rhod[e] Island, the New England [edition] of the Pittsburgh Courier is donat[ing] $200 in bonds to be distribut[ed] in the same manner as those pri[zes] in New jersey.

TREASURY COOPERATING

The actual sale of bonds will [be] handled by a representative of t[he] USTreasury Dept. Competitors f[or] prizes need secure only the pledg[es]. Any club or group, having an a[c]tive membership of not less [than] five people can enter the competi[tion]. To secure credit for sales on a m[on]th it will be necessary for a speci[al] representative of the club t[o] actually purchase the bonds fr[om] the Treasury Dept. representati[ve]. Clubs or individuals may purcha[se] stamps to be applied against t[he] purchase of bonds when the mi[ni]mum price of $18.75 is reache[d]. Each bond then will be credi[ted] to the club's standing.

That's the scenario. It's a chan[ce] to do two things at one time, bo[th] of which are pretty important [to] everybody concerned. By selli[ng] war bonds and stamps, you c[an] help to build up rapidly the [re]sources of our country and t[o] bring victory sooner.

And, by selling as much as [you] can, you stand a good chance [to] cop a nice little war bond for yo[ur]self.

War bonds, you know, are [the] soundest investment today. C[ome] on in and inquire. You won't re[gret] it.

Maj. Gen. Johnson Heads Second Horse Cavalry

WASHINGTON. — Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson announced Thursday that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Johnson, National Guard officer from Texas, has been placed in command of the 2nd Horse Cavalry Division of Negro troops, being activated at Fort Clark, Texas.

The new division, the Secretary said, is an expansion of the 4th Cavalry Brigade which has among it elements of the veteran 9th and 10th Cavalry Regiments, oldest colored outfits in the army. The unit is entirely mounted. Gen. Johnson was assigned to the cavalry during most of his National Guard service, and is a veteran of the World War.

Dead Woman's Identity Baffles Dixie Court; White, Negro Sue

ATLANTA—A white woman and a Negro man went to opposite ends of Atlanta in the Fulton County Superior Court here last week. Both claimed ownership to an estate of a deceased Negro woman, valued at only $10,000. Mrs. Margaret Irish, white, said to be a cousin of the dead, declared the deceased was "white" and Bill Jones who married her, held that she was a Negro.

Was she white? Was she a Negro? The court was to decide last Saturday. But, two of the all-white jurors became ill and the judge automatically ruled a mis-trial. It was the [illegible] in the history of Georgia courts. So touchy was it until not a single paper in the city or state carried a line for it, except the Daily World.

MARRIAGE IS CLAIMED

Testimony brought out during the trial showed that the deceased, the late Mrs. Maggie Petty Jones, was the child of a Negro father and a white mother. On this point the elderly Mrs. Irish contends to be the only living relative of the deceased.

On the other hand, Bill Jones, a middle-aged well-known Atlantian, declares he was married to Mrs. Jones and points out that her last name is his. He told the court he married her in 1914 and lived with her until her death in 1941.

Attorney H. A. Allen, representing Jones, produced witnesses who testified that the couple lived together as man and wife.

WAS ALMOST WHITE

The defense, represented by the firm of Mitchell and Mitchell, attempted to show that Mrs. Jones was "almost white" and wouldn't have considered marrying a man as black as Jones.

To prove that the deceased was a Negro, Attorney Allen secured testimony which showed that she was admitted to Spelman College's hospital and was funeralized by Ivey Brothers. Even workers employed with Jones in one case, spoke up in his behalf.

WAS WHITE UNTIL

Napoleon Thomas, brother-in-law of Bill Jones, told the court that Miss Petty was considered as a white woman until she adopted Jones. They became lovers after Jones reached manhood. The woman was 20 years older than the man. The witness also pointed out that the woman was jealous of Jones and cut him on one occasion.

After this switch-blade episode, according to Thomas, the woman explained to Jones' mother that they were married.

HOW COURT STRAINED

In attempting to show that the late Mrs. Jones was more white than Negro, defense attorneys declared that she was white up to 1927 and a Negro after that time. They went on to show that up to 1927, the Georgia law said that a person with one-eighth or less of African blood was white. The law changed in 1927, they said, making a person a Negro if he had any percentage of African blood.

864 QUESTIONS

Who will be the heir to the estate of the late Mrs. Maggie Petty Jones? Will the courts rule the deceased to be "White" or a Negro? Did the jurors fake an illness or were they really sick?

Answers to these questions will have to wait on father time. Maybe they will be answered during the April term of the Fulton County Superior Court when the case will probably receive another airing.

Negro Council Wears Nice Big Bandanna

WASHINGTON—The National Negro Council (NNC) and United Government Employees (UGE) met jointly here Sunday, Mar. 7, unveiled the biggest bandanna yet heard of, then stuck their heads under it. The groups adopted a number of resolutions, apparently on every subject that anybody thought to mention.

The bandanna knot was tied, however, with a resolution urging Negroes to support the Dies Committee which has confined two years of probing "unAmerican activities" to looking for communists and ignoring the Ku Klux Klan and other unAmerican activities of standing equal to that of the communists or anybody else.

Groups Discuss Plans For 'Carver' Launching

OAKLAND, Calif.—Plans for launching the liberty ship, SS Dr. Carver, from the Richmond yards have started widespread activity among citizens in the Bay area. Communications have already been sent to the Maritime Commission, expressing appreciation for its selection of this center for the ceremony.

The program committee, composed of representatives from union, civic, and press groups will meet this week to discuss further plans. Various sub-committees will also be appointed at the meeting.

GOODS RECEIVED—CONTENTS NOTED

The receipts shown are from Camp 7-Z in Bavaria, Germany, and were sent to the War Prisoners' Aid of the YMCA by the camp commandant. They prove Reginald Perry and Jack Taylor, former Harlem branch athletes now interned in the prison camp, received the clothing they wrote for months ago.

Harlem Athletes, Nazi Prisoners Given Clothing, Receipts Show

Last week, PV carried the story that the War Prisoners' Aid of the Young Men's Christian Association had received authenticated word from Camp 7-Z in Bavaria, Germany that two former Harlem branch "Y" members, Reginald Perry, wrestler, and Jack Taylor, boxer, along with six other men were confined there and had written for various article of clothing.

The YMCA has not only sent the articles the boys asked for, but forwarded to PV, Monday, photo-stats of receipts sent by the prison camp proving the articles were received by the prisoners.

In more than 600 war prison camps, YMCA representatives of the War Prisoners' Aid Committee help captive soldiers, sailors, marines, and all prisoners of war or interned aliens, regardless of nationality, race or creed. They report the most urgent needs of the prisoners to camp headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland, and from there supplies are sent to the camps.

The estimation is that some 6,000,000 persons are now prisoners of war in more than 40 countries on all the continents of the world, with Germany holding more than two-thirds of them.

Facing Induction, Commits Suicide

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — A Negro youth, apparently worried over the induction of his brother into the army and his slated induction within a few days, hanged himself, Monday, Feb. 22. Divers King, 18-year-old youth, was found hanged at his home by younger children.

Dr. H. G. Hammond, coroner, reported the hanging, and it was thought the youth committed suicide over the drafting of his brother the same day and his scheduled induction within a few days. It was reported that King was slated to go to the army in the city's Selective Service call on March 10.

[redacted] at which time he furnished additional literature issued by the America First Committee, entitled "Here is the Road to War". This was also made part of the Omaha file.

On September 4, 1941, there appeared in the Omaha World Herald a news item, stating that FRANK C. WARD, printing and office supplies salesman, of 2719 Fontenelle Boulevard, had said that he was the temporary Chairman of the Omaha group of the America First Committee, and that a caravan was being arranged to attend the rally in Des Moines, Iowa, where CHARLES A. LINDBERGH would be the principal speaker. WARD refused to tell the names of the other officers, according to the paper, as well as the size of the organization, date, and place of the next meeting of the group. This article also disclosed that WARD formerly operated the Ward Printing Company and present office was 202 Patterson Building. WARD stated that the men whom he shared the offices were not interested in The America First movement.

The Morning World Herald, on October 3, 1941, carried a news article indicating that a America First group had been formed at the University of Nebraska, which was attended by two dozen students. At the meeting were STANLEY LOWE, Sophomore from Alma, Nebraska, who was organizer and acting Chairman of the campus group; former Congressman HENRY C. LUCKEY, of Lincoln, principal speaker of the evening; LUCKEY PAUL, his grandson; and Miss MARIAN AXFORD, Nebraska Wesleyan University student and former Youth Director for Lincoln's Trinity Methodist Church. LUCKEY was said to have declared, "If we hadn't gotten into the first World War, 'Nazi or Fascism' wouldn't have happened". He cited the terrible injustices of the treaty of Versailles on Germany and the attitude of England toward war deb and payment. LUCKEY stressed the terrible cost that participation in a European war would mean, charging such participation would only serve t make a few "international financiers" rich. During the forum, petitio bearing resolutions that the Neutrality Act be retained in its present form and voicing the approval of the aims of the America First Committee were passed through the crowd. The newspaper article stated that there were only three signers, one signature of which was signed "ADOLPH HITLER".

On October 23, 1941, The Morning World Herald carried an article that a constitution establishing a University of Nebraska Chapter of the America First Committee was approved by the student council at its regular meeting. AXEL LOUI[redacted]QUIST, Assistant Professor of Germanic languages, was said to be the sponsor of the group. The principles of the group were outlined and included; keeping out of war, preserving democracy at home, keeping naval convoys and merchant ships on this side of the Atlantic, building an impregnable defense and aiding opposed peoples in occupied countries with supplies of food and clothing. Another principle was added by the campus group, declaring the committee stands for "tolerance, human idealism and American realism", and "condemning anti-Catholicism, anti-Semitism". The constitution provided for the immediate dissolution of the group should congress declare war.

On October 14, 1941, an article appeared in the Evening World Herald, disclosing that FRANK C. WARD, Chairman of the America First Group, in Omaha, had requested the use of one of the municipal courtrooms in the City Hall for the committee's meetings, once a week, at night. WARD was said to have advised that the committee membership had outgrown the capacity of the present meeting quarters. The motion was taken under advisement, and offered by Commissioner HARRY [redacted]USTIN.

Agent [redacted] interviewed [redacted] Nashville, Tennessee, who advised that he had never heard of the America First Committee operating in any manner in Nashville, Tennessee. [redacted] further advised that if the subject Committee did operate at all in Nashville, or vicinity, he was sure that he would have heard of such operation.

[redacted] Nashville, related upon interview that he was formerly [redacted] He also advised that the America First Committee had never operated in Nashville in any manner. [redacted] advised the agent that if the America First Committee should attempt in any manner to set up a functioning organization in Nashville or if individuals known to harbor "Isolationist" sympathies attempted to spread any such propaganda, he would immediately advise this office.

[redacted] Nashville, [redacted] advised that the America First Committee never operated in any manner in Nashville, Tennessee to the best of his knowledge.

AT JACKSON, TENNESSEE

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

In an effort to ascertain whether the subject Committee has ever operated or is now operating in Jackson, Tennessee or vicinity, Special Agent [redacted] contacted [redacted].

Each of these individuals advised they were virtually positive that no chapter of the America First Committee ever existed in Jackson, Tennessee or vicinity. Likewise, they added that no organized group, whatever which professed sympathies akin to the America First Committee ever existed in this area. Each of these men stated in substance that if such an organization had ever operated in Jackson, Tennessee, it was sure to have become known to them and each of them volunteered their cooperation with the Bureau, adding that should any information reflecting the activities of the subject Committee come to their attention, they would immediately report same to this office.

AT MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

The following investigation was conducted by the writer.

It should be noted that on the night of November 11, 1941, Special Agents [redacted] attended a meeting of the Fight For Freedom Committee at the Peabody Hotel.

As reported by these agents, the Fight For Freedom Committee, after gathering at the Peabody Hotel, learned that another group of individuals was then meeting in another part of the Hotel, which group, thought to be associated with the America First Committee, was called for the purpose of protecting the repeal of the Neutrality Act. Agents [redacted] reported that after learning of this information, [redacted] of the Fight for Freedom Committee suggested that his group visit this meeting of the "Isolationists" and thereupon all members of the Fight For Freedom Committee, together with Agents [redacted] and [redacted] went in and joined the alleged America First Committee. b7C

This latter group, according to the above agents, was led by MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE and [redacted]. Speaking at this meeting for the Isolationist Group were MR. ROBERT L. NOBLEY and MR. A. HORACE KELLY. It was also noted that in attendance at this meeting were [redacted]

According to the above mentioned agents' report, there ensued a heated debate between representatives of the two groups of the advantages and disadvantages of the Neutrality Bill. No further information of value with respect to instant meeting was furnished by Special Agents [redacted] b2 b7E

[redacted] press clippings from the Memphis Commercial Appeal Newspaper for November 12, 1941, which related to the instant meeting, were secured. The first such article captioned "Citizens Meet On Neutrality Act - Heckled" advised in substance that members of the Fight For Freedom Committee marched into an Armistice Night meeting of agroup of about thirty-five citizens assembled at the Hotel Peabody to oppose repeal of the Neutrality Act.

Continuing, the news article further advised that the scheduled meeting of those citizens opposing the repeal of the Neutrality Act had been called by MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE and MRS. RUTH C. O'DORNACH. It was stated that MR. A. HORACE KELLY of Kelly and Jamison Linotypers had the floor at the "time of the invasion by the Fight For Freedom Committee Members". The newspaper article in question reported that the Fight For Freedom Members heckled the speakers for the other group, charging them with being proLindbergh, antiRoosevelt and proNazi. MR. KERR JOHNSON of theFight For Freedom Committee, also charged , as reported in the newspaper, that this groupwas just "another renegade Lindbergh, Nazified America First Committee"."They did not use the name last night, but the Chairman, Mrs. Bruce, was personally a support of Lindbergh and his group of hireling Nazis". MR. JOHNSON also stated in the instant news article that the local Memphis Group was doing the same sort of work the America First Committee is doing, and charging the Isolationist Group with "Jew-baiting" demanded of MRS. BRUCE, the Chairman, as to whether she supported Lindbergh, Wheeler and his crowd. When so questioned, the news article reported that MRS. BRUCE had replied that she, personally, was a supporter of Lindbergh. She denied, however, that LINDBERGH had ever been guilty of "Jew-baiting". It was stated that about thirty members of the proNeutrality Isolationist Group signed a petition directed to the Congress against repeal of the Neutrality Act.

The second article with respect to the instant meeting, likewise appeared in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, under date of November 12, 1941, captioned "Peace Advocates In Uproar Following ProWar Invasion". This article bore the by-line BRUCE TUCKER and since the information contained in this article is substantially the same as reported hereinbefore, it will not be repeated.

[redacted] was thereupon interviewed with b2 b7D respect to the proNeutrality Isolationist Group which held the meeting at the Peabody Hotel on the night of November 11, 1941. He advised that to the best of his knowledge, the group was closely akin in sympathies and purpose to the America First Committee. He stated, however, that after this initial meeting which was attended by a nebulous group of citizens of Memphis who advocated the Isolationist position, no organization was effected and, in his opinion, no further activities were carried on. He added that the militant activities of the Fight For Freedom Committee, together with American sentiment generally, at this period, was instrumental in preventing this group from ever attaining any wide support or working effectiveness in Memphis.

[redacted] stated that the prime movers behind this Isolationist Group were MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE, wife of the President of the E. L. BRUCE LUMBER COMPANY of Memphis, who is known to have held deep-rooted Isolationist sympathies. [redacted]

He added that they had always been exponents of a pacifist-isolationist point of view; however, he reported he could supply no information suggesting dangerous or unAmerican tendencies.

With respect to [redacted] advised that [redacted] is well known in Memphis as an active liberal, if not radical. It was stated that [redacted] is known to be [redacted] and was active at one time on behalf of the Spanish Loyalist Cause, aiding in securing contributions to this end. [redacted] was described as a militant liberal, known to harbor Isolationist sympathies. It was stated that she has taken one or two trips to South America within the past several years and, according to the informant, this appears most unusual, in view of the small salary which her husband receives [redacted] The purpose of these visits to South America was not known to the informant.

[redacted] was likewise questioned with respect to the reputation of [redacted] but he could supply no detailed information of value, merely stating that [redacted] was thought to be a bitter opponent of this Administration's foreign policy.

[redacted] could furnish no further information of value concerning other members of the instant proNeutrality Group.

b7D

[redacted] advised upon contact that he knew little concerning the instant Isolationist Committee mentioned hereinbefore in this report. He advised, however, that MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE was a moving spirit in the organization which, in his opinion, never attained any importance and which, to the best of his knowledge, held only one meeting.

b7C

[redacted] advised that he, himself, had become interested in the Fight For Freedom Committee at the instance of MR. WENDELL L. WILLKIE, Former Republican Candidate for President of the United States and as a result of his activities on behalf of this Committee he had incurred the displeasure of several of the old Republican families in Memphis, noteworthy among which were Mr. and Mrs. C. ARTHUR BRUCE. [redacted] related that he was familiar with the "free for all" debate between members of theFight For Freedom Committee and the instant Isolationist Group at the Hotel Peabody inMemphis on Armistice Night, 1941, but stated that he opposed the tactics employed by the Fight For Freedom Committee and felt that they defeated their own purpose by resorting to such rowdy tactics.

In conclusion, [redacted] reported that his impression of the Neutrality Group headed by MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE was that it was composed of patriotic American citizens opposed to the Interventionist Policies of the Roosevelt Administration. He felt that there was no official connection whatever between this group and the America First Committee and added that he was sure that the group ceased to function after Pearl Harbor.

[redacted] was contacted at [redacted], Memphis, Tennessee and was questioned with respect to the America First Committee, as well as the proNeutrality Group which held a meeting at the Hotel Peabody on November 11, 1941. [redacted] advised that he was formerly [redacted] and, in that connection, was aware of the fact that an Isolationist Group did function for a short time in Memphis.

He stated that to the best of his knowledge, this group held only one meeting, which was the meeting referred to previously in this report. He advised that he was not then present at the meeting and, as a matter of fact, opposed his Committee's (The Fight for Freedom Committee) precipitating the fracas.

He advised that the other group was composed largely of women of the "It Can't Happen Here" variety, as well as pacifists and isolationists. He knew of no connection which the group had with the America First Committee and indicated that only one meeting was held, at which time a petition was sent to the Congress demanding repeal. [redacted] added that he knew of no unpatriotic or subversive individuals in the group.

[redacted] upon interview advised that he had been a former member of the Fight For Freedom Committee until this group abandoned upon the advent of America's entry into the war. When questioned with respect to the America First Committee and any alleged affiliates thereof in Memphis, [redacted] revealed that he was familiar with the small proIsolationist Group which held one meeting at the Hotel Peabody on November 11, 1941. He considered this group totally harmless, advising that it was composed largely of women who, by reason of sentimentality, were opposed to America's entry into any war, stating that this group was led by MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE. He related that she was considered thoroughly patriotic, however, much misguided. He also added that this group had no organization and for the purpose of this one meeting attracted individuals of wide shades of political opinions. He stated that persons of a pacifist, socialistic and Communistic tinge allegedly attended this meeting and he added this was in stark contrast to the old-guard Republicanism of MRS. C. ARTHUR BRUCE [redacted] b2C b7D

In conclusion, [redacted] revealed that he had heard no information whatever concerning the group since America's entry into war and he advised that this group was the only thing which even remotely resembled an America First Committee in Memphis.

[redacted] was interviewed with respect to the America First Committee at his residence [redacted] stated that he knew very little concerning the America-First Committee or any sympathizing organization in Memphis. He stated that he had read newspaper accounts of the meeting of the proNeutrality Group at the Peabody Hotel on Armistice Night but added he was in no position whatever to furnish information with respect to its aims, purposes or memberships.

It being noted that [redacted] had attended the instant meeting at the Hotel Peabody, [redacted] was questioned about this individual. He reported that he had only met [redacted] perhaps once or twice and therefore could not vouch for his character; however, he added that [redacted] is a Nationally Known Group composed, for themost part, of high-minded Christian pacifists, who se purpose is not to foment disunity, but rather to promote respect among the American people for persons holding to a truly pacifistic position.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] is an instrument leader of this organization. Recalling that [redacted] had been forced to resign from this institution because of his pacifist views, the writer contacted [redacted] and inquired of him as to whether any demonstration from Isolationist Groups or America First Committee Chapters had resulted pursuant to [redacted] dismissal [redacted]

[redacted] thereupon stated that there had been a few disconnected protests as a result of [redacted] dismissal from the faculty [redacted]; however, he added that these protests came rather from isolated individuals than from any organized group. He was unable to furnish any information, whatever, with respect to any America First Committee in Memphis or vicinity.

[redacted] He was contacted and stated that he was familiar with the proNeutrality Group which held its meeting on Armistice Night, 1941, at the Peabody Hotel. He added that he was not present at this meeting, with other members of the Fight For Freedom Committee, inasmuch as he disapproved of the "rough house tactics" employed by some members of that group.

He stated, however, that from comment heard subsequent to this meeting and from newspaper accounts, he had gathered that the instant isolationist group in Memphis, though not officially known as a chapter of the America First Committee, was definitely aligned with the group in its political sympathies.

It was stated that the group in Memphis espoused WHEELER and LINDBERGH and was very much opposed to the Administration's foreign policies. Continuing, [redacted] advised that to the best of his knowledge the group had ceased to function altogether after this initial meeting and he added that he felt sure this one meeting was the only public expression of isolationist sentiment ever made in Memphis.

[redacted] could furnish no definite information as to the reputation of those individuals who attended this isolationist meeting; however, he said that they were for the most part, in his opinion, patriotic Americans who were sleep until after Pearl Harbor.

In a further effort to develop complete information concerning the instant isolationist group, mentioned hereinbefore in this report and to discover if possible whether any connection existed between this group and the America First Committee, the writer contacted [redacted]

[redacted] told the writer that his convictions with respect to so-called Isolationism were a matter of public record, inasmuch as [redacted] in which he favored a noninterventionist foreign policy. He likewise indicated that his wife had shared his views and had not hesitated to express herself along these lines.

[redacted] reported, however, that after America's entry into the war, it was too late to do anything but contribute an all-out effort towards victory. He indicated that his wife also felt the same way. b7

With respect to the instant Isolationist meeting [redacted] on November 11, 1941, [redacted] stated that he, himself, [redacted] and therefore knew very little concerning the meeting except what he had learned upon his returned. He advised that [redacted] is a very militant woman with definite convictions and that she [redacted] together with other women in Memphis, who shared noninterventionist views, decided to call a public meeting at the Hotel Peabody on the night of November 11, 1941. b7C

[redacted] advised that he knew nothing of the suggested meeting and he added that he would not have opposed it had he known. He stated that its members were composed largely of a few elderly women in town, together with other people who generally shared the same view with respect to foreign policy.

[redacted] reported that [redacted] was very much embarrassed by the publicity received from the meeting and felt that the action of the Fight for Freedom Committee was totally unjustified. Nevertheless, [redacted] advised that to his knowledge, those citizens attending this initial meeting never organized in any manner, nor did they formulate any program calling for permanent organization. He described the meeting as purely a public demonstration, by a small group, the purpose of which was to demonstrate for retention of the Neutrality Laws.

[redacted] advised that he, himself, had been in sympathy with the America First Committee program, as had his wife, but he stated that neither of them was affiliated with the group and he added that the proNeutrality meeting in Memphis was not sponsored, nor did it have any connection with the America First Committee. He advised that he was not familiar with any group or chapter of the former America First Committee, which is at present oping in Tennessee, or even the Nation,a and he advised that in the event he received information to this effect, he would immediately get in touch with this office.

[redacted], Memphis, Tennessee reported as being in attendance at the meeting of the Neutrality Group at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis on November 11, 1941, was interviewed by the writer at which time she advised that she had learned [redacted] that a meeting of individuals opposed to the Administration's foreign policy was scheduled for that date, November 11, 1941, at the Peabody Hotel. [redacted]

She advised,however, that she had had no official connection with the group, if such existed, prior to that time and she indicated that the one meeting was the only public expression of opposition to the interventionists that ever took place in Memphis.

[redacted] frankly admitted that both she and her husband were, at one time, members of the National subject Organization and had made contributions to its support. She stated, however, that the America First Committee disbanded immediately after Pearl Harbor and she said that she had not heard of its being revived in any form.

[redacted] was unable to supply further information of value reporting that she was away from Memphis [redacted] during most of 1941 and for that reason was not familiar with the local political situation.

She volunteered her cooperation stating that she would furnish this office with any information relating to the America First Committee which she should learn.

There being no further investigation to be conducted in this matter in this Field Division, this case is accordingly being referred upon completion to the office of origin.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Des Moines Division files reflect America First Committee originally became active in Iowa in June, 1941 when local chapters were formed at Davenport, Des Moines, and Dubuque. The information set forth in this report was obtained solely as the result of a review of the information that previously had been volunteered to the Des Moines Office by sources of information in this Division.

The America First Committee originally came to the attention of the Des Moines Office when a committee of individuals at Des Moines announces the opening of the Des Moines Headquarters of the America First Committee at 200 Fifth Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa in the Des Moines Tribune of June 21, 1941. A clipping taken from that paper states that the Committee is the first organization of the non-interventionist type reported to have set up headquarters in Des Moines. The Executive Committee consisted of ROBERT J. BANNISTER, DONALD EVANS, and ADDISON M. PARKER, all widely known Des Moines attorneys, Mrs. KATHERINE COLLINS, 1120-23rd Street, Des Moines, and S. W. LOWRY, President of the Lakeshore Tire and Rubber Company, Des Moines, Iowa.

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE: 1941—O-281666

At the time the release was made to the press concerning the formation of the Executive Committee, Mrs. KATHERINE COLLINS stated that JANET AYER FAIRBANK, National Officer of the America First Committee, came to Des Moines about June 1, 1941 and called together a group of twenty-five or thirty persons who had shown interest in the organization by writing to the National Office.

In the Des Moines Register for June 22, 1941 there appeared an article reflecting that a meeting of the Dubuque Chapter of the America First Committee was held at Dubuque, Iowa, which was announced by HERBERT A. HAUPTLIE, Chairman. At that meeting, a United States Senator, BURTON K. WHEELER, and Archbishop FRANCIS J. L. BECKMAN of Dubuque, who introduced Senator WHEELER, were the principal speakers and their speeches were carried on a nationwide radio network. HERBERT A. HAUPTLIE announced to the press at that time that the Dubuque Chapter had a membership of seven-hundred.

[redacted] in a memorandum submitted by Special Agent [redacted] dated November 26, 1941 at Des Moines, advised that the Davenport, Iowa Chapter of the America First Committee had moved its offices from a building on Fourth Street [redacted] He stated that his curiosity was first aroused when he heard some very derogatory remarks concerning the Jewish people, and also in view of the fact that most of the women patronizing the offices of the America First Committee appeared to speak broken English with a German accent.

He stated that he then began to listen to some of the conversation, and he produced several notes which he had taken while listening to some of this conversation. He stated that a [redacted] who is unknown to him, recently stated that all Jews are lice and snakes from within; that Jews control all of the chain stores; and that the Russians and the English are gangster nations. [redacted] has also heard conversations between [redacted] and other unknown individuals, who insisted that ROOSEVELT should be impeached, and he stated that they frequently quote the editorial page of the Chicago Tribune, praising highly the derogatory remarks made by the Tribune concerning the administration. He stated that women are continuously going in and out of this office, and that he heard one woman explain the methods of the committee to a new convert, at which time this woman explained that they are daily contacting new members in order to build up their membership, and this same person also indicated that [redacted] is a lousy Jew who controls all of the newspapers.

[redacted] further advised that on one occasion, [redacted] who is known to the Des Moines Field Office, came into the offices of the America First Committee and talked to some young lady who appeared to be from the East, presumably from New York City. He stated that this young woman, who had a very decided Eastern accent, advised [redacted] that she had only been in Davenport for a year, and during the conversation which followed, [redacted] made the remark that ROOSEVELT had doublecrossed the American people, and stated that what the America First Committee needed was more displays such as the one which they presently maintained in their old office quarters on Fourth Street across from the Police Station. It should be mentioned at this point that the America First Committee has plastered the windows of this office building with various editorials from the Chicago Tribune, as well as cartoons and bulletins issued by the America First Committee. The aforementioned young lady went on to tell [redacted] that only a few days previous, she had been speaking to [redacted] whom she referred to as a supporter of the America First Committee, and that [redacted] told her one day that she was looking at the clippings and posters displayed in the Fourth Street Office when a soldier in uniform came along and also began looking at these clippings. According to this young woman, [redacted] talked to the soldier, asking him what he was fighting for and questioning him about conditions in the army. According to [redacted] this young lady also advised [redacted] or someone else that she intended to contact [redacted] again to see if she could not get more money for the America First Committee. This latter remark would indicate that [redacted] has already made some contribution.

[redacted] also stated that a [redacted] who is believed to be [redacted] an officer of the local America First Committee, made the statement that the Germans have never done anybody any harm, and has generally berated ROOSEVELT, the administration, and anyone who seems to be in sympathy with democracy. He further stated that most of the people coming to the America First Committee office seem to talk broken English with a German accent, and he is very much of the opinion that these people are carrying their beliefs to an extent which is entirely unpatriotic as well as unethical. [redacted] pointed out that he realized his position in this affair, and stated that he would not object to an honest difference of opinion. He went on to point out, however, that the remarks he has heard have led him to believe that the people now running the America First Committee in Davenport are decidedly un-American, and, in fact, appear to be entirely in sympathy with the Nazi regime and philosophy.

[redacted] All of these individuals are known by the Des Moines Division to be reputable and patriotic; however, they are, for the most part, members of the Republican Party and have been strong isolationists and anti-administrati

From a review of the files, there doesn't appear to be any information to indicate that any of the leaders of the America First Committee in Iowa were disloyal or unpatriotic in any manner. However, there does appear to be information, as reflected previously in this report, that the local chapters of the America First Committee, especially the Davenport, Iowa Chapter, were gathering places for Nazi sympathizers and persons of Axis sympathies.

[redacted] was contacted by the writer in connection with another case and mention was made of the fact that [redacted] in connection with the America First Committee Rally. He freely volunteered the information that there had been no activity in the city of Louisville by the subject organization after the attempt to stage a rally at the Municipal Auditorium in the early part of June, 1941. He did state, however, that some time in the latter part of the summer in 1941, two men did approach him and [redacted] and that he declined this proffered position inasmuch as he felt that [redacted] he was not in a position to accept and further that he was not in complete accord with the program of the America First Committee. He stated that he did not recall the names of the individuals who approached him and that he had not given it a second thought until the matter was brought up by the writer.

[redacted] called at the Louisville Field Division as a result of a telephonic conversation with the writer and offered the following information with respect to the subject organization: He stated that his wife had written to the America First Committee in the early part of 1941 to obtain more complete information regarding this Committee's program. He stated that most likely as a result of her communications, Mr. O. K. ARMSTRONG, a field representative of the America First Committee, contacted him and advised that he would be in the city of Louisville sometime in June, 1941, and he requested that [redacted] assist him in [redacted] for an America First Rally. [redacted] stated that he was personally interested in the America First Committee in ascertaining the nature of their program. Yale students were the first members of the nation wide group. There were five branch groups in the State of Connecticut, all of which have gone out of existence as such. All books of record of the Stamford branch were sent to Chicago where they were to be kept and be available for inspection by the Dies Committee or the FBI if they desired them. No foreign connections noted in Connecticut. Officers of the branches in Connecticut set out and information regarding them in New Haven file set out.

He stated that after Lindbergh gave his speech in which he attacked the Jews that interest in the group somewhat slackened in Bridgeport. The Bridgeport group had held a number of rallies;at one of these the speaker was Norman Thomas, former candidate on the Socialist ticket for President.

[redacted] went on to state that there were only five branch groups in the State of Connecticut. The Bridgeport Branch, the Stamford Branch, the Waterbury Branch, the New Haven Branch, and the Hartford Branch. He did not know what the total membership of these groups would be. He therefore decided to conduct a poll of the Yale University students regarding aid to the Allies. This poll was conducted during the month of June, 1940 and results showed three to one in Stuart's favor. After this poll there was a nation-wide coverage in the Associated Press news dispatches.

He stated that they were active at one time but that all of the members were responsible citizens and he considered that they were entirely reliable Americans. He knew nothing derogatory regarding the organization. 67c 67 order of General Wood of Chicago. He also had another clipping which was from the United Press Service in Chicago and was dated 12/12/41 which gave information that the organization was being dissolved but that they still believed in the principals that they had followed and that there would be no war if these principals had been followed, but that they were now 100% for victory.

The records [redacted] showed that JOHN FESTA, [redacted] was President or Chairman of the group that he is a naturalized citizen of Italian descent. Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated May 26, 1942, at Washington, D. C.

JOHN ROY CARLSON, believed to be from New York City, author of an article entitled "Inside the America First Movement," published in American Mercury, 54:7-25, January, 1942, states that he has worked for three years as an under-cover man in the Nazi Fascist underworld of America; that he has been a card-bearing member of eleven pro-Fascist organizations, and has been friendly with leaders of subversive groups, such as FRITZ KUHN, head of the German-American Bund, JOSEPH McWILLIAMS, head of Christian Mobilizers, and JAMES TRUE. His article reflects that he maintains files containing considerable information about these various groups and also about the America First Committee and its subversive connections.

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE 7—3024

STEPHAN TORNAY, [redacted]

W. E. DE WITT, [redacted],
Salt Lake City, Utah.

A review of the file in the Salt Lake City Field office reflects that a complaint received indicated that [redacted] at the University of Utah was pro-German in his sentiments, but investigation conducted [redacted] failed to substantiate this allegation. b7C b7D

The files of the Salt Lake City Field Office reflect that [redacted] is listed as being reported as being anti-English and anti-Semitic.

[redacted] on interview, advised that as far as he knew the America First Committee in Salt Lake City had folded up completely after the United States became involved in the present war, in accordance with the announced national policy of the organization and that no information had come to his attention reflecting that any of its leaders had indicated that they were not in sympathy with the United States in the present conflict. b2 b7D

In the presence of the writer, [redacted] contacted [redacted] who is very close to [redacted] in a business/and discussed several other business and social matters over the telephone which [redacted] had in common with [redacted]

During the course of the interview or conversation, [redacted] asked [redacted] if subject organization had completely folded up or just what had happened to it, as nothing had been heard of its activities in recent months. [redacted] stated that [redacted] informed him that as far as he knew, and it was his honest belief, subject organization had discontinued its existence. b2 b7C b7D

[redacted] advised that he is in position to make discreet inquiries of [redacted] and who would have first-hand knowledge as to whether or not [redacted] of that concern was presently involved in any activities related in any way to his former connection with the America First Committee.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] was no relation to [redacted] and that [redacted] was a thoroughly reliable and patriotic citizen. [redacted] advised that he could bring up subject organization in conversation with [redacted] without arousing any undue curiosity as to the reason of his inquiries.

[redacted] advised that he was not familiar with the activities of the America First Committee other than what was generally known to the public; that the members of the America First Committee in Salt Lake City, Utah, were well aware of the antagonism which [redacted] had always held toward their organization, and that in his discussions with them heated arguments had always resulted.

[redacted] stated that before the America First Committee was organized, Mrs. J. W. STALLINGS, WALTER COSGRIFF, and several others who were very isolationist in their views had asked him to speak before their organization which was called some patriotic name. [redacted] stated that after arriving at the meeting, he noticed from their conversations and through the talks previous to his that the organization was strongly isolationist and for that reason he did not deliver his prepared speech but lectured those present severely for their isolationist views.

b7D

[redacted] stated that in view of the facts mentioned above he had never stayed on a very friendly relationship with any of the America First Committee members after they formed subject organization. He stated, however, that no word had come to him from any source since war was declared which would indicate that any of the former committee members were carrying on any type of activity. He stated, however, on second thought that someone, name not recalled, had recently informed him that [redacted] was affiliated with some type of organization. [redacted] was unable to recall whether the allegation included that [redacted] wasaffiliated with any organization having antagonism toward the Governments present war policy.

[redacted] stated that he would endeavor to recall who had given him this information and what the information contained and would subsequently advise this office. He explained that he had not paid particular attention to the information given him relative to [redacted] at the time.

[redacted] suggested that [redacted] be contacted, as [redacted] was well acquainted with Mrs. J. W. STALLINGS, who was probably the most active member of the America First Committee at the height of its activities.

[redacted] upon interview, advised that he had never been intimately acquainted with Mrs. J. W. STALLINGS, but that he had been a life long acquaintance with [redacted], who was an active member of the America First Committee when that organization was functioning. He stated that he and [redacted] had on several separate occasions had heated arguments as a result of [redacted] extremely isolationist policies and her America First Committee activities. He stated, however, that these heated arguments had never interrupted their life long friendship or the business dealings which they occasionally had.

[redacted] stated that in one of his arguments with [redacted] Mrs. J. W. STALLINGS was present and she entered into the argument also, and that he, [redacted] also "told her off." [redacted] stated that he never at any time doubted the motives of [redacted] in belonging to the America First Committee. He stated that she came from an old pioneer Mormon family in Utah and he always considered her patriotism beyond question. He stated that [redacted] arranges various tours over the country and during the past year had arranged a tour through the office of [redacted] for a group of people going to [redacted] mentioned to [redacted] that she was shocked and alarmed at the pro-Nazi sentiment indicated by a great many [redacted] people, as evidenced by the cheers in the moving picture theaters when HITLER'S picture was shown.

During Agents conversation with [redacted] called the Informant on the telephone relative to a business transaction and in the presence of the writer [redacted] questioned her relative to the activities of the America First Committee.

On completion of the telephone call [redacted] stated that [redacted] advised him that subject Committee completely dissolved after the bombing of Pearl Harbor and that none of its members or officials had ever contacted her relative to using the organization for new activities whatsoever.

A clipping from the Birmingham News, Birmingham, Alabama, dated June 25, 1941 contains the following information:

" LINDBERGH AND OTHERS MAY BE BROUGHT HERE BY COMMITTEE BRANCH

Headquarters Set Up In City For Campaign To Prevent Entry Into War

Col. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH and other America First Committee speakers may be brought to Birmingham in a non-war "blitz" to be launched in Alabama by a branch of the committee just established here under the directorship of C. C. CROWE, attorney, who said he had been designated state chairman for the anti-war group.

CROWE, formerly of Birmingham, who said he had lived recently in Indiana and Maryland, established committee headquarters in offices at 2006½ Fourth Avenue, North.

Among those associated with CROWE is WILLIAM H. WELLS, said to be a Canadian citizen, chiropractor and soldier of fortune. WELLS was said to have served in the World War, Spanish-American War, Boer War, and Boxer Rebellion.

CROWE, who said he served in the U. S. Army-Tank Corps during the World War, is mapping plans to conduct an Alabama drive against American intervention in the European conflict and said that various speakers would be heard in a series of radio talks aimed at preventing sending U. S. soldiers overseas again.

'There is no excuse for sending our boys to Europe or any foreign country again', said CROWE. 'It must not be permitted again.'

He said that the non-war drive, which would be directed at highly pro-British and Pro-Allies Alabama, would make a special appeal to mothers to help keep their sons at home and prevent them from being sent to foreign battlefields.

As for England, CROWE said he and his group favored aiding the British with war materials and supplies -- 'everything but men' and

'giving till it hurts' to help Britain win the war. But, he added, mothers and fathers must be convinced American boys must never again be sent to battle and die on foreign soil.

The committee's anti-war chairman for Alabama said a number of citizens in Birmingham and Alabama had already aligned themselves with the movement and that the non-war 'blitz', to be carried on principally by radio, soon would begin earnest.

CROWE said he and his group planned an early meeting in the new committee headquarters to map plans for the campaign in this state."

The Birmingham Age-Herald, Birmingham, Alabama, for June 26, 1941 contained the following article:

"LINDBERGH MAY COME

America First Committee Branch In State Plans Campaign

Plans set in motion by the newly organized Alabama branch of the America First Committee may bring CHARLES A. LINDBERGH to Birmingham to make a keynote speech in a state campaign backed by the anti-war group, said C. C. CROWE, attorney, state chairman.

CROWE, formerly of Birmingham and more recently of Indiana and Maryland, established committee headquarters at 2006½ Fourth Avenue, North."

Again on July 7, 1941 the Birmingham News carried an article regarding subject organization which is being set out as follows:

"WELLS NOT INVOLVED IN ANTI-WAR DRIVE

Declaring 'I have no use for anything that CHARLES LINDBERGH is messed up in,' WILLIAM H. WELLS, who gives his address as 405 Exchange Building, emphasized in a letter to The News Monday that he has no connection with the Alabama branch of the America First Committee, recently established here.

When it was reported Col. LINDBERGH and other America First Committee speakers may be brought to Birmingham in a non-war 'blitz' to be launched in this state by the committee branch, WELLS was said to be associated with C. C. CROWE, attorney, who had been designated state chairman of the anti-war group.

'I am anxious to have a correction made in The News at an early date', wrote WELLS. 'I am not in any way connected with this America First Committee'. Wells went on to explain CROWE had sought to associate him in the movement as manager of an office, which had been opened at 2006½ Fourth Avenue, North, but that he refused 'to have anything to do with it.'

Although born in Canada, WELLS said he had been an American citizen 30 years and declared 'I am 100 per cent for our president.'

Meantime, CROWE, a heavy set man of middle age, with short-cropped hair, went ahead with setting up the committee organization in Alabama. CROWE, formerly of Birmingham, said he had lived recently in Indiana and Maryland. "

It is to be noted that the Birmingham Field Office received a copy of a Bureau letter dated March 7, 1942, the original of which was addressed to [redacted]

[redacted] The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

On May 12, 1942 [redacted] was requested to search the newspaper morgue for any information pertaining to the formation and activities of the America First Committee. [redacted] searched the records of the morgue and the index to the editorial section of the [redacted] had ever had any publications concerning CHARLES C. CROWE, who opened headquarters for the America First Committee in Birmingham, Alabama. This search was also unproductive.

CONFIDENTIAL

AUGUSTUS F. LINDBERGH, cousin to CHARLES LINDBERGH, Frank Nelson Building, Birmingham, Alabama, was nominated as State Chairman of the Fight For Freedom Incorporated, which was organized to combat public opinion created by the America First Committee. The principles of this committee were diametrically opposed to those of the America First Committee. The America First Committee was strictly isolationist while the Fight For Freedom Incorporated advocated intervention.

Mr. LINDBERGH stated that the America First Committee was never very active in Birmingham, Alabama, and that he had no knowledge of an active membership list in the America First Committee. Mr. LINDBERGH said that the Fight For Freedom Incorporated was organized shortly after the America First Committee was formed in Chicago, Illinois. Mr. LINDBERGH said that to his knowledge, the America First Committee was extinct in Birmingham.

[redacted] records which reflected that during the month of February and March, 1941, [redacted] had paid for four fifteen minute transcriptions of speeches by Senator WHEELER and LINDBERGH and other prominent Isolationists. b7D

[redacted] stated that he had been active in the Fight For Freedom Incorporated, and believed that the influence of this organization had permanently squelched any growth of the America First Committee in Birmingham, Alabama. [redacted] said that to his knowledge a CH RLES C. CROWE, Attorney, had opened offices for the America First Committee in Birmingham. [redacted] said that this organization had never grown to a large extent. He believed that efforts had been made to build up a substantial membership list but had been unsuccessful. [redacted] said that the America First Committee had been short-lived and to his knowledge was not now in existence. b7D

[redacted] he had many contacts and believed that any activity or new growth on the part of the America First Committee would be immediately brought to his attention.

CONFIDENTIAL

[redacted] was interviewed on May 15, 1942. [redacted] said that she was interested in the principles of the America First Committee and upon its conception in Chicago, Illinois, she was desirous of becoming a member. She said that she wrote to headquarters in Chicago and became a member of that organization. A short time later, she said that she was surprised to learn that a local attorney, CHARLES C. CROWE, had opened headquarters for the America First Committee in Birmingham. [redacted] said that CROWE called her and requested that she take an active part in organizing this committee in Birmingham. [redacted] visited Mr. CROW and was displeased with the conditions prevailing in his office. [redacted] said that after this experience, she refused to join Attorney CROWE in his efforts to promote the America First Committee in Birmingham. [redacted] stated that upon her own initiative she spent considerable time and money attempting to promote the principles of isolationism. She said that she had paid $100 to station WBRC for radio time for transcriptions of speeches by various Isolationists. [redacted] said that much to her amazement, this money was returned to her by station WBRC. She believed that this money was returned because the Fight For Freedom Incorporated had received radio time free of charge. [redacted] was interrogated as to any knowledge on her part concerning a membership list of the America First Committee in Birmingham. She stated that period in which the America First Committee functioned as a going organization in Birmingham was quite short and it was her belief that Attorney CROWE had never been successful in organizing an active membership.

b7D

[redacted] It will be noted that instant file reflects that Dr. WELLS was offered a co-leadership with CHARLES C. CROWE in the America First movement in Birmingham. Dr. WELLS refused this offer and publicly announced that he would have no connection whatsoever with Attorney CROWE.

United States Commissioner LOUISE O. CHARLTON advised that she was well informed concerning the Fight For Freedom Incorporated but as far as she knew the America First Committee had never taken hold in Birmingham. Mrs. CHARLTON said that the only recollection that she had of the America First Committee was that it was headed by a local attorney named CROWE and that he had opened an office on Fourth Avenue.

[redacted] The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent at Montgomery, Alabama. b7C

The following persons were contacted with respect to securing information concerning any activity of subject organization in and around Montgomery, Alabama with negative results:

HATE WAR

AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE

Principles
The America First Committee

1. Our first duty is to keep America out of foreign wars. Our entry would only destroy democracy, not save it. "The path to war is a false path to freedom."
2. Not by acts of war abroad but by preserving and extending democracy at home can we aid democracy and freedom in other lands.
3. In 1917 we sent our American ships into the war zone and this led us to war. In 1941 we must keep our naval convoys and merchant vessels on this side of the Atlantic.
4. We must build a defense, for our own shores, so strong that no foreign power or combination of powers can invade our country, by sea, air or land.
5. Humanitarian aid is the duty of a strong, free country at peace. With proper safeguard for the distribution of supplies, we should feed and clothe the suffering and needy people of the democracies of Europe.

Made by

THE PRESIDENT DURING THE 1940 ELECTION CAMPAIGN

We Will Not Participate Nor Intervene In Foreign Wars.

"We are arming ourselves not for any purpose of conflict or intervention in foreign disputes. I repeat again that I stand on the platform of our party; we will not participate in foreign wars and will not send our Army, Naval or Air Forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas except in case of attack."

"It is for peace that I have labored; and it is for peace that I shall labor all the days of my life."

Philadelphia, Oct. 23, 1940.

The First Purpose of Our Foreign Policy Is to Keep Out of War.

"We look at the old world of Europe today. It is an ugly world, poisoned by hatred, and greed and fear. We can see what has been the inevitable consequence of that poison—it has been war.

"And we look at this country, built by generations of peaceable, friendly men and women who had in their hearts faith—faith that the good life can be obtained by those who work for it.

"We know that we are determined to defend our country and with our neighbors to defend this hemisphere. We are strong in our defense.

"The first purpose of our foreign policy is to keep our country out of war."

Your Boys Are Not Going to Be Sent Into Any Foreign Wars.

"And while I am talking to you, fathers and mothers, I give you one more assurance. I have said this before, but I shall say it again, and again, and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores. Yes, the purpose of our defense is defense."

Boston, Oct. 30, 1940.

Ships Flying the American Flag Must Stay Out of the War Zones.

"In 1935 in the face of growing dangers throughout the world, your government undertook to eliminate the hazards which in the past had led to war. We made it clear that ships flying the American flag could not carry munitions to a belligerent; and that they must stay out of war zones."

New York City, Oct. 28, 1940.

I Am Fighting to Keep Out of Foreign Wars.

"I am fighting to keep this nation prosperous and at peace. I am fighting to keep our people out of foreign wars and to keep foreign conceptions of government out of our own United States."

Brooklyn, Nov. 1, 1940.

Why America Cannot Be Invaded

Statement of Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, before the Committee on Foreign Relations of the United States Senate, February 5, 1941

NOT BE INVADED

re the Committee on Foreign Relations of the United States Senate, February 5, 1941

hror the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, protected by our West Indies possessions. Our pilots would be rested and our engines unworn.

I cannot conceive of anyone having the slightest fear of an attack along this line, if he has any respect at all for our own air force.

If it is imagined that this continent is to be invaded by water or by air, we must conclude the attack will come across the northern Atlantic. The route would be Iceland, eight hundred and fifty miles; Newfoundland, sixteen hundred and fifty miles more; and Canada, another eight hundred miles; total distance thirty-three hundred miles. Iceland is now held by Canadian troops, so the route is blocked at first base. If Iceland were lost, south Greenland and Labrador would be of no use to an invader, because of their rough character. On Newfoundland is a great Canadian-British air base, and our own soldiers have already landed on the island where Lord Baltimore settled before he went to Maryland.

pplies would easily reach Newfoundland by the St. La nce, immune from interruption, while any assailant crossing the ocean would be subject to attack from the air, on the water, and from submarines.

It is an hysterical imagination which can conceive of our being driven from Newfoundland. Even if we were, the enemy would find no supplies in that barren land. There would be Cabot Strait to cross, and the Gut of Canso. Nova Scotia is a peninsula with a narrow neck, and New Brunswick largely forest and mushkeag.

Can anyone dream of an enemy forcing his way through this country in face of one or two million trained American and Canadian troops?

In the Pacific we have our bases in the Aleutian Islands, twenty-two hundred miles from Tokio; at Pearl Harbor, thirty-eight hundred miles from Tokio; and Samoa, four thousand miles from Tokio. If we need any other island bases, to protect our coast, we have the means of taking them and the knowledge that we will be welcomed by their inhabitants. Behind these outposts we have the Panama Canal, so that we can move our own fleet from ocean to ocean, which makes a one-ocean navy strategically equal to two navies denied the Panama Canal. It is fantastic to suggest that we are in any danger of attack.

Even if we did not have these overwhelming strategical advantages, this panic over possible German attack would not be justified.

We went overseas twenty-three years ago to attack the German army and were not overwhelmed.

Our victory, however, was won at bitter cost. The two divisions which were the most heavily engaged lost three men in killed, wounded, and broken by hardships for every man they contained on their mustering days. Many of these ruined men are still in the hospitals, or are suffering on their modest government compensation. Nobody ever gives a ball or a cocktail party for them.

There are young men of the same stripe today who, if forced to war abroad, will fight as the old army fought, and suffer as the old army is suffering. The experience of the Athenians at Syracuse, the Romans in Germany, Napoleon in Egypt, and the Russians in Manchuria, shows that the greatest catastrophes come to navies, armies and nations that embark on distant military adventures.

I pray to God that hysteria, propaganda and ambition will not become strong enough to immolate our present generation of young men.

WHY AMERICA CAN

Statement of Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune,

At the time I received Senator Johnson's invitation to appear before your honorable body, there had been some mention of the danger of attack on us through South America. I decided to accept the invitation because I happen to have personal knowledge of a considerable part of the ground over which such attack would come, and second-hand information of the most reliable kind about the rest of it. I have also traveled extensively in Eastern Canada, in Newfoundland, and Labrador.

It is five hundred miles by map from the German frontier to the boundary between France and Spain. This country is well served with railroads and highroads, but, as we know, is pretty well exhausted of foodstuffs.

From the French-Spanish boundary to Cadiz is five hundred miles on the map, but because of the mountainous region, much farther by road. The roads and railroads were of poor quality when I was there, and are much worse since the Civil War. They would need much work to make them capable of carrying large numbers of troops, their equipment, and their supplies. Spain is now on the verge of starvation. Whatever the disposition of the government might be towards a German expedition across Spain, we know that the Spanish people is antagonistic towards foreign armies, and is stubborn and remorseless in guerrilla warfare. Spain broke Napoleon. Hitler might not wish to add her to his problems.

Northern Morocco and Algiers are very mountainous. During the Moroccan War, there were some primitive railroads, and the French were building macadamized highways for the use of the small armies employed against the Moors. There is a road twenty-five hundred miles across the desert as far as Bamako; and a jungle railroad eight hundred miles long to Dakar. No supplies of any kind can be found in the desert, of course.

To reach Dakar, therefore, an army would have to pass five hundred miles through France, five hundred miles through Spain, cross the Straits, and then travel three thousand three hundred miles through the mountains, desert, and jungle of equatorial Africa.

It is plain, therefore, that it will be utterly impracticable for Germany to concentrate a force of any size at Dakar. If we proceed on the assumption that only an air base is to be maintained at Dakar, still we have the great problem of supplying it either overland or by air transport.

If we pretend that this has been done, the Cape Verde Islands are only a few miles away. They belong to Portugal, and Great Britain has the right, by treaty, to use all Portuguese territory. It will be much easier to supply an air fleet at the Cape Verde Islands by sea than to supply one at Dakar by air or overland transportation from Germany. An air fleet based on Cape Verde Island should easily destroy one at Dakar.

If this form of defense should be neglected, it is still sixteen hundred and twenty miles from Dakar to Natal in South America. If an air force had advanced that far, it would now have a line of supplies five hundred miles through hostile France, on good roads, and five hundred miles through dangerous Spain, on poor roads; three thousand three hundred miles across the mountain desert and jungle of Africa; and then sixteen hundred and twenty miles by air across the Atlantic Ocean.

From Natal to Georgetown, our farthest southern flying base, is two thousand miles over the Brazilian equatorial jungle. To reach Georgetown, the German air force would have traveled over seventy-nine hundred miles to meet our own air force, amply supplied with its line of communication

THE HONORABLE HERBERT HOOVER

THE IMMEDIATE RELATION OF THE
UNITED STATES TO THIS WAR

FOR the last six months I have remained aside from the controversy on whether we should join in this war. I have been waiting to see the progress of our preparedness. I have wanted to see the situation abroad develop more fully. I had believed that the President was earnestly endeavoring to keep his promise to the American people of October 23rd:

> . . . "We will not participate in foreign wars and will not send our Army, Naval or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas, except in case of attack."

IN THE past ten days we have had many speeches and much propaganda, the meaning of which is to drive the American people into this war. One who has been honored by his country as a member of America's War Council in the last world war and as its Commander-in-Chief in subsequent troubled years must learn something of the principles of national defense and our setting in the world.

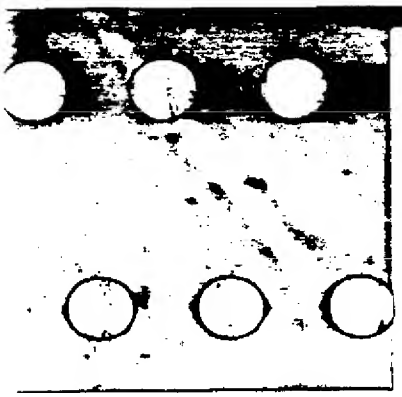
IT IS therefore my duty to speak out of my experience. I hope that by sober discussion of the facts, I may contribute something of thought in this most fateful decision. I am not speaking as the representative of any party, of any group and committee, or any association. And despite the depth of emotion that I feel, I hope I may speak without passion and with respect for the views of my many troubled fellow citizens.

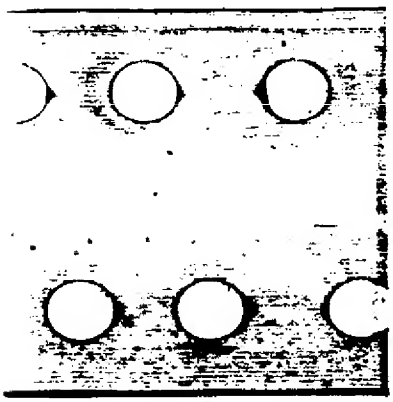
I DO not need to express again my abhorrence of the whole totalitarian movement or its dangers to the world. That there be no misunderstanding, let me state at the outset that I support provision of the maximum tools of war to Britain; that I am convinced we can give this maximum during her next critical months only if we keep out of this war; that putting our navy into action is joining this war; that the whole European war situation is in transformation; that America is as yet unprepared even for adequate defense; that our people are not united. To go in now is neither wise nor for the interest of either Britain or ourselves.

AS I have listened to these recent speeches it has constantly recurred to my mind that the problem before Mr. Roosevelt is far more difficult and complex than many of these speakers imagined. In the anxiety and emotion of the moment many do not recognize the stern facts.

IT IS now proposed that we should put the American Navy into action. That is a straightforward, understandable proposal which boldly makes clear the meaning of words like convoys or patrols. That is joining in this war, once and for all. From here the steps would be automatic. Our Navy must attack German submarines, ships and planes, if it is to be of any use. To make it effective then we must expand naval and air bases abroad. We must equip these bases with expeditionary forces. And that is war for long years to come.

THERE are those who say we are already in this war. That is not true. We are in a position of risk. But war has not been declared between ourselves and the Axis. Diplomatic representatives are still maintained on both sides. Our treaties are still in force. There is no killing of men between us. If this war were ended tomorrow, it would not be necessary for us to make a new peace with Germany.





I AM not arguing the spirit of our relations with Germany. I am only discussing the situation which exists. But it is a certainty that we shall be at war the moment our Navy is put into action. We are in the war when we send our boys either by air or by sea or on expeditionary forces with an intent to shoot at the Germans. Let us not coddle ourselves by thinking otherwise.

IT WOULD be more consistent with American honesty and American courage for us to face the straight issue of a declaration of war by the Congress as the Constitution provides than to creep into an undeclared war. It is due our people that the Congress should vote on the real question which underlies all this: "Shall we declare war on Germany or Italy or Japan?" In a national debate on that issue the whole of the facts could be placed before the American people and the people could reflect their views to the Congress. That question once openly determined by the only open process democracy knows, then our people would accept that decision—whatever it might be. The full facts and the truth is the way to achieve national unity.

WE MUST face some hard facts. And there is among them, the transformation of the military and political situation abroad. There is our own unpreparedness. There is the practical aid that Britain now requires and requires at once. There is the lack of unity of our people.

THIS is no time for wishful thinking. Upon our decision depends the fate of our nation. It is the time, of all times, for a sober and frank appraisal of new facts and new situations.

THE first hard fact is the transformation of the character of this war. No one can deny the grim possibility that Hitler may take Suez, Iraq, North Africa and the Mediterranean. This would not, however, cut the vital lifeline of Britain. It might even release that British fleet to protect their Atlantic lanes. In any event, Hitler can occupy all of Continental Europe.

AND from all this area he will get ample food supplies and vital raw materials for the German people. True, he is blockaded by the British fleet, but the blockade cannot starve the German people or cut off their vital raw material supplies. It is only the people in the occupied democracies who will starve. Having been disarmed to their very carving knives, they cannot revolt.

A SECOND phase of this transformation is that substantial army fighting seems likely to go into the background for many years. The British armies cannot invade Hitler's Europe. Nor do I believe with all the 6,000,000 men that Hitler commands and his superior air force that he can now cross the Channel to England. To invade Hitler's Europe would require us to prepare 5,000,000 men in addition to the British army. This time to invade Germany we would need to land them quickly and that might take 40,000,000 tons of ships to carry our army over the Atlantic. And they might not be able to land even them. It would take ten years to build those ships. And Hitler could not start toward the United States without equal preparation.

THEREFORE, with this transformation it does not appear that this war can be brought to a conclusion by armies or navies for years and years to come.

THE undetermined weapon against Hitler is air power. And the character of air war is also being transformed. It is rapidly emerging to be long-range bombing with fighter planes to defend against the bombers. Accurate action in destruction of industrial and military objectives by daylight is no longer possible because of the efficiency of fighter planes on both sides. Manufacture of more and more planes will thus continue on both sides. But so far there is no effective answer to night bombing. It serves mostly to destroy large objectives, the cities and harbors, reducing them to rubble and killing civilians. And in this destruction Hitler has to fly only one-third the distance that the British have to fly, to reach his point of attack.

AND there is a transformation in the German blockade of England. The long-range bomber is developing as a primary weapon in the attack upon harbors and upon ships. Submarines are today partly scouts, sending word to the air forces. Naval protection of Britain's sea lanes is now subsidiary to air protection.

THIS moving transformation of the relation of army power, sea power and air power presents new situations which are not yet clear. They involve many new considerations. They plainly indicate that America would be joined in a long, long war without a clear method of conclusion. And they emphasize England's immediate need which I will discuss later on.

THE second hard fact we must frankly face is that in the last war Japan was our ally and we had no need to defend the Pacific. But Japan is now openly allied to the Axis. She only awaits a favorable moment to realize her ambitions in Asia. That opportunity comes to her if we go to war in the Atlantic. Even if she does not open war upon us, her action and attitudes will be so potentially dangerous to us that we must instantly divert our energies to strengthen our defenses in the Pacific.

THE third of these hard facts that we have to face is our unpreparedness. We have been slow to organize for defense, as is always the case in democracies.

WE ARE not prepared to go to war. Our industry will not be tuned up for another eight or ten months to produce enough of the tools of war to equip our own defense and at the same time supply the needs of Britain. We do not have 300,000 men who are sufficiently equipped with planes, tanks and guns to meet 300,000 Germans, to say nothing of victory over 5,000,000 of them. We will not even have 1,500,000 men so equipped for probably another 12 months. We have no substantial air force of the type now being used in this war. It is true we have a magnificent navy, but even that is not yet big enough for the job which it may have to undertake if we join in this war.

AND preparedness for war consists not alone of men and tools and munitions. It also embraces the spirit of a people. This war is a total war. That means every energy of a people must be mobilized. We must have a united people to make successful total war. We are united in resolution to defend the Western Hemisphere from military aggression. We are united in building whatever of a war machine is necessary for this purpose. We are united in our condemnation of aggressor nations. We are united in wanting to help England defend her independence.

BUT beyond this we are a divided people. Do I need to prove this disunity? There is an obvious large majority of people who oppose the sending to foreign wars of our boys either on our Navy or on convoys or airplanes or expeditionary forces where they may have to shoot or be shot at. These oppositions are strongest in our youth and it is youth who must die. There is no unwillingness in them to die to defend our Hemisphere.

AND to have a united people the Government must be united with the will of the people. A divided people cannot act effectively in the supreme issue of total war. That failure in unity was part of the disaster of France. The first necessity is to follow an objective upon which our people will agree.

HISTORY will assess the condemnation or the praise for the policies and the methods which have brought us to these dangers. That is not the question now. The question is what to do from here on.

OUR every sympathy, our interest is to assist the heroic defense of England. We have pledged ourselves to give Britain the aid of our factories and our farms.

HER most critical period is right now. It is during the next months. What is the urgent need of England as expressed by her leaders time and again? Plainly she needs bomber planes to guard her sea lanes. She needs bomber planes and fighter planes to offset the attacks upon her cities and her harbors. She needs tanks, munitions and food. She needs merchant ships to replace her losses. She needs minor naval warships to guard her sea lanes.

WE ARE today giving her only a part of the scant production of our industries and retaining the other part for our own preparedness.

IF WE join this war we must join in earnest. We shall lose it any other way. If we join we must at once increase our army to 3,000,000 or 5,000,000 men. We would have to use a larger part of our immediate manufactures to supply our own army. We would have to use a larger part of our air production to defend our own coast cities. We would have to at once increase our protections for the Pacific Coast and our island possessions. We would have to use a larger part of our production of fighter and bomber planes for them. We would have to hold merchant ships in reserve to carry troops to protect them. We are not building enough merchant ships now to meet British needs. We would have to use our light naval craft to convoy and protect our own sea lanes, especially in the Pacific.

IN NET, if we join this war we must use a larger portion of our present scant production for our own equipment and defense. We would have to do this at once. And that means if we join in this war we must give Britain less tools of war during her most critical period.

IF we stay out of this war we can take more risks in parting with our tools of war.

THE British have said time and time again that if we give them the tools they have the man-power to repel invasion, they have the men to man the warships, the merchant ships, and the airplanes.

TODAY we are confronted with not one problem but many. What is the constructive American course amid these problems? Is it not clear that we will give less tools to Britain if we join in the war? The solution is not for us to go to war but to give her every tool that will really aid her regardless of our own preparedness. There are risks in this course but it is the least perilous road we can now take. This solution will not please extremists on either side. Common sense and stark truth rarely do. But I am convinced that here lies the road to national unity that is so essential to America at this time.

WE MUST also think other things through. And there are some other very disagreeable questions that must be answered before we take the plunge to war. We cannot refuse to face the facts of the situation when the fate of the nation is at stake.

WE WISH to aid Britain, but we must face the fact that if she cannot maintain the independence of the British Isles with the tools and policies I have mentioned, it cannot be maintained by our joining in the war. If we are in the war and should Britain fail, we would be left to carry the war alone. And that war against Nazi-controlled Europe will have to be fought at a distance of 3,000 miles and for years and years.

IN THAT event, are we going to blockade Europe? If so, are we going to starve the 40 million people in Great Britain? And how will we bring such a war to a conclusion?

WHAT the course of the American people may be in this conflagration of the world cannot rightly be determined now. We cannot appraise all of the factors. At the present we cannot judge the effect of the transformation going on in this war. But there are some things we can state with assurance.

RIGHT now we need calm thinking. We need reason. We need tolerance. We need to approach these problems with deliberation. Until this picture is more clear it is folly to gamble with the fate of a nation. Strong men do not need to rush. We must not be swept off our feet by the profound depth of our emotions. By no hasty or emotional act must we jeopardize the aid to Britain and the future of America.

FINALLY we must not forget the price we shall have to pay if we join in this war.

IT MEANS the sacrifice of our most precious lives and the hopes of millions of mothers and wives. It means the sacrifice also of our own liberty to a dictatorship of our own, inevitable in total war.

IF WE go into war, we must pass through post-war bankruptcy. The savings of the people will be lost. The endowments of our universities, colleges, hospitals will be destroyed. And when the day of transformation of war into peace comes the Government will not be able to support the unemployed and the farmers. In this gulf all major industry must be operated by the Government. When we go to the peace table, hate will again as before sit at that table endeavoring to destroy the hope of any real peace among men. Liberty will not recover on this Continent for a generation.

BUT if despite all this price we are compelled to act with our military power, let us be thoroughly prepared. Let us make our determination within the frame of our Constitution by the decision of Congress. And when that decision is made, there will be no disunity in America.

THE Germans know all about our slow preparedness. They need have no momentary satisfaction in our unpreparedness. That will be forthcoming. The potential might of this nation is the strongest thing in this whole world. If necessary, we can raise and we can eventually equip an army of as many millions of men as we need. We can make more ingenious tools of war and we can operate them better than any nation in the world. That strength is always here in America. The defense of the United States is not dependent upon any other nation. America cannot be defeated.

America First Committee Principles

1. The United States must build an impregnable defense for America. With such a defense no foreign power, or group of powers, can successfully attack us.

2. Americans should and do cherish the ideals of democracy and abhor dictatorship, but the welfare of one hundred thirty million Americans and the preservation of democracy on this continent demand that the United States keep out of foreign wars.

3. The cash and carry provisions of the existing Neutrality Act are essential to American peace and security. Within the limits of that Act, Americans may properly aid Great Britain. Aid to her beyond the limitations of the present Neutrality Act would weaken our defense at home, and might well involve us in conflict. We oppose any change in the law which would permit American vessels to enter the combat zone or which would permit the American Navy to convoy merchant ships through that zone, as any such course would inevitably plunge this country into Europe's war.

4. With proper safeguards for the distribution of supplies and the maintenance of our neutrality, Americans should, to the limit of their ability, give humanitarian aid to the suffering and needy people of England and the occupied countries.

Introducing General Wood

By Clay Judkins

Former President of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations

We are at a crisis in our international relations. On the decisions now made by the people of this country and their leaders may depend our national welfare for generations to come.

At earlier meetings you have had presented to you dramatically, brilliantly, emotionally, the views of those who believe that the ideal of American life now demands a full participation in the war between England and Germany, and a willingness to take all the risks of war which that involves.

Now there is another view, equally patriotic, equally above question from the standpoint of ideals—but diametrically opposed in its spiritual and its practical approach to the problem. This view sees America's destiny as the preservation of peace for its 135,000,000 people; the abstention on any account, and no matter how emotional the appeal, from European and Asiatic wars; the maintenance of the processes of democracy and of civilization.

Those who hold this view are certain that we cannot enforce democracy on the rest of the world by force and arms. They believe war will be ruinous to everything we cherish most, and they believe we can avoid war, and should make every effort to do so.

This is the view of the man who addresses you today. He was born sixty-one years ago in the State of Missouri. Forty years ago he graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His first military service was in the Philippine insurrection. As Chief Quartermaster at Panama during the days of the canal construction under General Goethals, he was charged with the duty of acquiring food, clothing, and supplies for the 40,000 employees and officials in the canal zone. During the World War he had a major responsibility for supplying our entire military establishment. After the war, in civil life, his ability gave him immediate recognition in the commercial world, where he served for ten years as President of Sears, Roebuck & Company, and is now the Chairman of its Board of Directors.

For his outstanding services during the World War he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal. He is a Commander of the British Order of St. Michael & St. George. He is a Knight of the French Legion of Honor. At present he is the Acting Chairman of the America First Committee.

I am honored in presenting to you General Robert E. Wood, who will speak on "Our Foreign Policy."

General Robert E. Wood's Speech

"Our Foreign Policy"

I hesitated to accept the invitation of my friends, Dr. Lichtenstein and Mr. Utley, to address this gathering for two reasons—first, because I do not feel on a par as a speaker with the very eminent persons who have addressed these gatherings; second, because my views are opposed to those of a probable majority of my listeners—and I may add—opposed to those of some of my dearest friends and relatives. I have a brother-in-law on the William Allen White Committee.

But it is one of the beauties of a democracy that in time of peace, at least, men are free to express their opinions and honest men respect opposing opinions if those opinions are sincere and free of ulterior motive, and now is a time for all honest men to express their convictions.

The Hour of Decision

This country is on the eve of momentous decisions. The results of these decisions may be so far reaching that they may have an effect for good or bad on the life of this country for at least a generation. I am at the stage of life when I do not care as to the effect on myself or my own generation. I do greatly care what the effects will be on my children and grandchildren and their generation.

There are two schools of thought in this country on the subject of our foreign policy. They may be termed "Interventionists" and "Isolationists." These terms are not exactly descriptive, because all interventionists are not extreme interventionists and most isolationists are only isolationists as to Europe and Asia, but not isolationists as to the balance of North America and South America.

I except from my discussion those who have ulterior motives—anything except the welfare of our country. That would include the Communists who really desire to destroy our Government; the Nazis and members of the Bund who put the interests of Germany above those of this country; some ultra-pacifists who forget the interests of their country in their desire for peace at any price; a limited number of extreme Anglophiles who put the interests of Great Britain above those of their own country.

Our Common Ground

These schools of thought are in violent opposition, but there are certain points of agreement among all classes except perhaps what may be called the lunatic fringe of our population.

These points of agreement are:

First—The necessity for a strong defense—a strengthening of our army and navy and air force. Our people are practically unanimous on this subject—the only differences are on differences of detail. It is obvious that the richest nation of the world, in a world of force, must make itself impregnable.

Second—The belief that no foreign nation must obtain possession of any part of the two Americas and that the United States must be prepared to defend the North American continent, and at least that portion of the South American continent as far as the Equator. There is some difference of opinion as to whether military and naval protection should go as far as Cape Horn.

Third—Access to our great industrial plant by Great Britain within the limits of the neutrality law—that is, unlimited right of purchase by Great Britain of planes, tanks, munitions of war, raw materials from private manufacturers, provided she can pay for them and provide her own transportation. And this I may add is a very great aid.

Without this aid now being given, England could not long carry on the war, for her supplies of raw materials, her steel making capacity, munitions and plane plants are insufficient for a long major war. Without the production facilities of the United States she would be crushed. Theoretically, Germany is entitled to the same privilege—actually, on account of the British blockade, she cannot use our facilities, but she has no right to complain. I believe the overwhelming majority of the citizens are in accord with these three principles. I know I am.

Here Differences Begin

But it is when we get beyond the third point that opinion diverges sharply. The present administration in power, probably the majority of our editors and columnists, a very influential body of public opinion as represented by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding Britain is in favor of our government turning over some of our flying fortresses, more destroyers, more planes, and merchant ships. Others, even more extreme, favor an outright alliance with Great Britain and a declaration of war on Germany.

Now what are the fundamental arguments for this point of view? They may be reduced to three principal reasons:

First—The totalitarian state with its ideology, with its record of persecution, is repugnant to our ideals and should be destroyed, even if we have to enter a war to accomplish this result.

Second—Our own protection depends on Britain as our first line of defense, and if she falls, we are exposed to the onslaught of a totalitarian combination. For us, it follows that we must give England all the aid we can, even at the risk of entering the war.

Third—If Britain is defeated, it will be impossible for a free competitive, unorganized and unmanaged industrial system to compete with a totalitarian system.

War Does Not Destroy Ideologies

As to the first reason, you cannot destroy an ideology by waging war on it. The conditions created in Europe by the Versailles Treaty were largely responsible for the rise of Hitler and the Nazi philosophy. The history of Europe for the last 100 years is a story of cruelties, persecutions, injustices. No government was more repugnant to our ideals and ideas than the old Czaristic regime of Russia—it had over many years a series of pogroms, but we remained on friendly terms with Russia. Up to 1917 we had always remained true to the principles of foreign policy laid down by the founders of our country: the policy of keeping aloof from the quarrels of Europe and Asia.

The Communistic regime of Russia under Lenin and Stalin was equally opposed to our principles and was detested by the majority of our people. Nevertheless, we have maintained our relations with Russia, and we have certainly had no idea of making war on that country.

Sentimentalists or Realists?

A nation cannot be a knight-errant. It must be realistic. Great Britain, during her entire history, has been coldly realistic, and her success in building up her Empire has been due to her realism. As individuals we can give vent to our generous impulses or even to our pet hates, but our statesmen, our editors, our moulders of public opinion must consider that it is not their individual fortunes and lives that are to be considered, but those of 180,000,000 of their fellow citizens.

Now as to the second reason—our military defense in the event of a German victory. Our country has gone through a curious transformation of thought since May 10th. From an underestimate of the military and economic strength of Germany, it has gone to the opposite extreme of overestimating that strength. From some of the remarks heard on the Eastern seaboard in June, we would have thought that New York and Boston were in imminent danger of being bombed.

Bombings Alone Cannot Win

Now the events in Spain, Poland, Belgium and France showed the major importance of the air arm when supported by tanks, infantry and a modern army. But Spain showed that bombing of cities, unsupported by an army, cannot win a war or even shake the morale of a population if the nation is of tough fibre like the Spanish and English peoples.

Apparently the Battle of England is demonstrating the same principle. Unless an army can cross the Channel, the German air force cannot impose a decision on England. Casualties and material damage—yes. The 15,000 casualties in London so far are but a drop in the bucket for a nation of 45,000,000 people; more casualties were incurred in single days of the Verdun, Ypres and Somme offensives. The destruction of apartment houses, stores, public buildings do not constitute a blow to the military strength of a nation. If the docks, railroads, power plants and munitions plants are put out of commission, it does affect the military effort, but unless it is done on a gigantic scale the nation cannot be subdued, and all evidence is to the effect that military damage thus far has not been of such a serious character as to severely impair the island's defense.

Can England Be Invaded?

As for an invasion, at the great risk of being called a false prophet, I doubt whether any invasion will ever be made, and if it is attempted, it will be decisively repulsed. To land 250,000 Germans in England, with mechanized equipment, ammunition and necessary supplies, would be a gigantic operation. Once landed, that force would have to face 1,500,000 Englishmen under arms, fighting on their own island behind strong defenses. And to land these 250,000 Germans means practically complete mastery of the air, blocking off the English fleet, complete control of the Channel—none of which objectives have yet been attained after more than a month of intensive effort. To sum up, I doubt whether the island can be conquered, and I am quite sure the British fleet cannot be put out of commission.

Now we come to our own danger of invasion and the perfectly fantastic hysteria that pervaded this country after the battle of France. I think any competent military or naval expert, certainly the vast majority, will tell you that there is absolutely no danger of an invasion of the United States even if Germany is completely victorious, and I doubt whether she will be. The amount of shipping required for the transportation of even 250,000 men of a modern mechanized army with their ammunition and supplies over 3,000 miles of ocean is colossal and it is to be presumed that our own navy and air force will not be idle.

No Army Can Attack Us

If it is impracticable or at least exceedingly difficult for an army to cross 25 miles of Channel, what valid grounds are there for supposing that a large army can cross 3,000 miles of ocean to invade a continent?

Some will inquire—why should it not be possible for Germany to seize bases in Mexico or Central America and attack from those countries. Again, that presupposes an overwhelming sea power. But even if that sea power were present, there would again be the same difficulties of a 3,000 mile long line of communication for an invading army. And an army once landed must cross an exceedingly difficult terrain before ever arriving at the Texas border. I think that hypothesis may be safely dismissed.

Panic First—Then War!

Now we come to the favorite bogey—air attacks. I quote from Major Al Williams' recent speech, reprinted in the Congressional Record—"Oceans and extended lines of communications are still vital factors in modern warfare. President Roosevelt's panicky flight schedule for the air invasion of America is ridiculous, worthy of Hollywood and certainly not of the White House. To support my argument against the President's wild flight schedule for a foreign air invasion of the United States I offer a single incontrovertible reason. With all their air power the Germans could not attack and subdue England from air bases 300 to 500 miles distant. Instead they seized air bases on the north coast of Holland, Belgium and France 25 to 100 miles distant from the coast of England. Each and every stage of the fantastic itinerary for the air invasion of America would have to be conquered for the establishment of major air bases for the enemy attempting the job. The President must know this—but apparently the pattern is panic first, and then war."

An Exhausted Germany Is Harmless

All of this presupposes a completely victorious Germany, ready at the end of a long and costly struggle, to immediately embark on a new and perilous adventure across 3,000 miles of ocean against a nation of 130,000,000 people. The present war represents seven years of preparation on the part of Germany. So-called total war represents a prodigal expenditure of labor, money and effort. Steel is rapidly consumed, aircraft and mechanical equipment are rapidly worn out, reserves of all kinds are exhausted, not to mention the wear and tear on human beings. A nation that for seven years has been given guns instead of butter is apt at the end of this war to demand more butter from its leaders.

So on every count it seems inconceivable to me that Germany at the end of the war, even if aided by its allies, who will be in a worse condition of exhaustion than Germany itself, will attack the United States. And if this country with its 130,000,00 people and its two great natural ocean barriers cannot defend itself unaided by Britain or anybody else, it does not deserve to survive. The great nation that has to trust to others for its defense is on the downward path to destruction.

Europe Must Have Our Goods

Now as to our economic problems. An economic war after the war—the loss of our European, Asiatic and South American trade. I have a high personal regard for Walter Lippmann's brains and ability, but I believe his picture of an unequal contest between a totalitarian economy and a free economy is misleading. After all, when two nations or two continents each have things the other needs trade eventually results regardless of the feelings each may have for the other. Europe needs us more than we need Europe—our materials and products are more important to her than hers to us. True, Germany has reduced largely its purchases from us, but more from necessity than choice. As far as South America is concerned, we can always obtain the lion's share of the trade of Mexico, Central America, Colombia and Venezuela because we buy the metals of Mexico, the coffee and bananas of Central America and Colombia, the oil of Venezuela. In these countries, our geographical location must always give us the edge. We can take the coffee of Brazil but not its cotton; so its trade will naturally divide between Europe and the United States. It is in Argentina and Chile that our troubles come. We cannot take the meat, cotton and wool of the Argentine because we produce these products ourselves. The same applies to the copper and nitrates of Chile. We cannot sell unless we buy and that is a far greater obstacle than all Mexidom.

It must not be forgotten that Germany put on an intensive drive for trade in South America in the period 1936-1938, and if my recollection of the figures is correct, while Germany's percentage of the trade gained somewhat, the gain was not large, and it was largely at the expense of Great Britain; our trade declined only a fraction of one per cent.

We'll Get Our Share of Foreign Trade!

No man can foretell the future, but as long as we have products South America can use and above all, if they have products we can use, we will get our full share of the trade. As for Asia, the same remarks pertain as to Europe. Japan needs us far more than we need her. Our trade with Japan incidentally runs between five and six times the trade of China, whom we are making such great efforts to help. Even if Japan gets control of the Dutch East Indies—and that is not assured—she is going to be more anxious to sell us rubber and tin to obtain dollar exchange than we are to buy the products. And if war with Japan comes, we can get Bolivian tin and develop our synthetic rubber. We are certainly as resourceful as the Germans who are filling 90% of their rubber requirements with the synthetic article.

In 1937 Colombia's trade with us was 168,000,000 pesos, with Germany 40,000,000. Of Venezuela's trade, the United States took 12.5% of their imports and furnished 53% of the exports, Germany 13.6%. Of Costa Rica's imports, 42.5% came from the United States, 23% from Germany. Of her exports 45% went to the United States and 19.5% to Germany.

As for lack of organization, if needs be, we can meet fire with fire; we can set up export cartels and mass purchasing organizations and we can do this without danger to our system.

The Americas Must Stand Together!

Americans like myself feel that our true mission is in North America and South America. We stand today in an unrivalled position. With our resources and organizing ability we can develop, with our Canadian friends, an only partially developed continent like North America and a virgin continent like South America. The reorganization and proper development of Mexico alone would afford an outlet for our capital and energies for some time to come. And while I think we should try in every way to maintain the friendship of our neighbors to the South, I think we should also make it clearly understood that no government in Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean South American countries can be tolerated unless it is friendly to the United States and that we will make every effort to prevent the spread of totalitarian influence there.

Instead of what seems to be a sane objective we are on the verge of throwing our treasure and our blood into a European war, with consequences that no one can foretell.

I respect the honest views of honest Americans, no matter how opposed they may be to my own, but there are two matters that I resent: First is the attempt to smear any one opposed to what I might call the majority publicised viewpoint of what we should do in this war. When the editor of a New York "newspaper" denounces Col. Lindbergh as the head of the Fifth Column in the U. S., we have reached the summit of mud slinging. You may disagree violently with Col. Lindbergh, you may feel he has made serious mistakes, but you have no right to denounce a courageous, patriotic American citizen as a traitor merely because he disagrees with your views. This is as bad as the Nazis, an attempt to suppress freedom of speech.

The other point I resent is the way the issue is being presented to the American people. We are being edged into the war without the masses' knowledge. We have the anomalous situation of the polls showing a majority of the people favoring a course that is bound to get us into the war, while the same polls show 85% of the same people oppose actual entry into the war. That shows that the minds of the people are confused.

How Wars Are Sold to Us

Many of my hearers were adults at the time of the previous war and were familiar with the propaganda that led up to that war. If you want to know the history of that propaganda and its falsity, read a book by Sir Philip Gibbs with the title of "Now It Can Be Told," in which he admitted the outrageous lies that were perpetrated on the American public. And Sir Philip Gibbs was no German but the leading English war correspondent, knighted by his King. The London Economist in a recent issue said it was only a question of time until American public opinion could be brought to the point where we would actively enter the war.

I believe a majority of the people who are advocating "aid short of war" do not desire us to enter the war. But there are others who do desire us to enter the war, who are taking the necessary steps to prepare the American people for active participation, who would enter it tomorrow if they dared, who are today in practical alliance with England, and unfortunately they are the people who are shaping our national policy today. You hear in Washington today that we are now in the war. You hear predictions from men, and men who ought to know, that we will actively enter the war within sixty days after the election.

The American people should think this matter through. The course we are pursuing is bound to involve us in the war. You cannot play with fire and not get burned. You cannot have your government, not private manufacturers, transfer its equipment to foreign powers, you cannot have your government in an unofficial alliance with a foreign power, you cannot be a meddler in Indo-China, berate Italy and Germany without eventually involving the nation in war, and if war comes I venture to predict that we will repeat the history of the last war. When the declaration of war was made in 1917 originally it was intended to send only the Navy to the assistance of the Allies.

Man-Power, Too!

Joffre came over in the spring of 1917, told the plight of the French Army after the 1917 spring Champagne offensive, where whole divisions of the French Army mutinied, and implored us to send over a token force, otherwise France would collapse. We sent Pershing and the First Division, about 30,000 men. Then came the impending collapse of Russia, frantic calls for more men, then the great German offensive of 1918 and the rout of the British Fifth Army, more frantic appeals, until finally we put under arms 4,000,000 men, sent 2,000,000 men to France, spent 20 billion dollars and had 180,000 casualties. I need not refer to our treatment by our former allies after the Armistice. They took the loot, we did not even get thanks.

I do not often agree with the editorials on foreign policy in my friend Frank Knox's paper, but there is a recent editorial with which I am in 100% agreement. The editorial quoted two recent speeches by both Presidential candidates in which both pledged themselves never to send American boys to France. The editorial spoke of both these pledges as political bunk and very truly stated that if we entered the war we would enter it to win, and, if necessary to win, we would send an expeditionary force—and that is the absolute truth.

The People Must Know the Truth

The issue should be honestly presented to the people. If we aid Britain, short of war and beyond the limits of the Neutrality Act, it ultimately means war and should mean war. If we enter the war, we must enter it with all our strength in men and money. That is the only way to win a war.

If the military reports from abroad are correct, I feel there is no doubt that Great Britain can defend her island, her dominions like Canada, Australia and New Zealand. She may lose Egypt, the Suez and Gibraltar, though this is extremely doubtful. So far the Italians have shown no signs of real offensive strength. There is little doubt that England can make a negotiated peace by which she can keep her fleet and her colonies, but which will leave Germany the economic control of Western Europe. But she cannot decisively defeat Germany unaided. Her statesmen privately admit that, and say that for her to gain a decisive victory we will have to actively enter the war. One of the great mistakes made by the Allies in this war was that in its first six months they thought they could win a safe economical war, with France sitting behind the Maginot line and England maintaining its blockade, with little expenditure of blood and a minimum expenditure of treasure. For us to actively enter the war means ships, planes, money, men, expeditionary forces. That is the issue that must ultimately be presented to the American people, and it should be presented openly, honestly and squarely.

Our Own Democracy Will Be Sacrificed

In deciding this issue, the American people should face the costs. We start with a debt of $50,000,000,000. With the enormous cost of waging modern war, the cost of sending forces over 2,000 miles of ocean, of engaging our navy in the Far East, we would ultimately face a debt of from 100 to 150 billions. Victorious or defeated, we will be faced at the conclusion of such a war with great economic dislocations —the rich would face a capital levy, the middle classes impoverishment, and the masses a lowered standard of living and the loss of most of the social gains so far secured.

Competent observers believe that if the war is prolonged in Europe over one or two years, it will result in Communism in all Europe, and a species of National Socialism in England. If we are involved, it probably spells the end of capitalism all over the world.

Defend America First, Last, Always

I would unhesitatingly say to throw everything we have into a war to defend the United States or our own sphere of influence, which is the North American continent and part, if not all, of the South American continent. I do not think the American people should make these sacrifices to interfere in the quarrels of Europe and Asia, old, sick and overpopulated continents with ancient rivalries that cannot be healed. It is up to the American people to decide whether they want to make these sacrifices to preserve not England but the British Empire, and help regulate Europe and Asia. But they should make the decision with all the cards on the table, not misled by artifice and subterfuge.

But if that decision is given affirmatively, I think you will find Americans like myself, who sincerely believe such a course spells disaster to the nation, will be at their posts of duty in the service of this country. I am old fashioned enough to believe in the toast offered by Stephen Decatur back in 1816, "Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations, may she always be in the right: but Our Country, right or wrong."

Teletype from the Bureau, May 11, 1942.

DETAILS: At Washington, D. C.

[redacted] stated that the America First Committee was eight years in the making, the name having originated in 1934, with America First, Inc. Headquarters of this organization were in the National Press Building, Washington, D. C., with JAMES TRUE as director.

[redacted] made available a copy of a letter dated September 17, 1934, [redacted] from America First, Inc., JAMES TRUE, President, charging many of the men in charge of various government departments were at that time or had been affiliated with Socialistic or Communistic movements, and that the subversive front organizations were destroying the democratic form of government in the United States.

It was learned from [redacted] that most of the Bund and similar organizations were pinched down in 1940 and early 1941 and went out of existence. Periodicals changed their names, and open Nazism became camouflaged into American Fascism. [redacted] related that the turning point came with the emergence of the American First Committee under totally respectable direction. Concerning the founding of the America First Committee proper, he stated that a group of twenty students on the Yale University campus were organized early in 1940 by 24-year old law student R. DOUGLAS STUART, JR., son of the First Vice President of Quaker Oats Company. This group attracted the attention of CHESTER BOWLES of Benton and Bowles, Inc., import advertising agency, then WILLIAM R. CASTLE, Washington, D. C., former Under-Secretary of State, and former Ambassador to Japan. Many other influential persons began to join the circle, including PHILLIP LaFOLLETTE, ex-Governor of Wisconsin, Senator BURTON K. WHEELER of Montana, and General ROBERT E. WOOD.

Using this Yale group as a front, [redacted] stated that the political minds invited CHARLES A. LINDBERGH, who on October 30, 1940, prophesied victory of the totalitarian powers. After this, General WOOD, who was considered second only in command under PERSHING in the last war, took active charge. The Committee set out to organize the nation through the mails and issued its first official notice on November 11, 1940. The America First Committee was criticized because of a Jewish individual on the National Board of the Committee, and [redacted] related that the "No Foreign Wars Committee" was organized with VERNE MARSHALL, Editor of the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette, as leader to remedy the situation. His mission as chairman, to which he was persuaded to act by LINDBERGH, was to whip up the emotions of the extremist groups, mobilizing them under a single leadership. According to [redacted] MARSHALL spotlighted the national attention on the isolationist issue and did so well that he put his committee on a parallel with the America First Committee and endangered its existence. [redacted] related that LINDBERGH denounced MARSHALL as an anti-Semite and that after three months of barnstorming, MARSHALL was persuaded to quit. He stated that the literature whi was requested before the committee folded up contained standard material distributed at Bund and Christian Front meetings. The No Foreign Wars Committee was virtually extinct by March, 1941, and the America First Committee is reported to have been sole heir to all of its mailing and membership lists, which included the names of sincere isolationists, sundry appeasers, and pro-Nazi sympathizers.

[redacted] related that in making application for membership in the America First Committee, he wrote down his affiliations with pro-Nazi and other subversive organizations to see what would be the reaction, and stated that they just smiled and nodded. He related that the America First Committee was not merely an isolationist organization, but also the spearhead of an American Fascist movement, and stated that it was headed for a totalitarian movement, which may not flower for many years. He stated that America First was too deeply polluted by the Fascist crowd for redemption, and related that a political movement was being crystallized out of the America First organization.

[redacted] related that the honest isolationists were outnumbered by the anti-administration businessmen and industrialists with an overwhelming following of appeasers, Nazis, Fascists, and other enemies of a democratic way of life. He stated that the Committee aimed to use the war and its aftermath as an opportunity for totalitarian anti-democratic revolution. He stated that nearly all Fascist or near Fascist groups in the United States gave support openly or secretly to the America First, and that the Bund, Christian Front, and Silver Shirts maintained separate existence, but devoted their best energies to the America First movement. He stated that it was a mass movement meshed with a great many other groups; that it claimed to have 15 million signed members with many outstanding figures included; and that more than one hundred representatives and thirty-one senators were known to be in sympathy openly or clandestinely with the America First movement.

[redacted] stated that JOHN T. FLYNN, Chairman of the New York City chapter, tried to weed out the Fastist element and denounced JOSEPH McWILLIAMS leader of Christian Mobilizers, and also support from the Bund. In doing so, he made many enemies. He stated that the Nazi propaganda technique and America First methods were very similar.

[redacted] referred to a report of the Americanism Committee of the American Legion of Los Angeles, which related how the Bund went underground and Bundists swung into America First efforts. This report reflected the names of various pro-Nazi and pro-Fascist sympathizers who were closely associated with America First in Los Angeles. Their names and associations with America First are as follows:

F. K. FERENZ, distributor of subversive books, exhibitor of Nazi films, and publisher of a swastika decorated volume of essays entitled "Hitler," attended 21 America First meetings between March and August, 1941.

JOHN L. RIEMER, who testified that "a German Consulate had paid $215 for printing part of the literature he had been sending from Los Angeles," extensively advertized America First in connection with his mailing of Nazi propaganda.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN BULLARD, organizer of the "American Guards" which sponsored Hitler-styled abolition of labor unions, was a distributor of Nazi propaganda and chairman of the down town chapter of America First in Los Angeles.

T. W. HUGHES, founder of the Bund reenforced "League to Save America First," conducted meetings largely directed to incite intolerance and class dissensions, and was the author of "The Truth About England," which was sold at America First meetings.

Mrs. FAITH McCULLOUGH, alias Mrs. FRANCES WAXEY, former secretary to German agent PAQUITA LOUISE DeSHISHMAREFF, was active in the Pasadena and Glendale chapters, and was a close associate of WILLIAM HUNT, chairman of the Glendale chapter of America First.

JAMES McBRIDE, Bund storm trooper, and his wife, a Deutches Haus waitress, attended 23 meetings of the Committee.

BRUCE TARKINGTON DOWDEN co-operated with F. K. FERENZ and advocated a "whispering campaign" to slur the morals of teachers who support defense programs.

Regarding conditions elsewhere in the country, [redacted] related that DONALD SHEA, leader of the National Gentile League and veteran pro-Nazi, spoke to America First Committee meetings in Chicago, Cincinnati, and Indianapolis. [redacted] [redacted] related that in Chicago, the German American Alliance, bundist type organization, urged its members to assist them (America First) financially and morally. In Detroit and Philadelphia, Reverend GERALD K. FISH, ex-member of the Silver Shirts Legion, a militarist organization based on a Nazi model, spoke at several big rallies. In New Rochelle, WILLIAM J. BAXTER, propagandist for the Japanese and political associate of Father COUGHLIN, was head of the America First chapter. At Peekskill, New York, Reverend JOHN COLE McKIM, columnist for a Japanese propaganda weekly which is registered at the State Department, headed the chapter.

[redacted] related that the America First Committee is planning a new party to be known as the "American" or "Christian" Party, which will swing into action before the next election.

In this regard, reference is made to a speech made by PHILLIP LaFOLLETTE on November 1, 1941, in Washington, D. C., at a convention of America First chapter chairmen and delegates. This speech was broadcast over the Columbia network and expressed the anti-administration isolationist sentiments of the America First Committee. During this speech, LaFOLLETTE made several references to the American Party as opposed to the War Party and urged the support of his listeners in his efforts to curb the progress of the administration. A copy of this speech is being forwarded to the Bureau.

[redacted] made available subversive files which reflect that on June 7, 1940, the "Peoples' Anti-War Mobilization" was held at the Raleigh Hotel. Its sponsors were the "National Council for Prevention of War," "Womens' International League for Peace and Freedom," "World Peaceways," "Keep America Out of War Congress," "Fellowship of Reconciliation," "War Resisters League," and the "Youth Committee Against War." 1,300 persons from 19 states and 95 cities attended this meeting. JOHN T. FLYNN (later America First leader in New York City) presided; and, several prominent persons, including Senator BURTON K. WHEELER and NORMAN L. THOMAS, Socialist Party candidate, addressed them.

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated March 16, 1942, with memorandum attached, wherein on page 3, it is reported that DOROTHY DETZER was one of the organizers and is said to consider herself the brain of the America First Committee. DOROTHY DETZER, who is the executive secretary of the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom, was present at the aforementioned meeting on June 10, 1940, and spoke. Possibly this information concerning her as an organizer of the local chapter may have originated from the fact that she was present and active at the aforementioned meeting. [redacted] files reflect that pledges of money were sought at this meeting to aid in the fight, and $1,200 of cash was contributed.

A review of the Morgue of the Washington Evening Star reflects that the local America First unit was officially organized on December 11, 1940, at a meeting of approximately one hundred people at the home of WILLIAM R. CASTLE, former Under Secretary of State. Five persons were authorized to direct its activities. Those named were Mrs. BURTON K. WHEELER, Mrs. ALICE ROOSEVELT LONGWORTH, Miss KATHRYN LEWIS (daughter of JOHN L. LEWIS), Mrs. WILLIAM R. CASTLE, and Mrs. BENNETT CHAMP CLARK, wife of Senator CLARK of Missouri who was named as chairman. The officers named were Mrs. WHEELER, Treasurer; Mrs. FRANK SIMONDS, Secretary; Mrs. FRANK WEST, Chairman of the Membership Committee; and Mrs. COURTLAND BARNES, Chairman of the Finance Committee. They issued the following statement at this meeting:

"The America First Committee, we believe, represents the opinion of the majority of the people of the United States in opposing our entry into the war. It is not in any way anti-British and feels that in keeping out of the war, this country is helping Britain more than in any other way. The Committee favors all aid to England within the existing neutrality laws and within whatever limits are compatible with the laws of the United States. It does not believe that the denuding of the defense of this country is compatible with the tremendous defense program to which our country is committed."

The first meeting of the Committee was held in the National Theater with 1,500 persons present on February 2, 1941. Governor PHILLIP LaFOLLETTE, JOHN T. FLYNN, Mrs. ROBERT TAFT, and Mrs. BENNETT CHAMP CLARK spoke. On May 18, 1941, Senator VANDENBERG of Michigan spoke at a luncheon meeting at the Raleigh Hotel.

On May 26, a large ad appeared in the newspapers signed by R. E. WOOD, Chairman of the Committee, challenging the President to repeat his statement that there would be no second A.E.F. On August 7, Representative SOUTHOFF, Progressive from Wisconsin, told them that the government was driving the United States into war.

The Morgue of the Washington Star reflects that Mrs. HAMILTON FISH and also one ISABEL FRENCH became active.

During the investigation of the Registration case entitled LAURA INGALLS, it was learned by the writer [redacted] that the America First Committee held weekly meetings at the Friends Meeting House in Washington, D. EIFER of New York and Representative JEANETTE RADCLIFFE of Montana. Following the meeting, they dispersed in small groups to deliver isolationist pleas to various senators and Congressmen. [redacted] they staged similar demonstrations on August 13, 1941, and on October 10, 1941.

The writer observed another demonstration of the same type staged by the Brooklyn chapter of the America First Committee at the Senate and House Office Buildings late in October, 1941.

Investigation conducted in the Registration Act case entitled GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERECK, disclosed considerable information concerning the America First activities in connection with [redacted]

Following the official announcement on December 10, that the America First Committee would no longer carry on, the offices in Washington, D. C., at 1712 Connecticut Avenue, were closed; and, since that time, no further official activity has taken place. An anonymous inquiry made by the writer at the office of the America First Committee during the investigation of the LAURA INGALLS case resulted in information that the America First Committee of Washington, D. C., was being disbanded and would no longer carry on a program of any nature.

A review of the files of the Washington Field Office reflects the following information concerning persons active in America First and related isolationist activities in Washington, D. C. [redacted]

The literature seized at the time of the arrest of LAURA INGALLS contained a large quantity of speakers' bulletins, committee releases, and isolationist material which was distributed by the America First Committee, and is being forwarded to the Bureau as an enclosure with this report.

Also contained in the literature seized at this time is a large quantity of correspondence and other isolationist material circulated by We the Mothers Mobilize for America, Inc., at Chicago. This organization is reported to be still active; and, its activities are so related to those of the America First Committee that this material, which is being forwarded to the Bureau as an enclosure with this report, may be of interest in the investigation being conducted in the instant case.

Miscellaneous pamphlets and isolationist publications obtained from the same source are also being forwarded to the Bureau as enclosures.

ONLY the opposition of the people, through their letters to Washington, has thus far kept us out of war. Members of Congress and the President, too, are both guided and restrained by the views of the people back home. When they do not hear from you, they naturally assume that you approve their actions, and proceed accordingly.

It is your first duty as a citizen, therefore, to make known your views to your Senators and your Representative, and also to the President, on any important issue. And what issue could be more important to you and to the nation than going to war. Write this week, therefore, and follow this with other letters every ten days or so, urging that the President keep the promises that re-elected him, otherwise, "government of the people, by the people, for the people," has indeed already "perished from the earth."

The proper form of address and salutation to members of the Congress and the President is as follows:

QUOTATIONS OF LEADING MILITARY AUTHORITIES

"No foreign power or group of powers can operate across the ocean and stand in combat with the American Navy and planes operating from home bases."—Admiral William S. Sims, shortly before his death.

"Of course there is no possibility ever of any hostile attack on either of our coasts."—Rear Admiral W. W. Phelps, Nov. 14, 1935.

"I do not think that any fleet could ever make a landing an effective force on our coast, whether we had a navy or not, provided there are enough shore-based aircraft available. . I do not think that any thinking person ever feels that any nation can successfully invade our country leaving out the aircraft or anything else."—Rear Admiral Cook, 1936.

"Considered from the defensive standpoint America is the strongest military nation on the earth—that is, it is the easiest nation to prepare for defensive warfare. It would not take much to make it invulnerable against any nation or combination of nations that might be brought to bear against it."
—Major General Hagood, 1937.

"Our fleet IS LARGE ENOUGH TO HANDLE SIMULTANEOUSLY A COMBINATION OF ENEMIES, being about as large as Britain's scattered fleet, considerably superior to Japan's, three times as large as Italy's, four times stronger than Germany's, only slightly inferior to the combined navies of all three totalitarian nations, and far stronger in naval aviation than any navy in the world."
—Hanson W. Baldwin, July, 1939.

"Continental United States, even without the extraordinary defense measures adopted by Congress, is well-nigh impregnable. So are its outlying possessions, except the Philippines, Wake and Guam. Each impregnability can be brought to a point of completeness with relatively small additional effort."
—Hanson W. Baldwin, July, 1939.

CAN HITLER INVADE AMERICA?

THIS little pamphlet is intended to answer the question—Can Hitler invade America?

This is a very important question. It is important because Americans are told that this terrible war in Europe is our war.

It is called our war because, we are told, if Hitler defeats England the United States is next on the list. Having crushed England and taken the English navy, it is said, he will then INVADE AMERICA. And because so many people believe this to be true they are willing to go to any lengths to aid Britain to defeat Hitler.

This whole argument turns on one point—that Hitler, after he defeats England, CAN INVADE AMERICA. And so the great question is — CAN HE?

Now then, let us begin at the beginning.

There is no doubt that Hitler and his great Nazi army is a powerful military machine. There is also no doubt that Hitler will stop at nothing to gain his objectives—to take any country that he wants.

He overran Czechoslovakia and Poland swiftly. Then he turned to overrun Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France in startling quick succession.

Because he could do this we are warned that he can do the same thing to the United States and that the only thing that protects us from Hitler is the British navy.

Let us see therefore just what Hitler would require in order to invade the United States.

First of all, we start out with the fact that all these countries put together — Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France —are much smaller than the United States.

Their total populations equal 110,000,000. Our total population is 130,000,000.

They were divided into seven different countries. Each one was small compared with Germany. They were scattered around Germany's rim. Hitler could attack each one separately. And each one —save France—was just a small morsel for him. But the United States is a unified country—a single nation—and the attack would be against the whole United States.

In the next place, all these countries were right on Germany's land frontiers. In each case all he had to do was to roll across their land borders and he was inside their gates. They had fortresses, barricades. But these were nothing against his vast mechanical equipment. When he had defeated France he turned to fight England. Germany has 80 million population and a gigantic army and an air force three times the size of Britain's. England has only 50 million people. But when Hitler turned on England there was the English Channel —only 23 miles wide at its narrowest point. This is only about half the distance from Washington to Baltimore: But when he faced that problem of crossing that narrow strip of water—he has not yet, after fifteen months of war and seven months since France fell, even attempted to cross it with soldiers or tanks.

When he attempts to invade the United States—or Canada—he would have to face the problem of crossing with his armies THREE THOUSAND MILES of the Atlantic Ocean and facing not 50 million people on a small island with but small natural resources, but a vast nation with 130 million people and resources far exceeding his own.

The problem of invading England is all comprised in the small circle. There is a narrow strip of sea—less than 26 miles at its narrow point—which Germany must cross to invade England either with an army or with planes. Sending planes over, of course, is a simple matter as far as distance is concerned. But invading the United States or Canada means traversing the immense mileage of ocean either to New York or Newfoundland or from the Azores or other equally distant ports.

Now let us look at this problem as realistically as possible. Just what would be the job that Hitler would have on his hands?

We have spoken of the "might" of Hitler's armies. In what does that might consist? His armies are mighty because they are equipped with an endless supply of tanks, armored trucks, machine guns and great cannon and mortars, anti-aircraft guns and anti-tank guns and great motorcycle squadrons and planes. His army was no longer an army on foot. It was an army in trucks and in tanks plunging against its adversaries and mowing them down and rolling over them.

Of course if Hitler ever attempted to invade America he would have to bring not only his soldiers but all this equipment. Without it he would be helpless.

Let us see then what he would have to bring across the 3,000 miles of ocean to invade America.

First, we have to decide how many men he would use to invade America and defeat us. Now right here the reader must understand that the German army leaders have shown immense intelligence. We know that they are not coming to America with a handful of men—they are not going to attempt to conquer us without bringing enough men here to do the job. How many men would that be?

When Hitler invaded little Norway he sent 60,000 men.

When Mussolini attacked Ethiopia he used half a million men.—When Hitler went into Poland—just across his borders and with only 36 million population—he marched with 1,000,000 men.

When he moved against Holland, Belgium and France he used not less than TWO MILLION MEN. Estimates place the number far higher.

Now is it not a fair assumption that to defeat the United States here he would have to have at least as many men as he took into France? Does anyone suppose that Hitler could conquer this country with anything less than three or four million men? He would have to have an army that size and all the equipment necessary to make it irresistible.

But let us suppose, however, that Hitler was crazy enough to try to beat the United States with a mere million men. Just how much equipment would he have to bring along with the men to make them effective? The mass of war instruments that such an army requires staggers the imagination.

The following figures are based on the equipment carried by American army units and are, therefore, very much under what the German army units carry.

This army would require:

19,320 machine guns	2,520 75mm. field guns
7,770 automatic rifles	1,120 155m. howitzers
2,590 anti-tank guns	4,230 mortars

Vehicles:

45,590 trucks	1,610 tractors
19,820 trailers	1,756 ambulances
4,500 tanks	1,120 passenger cars
7,910 motorcycles	450 air-compressors

70 electric lighting sets

Planes:

1,230 light bombers	5,230 reconnaissance planes
1,850 pursuit planes	260 transport planes

(a total of 9,900 planes)

Anti-aircraft guns:

240 3mm. AA guns 1,680 37mm. AA guns

1,680 .50 caliber AA guns

Of course such an army must have food, fuel and ammunition. This vast armada, with its modern weapons, would have to bring its food, its oil, its ammunition until the country is conquered.

It would require:

2,000,000 lbs. of rations and supplies a day

1,500,000 gallons of gasoline a day

150,000 gallons of oil.

What quantities of shot and shell would be required it is difficult to say, but the amount would be staggering. After Hitler's army got here, it would have to keep open behind a line of supply from its main supply base capable of keeping a continuous flow of provisions, fuel, ammunition and replacements of arms and equipment.

The problem of transporting this vast army and the mountains of equipment and continuous supplies it would require is utterly beyond the power of any country.

First, the men must be sent over in ships. And these ships must be convoyed. They cannot be sent across the ocean in little vessels. Ships of less than 2,000 tons would, of course, be completely useless.

Of course to send a million men over at one time would be out of the question.

Mr. Hanson Baldwin, the military expert of the New York Times, says:

"The world's passage facilities are such that no power or combination of powers could possibly transport more than 500,000 men in a month. An initial expeditionary force of about 50,000 would be the maximum practical number that could be brought against us, if the size of convoy, number of ships and planes needed for protection and the like are considered."

In the World War we sent two million men to France. But we had, according to Col. Leonard Ayres, who wrote the official report on this great enterprise, the ships of twelve different countries—American, British, French, Italian, etc.—and the convoys of the American and British and French navies. The Germans were without a fleet. We landed these men on a friendly shore where they were received with open arms. And we sent an army of engineers and mechanics ahead of them to build ports and docks to unload the equipment.

Let us suppose that Germany has defeated England and taken the British navy. She now decides to send her army to America. Major George Fielding Eliot, military expert of the pro-war New York Herald-Tribune, says:

"Troops cannot be transported overseas in any number save when naval command of the waters over which they pass has been previously assured, since a troop convoy is a large, slow and vulnerable target and will surely suffer heavily if its escort be attacked by anything like an equal force."

In the circumstances we have assumed that Germany, even with the British fleet, would not have complete command of the seas. For there would remain the American navy. And that navy would have to be wiped out before the German navy would command the seas on this side of the ocean. Two things must be remembered. First, at the end of this war the American navy would be larger than the German navy and the British navy combined. Second, the German government would have to do its naval fighting on this side of the ocean. It is an axiom of sea warfare that a naval vessel loses a fixed percentage of its effectiveness every 100 miles it gets from its own base. Great battleships have to fuel up frequently and must be accompanied by immense auxiliary ships.

Three thousand miles away from their own coasts this navy would be utterly helpless against a navy which is merely its equal in numbers, but which would be three times its strength in effective fighting power. There is not a naval authority who believes that the German government would attempt a mass naval battle in our waters against our naval strength.

If a flotilla of 30 or 40 ships with 50,000 men, convoyed by a larger number of warships and all their equipment attempted to land here, it could not sneak in on some dark night. Plane scouts would herald its approach days in advance. When it got here it could not empty its cargo on an open beach. Which means the flotilla would have to come into one of our harbors, all of which are protected by artillery and would be sown with mines. Major Eliot makes this clear. He says:

"Large armies, accompanied as modern armies must be by artillery of various calibres, tanks and other heavy equipment, as well as vast quantities of munitions and supplies, cannot usually be landed on an open beach; but must first obtain possession of a secure harbor with the necessary piers, cranes, and other accessories for getting ashore their accessories."

Even the planes used by this invading force must be transported to this country by ships. Mr. Baldwin says:

"Today planes must be transported by sea to the Western Hemisphere; the air armies of Europe and Asia are not yet able to bridge the Atlantic and Pacific under their own power. Isolated planes can do it but not mass bombing formations."

There are planes that have flown across the Atlantic, but they must find a friendly landing here. They cannot come here as hostile craft and be welcomed on hospitable landing fields. It is possible to build bombers that could come here and land a few bombs but this would have no military effect at all.

For every man transported here there must be at least seven and a half tons of shipping. An attacking force of 100,000 would require 750,000 tons. An average of 5,000 tons would require 150 vessels convoyed by a flotilla of naval vessels made up of seven battleships, several aircraft carriers, seven light cruisers, a couple of mine-layers and at least seventy destroyers. Imagine this immense armada, moving slowly over the seas and approaching our coasts—3,000 miles from their own base and at the mercy of our navy and our air force, and compelled to make a landing at a port protected by heavy guns and mine-sown seas.

By the time a million men were landed, if that is conceivable, the attacking government would require 13,000,000 tons of shipping plying back and forth from the other side of the Atlantic to ports here to keep this great army supplied with provisions, fuel and ammunition. This would mean the arrival and departure of at least eighty ships a day and all at hostile ports and through hostile seas. The whole idea is so fantastic that no serious mind will entertain it for a moment. And, as a matter of fact, there is no military authority in this country who believes that an invasion of America by Germany with or without the British fleet is possible.

Hanson Baldwin, in Harper's Magazine for August, 1940, said, referring to an invasion of this hemisphere: "The problem seems impossible; not even Britain or a combination of Britain and Germany has sufficient shipping to divert such an enormous amount of it from their ordinary and vital trade routes to military purposes. We do not, therefore, have to fear the employment of mass armies in this hemisphere; the most we have to guard against is the possible transportation of a small expeditionary force."

To come here, after defeating England, Hitler would have to set out for America upon a vast military adventure, using up all the military resources he has. He would leave behind him on his rear Russia, which would welcome his plight, and 200,000,000 sullen people in Europe who, we may be sure, would be watching the moment to cause him trouble. That moment would come when he was compelled to strip himself in Europe to fight here. And he would fight here a battle that he would be sure to lose. Dictators cannot afford to take on such battles. They must win.

The President said in his last Message to Congress, January 6, 1941, "Even if there were no British navy it is not probable any enemy would be stupid enough to attack us by landing troops in the United States from across thousands of miles of ocean, until it had acquired strategic bases from which to operate."

Here is a complete admission by the man who has done more than anyone else to frighten the American people with the fear of invasion that a direct invasion is not possible. Yet hardly were these words cold on the President's lips when Mr. Hull went before a Congressional Committee and said if the British navy were eliminated to cross the Atlantic by Hitler would be a comparatively easy matter.

The President saves his point by insisting that Hitler would first have to acquire bases in this hemisphere. Now just look at this with a little common sense. Hitler will not come across thousands of miles of ocean to invade us directly because of the great distance he would have to transport his armies and equipment. Therefore if he attempted an invasion from bases those bases would have to be much closer to the United States than is Germany. Otherwise there would be no sense in bases.

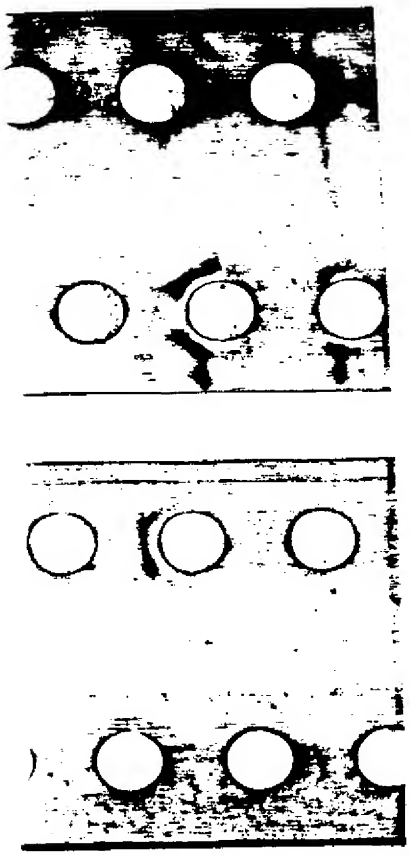
The bases in this hemisphere which would answer this description from which Hitler could attack us are Brazil, various points in the West Indies, Bermuda, Newfoundland, Greenland and similar points.

Brazil is the favorite South American base to which the President is fond of referring. This is because Hitler can take over West Africa and concentrate his forces at Dakar there.

Africa bulges out on its west coast toward South America, and South America bulges out toward Africa in Brazil. Dakar in Africa is only 1,800 miles from Pernambuco in Brazil. Hitler will be able to cross over the Atlantic at this narrow stretch to Brazil and, as Senator Claude Pepper has described it, roll on into Venezuela, into Colombia, up through Central America into Mexico and on to the Rio Grande.

This amazing proposal is so grotesque that it hardly calls for an answer. It overlooks the fact that Hitler must take his vast force to Western Africa by sea—which is 2,200 miles from Germany—and then 1,800 miles across the Atlantic to Brazil. He will have travelled near 4,000 miles. Before he started from Germany he would be 2,200 miles from the United States. After travelling 4,000 miles to Brazil he would be 5,800 MILES FROM THE UNITED STATES. He would be further away than before he started.

He would have to have of course at least a million men—which would be a ridiculously small number. He would have to bring along all that immense accumulation of trucks, and trailers and motorcycles and tanks and guns and supplies. He would have to conquer Brazil, Venezuela and Colombia. He would have to move his men up through the narrow Isthmus of Panama and on through the mountainous regions, the swamps, the trackless plains of Guatemala, Nicaragua, Panama, Salvador and Honduras, dragging along his thousand-mile train of trucks and tanks and guns and trailers and supplies into Mexico and up over the wide plateaus, the pathless jungles, over the mountain gorges and the fever-infested plains of Mexico—his million men.



his 65,000 trucks, his 20,000 trailers, his 10,000 tanks and incredible supplies of food, fuel, oil and ammunition—conquering all these countries as he goes and leaving behind great numbers of troops to hold them in subjection until he came at last to the Texas border—after a journey of nearly 10,000 miles over land and oceans. And he would still not be in the United States.

This, of course, is a bedtime story to frighten children and is based upon the assumption that American citizens are morons and will believe anything. Yet this is the basis of the argument that "we are next on Hitler's list."

Others tell us he will go to Greenland. Greenland is a vast tract of artic wilderness, its coasts rimmed by immense mountains, its interior covered with ice in places a thousand feet deep. Military and aviation experts know it is impossible to build these bases there to accommodate either naval or airplane units large enough for attack here. Even if it were possible Hitler could not do this unless he had command of the seas. And if he had command of the seas he wouldn't go to Greenland.

There are, however, other bases from which attacks might be launched. The map (Map 4)

This map shows the various bases from which an enemy might attempt to attack the United States. All those belonging to Britain, Holland, France are within a few days of our waters, some in our waters. They could be taken without firing a shot or losing a life if England were defeated. Germany would then have to take them from us which would be as difficult as landing in the United States.

will show these. You will see very quickly how little we have to fear on this score.

These bases are Newfoundland, Bermuda, the West Indies or any British or Dutch or French possessions in the general neighborhood of the Northern coast of South America.

Germany, it is feared, might, with the British fleet, capture these bases, if Hitler defeated England. If England were to be defeated the American fleet could seize any one of these bases within two days, three at the most. American warships kept within a day or two run from these places—mostly islands—could almost the very day that England fell take possession of these places without firing a shot, spending a dollar or losing a man. There is no need of going into a war—perhaps a ten-year war—to keep the Germans out of bases which we could capture in a few days and at no cost if Britain is defeated.

As for Newfoundland, there we would pursue the policy we would adopt for all of Canada and the country to the North of us in this hemisphere. We would announce that we would resist with force any attack upon that country. It would take Germany years to prepare for such an expedition and when prepared, even if she were stupid enough to attempt it, the same arguments which reveal the folly and impossibility of a frontal attack on the United States apply to Canada backed by the United States.

Why, then, do men talk about Hitler coming here? Because this is the cornerstone of the propaganda to get us into the war. Propagandists have pointed out that to get America in the war, "Americans must be frightened by some threat." And this threat has been manufactured by British and American interventionist propagandists and industriously circulated by them to get us into this war.

Americans are willing to aid Britain because they hate fascism, they are against Hitler, they look upon the English government, despite its aristocratic character, and its empire, as a more civilized form of government than Hitler's dictatorship. They are willing to help through a generous sympathy and not because they think this is our war.

Any airplane attempting to bomb us from Europe or from the Azores would have to face the certain fate of being destroyed. There is not in existence any fleet of planes that could menace us from Europe or from any base such as Greenland or the Azores. And of course everyone knows by now that you do not conquer a country like America merely by dropping bombs on it. It must be occupied. We are not vulnerable as Britain is, which depends for the very food she eats as well as for almost everything else, on shipments from abroad. She can be blockaded. We cannot.

All this does not mean that our country is not menaced by dangers. The most serious dangers are interior. It does not mean that we must be unarmed. It means that we must provide this country with whatever defenses are essential to make an invasion by any force, however great, impossible. And that is easily possible to us. What is impossible to us is to create inside of many years an aggressive force capable of invading Europe or Asia and carrying on an aggressive war there. And few Americans want to do that.

Former chairman, who resigned because of different views, interviewed with negative results. Recent activities of persons named as possibly interested in underground movement failed to indicate this to be the case. A review of the file reflects information regarding the America First Committee prior to its discontinuance which indicates that this organization was suspected of engaging in propaganda work in the City of Baltimore, the nature of which was considered as subversive by certain elements opposed to the general policy of the America First Committee.

An advertisement placed in the Baltimore Sun on August 5, 1941, states in substance that at that moment "a very subtle argument was being 'planted' by Nazi agents and their dupes (twice last week, on the radio) in an attempt to confuse our minds and delay our action." The advertisement also stated that this form of argument was "direct from propaganda headquarters in Berlin." The advertisement attempted to point out that false arguments were being set up by these propagandists in order that their fallacy might be pointed out. This advertisement was signed by the Fight for Freedom Committee, Maryland Branch, and listed the entire Advisory Committee and the Executive Committee; the latter was headed by GEORGE B. SIMMONS, Chairman.

On August 5, 1941, The America First Committee, through its Chairman, JOHN A. [redacted]GWYER, addressed a letter to the Fight for Freedom Committee challenging that organization to expose and to name the individuals who were spreading the propaganda "direct from propaganda headquarters in Berlin." This letter offered the support and the cooperation of the America First Committee in bringting these persons to justice.

On August 9, 1941, the America First Committee addressed another letter to the Fight for Freedom Committee, pointing out that no answer had been received to their initial request for an expose and they were again asked to name the individuals referred to in the advertisement.

On August 11, 1941, GEORGE B. SIMMONS, Executive Chairman, addressed a letter to the America First Committee, stating that it was their belief that a more effective method of dealing with the persons named in the advertisement was to point out the fallacy of such arguments rather than to deal in personalities. They also stated that rather than reveal the names of the persons whom they believed to be the dupes of Nazi agents in Baltimore and so publicize the fact, that it was their duty to turn such information over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

On August 13, 1941, the America First Committee sent another letter to Mr. GEORGE B. SIMMONS, stating that the thing that interested that organization in the advertisement was the definite statement that Nazi agents twice in the preceeding week, over the radio in Baltimore, made an attempt to confuse the minds of the citizens of Maryland and to delay action.

On May 25, 1942, [redacted] was interviewed by the writer with the purpose of determining any information he might have with regard to the America First Committee and any activities it might be engaged in since its public dissolution.

[redacted] after listening to a radio program sponsored by the America First Committee wherein a minister, whose name he could not remember, had made a strong speech in favor of America staying out of the war and had used arguments which he felt were fallacious. He stated that the method of argument was to set up a false argument and then to knock it down with a more logical argument. He said that he had no proof whatever that any members of the America First Committee were being influenced by Nazi agents or Nazi propagandists, but that it was his personal feeling that the results obtained from the arguments used by this organization were in keeping with the approved propaganda of the Nazi regime. He said this was the only information he had regarding the America First Committee and it was his understanding that the organization was presently dissolved and he knew of no subsequent attempt in Baltimore to keep this organization alive.

b7C A complete review of the files of the Office of Military Intelligence in Baltimore concerning the America First Committee was made by Special Agent [redacted], which reflected the following information concerning an underground movement of this organization.

On January 23, 1942, the newspaper PM in New York City published an article entitled "Firsters Meet Here Secretly." This Article reflected that Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH and others had met in New York City for a secret meeting.

On January 20, 1942, a report originating either in the FBI, New York, or ONI, New York, office reflected information similar to that appearing in the newspaper PM.

On January 22, 1942, a report originating in the G-2 office, New York, indicating information from a private source, reflected practically the identical information set out in the PM article.

On January 27, 1942, the War Department in Washington, D. C. received a report from a private source concerning secret meetings of the America First Committee similar to the information appearing in the newspaper PM.

On January 28, 1942, the newspaper writers DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN revealed information concerning secret meetings of the America First Committee similar to that appearing in the newspaper PM.

It was pointed out that this meeting, although supposedly extremely secret in nature, had become known to the office of G-2 from five different sources and the suggestion was made that this fact alone would indicate that a deliberate organized propaganda scheme was being instigated by some source in an attempt to discredit the America First Committee. The records of G-2 reflected no information concerning secret meetings of the America First Committee in Baltimore.

b7C On March 26, 1942, Special Agent [redacted] made a review of the correspondence, pamphlets, and newspaper articles contained in the Enoch Pratt Library in Baltimore concerning the subject organization, which reflected the following information:

On April 23, 1941, the headquarters of the Maryland chapter of the America First Committee was designated as the Emerson Hotel, WALTER W. HAMILL, Acting Chairman.

On April 29, 1941, Senator GERALD P. NYE spoke at the Lyric Theatre at a meeting sponsored by the America First Committee.

On May 8, 1941, an article appeared in the Baltimore Sun which reflected that the new headquarters of the Maryland chapter of the America First Committee was to be located at 516 North Charles Street. This article also contains information that JOHN A. GWYER, Treasurer, was strongly opposed to any convoys of ships to England.

On May 28, 1941, an article appearing in the Baltimore Sun reflected that WALTER W. HAMILL had resigned as Chairman of the America First Committee at Baltimore because of a disagreement with the national officers of the organization. It appeared that HAMILL was opposed to any military activity by the United States. HAMILL'S home is [redacted] in Baltimore. b7C

On June 6, 1941, an article appeared in the Baltimore Sun which reflected that PHILIP L. LAFOLETTE, former Governor of Wisconsin, and Mrs. ROBERT A. TAFT addressed 1500 persons at the Lyric Theatre at a meeting sponsored by the Baltimore chapter of the America First Committee.

On December 8, 1941, an article appeared in the Baltimore Sun reflecting that JOHN A GWYER, President of the Maryland branch of the America First Committee, had publically stated that the subject organization in Maryland had suspended action and would probably dissolve.

On May 25, 1942 [redacted] was interviewed regarding any information which might have come to his attention reflecting subsequent activity on the part of the America First Committee. [redacted] stated that he had joined the America First Committee at its very inception in Baltimore, and had worked with its organizer in an attempt to make this a successful organization. He stated that his reason for joining the America First Committee was to bring together as a unified front persons who were conscientiously opposed to the United States entering the European war. He said that at that time he was a conscientious objector and registered as such under the Selective Training and Service Act. b7C b7C

. Up until the entry of the United States into the war on December 7, 1941, he had been thoroughly convinced in his own mind that he was entirely right in being a conscientious objector. However, upon the entry of the United States into the war, he felt that it was the duty of every citizen to do all that he could to protect the United States and for this reason has withdrawn his conscientious objection to the draft, and has been given a III-A classification due to the fact that he supports his grandfather and grandmother.

[redacted] said that his activity in the America First Committee had been strenuous at the beginning, but that he had resigned from the organization because of the growing attitude of anti-Semitism on the part of some of the leading individuals in the America First Committee. Since that time he has had absolutely no contact with the America First Committee and although he expressed a desire to be of any service possible in giving information on the present status, he said that he had no such information. b7C

It was pointed out [redacted] that there was a possibility of subversive elements using the America First Committee in such a manner as to further the propaganda plans of the Nazi regime should they gain control of it. In view of this possibility, [redacted] was asked who he felt would be inclined to continue as a member of the organization although it had been publically disbanded. [redacted] said that while he had no indication that such was the case, he felt that if such a thing did exist the persons who would still be members were those whose ideas were most radical and most deep seated, whom, he felt, would not change their views simply because the United States had entered the war.

He stated that [redacted] was a firm believer in the teachings of COUGHLIN and had entered the America First Committee with his following as a Coughlinite. He said that [redacted] was the key person in Baltimore of this following.

[redacted]

[redacted] b7c

[redacted] b7

Further information concerning [redacted] is set out in the forthcoming report of Special Agent [redacted] at Baltimore, Maryland, in the case entitled, [redacted] WEEKLY FOREIGN LETTER, REGISTRATION ACT," a case with NEW YORK origin, Baltimore file number 97-22. This report reflects that [redacted] b7 stated that he had been active in the America First Committee and while he was not questioned regarding any present activity of the America First Committee, he indicated that as far as he knew the organization was completely disbanded.

Inasmuch as investigation has failed to indicate any activity on the part of the America First Committee as an underground movement or as a dormant organization, this case is being closed, in the Baltimore Field Division.

There were approximately 60 people present at that time, and Agent [redacted] observed a liberal sprinkling of American Legion members present. The meeting was presided over by a man who gave his name as FRED DIX[illegible] the operator of a packing company in Houston. The first part of the meeting was consumed by listening to a speech delivered over the radio by CHARLES A. LINDBERGH. Thereafter the principal speech of the meeting was delivered by a man who was announced as Reverend R. T. SMALL. SMALL's speech was decidedly illiterate and he announced that it was the intention of the America First Committee to organize a number of chapters in Houston, composed of people who were opposed to the foreign policy of the present administration, and believed that that policy was leading the United States to War. entrance into the war and would probably be invited to participate in any movement either open or secret of the America First Committee. However, since the United States entered the war there has been no activity on the part of the America First Committee. Many of the active members of the America First Committee participated in the activities of such organization as the Friends of Progress under the direction of ROBERT NOBLE, [redacted] and into the The World Events Forum under the direction of A. K. WINDHAUST, [redacted] Both of these groups operated for sometime after the war and advocated the same policies which were advocated by the America First Committee prior to the war. It is not known whether or not these groups were sponsored by the America First Committee. However, the leaders of these groups were dropped from the Speakers Bureau of the America First Committee sometime before the United States entered the war because of their extreme views.

The leaders of the America First Committee in Los Angeles during its active life were JOHN WHEELER, son of Senator BURTON K. WHEELER, FRANK BARRY, local attorney, and JOSEPH SCOTT, prominent Catholic layman and attorney. Since the advent of the United States into this war, these three men have taken no part in any organization which has opposed the war effort and there has been no open activity on their part which would indicate that the America First Committee is active in any way. However, FRANK BARRY intends to run for Congress at the next election and he feels that the policies of the America First Committee may then be brought to light again and placed before the people and under the standards of political talk, they will be accepted.

The secondary leaders of the America First in this district are [redacted] advised that none of these men has carried on the work of the America First Committee as the leader of an organization either open or secret. [redacted] attended many meetings of the Friends of Progress and The World Events Forum but had no part in directing the organization. [redacted] has not organized any new group nor has he spoken at any of the meetings of isolationist groups. [redacted] has not been very active since the United States entry into the war.

[redacted] further stated that the women who were active leaders and members of the America First Committee are more intent on carrying on the work of America First than the men. At the present time, the only thing that is holding them back is the absence of leadership.

Mrs. J. HENRY OHR, former leader of The Mothers of America, a group of women advocating the policies of America First, is the most active of these women. These women are following the national leadership of HAASE who was formerly very active in the America First Committee in New York. He now gets out a news letter under the sponsorship of an organization known as America for Peace. Some of the women in Los Angeles, including Mrs. ORME receive this letter.

[redacted] advised that FREDERICK J. LIBBY of Philadelphia was known as a pacifist and former active "America Firster" and the person who sponsored LAURA INGALLS first peace movement which consisted in dropping leaflets over Washington, D.C. when the Germans first moved into Poland. He has been making a tour of the country and came to Los Angeles between May 10, 1942 and May 16, 1942 and spoke at a meeting sponsored by the University School of Religion. This meeting was arranged by [redacted] At this meeting LIBBY stated that "the United States should sue for immediate peace to avoid a slaughter", and "If Russia wins, all Europe and the United States will go Communist", and also, "We must choose between two evils, Nazism and Communism and Nazism is the lesser evil." "Only the Nazis stand between us and a Russian victory." "The America First Committee should never have stopped. The Women should reorganize, secretly if necessary."

[redacted] further stated that to the best of his knowledge there never were any America First Committees in Fargo, Bismarck, Minot, Jamestown or any other city in North Dakota, and that the Grand Forks chapter had been disbanded on December 18, 1941 in accordance with a letter sent out by the National President, R. It was ascertained in a very confidential manner that BLAINE SIMONS, former Attorney in Sioux Falls, is now a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army at Fort Riley, Kansas, and that he wrote a letter on December 8, 1941 to a friend stating that he had been contacted by a Sioux Falls newspaper for a statement on behalf of the America First Committee, and that he advised the newspaper that the activities had been suspended. He stated, however, that "it would be wise for groups to function in the interests of economy and for proper prosecution of the war". The MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, in an article dated January 12, 1941, carried an announcement by LANSING HOYT, Chairman of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, that organization of the Committee in Milwaukee and the State of Wisconsin was under way; that offices had been opened at 208 East Wisconsin Avenue; that MAX W. BABB, industrialist; LOUIS CHARLES, Milwaukee attorney; CHESTER O. HANVIG, industrialist; WILLIAM R. MARSHALL, investment firm official; ELLIOTT M. OGDEN, real estate man; and MRS. EDWIN H. COLMAN, daughter of Senator BURTON K. WHEELER, had accepted appointments to the group as an advisory committee. This article also announced a membership drive and encouraged individuals to communicate with the local office for enrollment, also stating that 500 names were received the first day; that it was contemplated a membership committee of 100 would be named and they aimed at 50,000 enrollees in Milwaukee; that they planned a rally at the Milwaukee Auditorium soon.

The Waupun, Wisconsin local newspaper, in an article in January, 1941, reflected that application had been made for a local charter of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE at Waupun, Wisconsin, a meeting having been arranged by J. J. TEMPLE, President of the Temple Shoe Company, and that among those who signed the application, in addition to TEMPLE, were JUDSON MIKKERS, J. J. NUGENT, HAROLD HLOW, And R. J. WAHLER.

In this respect, it should be noted that the writer, while conducting investigation in a sabotage case in the vicinity of Waupun, was advised by [redacted] that TEMPLE of the Temple Shoe Company had been leader of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE prior to the United States' entry into the war, but that there had been no activity of this committee after the declaration of war.

An article in the Milwaukee Sentinel of April 16, 1941, advised that former Governor PHILIP LAFOLLETTE would interview Senator BURTON K. WHEELER at the Milwaukee Auditorium at a meeting held under the auspices of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, headed by LANSING HOYT, and that tickets for the address by COLONEL LINDBERG at Chicago would be obtainable at the Local AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE Office in Milwaukee.

On April 21, 1941 The MILWAUKEE SENTINEL reflected that a University Chapter had been formed in Milwaukee, with members from Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin Extension Division, and the Milwaukee State Teachers College; and also that Senator BURTON K. WHEELER would speak before the Milwaukee State Teachers College group in the near future.

The files also reflect that one [redacted] reported to this office that he had attended a meeting at the Schroeder Hotel on May 20, 1941, where WILLIAM R. RAAY presided and passed out AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE literature; that RAAY previously had conducted the Community Forum at Jefferson Hall in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. TAAY claims the support of many churches in this area; namely: Evangelical, Christian Scientists, 7th Day Adventists, Catholic priests at Whitefish Bay, and others.

A report of [redacted] reflects that he attended the meeting February 8, 1941 at 2651 South St, Blair Street, where PETER DAVIS of [redacted], presided at the meeting, the purpose of which was to form a Lay View Chapter of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE; that OSCAR REUHL and WEBSTER WOODMANSEE spoke.

In the case entitled "AMERICAN PEACE MOBILIZATION - INTERNAL SECURITY," in which New York is the office of origin, the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated 11/10/41, reflects that [redacted] stated that at the American Peace Mobilization Headquarters he was approached by the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE to form an A.F.C. Committee in West Allis but had turned down the proposition because of the financial set-up.

The MILWAUKEE JOURNAL of November 1, 1940 carried an ad for membership combined with an anti-war article issued by the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, listing in this ad the national committeemen, and requesting that applications should be mailed to the United States Board of Trade Building, Chicago, Illinois.

On August 4, 1941 the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL carried an article advising that sub-chapters of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE were to be formed in each ward in Milwaukee, and that Professor C. L. SCANLON of Marquette University would address the 18th Ward Sub-Chapter at Century Hall, 3430 North Farwell Avenue, subject of the discussion being the possibility of Nazi attack through South America.

The MILWAUKEE JOURNAL of August 14, 1942 reflects that a 9th Ward Chapter of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE had been formed at Smith Park Pavilion, LESTER W. MERKLIN being elected chairman of the chapter.

On December 8, 1941 the JOURNAL carried an article stating that LESTER J. BRADSHAW was one of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE'S most active speakers.

The MILWAUKEE JOURNAL of December 12, 1941 carried an announcement by LANSING HOTT that all chapters in the State of Wisconsin would be dissolved.

The above information is set forth inasmuch as information concerning the organizational structure of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE is not available to this office at the present time.

b7C
b7D

[redacted] advised that he first became cognizant of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE through contacts and literature received from National Headquarters at Chicago, principally from General ROBERT E. WOOD, Acting Chairman, whom he knows and respects. He stated that subsequently LANSING HOYT, Chairman of the Milwaukee County Republican Party, was appointed chairman of the Wisconsin Committee by the National Committee; that he has known HOYT for a considerable length of time. HOYT has been active in politics in Milwaukee for a number of years; however, he [redacted] does not question HOYT'S sincerity and his association with the AMERICAN FIRST COMMITTEE, believing him to be a good American citizen, and he knows positively that since the dissolution of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, HOYT has taken absolutely no action in connection with the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in any manner whatsoever. He [redacted] through his contacts with HOYT and other members of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE locally, would probably have knowledge of any underground activities on the part of this Committee.

[redacted] advised that he is not personally familiar with the organizational or financial setup of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, other than he has frequently heard HOYT state that of membership dues collected, a certain percentage was transmitted to the National Committee in Chicago and a certain amount was maintained here in Milwaukee for organizational expenses, which were being carried on throughout the state. [redacted]

In order to accomplish the investigation suggested by the Bureau, it is deemed advisable to obtain, if possible, [redacted] the entire organizational set-up of AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in the State of Wisconsin, location of its chapters, the various chairmen of these chapters, and individuals identified with the activity in each chapter, in order that a careful selection may be made throughout the state of reliable individuals who could be trusted to furnish the Bureau information concerning any subsequent activity in the organization of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE.

A review of local newspaper morgues and files in this office reflect no information concerning any activity on the part of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE since its dissolution in December of 1941.

[redacted] Pinehurst, North Carolina, advised that a [redacted] New York City, on or about December 3, 1941, sent a number of pamphlets to her mother at Pinehurst, North Carolina; that inside one of these pamphlets there was a list of the enemies of the United States which included names of numerous individuals in Washington, D. C. She stated that one of the pamphlets contained the lineage of the ROOSEVELT family; that she recalled that another one referred to the curse of the Communists in the South; and that still another contained comments which, in her opinion, justified HITLER'S action. She stated that the pamphlets in question were published by the Constitutional Educational League, Inc., and that it was her opinion that this organization was established by former members of the America First Committee, her opinion being based on the fact that the pamphlets in question were very similar to those formerly distributed by the America First Committee; and further, because most of them contained a number of quotations from speeches made by CHARLES AUGUSTUS LINDBERGH.

[redacted] further stated that the pamphlets received by her mother on December 3, 1941, had been destroyed. She stated that [redacted] owned a home [redacted] and that while she was not personally acquainted with this individual, she supposed that he was acquainted with her and her family and had consequently placed their names on the mailing list.

[redacted], further stated that during the latter part of March, 1942, she received a pamphlet entitled, "Why Win The War," which publication reflects that the national headquarters of the Constitutional Educational League, Inc., are at 831 Chapel Street, New Haven, Connecticut, with New York Headquarters at 342 Madison Avenue, New York City, and midwest headquarters at Madison, Wisconsin, in the Pioneer Building. In addition to this pamphlet, [redacted] received a blank for enrollment in the Constitutional Educational League, Inc., and a petition to the President of the United States, and that these pamphlets aroused her to such an extent that on April 2, 1942, she directed a rather lengthy letter to [redacted] the first paragraph of which reads as follows:

" It is difficult for me to understand why you selected first my Mother as the recipient of that fine batch of trouble-making isolationist pamphlets you mailed her last December, and now my late husband, for this latest hash of seditious, garbled sentiments. I can think of nothing he ever did or said which would lead you believe that he would be remotely interested in the efforts of a reformed America First to reinstate itself with a thoroughly disgusted public. Perhaps you do not know that at a meeting of Fight for Freedom he quoted passages from the ones you sent, with devastating effect? In fact I consider it an insult that his name should be on your mailing list. Please remove it. "

[redacted] further stated that she subsequently received a letter from [redacted] which reads as follows:

" I am sorry that you feel offended because of the literature received from me. However, I want to assure you that it was sent with the best intentions on the assumption that being good Americans, you people would naturally be interested in really winning the war and at the same defending and preserving the American System of Society and Government which has done so much for so " many of us in Pinehurst and Southern Pines; and, in fact, all over the length and breadth of Our United States of America. I will, of course, respect your wishes and you will not receive any further literature.

Because of your evident sincerity, I am writing to correct a mistaken impression on your part, so that you will not continue to labor under your apparent misapprehendsion.

To infer that the Constitutional Educational League, Inc., is responsible for the state or condition of our unpreparedness is unjust and not true, because that organization is composed largely of veterans of the last World War including many leaders in the American Legion which has been in the Forefront of the Fight to keep Our Nation prepared for War. The Constitutional Educational League, Inc was for many years an active promoter of the Citizens Military Training Camps and more than that, it has never taken AN ISOLATIONIST POSITION.

I am glad and happy to learn that you are all for the work of The Dies Committee and The Federal Bureau of Investigation, because so am I, and so is The Constitutional Educational League, Inc., as evidenced by the attitude it takes in its literature and more than that the League's stand on the matter of Communism and Russia is identical with the views expressed by Congressman Martin Dies.

There has been so much propaganda in connection with Russia coming out of Washington that I can readily understand why you—and many other good Americans—are slightly confused on THE REAL ISSUE. We are told that the Russian Communists just hate the American Communists. We are told that there is no connection whatever between the American Communists and the Russian Communists. We are told that Russia is no longer A COMMUNIST DICTATORSHIP. If all of this is so, then surely there can be no objection from 'Capitalistic' Mr. Stallin, or from 'Democratic' Russian People to action which we may take to prevent the Spread of COMMUNISM IN OUR UNITED STATES.

To suggest that criticism of Communists in high places in Our Government—who are responsible for deadly inefficiency and destructive disunity—will create friction and discourage Soviet Russia in her war effort, is utter and pure NONSENSE. Stalin's recent 'Order of the Day' to the Red Army definitely indicated that the Communists are not going to Fight for the 'Four Freedoms' everywhere in the world, but are solely concerned with the job of driving the Germans and their Armies across the Russian Border back to Germany, and it is certain that they will not be swerved in this determination regardless of what we may or may not do.

It is very evident that unless we get the use of Russian bases such as Vladivostok, we may have a very difficult time doing any effective bombing of Japan. But, we have now been at war with Japan for over four months and our ally, Soviet Russia, has not only failed to make such bases available, but has, in no uncertain language, indicated that she intends to confine herself to the job of defeating the Nazi invaders. And now, at the height of Our War with Japan, our Ally Russia makes a treaty with Japan—a friendly treaty with OUR ENEMY.

In spite of the Constitutional Educational League's distaste for Russian Communism, the booklet about which you complain agrees that the United States must give Russia any and every possible assistance to help her win a military victory over Our Common Enemy, HITLER. The booklet makes no criticism of Russia's scheme of government as such, but there is no earthly reason why the Constitutional Educational League, Inc and all other Good Americans should not take steps to insure the success of Our Own War Effort by eliminating incompetent COMMUNISTS AND THEIR SATELLITES from POSITIONS OF POWER IN OUR WAR PROGRAM.

I want to assure you that the publishers of 'Why Win the War' do not presume to be 'Arm-chair Strategists'. They have made no suggestions as to how the Army or Navy are to go about winning the War. They are merely a little more realistic than a great many people when they point out that the Army and Navy cannot win unless they have something to fight and WIN WITH.

While I have failed to find anything that might be considered 'Jingoistic' in the pamphlet published by The League, I am in full agreement with you that Our ENERGY SHOULD BE CONCENTRATED IN WINNING THE WAR. It is precisely for this reason that I am doing what I can to arouse public opinion so as to prevent the energies that should be devoted to winning the war from being misdirected to stimulate and perpetuate 'A CLASS WAR'. Whether or not Our American System will be saved after the war will depend entirely on the kind of men who happen to be in controle at that time. I do not think Our Country's previous state, which you described as 'Selfish, Narrow, Nationalism' will have anything to do with it.

Neither the League, as I understand it, nor myself are adverse to any necessary effort that will lead to international cooperation.

But we are concerned and would be suspicious of any scheme promoted by Marxians which would impair or destroy Our Constitutional Republic.

Very truly yours

"..... In Detroit and Philadelphia, the Reverend Gerald L. K. Smith has spoken at tumultuous rallies of the Committee. Smith is a former member of Pelley's Silver Shirt Legion, a militarist organization based on the Nazi model. Smith was an associate of Huey P. Long and has collaborated with Father Coughlin ....."

It may be noted that the Reverend GERALD L. K. SMITH, a former pastor of the King's Highway Church at Shreveport, Louisiana, left Louisiana in 1937 to take up residence in Detroit, Michigan, where he is residing at the time. He returned to Louisiana in 1940 for a very short time to assist in the campaign of EARL LONG for the Governorship of Louisiana.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: America First Committee organized in Juneau, Alaska in June 1941 but after one meeting at which the group decided to affiliate with the America First Committee rather than American Peace Mobilization no further activity noted. No evidence of underground movement of subject organization in Alaska.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 10-18-90 BY SP8 BTJ/C

REFERENCE: Bureau letter dated March 16, 1942.

DETAILS: AT JUNEAU, ALASKA

On May 30, 1941 an open public meeting was held at Juneau, Alaska to form a unit of the American Peace Mobilization group. The general subject matters discussed at this meeting were protests against war and a possibility of the United States becoming involved in European conflicts and to ridicule the possibility of invasion by a European power. The horrors of war were discussed, as was the effect of war upon trade unionism and the general topic of war profits made by "the rich". Some discussion was had relative to whether the mass meeting was a joint meeting of the America First Committee and the American Peace Mobilization. Also discussion was had as to whether the group should affiliate with the America First Committee or the American Peace Mobilization. Although the persons primarily interested in calling the meeting were apparently mainly interested in an American Peace Mobilization organization, the meeting adjourned without any definite action taken as to which group would be chosen and it was decided that the group should re-convene the following week.

The second meeting was held on June 6, 1941 at the Union Hall, Juneau, Alaska, at which meeting the merits of the America First Committee and those of the American Peace Mobilization were discussed, with neither side appearing to know a great deal concerning the purposes of either organization. The matter was put to a vote and the result of the vote was decidedly in favor of the group affiliating with the America First Committee rather than the American Peace Mobilization. A committee of three was appointed and plans were to be formulated to organize similar groups in other parts of Alaska. Future meetings were to be called by the committee appointed. However, to date no further meetings have been called or held and there is no indication that this organization ever functioned in Alaska after the second meeting on June 6, 1941 at Juneau, Alaska. No known attempts were made in other parts of the Territory of Alaska to organize an America First group.

With reference to Bureau letter dated March 16, 1942, concerning the America First organization, [redacted] was contacted. It is noted that [redacted] and has made the statement to an Agent of the Juneau Office that he was a firm believer in the America First Committee. [redacted] was an isolationist prior to the time the United States entered the war but since the declaration of war has expressed his desire to see all effort possible made to defeat the Axis powers. It is felt that if the America First group was endeavoring to re-organize either openly or underground, [redacted] would be aware of this fact and further, that he would truthfully advise whether or not such a movement had started.

He advised that he had not heard anything concerning a re-organiza of the America First group in Alaska. He added that it was his impression t this organization had disbanded in the States and was no longer functioning. However, he stated that he still feels that there is plenty of isolationist sentiment in the United States and he said that in his opinion there is little doubt but what the America First group will again organize. From conversation had with [redacted] it was gathered that he considered a re-organization in an open manner as it was prior to the declaration of war.

[redacted] stated that he feels that everyone, whether they were isolationis before the war or not, should now forget any views they held prior to the war and give all possible support to the Government of the United States in the war effort. He added that if after the war they desired to go back to their isolationist views it is perfectly all right but that during the time of actual war they should forget these views.

[redacted] stated that he has not heard any comments in Juneau concerning subject organization since the time when the attempts were made to establish it in Juneau in June, 1941. In his opinion the organization in Alaska is completely defunct.

In conclusion [redacted] stated that should he hear any reports concerning the re-organization of the America First Committee in Alaska he would advise the Juneau Office of such facts.

[redacted] was interviewed relative to the America First group. He stated that he has heard of no activity of this organization since the second meeting in June, 1941. He stated that he has no knowledge of any activities of such group subsequent to the meeting of Jun and has heard no rumors or reports in recent months that any effort was being made to re-organize. He expressed the opinion that this group never would get completely organized in Alaska and feels certain that there is no such organization at the present time.

[redacted] advised that he had no information indicating that the America First Committee was again attempting to organize in Juneau. He stated that he has heard no one mention this organization in recent months and believes it had died out completely after the second meeting was held in June, 1941.

[redacted] advised, as stated above, that at the second meeting which was held in June, 1941, the persons attending the mass meeting decided to affiliate with the America First Committee rather than the American Peace Mobilization. However, after the second meeting no information came to his attention indicating that the America First Committee functioned in any manne and he feels that the organization was defunct. [redacted] advised that he has heard no rumor and knows of no information indicating the America First Committee is again attempting to organize in Juneau.

INTERNAL SECURITY - G

It will be noted that at no place in the Territory of Alaska except Juneau has any information been received that the America First Committee endeavored to organize. It is felt that either one or all of the above informants would be aware of an attempted re-organization of the America First Committee in Juneau if such were the case.

From information gathered concerning the meetings held in Juneau, it appears somewhat doubtful whether the organization in Juneau ever actually became affiliated with the national group of subject organizatio inasmuch as the movement in Juneau appeared to completely cease after th second meeting.

In view of the absence of evidence of the existence of an underground America First Movement in Alaska, this case is being refer upon completion to the Office of Origin. In the event information is obtained indicating activity on the part of subject organization, furthe investigation will be conducted.

Investigation reveals that several radical groups urged its members to join America First prior to dissolution; this included the German-American National Alliance of whom more than 600 members were members of the America First, Chapter, Chicago. Some local chapters of America First have continued meetings and have allied themselves with related groups. There have been plans made to weld those groups and former members of America First who are still opposed to the war effort into a United Peace Front, which effort has

The files of all sub-divisions and Chapters of subject organization throughout the country were called in by the National Office. [redacted] has advised that there was a very good response to this request. The investigation to date has failed to reveal any indication that the structure of America First, has in any way, been used by foreign interests or individuals cooperating with foreign interests. There is no indication that any responsible leaders of America First has, to date, made available any of the membership lists, not formerly America First members. There have been a few local Chapters, as will be set forth later in this report, who have reportedly made available lists and pledged cooperation to certain radical groups but these have been isolated instances and in the opinion of persons interviewed, represent only a minute minority of the total membership of subject organization.

It was also the opinion of persons interviewed that the large majority of the rank and file membership of America First and most all of the leaders were sincere and honest isolationists. However, it has been reported that some of the leaders of America First charged with maintenance of the file and who held responsible positions in the organization, contemplate political activity in the future with the organization as it was left, and have since December 11th taken steps in this regard. The following is set forth to show the political activities and possible future plans of these persons.

During the month prior to Pearl Harbor, [redacted] advised that serious contemplation was given by America First leaders to the formation of a political party to campaign for isolationist candidates. He advised that they adoped a slogan, "We'll meet you at the Polls". In this connection, he furnished a copy of a communication over the signature of R. E. WOOD, Chairman, which is set forth as follows:

"Our increasing national strength was clearly demonstrated by the vote in the House of Representatives on revision of the neutrality act. A shift of ten votes would have defeated the bill. Those voting with us represented more than 50 per cent of the voters of the United States.

"With this achievement it is important to consider our program for the future. I am calling a meeting of the National Committee on November 28. For that meeting we would like to have the views of our Chapter Chairman on their concept of our future course.

"Probably the most significant decision confronting the Committee will be the question of whether the America First Committee and its chapters should undertake a broad program of non-partisan political support (in the primaries and general elections of 1942) for those members of Congress who have placed "patriotism above politics". Thus our organization would support those men - Democrats or Republicans - who have courageously opposed the Administration's war policy.

"By November 25 we would like to have your considered judgment as to the best future program for the America First Committee. You will undoubtedly have time to consult with the members of your Executive Committee so that your letter will reflect the views of your Chapter. All thoughts will be welcome but I suggest that you submit in separate form those dealing with the non-partisan political program.

"Once again I would like to express our appreciation for the gallant fight made by your chapter against repeal of the neutrality act.

Sincerely,

R.E. WOOD"

Enclosed with this letter, presumably addressed to Chairman of the various Chapters, was a list of the Congressmen who had voted against the repeal of the neutrality act.

In view of the efforts being made in November 1941 to form a new political party, and as will be set forth hereinafter in this report, the opinion of several persons interviewed that the leaders of America First will, in all probability, endeavor to form a new political party with the former members of America First as a nucleus, it is deemed important to set forth the activities of the America First Committee in detail just prior to December 7, 1941. [redacted] who was in close contact with the activities of subject organization and its members furnished the following information concerning these activities. b2 b7D

From a report dated November 22, 1941, the following is set forth:

"My man tells me there is a slight difference of opinion between MRS. JANET AYER FAIRBANK and GENERAL WOOD these days. GENERAL WOOD wants to hold a joint rally of America First and such organization as "We, The Mothers" and WILLIAM J. MACE'S "Citizens Keep America Out of War Committee". MRS. FAIRBANK opposes it as she considered those groups 'the rabble' and in no way to be recognized by the America First openly as equals.

"my man tells me that a number of halls in Chicago are now shy about renting their premises to the America First for meetings and rallies. This, he says, goes for the managements of the Coliseum, the International amphitheatre, the Arena, and even Orchestra Hall, the latter is known to have quite a few pro-Nazis and America Firsters on its staff.

"Transformation of the America First Committee into a political party is being actively pushed by GENERAL WOOD. No new resignations have occurred from the America First topnotch ranks but those who had resigned in September and October insist that their names not be used in any way. Apparently, they threaten unpleasant publicity should their wishes be disregarded. My man tells me that the family of some of those individuals who have resigned continue to contribute money into America First."

From the report for the week ending November 29, 1941, furnished by [redacted] the following is set forth: b7C

"The highlight of the week just passed was the meeting of the National Executive Committee. Early in the week, my man turned over to me a letter from GENERAL ROBERT E. WOOD to Chapter Heads inviting their opinions "on the non-partisan political support" which America First is to give at the polls in 1942 to all those candidates who are or will be against this country's foreign policy. These opinions were to be in by November 25, preliminary to the National Executive Committee meeting called in Chicago for November 28.

"The meeting was held Friday the 28th, in the home of CLAY JUDSON, member of the Executive Committee and PAGE HUFTY, employed by America First, at [redacted] The meeting lasted from 1:00 to 5:30 p.m. and the main decision was to plunge the America First Committee into the political activity under the guise of 'non-partisan political support' at the polls to 'the right man' in both parties. Much money will be spent in each precinct in the country and will eventually there will be a captain and his assistant carrying out America First orders. It is felt that the middlewest b7C is the easiest place to start the new program and that it may be enough to pick off two or three congressman for their pro-Roosevelt stand to begin with--this will frighten many other congressman and senators into abandoning the President.

"The decision was to be 'dirty' in all the future political work (not that the America First Committee has been clean in its methods so far, but you can well imagine how much dirtier these will become). The preliminary work is to start right now, but the main drive is to be opened after January 1. Legal steps are to be taken at once to allow America First this new plunge into the poll work. This precaution may well be the result of America First leaders' uneasy regard for certain obscure clauses of the Hatch Act.

"EARL JEFFRIES was recently brought to work in the America First offices as a specialist in just such political work. Certain leaders, notably, MRS. JANET AYER FAIRBANK, thought highly of him and his worth to America First in the new work at the polls. Thus, it comes as a considerable surprise to learn from my man that a few days ago GENERAL WOOD sent JEFFRIES a letter of curt dismissal, effective December 1. It is possible that WOOD has far greater plans than JEFFRIES is capable of carrying out. It is also possible that the Sears-Roebuck warrior is trying to get even with MRS. FAIRBANK in a rather petty way. MRS. FAIRBANK, you see, is constantly disagreeing with GENERAL WOOD on the problems of procedure and personnel. She is pestilent on the subject of young ROBBIE--R. DOUGLAS STUART, the national director whom WOOD likes but she jealously dislikes and zealously tries to undermine. The firing of JEFFRIES came as a shock not only to the victim himself, but also to MRS. F. She is now valiantly trying to save his neck. There is even a rumor in the America First offices that at the meeting of the national executive body she tried to appeal to that body over the head of the General.

"On her own, MRS. FAIRBANK has been doing some firing, too. Her victim is ROBERT CAREY, the publicity man in the S. Michigan offices of America First and his assistant or assistants. MRS. FAIRBANK had been for quite some time rather dissatisfied with his work, feeling that she wasn't getting enough local publicity through him. She demanded a report from him, and he submitted one in a blow-my-own-trumpet style (you have by now a copy). MRS. FAIRBANK was not impressed, and fired him and his entire staff, thus saving $150 per week. In his place, a certain MRS. J. FREDERICK REEVES is now working as MRS. FAIRBANK'S and America First' publicity expert. A niece of COL. MC CORMICK and a volunteer, MRS. REEVES costs America First nothing a week and may indeed bring in much coverage in the local press--not only in the house-organ in the Tower, but also in the Hearst paper, which of late has not been giving America First as great a break as during the first Lend-Lease agitation.

"CAREY is supposed to be a friend of LINDBERGH'S and may appeal, but LINDBERGH will disregard the appeal (so says my man). Incidentally, from another source we learn that LINDBERGH may soon be clearing out of New Jersey as a permanent residence. He is building a house for himself and his family at Seven Gates Farm, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., but at the same time there is definite talk that he will return to Minnesota at least six months before that State's September, 1942, primary in order to establish his legal residence and run for the Senate. It is possible that Martha's Vineyard will be his retreat while Minnesota will serve as his working grounds.

"If the "meet-you-at-the-polls" policy of America First assumes a third-party aspect, LINDBERGH'S race in Minnesota will be the outstanding feature of its first season. Without any doubt whatsoever the leaders of America First maintain that LINDBERGH will win in Minnesota, and that this will give the third party a tremendous start in life. It is true that American history teaches inevitable failure of every third party that ever came up to bid for power, but America First leaders privately point out that not every major party survived a major political crisis. They feel that the Republican Party may disappear from American life as completely as the Whig Party did, and for approximately the same reason: an internal split. America First leaders feel that the America First Committee may well become the second, not third, party. Such in fact is the main hope and aim in the present plunge of America First into the work at the polls."

From the report of America First for the week ending December 6, 1941 furnished by [redacted] the following is set forth. b2 b7D

"My man tells me that plans to hold a large America First rally in the Stadium sometime between December 14th and Christmas holidays have been abandoned. The December 14th Rally scheduled to take place at Orchestra Hall is expected to be a rather ordinary affair with no big names present but with enough preparatory work put in to insure a full hall, seating capacity close to 3000. Enough Germans and Irish can be counted upon to come down town on Sunday afternoon to spend Sunday afternoon in Orchestra Hall.

NEWTON JENKINS is mentioned in the America First offices as a possible second speaker to share the platform with DEAN MANION of Notre Dame. Some members of the America First staff know the shady past and dubious connections of JENKINS but keep quiet about it, not wishing to contradict the almight and ever impatient JANET FAIRBANK. She is much in favor of JENKINS, believing him to be a "lovely,fine personality'.

The America First leaders claim they have 6000 members in the Stockyards District, mainly Italians but some Germans, too, and they have been organized, according to JANET AYER FAIRBANK and GENERAL WOOD, for the coming political 'meet-you-at-the-polls' campaign. The activities of NEWTON JENKINS and the organization known as the United Community Builders has come to the attention of the Chicago Field Division and has been made the subject of a pending investigation.

From the Chicago Daily News dated December 3, 1941, the following clipping was secured.

"PLANS TO REVAMP AMERICA FIRST TOLD BY WOOD

A reorganization plan transforming America First into an active political agency in the pattern of major political parties has been outlined by Brig. Gen. ROBERT E. WOOD, retired, Chairman of the committee.

"Clarifying its program for the 1942 elections, WOOD said "a corporation will be set up in conformity with national election laws.'

"'As a nonprofit corporation we cannot now contribute to political campagins,' WOOD said. He reiterated that America First had no intention of becoming a 'third party'.

"'We'll be something like the old Anti-Saloon League', he said, 'supporting a Republican here, a Democrat there and perhaps a Progressive. It depends upon their foreign policy stand entirely.

"One of the candidates the committee will back for re-election, it was announced, will be Senator C. WAYLAND BROOKS."

Following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941, the National Committee, issued the following statement dated December 11, 1941 announcing the dissolution of subject organization. This statement was furnished by [redacted] and is set forth as follows: b2 b7D

"The America First Committee was organized in the summer of 1940 with two primary objectives:

(1) An impregnable defense for our nation.
(2) Avoidance of involvement in the European and Asiatic war.

Our principles were right. Had they been followed, war could have been avoided. No good purpose can now be served by considering what might have been, had our objectives been attained.

"On Sunday, December 7, Japan launched an attack upon us.

"On Monday, December 8, Congress declared war on Japan.

"Today, December 11, 1941, Congress declared war on Germany & Italy.

"There is no longer any question about our involvement in the conflict in Europe and Asia. We are at war. Today, though there may be many important subsidiary consideration, the primary objective is not difficult to state. It cam be completely defined in one word--victory.

"While the executive branch of the government will take charge of the prosecution of the war, the fundamental rights of American citizens under our Constitution and Bill of Rights must be respected. The long range aims and policies of our country must be determined by the people through Congress. We hope that secret treaties committing America to imperialistic aims or vast burdens in other parts of the world shall be scrupulously avoided to the end that this nation shall become the champion of a just and lasting peace.

"The period of democratic debate on the issue of entering the war is over; the time for military action is here. Therefore, the America First Committee has determined immediately to cease all functions and to dissolve as soon as that can legally be done. And finally, it urges all those who have followed its lead to give their full support to the war effort of the nation, until peace is attained."

[redacted] furnished a copy of a letter addressed, JOHN L. WHEELER, [redacted] Los Angeles, California, over the signature of ROBERT E. WOOD, Chairman. This letter was dated December 12, 1941 and informed WHEELER that the National Committee had passed a resolution directing that the America First Committee and affiliated sub-divisions be dissolved. He stated that "since its formation in September 1940, the America First Committee has contended that the United States should build an impregnable National Defense and avoid participation in foreign wars. We have held further that a policy of aid to other countries would weaken our own defense and tend to draw us into the conflict. We believe that our principles were right then and are right now. We believe that if the government had followed the policy which we advocated, war could have been avoided and America and the world would have benefited. We make no apologies for the position which we have taken and we firmly believe that history will prove that we are right. We hope that that as individual you will exert you efforts in support of the members of the Senate and House of Representatives who have so bravely carried on this fight."

Concerning the dissolution meeting of the Executive Committee held on December 11, 1941, [redacted] furnished the following report. b2 b7D

"My man tells me that today's meeting of the America First National Executive Committee (in PAGE HUFTY'S apartment on North Astor Street) lasted from noon to 6:30 and finally ended in a decision to dissolve the America First Committee.

"The long hours of the meeting are explained by the fact that certain members of the Executive Committee were against dissolving. JANET AYER FAIRBANK and LINDBERGH were for dissolution; R.W. STUART and a few others were against. 'That Nazi STUART', remarked MRS. FAIRBANK to MISS CORNELIA HOWE, her woman Friday in the America First Regional Office.

STUART and other wanted to keep America First afloat in order to have a political weapon during the elections of 1942. MRS. FAIRBANK was--and is--against any activity by the America First from now on.

"My man remarks, (and he had plenty of opportunity to watch her this momentous week), MRS. FAIRBANK is plain scared of what the government may do to her should the America First Committee go on, and above all, should she continue to be associated with it. When certain of the members of the National Executive Committee proposed to dissolve the America First Committee but keep incorporated and intact legally for at least one more year, she protested vigorously, and refused to have anything to do with it. As she is one of the original incorporaters, the corporation is expectedto be broken up in the near future.

There are practically no funds left in the America First Regional office of MRS. FAIRBANK but a considerable money surplus is known to exist in the National Office. What to do with it is the question. MRS. FAIRBANK patriotically suggested buying a defense bond with it but the other members insist on keeping the money in ready currency. An opinion has been expressed that MRS. FAIRBANK isn't so patriotic after all--that she merely wants this money to collect interest until the spring when the America First Committee is supposed to come out of the impending hibernation in order to take part in the primaries.

All the files are being taken to MRS. FAIRBANK'S home, the wine room in the basement at [redacted]. All the employees of the America First Regional Office are to be fired by the middle of next week. It will take longer for the America First National Office to liquidate, perhaps as long as three weeks". b7C

MRS. ELIZABETH LANDA, one of the America First National Office, is rather calm, almost happy, about the dissolution of the America First Committee. She has expressed herself to the effect that since it (the war) had to come, she is glad it came at last, because anyway,"it's the question of either Hitler or Roosevelt and Hitler will win--the sooner, the better".

From a report dated December 10, 1941 entitled"America First After Japanese Attack on United States", a copy of which was furnished by [redacted] the following is taken. b2 b7D

"My man tells me that on Monday, December 8, the employees of America First Regional Office reported to work as usual but began at once to take down the signs, such as, "Bundles From Britain", showing coffins with bodies of American soldiers. The process of packing and removal is still going on at this writing and is to continue until the middle or end of the next week when the America First Committee is expected to close. My man stated, "The cards will be used in the Spring when the America First leaders intend to come out again under another name, of course, to get interviews at the polls and for a bang-up political campaign. My man tells me that LINDBERGH did not want to issue his call for unity and did it only after GENERAL WOOD exerted considerable pressure upon him by wire and long distance telephone.

R. DOUGLAS STUART, JR., National Director of the America First Committee, issued a statement, not for publication, right after the Japanese attack. The statement was addressed to heads of Chapters throughout the country. He sent a copy of it to MRS. FAIRBANK who read it with expressions of horror, and her arms up in the air, she exclaimed, "My God, That's treason". She called up GENERAL WOOD to stop the statement before it was mailed out but WOOD said it was too late, the statement had already gone out. We do not know the text or the tone of the STUART statement but MRS. FAIRBANK might have exaggerated her horror of its contents for the simple reason of deep and long-standing animosity for young STUART.

[redacted] furnished a report concerning the activities of the New York Chapter of America First dated December 9, 1941. From this report the following is quoted: b2 b7D

"Future Plans for America First

Many of the leaders have already withdrawn. GENERAL WOOD came on yesterday morning and has been negotiating with the New York Committee. As an outcome of that meeting, ED WEBSTER states:

(1) That the Eastern AFC will close their branch offices.

(2) They will keep the office at 515 Madison Avenue, but will curtail activities.

(3) They have called off all impending meetings.

(4) They have given notice to their paid personnel.

(5) They will make no further statement until the National Committee statement comes out on December 9.

(6) They will stall on activities but not close down.

"MRS. ETHEL TAYLOR states that the organization will carry on (1) to defend the American people from being completely dominated by the Communists, and (2) to do everything possible to keep America out of war with Germany.

"WILLIAM T. LEONARD, who headed the Brooklyn Chapter, has swung around completely and now calls for national defense. He stated this morning: "The statement in the Brooklyn Eagle? I believe that is all we could say under the circumstances. Otherwise all of us would have come under suspicion. It would be too bad to come under suspicion in wartime. Naturally ROOSEVELT is guilty of this war - I hope he will now be happy with his bloody toy."

"It is probable that he will be replaced as head of the Brooklyn Chapter by MR. HORACE HAASE, who states: "I have not changed my principles. This war is not our war. There is only one brave man in America - that is Senator NYE. I am simply disgusted with WHEELER. One thing is sure: I am not going. I will try to find a defense job in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. If that goes wrong, I will look for a hide-out somewhere in the country where I can write my book. I want to do something constructive and not desctructive. They can put me in prison if they want, but I am not going to be shot in this war. The American people have been tricked into this. They were betrayed by their leaders. It is shameful how WOOD and FLYNN and all the others suddenly changed face. If our ideas were true yesterday, they certainly are true today. I hope LEONARD will resign if he feels as he announced. In that case, I might become chairman of the Chapter. We shall carry on as a political party and keep an eye on the government. When the Roosevelt downfall comes, which must come, then we shall take revenge. I know we will lose this war. It may be good for us. Yesterday MANY WALTZ and I sent telegrams to Congressmen not to vote for war."

[redacted] advised that on interview, MRS. J..NET ..YER F..IRB..NK had called in several of the former employees in the Regional Office of ..merica First, prior to the First of January, for the purpose of getting the files together to be packed and sent to GENER..L WOOD and GENER..L H..MMOND. The informant advised that GENER..L WOOD received the signature cards and GENER..L H..MMOND was to receive the alphabetical file and that MRS. F..IRB..NK was to retain the contributions cards. The informant stated that GENER..L H..MMOND insisted upon the alphabetical file for the alleged reason that it was to be used for political purposes. The informant advised that nearly all of the subdivisions and Chapters throughout the country had responded to the request from the National Office for the return of all files to them.

The informant stated that MRS. F..IRB..NK had stated that she would get in touch with several of the former employees at a future date when they got ready to do something in the political line. [redacted] further stated that thirty to thirty-five girls had been working at the home of MRS. F..IRB..NK copying addresses from the ..merica First membership lists, directly after the local Chapter was closed. This was done with the knowledge and consent of GENER..L H..MMOND and COL. ROBERT MC CORMICK of the Chicago Tribune. MRS. F..IRB..NK made the statement that she is having one of her winecellars "rat-proofed" and it was the informant's opinion that this "rat-proof" winecellar is being used to store the contribution cards of subject organization to be used at a future date for political purposes.

[redacted] furnished the following report dated December 19, 1941 which is being set forth as follows:

"My man tells me that MRS. J..NET ..YER F..IRB..NK has recovered after her recent panic. Once more she is full of fight. ..ccording to what she now says to her assistant, the ..merica First Committee may be dissolved but not finished. J..NET decided not to rent her house from January 1 to May 1, as she was planning right after the Japanese attack. She is not going away to Mexico, after all, but staying right here in Chicago to prepare for a political fight in favor of Senator BROOKS, Congressman P..DDOCK, D..Y and other isolationists. Most of the ..merica First files have been moved to MRS. F..IRB..NK'S house on North State Street, and orders have been given to start addressing envelopes to 150,000 members of the ..merica First Committee in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana. The ..merica First members will be asked by mail, and later by radio and through rallies, to be for defense yet to vote for those isolationists who will seek re-election in 1942. Interventionist Congressmen and Senators are to be defeated through the same effort.

On Wednesday evening, December 18, MRS. FAIRBANK gave a dinner to her staff--some nine guests in all--and seemed to be in pretty high spirits, especially after a few drinks. Among other things, she said she had to fix up a special room in the basement of her house for the America First files and membership cards, to safeguard them against rats. "The rats in Washington are not the only ones," she remarked semi-gaily, semi-grimly.

"Some of the membership cards have been shipped to the house of CARL HOWE, [redacted] Illinois (telephone Euclid 4949). b7c CARL HOWE is the father of CORNELIA HOWE, the chief assistant and trusted friend of MRS. FAIRBANK. MISS HOWE is to do much of the addressing. She won't go West, after all.

"GENERAL ROBERT WOOD decided that he, too, must have a set of those 150,000 names and addresses and sent over boxes of blank cards tobe filled with those precious membership rolls. It's an open secret in the circles of the "dissolved" America First Committee that WOOD, too, is going to use those names and addresses for political purposes. The national offices of the America First Committee (Board of Trade Bldg.) are being liquidated but very slowly. My man says: "BOBBIE STUART doesn't want to give in or give up. He just doesn't."

"My man also tells me that GENERAL WOOD, and not CHARLES LINDBERGH, wrote LINDBERTH'S statement of "unity". My man heard this personally from MRS. FAIRBANK. It appears that LINDBERGH did not want to issue such a statement under any circumstances despite all the Pressure WOOD put on him on Monday the 8th. Finally, in near-desperation, WOOD himself wrote the statement and released it to the press as if coming from LINDBERGH although actually LINDBERGH had nothing to do with it. LINDBERGH wants to go ahead with the work of America First but under another name--that is, there should be a new organization of old members. He won't give the Administration in Washington any satisfaction and does not care if Washington knows that he never recanted, thatWOOD, not he, wrote and issued that statement for him. This checks with a confidential report I received from New York, where ED WEBSTER, a prominent America Firster, said: "LINDBERGH wants to carry on the fight against 'the Communists in Washington,' and in a few months intends to come out openly for the organization.

Because WOOD presumed to issue that statement for LINDBERGH, and because generally LINDBERGH believes that WOOD and other America-First leaders mismanaged their campaign and missed many opportunities to make hay while their sun shone, LINDBERGH intends to create out of the America First timber an organization of his own and run it strictly by himself, with MRS. FAIRBANK and others taking orders from him. Such is the opinion expressed in the America First circles in Chicago and elsewhere."

Following the dissolution of subject organization all meetings previously scheduled were called off and there have been no official meetings held since December 11, 1941.

[redacted] furnished the following b2 b7D report concerning this meeting of MC CORMICK, PATTERSON, LINDBERGH, and WOOD:

"This much-talked about but little-ascertained meeting took place in Chicago in the middle of March. The exact date is hard to establish, but, as one of my Trib contacts puts it, the four men met shortly after the news of Mac Arthur's escape to Australia was made known in this country. This would make it sometime between March 17 and 20.

JOE PATTERSON was passing through Chicago on his way from Hawaii. LINDBERGH was in town in connection with his taking that job with Henry Ford. PATTERSON, LINDBERGH and MC CORMICK met in the latter's private office on the 24th floor of the Tribune building. Later, the three adjourned to the Chicago Club where GENERAL WOOD joined them.

"The meeting was extremely hush-hush, and nothing is known for certain just what happened in the course of it. However, one man (formerly a foreign correspondent of the Chicago Tribune and still on good terms with certain high executives of the Tribune) tells me the following:

"McCORMICK wanted LINDBERGH to issue a public statement whitewashing the America First Committee as a patriotic organization of which its former members and leaders should not be ashamed, praising MC CORMICK and the Chicago Tribune as a patriotic man and a laudable institution, and, above all, saying a few good words about Senator BROOKS which might be used as LINDBERGH'S endorsement of BROOKS. But LINDBERGH refused to issue such a statement. He said to his host that it would be too obvious a maneuver, and that he would rather be useful in some other way. MC CORMICK did not insist."

"Another man, presently employed by the Tribune in a responsible capacity, said to me that the meeting of the four personages was held to map out the future course of action of the ex-America First leadership. 'The appointment of MAC ARTHUR as supreme commander, just made public, was discussed by the four, who feel that MAC ARTHUR is their man and will do their bidding, although on what they base such an assumption is not known. We around the Trib office feel that MC CORMICK and his friends just 'smell' that MAC ARTHUR is their man, hence the terrific buildup. LINDBERGH'S job with Ford was discussed at that meeting in connection with MAC ARTHUR'S escape and appointment.

And still another man said to me:

"The buildup of LINDBERGH as America's imminent savior was discussed at that meeting in Chicago. You see, by making 25 bombers a day LINDBERGH and FORD will be in a position to claim a super-service to the nation in her hour of trial. Gradually, a press will be built up for LINDBERGH, giving him rather than FORD (with Ford's complete agreement) most if not all the credit for those 25 bombers a day. That's what they discussed at the meeting."

[redacted] advised that a meeting was held at the home of MRS. JANET MYER FAIRBANK in the early part of January 1942 and that it was discussed at this meeting, the possibility of using the membership lists of the Illinois and Chicago Chapters amounting to approximately 150,000 names for the purpose of distributing campaign literature in behalf of Senator WAYLAND BROOKS and Congressman STEPHEN A. D.A.Y. He advised that this mailing list was used in December and January and that campaign literature was mailed to the former members of

America First urging these persons to support BROOKS and DAY at the April Primary nominations. He further stated that it has been reported to him that the list will be used again in November of 1942 and that there is a definite feeling that former leaders of America First will come out with the formation of a political party under a different name but with same nucleus as subject organization, in the late summer of 1942.

[redacted] advised that CHARLES B. GOODSPEED, President of the Buckeye Steel Casting Corporation and his secretary and friend, MRS. BRECKENRIDGE, both of whom are ardent America Firsters, had been intensively collecting money for the BROOKS campaign. Informant further advised that MRS. BRECKENRIDGE also acts as secretary to GENERAL THOMAS HAMMOND, formerly of the Nation Committee of subject organization, and that HAMMOND had been secretly behind this money collecting campaign. The informant advises that most of the persons contacted by MRS. BRECKENRIDGE and CHARLES B. GOODSPEED were former members of America First as taken from the alphabetical file in the possession of GENERAL HAMMOND. MRS. BRECKENRIDGE is also reported to have said that, when asked about the possibilities of future activity for subject organization, "We'll have something definite to work on in the campaign".

Prior to December 7, 1941, subject organization by its rapid growth and national publicity, attracted to it many radical groups who, for one reason or another, found in the America First program at least one of the purposes of their own group. Memberships of some of these groups were urged by their own leaders to join America First.

b2 b7D

[redacted] advised that on several meetings of the German-American National Alliance, PAUL A. F. WARNHOLTZ, Director of Publicity, and WALTER SILGE, former president, had urged the members to join America First.

b2 b7D

[redacted] has furnished a list to reporting agent of 646 members of the German-American National Alliance who were found to be members of the America First as of November 29, 1941. Copies of this list are being prepared and will be forwarded to the Bureau when completed.

From an article in the American Mercury for January of 1942, the author, JOHN ROY CARLSON, under a story entitled "Inside the America First Movement" on Page 7, which article was written before Pearl Harbor, charges that America First, whether knowingly or not, had become the expression of the American Fascist movement and that though many of the leaders were sincere and honest isolationists, there nevertheless was no real attempt made to purge those who were in the movement who were not sincere and honest isolationists. CARLSON charged that there were astute, unnamed strategists operating behind the scenes and manipulating the central directive nucleus of the America First Committee. He also states that the America First Committee has political aspirations and that the owners, leaders and followers are outshouted, if not outnumbered.

In a sequel to this article one was published in The American Mercury for March 1942 by CARLSON under the heading "Our Fascist Enemies Within" on Page 306, which states that he had previously tried to differentiate between the honest isolationists and the hate-mongering elements acting as agents of foreign nations. From the article the following is quoted:

> "Since the dissolution of the America First Committee, the fascist rabble has been obliged to return to its former status -- that of an unorganized, rebellious mass movement without central leadership and without 'respectable' cover for its operations."

At another place in the article, however, CARLSON states that he received a letter post marked December 29 which an ardent America Firster had written to a comrade across the continent as follows:

> "For the time being we are in a state of quiescence, waiting for events to shape themselves. The trend of things already is less obscure .....You can be sure that very few of those who were with us before have changed their minds -- although they may be cautious for the present."

And another letter which he had received he set forth as follows:

> "We have already arranged to resume weekly meetings. We have a lot of ideas, are not in any way terrified and will not pull our punches."

[redacted] b7D

Investigation to date has failed to reveal that any new groups have been started in the Chicago area by any of the former leaders of America First. There existed prior to Pearl Harbor several groups which are still active such as "We the Mothers Mobilize for America, Inc.", headed by LYRL CLARK Van HYNING and Mrs. GRACE KEEFE; "Patrick Henry Forum" run by MARTIN J. HIGGINS; "Citizens Committee to Keep America Out of War" changed to "Citizens Committee" following December 7. This committee is headed by WILLIAM J. GRACE and at one time WILLIAM REGNERY, AVERY BRUNDAGE and EARL SOUTHARD were officers; "Lease Lend to America" started by RALPH I. BYERS; "Midwest Monetary Federation" headed by RALPH FRANKLIN KEELING, JOSEPH E. MacWILLIAMS and WILLIS OVERHOLSER and ALEXIS DeTURNOWSKY; and the "Lincoln Park Branch of the America First" headed by ALFRED [illegible] and [illegible]. These groups were active prior to December 7 and have remained active since the declaration of war. They have been reported variously as anti-Semetic, anti-administration and un-American. b3

[redacted]

Some of the persons above described took an active interest in America First prior to its dissolution and following war former members have b3 cited in conjunction with Rule 6(e), Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure attended these meetings. There is no indication that the responsible leaders of America First have given any support to these groups.

The above named individuals and groups have interchanged speakers and memberships and have become rather closely enmeshed in a so-called peace front. Inasmuch as there is no apparent connection between the responsible officials of subject organization and these groups, their activities are not being set forth in detail in this report.

Prior to September 1941 the Lincoln Park Branch, headed by E. T. KIEHL, [redacted] as director and CARL SANDS, Vice-President and HENRY LARSON, Treasurer, was a regularly established branch of the recognized America First Committee. b7C

Because of rational speeches and activities reported concerning this group, the Lincoln Park Branch by letter dated October 9, 1941 over the signature of CLAY JUDSON, National Committee Member, was advised they no longer had authority to use the name "America First" or to hold meetings which appear to be under the auspices of America First. The activities of this group continued and a subsequent letter was written over the signature of T. S. HAMMOND and is set forth as follows:

"Mr. E. H. KIEHL
[redacted]
Chicago, Ill. b7

My dear Mr. KIEHL

"Because of numerous complaints received regarding the activities of certain Chicago Chapters of the America First Committee, I sent, on the fifth of August, a letter to all suggesting procedure that might insure the effectiveness of the America First movement, and at the same time keep it above criticism and reproach.

"We continue to have complaints on the character of the meetings conducted by the Lincoln Park Chapter, of which you are Chairman. Because of this, we must ask that you hold no more meetings, using the name of the America First Committee. We ask that you return to the Chicago

Headquarters such stationery and supplies as have been furnished you, and your membership list.

"Please don't misunderstand me. This is in no way intended as an effort to control your activities. This is a free country and you can do as you please, but I must remind you that the America First Committee is incorporated, and those who wish to use its name must keep within the principles approved by it."

E. H. KIEHL was replaced by ALFRED W. BRUHN as chairman and the Lincoln Park Branch of the America First Committee took out a charter of incorporation in the State of Illinois on July 24, 1941. They have continued to hold meetings up to the present date which have been advertised as meetings of the Lincoln Park Chapter of the America First Committee, Inc.

At one meeting held on March 27, 1942 at Belmont Hall, JOSEPH E. MacWILLIAMS of the Midwest Monetary Federation discussed the formation of an American victory movement.

b7d

[redacted] advised he received the following letter from the Lincoln Park Chapter of America First, Inc.:

"Dear Friend,

"We who worked in America First have a great responsibility. We have a deep underlying philosophy that perhaps can best be expressed in that phrase of Colonel LINDBERG'S, 'an independent American Destiny'. Our fight to prevent America's being involved in foreign war was but one of the great principles for which we were working.

"Deep down in our hearts each of us was hoping to see developed in America a new kind of leadership. We hoped that this leadership would seek to perfect America's economic self-sufficiency. We hoped for instance to see America develop a rubber supply somewhere in the western hemisphere that would assure us tires, regardless of European or Asiatic wars. We hoped to see developed here in the western hemisphere the low grade alloying ores that would assure us steel for peace or war, despite the military adventures of foreign nations, or the whims of international speculators centered in London. We hoped to see American internal economy completely insulated from the international financial manipulators. We hoped to see America protected from the international fold confidence men who have promoted wars and revolutions in Europe for hundreds of years.

"We hoped to see America's vast labor power, directed by our great technical and managerial skill, turned loose upon the tremendous natural wealth of this continent to the end that the century-old American dream of a decent home, security and education for all might be achieved. We know that we cannot forever be pre-occupied with Europe's and Asia's economic wars and still have the time and energy to solve America's own great problems.

"It is clear that we who were in America First had a larger purpose. The fight against participation in the oncoming war was but an incident in the fight for an 'independent American Destiny'.

"Our really great fight is to determine who will be the masters when peace comes. What will be the nature of the coming peace? Will the international-minded, the international gold shysters, the international manipulators, rule America in the coming peace or will America be ruled by Americans in the interest of the American people and of their welfare?

"The 'Union Now' crowd are already making plans for America to support the world. They propose that the American taxpayer be saddled with the cost of rebuilding the whole structure of international finance just as soon as peace comes.

"They have the effrontery and gall to tell you Americans that your standard of living must fall so that you can patch up the world internationalist structure during the coming peace. In other words the living standard of Americans must go down to the standard of the Balkans or India or China.

"Look at your young son or daughter and decide if, besides taking on the tremendous burden of war taxes, you want them and your grandchildren to work and pay confiscatory taxes to the end of their lives, to support the schemes of the 'Union Now' traitors.

"You may not have a right to meet and discuss the war freely, but you have a clear, Constitutional and unassailable legal right to meet and discuss the shape and kind of peace that will follow this war.

"The Communists, The 'Union Now-ers', the internationalists are as busy as ants preparing plans for the peace. If we, the true American patriots, do not come forward with a program, if we do not organize promptly and effectively to assure ourselves the kind of peace we want, then the internationalists will win the peace by default. America will then be theirs for centuries!

"We ask you to help create an American Victory Movement, that will assure us that the sacrifice made and the blood spilled in this war will not result in the loss of the dearly bought and inevitable peace to the dark forces of internationalism.

"We invite you to hear JOSEPH E. McWILLIAMS of the Midwest Monetary Federation discuss the formation of an 'American Victory Movement', on the night of Friday, March 27, 1942, at the Belmont Hall, 3205 N. Clark St., (8 P.M.), "Mr. McWILLIAMS was born in Oklahoma on the Cheyenne-Arapahoe Indian Reservation. When he was six weeks old, his parents moved in a covered wagon to the Panhandle ranch country of Texas. His people had been pioneers for generations. They have fought in every war since and including the American Revolutionary War. At 37, Mr. McWILLIAMS is a veteran in the war now being waged in America to determine whether America is to have an 'independent destiny' or forever be the cat's paw of various international-minded groups and races. Mr. McWILLIAMS is one of the greatest orators in this country. You will hear one of the most inspiring addresses you have ever heard. You will be thrilled by this call to action!

"We urge you to be present (and to bring your friends) the night of Friday, March 27, at 8 P.M., at the Belmont Hall."

[redacted] advised he was a former American Legion member and that he had no idea as to why this group sent him the letter, stating that he was approached sometime in November of 1941 and asked by a woman to come to these meetings but he declined at that time.

b2 b7C

It has been reported by [redacted] that the Lincoln Park Chapter of America First, Inc. has a membership of 9,000 persons in Chicago.

[redacted] advised on April 24, 1942, b2 b7D that ALFRED BRUHN, Chairman of the Lincoln Park Branch stated a mailing list of the combined organizations of the Citizens Committee; We the Mothers Mobilize for America; the former Christopher Columbus Chapter of America First, headed by PETER GREENFIELD; the Oak Street Chapter, headed by NORMAN SANDERS and the Rogers Park Chapter headed by GEORGE A. HELLBERG and two south side chapters of America First had been made available to him "for a good program when the time came". BRUHN further remarked that the above mentioned lists numbered approximately 50,000 of which We the Mothers Mobilize for America, Inc. provided 35,000 and the Christopher Columbus Chapter numbered 4,500. The two south side chapters numbered 14,000 and the Midwest Monetary Federation 15,000. He remarked that the membership list of the Midwest Monetary Federation duplicated the membership list of the Lincoln Park Chapter and the Christopher Columbus Chapter with approximately an addition of 100 persons whose names did not appear on any of the other organizations books. BRUHN stated the Joe McWILLIAMS following of the Christian Mobilizers was more than 50,000 in New York City; that the GERALD L. K. SMITH circulation of the Flag and the Cross numbered approximately 15,000 in the Chicago area and WILLIAM GRASS' Citizens Committee, which BRUHN was advised was predominate, had numbered about 3,000.

All of these organizations, BRUHN is reported to have said, duplicated the membership of each other so that persons on one mailing list also received mail and literature from the other groups.

BRUHN has indicated his desire [redacted] to weld the b2 b7D remaining groups into one organization and he has said he could get the backing for a newspaper or a news letter which he intended calling "The Lindberg Beacon, the purpose of which would be to give news of the various peace organizations and their accomplishments. He said there were a number of well-to-do businessmen in Chicago who would contribute money to a paper of this type. He mentioned three such individuals as being [redacted] was said to have contributed to America First and is interested in contributing to other organizations who are still active. b7

BRUHN mentioned [redacted] who was interested in an organization headed by MARGARET RUSSELL known as the Womens White Army and an individual named [redacted] who formerly contributed to America First and who financially supported the Lincoln Park Chapter.

[redacted] advised that BRUHN has indicated that "strong popular movement" which he has been endeavoring to get up, would coordinate all peace groups in Chicago each with a definite roll. He indicated fifteen of the old chapters of the America First have expressed themselves as willing to go on. He stated the purpose and aim of the peace groups would be "to form a third party" possibly under the help of the Lindberg Party which would advocate an impeachment of the President and for a new administration. b2 b7D

BRUHN further outlined the purposes as follows, "A work towards a negotiated peace by encouraging and stirring up a feeling of the people towards this end. To keep the people informed for a strong organized propaganda. Bring the money situation to the attention of the people and create the distrust of the money system, especially the Federal Reserve Bank, which, he is alleged to have said, is privately owned by a group of international bankers.

[redacted] advised the planned organization of the peace groups by BRUHN has failed to materialize and at several of the meetings held by BRUHN less than 50 people have attended. b1

ALFRED WILLIAM BRUHN, 1710 North Rockwell Street, is described as follows:

Age	55
Height	5'11"
Weight	140
Hair	Gray
Eyes	Blue
Face	Thin

He is employed as the exposition manager of the American Health Food Association, 32 North State Street. BRUHN was born in Wittenberg, Wisconsin and has been closely associated with United States Senator GERALD P. NYE, with whom he has been corresponding.

NORMAN SAUNDERS, formerly a speaker for America First and listed on the report of the Speakers Bureau as having addressed twenty-three meetings of the Chicago Chapter has been reported as active with BRUHN and is endeavoring to form a peace group in Chicago. On April 11, 1942, he addressed the Patrick Henry Forum after he was introducted by MARTIN J. HIGGINS, Director of the Patrick Henry Forum as one of the chief lecturers and organizers for America First.

[redacted] advised SAUNDERS was quiet spoken and careful in his remarks, but stated "the people have been inadequate by not demonstrating their inalienable rights in removing a President who has a long record of violations of the Constitution.

Further investigation will be conducted to ascertain if the membership lists of the former America First are being made available to any of the above named persons active in the peace front following the declaration of war.

b7c

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent [redacted] made at New York City May 13, 1942 in instant case. Reference report sets forth the activities of HORACE J. HAASE of the Brooklyn Chapter, America First.

b2
b7

[redacted] furnished photostatic copy of a mimeographed sheet dated March 9, 1942 which is set forth as follows:

"TO MY FRIENDS WHO WERE FORMERLY MEMBERS OF AMERICA FIRST

"It being impossible for me to write each of you a personal letter will you please accept in its place the enclosed mimeographed announcement of a new organization I hope you will join and support.

"We opposed the war because of what it would do to our beloved country. We must work for PEACE now in order that war and the results of war will not fulfil our predictions.

"PLEASE SEND US THE NAMES OF OTHERS WHO ARE OR MIGHT BE INTERESTED. Will you organize in your neighborhood? Can you suggest someone who might?

"Something about the temporary chairman of AMERICANS FOR PEACE

"HORACE J. HAASE was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. of American parents on Jan. 4th, 1909. He has spent the last seven years studying America's economic and social problems. He is the author of THE ECONOMIC DEMOCRACY and is now working on a 700 page book laying down the basis for a just and lasting peace. He taught economics for several years, was Director of a School and has lectured on subjects ranging from Religion to politics. He treats all these things from the Economic angle.

"When THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE Was organized he joined the New York Chapter and lectured or soap-boxed, as opportunity offered, until the Committee was disbanded on Dec. 12th. For the last four months he was Chairman of the Speakers Bureau of the Brooklyn Chapter.

"He has now resigned as associate editor of a New Jersey newspaper in order to organize a committee with PEACE AS ITS FIRST OBJECTIVE. He has done so because he found that most other peace organizations have other objectives which they put first.

"Fellow American:

"Whether you WISH IT or NOT -- your tax-contributions are financing world-wide death and destruction. What are you doing for PEACE and FREEDOM?

"A few short months ago many of us were laboring to keep peace and to promote freedom. We were deeply and sincerely concerned about the future of our country. We knew that the entry of our country into the war would mean the sacrifice of American lives all over the world, the lowering of our standard of living, the building up of a debt that would destroy our economic freedom and the impoverishment of future generations. We knew that during the war the Bureaucrats and Communists in Washington would make us more nearly totalitarian and we knew that the only reward we would get out of victory would be the privilege of upholding the British Empire and of forcing our joint domination upon the world 'for a hundred years' (to quote Mr. KNOX). For these reasons we opposed the war at every opportunity throughout the land. BUT IF THESE THINGS WERE TRUE THEN when we were talking of POTENTIAL dangers, THEY ARE EVEN TRUER TO-DAY WHEN THESE SAME DANGERS ARE UPON US.

"Such being the case, if our concern is really for America, we have a duty to perform -- a duty to ourselves, to our children and to coming generations. That duty is to do all we can to put an end to this threat to American Democracy -- to advocate the EARLIEST POSSIBLE JUST PEACE. Such a peace is the only hope for preserving our way of life.

"Some of us, in the days before Pearl Harbor, advocated a negotiated peace -- a peace in which both sides would have a say and BOTH SIDES would have to make concessions. We declared that only such a peace could hope to last. IF THAT WAS TRUE THEN, IT IS JUST AS TRUE NOW. The only possible lasting peace is one in which neither side forces its will upon the other -- a peace without victory. Such is the peace plan we must advocate with all our power and strength. And we must do it NOW.

"Before the war our peace program was unpopular. It still is, but I firmly believe that THE MAJORITY OF AMERICANS STILL WANT A JUST PEACE and OPPOSE WORLD DOMINATION EITHER BY BRITAIN, THE UNITED STATES OR BOTH.

"THESE ARE THE TIMES when REAL PATRIOTIC AMERICANS look to the WELFARE OF THEIR COUNTRY and not to the popularity of their cause. WE DID NOT LACK COURAGE OR CANDOR BEFORE. WE MUST NOT LACK THEM NOW -- WE MUST NOT FAIL AMERICA-- WE MUST NOT FAIL OURSELVES-- WE MUST NOT FAIL TRUTH AND JUSTICE. 'Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it', (LINCOLN)

"DO SOMETHING FOR PEACE TO-DAY. DO IT NOW JOIN, AMERICANS FOR PEACE and send your contribution to help mail millions of these letters all over the country. Let 'UNITY FOR PEACE' be our slogan. United we can win.

"AMERICANS FOR PEACE Room 203, 1165 Bway, N.Y.C. H. J. HAASE, Act. Exec. Chm."

[redacted] advised HORACE J. HAASE had written to Senator GERALD P. NYE and that in answer to this communication HAASE received the following letter from GERALD P. NYE:

"Of course if you are coming this way I shall want to see you, and when you get here you need only to telephone me and let me know of your presence whereon we can fix a time that would be convenient for a good visit.

"I shared with you that concern expressed concerning the folding up of the America First Committee, but the more I weigh the matter the more I come to believe that it was wise to pursue the course that was pursued. But that does not right off the desperate need that will prevail for such a committee as it to function again, and I am satisfied that at the ripe time there can be a rebirth that will be in the full and complete interest of America. Increasing are the challenges to Americans as relates to the inefficient conduct of the war, the issue of civilian defense, the planning for the future, and especially the Union Now challenge which is growing.

"In some respects this Union Now play is not short of high treason, and growing sentiment is in evidence. What we need right now is patience lest we move too soon and before there is sufficient understanding with a loyal opposition organization through the country. But we can talk more about this when I see you."

Concerning this communication addressed to H. J. HAASE, [redacted] advised the person who had furnished him the letter had sent along with it the following observations, "In my opinion this is a most significant document. It reaffirms in our minds the fear that the top leaders of the old America First Committee never sincerely liquidated the committee. Their intention was to permit it to lie dormant until the 'proper time'. H. J. HAASE is a nickle and dime stumble bum and at the same time is a member of many small group leaders from which can be recreated the old National American Committee. For this reason NYE is very nice to him in this letter."

[redacted] advised that [redacted], had furnished the following information concerning the organization, "Gifts For our Boys":

"This organization, which has its office at 150 Broadway and its 'headquarters for gifts' in Room 11M at the Plaza Hotel, 5th Ave. and 58th St., N.Y.C., is an offspring of the America First Committee. The wealthier fascist elements formerly active in the America First Committee, metropolitan area, are tied up with this group. Its purpose, you will note from the annexed photostats, is to raise money to be given to men in our armed forces so that they may, at times of furlough, make trips home that they otherwise could not afford, etc. At least, that is its ostensible purpose. However, the personalities active in the group, and statements by the participants that 'this is a darned clever way to keep the America First Committee organized and intact, so that when the time comes all will be in readiness to act', reveal the true reasons for the creation of the organization. Mr. and Mrs. NORMAN HOLMES apparently were the sponsors of this 'tea' meeting. They also attended the now infamous Elizabeth Dilling dinner at 77 Park Ave., last summer.

"Others present were Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES WIXDORFF (America First & Women United)
Mrs. THELMA HERRICK (Women United)
JOHN BURKE (America First speaker)
SCOVILLE HANLIN (America First speaker)
Mrs. IDEL COOPER (Women United - Representative of Eliz. Dilling)
Mrs. LESTER ALLEN (formerly American Nationalist Party and close to McWILLIAMS)
Mrs. McCOY
Mrs. E. BENNETT (America First)

"This 'tea' meeting was arranged in a hurry because the elements active in it were anxious to sabotage the efforts of the ED FLYNN - PALMER crowd of America Firsters who are reported to be organizing a committee of their own. Of course, it is too early in the game to be able to delineate clearly the forces at work. This GOB group undoubtedly consists of the rotten part of the old AFC. If it does nothing else, it will probably succeed in contacting army and navy men and eventually will try to propagandize the boys while assisting them."

It was indicated that [redacted] had considerable information pertaining to the activities of former leaders of subject organization and that he would be cooperative and furnish them to this Bureau.

[redacted] furnished a clipping from the Jewish Transcript published at Seattle, Washington, dated January 9, 1942 under the headline "America First Mailing Lists being used by Our Enemies." The clipping is not being set out in full but contains the charge that the Non-Sectarian, anti-Nazi League had charged that mailing lists of the recently dissolved America First are still being used by some individuals and groups to lay a ground work for future guerrilla conflict on the propaganda front in America. The Sectarian League was indicated to be in possession of copies of a Christmas greeting folder printed with the signature of the Loyal Copperheads of America, headed by a former active America First worker. The folder was sent during the first few days of December as a Christmas greeting to former active members of the America First Committee in New York and was revealed that persons receiving the folder had been active in America First although never had been active in the Copperheads League.

[redacted] further furnished a copy of a confidential report which he had received from New York City pertaining to the Brooklyn Chapter of America First:

"HORACE J. HAASE took over (very much unofficially) the forces of the dissolved Brooklyn chapter of America First, replacing WILLIAM LEONARD who resigned even before the national executive committee of AF disbanded the entire organization. HAASE is an amateur economist who wrote a book called The Economic Democracy (Tremaine & Company). He belongs to the radical Fascist wing of America First. His line, now expressed only privately, is in favor of a revolution. 'This is not our war,' he says, 'Impeach the President.' One of his closest friends in the Brooklyn America-First group is THURMAN BLACKWOOD, a thoroughly seditious young man who belongs to several secret organizations.

"According to HAASE, he (HAASE) had a talk with ED WEBSTER of the New York America-First crowd, and WEBSTER had said to him: 'HERBERT HOOVER has always been a close collaborator of America First and has advised me (WEBSTER) to keep the organization (AF) inactive for a while and to come out with a new program later on.' WEBSTER said further: 'LINDBERGH also wants to carry on the fight against "'the Communists in Washington,'" and in a few months intends to come out openly for the organization.'

"HAASE also tells his friends that he is in touch with HOOVER'S assistants on HOOVER'S Relief Committee, and they tell him that HOOVER and they will help the AF forces to keep afloat because 'there is so much dirt in Washington, and the Administration is fighting them (HOOVER men) with such vicious methods.'

"Incidentally, HAASE is the man who went to the parents of victims of the Reuben James and got them to sign statements that they did not 'intend that their sons should die in President Roosevelt's private war on convoy duty to the English.'

"It is the same HAASE who quite recently boasted of having 'a girl friend working in the Ministry for British War Transfers as a shipping clerk and she can give us important information.'

"There are a number in the Brooklyn America-First gang who have promised HAASE to carry on their 'patriotic' work. Among those are Mrs. EVA PORTER, Mrs. HALLIE OLSEN, who is very Irish, very anti-ROOSEVELT and anti-British, THURMAN BLACKWOOD, and others. Captain GEORGE SMITH made a point of telephoning HAASE that he would be glad to help his pal (HAASE).

"The Brooklyn chapter of AF had a membership list of 80,000. No one seems to know what happened to that list after LEONARD pulled out. HAASE has been looking for the list, and may have found at least part of it."

b7D

[redacted] advised he had been informed the Wakefield Chapter of the North Bronx Unit of the America First Committee, New York City was still meeting regularly as of February 6, 1942. It was reported that meetings were held in the homes of certain of the members. He advised he had no further information pertaining to the activities of the former chapters of the America First Committee in New York City but that he was aware of the organization known as Gifts for our Boys and Salute our Men. He advised should any information come to him concerning these groups which he stated grew out of America First, he would furnish it to this office.

b7?

[redacted] advised he received a communication from New York City to the effect that [redacted], whom he described as one of the more active appeasers in the Metropolitan area, had been notifying friends in the ranks of the America First Committee that the America First groups in New Jersey are now organizing very strongly, particularly in Newark.

This communication dated January 27, 1942, further remarked that Mrs. CARROLL, who led the Jersey City Chapter of the America First Committee, is still organizing and that apparently the Jersey groups are looking for a large national group with which to merge.

He was also a frequent speaker at meetings of the German-American Bund in 1939 and 1940.

LOHER also made the statement, relative to President ROOSEVELT prior to one of the president's speeches, "Well, what is the damn fool going to talk about tonight?" His wife replied, "What is the difference? Lindbergh will be on later." LOHER was also reported as being a draft evader in World War I.

ACTIVITIES

The America First Committee of Northern California published a weekly newspaper entirled "The Herald." A Mr. LORRIN L. MORRISON was editor, and Mrs. THOMAS B. DOYLE was associate editor. This paper was published at 507 Mason Street, San Francisco. There is no evidence of this newspaper being distributed since the United States entered the war in December, 1941.

Various mass meetings were held at San Francisco and Oakland. Following is the list of the prominent speakers who took part: SENATOR D. WORTH CLARK, CHARLES A. LINDBERGH, Senator BURTON K. WHEELER, KATHLEEN NORRIS, JOHN J. TWOHY, Dr. DONALD S. McKAY, Professor of philosophy, University of California, who is also chairman of the Berkeley Chapter of the America First Committee, and Senator RUSH D. HOLT.

NAZI-FASCIST INFILTRATION IN THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE

As was stated above in the report, several prominent "American-Fascists" were active in the organization. Those were [redacted] b7

The chapter known as the William Paca Chapter, which met in the North Beach district of San Francisco, was composed almost entirely of Italian members. The membership of this chapter numbered over two hundred. Information was received from [redacted] that evidence of Italian Fascist infiltration into the America First Committee has been established at the William Paca Chapter and the Burton K. Wheeler Chapter, San Francisco. Chapters predominantly Italian have been addressed by individuals prominent in the Italian-American colony in San Francisco. RENZO TURCC was a frequent speaker and was reported to be a leading figure at a ball which was held under the auspices of the San Jose Chapter of the Italian War Veterans. TURCC was also reported to be a member of the Order of Sons of Italy and to have attended a bund meeting on May 30, 1938. b6 b6

Shortly after the outbreak of war in December, 1941, approximately two thousand application cards for membership in the America First Committee were obtained by this office from [redacted] An examination was made of these application cards and in sorting them out it was ascertained that 682 b6 b6 individuals who had made application had German names. In breaking down these 682 names, it was determined that seventy of them are subjects of Internal Security investigations conducted by the San Francisco office. These application cards were not dated, but it is apparent that the applications were made prior to the time that SAMUEL L. BROGDEN, who was Regional Director of the organization, left the America First Committee in the latter part of May, 1941.

L. BROGLEN, Director of Organization. The letter is as follows: "The time is short, the need of funds is probably great and urgent - therefore I am enclosing a personal check of [redacted] in response to your letter of April 2nd towards the specific needs mentioned in your letter. The mass meeting I thought encouraging to a cause that has such an uphill struggle. Signed, Yours truly, [redacted] Information was also received that [redacted] submitted a check of [redacted] at a subsequent date. ACTIVITIES SINCE DECEMBER 7, 1941

The following information was received from [redacted] on March 28, 1942: "Answering your inquiry as to underground activity of America First groups and leaders since Pearl Harbor, I submit the following information which is the last report I have had regarding the America First Committee.

"On December 10, 1941, Mrs. GEORGE BUSH, active in America First, called at the "No Foreign War Coalition" headquarters and announced that the meeting of the America First Executive Committee had been called off but that the Benjamin Franklin Chapter of America First had met Tuesday night, December 9, 1941, with about forty members present. FRANK McGRATH, Chairman of that chapter, asked that the members take a standing vote on their desires as to future activity. The three alternative policies on which the membership was asked to base its future were:(1) to dissolve entirely; this was voted down; (2) to support the war against Japan but otherwise object to war against other foreign nations; only one-third of the membership supported this plan; (3) to remain dormant for the duration; two-thirds voted yes.

"McGRATH then suggested that the officers of the chapter meet once a month or so and that any of the members who wished to join them at lunch or dinner "in a purely social way" might also attend. It was pointed out that this would have to be done in a private fashion and not as an organization. McGRATH said further that while the members could not carry on and work as an organization, they could still, as individuals, express their opinions on the progress of world affairs and better keep in touch with affairs. This was agreed upon, all of those present being favorable to plan."

[redacted] was contacted subsequent to this time but was unable to furnish any more information concerning any activities of the America First Committee.

[redacted] who formerly reported activities regarding the America First in the San Francisco area, advised that no information had come to him that the America First was engaged in any activitiy since the organization closed in December.

Various individuals who had in the past reported receiving America First literature were contacted, but all advised that they had received no literature from the organization since December 7, 1941.

[redacted] San Francisco, who resigned from the America First group about August, 1941, was contacted by the writer. [redacted] had formerly reported to this office activities in the William Paca Chapter of the organization. She advised that to her knowledge the America First Committee had held a meeting in one of the hotels in San Francisco, which was in the form of a social. At this time a vote was taken as to future activities of the group and the vote resulted in "remaining dormant for the duration and ceasing all activity at the present but not disbanding entirely."

THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE WANTS TO SAVE FREEDOM AND DEMOCRACY IN AMERICA.

AMERICA FIRST stands for an impregnable national defense. It is opposed to going into the European war WITH or WITHOUT a declaration of war. We heartily approve of all possible aid to Britain as allowed by the JOHNSON and NEUTRALITY ACTS; but we oppose being eased into the war.

AMERICA FIRST, THEREFORE, is opposed to the WAR DICTATORSHIP BILL H.R. 1776 because this bill will take out of the hands of the people and Congre the decision of going into or staying out of the war. It will be that de cision in the hands of one man.

YOU ARE NOT HELPLESS—
HERE IS WHAT YOU CAN DO:

1. WRITE, TELEPHONE OR TELEGRAPH TODAY TO THE PRESIDENT, YOUR TWO SENATO YOUR CONGRESSMAN PROTECTING AGAINST THE WAR DICTATORSHIP BILL H.R. 1776 AND AGAINST SENDING AMERICAN SHIPS INTO THE WAR ZONES.

"Debate between Congressman HAMILTON FISH, Jr. of New York and Mayo ADAMS SHATTUCK of Boston, Mass., on "WHAT SHALL AMERICA DO IN THE PRESENT EMERGENCY".

An audience of about 700 persons heard the above Subject Debate in the Hartford High School, Hartford, Connecticut on April 15, 1941, repeatedly breaking into applause, boos and murmurs, and occasionally stamping oft feet. Its most prolonged outburst was when Mr. SHATTUCK, New England chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, asserted that "we must decide whether we're in or out." "Out of it!" a large section of the crowd yelled. The outc was so sustained that chairman of the meeting rose and declared that he thought "this was a democratic meeting," and Mr. SHATTUCK invited anyone who so desired to come up on the stage and speak. Mr. gallery gave Mr. SHATTUCK considerable applause, but when Representative Fish advocated "aid to Britain short of war and consistent with our own defense," he received a tremendous ovation, and whe he mentioned the last war which "we fought to make the world safe for democracy he was greeted with laughter.

There was applause for Mr. FISH whenever he asserted that "we must keep America out of war" and he asserted this many times. He said that American is faced with its greatest issue, the issue of peace or war, and he declared that convoy mean war. He scored the attitude of those who have "one chip on each shoulder and one on the tops of their heads and go out looking for war," and, remarking that the10 or 15 per cent of the people who want to go to war are entitled to their opinions, asked "How about the other 85 per cent."

An article dated May 27, 1941, announced that t Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall in Pittsburgh was obtained by the Americ First Committee for the "Senator BERTON K. WHEELER Mass Meeting" to be held

June 5, 1941. The announcement was made by JOHN B. GOR-DON is quoted as saying, "This action (meaning the permission to have the meeting in this particular hall) compares very favorably with the action taken in Phila-delphia when LINDBERGH was refused permission to speak in the Academy of Music Hall on the grounds that Communists, Nazis, etc., might be present to hear him." MADDEN stated in the article that WRIGHT is listed as a Communist in the American Legion book of Isms and he further stated that WRIGHT was prevented at the time he gave his lecture from distributing propaganda concerning "New America" by Mrs. RALPH ORD, the County Council Chaplain. The article went on to state that another protest against the use of the hall by Senator WHEELER came from Dr. H. BOYD EDWARDS, rector of the Church of the Ascension, and also chairman of the Pittsburgh chapter of the Federal Union of Democracy. Pittsburgh file 100-1259

An article dated June 6, 1941 carried an extensive story concerning the meeting held the night before. It stated partly as follows: "Senator Burton K. Wheeler, decrying this nation's sacrifices for Great Britain while 'American children die of maltrition', called on the United States to stay out of war unless the defense of this homeland became involved." The article stated that SENATOR WHEELER brought repeated cheers from a throng of over four thousand people. It further described an incident in which, after an ovation of several minutes in honor of BURTON WHEELER, one Mrs. GRACE EWART, of 2506 Kingwood Street, Overbrook, Pa., stood up and shouted: "The going must be tough if you have to lameduck your way into the Communist Party." After this, several people in the audience yelled: "Throw her out." On one further occasion, when BURTON K. WHEELER said: "The modern Benedict Arnold.....", JAMES EWART, the son of the woman just mentioned, stated before WHEELER could go on: "is Burton K. Wheeler". The article went on to state that a welcoming speech for Senator WHEELER was given by CHARLES A. MADDEN, Secretary of the Board of Managers of Memorial Hall, who said in his speech: "Let there be no more gold star mothers in the United States unless they are defending the shores of the United States and its possessions."

An article dated July 3, 1941 announced that SENATOR DAVID R. REED in an interview made the statement that any claim that the United States would be economically isolated in event of a Hitler victory is nonsense. He said: "Our world trade is not dependent on who likes or dislikes us. It is a matter of business and economic necessity."

An article of July 13, 1941 stated that the America First Committee was circulating petitions for a referendum on whether or not this country would enter war.

An article of July 13, 1941 printed a statement of JOHN B. GORDON, Executive Vice Chairman of the America First Committee of Pittsburg to the effect that the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies has for its purpose the United States' entrance into war. The article quotes GORDON as follows: "The Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies now wishes to be known as the Committee to Defend America. It is understandable why they want to drop the 'Aiding the Allies' now that Russia is one of them. Why they wish to be known as the Committee to Defend America is not so plain. They approve the seizure of Iceland and will approve American bases in Ireland and Scotland. What they want is war and not defense."

An article dated July 17, 1941 states that the America First Committee was denied a permit to use a sound truck for the purpose of advertising its third mass rally to be held on July 18, 1941. According to the article, JOHN B. GORDON made the statement that the Mayor was too busy to see him regarding the failure of the Police Department to give him permission to use a sound truck.

An article of July 18, 1941 stated that STEPHEN A. DAI, one of the outstanding opponents of "Union Now", was the principal speaker at a rally of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the America First Committee held at the North Side Carnegie Hall on July 18, 1941. It is noted that this rally was very little publicized in comparison to previous rallies.

An article dated July 20, 1941 stated that JOHN B. GORDON made a public denial of accusations that at the meeting of July 18, 1941 calls of "impeach Roosevelt" were made at the America First rally. He stated that if such remarks were heard, they were individual remarks and did not express the sentiment of the America First Committee.

An article dated August 12, 1941 stated that more than a dozen Pittsburgh mothers were in Washington on that date to picket the Capitol in an attempt to block the passage by the house of representatives of a draft extension. The article stated that the drive on Washington broke out spontaneously at an America First Committee meeting the night before, according to K. D. MAGRUDER, Secretary of the Committee.

An article dated August 17, 1941 quoted JOHN B. GORDON as stating that the America First Committee in Pittsburgh had at that time more than 11,000 members in Pittsburgh. GORDON gave as the reason for the rapid increase in membership the Committee's fight for a referendum on peace or war.

An article of September 16, 1941 told of the resignation from the America First Committee of EMANUEL AMDUR, who had been a member of t Advisory Board of the Committee. AMDUR's reason for resigning was the anti-Semitic speech of CHARLES LINDBERG given a few days before at Des Moines, Iow

An article dated September 28, 1941 stated that the America First Committee had released for publication a letter that it had addressed to Mayor Scully of Pittsburgh asking him that he proclaim October 6 as "America For Peace Day", since he had previously proclaimed June 25th as "Freedom Rally Day". On June 25th, it is to be noted that Colonel WILLIAM DONOVAN gave a speech at the Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh sponsored by the Fight For Freedom Committee and the Mayor introduced DONOVAN at this occasion and proclaimed that day as "Freedom Rally Day". Reminding the Mayor of this proclamation, the America First Committee asked that he proclaim the day of their next mass rally as "America For Peace Day".

The article went on to state that Mayor SCULLY refused to honor the request made in this letter and did not even answer it.

An article dated October 3, 1941 states that in view of the refusal of the Mayor to announce October 6th as "America For Peace Day", JOHN B. GORDON announced that the Committee itself would proclaim this day as "America For Peace Day".

An article dated October 4, 1941 announced that SAMUEL HARDEN CHURCH made an announcement that he would only approve the use of the Carnegie Music Hall in Pittsburgh for the meeting of the America First Committe on October 6th if Colonel CHARLES LINDBERG would agree not to come to Pittsburg and speak. CHURCH announced that if LINDBERG were coming to speak, the permiss to hold the meeting at Carnegie Music Hall would not be given.

An article dated October 4, 1941 announced that Reverend CARL H. VOSS denounced Colonel LINDBERG and the America First Committee, charg them with spreading the virus of race hatred in a letter released to his congregation.

An article dated October 5, 1941 gave a public denouncem by SENATOR DAVID A. REED, who lashed at Reverend CARL H. VOSS' remarks of a f days before about religion in Russia. Senator REED called upon Americans to repudiate all attempts to Stalinize or Hitlerize our constitution.

An article dated October 5, 1941 carried a public announc ment by JOHN B. GORDON of the America First Committee branding as libel the letter of Reverend C. H. VOSS and claimed that the America First Committee is not against any race.

An article dated October 6, 1941 announced a public mass meeting and a parade on October 6, 1941 by the America First Committee. It noted that this is the fourth mass rally of the Committee in Pittsburgh.

An article dated October 7, 1941 gave a several column account of the public mass meeting of the America First Committee at Carnegie Music Hall on the night before. It stated that more than 2,000 people cheered Senator BENNETT CHAMP CLARK's attack on war. Much of the discussion was giv to a description of how the EWART family for the second time heckled the America First meeting. The EWART family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. EWART and their son JAMES, continually heckled the speakers at this meeting.

An article dated October 8, 1941 told of the America First Committee's action in sending a record containing speeches in favor of America First policy to the EWART family, so that they would be able to heckle America First speeches without being rude to Senators of the United States.

An article dated October 11, 1941 carried a denial by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies of any part of the action of the EWART family in heckling America First Committee meetings.

An article dated October 16, 1941 announced that the America First Committee had made additions to its Advisory Board as follows:

GEORGE F. OTTO
R. A. MacDOWELL
Mrs. DRATON HEARD
Mrs. J. SCOTT THORNTON

An article dated October 16, 1941 announced that two America First branch meetings had been scheduled in the Pittsburgh District for that day. One of these was held in East Carnegie in Republican Hall. It announced that Reverend THOMAS R. MURPHY of St. Canice's Church gave the invocation and that the speakers were:

K. D. MACRUDER
CHARLES A. MADDEN
16-year-old DON McCORNICK
Reverend Dr. HODGE M. EAGLESON

The other meeting, according to this article, was held at the home of Mrs. ELIZABETH J. MILLER of 130 Third Street, Aspinwall, Pa. The speaker at this meeting was CHARLES SNYDER, who, according to the article, organized the America First Chapter at Wheaton College.

The article further stated that CHARLES MADDEN had addressed an America First group, who met at the home of Mrs. MARK CAMPBELL of Glasgow Road, Valencia, Pa.

An article dated October 23, 1941 announced that KENNETH D. MAGRUDER, Former Secretary of the America First Committee in Pittsburgh, made the assertion that he was quitting the America First Committee because of the fact that JOHN B. GORDON tried to act as too much of a dictator. The arti stated that MAGRUDER was a charter member of the America First Committee in Pittsburgh and that he and other persons who had become disgruntled with the leadership of the America First Committee had decided to leave the Committee and had threatened to rally the disgruntled elements into a rival society. This article stated that MAGRUDER resides at 5562 Hobart Street. It quoted MAGRUDER as saying: "There has been trouble from the start. We have looked on this as a people's government. With Gordon it has been a closed corporati The article further said that MAGRUDER made the statement that GORDON tried t prevent meetings of the Committee's organizers and tried to invoke regulation in a constitution which had never been ratified by the members. The same article gave JOHN B. GORDON's reply to these charges made by MAGRUDER. GORDO stated that the issue was not dictatorship on his part but that certain eleme were not permitted by him to bring anti-Semitic, anti-British and anti-gold standard views before the public in the name of the America First Committee, since these sentiments were not an official part of the program of the Americ First Committee. JOHN GORDON made the further statement that the America Firs Committee would be refreshed by the departure of the elements that tend to give the Committee a black eye. GORDON was supported by CLAY PUGH, a member of the National Office of the America First Committee, who said in a letter to MAGRUD "The large Monday night meetings are to be discontinued. At your next Monday meeting on October 20th you are to instruct this group that there will be no more assemblages of this sort." In the same letter PUGH indicated, according to the report, that there were other issues involved and the letter went on to say: "You know that we will not permit membership of Nazis, Bundists, Fascis or Communists in this organization." The article went on to state that MAGRUD had said that he did not know when or where he would hold the first rally of his new organization. He said that it would depend upon conversations he wou have with some of his friends. The article went on to state that JOHN B. GOR said that MAGRUDER's group represented onlyabout 3/10 of one per cent of the membership of the America First Committee.

An article dated October 24, 1941 carried a release by t America First Committee which challenged the "Fight For Freedom Committee" to introduce a declaration of war resolution into Congress and see what woul happen to it.

An article dated October 25, 1941 carried an answer by K. D. MAGRUDER to the charges made by JOHN.B. GORDON and CLAY PUGH against h when he split with the America First Committee. MAGRUDER stated that he did not know of anyone in his group who had been a Townsendite. It is noted that among the charges of GORDON was the charge that Townsend Plan propaganda was being spread by the Magruder group. Concerning PUGH, MAGRUDER said: "To me, Mr. PUGH said that nobody could be a good American without being pro-British and that anybody not pro-British must be pro-Nazi."

An article dated November 3, 1941 compared the activities of the two committees in Pittsburgh, namely the America First Committee and "The Committee for America Only", the latter of which had been established by K. D. MAGRUDER after he had split with the America First Committee. This article said: "Divided as to methods but united as to objectives, the Americ First Committee and the Committee for America Only both fought against repeal of the Neutrality Act today. The America First Committee, led by J. B. GORDO took the moderate measure of presenting a petition signed by 4,171 persons t Senators NYE and WHEELER. The Committee for America Only, favoring more energetic methods, heard its leaders, WILLIAM H. WEIR, JR., and KENNETH D. MAGRUDER, advocate a march on the capital in Washington, 'to put the fear o God into the Representatives'". The same article went on to state that an America First national meeting had been held in Washington and had been attended by the following persons from Pittsburgh:

Dr. JOHN W. BRANDT
M. E. ARMBRUSTER, Secretary (apparently ARMBRUSTER replaced K. D. MAGRU as Secretary of the America Firs Committee)
Attorney CRAIG T. WOOD

An article dated November 14, 1941 announced that GORDON spoke on November 13, 1941 at an America First meeting at Spring School at Allentown, Pa., at which he said that the real purpose of the Neutrality Act rescission was to get America into war.

An article dated December 5, 1941 stated that Senator NYE, C. HALE SIPE and IRENE CASTLE McLAUGHLIN would speak at an America First Rally on December 7.

No further information was contained in the morgue of the Sun Telegraph. Continued activities of the America First Committee, however, were reported as follows in the other Pittsburgh newspapers.

An article in the Pittsburgh Post Gazette, dated December 4, 1941 announced that Senator NYE would talk to the America First Committee, with "Christianity and Intervention" as the theme of the meeting. It announced that this meeting would take place at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall in Oakland on Sunday afternoon, December 7. The article went on to quote JOHN B. GORDON as saying: "The American people are not going to war unless they are convinced it is their duty to God and country. Therefore, we have selected an appropriate theme for our Sunday meeting. The American people will not plunge the world into a blood bath over tin mines in the Orient or rubber plantations in some obscure jungle. All the double-talk and power politics of all the interventionists will not change the fact that we are wiser now than we were in 1917."

An article in the Pittsburgh Post Gazette, dated December 8, 1941 carried a full account of the last of the open rallies held by the Americ First Committee in Pittsburgh. The article stated that approximately 2500 Pittsburgh people sat in the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall for two and one-half turbulent hours before their leaders, headed by Senator GERALD P. NYE, told them about the war with Japan. The article went on to state that during Senator NYE'S anti-war speech, a reporter silently approached the stage and placed a note on the rostrum before him, telling him of the attack on Pearl Harbor. The article stated that Senator NYE kept on talking for over fifteen minutes before he gave the news to the people in attendance, and when he did so, stated that he could hardly believe the news. When it was evident that the news was true he said "If Congress were to declare war, I am sure that every America Firs would be cooperating and supporting his government in the winning of thatwar, in every way possible, but I should not expect them to disband, even if Congress de clares war. At this meeting the EWART family, mentioned before, appeared for th third time, to heckle the America Firsters, and almost caused a riot. Several o the America Firsters attempted to give the son of the EWARTS a physical beating when he ran up on the stage and grabbed the microphone out of the hands of the speaker.

During a speech by Senator C. HALE SIPE, Colonel ENRIQUE URRUTRIA, white-haired Chief of the Second Military Area, of the Organized Reserves, jumped from his aisle seat, well back in the auditorium and yelled out "Can this meeting be called after what has happened in the last few hours? Do you know that Japan has attacked Hawaii?" Cries of "Throw him out, throw him o were heard all through the aisles. The Colonel then left the hall under a police guard, and after he left, Senator SIPE said "Don't be too hard on this poor bombastic man. He is only a mouthpiece for FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT - only another sounding board for the war mongers."

This newspaper clipping is being retained in the Pittsburgh file.

Later in the evening, Senator NYE gave another speech before the First Baptist Church in Pittsburgh. In his speech he said: "There is nothing Americans can do but accept the challenge and move forward with American lives, blood and money to the protection of our people and possessions in the Pacific." He said further: "There is nothing to do but declare war."

In the Pittsburgh Post Gazette on December 9, 1941, there was an article entitled "America First Unit Bows Out of Picture." This article stated that in a record twelve minute session, the Advisory Board of the Pittsburgh America First Chapter on the evening of December 8, 1941, formally dissolv and the 15,000 members it claimed were pledged "To unity of support of the govern ment in the prosecution of the war." The Board, with fifteen members attending, voted unanimously to dissolve, after the reading of a resolution introduced by Senator DAVID A. REED, Honorary Chairman. Senator REED told the board he had "no apologies for trying to keep his nation at peace." "There is nothing for us to do", he claimed, "but our American duty now that the Japanese have started the war." According to the article, dismantling of the headquarters of the America First Committee at 629 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, started as early as the morning of December 8, 1941, according to Executive Chairman, JOHN B. GORDON.

No further newspaper history is contained regarding the subject organization.

The writer further observed a letter written to the Nations Headquarters of the America First Committee and dated February 6, 1942 in which was enclosed a check for $447.00, the balance of the money left over in the Pitt burgh Chapter Treasury, in which was enclosed also, the complete membership list of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Committee, and in which a statement was made that the Pittsburgh Committee thereby had wound up all its affairs, and from that time on would cease to engage in any activities.

[redacted] advised that there really had been no activity after December 8, when the Committee officially disbanded, except the paying of bills and the clearing up of certain financial obligations, which the Committee had.

[redacted] advised that he was and would be unable to supply [redacted] and did not intend to engage any further in any of the activities of the America First Committee. He stated that to his knowledge, this was the sentiment of all the members of the America First Committee in Pittsburgh, and that he had no knowledge of any activity whatsoever, since the official disbandment of the Committee. He stated, however, that a group of persons whom he knew as "Coughlinites", headed by KENNETH MAGRUDER, had broken away from the Committee after a series of clashes, in which the so-called "Coughlinites" attempted to inject into the policies of the America First Committee, certain anti-Jewish, anti-British, anti-Gold Standard and Townsend Plan propaganda. He stated that MAGRUDER split from the America First Committee and took with him approximately 100 members, with whom he formed a new Committee known as "The Committee for America Only". He stated that it was highly possible that these persons continued to meet, although they, too, announced an official disbandment. He said that if they were meeting, they were doing so in private homes of some of the members.

An attempt will be made by [redacted] to furnish this office with as many names as possible of those who broke away from the America First Committee, after being charged with attempting to insert propaganda of an unsavory nature.

[redacted] stated that he was positive that the good members of the America First Committee had no contact with any national organization, nor do they intend to continue in any way, the activities of the America First Committee. He stated that they intend in no way to keep the organization intact in Pittsburgh, and as a matter of fact, since the official disbandment of them, he and the other members of the Committee known to him, have not met or discussed or engaged in any activities whatsoever.

[redacted] known to the Bureau, attended the America First Committee Rally on June 5, 1941. At this meeting, he obtained a contribution envelope, on the outside of which was the following: "America Fir Committee is open to all patriotic American citizens. We exclude from our rolls Fascists, Nazis, Communists and members of the Bund." According to [redacted] a larg percentage of the attendance of this meeting, however, was German or German-Amer can. These persons were known to him as being Germans. He stated that the Steuben Society furnished a very large part of the audience, as did practically all of the different German societies and Bunds in Pittsburgh. He stated further that this meeting was very widely published in all German circles. He stated that from Homestead, Pa. alone, there were about 200 Germans present.

With reference to the personal sentiments of certain of the individual members of the America First Committee who appeared on the Advisory Board, or as being very close to it, [redacted] furnished this office with some letters which were received [redacted] The following are the letters:

"Dear Sir:

"Your recent propaganda sheet labeled 'News Release' has just been received, and I note that you refer to a $60,000,000 being spent here as 'reported by the press' being spent by totalitarian governments. Why, sir, don't you have the common decency and honesty to also admit that Britain's officials admitted that during the last war they spent $150,000,000. and referred to it as the 'best investment' they made, which was obviously correct. We are advised that already they have provided even greater sums - why don't you make some mention of these things, sir? I am a scientist, a field where the truth and unbiased statements hold - I judge in your propaganda line these policies are untenable.

"Within the past two years I have been in Europe and visited many of its countries, including Germany - I know full well just how distorted the picture is made to Americans - I have experienced that America's free press refuses to print one word revealing the other side of the story, thanks to the semetic guidance of our news instrumentalities.

"Won't you please ask Mr. White and won't you please explain in your next letter just how it is that while Britain fights for all your grand things, yet for years she has tried to woo red, communist, athiest Russia as her military and economic ally? Won't you please, too, quote what Mr. Churchill had to say about old U.S.A., last time "To Save Democracy"?

"This is written by one who had served in our reserve officers corps, one of an American family for nearly two hundred years, but who can recognize the same old crap of last war days, redressed."

"It is with deep sincerity that I critize the stand you have taken in regard to our national defense and aid for the Allies. Although fabulous sums have been spent for our defense in the past eight years, President Roosevelt advises us that we are practically defenseless. With this knowledge of this startling fact, and without the approval of Congress, aid has been sent to the Allies. b7

"Most of the people taking the stand you take are past the war age and claim that they want to continue living in a Democracy as they have in the past. We young people just want a chance to keep on living. Give us that chance and we will see to it that this country remains a democracy."

THE COMMITTEE FOR AMERICA ONLY

An article in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, dated October 27, 1941 stated that a new anti-war group, which broke away from the America First Committee, had been formed and was headed by WILLIAM H. WEIR, JR. a strong supporter of the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan. The article stated that WEIR was elected Chairman at the first meeting of the new group, which called themselves "The Committee for America Only." The article went on to say that WEIR has run unsuccessfully for the City Council and for Congress on the Republican ticket. It stated that he has also been President of the National Recovery Association, which is interested in old age pensions. The article went on to state that CHARLES A. MADDEN (Secretary of the Board of Governors of the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall in Pittsburgh) was elected First Vice Chairman of the new group. It stated that MADDEN is active in Veterans groups, was Chairman of the Veterans Division of the America First Committee, and in 1938 was the Democratic candidate for Congress in Pittsburgh. The article further stated that K. D. MAGRUDER, who led the revolt against the America First Committee, charging that he did not submit to dictators, and who describes himself as a criminologist, and historian, as well as a social worker, was elected Secretary of the new group The first meeting of the new group, according to the article, was held at the home of CHARLES MADDEN, 301 South Negley Avenue, East End, Pittsburgh. The other officers elected at the meeting were, Miss MAGDALENE E. McLUCKIE, Second Vice Chairman and Mrs. MYRTLE COLLINS, Treasurer. The article quoted MAGRUDER as saying that 25 persons attended the meeting, and that they are only part of those who revolted from the America First Committee. He said also "We drew up our Constitution. It is a peoples' Constitution, such as we were told we could not have in the America First Committee. This group was not formed to act against the interests of the America First Committee. The Committee for America Only is not a rival of the America First Committee. Actually, we shall be broadening the work of the America First Committee."

An article dated October 30, 1941 in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph, stated that the Committee for America Only had scheduled a mass meeting for 3:00 P.M. on that date in the ballroom of the Keystone Hotel. No further record on this meeting is had.

An article in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph, dated November 10, 1941 stated that Pittsburgh's America Only Committee was sponsoring a march on Washington on that night, to stage a protest on the next day. The article stated "The scion of the America First Committee, which declared itself independent from the America First Committee, because they were 'tired of just writing letters' would meet other peace groups on the capitol steps and demonstrat According to the article, leading the delegation were WILLIAM J. WEIR, Chairman of the America Only Committee, Mrs. MARIE LOHLE and K. D. MAGRUDER.

According to a Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph article dated November 17, 1941, K. D. MAGRUDER, Secretary for Pittsburgh's Committee for Ame ca Only, advocated the lifting of the British Food Embargo imposed on Nazi conq nations in Europe. He said "Starvation and resultant pestilence make fertile ground for the growth of dictatorship, and they invite bitterness against the nation or nations responsible for this slow murder."

[redacted] known to the Bureau, advised on December 9, 1941, that the Committee for America Only, during the middle of November, opened a storeroom at 210 Stanwix Street. He said that this group had previously been affiliated with the America First Committee and that K. D. MAGRUDER became the Secretary of the new group. [redacted] stated that when MAGRUDER was in charge of the America First Committee at 629 Liberty Avenue, quite a few of the pro-German and Nazi element visited him there frequently, and some of them became quite friendly with him, and tried to impress him with the work they were doing for America First. He went on to say that very often they would get some printed matter from MAGRUDER to distribute among their friends. [redacted] added that when the office of the new group was opened, MAGRUDER had quite a few visitors from the pro-German element, who seemed to show a preference for MAGRUDER.

The article went on to quote MAGRUDER as saying, "But I expect the Government will not tolerate any organization that was connected with America First." Decision on whether to disband America Only will be made at an Executive Committee Meeting," MAGRUDER said.

An article in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette dated December 9, 1941, which announced the dissolution of the America First Committee, also made the following announcement: "The Committee for America Only, rebel offspring of The America First Group, decided at an Executive Meeting last night, to suspend activities for the duration of thewar. REC-9

It was further learned that on March 4, 1941, Mrs. BENNETT CHAMP CLARK, wife of Senator CLARK, spoke at a meeting for women held at the Jefferson Hotel, St. Louis. There were about 125 women in attendance, and the meeting was sponsored by the America First Committee.

One of the first large meetings held under the sponsorship of the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee was held on April 4, 1941, at the Opera House in the Municipal Auditorium, St. Louis. A detailed report made on this meeting [redacted] reflected 3,500 persons were in attendance at this meeting. The speakers were PHILIP L. LAFOLLETTE of Wisconsin, who spoke on the subject "Convoys to Britain," and JOHN T. FLYNN of New York, who spoke on the subject "Shall We Be Dupes?" It b7 is of special interest to note as to who the persons were who served as sponsors for this first major meeting of the St. Louis chapter. The names of these sponsors, [redacted] were:

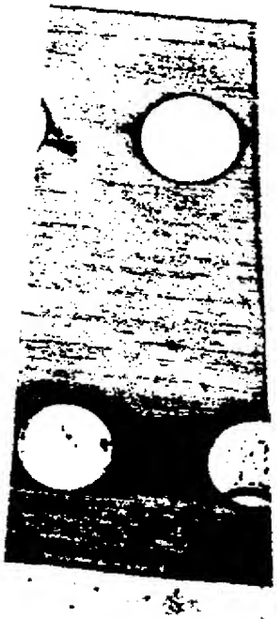
The report on this meeting advised $992.42 in cash was collected at the meeting. [redacted] added the statement that St. Louis is a city notorious for resistance to collections, and that the sum collected was very satisfactory. GEORGE MUELLER was listed as the head usher, and it should be noted it was this same person who acted as attorney for the officers of the St. Louis chapter when they filed their petition for incorporation. The [redacted] report on this meeting also made considerable excuse of the fact that a steady rain had preceded the meeting intermittently during the day. The officers were certain that the unfavorable weather conditions prevented a much larger crowd than was in attendance. A detailed report of this meeting, [redacted] is being retained in the St. Louis file.

Another anti-war rally was held at the Roosevelt High School Auditorium, St. Louis, on the night of April 18, 1941. At this meeting, 450 people were in attendance and Congressman J. EDGAR CHENOWETH, Republican of Colorado, was the principal speaker.



Still another meeting was held at the Webster Groves High School, Webster Groves, Missouri, at which five hundred people were in attendance and CARL CURTIS, Congressman from the Fourth Nebraska District, was a speaker as was Congressman CHENOWETH.

Some minor difficulties were experienced by the St. Louis chapter when they attempted to secure the services of the band of Musicians' Post # of the American Legion for a brief concert at a rally at which CHARLES A. LINDBERGH was to be the principal speaker. Newspapers carried accounts of the trouble, which resulted when MARTIN A. BEFFA, chairman of the American Legion's Commanders' Conference, St. Louis, refused to give the American L band permission to play at the meeting. One newspaper article disclosed J H. LIGHT, chairman of the committee for arrangements for the LINDBERGH sp had stated the Arena was to cost $1,000.00 for the night and the American Legion band was to be paid $300.00. A newspaper article later told of th trouble being settled when the Musicians' Post agreed their band would a at the meeting but would not wear American Legion uniforms and would be and introduced only as a band from the Musicians' Post.

An observation which appeared in one of the St. Louis newspape June 1, 1941, told of the fact that the Committee to Defend America by the Allies was attempting to counteract the propaganda of the America Committee in St. Louis. The Committee to Defend America by Aiding the announced publicly that they were to hold a rally in the near future, a Senator CLAUDE PEPPER and Major MAL VIVIER were to be the principal sp

STAT 1-17-48

On May 3, 1941, the largest anti-war rally sponsored by the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee was held in the Arena in St. Louis, and CHARLES A. LINDBERGH was the principal speaker. The newspapers estimated there were eighteen thousand persons in attendance at this meeting. Various informants reported soon after this meeting that when they attended the rally, they noticed a number of known St. Louis pro-Nazi persons in attendance at the rally. One informant reported he was certain he saw [redacted] at the meeting. [redacted] of the St. Louis chapter of the German-American Bund. Her attendance is made more of a certainty by the report of a leader of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of St. Louis, who reported he had forwarded to [redacted] some pro-America and pro-Administration propaganda, to which [redacted] replied that she did not care to receive any more of such material, and that this official of the Veterans of Foreign Wars should give more attention to the America First Committee and such individuals as CHARLES A. LINDBERGH.

On May 18, 1941, a news article appeared in the "St. Louis Post-Dispatch," a St. Louis newspaper, telling that the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee had set up twelve booths throughout St. Louis to enable the public to send messages of protest to their Senators and Congressmen, protesting against the use of convoys or United States intervention in the war. This article advised the America First Committee was furnishing to any person who desired it a form of telegram, postal card, or letter to be used, and would even furnish postage, if requested.

Another news article appearing several days later merely mentioned the activities of the America First Committee in St. Louis, and referred to IVAN H. LIGHT as the treasurer of the chapter.

Of special interest was an article appearing in the "St. Louis Globe-Democrat" on May 24, 1941, telling of the fact that JOSEPH FORSHAW, former St. Louis athlete and Olympic marathon runner, had accepted the chairmanship of the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee. Mr. FORSHAW is better known at this time as a stove and parts manufacturer.

Another anti-war rally was held on June 27, 1941, at St. George's Church Hall, Gravois and Heege Roads, Affton, Missouri. The speaker for the rally was Congressman KNUTE HILL, Democrat from the state of Washington.

Publicity was also given to the fact that on July 17, 1941, the St. Louis chapter filed in the State Circuit Court at St. Louis a petition asking that a decree be issued, authorizing the incorporation of the St. Louis chapter. It is noted information is contained in the report of Special Agent [redacted] Kansas City, Missouri, dated May 15, 1942, that the records of the Secretary of State, Jefferson City, Missouri, reflect the America First Committee of St. Louis was granted a pro forma decree of incorporation on July 17, 1941. However, those records in Jefferson City do not disclose this incorporation has ever been cancelled.

On August 1, 1941, another anti-war rally was sponsored by the St. Louis chapter at the Municipal Auditorium, St. Louis. There were 2,600 persons in attendance, and U. S. Senator GERALD P. NYE of North Dakota was the speaker.

On September 5, 1941, JOSEPH FORSHAW announced publicly that a special anti-war rally was to be held at the Municipal Auditorium in St. Louis on September 17, 1941. He reported Representative HAMILTON FISH was to be the principal speaker.

It was known from the very beginning of the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee that Dean JOSEPH A. McCLAIN, JR., of the Washington University School of Law was a prominent member of the St. Louis chapter. However, on September 28, 1941, the "St. Louis Globe-Democrat" carried an article telling of the resignation of Dean McCLAIN and Professor E. E. HILPERT from membership in the St. Louis chapter. Professor HILPERT is also a faculty member at the Washington University School of Law. It was announced upon the receipt of these resignations that both Dean McCLAIN and Professor HILPERT had resigned because of the pressure of other national defense duties. However, the newspaper learned the real reason for the resignation of these two prominent members was that CHARLES A. LINDBERGH had publicly criticized the Jews. These resignations were based on LINDBERGH's statement that, "The Roosevelt Administration, England, and the Jews are forcing America to war." Dean McCLAIN announced he had been sympathetic to the anti-war cause long before the America First Committee was formed, and that he no longer desired to be connected with an organization that injected anti-Semitic issues in the anti-war campaign.

On October 16, 1941, another large rally of the St. Louis chapter was held at the Municipal Auditorium in St. Louis. Mrs. BENNETT CHAMP CLARK and Mrs. ROBERT A. TAFT were the principal speakers. This meeting was picketed by members of the American Youth Congress in St. Louis, and these pickets were in turn picketed by the National Legion of the Mothers of America. This rally was considered to be principally a women's meeting. This picketing by the American Youth Congress is of special interest due to the fact that IVAN H. LIGHT has often been referred to as being Communistically-inclined and yet the American Youth Congress members picketed the organization of which LIGHT was the recognized treasurer.

On November 5, 1941, the "St. Louis Globe-Democrat" reported a debate was to be held on the question "Resolved: That This is not Our War." The debate was to be between VICTOR HARRIS, attorney, member of the America First Committee, and leader in the Civil Liberties Union, and W. L. GREGORY, an official of the Plaza Bank in St. Louis, who is recognized as an economist and lecturer, and who was representing in this debate the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

Another newspaper article appearing on December 6, 1941, told of a $100,000.00 libel suit filed by the Leader Printing and Publishing Company, publishers of the "St. Louis County Leader," against JOSEPH FORSHAW, chairman of the St. Louis chapter. The petition filed alleged FORSHAW had denounced the plaintiff's editorial policy, which the newspaper reported as being strong pro-American.

Concerning the propaganda efforts of the St. Louis chapter, one item was outstanding. There was furnished to the St. Louis Office by a confidential source a copy of a letter which had been addressed to the parents of [redacted] of the U. S. Army. This letter to [redacted]'s parents was dated July 22, 1941, and was on the letterhead of the St. Louis Chapter, America First Committee, 705 Olive Street, St. Louis. The letter was addressed "Dear Fellow Americans." The letter went on to say that as parents of a young man recently inducted into the armed forces of the United States, these parents of this service man were, probably more than anyone else, interested in the welfare and future of the United States. The letter reminded the parents that Government Administration leaders had solemnly promised that their boy was to be sent to a training camp for one year only, and that he was being trained solely for the defense of the Western Hemisphere. The letter went on to say that now that the boys are in camp and in no position to protest, the Administration proposed to extend their time of service indefinitely. The letter further stated the America First Committee considered this proposal a breach of the solemn covenant entered into between this boy and the United States of America. The parents were urged to write their Congressmen and Senators and the President, telling them they did not want their son to die in Europe's eternal wars. The parents were also urged to emphasize the fact that this is not our war. The closing paragraph of the letter reminded the parents that the America First Committee is doing its best to keep this country out of the European war. It requested them, if not already members of the America First Committee, to sign the enclosed membership card at once. The letter was written over the signatures of JOSEPH FORSHAW, chairman, and OSCAR E. HUBER, vice chairman.

[redacted] furnished the St. Louis Office a copy of the petition filed by the St. Louis chapter in the Circuit Court for the City of St. Louis, asking that the St. Louis chapter be granted articles of incorporation. There was also enclosed with the petition a written copy of the articles of association and a preliminary statement concerning this committee. Also furnished by this same source was a list of the board of directors of the America First Committee in St. Louis and also what appeared to be a complete membership list. The membership list furnished at the time the petition was filed in the Circuit Court at St. Louis is as follows:

The petition for articles of incorporation filed by the St. Louis chapter reflected the following officers: JOSEPH FORSHAW, chairman; OSCAR E. BUDER, first vice chairman; OSCAR C. NORMAN, second vice chairman; and IVAN H. LIGHT, treasurer.

The St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee maintained offices in Room 901 at 705 Olive Street, St. Louis. However, on December 9, 1941, the "St. Louis Globe-Democrat" reported in a news article that a special meeting of the board of directors of the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee had been held at 705 Olive Street, St. Louis. At that time the St. Louis chapter was reported to have been dissolved. The article advised an affidavit of dissolution was prepared and was to be mailed on that day to the Secretary of State at Jefferson City, Missouri. The article stated the St. Louis chapter's articles of agreement provided for dissolution of the organization if and when the United States declared war. No further information is available at this time to indicate definitely that the St. Louis chapter is now inoperative. It is recalled the Kansas City Office has reported there is nothing in the records of the Secretary of State at Jefferson City to indicate the affidavit of dissolution was received at that office. The activities of the St. Louis chapter have been observed to have consisted chiefly of the holding of anti-war rallies and the conducting of almost constant membership drives to secure financial support for the committee.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

The ST. LOUIS Office at St. Louis, Missouri, will contact [redacted] for any information in his possession relating to Nazi support of the St. Louis chapter of the America First Committee. The St. Louis Office will conduct investigation to determine whether an organization known as America for Peace has been organized in St. Louis. If this organization is found to exist, investigation should be conducted to determine the officers and members. The St. Louis Office will continue general, discreet investigation of the America First Committee in St. Louis to determine definitely if an underground organization is now operating in place of the former St. Louis chapter.

AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE	INTERNAL SECURITY (G)

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: America First Committee opened N.J. State Headquarters May 6, 1941. Moving spirit of organization has been Mrs. MARY HENNINGER, N.J. State Executive Secretary, whose motives appear to be honest and patriotic. America First Committee operated as a very loose knit organization in N.J. According to [redacted] it dissolved December 8, 1941, on orders from General WOODS. New Jersey Headquarters were closed on same date and all records were transmitted to General Woods. The organization sponsored a number of public rallies, featuring addresses by prominent Isolationists. All leaders of organization, contacted to date, deny that America First is still functioning. [redacted] tried to keep America First free of radical elements, making it a point to question prospective members along these lines. Rallies of organization in N.J. were generally well attended. Most active chapters appear to have been in Newark, and Jersey City, N.J. Membership in latter estimated at about 2,500, and in former at about 500. b7D

On July 9, 1941, [redacted] New Jersey, telephonically contacted the Newark Office, and advised that he had information concerning the activities of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in that city. He asked that he be contacted by an agent of this Bureau.

The file further reflected a clipping from the Westwood Chronicle, dated August 21, 1941, to the effect that the Pascack Valley Chapter of the America First Committee, held a peach festival on the preceeding Saturday afternoon, on the grounds of the home of Mrs. A.R. O'TOOLE, of Washington Avenue, Westwood,N.J. It further reported that the chapter planned a card party and bazaar to be held in October, the proceeds of which were to be used for the benefit of the American soldiers in camp. It is also noted that the article reflected that this chapter meets twice a month, and that anyone interested in joining could do so by contacting Mrs. EDWARD SCHOEN, 150 Washington Street, Westwood,N.J., Chairman of the Membership Committee, or by calling District Headquarters, 378 Main Street, Hackensack,N.J.

This clipping further stated that there would be two America First rallies on the following Friday night, one at Bergenfield Palos Hall, Bergenfield,N.J., and the other at the Memorial School in Passaic. Mrs. MICHAEL STRANGE, and Congressman HAMILTON FISH were to be the speakers in each instance.

A similar article appeared in the Westwood News, under date of August 21, 1941.

On July 12, 1941, [redacted] telephonically contacted the Newark Office, and advised that [redacted]

On July 8, 1941, [redacted] received an anonymous request to start a chain letter to Christian Fathers and Mothers all over America for the purpose of saving America.

[redacted] on July 25, 1941, advised the Newark Office, that on June 30, 1941, there was an AMERICA

FIRST meeting in Jersey City, N.J. at 665 Newark Avenue. He further stated that the common talk among the persons at this meeting was "Why join the Navy and see the world from the bottom of the ocean." He stated that Mr. PHILLIP, State Secretary of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, is part of the organization, and [redacted] Hoboken, N.J. is an organizer. He stated further that [redacted] Jersey City, N.J. (residence [redacted] Jersey City, N.J.) also was at the meeting. [redacted] b2c

By letter, dated December 2, 1941, the Philadelphia Office of this Bureau, advised that from a confidential source, information had been obtained to the effect that the America First Committee, Camden Headquarters, located at 708 Federal Street, ran a two-column advertisement in the "Courier-Post" at Camden, on November 13, 1941, and called upon individuals to "halt the march of the war-maker" and to communicate immediately with Congressmen, expressing desire that they vote against repeal of the Neutrality Act. Mention was made of Congressman CHARLES A. WOLVERTON.

The Trenton Evening Times, of November 28, 1941, carried a story concerning a meeting of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, on the following Sunday to be held in the Central High School auditorium, Trenton, N.J. It stated that the principal address was to be given by the Reverend PAUL C. MARTIN, of St. Paul's Church, North Arlington, who is an Episcopal clergyman, and to speak on no-war.

The Trenton News, of the same day, carried a story regarding the same meeting, and listed the U.S. Senator BURTON K. WHEELER, of Montana, as an additional speaker.

Speakers were listed as "ALFALFA BILL" MURRAY, former Governor of Oklahoma; Congressman FRED A. HARTLEY, Jr.; and Professor JAMES O'CONNELL, of Seton Hall. In this ad the principles of AMERICA FIRST were listed as follows:

(1) Our first duty is to keep America out of foreign wars. Our entry would destroy democracy, not save it.
(2) We must build defense for our own shores so strong that no foreign power, or combination of powers can invade our country by sea, land, or air.
(3) Not by acts of war abroad, but by peace and extending democracy at home can we aid democracy and freedom in other lands.

(4) In 1917 we sent our American ships into the war zone, and this led us to war. In 1941 we must keep our American convoys and merchant ships on our side of the Atlantic.
(5) Humanitarian aid is the beauty of a strong free country at peace. With proper safeguard for the distribution of supplies we should feed and cloth the people in their sufferings in occupied countries.
(6) We advocate an official advisory vote of the people of the United States on the question of World Peace so that when Congress decides this question, as the constitution provides, we will know the opinion of the people on this the greatest of all issues.

November 7, 1941 - A further announcement was made of the AMERICA FIRST rally on Armistice Day. The committee head was given as Mrs. MARY M. MENKINGER, Executive Secretary of the State headquarters. [redacted] [redacted] stated that the New Jersey organization was some what of an off-shoot of the New York. Although the N.J. organization possessed autonomy it was technically under the jurisdiction of the New York Office. She added that the N.J. headquarters for a time had been located in Montclair,N.J. (which is in accordance with certain news paper articles set forth above).

[redacted] leaders in New Jersey, as Mrs. EDITH [redacted], of Leonia, N.J., head of the Bergen County Chapter; Miss MARCELLA CARROLL, of Jersey City, N.J., leader of the Hudson County Chapter; Mrs. LILLIAN HARVEY, of Trenton, N.J., head of the Mercer County chapter; and a man by the name of [redacted], of Clifton, who was Chairman of the Passaic Couty group. She advised that this latter individual had secured a separate charter from the New York Office, [redacted] therefore she knew nothing concerning activities of the AMERICA FIRST in Passaic County, N.J.

She denied that THOMAS MC CARTER, President of Public Service of New Jersey, was ever active in the organization. She stated that as far as she knew he never contributed any money to the local office of AMERICA FIRST. [redacted] State Headquarters, at 32 Commerce Street, Newark, N.J. She advised that Professor JAMES O'CONNELL of Seton Hall spoke at a number of rallies sponsored by the organization, but denied that he had worked to build up the group. She stated that a young man by the name of WILLIAM PHILLIPS of the New York headquarters had been sent to New Jersey, [redacted] interrogated relative to the newspaper articles about JAMES HAWKINS, President of the Newark Christian Front being a speaker at the America First rally. She vigorously denied the allegation contained in the newspaper story and termed them "crackpot, and sensational reporting." She stated that PHILLIPS gave a talk on "Current Events" at a public meeting which was attended by HAWKINS.

She further stated that at the conclusion of PHILLIPS speech he asked if there were any questions from the audience, and HAWKINS proceeded to ask a number of long winded questions of the oratorical variety, which led to the newspaper story in question.

[redacted] gave the following information concerning the individuals mentioned in the newspaper articles set forth hereinbefore:

She stated that [redacted], who resided on [redacted] came to the office and helped with the clerical work quite a bit. On two occasions she hired a hall for a meeting place for the organization [redacted] was described as a very good citizen.

Mr. [redacted] was a volunteer worker who helped with some of the typing. She was also in charge of ticket sales for several of AMERICA FIRST rallies.

b7C
b7D

[redacted] was also said [redacted] to helped on a few occasions with ticket sales, as did [redacted] who is said to reside [redacted]

[redacted] came into the State Headquarters and helped for an hour or two, on one and two occasions, but was not active in the organization beyond this.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] and [redacted] were employees of [redacted] who were sympathisers with the principl of AMERICA FIRST. She added that they generally took care of the obtaining of the lease permits for AMERICA FIRST meetings and served as ushers at these meetings. [redacted] also served in the latter capacity, as did [redacted] on several occasions made it a point to meet speakers at the airport and drive them to a hotel.

Mrs. BENJAMIN MEISNER, of Morristown, N.J., was head of a small group of the AMERICA FIRST in that city, and according to [redacted] she had only seen her on one or two occasions when Mrs. MEISNER attended rallies in Newark, N. She stated she believed that Mrs. MEISNER was Jewish. She was not acquainted with [redacted] other than the fact that he was a speaker sent to N.J. on several occasions by the New York Office.

[redacted] implied that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in New Jersey was very loosely knit. She stated that members were accepted upon the payment of $1.00 dues and were issued a membership card. [redacted] She stated further that it was necessary for an individual to be an American citizen before being accepted into that group. The main purpose she stated, of the organization, was to stir up feeling against involving this country into a foreign war.

She denied that any political aspirations, as least insofar as the N.J. group was concerned, was the motive for the group. She denied receiving financial assistance from any other source than the collection of membership dues and stated that the organization was always in financial straits.

[redacted] stated further that her only interest in the organization came about as a result of her desire to see this country involved, and her to fight, in no foreign war. She believed that the same motive influenced most of the other members. She recognized that it was a distinct possibility that th

organization had attracted some individuals with subversive tendencies. She added that she was certain a number of Communists had been interested in the movement before Russia entered the war, because there was a short drop in membership after the beginning of the Russo-German war. She added that as far as anti-semetic charges against this organization were concerned, she was certain that the New Jersey group was not guilty of this. She went on to say that a number of her very close friends were Jewish and that the leader of the America First in Morristown,N.J. was in her opinion a Jew.

[redacted] stated that the organization was dissolved after the attack on Pearl Harbor, upon the orders of General WOODS, the National Head. [redacted] and she stated that to her knowledge no meetings were held, and no activities have been carried on since that time. The whole reason for existence of the AMERICA FIRST had passed away with the outbreak of war. It was an organization devoted to the keeping of this country out of war, but after the country entered war, there was no reason for its continuance, and it was the patriotic duty of every citizen to support the Government in the war effort. [redacted] She added that there was no meetings planned, and it was her earnest desire that none should be held, and further she stated she had been told General WOODS had taken steps to protect the name of AMERICA first from use by any other organizations.

She advised further that headquarters had been opened at 340 Palisade Avenue, Jersey City,N.J., on June 27, 1941. The organizational meeting w held on June 30, 1941, at the Odd Fellows Hall, Jersey City,N.J. At that time, voluntary contributions were solicited from the audience to defray expenses of the organization. She estimated that from the date of the opening of headquarters until Pearl Harbor the organization acquired about 3,500 members in Hudson County. She stated that it was received very well by citizens of Jersey City, particularly most of the strength being among the Italians. The largest attendance at any one meeting was on October 15, 1941, when about 2,500 heard an address by Congressman HAMILTON FISH, and ex-senator RUSH HOLT, in Dickinson High School, Jersey City,N.J. Shortly after an Armistice Day meeting was held in school #11, Jersey City,N.J., addressed by Congressman JEANETTE RANKIN, and GEORGE SMITH, who she described as Lindbergh's Body Guard, about seven hundred being in attendance.

In September, 1941, DOUGLAS CHANDLER and KATHERINE LARKIN, of the New York America, first addressed a meeting in Jersey City, in which about two hundred were present. [redacted] stated that she had become interested in the organization because she had always been a Pacifist at heart and did not believe that war successfully settled any issue. She denied that the organization had any political aspirations and said that it was her firm belief that it should not be a political power. To her knowledge most of the former membership of the AMERICA FIRST had been merely either taken into the Army, or were presently supporting the country's war effort in some other way.

She pointed out that RAY HENFIELD, former title head of the Hudson County Chapter, had volunteered as soon as the attack on Pearl Harbor occurred, and is presently at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. [redacted]

[redacted] She denied knowledge of any underground meetings of the organization, or any continuance of its functions. She stated in the event she learned of this she would communicate with this office. [redacted] advised that after the attack on Pearl Harbor the group decided to disband but that it still had some money in the treasury. On December 15, 1941, group had a social evening in Jersey City,N.J. to spend this left-over money, incident might have given some persons the impression that AMERICA FIRST was a meeting.

She further stated that at that time it had been necessary to keep the headquarters open for a few days after Pearl Harbor in order to make refu for tickets sold for a proposed AMERICA FIRST meeting to be held on December 10, 1941, in Jersey City, N.J. The headquarters finally closed on December 15th, 1941.

b1C
b7D

[redacted] She denied knowledge of any meetings of the organization subsequent to the attack on Pearl Harbor, and advised that she was now doing all in her power to aid the war effort, and felt that it was a patriotic duty of every citizen to support the administration to the utmost. She did not believe the organization would be a political feature or would ever appear again. Its only reason for existence, she stated, was the necessity that some people felt for keeping this country out of a foreign war, but when the country became involved in such a war, the organization's necessity was deferred.

[redacted] furnished information along similar lines and denied having heard of any meetings of the organization in and around Maplewood, N.J., or Irvington, N.J. She advised that she had assisted at the State Headquarters of AMERICA FIRST in certain clerical work because she believed in the principles of the group that the country should make every attempt to avoid foreign entanglements. She has a young son, in his early teens, and she stated that she fears that he may be sent to be killed on foreign soil.

This Field Division received a letter from the New York Office, dated April 1, 1942, which stated that on March 26th, 1942, an unknown individual who stated that he was a soldier in the U.S. Army telephonically communicated with the New York Office and advised that it had come to his attention that [redacted] who resides at the Y.M.C.A., Hoboken, N.J. had certain information concerning the present activities of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE. It was ascertain that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was allegedly working in a dual capacity in the one section supposedly going underground, whereas the other part is organizing what is designated as the George Washington Brigade. It was suggested that [redacted] be contacted to explore the allegations of the complaint.

Accordingly [redacted] was contacted by the writer at the Hoboken Y.M.C.A. but he denied actively of any knowledge of meetings of the organization, and stated that he had no knowledge whatever of continued activities of that group. However it was apparent from conversing with [redacted] that he was a radical individual wholeheartedly devoted to the principles of AMERICA FIRST, who would welcome the birth of that organization, where it to reopen at the present time, or after the

In fact [redacted] made the statement to the writer that he believed AMERICA FIRST would return after the present war under another name, to prevent the United States from becoming "an International Sucker as it had been after the last war." He added that the Brave European Nations would get money out of this country, finance their armies and navies, and further revenge wars. He added that we would against be called upon to finance the Armies and Governments of various "buffer" states in Europe, who would sell us out in the future as they had done in this war.

[redacted] launched into a particularly violent denunciation of President Roosevelt. He added that the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor was brought on by the "bullying of Roosevelt and Hull." [redacted] stated that he recognized the necessity for supporting President Roosevelt at this time, but indicated that he would support a movement to impeach Roosevelt after the war. He added that in July, 1941, at a Committee meeting of AMERICA FIRST, in New York City, the question of impeaching Roosevelt had been discussed at length. However, they decided at that time not to attempt an impeachment in spite of the fact that Roosevelt had violated the constitution of the United States on this occasion. [redacted] deplored the treatment which has been accorded the Vichy-French by the administration. He referred to one note to VICHY-France written by SUMNER WELLES which he stated was full of "historical inaccuracies." [redacted] stated he did not trust Russia, and he believed that there was still a great deal of resentment in this country toward the war. He stated that he personally knew that the only reason the men of Hoboken were supporting the war was the forty hour week and the high wages being by industry. He believed that they were only supporting Roosevelt because of a belief in this country's cause. [redacted] also appeared very anti-British in his remarks.

He stated that during the time he was working in the AMERICA FIRST movement that there was as much anti-British feeling as there was anti-German. He went on to say that it has been his experience that AMERICA FIRST met with a wonderful reception all over Hudson County. According to him the reception from the Italian element in Jersey City was particularly warm. [redacted] claimed that [redacted]

b7c [redacted] stated that [redacted] possessed most of the information concerning the activities of the AMERICA FIRST in Hudson County, and she would know if the organization was still functioning. He added that it was his understanding that it had completely dissolved. He made the statement that it was his opinion that the organization had broken up too quickly. He seemed sincere enough but gave the impression of being somewhat of a "crackpot," and it is believed, after conversing with [redacted], that he would readily associate himself with the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE should it be reconstructed.

23 persons were reported to have attended this meeting which was presided over by Mr. COLLINS.

The Richmond Field Office file in this case contains a newspaper clipping from the Richmond Times-Dispatch under date of December 10, 1941, and this clipping contains a photograph of J. STANLEY COLLINS and Miss ELISE SWEENEY listed as Chairman and Secretary respectively of the Richmond Chapter of the America First Committee. The caption under the photograph states that Mr. COLLINS was addressing the membership at a meeting held on the previous night at the Hotel John Marshall.

The article stated that the local chapter of the organization voted on the previous night to disband indefinitely in view of the Japanese attack on the previous weekend and the entry of this country into the war. The meeting was held at the Hotel Jefferson in Richmo and members were read a telegram from the National Headquarters of the organ zation advising the local chapter to disband. The article further states t a telegram was sent by the local chapter to the National Headquarters stat that they concurred to the views of the National Organization and would dis ld. Mr. J. In connection with the above individual, [redacted] advised that on September 13, 1940, the Richmond Office of his agency received some pamphlets addressed to [redacted] publications, Royal Oak, Michigan, which pamphlets were trans-shipped from Chicago. No further information could be furnished regarding this particular shipment.

[redacted] who has been a resident of Richmond for over twenty years and particularly alert to note any activities of a Nazi or Fascist nature, stated that he has not heard of the local chapter of the America First Committee being actige since it disbanded in 1941. He was of the opinion that the structure of this organization is not being used by any groups or individuals at the present time or it would have come to his attention through various acquaintances of his in Richmond.

[redacted] was interviewed at [redacted] He advised that no information had come to his attention which would indicate that the local America First group is again becoming active. He advised that he has heard nothing of their activities subsequent to a meeting held in December, 1941, shortly after war was declared at the time the group announced publicly that it was disbanding.

[redacted] ELSIE SWEENEY resides at [redacted] It is noted that Miss SWEENEY was the Secretary of the local chapter of subject organization. [redacted] that she is unemployed and that he believes she drives a car in connection with local civilian defense work. He stated that he will advise this office in the event [redacted] in the future which appears to be of a subversive nature.

[redacted], was interviewed at his residence at [redacted] He advised that the organization was rather informal and only consisted of a small group of individuals. He stated that the group disbanded upon the suggestion of the National organization, in Chicago, after this country entered the war inasmuch as there was nothing further that the organization could do. He advised that all membership records and other records of the local chapter were forwarded to the Headquarters in Chicago. No funds were available for sending inasmuch the local chapter disbanded with a deficit.

[redacted] advised that since the group disbanded no efforts have been made by any individuals or other groups to take over the structure of the local organization or to influence by literature or otherwise, individuals who were members of the local group. He suggested that [redacted] be contacted to ascertain whether or not any efforts had been made to place the members of the local group on the mailing list of any other organization with a view to influencing their opinions regarding position of this country in the present war. [redacted] in closing advised that he still holds this country above all else and most certainly would report to the F.B.I. any efforts by foreign or subversive groups to use the organization set up by the America First Committee to the advantage of such foreign interest.

[redacted] was interviewed at her home at [redacted] She stated that it was the first organization she had ever joined in her life and did not even join any groups or clubs while going to school. She stated that she was sincerely interested in keeping this country out of war and, therefore, joined up with other individuals who held similar views. [redacted] She stated that no effort whatever has been made to re-activate the organization set up by the America First Committee in Richmond and further that no effort had been made among the former members to maintain contact with each other. [redacted] was asked if she had received any literature or if any efforts had been made by other organizations to influence her way of thinking concerning the present war. She stated that the only literature received was a memiographed letter addressed to her in March of this year on the letterhead of the Post War World Council, of 112 East 19th Street of New York City. She furnished agent with that portion of the letterhead containing the names of the members of the National Committee of the Post War World Council and it was noted that these names included the names of several active in the American Civil Liberties Union, such as JOHN HAYNES HOLMES, NORMAN THOMAS, and OSWALD GARRISON VALLIRD. [redacted] advised that she is not certain that this letter came to her by reason of her activities with the America First Committee befause she recalled that as an individual she had written for some literature of the Fellowship of Reconciliation and it is possible that she received the Post War World Council literature as the result of that inquiry. In conclusion [redacted] stated that although she is very much opposed to the present administration in Washington she is entirely loyal to this country which is her native country and, therefore, if any foreign individuals or groups attempt to make use of the structure set up by the America First Committee she will report the activities of such individuals. She stated that the only other chapter in Virginia to her knowledge of subject organization was located at Roanoke, Virginia, but she did not know the identity of any individuals connected with it.

The letterhead of the Post War World Council is being retained in the Richmond File of this case for future reference.

DETAILS: b2 b7D [redacted] advised that, upon the entrance of the United States into the war, the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE has disbanded, and that, according to the information that he has received, there has been no evidence of its being openly active.

During the time that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was an active organization in Philadelphia, their main office was maintained at 30 South 17th Street, Philadelphia. According to information received from [redacted] the main office was closed on January 15, 1942, along with the auxiliary offices, which were located at 1917 Passyunk Avenue, 5530 Chester Avenue, and Frankford Avenue and Hawor Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. on South 17th Street, Philadelphia, on January 15, 1942, to the home of Mrs. IRENE THORN MURPHY, [redacted] b7c — It was set out in reference report of Special Agent [redacted] dated 5-13-42 at New York City, that there was apparently no united effort being made by extremist elements of the dissolved AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, New York City, since its dissolution. However, new organizations, created and supported by such element include "Americans for Peace", "Gifts For Our Boys", "Women United", "Salute Our Men, Incorporated", "Post War Council".

b2 b7D [redacted] advised that in connection with the above-mentioned organizations, he possessed information that the "Americans for Peace" Headquarters is presently located at 1165 Broadway, New York City, the director being HORACE J. HAASE, and he advised that HAASE Has made many direct appeals to former members of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE to become members of the organization, "Americans for Peace".

Concerning the organization named "Women United", [redacted] stated that, according to his information, the "Women United" is not an organization which has come into existence since the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE has been disbanded. He stated that this organization was in existence some time previous to the United States having entered the present war. He further advised that the first record that he had of the "Women United" was when a mass meeting was held at Carnegie Hall, New York City, on April 14, 1941, and he stated that the offices of that organization as of April 14, 1941, were: President, Mrs. HALL HERRICK, of Boston, Massachusetts; Mrs. GERALDINE BUCHANAN PARKER, who was Executive Secretary, and who was formerly connected with the "No Foreign War Committee".

[redacted] further advised that subsequent actions on the part of "Women United" and "No Foreign War Committee" indicated that the organization, "Women United", was unofficially the Women's Auxiliary of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE. It is further reported by [redacted] that this organization is located with headquarters at 545 -5th Avenue, New York City, but that they, at the present time, do not have sufficient finances, and that the office is operating on a part-time basis, with only a skeleton staff.

Concerning the organization "Gifts For Our Boys", [redacted] stated that this organization was in the process of being organized early in the month of January, 1942, and that the headquarters at that time was in New York City, at 150 Broadway, and that Mr. and Mrs. NORMAN HOLMES was in charge of the organization of this committee. [redacted] stated that Mr. and Mrs. NORMAN HOLMES formerly were in charge of the Wall Street office of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE.

Concerning the organization "Salute Our Men", [redacted] stated that this organization was an off-shoot from the organization known as "Gifts For Our Boys", and that the organization was formed by small groups which broke away from the organization, "Gifts For Our Boys", who had become dissatisfied and wanted to form an organization of their own. It is not known, however, that the organization known as "Gifts For Our Boys" is presently active in Philadelphia. [redacted] stated that it is remotely possible that the Philadelphia connection of the organization known as "Gifts For Our Boys", lies in the fact that at the various recent meetings, following Pearl Harbor, members of the "Mothers of Pennsylvania" and the "Crusading Mothers of Pennsylvania" spoke of projects for sending "Gifts For Our Boys". The expression, however, was not used as referring to any organization, and the subsequent meetings of the "Mothers of Pennsylvania" did not indicate whether the project was carried through.

Concerning the organization mentioned in Special Agent [redacted] report, the "Post War World Council", [redacted] stated that the offices of this organization are maintained at 119 E. 19th Street, New York City, and that it is an organization which was created from the joint efforts of the organization known as "Keep America Out of War Congress" and the "Provisional Committee for a Democratic Peace". [redacted] stated that the "Post War World Council" has also some connection with the "War Resister's League", which is an old time pacifist organization. [redacted] stated that the connection between these organizations is established by the fact that the "War Resister's League" distributed literature of the "Post War World Council" organization in the form of a pamphlet entitled "The Peace We Lost". It was further stated by [redacted] that the only connection between these groups and the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE is the fact that at a meeting of the "War Resister's League" in New York City a few weeks ago, a small group of minor figures in the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE appeared and tried to gain some measure of influence, but were unsuccessful. [redacted] stated that it is understood that the leaders of the organization known as the "War Resister's League" are: OSWALD GARRISON WILLARD, former editor of a publication known as "The Nation;" NORMAN THOMAS, former head of the Socialist Party in the United States, and DOROTHY DETZER, a professional peace advocate. [redacted] advised that he will endeavor to ascertain the present addresses of the above named persons, who are leaders of the "War Resister's League".

DETAILS: On January 23, 1941 the Buffalo Field Division was advised that literature was being sent out to Buffalo citizens by the America First Committee which was located at 122 W. Chippewa Street, Buffalo, New York. This unknown source advised "This literature is to our mind absolutely seditious". Subsequent to the receipt of the above mentioned anonymous communication three publications were obtained by the Buffalo Field Division.

1. Four Assumptions About War by STUART CHASE

The above pamphlet was distributed from the Buffalo Chapter of the America First Committee, located at 160 Pearl Street, Buffalo, New York and was received from the National Headquarters of the America First Committee where General ROBERT E. WOOD was acting national chairman with offices located at 141 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill. These four assumptions are directed to the people of the United States and are stated as follows:

1. That the United States enjoys a relatively stable culture.
2. That communities in the Old World do not.
3. That the United States cannot remodel and stabilize the Old World by armed force.
4. That a serious attempt to do so will destroy the American pattern.

2. "To Enter the Wars Now Raging in Europe, Asia and Africa would be an Act of National Folly from which out Country must be spared"

The above statement is the title of the second pamphlet obtained from the Buffalo Chapter of the America First Committee at 160 Pearl Street and published by the America First Committee, 1806 Board of Trade Building, Chicago, Ill., without date.

3. America First application blank which states as follows:

"I firmly believe that 'The path to war is a false path to freedom' and that it is my duty to help keep America out of foreign wars. Therefore, I contributing to support the work of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE." Below this is listed a place for the signature, the address, date, telephone number and amount enclosed and a statement offering voluntary services to different divisions of the America First Committee.

On May 4, 1941 the America First Committee of Buffalo held a rally in the Kleinhans Music Hall at which time Senator BURTON K. WHEELER, Montana democrat, was the speaker of the evening. In his speech Senator WHEELER appealed to the audience to repudiate the nations "war-mongers" to stop the rush toward armed conflict and further stated, "We are rushing down the road to war and to dictatorship. One begets the other." At the time of this rally Mr. WHEELER'S picture appeared in the Buffalo COURIER EXPRESS, dated May 4, 1941 with Mr. JOSEPH M. BOEHM who was at that time a member of the Buffalo Chapter of America First Committee which sponsored the above mentioned rally.

Clippings on the report of WHEELER'S speech which were taken from the Buffalo COURIER EXPRESS of May 4, 1941 reflect that WHEELER complimented JOHN E. BUTLER, Republican winner of the recent special election in the 42nd Congressional District on the grounds that he had campaigned on a platform to keep this country out of war and to keep American boys home and away from the battlefields of Europe, Asia and Africa. This newspaper report further reflect that WHEELER attack various leaders of American political, social and industrial life because they were "war-mongers".

The Buffalo EVENING NEWS for May 5, 1941 reflects that the rally mentioned above in the COURIER EXPRESS was held at Buffalo at which Senator WHEELER of Montana spoke. Over 5,000 were conservatively estimated to have attended this rally by the America First Committee. A spot check made by [redacted] reflects that the following cars acted as an escort for Senator WHEELER on his visit to Buffalo, and drove with Senator WHEELER to the Kleinhans Music Hall where the above mentioned rally was held on Saturday, May 3, 1941: b7c

The files of the Buffalo Field Division further reflect that [redacted] of the Buffalo Field Division, attended the rally held by the America First Committee on May 3, 1941 at Kleinhans Music Hall. Mr. [redacted] report reflects that a crowd conservatively estimated at 5,000 people assembled in the hall to hear the address of Senator BURTON K. WHEELER. This report reflects that the crowd was quiet and orderly and that representation of various nationalities was in proportion to their population in this area, and that the audience contained persons from every walk of life. This report further reflects that considerable enthusiasm was evidenced and the strong feeling among the listeners was apparently somewhat checked by Senator WHEELER'S failure to make any strong emotional appeal.

According to the report Senator WHEELER made reference to the F.B.I. near the beginning of his speech when he expressed the opinion that many United States citizens hesitate to express their anti-war attitude because they are afraid of the F.B.I., the Internal Revenue Department, etc. The second reference to the Bureau was not derogatory, according to this report, being simply a recollection mentioned in connection with war hysteria during the World War, when the speaker was a United States Attorney and stated he sent a F.B.I. agent to check on a complaint that German airplanes were sighted flying over the mountains in western United States. The report made by [redacted] reflects that among those on the platform with Senator WHEELER and Chairman HILLARD C. NORTGE were Rev. PAUL A. RASCHE, pastor of Calvary Evangelical Church, Rev. FRANCIS W. MC KENNA, assistant pastor of Holy Family Church, former Assemblyman HOWARD C. DICKEY, Chairman JOSEPH M. [illegible] of the Buffalo Planning Board, Dr. PAUL R. CONROY, professor of history at Canisius College, former Police Commissioner AUSTIN J. ROCHE, EDWARD F. BARRETT, assistant professor of history at Canisius College, Mrs. PRESTON R. SMITH, JR., who was an active peace advocate, NEIL M. HILLARD, president of the Rotary Club of Buffalo, JOSEPH [illegible] STOFFEL, president of the Economics League, and GILBERT J. PETERSEN of the America First Committee

At the above mentioned rally held by the America First Committee the German Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum band played.

The files of the Buffalo Field Division reflect that very little activity was carried on after the above mentioned rally until December 9, 1941 after the attack on Pearl Harbor at which time the local America First group held a rally at the Statler Hotel in Buffalo which was attended by more than 350 members of the local chapter. At this rally the America First Committee passed a resolution backing the United States Government in its efforts to wipe out the Japanese offensive and pledged loyalty and support in the face of the "wanton" attack by the Japs. MILLARD C. DORNTGE head of the local committee of the America First Committee closed the meeting by reading the resolution pledging every aid of the America First Committee in the war effort. The resolution unanimously passed at this meeting is as follows:

"Whereas the America First Committee stands for an impregnable defense of America, and whereas the United States of America has been wantonly attacked by the naval and land forces of the imperial government of Japan, therefore be it resolved that the Buffalo chapter of the America First Committee urges that our government use its forces without stint or limit to bring this war upon America to a triumphant and victorious conclusion.

"To this end, we hereby solemnly pledge our loyalty, our strength, our determination, and support."

b7c

A report of the New York Field Division dated 5-13-42 made by Special Agent [redacted] reflects that information in the possession of the New York Field Division reflects that Mr. MILLARD DORNTGE of the America First Committee in Buffalo, New York, forwarded a letter to HORACE J. HASE, stating that the Buffalo America First Committee was in 100 per cent agreement with the national organization of Americans For Peace and [redacted] indicated a possible effort toward formation of a chapter of the organization in Buffalo.

On May 19, 1942 a letter was received from the Bureau, advising that a submission slip from the national censorship reflected that a letter dated December 9, 1941 from [redacted] was posted to [redacted] This letter contained the following quotations:

"Not only the fact that we are at war but the disgusting exhibition that our NAVY put on in HAWAII. Roosevelt is to speak tonight and I will indeed be interested to have his report. We have reports that GERMAN authorities announ that 'WAR LOVING ROOSEVELT has at last got his way' and I can't help but agree. I guess, though, that I'll lose my AMERICA FIRST MEMBERSHIP card down the drain and 'come what may."

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

As a Catholic trade unionist, as well as a loyal American, I wish to protest against a scheduled meeting of "Americans For Peace", an organization which is openly treasonous. There seems to be a systematic campaign to organize confused elements among the Catholic population of New York in support of this movement. Catholic workers in Brooklyn are incensed at the assumption that we are supporters of people like Fathers Coughlin and Curran.

This meeting is scheduled for Friday, June 12, at Prospect Park Y.M.C.A., Brooklyn, and we demand that something be done about it.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Biddle:

I have just heard about a meeting called by Homer J. Haase at one Prospect Park "Y" in my borough, Brooklyn, N.Y.

As your records probably indicate, Mr. Haase was formerly connected with the "America First" committee, and has not given up any of his "negotiated peace" ideas.

As a matter of fact, he is attempting to build a new organization of Hitler-lovers, under a new name which hasn't the stench of "America First".

Mr. Haase is talking treason. He is openly siding with Hitler.

It seems to me that in this crisis facing our nation we cannot afford to permit such meetings, which call for a Hitler victory. Mr. Haase should be dealt with as a traitor of American democracy.

RECEIVED

Rochelle Park, New Jersey

Attorney General Francis Biddle
Washington, D.C.

FED. BU. OF INV.

Dear Mr. Biddle:

I have learned that a Mr. Haase, former official of "America First", is actively organizing the remnants of that group into a new pro-Axis, anti-American group called "Americans For Peace", with head-querters at 1165 Broadway, New York City. This outfit is calling a "Negotiated Peace" rally this Friday, June 12, at a Brooklyn Y.M.C.A.

These "Hitler helpers" must be suppressed. Our nation cannot allow these enemies of ours to sell us out to the Axis. I urge you to use your great powers as Attorney General to ban this meeting and seek the indictment of Haase, Coughlin, and all their ilk for sedition. The die is cast, the battle is on. We must put all fifth columnists out of the way efficiently and quickly. They must be jailed at once.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:

It is believed that the Bureau will be interested in the following conversation which took place on [redacted] between

[redacted] and [redacted]

In order to set out the conversation with versatility, [redacted] is being designated "A" and [redacted] "B". Photographs have been obtained of the "Keller" and "Blue" publications referred to in the conversation. The conversation is as follows:

A. I came to see you about the letter you wrote me some three weeks ago.
B. Yes, I am glad you dropped in and I would like to hear some more about it.
A. How did you hear of me?
B. Through a friend.
A. I have here a news letter in two parts. The blue part specifically will explain our stand in the matter of peace vs. war and, or — by the way, when do you want to see peace brought about?
B. Immediately.
A. That's it. You are the type of person we are interested in — a person who wants peace without victory. And why do you want peace right away?
B. Because I lived in Europe during the last war and the horror of it impressed me so strongly that I want no part of it.
A. Excellent. The trouble is with most people in this country — never having experienced war first hand, they do not know the horrors of it.

B. Could you tell me what the newspapers think of this organization?

A. Most of the large newspapers have condemned us. "Life" magazine recently published a one-statement about us and I am now dickering with them to retract it. There are a number of small newspapers that are definitely our friends, notably: "The Dirt Farmer" published in California; "Farmers' Exchange" New Paris, Indiana; "Liberty" Arvada, Colorado; "Forum" Stockton, California; "The Broom" San Diego, California. "The Broom" specifically has been condemned for Jew baiting.

B. [redacted]

A. (Smiling crably) You ought to know that.

B. Well I know first hand the disgusting behavior of the Jews both in Russia and Germany and I feel very strongly on the subject.

A. (With an amused smile) That, of course, is your privilege and I'll let you guess at my own opinion in the matter.

B. Do you have many members in New Jersey?

A. We are well fixed in St. Louis, on the West Coast, and in New York. New Jersey, however, is rather quiet. We are now negotiating with a Mr. Palmer of Paterson who has a group that now belongs to a somewhat different organization but is interested in joining ours.

(He then, upon question, announced that a Mrs. Amelia DuBois, who lives in a large hotel on the corner of Watchung and Grove in Montclair and who is in her 70's, is a militant member of the organization.)

Furthermore, a great many people who delay in joining our organizations are afraid to, because they have defense jobs or relatives in the armed forces. Our organization is a good one to belong to because we are not radical in our treatment of the subject. Coughlan has been too radical and is now out of business. We intend to keep out of jail because nobody can accuse us of such activities. All they can do is to condemn us in generality but cannot specifically lay their thumb on any one thing that we might say or print.

B. Well, haven't you been accused of being Hitler's willing or unwilling tools?

(Here, A. smiled again in a very superior manner and extracted from his brief case another sheet of yellow paper which he handed to B., pointing out a certain paragraph which was a rather clever piece of sophistry.)

A. This is our answer to such a remark.

(The paragraph read approximately as follows or at least conveyed the quoted idea)

"The fact that peace loving Americans want peace is purely coincidental with the fact that Hitler does not want them to fight. Would you forego something that you want simply to deny Hitler something that he wants — and furthermore, how do you know what Hitler wants anyway?"

Former Congressman HENRY C. LUCKEY of Lincoln was the principal speaker of the evening. LUCKEY PAUL, grandson of HENRY C. [redacted] stated that he was not familiar with the activities of the America First Committee at Lincoln, but he believed that it was not favorably received on the campus and did not exist for a very long period.

[redacted] stated that he had no knowledge or information concerning STANLEY LOWE, who was organizer of this group.

When questioned as to HENRY C. LUCKEY [redacted] stated that he was quite familiar with Mr. LUCKEY, and although he believed him somewhat radical in his theories, he did not believe he was un-American and had no knowledge of any un-American activities in which LUCKEY might have participated.

[redacted] stated that he had not known of the connection of AXEL LOUIS ELMQUIST with the America First Committee but believed that ELMQUIST had only become sponsor for this group after being solicited to do so by some of the student body who were interested in the organization of this group. [redacted]

[redacted] did not believe that there had been any activity of the America First Committee in Lincoln since December 7, 1941.

[redacted] advised that he did not believe there had been any activity by former members of the America First Committee at Lincoln since December 7, 1941. [redacted] stated that he was not familiar with either STANLEY LOWE or LUCKEY PAUL and did not know the names of any other members of the America First Committee in Lincoln. He stated further that [redacted]. It was thought that ELMQUIST had only acted as sponsor for the America First Committee at the solicitation of members of this group and had not been active at all in any of the meetings. [redacted]

[redacted] advised that he had no information as to the America First Committee.

[redacted] stated that he had never observed any un-American tendencies or activities on the part of ELMQUIST, and it was his belief that ELMQUIST had merely loaned his name as sponsor to the America First Committee to enable this organization to comply with the requirements of the University of Nebraska.

b2 b7D

[redacted] was contacted and questioned as to activities of members of the America First Committee subsequent to December, 1941. This informant advised that he was not at this time in possession of information concerning the group, but advised that he would obtain the same within a few days. Reporting Agent contacted this informant a few days later and was advised that informant did not believe there was presently any activity of the America First Committee in Lincoln. Informant stated that HENRY C. LUCKEY, who had been quite active in the America First Committee, was believed to be leading a very quiet life and as far as was known, was chiefly concerned with managing the considerable property which he owns in the vicinity of Lincoln. This informant stated that he had no knowledge of AXEL LOUIS ELMQUIST, listed as a sponsor for this group. This informant made discreet inquiry of individuals residing in the vicinity of Lincoln who had been known to be isolationists prior to December 7, 1941. From these contacts, informant was reasonably certain that there was presently no activity of the America First Committee at Lincoln.

A Morning World-Herald newspaper item of October 3, 1941, also had listed Miss MARIAN AXFORD as a speaker at the meeting of the America First Committee. [redacted] b1C

[redacted]

In consideration of [redacted] her limited activity in connection with the America First Committee, Reporting Agent believes that Miss AFFORD'S intentions were not un-American, and there has been no indication that she has been engaged in any activity of this nature since December 7, 1941.

[redacted]

Portland, Oregon April 1, 1942.

"Dear Friends:

"Our recently organized Peace Group, formerly meeting in the Pythian Building will now meet regularly on Monday evenings at 7:45 at the Studio Bldg., 919 SW Taylor,(10th & Taylor) on the second floor (go to the end of the hall and turn left).

"Our platform now reads:

(1) We favor an early peace by mediation, with justice to all the nations.
(2) We believe that the war may be won, not merely by spending billions and losing millions of lives, but by presenting such just terms of pea to the opposing nations as shall cause the people of those nations t demand their acceptance.
(3) It shall not be a part of our peace aims to maintain the colo

"possession of any nation, but rather every country should be free, having its own trade with all the nations, with no one nation or Empire having its own trade with all the nations, with no one nation or Empire having a monopoly of materials.
(4) We oppose the "Union Now" plan for the U.S.A. and Gt. Britain, or any joint policing of the world when peace is restored, or any such plan that does not include all the nations.
(5) No one nation shall be disarmed more than other nations, for we must not have another Treaty of Versailles, to pave the way for another war.
(6) All nations, large or small, must have freedom of the seas.
(7) We favor an adequate defense of our own nation, rather than spreading our men and resources all over the world.
(8) We shall strive to elect those officials who are most likely to carry out such a peace program, and whose past record is most creditable.

"All loyal citizens of the U.S.A., regardless of political party, who are not fascist, Nazi or Communist sympathizers, are invited to join this organization.

"The following are proposals for immediate action recently adopted:

1. We ask Congress to demand immediate independence for India or else the U.S.A. will make, if possible, a separate peace with the Axis powers, withdrawing all their forces from outside this hemisphere.
2. We ask Congress to publish in the Congressional Record all the texts of negotiations between the U.S.A. and Japan, giving both sides, so the American people may know why we are in the war. We also ask Congress to publish the complete texts of all peace proposals that the Axis powers may give in the future together with the replies that our government makes to these proposals.
3. We ask Congress to guarantee safe passage of surplus food from the U.S.A. to the starving neutrals of Europe.

"Bring your friends who are not in favor of a "long war", or phone them, getting copies of our platform to as many as would appreciate such a plan. Is the above movement needed? - Then help us achieve our goal.

"Yours sincerely,

"PAUL COTTON."

[redacted] attended a meeting of the above organization held in the Studio Building, at 919 Southwest Taylor, on the evening of April 6, 1942, and a summary of the meeting as reported by [redacted] is set out as follows.

[redacted] An American flag was draped behind the speaker's table. The meeting was opened at approximately 8:15 p.m. by an individual who revealed his name as Dr. COTTON. At his request all individuals present stood and sang "The Star Spangled Banner." COTTON indicated that the quotations which he would make during his lecture were to be quoted from the periodicals entitled "Post War Preventative Council" and from the "National Council to Prevent War." Everyone present was going to be given a chance to talk, according to Dr. COTTON, and from the general comments that were made, [redacted] stated that he was of the opinion that the gathering was definitely anti-British, anti-Roosevelt, anti-Churchill, and anti-Eleanor Roosevelt, and in addition thereto, Wendell Willkie came in for his share of criticism. All were called war agitators by COTTON. COTTON was indicated by [redacted] as being very "cagey" and gave approbation to any suggestion made. According to [redacted] it was thought that the meeting was connected with the America First Committee because of the following circumstances. The question was asked from the audience if President Roosevelt had a right to give an opinion on India, and COTTON answered by saying that he wasn't a lawyer and was sorry that DELMORE LESSARD was not present on that occasion to answer the question. [redacted]

[redacted] in view of possible racial prejudices that might be raised. In that connection, he indicated that racial prejudices were injected into the meeting in the following manner: that a man and a woman in the audience who seemed very rabid said that they had heard that the Jews were buying all the land from the Japs who were being evacuated and were importing Negroes to work the land in question. In answer thereto, COTTON said that the Japs were first given a number of days to evacuate and that General DeWITT then changed the order and gave the Japs 48 hours to leave and as a result, the junkmen in California, particularly, would stand around and purchase Japanese property for a few cents on the dollar.

[redacted] commented on the fact that the trend of the meeting seemed to be more or less in sympathy with the Japanese. In addition thereto, the name of LEW AYRES, the motion picture actor recently enrolled in the conscientious objector camp in this area, was brought up. The individuals present thought that it was too bad that AYRES had to pay for his board and keep while various Japanese people who were interned or placed in work camps earned money for their services. It was further noted that COTTON stated he had written to various motion picture houses, asking them not to take the AYRES pictures off the screen and urged all persons present at the meeting to patronize the AYRES pictures.

It was indicated that the organization as yet had no name and he was undecided as to what kind of a name to give the group. Consideration was given by COTTON to affiliating with some national organization which had the same views of isolationism. COTTON also revealed that it might be better for the organization to have no name at all, and he urged the individuals present to pass out copies of the platform and invitation mentioned, but not to give the distribution very much publicity, as the platform and invitation might fall into the hands of people who might not be friendly. In other words, according to [redacted] it was indicated that the members present be very choosy in the people they asked to attend the meetings.

In this connection, attention is again called to the interview reporting Agent had with [redacted] b

[redacted] also stated that it was indicated from a discussion in the audience that the organization was not interested in having another peace like the last one, which kept Germany down. He also touched on the treaty between Japan and Germany, to the effect that Japan was only to come to the assistance of Germany in the event that Germany was attacked and there were certain remarks made during the course of the discussion that indicated that there was a general feeling that the United States Navy had attacked the German ship "Bismark" as well as other German naval craft, before Germany attacked the United States.

As far as framing future policies of the organization, mention was made by COTTON of the National Council to Prevent War, which he indicated was at the time meeting in the Stock Exchange Building in Portland.

During the course of the meeting, a collection of $3.50 was made, out of which $2.50 in expenses were deducted. According to [redacted] the individuals present were of the older class of persons and, in his opinion, were definitely and apparently below the average type of person. There were, however, a man and woman present in the crowd who were apparently very well dressed and whom [redacted] was of the opinion might be paid propagandists. Their identity, however, was not ascertained. He was further of the opinion that many of the individuals present appeared to be of German descent or German nationals, and some of them spoke brokenly, in his opinion. In addition to the above discussion, mention was also made of British policy in India and it was pointed out that Britain could definitely not be trusted by India because of its previous colonial policy.

[redacted] did not meet anyone present at the meeting and people generally seemed to stay by themselves. None of them were recognized. [redacted] felt that in view of the fact that he was Jewish, that he had been spotted or was watched carefully by COTTON.

b2 b7D [redacted] has been contacted and advised that he has not attended any further meetings of instant organization.

On April 8, 1942, [redacted] residing at [redacted] reported to Special Employee [redacted] Agent [redacted] by telephone, that one [redacted] an electrical b7C b7D contractor in Portland, residing at [redacted] had been circulating America First literature and had been very active in making statements against the government, especially since America entered the war. A check of the indices of this office concerning prior information on [redacted] has brought negative results.

b2 b7D b7C [redacted] by written report dated March 24 and March 27, 1942, advised this office, among other things, of certain information regarding present activities of the America First Committee. A complete record of this information furnished by [redacted] is being retained in Portland file 100-1269. The basis of [redacted] information was a conversation in his office with [redacted] According to [redacted] at one time was connected with anti-Semitic organizations and the conversation [redacted] had with [redacted] was reported by [redacted] That portion pertaining to America First Committee in substance is set out here as follows.

[redacted] advised that he had been told that the America First Committee was disbanded at the start of the present war but that on the Monday prior to the interview with [redacted] had attended an organization meeting in the Studio Building, the head of which was Dr. PAUL COTTON. He stated, however, that the real head was DELMORE LESSARD and, [redacted]

Attention is called at this point to the fact that [redacted] has advised reporting Agent that when LESSARD resigned, PAUL COTTON was the acting chairman of the committee and likewise, COTTON has stated that he was the acting chairman. [redacted] LESSARD was asked where the inquirer could get certain America First literature. The answer was that the literature could be obtained from Reverend COTTON

[redacted] went on in his report of conversation [redacted] to state that LESSARD, [redacted] was an occasional speaker at the Monday evening meetings in the Studio Building, but [redacted] was unable to advise as to whether or not any anti-Semitism was preached at the meetings. [redacted]

As far as COTTON's attitude on anti-Semitism is concerned, [redacted] was unable to furnish any information in that connection. However, he did indicate that COTTON thought that DELLMORE LESSARD was one of the greatest men in America. It was further indicated that one of COTTON's staunch supporters was an individual by the name of [redacted] was further advised by [redacted] that the only head of anti-Semitism in the city of Portland was DELLMORE LESSARD, and [redacted] acquaintance with LESSARD, according to [redacted] has dated from the spring of 1939.

[redacted] indicated that LESSARD for a period of time has been attempting to form an organization of his own, known as "Waxus," meaning White American Christians of the United States. It is LESSARD's intention, according to [redacted] to draw a definite line of demarkation between the Christian people of the United States and the Jewish population. The plan of the organization is similar to that utilized by the Mantle Club and the head of the organization is to be secret and to be designated by the title of Montezuma. Membership is to be $10 per year and all membership funds are to be diverted to the Montezuma.

In connection with the Waxus meetings, [redacted] indicated to [redacted] that he had attended organizational meetings whenever such meetings were held, and a new group of individuals seemed to appear at each succeeding organizational meeting after the older ones had abandoned the project in disgust. There was no further indication, according to [redacted] as to just what progress LESSARD had made in further organization of Waxus

It was further indicated that LESSARD attempted to inject anti-Semitism into the national America First set-up and took a trip to Washington shortly after or shortly before America First came out as an organization, at which time contact was made by LESSARD with Colonel Lindbergh, Rush D. Holt, and many other people in Washington. It was also indicated that LESSARD had contacted General WOOD, of Chicago, and other America First leaders. In [redacted] s opinion, according to [redacted] LESSARD stayed clear of anti-Semitism in his first conversations with General WOOD, for the reason that when General WOOD became definitely aware of LESSARD's anti-Semitism, the control of the America First organization in the State of Oregon was turned over to [redacted] with complete authority to disband the organization or to keep it functioning, as he saw fit. [redacted] indicated that he expected future contact with [redacted] and, if possible, would secure further information regarding the present set-up of the America First Committee in Portland.

In passing, it should be noted that [redacted] stated to [redacted] definitely that the organization meeting under the chairmanship of PAUL COTTON was the reminiscence of the old America First Committee.

In connection with the above report [redacted] attention is called to the fact that [redacted] on several different occasions has been interviewed by reporting Agent in this office and other information furnished by [redacted] in addition to that furnished by [redacted] from the interview indicates that Waxus was formed by LESSARD around 1938 from picked members of the old Anti-Immigration League which was founded in Portland in 1922, [redacted] Among the individuals present at the first Waxus meetings, according to [redacted], was one [redacted] present address, [redacted] has a lot of information about the old Anti-Immigration League, which, according to [redacted] was formed during the above period to distribute propaganda against the loose immigration laws. [redacted] according to [redacted] however, did not attend any Waxus meetings after 1938, and [redacted] did attend approximately three meetings in LESSARD's office in the summer and fall of 1940, which was during the WENDELL WILLKIE campaign.

Different people attended these meetings, according to [redacted] and although the group was small and he didn't remember all of the names of those present, he indicated that he distinctly remembered the following individuals being present: [redacted] according to [redacted] who presently resides at [redacted] had something to do with the Waxus organization and, according to [redacted] was mixed up during that same period with a possible reorganization of the Ku Klux Klan. [redacted] was indicated as being former partial owner of the [redacted]

During the three Waxus meetings that [redacted] attended, he indicated that LESSARD preached anti-Semitism, with particular quotations being made from the 17th and 18th chapters of Revelations, showing how the Jew was to be destroyed. According to [redacted] LESSARD was after him to head this organization, but, according to [redacted] LESSARD's chief purpose for the organization was to get money. In addition to the fee mentioned in the report of [redacted] stated that there was a $10 initiation fee, plus $10 a year dues, and LESSARD was to remain under cover as the top figure in the group. Indian names were to be used to designate the officers of the organization.

During this same period, according to [redacted] and contact FRITZ WEIDEMANN, then German consul in San Francisco, and the Japanese consul in San Francisco, to tell them about the organization and, if possible, to secure their financial support. [redacted] was also asked to contact an individual by the name of [redacted] was indicated at that time as [redacted] California. [redacted] advised, however, that he never did contact the individual above described for the reason that he did not believe in LESSARD's anti-Semitic ideas, which, according to [redacted] was the sole reason for the desire to contact WEIDEMANN and the others.

The last contact [redacted] had with LESSARD was in January of 1942, when [redacted] also mentioned the fact that at LESSARD's request he contacted an individual with German connections who [redacted] the purpose being to secure financial support, if possible, from this individual for the America First and Waxus organizations. [redacted] stated that although he did talk to the individual in question, he, [redacted] did not express any German sympathies or personally solicit the support of the party. [redacted] did not recall the individual's name but stated that he was advised by that individual that [redacted] As a matter of fact, according to [redacted] money was received from this individual by LESSARD and it should be noted that the transaction is mentioned in reference report. The unknown individual described by [redacted] is unquestionably [redacted]

To summarize [redacted] connection with the America First Committee, [redacted] Through his connection with the organization and as a result of requests by LESSARD, [redacted] speeches made in Portland by the following individuals in behalf of the America First Committee: GERALD P. NYE, KATHLEEN NORRIS, Senator RUSH D. HOLT, Senator RUFUS HOLMAN, of Oregon, and Senator BURTON K. WHEELER.

[redacted] stated that he has in his possession a large volume of correspondence in connection with the America First Committee which he will make available to this office.

[redacted] has questioned, [redacted] who was a member of the America First Committee during LESSARD's regime, which touches on the handling of funds collected from members of the group by LESSARD. Questions and answers are in certified form. However, [redacted] refused to sign the same, according to [redacted] The questions propounded and the answers thereto are not being set out in this report, due to the fact that it is thought that they have no present bearing in connection herewith. However, the same are being retained in instant file for possible future reference.

On April 13, 1942, [redacted] attended a meeting of the Race Group which was held in the Studio Building under the same circumstances as reported by [redacted] According to [redacted] the meeting opened with the usual patriotic songs and a pledge of allegiance to the flag. The meeting was conducted by Dr. PAUL COTTON and it was attended by a total of twenty-three persons, [redacted] All individuals present seemed to be over 40 years of age and in extremely moderate circumstances. The evening was spent in a denouncement of the Government for its war-like activities and it was brought out that India had turned down Sir STAFFORD CRIPPS' proposal and that India was very smart in doing so. One of the points that was particularly stressed in the meeting was that the United States should make a separate peace if Great Britain did not grant India immediat independence. Other statements were made that tended to show that Japan was really not the aggressor, but the United States was, in the present conflict.

[redacted] said that COTTON urged those present to transmit this information to their friends and that by doing so, they could not get in trouble as long as they didn't shout it from the housetop. COTTON indicated that he could get into trouble, but the members of the organization could not. One woman, unknown to [redacted] during the course of the meeting arose and said that she was afraid that Dr. COTTON would be incarcerated for discussing his sentiments and the sentiments of the group. Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH's name was mentioned during the course of the meeting.

[redacted] indicated that the entire meeting was very smoothly and capably handled by COTTON and the apparent intention of the meeting was to sow the seeds of discontent and to place the blame for the war upon Great Britain. [redacted] noted that Germany was not mentioned at all during the entire evening in a critical sort of way, or otherwise.

According to [redacted] it was interesting to him that in place of asking the people their names and addresses, they were offered pamphlets to read, provided that they signed their names and return them within a week or so. This seemed to be a clever way of finding out who was attending the meeting. A collection was taken up and $3 or $4 was the total sum involved. Dr. COTTON expressed himself openly as being well-pleased with the amount.

[redacted] has not attended any further meetings of instant organization.

[redacted] attended a meeting of instant organization on April 20, 1942, and submitted a written report of the activities during the meeting. The original report is being retained in instant file and is quoted as follows:

"I arrived at the meeting room, the assembly hall of the Studio Bldg. on the second floor at 7:50 P.M. where PAUL COTTON was delivering pamphlets to those assembled. "The Peace that Failed" is one of the pamphlets distributed_ I was unable to secure a copy of this pamphlet but was able to secure a pamphlet entitled "India and The War" enclosed with this report, another matter which is being sent out is a copy of the Congressional record reporting a speech by CLARE HOFFMAN of Michigan ? dated Jan. 27th & 30th entitled "Haul down the Stars and Stripes." 1000 of these copies are being sant for and will be available at the next meeting.

"The meeting opened with the singing of the Stat Spangled Banner followed by the mass recitation of the "Pledge of Allegiance." COTTON then read the platform contained in the circular mailed to me and proceded to discuss the same.

"The theme of his talk appeared to be "the peace to follow the war" COTTON urged that we be tolerant to thenations involved win or lose that there should not be another "Versailles," he quoted from a German pamphlet concerning the "fault" of the last war which was not placed on Germany but pointed out the Austrian Hungary dispute immediately prior. He stated this pamphlet was not an American propagand piece but was used as a history study in the German schools his words "We find, then, that the fault was not that of Germany who attempted to prevent war. He indicated that Hitler's rise to power came as a result of the Versailles treaty, that the Germans after the war tried a democracy an_ a "perfect" one at that, but because of the refusal of the English and allied powers to grant trade concessions this failed and Hitler's forces grew until he was placed in power. He stated that while he was hopeful that a system such as Germany had would become a fact in the U. S. A. that he was afraid that it would happen here, and that he hoped that if it did it would be on a considerable higher plane than that which Hitler has brought to Germany. He has openly criticized the British Imperialistic policy and the taking of colonies by the British & French as a result of Versailles. He seemed familiar with the history of Germany ---(illegible) the 1st World War & cited instance of French seizing upper Silesia contrary to the Versailles treaty; the attempt of the Germans to enter into a mutual trade agreement with Hungary or Austria whom he claimed was 90% German anyway & which attempt was turned down by the allied powers flatly.

"He cited from a text of WINSTON CHURCHILL after or during the last war as follows "900000 (?) are starving in Germany now is the time to talk of peace" as an example of the kind of man who is to dictate the peace after this war "Churchill Stalin & Roosevelt" it being apparent "that these men did not meet with his approval. COTTON repeatedly cautioned against the dissemination of material to persons who might think the organization subversive and thruout the speech while justifying Germany in many senses COTTON returned to the thought that "We are Americans trying to make a more perfect America." However the lasting impression one had was that Germany was thoroughly justified in its position that England was the party at fault and that the United States and its present administration was playing into the hands of England, by issuing statements which would cause the German people to believe that if conquered the same results would occur in peace that followed as happened as a result of the Versailles treaty and that therefor the German people followed Hitler as the only alternative. He stated that it was therefor advisable to sue for peace with Germany i.e. with the people who after the horrors of war with the Russians during the past winter would welcome such a proposal its terms were just, fair, and reasonable & if Hitler was opposed to such a plan the people would force him into the background so that such a proposal would be accepted & welcomed with open arms.

"COTTON further stated that we are led to believe that the Germans are a cruel, uncivilized, and non-religious people, and stated that if we look at the German in America we know this is not true and that we in America are notoriously poor at attending church ourselves & hence should not critize Germans.

"Numerous references were made concerning a letter received from a candidate for office stating that COTTON should be deported.

"A slight discussion was held and DELMORE LESSARD asked that D. D. HAIL a candidate for state legislature say a few words. It appears that HAIL was the party who wrote the letter to COTTON concerning his deportation and who told the assembly that he opposed every matter & platform for which they stood. He was talked to and interrupted and amid general bedlam requiring the appearance of COTTON with upraised hand at numerous occasions HAIL presented his views. Immediately following COTTON called on DELMORE LESSARD who seems to be the guiding hand who keeps the group within reason to rebut the statement of Major HAIL.

"LESSARD's contention was that we should not aid the British whose empire is already lost. That England refused the seas to all except those she desired to use them. That Hitler was not interested in the U. S. A. and was too busy in Europe that our destiny lay in the Pacific & our interested should be confined there. That we should bend every effort to win the war, but that the administration should not allow the Jewish international bankers the right to start prosecute & run the war, and that the Jews controlling the situation were favored in Washington. Major HAIL appeared to agree with statement about the Jewish international banker.

"D. D. HAIL met a great many of those assembled, and entered into several post meeting discussions in one of which one woman was overheard to offer HAIL some literature concerning the views of this group.

"There apparently is no new name of the organization, but material seems to be continuous to be sent to COTTON from some source other than local.

"My impression is that COTTON is definitely pro-German in his feeling but nothing was mentioned concerning Japan by him.

"LESSARD is either sincere in his convictions concerning Jewish international bankers and England or is a moderator for COTTON from the standpoint of legal protection or otherwise. LESSARD attended this meeting in a condition of physical weakness due to an apparently serious & painful bowel disorder, stating that he had been under narcotic treatment for some 2 weeks.

"There was an attendance of about 34 or 35 people at the meeting. The name of each party securing a pamphlet is taken by COTTON when he distributes them. The group is composed of primarily women most of whom are of average or lower middle class. The list follows of those whose name I was able to secure

[redacted] b7c

"The executive committee consists of the secretary a young man whose name I did not learn - apparently a Hitler sympathiser - COTTON, LESSARD, [redacted] and one other member whom I do not know who is the pianist for the songs. Also [redacted]

[redacted] in addition to the above meeting, was able to attend for a sh time a subsequent meeting held in the same place on April 24, 1942, at which time [redacted] It is pointed out the above report of [redacted] that LESSARD had written to CLARE HOFFMAN for the p of securing excerpts from the Congressional Record, from the speech HOFFMAN which is mentioned above. A reply had been received from HOFFMAN, accordin [redacted] which indicated in substance that he was unable to secure the excerpt the Congressional Record, in view of the fact that he, HOFFMAN, was being prosecuted by un-American interests in Washington. At this last meeting, resolution was passed by those present to support HOFFMAN and at that time advised that LESSARD drafted a letter commending HOFFMAN on his stand on Americanism and on his loyalty and advised the members present to support

It should be noted that the [redacted] mentioned above is probably identical with the [redacted] mentioned previously in this report. [redacted] have been reported to this office for Silver Shirt activities. [redacted] name is unknown. [redacted] was a recent [redacted] and [redacted] as previously pointed out, has been noted for her America First activities. It should be noted that [redacted] advised that [redacted] circularized the meeting with [redacted] by means of a small piece of paper with his name inscribed thereon containing his views or theories or beliefs. It is religious in tone and is not being quoted herein. However, one of the circulars is being retained in instant file, with notations thereon by [redacted]

Attention is called to the fact that [redacted] mentioned herein, talked with COTTON on May 28, 1942, [redacted] however, no information was secured as to whether or not COTTON would continue his activities while in that community. COTTON denied that that time, according to [redacted], that his organization was in any way connected with the America First Committee. It is noted that [redacted]

Offices receiving copies of this report will consider the names mentioned herein residing within their territory as possibly being connected with activities of the America First Committee.

DETAILS:

AT BUTTE, MONTANA

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] at Butte, Montana, on April 10, 11, 17, 18, 20, and 21, 1942.

From a review of the files of the Butte Field Division relative to any information contained therein pertaining to the America First Committee it was determined that on January 14, 1942, [redacted] whose identity has been previously furnished to the Bureau, informed this office that a new peace organization had come into existence in Butte, Montana, and that the local secretary of this organization, known as the America First Committee, is MISS MARGARET LAUGHRIN, who resides at [redacted] Butte, Montana.

He further advised this office that some literature had been passed out by this committee and that one of the circulars he had received was entitled "What Every Citizen Can Do To Defeat the War Bill," and that this circular was issued in the National Headquarters for the America First Committee at 141 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois. He also furnished this office with other circulars he had obtained which were forwarded to the Bureau and are not being set out as they are not believed to be pertinent to this investigation.

It is noted that on February 5, 1941, [redacted] called at the Butte Field Division and stated that the America First Committee was sponsoring a trip to Helena, Montana, in order to appear before the Senate Legislative Federal Relations Committee for the purpose of opposing the passage of a movement in the Montana legislature to endorse the actions of President ROOSEVELT on his Lend Lease Measures.

[redacted] advised that the Butte representatives for the America First Committee for the aforementioned trip were headed by MARGARET LAUGHRIN and that the following persons, many of whom are connected with the Communist party, are making the trip: [redacted] all of Butte, Montana.

Informant further advised that the representatives at this legislative session offered verbal protests to the measures before the Montana State Legislature and advised the Legislature that the America First Committee does not represent any political party, nor does it represent any particular social group.

On April 17, 1942, (C) [redacted] was again interviewed relative to any information he might possess concerning the activities of the America First Committee, and he advised that the America First Committee has not been active in Butte, Montana; continuing he stated that the Communist group immediately broke away from the America First Committee when Russia and Germany went to war and that even previous to that they had never really taken an active part in this organization.

He stated that MARGARET LAUGHRIN was the Secretary or Chairman of this organization and that it was composed of several women who never really took an active part except to pass out a few circulars and handle hand bills, attempting to keep this country from passing the Lend Lease Measure and also from entering the present conflict. 55507

He further stated that after this country entered the war, it was his understanding that the America First Committee had quit functioning and that the organization is presently dormant in Butte, Montana.

In regard to MISS MARGARET LAUGHRIN, (C) [redacted] stated that MISS LAUGHRIN appears to be a reliable individual and has taken an active part in welfare work in Butte, Montana; that to his knowledge she had never been a member of the Communist Party, nor is she inclined to sympathize with the group, however, that she has had considerable influence in political groups due to her friendship with Senator BURTON K. WHEELER.

(C) [redacted] stated that it is his opinion that this organization is presently inactive and that with this country entering the war and the lack of organization which this particular group had previous to our entering the war, that it could not possibly survive at the present time. He stated that in the event he should receive any information which might indicate that this organization is still active, or is attempting to reorganize, he would immediately furnish such information to this office. It was determined through discreet inquiries of persons known to be reliable to this office and who have previously cooperated with this office, that MISS MARGARET LAUGHRIN [redacted] is believed to be reliable.

[redacted] advised that since the war has been declared there have been no pamphlets or circulars to his knowledge [redacted] at Butte, Montana.

53508

On April 21, 1942, [redacted] advised reporting Agent that the America First Committee came into existence in 1941 at the suggestion of MRS. BURTON K. WHEELER, wife of Senator WHEELER who furnished MISS MARGARET LAUGHRIN'S name to the National Headquarters at New York City, requesting them to furnish MISS LAUGHRIN with literature. [redacted] stated that MISS LAUGHRIN, in view of MRS. WHEELER'S suggestion, became secretary or chairman of the organization, but that it was impossible for her to find sufficient time to organize a strong chapter of the America First Committee in Butte, Montana.

She advised that the only activity participated in by members of the America First Committee was the connection with a speech made at Butte by Congressman O'CONNELL at which time a large amount of literature was passed out to those attending, and also at one time a number of representatives of the Butte America First Committee attended a legislative session at Helena, Montana, to protest against a motion being made there to endorse the policies of President ROOSEVELT in regard to the Lend Lease Measure.

This Informant further stated that the America First Committee in Butte, Montana, received contributions amounting to $5.00 or $6.00, and that not a single member of the organization had ever paid their dues in accordance with the requirements of the National Headquarters; that the previously mentic amount is still being retained by MRS. DEAN PATTERSON who acts as treasurer for the group.

[redacted] further informed that there was never any regular election of officers for this group and that MISS MARGARET LAUGHRIN was the only real official officer of the organization. She stated that afte war was declared that MISS LAUGHRIN received a couple of communications from the National Headquarters advising that the America First Committee was being dissolved and that there were certain deficiencies to be met, requesting the Butte Chapter to forward to the National Headquarters their dues so these deficiencies could be met. She advised that to her knowledge MISS LAUGHRIN never replied to these letters and that it was not necessary for the America First Committee to have any meetings to dissolve, inasmuch as it was in reali an inactive organization from the very start.

[redacted] related that she recalled reading somethir in the "Madison Progressive" to the effect that CHARLES LINDBERGH had made a mention of the fact that this organization should attempt keeping its member and become a political party. She advised that to her knowledge MISS LAUGHR had never received any letters or communications indicating that the suggest of CHARLES LINDBERGH was being followed by the America First Committee.

AT BILLINGS, MONTANA

[redacted] on April 12, 1942, reported that he had received information from [redacted] that [redacted] b2 b7D

AT PINEVIEW, MONTANA

On April 16, 1942, [redacted] advised that [redacted] He advised that some time ago she spoke over Station KGHL, Billings, Montana, for the America First Committee. He also advised that she frequently makes statements opposing the participation of the United States in the present war. He advised that she stated that she would not let her son, [redacted] b7 be drafted under the Selective Service Act. He also advised that [redacted] is between twenty and twenty-five years old, but has not been called to serve as yet.

AT BILLINGS, MONTANA

It is noted that a chapter of the America First Committee was known to exist in Billings, Montana, and that HARRY H. MILLER, National Bonds, Inc., was known to be the director of this chapter.

Through the cooperation of [redacted] it was ascertained that [redacted] b2 b7D

[redacted] b7C

It is noted that [redacted]

[redacted] on May 11, 1942, advised that he had conducted an investigation of [redacted] who formerly resided in Billings, Montana, and that his investigation revealed that [redacted] was active in the America First Committee. He also advised that [redacted] He advised that [redacted] could furnish further information concerning [redacted] activities in the America First Committee. b2 b7C b7D

It is noted that [redacted]

[redacted] and during the course of the interview furnished the following information concerning the America First Committee in Billings, Montana.

WILLARD E. FRASER organized and acted as Secretary of the America First Committee in Billings and did nothing else for quite a while. During this time he wrote numerous articles which were published in the Midland Review, Billings, Montana, and the Picket-Journal, Red Lodge, Montana. These articles and numerous speeches delivered by FRASER criticized President ROOSEVELT as a war monger and encouraged the United States not to aid England.

Certain political and family connections probably caused FRASER to become interested in the America First Committee. FRASER married the daughter of a poet named FROST. The FROST family and the MORROW family were friendly. FRASER attended the University of Colorado with one of the MORROW family and consequently became a friend of CHARLES A. LINDBERG who at one time worked in a garage in Billings. Through these connections and due to a violent dislike for England, FRASER became enthusiastic about the America First Committee principles.

[redacted] also advised that FRASER and the America First Committee received sympathy from the following prominent men of Billings, Montana. He was unable to advise whether or not they had contributed to its support.

[redacted]

[redacted] advised that [redacted] still advocates that the United States bring back its Army and Navy to this country and let the rest of the world go without aid. However, he volunteered that none of the above mentioned persons, including WILLARD FRASER, were disloyal to the United States at the present time. It is noted that [redacted] stated that the America First Committee had disbanded and had no activity at the present. However, he advised that although he thinks that WILLARD FRASER is not disloyal that he believes it would be a good idea to determine whether or not FRASER is advocating the ideals he previously advocated.

[redacted] on May 15, 1942, advised that he could not recommend any of the above mentioned persons, who were supporters of the America First Committee, as proper persons to contact discreetly concerning the present activities of the America First Committee.

A review of the Butte files reflects that [redacted] reported that WILLARD FRASER, President of the America First Committee, made a speech over the Z-Bar Net advocating that the United States purchase goods manufactured in China. The factories in China are owned by Japanese and it was rumored, according to [redacted] that FRASER was paid to make this speech by someone close to Japan.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

AT GREAT FALLS, MONTANA

The following persons, all of Great Falls, Montana, were personally contacted on June 4 and 5, 1942, with reference to obtaining information regarding any possibly activity of, or possible members of, the America First Committee, or any branch thereof, in the vicinity of Great Falls, Montana.

[redacted]

All of the above named persons advised that they have never heard of an America First Committee or a branch thereof in the Great Falls community. They advised that in the event they are able to learn of any such activity, they will immediately contact the Butte Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and report all of the information that they have.

AT LEWISTOWN, MONTANA

On June 2, 1942, [redacted] were personally contacted and interviewed relative to obtaining any information they might have in their possession in regard to the America First Committee.

Both of the above named individuals advised that to the best of their knowledge there has never been in existence in Lewistown such an organization. [redacted] have never heard of any local branch of said committee or of individual membership therein in the community.

[redacted] advised that there has never come to his attention information which would indicate that the America First Committee is or was organized in the Lewistown area. He stated that to the best of his knowledge there are no members of the America First Committee in the territory.

All of the persons contacted were instructed to keep the above matter in strictest confidence. They advised that they will be glad to cooperate with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the above matter and will immediately notify the Butte Office if pertinent information should come into their possession.

AT BOISE, IDAHO

b7c [redacted] The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] on April 28, 29, and May 4, 1942.

b2 b7D [redacted] advised that during the summer of 1941, Justice of the Peace ROBERT W. ADAMS had been elected head of the America First Organization in Boise, and that he understood that he had lost a great deal of his business as the result of his being associated with this isolationist group. He went on to say that he [redacted] that an organizational meeting had voted the leadership to him without his consent and against his will. [redacted] advised that Mr. ADAMS was never very active in the organization so far as he knows. He recalled that the group sponsoring the America First Organization in Boise held a few meetings, but that as far as he knows, the movement "died" quite some time ago and there has been no evidence that it has been active in any way since war was declared against Japan.

b7c b2D [redacted] stated that America First had some sort of an organization in Boise during the summer months of 1941, but that nothing had been heard of the group in recent months. He went on to say that he did not believe that the America First Organization in Boise had ever held any meeting of any consequence and that, if the members were still meeting quietly, [redacted] stated that he has been acquainted with Justice of the Peace ROBERT W. ADAMS in a business way for several years, and believes that he is a loyal and patriotic individual. He added that he did not know that Mr. ADAMS is or was connected with the America First Organization in any way.

[redacted], who is a prominent merchant and a person who is very active in fraternal organization affairs, advised that quite some time ago he recalls seeing an article in one of the newspapers to the effect that the America First Committee was trying to organize locally. He stated that so far as he knows, the organization never did materialize in an active way and that there is no activity of any kind on its part at the present time. [redacted] stated that CHARLES A. LINDBERG had visited Boi on a tour of the country immediately following his successful solo flight to Europe, and had been widely acclaimed, but that LINDBERG's isolationist attitude in later years had not been popular in Idaho due to the fact that so many Idaho families had sons serving in the armed forces.

At the office of the Superintendent of Mails, it was ascertained that the America First Committee had never had a post office box or had any order been furnished the post office department indicating that mail should be forwarded to any particular person who represented this organization.

Assistant United States Attorney E. H. CASTERLIN, who is prominent in political affairs, advised that the America First Committee had been relatively inactive in Idaho. He stated that there were a few isolationists who approved of the program advanced by America First and may have tried to develop an organization to affiliate therewith. He added that so far as he knows, there is no activity of any sort attributable to America First in Idaho at the present time.

[redacted] This investigation was continued until January, 1942, but it failed to develop anything definite relative to an America First Committee organization in Boise. [redacted] stated that he believes that the movement was among a group of disorganized sympathizers who were trying to organize and affiliate with the Committee and that several meetings were said to have been held to accomplish this purpose. He stated that the organization was never very active and that nothing had been heard of it in recent months.

[redacted] telephonically advised that on February 10, 1942, he contacted [redacted] in connection with a neighborhood investigation. During his conversation with [redacted] the latter mentioned the America First Committee and [redacted] attempted to draw him out on the subject. He was informed about the Committee and he was led to believe that there were a number of sympathizers among the Germans living in the particular area, but that they were not organized. [redacted] advised that he had heard rumors that about a year ago, America First meetings had been held in Boise, but that he had received no information in recent months which would indicate that the movement or sympathizers were active in any way at the present time.

b7C [redacted]

[redacted] advised that he knew nothing regarding [redacted] and had never heard that any of these persons had been connected with America First Committee.

AT CALDWELL, IDAHO

[redacted] advised that Caldwell had had a local unit of the America First Committee about a year ago. He stated that there has been no indication that there has been any activity of this group since the fall of 1941. When the organization was active, according to [redacted] VERA and PAUL FLORY were active in the group and the Boise Valley Herald, published by A. CORNELL and I. W. CORNELL, carried publicity relative to America First matters. [redacted] stated that VERA FLORY had used Post Office Box 634, Caldwell, Idaho, in an effort to organize a group called "Boise Valley Affiliated Peace Organization" following the decline of the interest in America First.

b7C

A review of many back issues of the Boise Valley Herald in the possession of [redacted] disclosed that the issue of June 26, 1941, quoted an article appearing in the Boise Capital News on June 20, 1941, concerning a protest by National Committeeman RAY McKAIG of the America First Committee, Boise, Idaho, to Secretary DOUGLAS STUART, and a request that the Caldwell Chapter be refused a charter as long as A. CORNELL remained as president. The same edition contained an open letter to the America First Committee by A. CORNELL concerning McKAIG's charges that CORNELL was a sponsor of draft evasion.

The issue of the Boise Valley Herald for June 19, 1941, contains a plea from the "Boise Valley America First Headquarters" to citizens asking that letters be written to members of Congress to avoid involvement of the United States in a foreign war.

[redacted] b7c

[redacted] stated that so far as he knew, America First had never been active in Nampa, Idaho. b7c b7D

When [redacted] was interviewed May 4, 1942, relative to the Silver Shirt Legion, he furnished the following information relative to America First Committee activities in Caldwell, Idaho.

[redacted] stated that he joined the America First Committee, Caldwell Branch, in June, 1941, and at that time it was being "pushed" by PAUL and VERA FLORY. He stated that the Committee continued to be active until the United States became involved in war on December 7, 1942.

According to [redacted] meetings attended by him were held at the Caldwell City Hall or the Church of the Brethren in Nampa, Idaho. These meetings were held every week or every two weeks. He stated that he had no knowledge that any meetings are or were ever held in private homes.

Meetings were called by mailing postcards or by announcements on local radio stations.

Dues were not fixed, but the organization was maintained by those interested making donations according to their means. [redacted] stated that he usually contributed 10 cents at each meeting as that was all he could afford at the time.

Literature was passed out at these meetings and this was from the national organization.

Attendance at the Caldwell meetings attended by [redacted] had a group of about fifteen. Meetings at Nampa had approximately 200 in attendance which included many outsiders, according to [redacted]

According to [redacted] there was no formal dissolution of the Caldwell Branch, but it "just died out".

[redacted] stated that he believed the following were the officers of the Caldwell Branch of the America First Committee:

Chairman- - - - - -VERA FLORY
Secretary- - - - - Mrs. T. H. DARROW

Treasurer- - - -A. CORNELL
(Also active)- -PAUL FLORY

AT NAMPA, IDAHO

[redacted] advised that he had no knowledge that the America First Committee had ever had any supporters in Nampa, and that he felt reasonably certain that there was no activity of any sort by any such group in Nampa at the present time.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] in Lake, Flathead, Lincoln, Missoula, Mineral and Ravalli Counties, Montana.

In an effort to determine whether the America First Committee is organized either actively or otherwise, Agent contacted [redacted] and made discreet inquiries concerning the possibility that this organization is presently active, or whether any indication has been shown that an effort is being made to keep a mailing list active in the above mentioned counties. All inquiries have resulted in negative information. American Legion sources of information have also been contacted in each of the counties herein named without developing information of value.

[redacted] upon contact advised that they have not been aware of any circularization in the various cities or areas by the America First Committee, but that if such a situation should arise, this information would be transmitted to the office of the Butte Field Division.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

The following discreet and reliable individuals, who are in a position to be widely acquainted with activities in southeastern Idaho, were contacted concerning the existence or operation of the America First Organization in that territory, and concerning the identity of any persons living in that territory and known to be affiliated with, or interested in, such an organization. The results of this investigation were wholly negative.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed is an old flyer I came upon. I thought your office might want to keep it in the departmental files for future reference. [redacted] b7C [redacted] of Island Park arranged the meeting and a subsequent one. It opened upwith a salute to the U. S. flag in Nazilike fashion. The first two speakers condemned England and refugees---the usual America first line of attack. All this was long ago but one cannot help wondering where these people are now and if Mr. Kuzniok is a retired Army colonel, he might be a little looking up. He appeared as the highest authority on what England could not do militarily and he definitely gave a lot of misinformation as to conditions in continental Europe.

REFERENCE: Report of Special Agent [redacted] dated at Kansas City, Missouri, May 16, 1942.

DETAILS:

At Joplin, Missouri:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

[redacted] advised that to the best of his knowledge there has been absolutely no activity by the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in Joplin for the past year and a half. [redacted] further stated that the only person in Joplin who had ever done any organizational work for this group was a man by the name of ERNEST HINSON who at the present was doing nothing to further the organization although he is still a resident of Joplin. [redacted] further stated that he, together with some of the members of the City Council, had been members of this group until they became aware of the real purpose and that shortly after this, all activity ceased, this being about a year and a half ago.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] in September 1941 and that since that time he has heard absolutely nothing concerning any activities of b7c b7D [redacted] related that ERNEST HINSON was the organizer of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in Joplin about two years ago and also that after being active for about sixmonths in organizing and giving out literature, HINSON severed his connections and consequentl all activity had ceased. [redacted] further stated that no one had taken HINSON's place as there was no indication of any activity in any form in Joplin for the pas year or year and a half.

b2 b7D [redacted] upon contact advised that this was his understanding that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was organized about four years ago by ERNEST HINSON in Joplin, Missouri and also that this was one of the first chapters to be organized if not the very first. [redacted] further stated that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was incorporated in the State of Missouri and also that the only person who was promoting this group was HINSON who had come to Joplin from Elgin and Chicago, Illinois. The writer was advised that many prominent people in Joplin at one time belonged but about a year or a year and a half ago all activity ceased and nothing has been done by HINSON or anyone else along this line.

b7c b7D [redacted] upon contact advised that he knows of no activity in the America First Committee in Joplin at the present time.

At Salina, Kansas

b7c The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

[redacted]

b7c b7D [redacted] stated that Mrs. HOMSKA was the secretary of the AMERICA FIRST COMMIT He advised that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE wasnot very popular in and around Salina, however, they held one rally at which time Senator CLARK of Missouri and Senator of Kansas, CAPPER, made speeches. He advised that since the Pearl Harbor attack there has been no evidence of activity on the part of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE or any of its members.

[redacted] advised that a VERNER SMITH and Mrs. ZELIA BOSSEN HOMSAK, both of Salina, were the organizers o the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in Salina. [redacted] recalled that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE had one big rally in Salina some time in the Fall of 1941, at which time Senator CLARK of Missouri and Senator CAPPER of Kansas made speeches. Concerning VERNER SMITH, [redacted] advised that he is an American Legion man and has a son in the present conflict and is believed to be very patriotic and would not do anything to harm the United States now that we are in the present conflict. Relative to Mrs. HONSKA [redacted] advised that she had written many articles for the Salina Journal, some of these articles being of an un-American nature, however, since December 7, 1941 she has discontinued writing these articles and it is believed that her attitude has changed on the International situation. He advised further that Mrs. HONSKA's husband, who was a building contractor, passed away this spring and since then he has not heard much about Mrs. HONSKA. He stated that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE was not popular in Salina and they did not have a large membership.

b7D

[redacted] advised that VERNER SMITH was the Chairman for the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE at Salina, Kansas while Mrs. ZELLA BOSSEN HONSKA was the Secretary. The AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE headquarters were on South Santa Fe Street, however the organization was not very popular and they did not have a large membership. It is [redacted] knowledge that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE is not active any more, nor is there any indication that any of its members are attempting to organize. He advised that in the Fall of 1941 some literature was given to some of the inductees and that MR. F. A. MC CARTY, who is a member of the local Selective Service Board had called in the inductees and had taken signed statements from them, and he stated these signed statements were to the effect that Mrs. ZELLA BOSSEN HONSKA had given them the literature might before they were leaving for the Army and had requested them to call up to her home the next morning. According to [redacted] the inductees visited Mrs. HONSKA, however they did not take heed of her ill advice.

[redacted] stated that in the summer of 1941 a group of inductees received some literature from Mrs. ZELLA BOSSEN HONSKA who was secretary for the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE for the Salina territory and they decided to talk to Mrs. HONSKA prior to leaving for the armed services of the United States. After this talk [redacted] took signed statements from the inductees which were turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for investigation. It was through this manner that [redacted] became aware of the activities of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE. He advised that VERNER SMITH, an American Legion man, was chairman of the local chapter while Mrs. HONSKA was Secretary. He stated that the AMERICA FIRST movement was not very popular in Salina and thus the membership of the Committee was held to a minimum. The biggest event put on by the Committee took place in the Fall of 1941 and Senator CAPPER of Kansas and Senator CLARK of Missouri were engaged to speak at the Bowman's Park in Salina. According to [redacted] the Salina Chapter of the America First Committee maintained headquarters on South Santa Fe Street until the Pearl Harbor Attack, at which time the flags were taken down and the committee ceased to function. [redacted] had not heard of any effort to revive the committee and remarked that certainly WERNER SMITH, the last chairman of the group, did not do so because he is now behind the war effort of the United States and has a son in the service. In his opinion if anyone should attempt to revive the group it would be Mrs. HONSKA, who was very radical. However he had heard nothing to that effect.

[redacted], stated that the America First Committee was organized in Salina in May 1941 and maintained headquarters on South Santa Fe Street. He stated that [redacted] He advised that the group encountered many difficulties and many people in Salina turned against it. Therefore, they did not have many members. He stated that they held one rally in the fall of 1941 when Senator CLARK of Missouri and Senator CAPPER of Kansas gave talks on the International situation. He stated that after the Pearl Harbor Attack by the Japanese that the Committee disbanded completely and that they are not operating now.

[redacted] advised that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in Salina, Kansas was disbanded immediately after the Pearl Harbor attack December 7, 1941 and there is no evidence that the Committee or any of its former members are still organized and operating.

b7D

A meeting of the America First Committee was held on March 14, 1941, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Book-Cadillac Hotel. The presiding chairman was ROBERT E. VIETIG. A summary of the meeting, as furnished by [redacted] is as follows:

VIETIG spoke about the war propaganda over the radio and in the movies and suggested that whenever the members are annoyed by such a motion picture they should leave the theater and demand a refund of their money. The committee had already questioned several theater managers as to why they exhibit war propaganda movies without exhibiting non-intervention propaganda movies. He said the theater managers promised that they would show motion pictures presenting both sides. Mr. VIETIG said it was useless to write to WALTER WINCHELL or DOROTHY THOMPSON but that the members should rather write to the sponsors that their products would be boycotted if these two were not cut off the air.

Mr. EARL JEFFRIES, a visitor from the Chicago chapter, addressed the audience, saying that meetings were being held in many cities that night; that membership in Illinois had already reached 1,000,000 persons and that he was going into every state to organize similar chapters. Mr. JEFFRIES persisted that some day the America First Committee would be the largest political group and that already it had the support of Congressmen and Senators. It was suggested that the Committee meet every other Friday but that in the meantime smaller groups should meet in homes and similar places. It was announced that literature just published by the leading military authorities was available to members at the committee office. Members were urged to write letters to advise the President to keep us out of the European and Asiatic entanglements. Members were urged to get their friends to do likewise, while there is still time, because the President is still very sensitive to public opinion now.

VIETIG then introduced the main speaker of the evening, Dr. GEORGE H. DERRY, who spoke on "Our Foreign Policy." Dr. DERRY said that the "lend-loose" bill had been passed to help the international bankers. In order to preserve the democracy of the United States, it should keep out of European and Asiatic wars. The Washington boys should restore the Constitution of the United States and keep the international bankers out of Washington. He said another purpose of the lend-lease bill was to aid the imperialists of Britain, who are the Rothschilds. "America was forced into the last war by a few powerful politicans who made democracy safe for the Rothschilds, Mendelsohns, Warburgs, their associates and confederates, and their tribes. Baruch and Brandeis were Wilson's aides."

DERRY then said that as a secret service agent in the last war he learned that Baruch, Brandeis and others met in Chicago to make a deal concerning battleships. Outrageous lies were perpetrated on the American people. The condition for this war was created by the Versailles Treaty. The Versailles Treaty was also written by these same politicans to serve their own selfish interests. "When Hitler rose to power he got rid of such international bankers. So did France and Japan. If China had it wouldn't be involved in war at this time."

Dr. DERRY then explained how the international bankers, especially the Morgans, took control of Wendell Willkie to make sure they would win the election in either event. Both candidates lied about keeping the United States out of war. Any senator who opposed aid to the international bankers was called into the President's office and reprimanded by Baruch. There is no use to be scared into this war because it would be impossible for Hitler to invade the United States. Britain wouldn't help the United States any more than it helped Poland. This is because of the rulers of Britain. In other words, the Rothschilds, who are trying to rule Washington. The big four who are really ruling the United States from Washington are Baruch, Governor Lehman of New York, Henry Morganthau and Felix Frankfurter. It is up to the 86% of the American people to decide if they want to wind their sons to foreign lands to restore the British rulers. It is up to the mothers who may get a casket and a tag with a son's name on it and not be sure that it is her son.

[redacted] also exhibited to the writer a letter [redacted] by S. J. ZUSMANN, chairman of the subversive activities committee, Jewish War Veterans of the United States. This letter contained a report of the meeting of the America First Committee at Cass Technical High School on July 3, 1941. The chairman of the meeting was ROBERT VIETIG and the princi;al speaker was Senator Nye. ROBERT VIETIG, secretary of the Detroit branch of the America First Committee, spoke first at great length and then introduced Senator Nye. These talks were violently anti-British and anti-administration and the audience appeared to be highly enthusiastic and vociferously "booed" the President of the United States and Cabinet members Hull, Knox, Stimson and Ickes. After the conclusion of Senator Nye's talk, ROBERT VIETIG again spoke and made the statement that virtually all the pro-war and interventionist sentiment comes from the southern states.

[redacted] supplied the writer with a report of the speech of ROBERT VIETIG delivered at the American First Committee rally in Redford High School auditorium on August 27, 1941. The report of this meeting was made by [redacted] who attended the meeting in person and took the following notes:

"Roosevelt doesn't really want war; Roosevelt faces internal American revolution by trying to put United States into European war.

"Very few people know a little forum at the University of Michigan, where Wheeler, an affable down to earth American, debated with a U. of M. professor. I was amazed at this professor sitting for half an hour in utter confusion. This pygmy became more of a pygmy compared to Wheeler, he absolutely cringed to Wheeler, who has been round the world 4 times, spent a week-end with Kai-Shek, and says no one has the right to dictate the disposition even of his own son's life.

"Those who control your movies are like the 4th ungreased wheel--3 go quietly about their business, but the 4th wheel makes all the noise.

"Congressmen from southern states are all for war, and super-annuated Stimson who was too old for the Civil War. I feel very sorry for him--a puppet for the war party. And 83% of the southern senators, who represent private privilege, are against labor, and in general for war. 90% of the real Americans, like Wheeler and Nye voted for labor.

"No difference between world war and now. Both between 2 gigantic economic groups, but stakes are higher now, because we're in the middle, between Atlantic and Pacific. We say to Japan, you can't have a word to say about China, but we back up England's claim to domination of a continent.

"I would like to see the Peace Treaty that Hitler signed with Churchill three months ago. Remember, this is precedent #1, the world war treaty was drawn secretly before the war.

"If we play Churchill's game by fighting Japan and at the same time play Hitler's game by taking American navy out of Atlantic, doesn't that sound like an agreement between Churchill and Hitler?

"England's still sending American goods to South America.

"Roosevelt's a very tired person, and I think Roosevelt deep in his heart, thanks God for the resistance of America First, because he does not want war.

"We have a big job to open an America First chapter here.

"We've got to do more than keep U. S. out of war. We've got to keep the ninnys out of Congress and out of Lansing...We're headed for something a lot more vicious than we realize.

"England brings candy over here. Why do they need convoys to go back?

"I hope they tax everyone of you so you know you're being sold down the river, and not the American river.

"Don't allow your rifle or shotgun to be taken from you under any pretext from now on. You know the Spanish experience...The aliens and alien philosophies that run this government had better not try to take hunters' guns from them. Don't let your guns leave your hands. That is your inalienable right. And keep them well-oiled like all good hunters do... I'm more afraid of what's happening here.

"Please watch moving pictures and forward notes on propaganda to Wheeler or Clark, it will help them in their work.

"The Committee of One Million is doing an excellent job in Detroit."

[redacted] exhibited to the writer a clipping from "The Detroit News" of April 8, 1941, which carried a new item relating that an America First Committee luncheon was held at the Hotel Statler, Detroit, Michigan, on April 7, 1941 and the principal speaker was Mrs. BURTON K. WHEELER. Mrs. ROBERT WIELG presided. Mrs. WHEELER in her speech said that SIDNEY HILLMAN and ERNEST BEVIN are Communists and that the United States is controlled by SIDNEY HILLMAN, BARNEY BARUCH and FELIX

FRANKFURTER. In an item in "The Detroit Free Press" of July 20, 1941, which [redacted] also exhibited to the writer, ROBERT VIETIG announced that the three-room suite formerly occupied by the America First Committee at the Industrial National Bank Building had just been expanded to a five-room suite. VIETIG added that the America First Committee expected to have 50,000 members in Detroit.

[redacted] also exhibited a clipping from the "Detroit Times", dated July 24, 1941, which reported that an America First rally was held at the Cass Technical High School on July 23, 1941, and the principal speakers, ROBERT VIETIG and Senator GERALD P. NYE, attacked President Roosevelt and his administration.

Also, an item from "The Detroit Free Press" dated August 15, 1941, reported that a rally of the America First Committee was held on August 14, 1941, in Cass Technical High School and ROBERT VIETIG was quoted as having said, "If we do go to war, however, we will soon be standing alone against a hating world, internally bankrupt and bereft of the four freedoms we set out to deliver."

At a meeting of the National Workers League in September of 1941, according to [redacted] ROBERT VIETIG delivered a vehemently anti-Jewish address. Informant stated that he had learned from a confidential source but he was not at liberty to reveal that ROBERT VIETIG was working with GERALD L. K. SMITH in connection with SMITH'S campaign for election to the United States Senate from the State of Michigan in 1942. The confidential source also indicated to informant that VIETIG also had aspirations to become a United States Senator.

Before the United States actively entered the present war, VIETIG had stated [redacted] that he had a guaranty of a thousand dollars a month from Detroit business men.

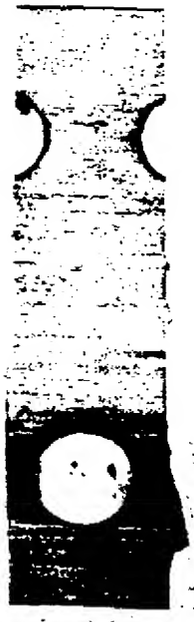
ROBERT VIETIG also admonished PARKER SAGE, who was active in the National Workers League, to "lay low for the time being" just like he, himself, was doing.

[redacted], Michigan, stated that he attended a meeting of GERALD L. K. SMITH'S Committee of 1,000,000 in September, 1941. SMITH introduced VIETIG to the audience and invited VIETIG to sit on the platform with him but VIETIG did not do this. [redacted] stated that he knows the Detroit chapter of the America

First Committee is now inactive but he firmly believes that VIETIG is working with SMITH and that the entire membership of the America First Committee is now associated with GERALD L. K. SMITH.

[redacted] exhibited to the writer a report of the meeting of the America First Committee at Cass Technical High School on November 7, 1941. ROBERT VIETIG, executive secretary of Detroit's America First Committee opened the meeting by urging the audience to continue the telephone and telegraph campaign against the Neutrality Act. He said that he had spoken with Senator WHEELER at 6:00 P. M. that night and that the Senator had predicted a vote that very evening on the act. VIETIG said, "I don't say that we will win but we have made strides because you people have been on your toes. If we lose in the Senate even by ten votes it it still a victory. We may lose because of the votes of some southern senators. We have gone into enemy territory (applause). The American people will win (more applause)."

VIETIG called attention to the meeting held the night before in the same auditorium by the Committee of 1,000,000 and said, "The America First Committee has no connection with the Committee of 1,000,000 but we have the same goal."



VIETIG then read a telegram from General ROBERT E. WOOD urging opposition to the repeal of the Neutrality Act. VIETIG called the administration the "war party" and ridiculed WILLKIE for his agreement with the President's foreign policy. The members of the audience were urged to telegraph their congressmen and the meeting suffered an intermission while telegraph forms were distributed and completed messages and money were collected. VIETIG continued that the southern Congressmen are the ones who favor the war because southerners are anti-labor anyhow.

VIETIG then distributed some literature entitled, "Who Wants War?"

VIETIG next criticized PRESTON SLOSSON of the University of Michigan and said that there was a new chapter of the America First Committee at Washtenaw County which would strike at him. Then VIETIG complimented the Detroit Times for its expose of "Russian Religion" and read from this paper the order of Colonel DUNCAN, LOWRY Field, Colorado, prohibiting soldiers from attending churches where the administration's foreign policy was criticised. (The audience booed).

VIETIG then introduced the speaker of the evening, Bishop RAYMOND T. WADE. WADE said nothing concerning the America First Committee or any of its policies. He merely explained how churches were being put out of existence in Russia.

After WADE concluded, VIETIG resumed and said that, "I and America First don't and never have subscribed to anti-Semitism." He then referred to a Dr. GLASIER (phonetic) on the West Coast, former head of B'nai B'rith, who has been speaking for the America First Committee on the West Coast. VIETIG then said "For my part there is no anti-Semitism and there should not be in America."

[redacted] exhibited to the writer a clipping from "News Week" magazine, dated November 7, 1941, which stated, "America First Committee is beginning to fall apart." It continued to say that General WOOD is still talking of disbanding the group soon; that LINDBERGH has told friends he fears he must shortly give up and offer his services to the United States government.

[redacted] exhibited to the writer a handbill announcing a "No foreign war rally" by the Oakland County chapter of the America First Committee at McConnell School, Pontiac, Michigan, on Sunday, October 16, 1941, at 3:00 P. M. The headquarters of the Oakland County chapter was stated to be 553 South Jesse Street, Pontiac, Michigan. It was further announced that GARLAND L. KIDERMAN, Oakland County chairman, would preside. [redacted]

[redacted]. It was also announced that FLOYD McGRIFF, who covered Europe and Versailles as "European chief of International News Service during Wilson's folly" would speak.

[redacted] exhibited to the writer a document entitled "Michigan's America First November News Letter" signed by ROBERT VIETIG, executive secretary, Michigan America First Committee.

"Lord Strabolgi, Laborite member 'House of Lords, London: When you asked Churchills' government why they had not gone to Russia's aid, were you really serious or was that for 'home consumption', on the Yankee Front? (Detroit file 65-1086) GERALD L. K. SMITH in his radio address over station WJR, Detroit, Michigan, on December 14, 1941, made the following statement: "I am sorry that the America First Committee disbanded. It was my opinion that they should have transformed the organization immediately into a great educational moral building mechanism for the purpose of uniting America for victory. Any of the America First people who would like to attach themselves to the Committee of 1,000,000 in order that they may be associated with us in this crusade for victory and this campaign for the preservation of America, we invite you to write in for our literature and our new bulletins, which are being issued in the light of our new slogan, namely, "America United for Victory."

[redacted] stated that up until April, 1942, a woman would answer the telephone listed under the name of America First Committee but that since that time calls to that telephone number in Detroit, Michigan are being referred to the residence telephone of ROBERT WIKTIG.

Inasmuch an extensive investigation is being conducted on GERALD L. K. SMITH in the Detroit Field Office, no further investigation is contemplated on the America First Committee.

RE: AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE
INTERNAL SECURITY--C

Dear Sir:

On the evening of January 15, 1942, as part of his regular weekly broadcast from Station WINX, Washington, D. C., which is known as the "Victory Beacon", A. CLOYD GILL, radio commentator, made the following statement: "Some days ago we reported that certain individuals are planning to revive the America First Committee, probably under a new name. Well, a few days ago, in New York City, the former chief of the America First Committee Speakers' Bureau in Brooklyn sent out a letter to former members of the committee asking them to join with him in setting up a new outfit under the title "American For Peace". What do you think of that? This new leader whose name is FOREST J. HAASE, said his organization meeting would be held at the Prospect Park Y.M.C.A. and 'would be open only to those who are in sympathy with our cause.' The meeting was supposed to have been held on June 12. We wonder if it was held."

factual charts, booklets, pamphlets, etc., to cover in brief form important surveys; also that these books, charts, etc., are standard and authoratative works and have been reproduced as key exhibits in the New York State Legislative Committee Reports, used in Congressional Committee Reports, and frequently quoted on the Congressional Record; that the American Legion from National Headquarters has distributed MR. GILL'S charts, etc., to each of its posts. The sketch also reflects that GILL has appeared over three thousand times on the radio in programs of his own both National and Local; that he founded the famous radio "Thirty" Club in Washington, D. C., and in 1933 he was radio director for the N.R.A. for New York City and State. His sketch reflects that he has worked closely with the intelligence services of the Army, Navy, Treasury Department, Civil Service Commission, and Police Department, who used his documents . making confidential investigations and reports.

MR. GILL claims in his b[illegible]phical sketch to have National contacts who are key first persons a[illegible] to furnish him with confidential data regarding Nazism, Fascism, a[illegible]i-Semitism, and subversive activities. He claims that the Dies Committee of the House of Representatives furnished its investigators with published documents by MR. GILL as a basis for their field work when they organized the committee. He claims to have many influencial friends and newspaper associates who got their training under him. He also sets out his background as a newspaper correspondent, which reflects that he has during the past twenty-five years worked with, in some capacity, most of the outstanding newspaper men of Washington and New York City. His record includes a statement of his past positions as editor of several local newspapers in the Southern states. Also it states that he was called to Washington by the late ARTHUR BRISBANE and was Sunday editor, city editor, special writer, and House and Senate Press Gallery representative of the Washington Times; that he became City editor of the Washington Herald after it was acquired by W. R. HEARST and was later Assistant Publisher. He relates that he was a Special Writer on the New York American and when that newspaper suspended was retained for special work on the staff of the Journal American handling policy matters for the organization. He states that three years ago he severed all relations with the HEARST newspaper with which he had been associated for twenty years to devote his full time to private business which included writing, public relations, lecturing, research and educational work. He sets out his family history which includes the names of many whom he states have made American history.

A review of the files of the Washington Field Office reflects the following information concerning A. CLOYD GILL: Reference is made to a letter written by Special Agent in Charge GUY HOTTEL to the Director dated June 11, 1940, in the case entitled [redacted]

[redacted] Reference is also made [redacted] Bureau letter of March 13, 1942, in the case entitled [redacted]. A memorandum for this file dated November 1, 1941, contains information obtained from [redacted] to the effect that GILL is considered very reliable and is well thought of; that he is approximately 54 years old at the present time and that he has conducted radio programs over station WMAL for the Times and the Hecht Company.

Contact with MR. GILL regarding his knowledge of the revival of the America Peace Committee under a new name has been contemplated but due to the fact that there is some question about his loyalty to the United States this matter is being presented for your consideration. The files of the Washington Field Office fail to reflect anything but unconfirmed allegations as to A. CLOYD GILL'S loyalty and it is believed that the information which GILL claims to have in his possession might prove of interest in connection with the present investigation of the America First Committee and possibly other pending investigations.

MR. GILL is presently residing at the Hamilton Hotel in Washington, D. C., and has indicated from his radio talks as reflected above that he may be in possession of information concerning a revival of the America First activities.

It is requested that this office be advised whether or not the Bureau would approve of a contact with A. CLOYD GILL for the purpose of obtaining the aforesaid information.

Very truly yours,

As you are aware, of course, certain recalcitrant elements of the America First Committee have attempted to form new organizations, one of the most active of which is the "Americans for Peace" headed by Horace G. Haase, formerly affiliated with the Brooklyn Chapter of the America First Committee. [redacted]

b7C

[redacted] Certain other groups of lesser importance have also sprung up as an aftermath of the America First Committee and these are being given attention at the present time. As you are probably well aware, by far the majority of the chapters in the America First Committee ceased their activities upon the declaration of war and since have not followed an active isolationist policy.

b7C

Another factor that should be considered is that [redacted] mentioned hereinbefore is of questioned reliability. Reports have been received from a confidential source that he has worked closely with the Communists and is probably a Party member. The allegation is also made that "The Hour" follows the party line closely. [redacted] is reported by the same source as being a party member and formerly [redacted].

In view of the change of circumstances since the original negotiations were entered into in this matter and the doubtful worth of the material in the possession of [redacted], no definite steps to consummate this review will be taken pending specific instructions from you. b7D

[redacted] advised that the America First Committee in Fort Wayne was organized in January, 1941 and was in his opinion sponsored and fostered by the evening newspaper in Fort Wayne, the Fort Wayne News Sentinel. He stated that the newspaper has had a very strong isolationist policy and naturally would be interested and sympathetic to the policies and programs of the America First Committee.

This informant furnished the following list of names of persons active in the organization:

Mrs. CLARK P. HOLMES, vice chairman

In the opinion of the informant the members of the permanent organization were mere figureheads inasmuch as they were not prominent people in the community. Special Agent in Charge
Milwaukee, Wisconsin

RE: AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Dear Sir:

b7C

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated July 6, 1942, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

It is noted that undeveloped leads are set forth to conduct a discreet investigation relative to thirty-two individuals and in the event no derogatory information is disclosed to contact them concerning the America First Committee. Further it will be noted that according to [redacted] b7C b7D none of these persons had become very active in connection with the America First Committee, since it was in the process of being organized at the time of the declaration of war. Consequently, it is not believed that the leads suggested in the reference report would be productive in relation to the time that would necessarily have to be spent in completing the inquiry.

You should, of course, be alert in following forth any undeveloped leads that could reasonably be assumed to establish that the former America First Committee and its adherents are engaged in any actions that could be considered inimical to the present war effort.

Very truly yours,

This report is composed wholly of information abstracted from material in the possession of [redacted] which tends to identify subversive personnel and activities and foreign support of the America First Committee prior to its official dissolution on December 12, 1941. Portions of this material had previously been furnished to [redacted] for the purpose of exposing such individuals, organizations, and activities [redacted], which plan, however, was abandoned following the entrance of the United States into the present war and the official dissolution of the America First Committee on December 12, 1941.

[redacted] made available to agent a copy of a summary report on the America First Committee which was apparently written about October 1941, and which reads as follows:

"The Committee has headquarters on the 18th floor in the Board of Trade Building, 141 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois. Rent is $4825 annually and there are forty employees according to latest reports. The Committee has received $231,000 and has spent $207,000. Its advertising expenses are $71,000, pamphlets are $32,000, and general expenses are $60,000. The office has under it 800 to 850 local chapters with about 900,000 members.

"The New York Chapter of the Committee is the second largest. Headquarters are at 515 Madison Avenue, with five rooms on the eleventh floor, one room on the ninth floor, and one room on the twelfth floor. Rent is approximately $170 monthly. Branch offices at 3 East 47th Street, (woman's division) and at 1050 Second Avenue (veteran's and laborer's division). The Chapter opened on January 27, 1941, under the chairmanship of JOHN T. FLYNN, with EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. as Executive Chairman. While WEBSTER is ostensibly the banking source behind the America First Committee, Mrs. COURTLAND D. BARNES put up the money for the New York Chapter. She is niece of the publisher of the New York Daily News.

"There are six to eight employees at 515 Madison Avenue (payroll $200) and about seventy volunteer workers. The chapter has received about $30,000 and has spent $26,000. It claims 41,000 members.

"The New York Chapter has under it eighteen smaller chapters and twenty-two separate units. There is a separate chapter in each borough and the general Committee operates about twenty-five branch offices in various stores throughout the metropolitan district. The actual work consists of rallies, meetings, addresses, telephone calls, and organized tours to Washington, D. C. where time is spent in lobbying. About twenty meetings are held weekly in the New York City area in addition to about thirty street corner meetings. The usual places for the latter are the corner of 42nd Street and 5th Avenue; Pershing Square; 59th Street and Lexington Avenue; and 49th Street and 5th Avenue. There are usually three speakers. The speeches are brief and they move away after about one hour. About two hundred people are usually in attendance.

"During four months 185 meetings were held and 391 addresses were given in New York City. The most frequent speakers at such meetings are the following individuals:

PHILIP LaFOLLOTTE
MICHAEL STRANGE
REPRESENTATIVE HAMILTON FISH
SENATOR DAVID WALSH
Dr. HENRY NOBLE MC CRACKEN
Professor EDWARD REISNER
KATHLEEN NORRIS

"The New York Chapter publishes a weekly bulletin of which JOHN L. SPRINGER is editor. "The Bulletin" is mailed to members at 5¢ per issue. Mr. SPRINGER claims a circulation of 10,000. The names which most frequently appear in "The Bulletin" with favorable comment are:

"Representatives HARRY SANTHOFF, DEWEY, CARL CURTIS, KARL E. MUNDT, FRANK OSMERS, HARNESS, HILL, LUDLOW; and Senators CLARK, WHEELER, NYE, TOBEY, WAYLAND BROOKS, SHIPSTEAD, COPPER, TAFT, W. GEORGE, IGOR SIKORSKY, JOHN CUDAHY, GEORGE N. PEEK; BARON VON STRANGEL writes for "The Bulletin".

"In all of New York City there are three hundred volunteer workers and forty to sixty paid workers.

"Of the chapters in the New York Area the one in Brooklyn is the most active. WILLIAM LEONARD is chairman of that chapter. The chapter has its main office at 44 Court Street, and has about one hundred volunteer workers and offices have been opened in each congressional district. The members are mostly Irish and Italians, and Father Coughlin and Father Curran followers. Attendance at meetings has been as much as 1500 persons, with an equal number waiting on the street. America First Committee Units have been formed in Flushing, Bayside, Woodside, Sunnyside, Elmhurst, Jackson Heights, Queens Village, Bellrose, Bellaire and Corona, Long Island. America First Committee Chapters have also been formed in Honolulu; Nome and Juneau, Alaska; and Diablo Heights, Canal Zone.

"At America First Committee meetings in Madison Square Garden, New York City, as many as 22,000 people have been present. The Committee is weak in Washington, D. C. and generally in the South. The largest membership comes from the Middle West where also most of the twelve America First Committee Bulletins are published. The national membership of the Committee was estimated by JOHN L. SPRINGER to be ten million. General WOOD is reported to have stated to a co-worker that it amounts to fifteen million. The New York metropolitan membership on April 22, 1941, was 25,000, and on June 7, 1941, it was 76,471.

"The following papers and publications are in favor of the America First Committee or its foreign policy:

New York Daily News
Scribner's Commentator
Pelley's Publications
Minnesota Beacon
Flanders Hall Publication
Chicago Tribune
The Herald (Geneva Publishing Company)
America in Danger (CHARLES HUDSON)
The Defender (Reverend G. WINROD)
Beacon Light
Today's Challenge (American Fellowship Forum)
New York Journal-American
The Individualist
The American Citizen
Columbia News Service

"According to EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. Metropolitan New York City has about 200,000 members, while Chicago has about 300,000 members. After the Manhattan Center Rally, the New York membership increased 2500 within two weeks. Mr. WEBSTER estimated that 45 to 50 people work daily at 515 Madison Avenue, New York City, and that there are 65 chapters in New York, Long Island, New Jersey, and Connecticut. In Mr. WEBSTER's words, "The New York Chapter runs on a shoestring and can hardly balance its budget."

b2 b7D [redacted] made available to Agent a copy of a report dated April 30, 1941, and entitled "Subversive Newspapers and Periodicals Endorsing and Supporting America First Committee and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh". This report reads as follows:

"In AMERICA, the Ukrainian newspaper published three times weekly in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, a full account of Lindbergh's speech is made - the issue is April 26, 1941. This newspaper is one of the chief organs of the Ukrainian Fascists. Their activities are well known to the United States Government and members of their staff have many times been interrogated by the F.B.I. and United States Immigration Officials. The comment in this newspaper reads as follows:

> 'On April 23, Colonel Lindbergh addressed a great meeting in New York; this time as spokesman for the organization America First Committee which is hostile to America's entry into European and Asiatic wars .... Even his adversaries must admit that, as a world traveler, student of relations prevailing in various countries, and as an expert flyer, he speaks with knowledge and understanding of things.'

"In SVOBODA, the other Ukrainian Fascist newspaper, which is published in Jersey City, New Jersey and edited by LUKE MYSHUKA, head man of the Ukrainian Fascists in America, the following statement appeared in the issue of April 25, 1941:

'Lindbergh continues to be against the war and aid to England:

'Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh spoke at a great mass meeting at Manhattan Center in New York City. He stated that England tries once again to entice America to enter the war and that she expects to obtain from America not only help in products; but also an expeditionary army. England must lose the war, Lindbergh said. Even America's aid won't help her to win it; but it would be a tragedy if the British Empire fell. He added that the American Government would be subjected to sharp criticism for its efforts to push America into the war. The majority doesn't want it.'

"Of course this newspaper and its people have been under careful surveillance by the Government and they shied clear of editorial comment. But the manner in which the report is written gives benefit and accent to favor Lindbergh.

"The FREE AMERICAN which is the organ of the German-American Bund, on April 24, 1941, page four, made the following comment: (It was printed in German and the following is a translation)

'Those who sacrifice themselves take a risk in order to convey to the people a true picture of the war situation and are being insulted by the ignorant. Look at the Lindbergh case, a man who has been celebrated as a hero for years is now being condemned by the same powerful clique who want to break the neck of fighting Germandom.

'Father Coughlin and many other freedom loving good citizens, on orders of the powerful, invisible rulers, had to run the gauntlet of our stupid era.'

"In the FREE AMERICAN of April 17, 1941, on page twelve, an item appears in the form of a letter to the editor. It is entitled 'Lindbergh For President'. After castigating England the letter closes as follows:

'Every American should read Lindbergh's letter in COLLIERS. It will open their eyes. He is a real American and too bad that he isn't our President now. We wouldn't be having all of the war hysteria. Lets have less propaganda and more of Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh. They are true Americans.'

"In THE TABLET, mouthpiece of Father EDWARD LODGE CURRAN and Father EDWARD BROPHY, another well known COUGHLIN supporter, April 19, 1941, issue, page six, announced the address to be given by Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH at Manhattan Center, New York City. The article also contains various statements by JOHN T. FLYNN, Executive Chairman of the America First Committee. THE TABLET had publicized all of the peace meetings and is one of the strong proponents of the isolationist groups in America. On page eight there are letters to the editor telling about the inspired meeting of WOMEN UNITED which was held at Carnegie Hall. On page nine they list the war propaganda films and it is to be noted that all of the films mentioned are anti-Nazi.

"In SOCIAL JUSTICE of April 28, 1941, the back page is devoted to a tirade against Britain. Reference is made to Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH's speech of April 17 and a few quotes are inserted. An endorsement of LINDBERGH's position is also given. In addition reference is also made to the America First Committee and Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH with a general endorsement of both in the SOCIAL JUSTICE of April 14, 1942.

"In the ROLL CALL, the new magazine put out by WILLIAM DUDLEY PELLEY, issue of April 14, 1941, Volume I, Number 14, carries an article extolling the virtues of LINDBERGH, FORD, MOSELEY, and a few others. They are called 'The True Leaders of a Renovated and Purged America'. The article appears on page five. The same magazine in its issue of January 11, 1941, has an endorsement of the America First Committee.

"One of the most viciously anti-Semitic, pro-German newspapers is PUBLICITY, published in Wichita, Kansas, by E. J. GARNER. Some of its contributors are such well known Fascists as EDWARD JAMES SMYTHE. On page four of the February 27, 1941, issue, an editorial states:

> 'Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, by his courageous stand against 1776 may prove to be "this nation's man on a white horse", just the answer to the question of who shall ride rough shod into the nation's capital in 1944. He would become another "Honest Abe" -- the long looked for Lincoln of this day and age -- an emancipator of Jewocratic slaves of the 20th Century.'

"In the DEFENDER, the magazine published by that arch-Fascist GERALD B. WINROD, the April 1941 issue states on page sixteen the following:

> 'Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is one of the men, prominent in the present war controversy, who has shown sufficient capacity to advocate policies adopted to conditions as they are - rather than what he might wish them to be.'

"An extremely important point to bear in mind is that it seems, from various articles, that Rome anticipated LINDBERGH's actions and knew beforehand that he intended forming a new policy which would act as a spearhead for their objectives.

"On August 4, 1940, the newspaper IL MESSAGGERO reported from New York that Colonel LINDBERGH was forming a party of True Americans and praised him for mobilizing isolationist tendencies in the country. The article was written by ENGELO FLAVIO GUIDO, who is the Fascist spokesman for Italians in America. The above was reported in the New York Times of August 5, 1940, on page four.

"In the FREE AMERICAN of May 1, 1941, the headline quotes Colonel LINDBERGH. It is noted that in the last paragraph of the editorial appearing on the first page the readers are asked to join the America First Committee and participate in its work. The same issue was noted to carry a complete transcription of LINDBERGH's speech made at Manhattan Center, made in both English and German.

"In PELLEY's ROLL CALL of April 28, 1941, Volume 1, #16, a complete article endorsing LINDBERGH's speech and the America First Committee is contained."

b7D [redacted] made available to Agent a copy of a summary memorandum pertaining to the political aspects of the America First Committee. This memorandum, which is not dated, was apparently prepared in the fall of 1941 and reads as follows:

"Contrary to the announcement which America First Committee made yesterday that it will support political candidates for the first time, there exists considerable evidence which indicates that America First took this step some time ago. This appears to be an effort to conceal its intention of becoming a political party. Thus it avoids the necessity for disclosing information as to financial support, etc. which is required under our laws.

"PHILIP LA FOLLETTE, ex-Governor of Wisconsin, speaking before 200 Chapter Chairmen and delegates on November 1, 1941, in Washington, D. C., stated the following:

> '..... We of the American Party must go forward as an organized group to fight the battle for the plain people of America. . . . The first round will come in the 1942 elections.'

"Curiously enough SOCIAL JUSTICE was one of the few papers which reprinted the resolution adopted at this meeting. It was: 'We, the chairmen and delegates of 119 chapters of the America First Committee, representing millions of American citizens from coast to coast, from North to South, do individually pledge ourselves to work and vote in the 1942 Primaries and General Election for every member of the Senate and House of Representatives, irrespective of party, who votes to retain the provisions of the present neutrality act which prohibits the entry of American ships into combat areas or belligerent ports. (November 24, 1941)

"It is also of interest to note the interpretation which SOCIAL JUSTICE placed on LA FOLLETTES reference to an 'American Party'. In the same article in which the resolution is reprinted SOCIAL JUSTICE states:

> 'The delegates also had heard former Governor PHILIP LA FOLLETTE of Wisconsin promise that the "American Party" would band together in 1942 to prevent the "War Party" from establishing a Fascist dictatorship in America.'

"At an America First Committee mass meeting on November 5, 1941, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, SAMUEL P. PETTINGILL, former Congressman, promised that the 'American Party' would take care of the 'traitors' responsible for putting the British Empire ahead of the United States. This emphasis on the 'American Party' is not a casual allusion, but is a preview of the road along which America First Committee is traveling.

"It is worth remembering that the New York Daily News was the first to suggest in an editorial on October 27, 1941, that an America First Party be formed.

"As early as July 1941, the America First Committee launched its propaganda for converting its geographical units into Congressional District Clubs. In a letter to members it stated that 'organization by congressional districts is now very necessary.' Units were established for the 16th Congressional District in Manhattan, and in certain sections in Philadelphia. It is reported that CHRISTIAN FRONTER, Mrs. GALLAGHER, heads one of the Philadelphia units. She was an honorary guest of the Kyffhaeuser Bund in 1939, and is very active in the 'Mothers and Daughters of Pennsylvania' organization.

"In Queens, New York City, members of the America First Committee are compelled to state their congressional district on application blanks, and the Brooklyn Chapter is now busily engaged in compiling membership lists according to congressional districts. Mr. WILLIAM T. LEONARD, head of the Brooklyn Chapter, has told friends that he intends to run for Congress. It is a question of whether he will be able to secure a nomination from either of the two major parties, but if past performances of the America First Committee are any clue, failure to secure an endorsement will not prevent Mr. LEONARD from running. A special political organization will be set up for that purpose. This was done in the recent election where several minor candidates throughout the country, with the active cooperation of important individuals in America First Committee, established independent political clubs for the express purpose of running in the election. Typical of the America First Committee effort to hide its interest in political campaigns is the manner in which it supported Senator JOSEPH R. HARRINGTON who ran in the special congressional election in Massachusetts. On November 17, he was given an opportunity to appear at an America First Committee rally at Lawrence, Massachusetts. By this device it was made clear to the America Firsters whom they were expected to support.

"It is reported that HENRY VANDER VELDE, who ran for Municipal Council in New York City on a 'Return Manhattan to the Dutch' program, is scheduled to become chairman of the new America First Committee Chapter which is being opened in Washington Heights, New York.

"There is evidence that the America First Committee may officially support the movement for impeaching the President if it becomes strong enough by 1942. The cry heard at the Madison Square Garden rally of the America First Committee on October 30, 1941, for impeachment is but a faint echo of the rumbling that has been going on inside America First Committee. Wild applause greeted LA FOLLETTE at the Indianapolis Rally when he said that if he were in Congress he would impeach the President. Impeachment was also advocated by FRANK COLLINS, editor of the San Marino Tribune, at an America First Committee Rally at Pasadena, California, on October 10, 1941. Through the persistent 'Bulletins' issued by NORMAN H. WILSON and MARGARET NORTON, active members of the Yonkers, New York America First Committee, unanimously endorsed the impeachment idea.

"In one form or another, nearly all of the lunatic fringe groups which have swamped the America First Committee have given probability or endorsement to the idea. The following is a list of some of these organizations or publications:

CHRISTIAN FRONT
SOCIAL JUSTICE
SCRIBNER'S COMMENTATOR
NATIONAL LEGION OF MOTHERS
THE AMERICA WAY (JOHN GEIS)
PATRIOTS OF THE REPUBLIC (E. J. GARNER)
THE BROOM (LEON De ARYAN)
AMERICA IN DANGER (CHARLES B. HUDSON)
UNITED WAR VETERANS (HARRY YOUNG)
X-RAY (COURT ASHER)
ROLL CALL (WILLIAM DUDLEY PELLEY)
BEACON LIGHT (WILLIAM KULLGREN)
THE AMERICAN DIGEST (formerly SOCIAL JUSTICE DIGEST)

"Indicative of the way in which the America First Committee is beginning to adopt the German interpretation of events is JOHN T. FLYNN's statement at the America First Committee Rally on November 17, 1941, at Lawrence, Massachusetts. FLYNN charged that the President secured revision of the Neutrality Act by lobbying and bribery. A few days prior to this most of the metropolitan newspapers reported that the German press made the same accusation in front page stories."

"SOCIAL JUSTICE was sold and SCRIBNER'S COMMENTATOR was distributed free and also distributed were ads for meeting of the American Destiny Party at Astoria, Long Island, on April 24, 1941.

"Speakers for the above meeting were Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH; Senator DAVID I. WALSH; KATHLEEN NORRIS; JOHN T. FLYNN, chairman."

Concerning foreign support of the America First Committee, [redacted] referred to the article appearing in the May 1, 1941, issue of "Deutscher Weckruf und Beobachter" or "The Free American", which was the official organ of the German-American Bund. The issue reprinted in its entirety Lindbergh's speech and in an article by the editor urged readers to support and join the America First Committee. b2 b7D [redacted] indicated that in the May 8, 1941 issue of the above publication on the front page there was reproduced a letter to the editor from JOHN T. FLYNN, Chairman of the New York Chapter of the America First Committee. Such letter stated that not only does the America First Committee ignore soliciting the membership of the readers of such publication or members of the German-American Bund, but states that such individuals are not eligible for membership in the America First Committee.

Under date of May 5, 1941, [redacted] reported that the America First Committee was opening offices in each congressional district. It was stated that membership is enormous and the bulk of it is Irish and Italian. The day following the Lindbergh speech it was reported that the New York Chapter increased its membership by 9,000. It was further stated that the Brooklyn Chapter is almost solely a Father Coughlin and Father Curran outfit. Many of the new members advised that they did not even desire the literature simply stating that they had worked for Father Coughlin.

Under date of May 13, 1941, [redacted] reported that the Brooklyn Chapter of the America First Committee was reported to have been working among the workers of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, particularly those of the American Federation of Labor.

A report [redacted] dated May 23, 1941, concerning the Madison Square Garden Rally of subject organization held on that day, reported the following named Fascists and pro-Nazis present at such meeting:

GEORGE GUNNING
Miss BUTLER (Paul Revere Sentinel)
JOHN GEIS
WEIR (the printer)
Dr. ULRICH
D. MARQUARD
DAN HORGAN
MARY REILLY

LAWRENCE DENNIS

Among those on the platform at the rally were the following:

Mrs. LENORA SCHUYLER
Mrs. HERRICK of Women United
OSWALD GARRISON DILLARD
Mrs. THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Jr.
Mrs. TAFT,
Mrs. WHEELER
AMOS R. E. PINCHAT

It was reported that Social Justice and the Call (Socialist Party newspaper) were on sale and copies of the March and April 1941 issues of Scribner's Commentator were distributed free. However, it should be noted that JOHN T. FLYNN, chairman, in his address repudiated the support of the Bund, the Fascists, and the Communists, and denounced McWILLIAMS who was present. The audience's feelings toward McWILLIAMS and FLYNN were divided. The other speakers at the meeting were the following:

Senator BURTON K. WHEELER
NORMAN THOMAS
Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH

It was indicated in the report that a banner of "The Copperhead Club of Westchester" was held aloft at the meeting.

[redacted] report dated June 3, 1941, indicated that EDWIN S. WEBSTER, Jr. is the ostensible banking source behind the America First Committee, New York City. However, it was Mrs. COURTLAND B. BARNES who put up the cash for the New York Chapter, and WEBSTER is simply acting as a financial friend. It was pointed out that before Mrs. BARNES's marriage she has been KATRINA McCORMICK, daughter of MEDILL McCORMICk; and that she is the niece of ROBERT MADILL PATTERSON, publisher of the New York Daily News. This fact accounts for the strong support the America First Committee has received from the New York Daily News.

Informant's report received at a later date indicated that in the June 30, 1941 issue of Social Justice, in the Letters to the Editor section on page 14, the following quoted letter appeared:

> "Of course we American Firsters welcome you Coughlin Folk into our great movement; you are the backbone of the organization!
>
> Do not permit any troublemakers to tell you otherwise. We must not and will not be divided at this most critical time in our nation's history. Back to England with these pro-British; the United States is for Americans."
> This letter was signed with the initials D.K.D., Kahoka, Mo.

[redacted] report dated July 11, 1941, and referring to the Brooklyn Chapter of subject organization, stated that there had been a break between the America First Committee and the Christian Front in New York City. The break supposedly occurred with the liberal element of the America First Committee or General WOOD and JOHN T. FLYNN. The Christian Fronters were stated as being bent upon reprisals and their principal objective is organization of all the America First Committee elements with the exception of the liberal element referred to. It was stated that they planned a crusade in the name of Christianity and against Russia.

Material [redacted] included an issue of "News from the Non-Sectarian, anti-Nazi League of 20 West 47th Street, New York City" which was dated July 16, 1941. The publication is quoted as follows:

"America First Committee accused of open page propaganda as first shot in campaign for Hitler's peace propaganda:

"An editorial attacking the 'refugee Germans and their fellow racial and religious brethren' in the current issue of the America First Bulletin was spotlighted yesterday by the Non-Sectarian, anti-Nazi League which accused the America First Committee of indulging in 'open Nazi propaganda' as the first shot in a campaign to propagandize for Hitler's forthcoming peace proposals.

"Mayor LaGuardia recently warned of such proposals soon to be presented by 'representatives of a peace movement' here."

In a wire signed by Professor JAMES H. SHELDON of the Non-Sectarian anti-Nazi League, and sent to General ROBERT E. WOOD, such league accused the America First Committee through the New York Chapter, of using the Hitler line to spread discord in American Ranks. The wire is as follows:

"Are you in accord with the sentiments expressed in the editorial entitled 'Peace' appearing in the July issue of the Bulletin, published by the New York Chapter of the America First Committee? In the editorial which asks for a negotiated peace, the passage occurs, 'If Hitler were to agree to restore the independence of Norway, Denmark, Holland, France, even Poland, while these people in America (the foreign groups) might be appeased there would still be a powerful group - the most powerful of all - the refugee Germans and their fellow racial and religious brethren who would protest. Don't you feel that this libel against the Jews (who happen, incidentally, not to be united in any manner for or against any peace proposals) and other loyal Americans follows the Hitler line in order to arouse discord in American Ranks?

"We feel that your Committee has indulged in open Nazi propaganda as the first shot in a campaign to propagandize for Hitler's forthcoming peace proposals. While the America First Committee is, of course, entitled to propagandize for or against such a peace, it can hardly claim to be American when it uses the Hitler type of propaganda which tries to convince the public that all opposition is Jewish or is motivated by other than patriotic motives. This line constantly recurs in the propaganda emanating from Nazi sources, is it a coincidence that it has cropped up again now in an America First Committee editorial?

"JOHN T. FLYNN, New York chairman of your committee, told us on the phone today that he backed up the editorial in question and the sentiments expressed therein. Do you stand ready to use the Nazi inspired Jewish smear upon all Americans who do not trust in the sincerity of Hitler's peace proposals?"

Also published by the Non-Sectarian, anti-Nazi League of New York City, and undated, is a pamphlet entitled "The America First Committee - The Nazi Transmission Belt". Such publication attempts to show the affiliation and connection between the America First Committee and such organizations and individuals as The Christian Front, The Paul Revere Sentinels, JOSEPH McWILLIAMS and the American Destiny Party, or Christian Mobilizers, German-American National Alliance and OLOV TIETZOV, JOHN B. SNOW, JAMES TRUE, DONALD SHEA of the National Gentile League, EDWARD JAMES SMYTHE and the Protestant War Veterans, Colonel E. N. SANTWARY and the American Christian Defenders, and also the German-American Bund.

In connection with possible Nazi connections of subject organization the New York Post, on July 25, 1941, printed the following article:

"Until Uncle Sam closed it, the German Library of Information, 17 Battery Place, New York City, had been flooding NEWTON DILLAWAY, Reading, Massachusetts writer, with propaganda although he did not ask for it. The envelopes always had been addressed SILLAWAY. Mr. DILLAWAY thought it a coincidence, at least, when the America First Committee recently began sending him unsolicited propaganda and also addressed him as SILLAWAY."

The above article also included photographs of the SILLAWAY envelopes bearing return addresses of both agencies mentioned.

Under date of August 1, 1941, [redacted] reported that JAMES O'KELLEY of the Paul Revere Sentinels had called at the America First Committee headquarters, Queens, New York Chapter, and was overheard telling Mr. LOCKWOOD that the Sentinels had decided that it was best to in no way conflict with the meetings or work of the America First Committee, however, the Sentinels would still maintain offices at the Murray Hill Hotel, New York City.

On August 16, 1941, [redacted] reported that every New York City office of the America First Committee seems to have one or two rabid Christian Fronters therein. It was believed that FLYNN was honestly trying to overcome this, and that he had loyal supporters who are strict isolationists and who are working for no war on foreign soil and against the Administration, although they "soft pedal" their efforts in the latter line. FLYNN was reported as stating at a meeting that he was sick of "having Chicago run things, and that soon he hopes to have the New York City office in charge of publicity. This report stated that the New York membership lists were huge, filling enormous files and taking in every city, town or hamlet wherever there is a voting poll."

[redacted] report of August 19, 1941, stated that the America First Committee is split into three factions: b2 b7D

1 - The Christian Fronters

2 - The Flynn adherents (a new political party - more or less rational)

3 - The Nazis of Jewish origin, or honorary Aryans.

While no open rivalry is apparent, each faction is striving for dictatorship within the America First Committee. It was stated in the report that General WOOD's inner beliefs can hardly be ascertained unless they are fully depicted by his utterances which lean dangerously to the "right." It would hardly be fair to indict a man of JULIUS ROSENWALD's stature without something concrete, but nevertheless, he was a close friend of General WOOD in business and otherwise.

[redacted] report concerning the mass meeting of the America First Committee at Carnegie Hall on August 20, 1941, it is reported that an estimated ten thousand people inside and outside the hall heard the speeches of JOHN T. FLYNN, Ex-Governor PHILIP LA FOLLOTTE, MICHAEL STRANGE, and President McCRACKEN. b2 b7D

The above report stated that the difference in the character of the individuals in the audience was noticeable in that most of the well known Fascists were absent. The audience represented the Catholic Coughlinites and the Whig Machine which the America First Committee is striving to create.

The same report stated that Women United is using the mailing lists of both the America First Committee and the Committee for No Foreign Wars; that though Women United have no money in their own treasury they were able to advise many members to stop worrying about expenses for the last trip to Washington as the organization would pay for these. It is believed that this expense money came from the America First Committee.

In connection with Women United, on August 23, 1941, [redacted] reported that Mrs. SETH MILLIKEN who holds a key position in the America First Committee, made a loan of $1500 to Women United and that the same amount was listed to Mrs. GRANT SIMMONS who headed the Greenwich, Connecticut Chapter of the America First Committee. This report stated that whenever b2 b7D

Women United have an organized trip to Washington the tickets are available at all the America First Committee offices though the two organizations will not admit any connection.

On August 23, 1941, it was also reported that at the Brooklyn America First Committee Chapter, 44 Court Street, Brooklyn, New York, about every third name on the membership list is Italian. It was stated that many joiners can not sign their names, being illiterate; and that a few are decidedly German, many admitting that they are aliens. It was reported that the bulk of this membership Chapter are Coughlinites.

Under date of September 9, 1941, [redacted] reported that the America First Committee has in its offices large stocks of franked literature involving Mrs. LUNDEEN's answer to WINCHELL. These are not mailed out by the America First Committee under its own letterhead, but are given to members with the request to distribute them widely. Mrs. HELLER has mailed over 1000 and someone sits at a desk there all day mailing out from 20 to 30 at a time. Members come in and pick up this material for mailing out themselves.

[redacted] report noted that the September 15, 1941, issue of Social Justice in a letter to the editor on page sixteen, entitled "It's Up To You", urges readers of Social Justice to join and support the America First Committee.

[redacted] material also included a memorandum by ARTHUR J. GOLDSMITH, 100 East 50th Street, New York City, entitled "Who is America First?" Such memorandum lists the national and New York officers of the organization; and portions of this memorandum are as follows:

"Whose Battle is America First Fighting?"

"A short wave radio broadcast from Berlin on January 22, 1941, is as follows:

> 'The America First Committee is known as true patriotism, as opposed to the synthetic brand displayed by the Americans enrolled under the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.
>
> 'The Free American and Deutsche Weckruf und Beobachter of May 1, 1941 - Join the America First Committee and continue to bombard your representatives in Congress with letters and telegrams in protest!"

[redacted] material contained a copy of Social Justice, the issue of April 28, 1941, which contained the following:

b2

"Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh became a member of the America First

"Committee last week. It is the same committee under whose auspices Senator BURTON K. WHEELER speaks. It is the same committee under whose auspices Father CHAS. E. COUGHLIN would be speaking did he enjoy one half as much liberty as a priest and as a citizen as that enjoyed by Monsignor JOHN A. RYAN of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

"The Fiery Cross (the official publication of the Klu Klux Klan) issue of April 1941, quoted the Klan's attitude toward the present war situation which was aptly expressed recently by General ROBERT E. WOOD, chairman of the America First Committee."

[redacted] material contained a copy of "Roll Call" (publication of Silver Shirt Leader WILLIAM DUDLEY PELLEY) which stated the following: b2 b7D

"Slowly but inexorably the true leaders of a renovated and purged America are beginning to emerge. Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH, HENRY FORD, Major General GEORGE VAN HORN MOSLEY, and last but by no means least, Senator BURTON K. WHEELER of Montana, are stepping into the limelight of Roosevelt opposition and are receiving the plaudits of a hysterical multitude."

The following was cabled by Chicago Daily News correspondent JOHN T. WHITAKER from Rome, Italy, on February 6, 1941:

"The press campaign which has been waged for some days divides America into the Jews, which include - according to VIRGINIO GAYDA - the White House, the press and radio on the one hand, and what are termed 'eminent personalities' on the other. This latter catagory is comprised of Senator BURTON K. WHEELER, Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH, PHILIP LA FOLLETTE, and Brigadier General ROBERT E. WOOD."

In a report [redacted] concerning the America First Committee meeting at Carnegie Hall, New York City, on September 17, 1941, it is stated that such meeting was decidedly poorer than the preceding ones; that Social Justice was on sale; and that JOHN GEIS distributed free copies of The American. Among those present were THERESA HOLM, DAN HORGAN, Reverend HERBERT LEWIS, and a substantial number of Christian Fronters and Christian Mobilizers. It was stated that the openly Nazi rabble is coming into the field in greater strength. b2 b7D

Under date of September 27, 1941, it was reported that TRUMAN BLACKWOOD, known subversive, is on the speaker committee of the America First Committee. It was further noted that the franked mail of the United States Senators was removed from the literature table at the America First headquarters and picked up after the September 26, 1941, attack by the newspaper PM upon Representative HAMILTON FISH's abuse of the franking privilege.

In connection with the alleged foreign and subversive personnel and activities of the America First Committee in the possession of [redacted] were the September 30, 1941, and October 7, and 14, 1941, issues of New Masses which contained a series of articles by JOHN L. SPIVAK, and an expose of the America First Committee, LINDBERGH, MAURICE K. HART, RICHARD A. MOORE, N. DOUGLAS STUART, AVERY BRUNDAGE, STERLING MORTON, and WILLIAM R. CASTLE. Such articles by SPIVAK are entitled respectively as follows: "America First Exposed"; "What is America First Afraid Of?"; and "Secrets of America First's Propaganda."

Under date of October 6, 1941, [redacted] reported that Women United, New York City, were sending out notices of the America First Committee meetings on October 1, 7, and 14, 1941, with their own literature which advertised a political trip to Washington, D. C. on October 10, 1941, against changing the Neutrality Laws, and also advertising a meeting on October 6, 1941, at which speakers were to be LAURA INGALLS and FRIEDA UTLEY.

On October 10, 1941, it was reported [redacted] that MARIE RANLEY and BEATRICE BROWN of Women United in New York City, had recently attended a meeting in Chicago at which consolidation of other women's groups, "We, the Mothers" organizations, and Women United, with the America First Committee was discussed and practically agreed upon. It was agreed to maintain a member in Washington, D. C. for lobbying purposes, such member probably to be MARIE RANLEY.

[redacted] report dated October 13, 1941, stated that a recent meeting in Indianapolis was attended by PELLEY and WINROD with America First Committee leaders, for the purpose of setting up a formula by which PELLEY and WINROD could support the America First Committee movement without harming it.

On October 26, 1941, [redacted] reported that it had been stated that within a twenty-five mile radius of the New York Chapter Headquarters of subject organization there are approximately 144,000 members.

Under date of October 30, 1941, [redacted] reported that the Brooklyn Chapter of the America First Committee was "agog with Christian Fronters". It was stated that there was a man regularly in the office selling copies of Social Justice. Such chapter was reported as having more than 30,000 members at the time.

Concerning the Brooklyn Chapter, and under date of November 5, 1941, it was reported by [redacted] that Chairman WILLIAM LEONARD was having his office staff make a duplicate of every membership card so that such may be filed in the office not only by name and address but also by congressional districts. He is said to feel that if the place closes these can be preserved and used by the 1944 political party to which the America First Committee alludes as "The American Party", for which the committee has in mind LINDBERGH as head.

On November 17, 1941, at a meeting in Greenwich Village of that chapter of the America First Committee, the chairman presiding was EMIL MORROSSINI, Jr., formerly attorney for GEORGE SYLVESTER VIERECK and law partner of DANIEL F. COHALAN. It was reported [redacted] that the remarks at such meeting were strongly anti-Roosevelt, anti-Administration, and anti-Semitic.

In connection with the alleged Nazi and Fascist support of the America First Committee, [redacted] called attention to the article appearing in the February 10, 1942, issue of P.M. newspaper concerning the trial of LAURA INGALLS for violation of the Registration Act. The article states that the Nazis rated the America First Committee the best aid to the cause. It further states the following:

"LAURA INGALLS, the flier, received money from high German Embassy officials in Washington for carrying out instructions.....

"LAURA INGALL's lawyer admits German Embassy paid her to promote America First.....

"The best thing you can do for the cause (of Germany) is to continue to promote the America First Committee."

the Grand Forks chapter was the only local chapter of the America First Committee in North Dakota, and that it was no longer in operation, [redacted] b7D

Further investigation at Grand Forks, North Dakota, failed to reflect that the America First Committee is operating underground at the present time.

[redacted]

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] b7

AT PARKSTON, SOUTH DAKOTA.

The writer was advised [redacted], that the only people he knew of who were connected with the America First Committee were [redacted] and [redacted] In his opinion, the activities of the committee had ceased after the war for nothing has come to his attention that would indicate otherwise. [redacted] substantiated the above information. Inquiries were made to these people and to those named below [redacted] b7

[redacted] She stated that they had attended only two rallies before the war started, and that the committee never really got going. She added that some folks thought they didn't get their dollars worth (membership fee). It was indicated that many of these people joined to hear good speakers on the war effort and because all their neighbors were going, and that when the war started soon after the committee had gotten underway these people were disappointed that this sort of almost social activity should cease. [redacted] went on to say that no meetings of the committee had been held since, and that she felt that all the members of the organization were now fully behind this country's war effort. She made this response to the Agent's query as to how the local members felt about following the National policy of the committee in pledging full support to the war effort. Also, to the best of her knowledge, none of the members ever got together informally to discuss the war effort; answer made in response to the query if any of the former members were informally deciding to help the war effort.

[redacted] He advised that the Parkston committee was composed of about one hundred and twenty-five members, covering the counties of Hutchinson and the lower part of Davison County. Most of these people came from the area directly surrounding Parkston. He stated that [redacted] and was disbanded very shortly after the war started. At that time all the official records of the committee were sent in to Chicago in response to the orders of the National Committee. He added that two regular meetings were held after November 1 to discuss the war effort, and that the attendance at these meetings was about forty. However, two rallies were held at which speakers were present, one of whom was REVEREND ARMSTRONG of Sioux Falls, and the attendance at these was about one hundred or more. These rally meetings were held in the Parkston theater.

[redacted] had made an unsuccessful effort to organize a committee in Mitchell, South Dakota, but the response was so apathetic that the effort was abandoned. This took place shortly after the committee organized in Parkston in November, 1941.

[redacted]

It is herein noted that the population in and around Parkston is heavily German, and that the language is commonly spoken in churches. However, these are mostly second generation Germans who are fairly prosperous farmers. From time to time this office has opened internal security cases on citizens in this community, most of which have produced no tangible results.

AT LENNOX, SOUTH DAKOTA.

[redacted] advised that he was familiar with the activities of the committee in town, and that the committee had a hard time getting started. He stated that one heard very little war talk around Lennox, and that after war was declared the committee folded quite completely. He added that he was never much in sympathy with the committee and so was never approached to join.

[redacted], advised that to the best of her knowledge there was no indication that the activities of the America First Committee had not ceased after the war started. [redacted]

[redacted] went on to say that the Committee was only in existence a short time, about from October 25, 1941, before its activities ceased very shortly after Pearl Harbor. [redacted] One rally meeting was held, place not given, at which FRED CHRISTOPHERSON, editorial writer for the Sioux Falls "Argus Leader" spoke. Top attendance was reached at this rally of about seventy people. About three business meetings were held, attendance being about twenty, at the home of JOHN PLUCKER.

[redacted] had had a hard time getting the committee going in this community because the people generally were not interested in anything unless it brought in money. [redacted] He went on to say that he became intensely interested in the activities of America First through the actions of GENERAL WOOD and COLONEL LINDBERGH whom he thought to be fine men.

Membership in the Lennox Committee was at the most about sixty to seventy people, which top figure was reached at the rally meeting at which MR. CHRISTOPHERSON spoke. These people were generally from the immediate area around Lennox, although a few people did come in from Chancellor and Davis, nearby towns. Most of the members were elderly people, and there were no young men who were members. No meetings of the committee were held at any time after Pearl Harbor.

[redacted]

AT ABERDEEN, SOUTH DAKOTA.

By memorandum dated May 31, 1942, Special Agent [redacted]

[redacted] advised that he had conducted an investigation in Aberdeen, and that he had obtained no information that the America First Committee had established a chapter in Aberdeen in 1941. He also advised that there is no present indication that the America First Committee is operating underground.

AT WATERTOWN, SOUTH DAKOTA.

By memorandum dated July 8, 1942, Special Agent [redacted] advised that he had conducted inquiry in Watertown and had failed to obtain any information that the America First Committee had ever established a chapter in Watertown in 1941. Inquiry failed to disclose that the America First Committee had conducted any rallies or meetings or that any activity on the part of the America First Committee had ever taken place in Watertown. Further inquiry failed to disclose that the America First Committee was operating underground at the present time in Watertown, South Dakota.

AT SIOUX FALLS, SOUTH DAKOTA.

Inquiry was made by various agents of this office in Sioux Falls and no information has been obtained that the America First Committee is active at the present time, and further, no information of any sort was obtained to indicate that this organization is now operating underground.

RE: FREDERICK J. LIBBY

Confidential Informant advised that FREDERICK JOSEPH LIBBEY was born on November 24, 1874 in Richmond, Maine, and is presently married to FAITH WARD, having been married in the month of June, 1932.

LIBBY's present address is 1013 18th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. Confidential Informant advised that some time previous to the present date, the exact dates of which he did not know, LIBBY formerly resided in the city of Philadelphia.

According to Confidential Informant, LIBBY studied at the University of Berlin, University of Heidelberg and Marlborough University in Germany. After having completed his studies in Germany, he went to the University of Oxford, having commenced his studies there in the year 1902. He later studied at the Andover Theological Seminary. He became the Pastor of the Union Congregational Church in Magnolia, Massachusetts, during the year 1905 and continued in his Pastorial duties until the year 1911, at which time he gave up this position to travel. During the years 1911-12, LIBBY traveled extensively throughout China, Australia and Europe. From the years 1912 to 1920, he attended the Phillips Exeter Academy.

According to Confidential Informant, in 1921, LIBBY was elected Executive Secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War. He is a member of the Joint Committee of National Peace Organization, and heads the Philadelphia organization of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. LIBBY is a member of the following organizations: The Fellowship of Reconciliation, the War Resistors League, World Peace Ways, Youth Committee Against War, and Keep America Out of War.

It was ascertained from Confidential Informant that on November 7, 1938, LIBBY spoke at the Adath Jeshurun, a Jewish Synogogue located at Broad and Diamond Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., at which time he stated that, "in order to escape war, all of France, including many Jews, backed DELADIER."

On October 16, 1939, LIBBY spoke at a meeting of the Society of Friends, a Quaker organization, at the Race Street Meeting House. At that time, Confidential Informant advised, LIBBY stated that World War Number 2, is not a war for the defense of Democracy, but a war for the defense of the British Empire. At that time, he also predicted the defeat of FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT, the President of the United States.

According to Confidential Informant, LIBBY spoke at the Methodist Church located at 18th and Spruce Streets, on October 17, 1940, on behalf of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, and the Youth Committee Against War.

On December 16, 1940, LIBBY again spoke at the Adath Jeshurun, at which time he declared, according to Confidential Informant, "We may be able to give Britain help, but I think it is better to withhold assistance and let HITLER's power fall under its own weight."

Confidential Informant advised that [redacted] advised that she attended a meeting in Los Angeles, shortly previous to May 15, 1942, at which time DR. FREDERICK LIBBY made a speech to a gathering which was held in the Methodist Church, located on Figurelle Street, directly across from the University of Southern California, at Los Angeles, and she advised that a number of former America First Committee members were in attendance. She advised that those in attendance, who were formerly with the America First Committee, were Mrs. ULRICH , ANN GFELLAR, MARGARET GINKLEY and Mrs. ALDRIDGE.

She stated further to Confidential Informant that during his speech, Dr. LIBBY sold two pamphlets, which he had in his possession, for the sum of fifty cents each. She described one of the pamphlets to Confidential Informant as bearing the title, "Post War World Will Move Toward Pacifism." Confidential Informant advised that [redacted] was unable to recall the title of the second pamphlet.

According to Confidential Informant, [redacted] stated that Dr. LIBBY in his speech had stated that immediate peace would be necessary, if great slaughter during the coming summer was to be avoided. He then pointed out in detail during his speech that if Communistic Russia won the present war, that all of Europe would be Communistic, and he indicated that if such were the case, a Communistic United States might follow. Dr. LIBBY then point out that we, meaning the United States, might not like either Communism or Naziism, but we must take the lesser evil and choose Naziism, rather than Communism, as only the Nazis stand between us and a Russian victory of this war.

Confidential Informant stated that according to [redacted] LIBBY also pointed out that if the Axis Powers won the present war, a United States of Europe would be the result. He also stated to his audience that it was his opinion that there would be a United States of Europe and that we would live to see it.

Dr. LIBBY also talked about India and GHANDI, and stated that India will never fight. According to Confidential Informant, [redacted] advised that during the intermission at this gathering, someone had questioned Dr. LIBBY concerning the America First Committee. In response to various questions, Dr. LIBBY said that the America First Committee should never have been disbanded. He further stated that there should be an organization among the former women members of the America First Committee and if necessary, this organization should be of a secret nature.

The following information was obtained from Confidential Informant concerning [redacted] and her family.

[redacted] b7c

It was ascertained from Confidential Informant that Mrs. IRENE THORNMURPHY, former Executive Secretary of the Philadelphia Branch of the America First Committee, is active in the Philadelphia Branch of the organization known as the "Mothers and Daughters of Pennsylvania", and that she was in attendance at a meeting held by that organization on July 15, 1942, at the Bellvue Stratford Hotel, at Philadelphia.

January, 1941, "a half dozen young fellows from our local Junior Chamber of Commerce began meeting at my home in the evenings to discuss the European war situation, and particularly to see how we could best express our opposition to those measures 'short of war.'" These men decided to organize a committee and after discussion decided to join with the national America First Committee rather than attempt an independent organization. They opened a downtown office at 30 North Pennsylvania on Washington's Birthday, after obtaining the sponsorship of outstanding men in the community whose names were on the letterhead on which this communication had been written. All of these names had been obtained previously and are contained in the report of the writer dated May 17, 1942, at Indianapolis.

The first large rally of the local America First Committee was held in the Cadle Tabernacle on March 17, 1941. Senator WHEELER was to have been the main speaker but he did not appear as he was tied up in the Land-Lease debate. Rallies were held at about three-week intervals, built around JOHN T. FLYNN, Senators CLARK and WHEELER. All of these meetings were held at the Cadle Tabernacle. Smaller meetings were held for CLARENCE MANION, STEWART CORWIN WHITE and Father O'BRIEN. During the summer, weekly meetings were held at the headquarters to which local speakers were invited. Among those who spoke were HARRY T. ICE, DOYLE ZARING, DAN W. FLICKINGER, WILLIAM F. REMY, GEORGE L. DENNY, Reverend ERROL T. ELLIOTT, and Reverend S. GRUNDY FISHER.

During this same period of time the women who were interested in the America First Committee had organized an auxiliary and conducted letter-writing campaigns, held weekly afternoon meetings, card parties, and worked up attendance at the larger rallies. The office was run by a paid secretary but women volunteers were always there mailing out literature, answering questions, and helping to organize others. Literature obtained from the national office was also passed out, and included speeches by HERBERT HOOVER, ALFRED LANDON, CHARLES LINDBERGH, ROBERT M. HUTCHINS, JOHN T. FLYNN and General ROBERT E. WOOD. Mr. MILLER forwarded to the informant copies of two types of literature which were put out by the local committee, copies of which have been obtained previously and were set out in the report referred to above of the writer.

Mr. MILLER explained that their funds were obtained from contributions from private individuals, from card parties, and from collections at public meetings. A record was kept of these collections, and a financial statement was periodically submitted. Mr. MILLER forwarded to the informant a copy of the financial statement as of September 30, 1941, which was declared by Mr. MILLER to be accurate, also for the time of closing on December 6, 1941. This statement will be set out later in this report.

The last large rally of the Indianapolis America First Committee was held at the Cadle Tabernacle on November 27, 1941, with DOUGLAS STUART, JR., MICHAEL STRANGE and PHIL LaFOLLETTE as speakers. This meeting was the climax to a state convention held earlier that day for the purpose of organizing all the chapters into one cohesive unit.

Mr. MILLER asserted that on the night of the attack on Pearl Harbor a meeting of the executive committee was called and the following statement was given to the papers:

> "As individuals and as an organization our services belong to our government. The sole question now is how best we may unite our energies to bring this conflict to a successful conclusion."

Mr. MILLER stated that a copy of the final letter of the America First Committee was sent to the membership of about 3,000.

The executive committee of the Indianapolis chapter of the America First Committee as it appears on the letterhead of this organization is as follows:

MERLE H. MILLER, Chairman
JOHN A. BRUHN, Vice Chairman
H. BRUCE PALMER, Secretary
RALPH L. SWINGLEY, Treasurer
WILLIAM L. FORTUNE
GORDON CUTLER
R. BURCH NUNLEY
EDWARD J. GREEN
DOYLE ZARING
EDWARD E. McLAREN
R. STANLEY LAWTON
DANIEL J. YOUNG.

Committee members

On the second page of the letter, which was written on the letterhead of the organization, the following additional names appear as committee members:

Mrs. H. F. GILLIE, Secretary
JOHN W. ESTERLIN
FRED HELLMAN
GLENN I. BARR

The name of LYDIA BATES appeared as office secretary.

Included with the letter was a form letter dated October 24, 1941 and an inclosure entitled "A Call to Action." This matter appeared over the name of MERLE H. MILLER, Chairman, America First Committee of Indianapolis, Inc. The leaflet urges that the individuals receiving it do what they can to oppose the repeal of the Neutrality Act. Plans as formulated by the committee included a letter-writing campaign conducted from the downtown and neighborhood offices, a weekly news service to neighborhood papers, a radio forum, a newspaper column, rallies, and meetings at the downtown office. They called for contributions so that they could accurately determine how much work they could do in the following months, and urged the people to write letters to Senator VAN NUYS telling him that his past efforts were appreciated, and that it is hoped he will vigorously oppose the repeal of the Neutrality Act. The people receiving the leaflet were asked to get five friends to write to Senator VAN NUYS, Senator WHEELER or Representative JOSEPH W. MARTIN, who was then guiding the policies of the Republican Party. People writing were to ask these men to defeat any tampering with the Neutrality Act.

The individuals were asked to volunteer their services in the drive against the repeal of the Act and states that if the people will speak now Congress will assert itself "and the battle for peace will be won."

The letter dated at 40 North Pennsylvania Street, Indianapolis, October 24, 1941, appearing over the name of MILLER as chairman of the Indianapolis America First Committee, requests money and time in order to keep this committee before the American people. It stresses the fact that this country should be kept out of the conflict in Europe and says further that they should seek to hold the President to his promises and his platform.

Obtained at the same time was a financial statement dated December 3, 1941. This statement was compiled by one of the members, who is a certified public accountant, and covers the period from February 4 to November 30, 1941, and is as follows:

SOURCE OF BANK DEPOSITS:
Membership Contributions Aggregating		$ 3,828.05
Collections at Group Meetings, etc.		1,212.62
Profits from Card Parties, Luncheons, etc.		198.70
Refund of Advances to Indiana State Committee		256.00
Total Bank Deposits		$ 5,495.37
SUMMARY OF DISBURSEMENTS:
Office Expenses	$1,462.40
Operating Expenses	2,068.09
Advertising Expenses	415.19
Cost of Public Meetings, etc.	769.00
Cash Advances for Expenses of State Committee	459.30
Total Disbursements by Check		5,174.18
BALANCE - Cash in Bank - November 30th, 1941		321.19

A specific statement was included to the effect that the local committee had never accepted any contribution from an unknown source, except that taken at public meetings. It also sets forth that the members would be glad to know that the national committee at Chicago was equally careful and maintained a record of every contribution and investigated the source of every contribution over $100. In no instance had they accepted a contribution from an unknown source. It is asserted in this statement that "at the invitation of the committee the FBI has gone over all records and has commended the committee on the thoroughness of our system."

It was also stated that General WOOD had called Congressman DIES and advised him that the records were open to his committee at any time without the necessity of any subpoena and the Dies Committee has looked over those records in which they were interested.

A form letter addressed to fellow members over the signature of MILLER as chairman, dated January 12, 1942, explains the action taken by the committee in disbanding after the attack on Pearl Harbor. This letter sets forth that the committee had sold all of its equipment for about 80% of its cost and all important records had been stored in a safe place. The balance on hand, which amounted to about $300, was invested in Defense Bonds. It stated that the action was taken solely because the course previously advocated could no longer be taken by the United States. The remark is made: "Our sole duty is to join wholeheartedly in assisting our country to travel the road that has been chosen." The letter states that although no great victory can be claimed, the America First Committee did delay the entry of the United States into the war by some six or eight months. The letter continues by advocating that all the members do what they can to aid the United States in the present conflict.

Photostatic copies were made of the correspondence above referred to and the negative and two copies of the positive are being retained in the Indianapolis file on this case. A third positive copy is being forwarded to the Bureau.

ONLY the opposition of the people, through their letters to Washington, has thus far kept us out of war. Members of Congress and the President, too, are both guided and restrained by the views of the people back home. When they do not hear from you, they naturally assume that you approve their actions, and proceed accordingly.

It is your first duty as a citizen, therefore, to make known your views to your Senators and your Representative, and also to the President, on any important issue. And what issue could be more important to you and to the nation than going to war. Write this week, therefore, and follow this with other letters every ten days or so, urging that the President keep the promises that re-elected him, otherwise, "government of the people, by the people, for the people," has indeed already "perished from the earth."

of facts. But in addition, we must thoroughly organize our workers down through each precinct in every county in the state. We can then give a practical answer to the practical problem which confronts every representative in Congress, for we can assure him of non-partisan support to supplant what he will lose when he bucks the Administration.

We have set up a temporary state organization, composed of the existing America First Chapter in the state, and during the past month we have organized new committees in twenty counties. Plans are completed for a state convention of delegates from every county in the state, and a subsequent Mid-West Rally for all workers in the five crucial states. We have the offer of radio time, a newspaper column, and facilities for neighborhood units of our committee.

To capitalize on these opportunities, we need funds to obtain the services of a full time executive to gather in these loose ends and to accomplish in the course of a month what it would take volunteer workers six months to get done. We need to have underwritten a budget of $1,000 a month for the next five months in order thus immediately to expand our work. That budget will pay for:

Weekly newspaper of 4,000 circulation
Weekly news dispatch to 400 editors in Indiana, and Literature mailed to 10,000 persons per month

We are no longer debating abstract possibilities. When they talk of war now, it is our sons who will do the fighting and the dying. It is our sons who will have their eyes blown from their sockets or their legs torn away by a land mine as they fight in Russia, India, Egypt, or wherever a war council decides to send them.

It is not a far off European people, but you who will be living under a dictator established, as elsewhere, by a war emergency and entrenched by the greater economic emergency that inevitably follows total modern war. It is you and your descendants who will see life savings swept away by inflation, or your children struggling under an impossible debt load that robs the future of hope.

There is yet time to halt our headlong rush to destruction. One victory by Congress will turn the tide and re-establish representative government in this country. But the time to act is now. Will you help?

Samples of what your money can do

$1,000—Finance Mid-West Convention to rally and unite workers in Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Illinois, with nationally known speakers.

$500—Furnish for one month services of full time executive, two secretaries and their expenses for organizing here and throughout the State.

$250—Large ad in all three local papers.

$100—Supply all 400 Editors in Indiana with weekly news stories for one month.

$50—Finance cost of bringing outstanding speaker to World War Memorial.

$25—Send Herbert Hoover's last speech to all Doctors or Lawyers in town.

$10—Letter to 500 people telling why and how to write their representatives.

The Time Is NOW!

IF we enter the present European destruction, future historians will tell of the fall of a free people who did not know how to use the powers they had won for themselves. Our children will wonder why the hundred million people who did not want to get into this war, did not realize that in a democracy even majorities must be organized to be effective.

The America First Committee of Indianapolis is the only local group now serving as a rallying point for those who are opposed to our entry into this war.

That our people are still so opposed is demonstrated by the vote on draft extension when both senators and twelve of thirteen representatives voted with forces opposing war. This accounts for the flurry of big name speakers of the Administration who have visited this state during the past month. They know that if Indiana wavers in its opposition, the entire country will falter.

The coming showdown calls for greater effort on our part. Letter writing must continue, as must rallies and the dissemination

In response to your telephone request, I am setting out a thumbnail sketch of the activities of our local America First Committee, and am enclosing such copies of our local literature as I can now readily lay my hands on. All of the records are being preserved at my home, and if anything else is particularly wanted, I believe I can find it for you.

In January 1941, about half a dozen young fellows from our local Junior Chamber of Commerce began meeting at my home in the evenings to discuss the European war situation and particularly to see how we could best express our opposition, and the opposition of others we knew, to those measures "short of war," which we felt were getting shorter all the time.

We decided to organize some sort of a committee, and after considerable discussion decided to join up with the National America First Committee rather than to try to go it alone. By this time we had had five or six meetings, so we drew up a plan and had a larger meeting in the World War Memorial one Sunday afternoon to perfect an organization and get under way.

On Washington's Birthday we opened our downtown office at 31 N. Pennsylvania Street. We had obtained the sponsorship of a number of outstanding men in the community whose names are on the margin of this letterhead as "Board of Directors." The "Executive Committee" was the younger fellows of less weight, who were to do the work.

Our first large rally was held in Cadle Tabernacle on Sunday, March 7, 1941, for Senator Wheeler, who got tied up in the Land-Lease debate and didn't show up. We followed this with rallies built around John T. Flynn, Senator Clark and Senator Wheeler - all about three weeks apart, and all at Cadle Tabernacle. We held smaller meetings for Clarence Manion, Stewart Corwin White, and Father O'Brien.

Beginning in the summer, we held weekly meetings at our headquarters, at which local speakers were invited. Many of our Committee spoke at these meetings - Harry T. Ice, Doyle Zaring, and Dan W. Flickinger. Other speakers who come to mind are Wm. F. Rexy, George L. Denny, Rev. Errol T. Elliott, and Rev. S. Grundy Fisher.

During this time the women had organized an auxiliary, and were active in conducting letter-writing campaigns, holding weekly afternoon meetings, card parties, and working up attendance at the large rallies. We had a paid secretary at the office, but women volunteers were always there mailing out literature, answering questions, helping organize others. At the office we gave out literature which we purchased from the National office, including speeches by Herbert Hoover, Alfred Landon, Chas. Lindbergh, Robert M. Hutchins, John T. Flynn, and Gen. Robert E. Wood. Also, we gave out literature of our own, of which the enclosed pamphlets are samples. For a while we got out a mimeographed paper every week to our members, and distributed it to the public from our office. I do not have copies of these issues, but I probably can find some if you want them.

Our funds were derived from individual contributions of which a careful record was kept, from card parties conducted by the women's auxiliary and from collections at our public meetings. I enclose a copy of our financial statement as of November 30, 1941, which is about accurate also for our time ofclosing on December 6, 1941.

Our last big meeting was held at Cadle Tabernacle on Sunday afternoon, November 27th, with Douglas Stuart, Jr., Michael Strange and Phil LaFollette as speakers. That was the climax to a State Convention held that morning at which we attempted to organize all the chapters in the State into one cohesive unit.

The night of Pearl Harbor, a meeting of the Executive Committee was called, and the following statement was given the papers:

> "As individuals and as an organization our services belong to our government. The sole question now is how best we may unite our energies to bring this conflict to a successful conclusion."

January 12, 1942

Dear Fellow Member:

In the month that has passed since war was declared and your Committee closed its doors, we have sold our chairs, mimeograph and other fixtures for about eighty-five percent of what they cost us, we have stored all of our important records in a safe place, and we have invested our balance on hand of about $300 in defense bonds. We have taken this action solely because the course which we had advocated can no longer be taken by our country. Since there is now only one choice, no possible good could come from debating further any other alternatives which cannot be taken. Our sole duty is to join wholeheartedly in assisting our country to travel the road that has been chosen.

But while the future commands all our energies and attention, I cannot put aside the temptation to take one glance back at the work of our Committee. We do not find there any great victories to celebrate for we lost on every major issue. No part of the program which we advocated was ever adopted, and the most that we can claim to have accomplished was the delaying of our entry into this war by some six or eight months. We can all hope that during that period our defenses have been strengthened as everyone advocated.

We had together a band of patriotic Americans who, despite defeat, worked without stint for a cause in which they believed and which was becoming daily more unpopular. There were women who worked day after day in our office addressing envelops, folding literature, and writing letters. There were those who worked among their friends, those who called on the telephone, spreading word of our meetings. There were men who gave of their time to plan our rallies to handle our publicity, to write letters, to solicit contributions, to do the weary drudge work that is a necessary part of every activity. Then there were those many members who could not work directly for us in our office, but who spoke out for our cause when it would have been discrete to remain silent, those who attended our meetings when it would have been easier to stay at home, those who prayed for our success. Without the continued support of all of these we could not have carried on. To have been a member of such a courageous, unselfish group should be one of the great experiences of our lives.

Today we are told that our country faces a crisis which will try the mettle of our people and call for all the stamina and courage that has built here a great nation. We may feel sure that those who displayed the courage of their convictions in 1941 will not be found wanting in courage in 1942. This war will be won by a calm, resolute people, whose enthusiasm will not fluctuate and whose determination will not vary. We have shown ourselves to be that type of people.

We all hope that out of the suffering and sacrifice attendant on this war, there may emerge a better world - a more decent place in which to live. The blue prin for that better world has not yet been generally formulated. But this we do kno any chance for a better world is now absolutely dependant upon our winning this struggle. To that essential victory let us each dedicate every ounce of our energies and our resources.

Sincerely yours,

[illegible], Chairman

Dear Sir:

However you may feel about intervening in the present European war, you will be interested in the enclosed story of the America First Committee. Other committees have been formed to stop our drift toward totalitarianism at home, but a withering blast from the President and a few deft swipes with the tar brush and they folded.

The America First Committee grows stronger with each blast and smear. The reason is not hard to find — for our membership consists of mothers and fathers seeking to save their sons, persons who saw this whole thing happen before and want to avoid a similar tragedy again, young men who want the same chance their fathers had to work for a separate destiny for America, independent of the bloody feuds of Europe.

You can see that these types of people would not be scattered by denunciations or smears. And particularly are they steadfast when they reflect that this policy they advocate is the one followed by this country throughout its history except for 1917-1918. Our principles are taken from the wisdom of Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, on down to the platform of both major parties a short year ago and the promises of both candidates for President during that campaign. We seek to hold an American President to his promise and to his platform. To say that we thereby become the tools of Hitler is to say that the makers of those promises were tools of Hitler a year ago, which we do not believe.

If you find you cannot agree with us, we hope your sense of fair play will cause you to look us over carefully. We believe you will find that we are actuated by the same high love of country and desire for her safety and future that you are.

If you do agree with our principles, then give us a hand before it is too late. Give us money so we can tell our story to more people. Give of your time to help us at whatever you do best — speaking, writing, publicity, organizing, planning and determining policies.

Most of all — be willing to stand and be counted, on this grave issue. Men of that type won your independence for you in 1776 — it will take men of that type to preserve it in 1941.

A CALL TO ACTION

Our long-awaited chance has come. In the past every step towards war has been cloaked with words of peace. But they cannot contend this time that to repeal the protective features of the Neutrality Act is a step in the interests of peace. It remains for the American people to speak now on the clear issue of war or peace.

We are prepared to go into action and win this campaign with your help. We need your contribution, as suggested by other literature herein, in order to pay printing and mailing costs of literature. As a suggestion, how about giving us one hour's pay each month? Many, of course, will be able to give more. And many of our people are working full time every day without pay, in the interests of peace. If you can spare an hour's pay -- you will make their work more effective.

Our plans include a letter-writing campaign conducted from our downtown office and from neighborhood offices, weekly news service to neighborhood papers and papers throughout the state, a radio forum, a newspaper column, rallies, noon and night meetings at our downtown office. But all these plans depend for their success upon the support and help that we can get from each member. Here is what we ask you to do:-

1. Fill out the enclosed card and mail it to us with your contribution, telling us what we can count on each month so we will know how greatly we can enlarge our activities.

2. Write a letter to Senator VanNuys, telling him you appreciate his past efforts to keep this country out of war, and that you hope he will vigorously oppose the repeal of the Neutrality Act.

3. Get five of your friends to write to Senator VanNuys, Senator Willis, or Representative Joseph W. Martin who is now guiding the policies of the Republican party. Ask these men to defeat any tampering with the Neutrality Act. Make a special effort to get people to write who have never written before.

When you have done this, call our office at Riley 1615 and offer your spare time services in this big drive. We have lots of jobs in our office and in your neighborhood. If each one can feel his individual responsibility in this great effort, our success is assured. Congress is anxious to regain the role it should play in a democracy. If a sizable portion of the people will only speak now, Congress will assert itself and the battle for peace will be won. It will only take one such victory to turn the tide, and stop once and for all this talk of some men about sending some other men to Russia, Africa, India, or wherever fancy might choose. We can do it. Let's go!

We know you will be interested in the financial statement of our Committee. We have kept a careful record of every cent that has come in and, likewise, of all expenditures. One of our members, who is a Certified Public Accountant, has looked over our books and has compiled these figures. They are, of course, mere summaries and, in case you are interested in a breakdown of any particular item, we have an itemized statement at the office which we will be glad to show you. The statement covers a period from February 4th to November 30th, or operations of approximately ten months.

While we are on the question of finance, we want to make clear that your local Committee has never accepted any contribution from an unknown source. We do not know, of course, the contributor of each quarter in the basket at our public meetings, but otherwise we have an entry in our books for every contribution. For example, the item "Membership Contributions", above, represents 647 individual contributions.

You will be glad to know that the National Committee at Chicago is equally careful, and they have not only recorded every contribution but also investigated the source of every contribution over $100.00. In no instance have they accepted a contribution from an unknown source. At the invitation of the Committee, the FBI has gone over all records and has commended the Committee on the thoroughness of their system. General Wood has called Congressman Dies and advised him that the records were open to his committee at any time without the necessity of any subpoenas, and the Dies Committee has looked over those records in which they were interested.

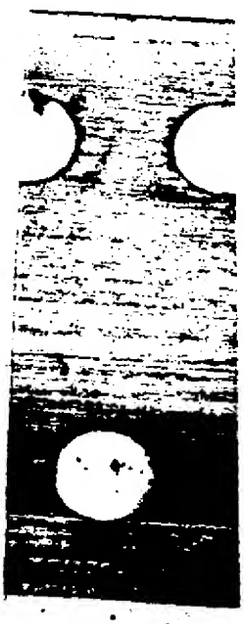
She further stated that the organization never did elect permanent officers, although RALPH [redacted] SHOAF was the temporary president and Mrs. H. FRANK TAYLOR was the acting secretary.



Continuing [redacted] stated that this organization met only four or five times prior to the time that they had disbanded, shortly after war was declared on December 7, 1941. She stated that the committee had its meetings at the Patrick Henry Hotel and to the best of her knowledge the usual attendance was twenty to twentyfive.

He added that the America First Committee had only a few meetings between the first part of October and the first part of December. An effort was made to secure a large hall in Roanoke for a large meeting at which a prominent speaker from the National Headquarters in Chicago was to appear. [redacted] stated that [redacted] made a $100 deposit at the Roanoke auditorium in order to obtain this hall, however, this meeting did not materialize prior to the t. war was declared and in accordance with instructions from the National Headquarters, the local chapter disbanded right after the declaration of war. The hall was not used and [redacted] was not able to recover his $100.00.

In closing [redacted] stated that he is postive that there has been no attempt to bring the organization to life again, and that [redacted] has not received any literature which would indicate that an attempt was being made to use former members of the local chapte in any subversive manner.

[redacted] presented the writer with two letterheads which were drawn up for use by the local chapter. The following tempor local officers were listed on these forms:

RALPH W. SHOAF	President
Mrs. F. L. TICE	Vice-President

The following are listed as members of the Steering Committee:

the subject of an Internal Security case, Pittsburgh file 100-3211, which file has been closed as all further investigation with regard to his activities will be reported in instant file. It is believed however that a brief resume of the information reported in the above-mentioned case should be included herein.

When interviewed at the Pittsburgh Field Office [redacted] gave the following information, with regard to instant organization.

Formation

According to [redacted] this organization was formed by JOSEPH E. HARRIS, 7 East Montgomery Street, Pittsburgh, but he was unable to give the date of the formation of the group as he explained that he had joined [redacted] at the invitation of HARRIS and that he did not know how long the organization had been formed prior to this date.

Purpose

[redacted] advised that the purpose of this organization is to develop to such a point and to lay the foundation for an organization through which they, the members, might influence or bring about Congressional legislation concerning States' rights, personal rights, and post-war conditions. [redacted] explained the purpose of the organization further by stating that during a period of war it is necessary for the Government to take from the citizens of the country many personal rights and liberties and that one of the primary purposes of this organization is to see that those personal rights and liberties are returned to the citizens of the United States after the war is over.

Meetings, Dues, etc.

According to [redacted] this organization generally meets either in the office of HARRIS, 402 Investment Building, or at the residence of HARRIS, 7 East Montgomery Street; that the meetings are held spasmodically but on an average of four or five times a month; that there are no officers in the group, and that no dues are paid by any of the members.

Material Developed by the Organization

At the time of the above-mentioned interview [redacted] presented to the writer 32 typewritten sheets, one printed sheet, 9 sheets of handwritten material, some of which has been incorporated into the typewritten sheets, and numerous newspaper clippings apparently from local papers. [redacted] stated that this material which he presented is only a part of the material which has been developed by this group and that he thinks that the complete material and records of the group are kept by HARRIS in his office.

The above-mentioned typewritten, printed, and handwritten material has been photographed by the Technical Laboratory and one copy is being retained in instant file and one copy in Pittsburgh file 100-3211.

The above-mentioned printed page is entitled "Roosevelt's Red Democracy, New Deal Government Of, By, and For the Jews" and this caption is encircled by the names of various government employees each with the word "Jew" before his name.

One page of the typewritten material bears the following caption: "List of topics to be developed" and below it are listed, among other items, free speech and assembly, unity, free enterprise, usurpation of States' rights, property rights and human rights, national defense and sabotage, propaganda, post-war conditions, and others. Much of the material contains quotations from prominent government figures among whom are listed Attorney General BIDDLE, Senator BURTON WHEELER, WOODROW WILSON, Justice OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, and others. Parts of the material are quoted and give as their source various government publications. Other parts of the material are apparently anti-Communist as one page contains in part the following:

Communism Stands For	Americanism Stands For
Individual Surfdom	Individual Labor
Enslavement of Man by State	Man the Master of the State
State Interests Always First	Rights of Man First
Government by Liquidation	Government by the People

The following quotations are excerpts from the above-mentioned material:

"American flesh and blood must not become helpless cannon fodder because of lack of proper equipment. . . We must not commit stupid heartless waste of American blood and substance by incompetent leadership at home or in the field. . . The administration. . . then proceeding to intensity its own political activities puts in office its own Party hacks, and increases its control over the country. This is exactly comparable to the activities of the Nazi Party in Germany or the Communist Party in Russia. Soon, if we do not put a stop to it, the fact will become generally accepted and a belief that political ambitions and activities are only proper for members and supporters of the New Deal members now in power; and the political activity on the part of others will gradually become accepted as treasonable activity. . . Congress must be forced to reassume this legislative function and end usurpation by the executive function. . . The Communists are using the very system they seek to destroy."

At the end of one section of the material which is devoted to religion is the following sentence: "Mr. MAGRUDER to supply quotations from Washington's Farewell Address and from Lincoln's Inaugural Speech."

Under a section of the material entitled "Economy [illegible]overnment" is found the following: ". . . Yet Lend-Lease has nothing to [illegible]h national defense; true, it can be claimed that Lend-Lease is for inter[illegible]l defense—but, this is America, and the spending of inconceivably vast [illegible]rther some plan of a band of international plotters in this country [illegible]nglophiles, Russophiles, and Communists not included in either of [illegible]lassifications) is to put it mildly the most flagrant treason ever [illegible]pon the American people. . . "

b7D

[redacted] stated that no speeches are made by any members of the group and that there has been no dissemination of the material developed. He further advised that the group as a whole is strictly anti-Semitic.

The above-mentioned material has been returned to [redacted]

Members

At the time of the interview [redacted] advised that the organization of which he is a member consists of the following persons and it should be noted that in giving their names and addresses he was unable to furnish the correct spelling or correct addresses, however, subsequent investigation has verified the names and addresses as set out below:

JOSEPH ERNEST HARRIS
7 East Montgomery Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

b7C

b7C

It should be noted that [redacted] stated that [redacted] is not a member of the organization but inasmuch as she is a close friend of HARRI she does a great deal of the typing for them and her name is therefore being included in this list.

It should be noted that Pittsburgh file 100-3211 contains the following:

On June 1, 1942, [redacted], called at the Pittsburgh Field Office and volunteered the following information. [redacted] stated that he knew that [redacted] had been interviewed and that inasmuch as he was employed at [redacted] Pittsburgh, he wished to explain his connection with the above-mentioned organization as he did not wish to be under suspicion.

[redacted] gave substantially the same information as [redacted] with regard to the formation, set up, and members but stated that the organization has now disbanded and no longer meets. He further advised that the organization had at one time considered using the title "We the People, Inc." but that this name had never been adopted. With regard to the purpose of the group [redacted] stated that it was to strengthen the power of Congress and get Congress to exercise its proper functions and that he believed the purpose of the group of which he is a member is similar to the purpose and aims of the "League for Constitutional Government" but advised that his group was in no way connected with this League nor was it connected with any other organization. b7C b7D

According to [redacted] he has never heard any member of the group make any un-American statements; that none of the group has ever made any speeches, and that no publication has been given to the material developed by the group.

It should be noted that Pittsburgh file 100-577-419 reflects that on May 10, 1941, [redacted], whose identity is known to the Bureau, reported that a number of Fascist groups were officially closed in order that they might carry on their activities more effectively in some new form, an example being JOHN B. SNOW'S League for Constitutional Government formerly located at 18 East 48th Street, New York City. b2 b7D

Pittsburgh file 100-0-3038 reflects that included in a list of organizations opposed to aiding Britain but in favor of aiding Germany and its Allies is the League for Constitutional Government.

Pittsburgh file 61-0-169, page 44, reflects that the League for Constitutional Government distributes pamphlets of anti-Semitic and anti-Administration tenor.

The instant investigation revealed the following information with regard to the members of subject organization.

[redacted] stated that the America First Committee in Dubuque had been made up of many of the regular "joiners" of the community, outstanding Republicans, and members of the Social Justice organization. The informant said that in his estimation they were not the most intelligent people in the town although they were some of the most prominent. Arch Bishop BECKMAN was affilliated with the organization but strictly from the humanitarian angle. Since December 7, 1941, Arch Bishop BECKMAN has become a "red hot foot for the American" and presently insists that his Priests pay monthly calls to mothers and families of boys who are in the service. The Arch Bishop also encourages his young Priests to join the Army as Chaplains. Informant said that many people in Dubuque had been more or less "duped into the organization and had afterwards been very sorry that they had become involved." [redacted] said that he is in a position to know about any present activities of the Committee and that from his observations, both the Social Justice organization and the America First Committee are dissolved and not active at the present time.

[redacted] was acquainted with many of the outstanding members of the America First Committee and after rather discreet inquiry into their present activities, stated that there is no evidence of continued activities of the Committee. Informant stated that many of the members have swerved from an anti-war to pro-war effort completely and at present are very active in the war effort, civilian defense, and bond sales. This informant revealed that President HERBERT HAUPTLI of the organization was a personal friend of General ROBERT E. WOOD and was connected with the Sears Roebuck Company in Chicago prior to his coming to Dubuque about two years ago. It is the common opinion of the members that it was through his effort that the Committee was formed and that can be directly traced to General WOOD.

[redacted] was interviewed under pretext and stated that he had been an active member of the America First Committee but had withdrawn just prior to December 7. He stated that the Committee was formed and became active under the leadership of President HAUPTLI who was in some way connected with General WOOD. [redacted] said that as far as he knows the America First Committee is quite inactive at the present time and that most members are even ashamed to admit that they ever belonged to the organization.

[redacted] revealed that the following were the officers of the America First Committee in Dubuque: b2 b7D

FRED A. HAUPTLI president. Mr. HAUPTLI is [redacted]

FRED A. HOERNER, first vice president, [redacted]

Dr. VINCENT CONNELLY, second vice president, [redacted] b7C

Mrs. CARL D. HOERNER, secretary, [redacted]

Miss CATHERINE GEISLER, [redacted]

[redacted] treasurer [redacted] b2 b7D

[redacted] stated that when the America First Committee was at its peak it had probably 600 members of whom very few were active. Due to the short life of the Committee the informant did not believe that any subversive influences had come to bear upon it and that at present it is quite completely dissolved. The informant said that any outside influences would have come in the form of speakers to the various meetings and that she could remember no one other than a man named NORDSBORG who spoke before the Committee on June 21, 1941. The informant described Mr. NORDSBORG as follows:

Height--5'8"
Weight--180
Complexion--Dark
Build--Stocky
Hair--Dark
Age--Apprxoimately 50

The informant was unable to furnish NORDSBORG's first name [redacted] that he traveled with his wife and daughter and that [redacted] was quite a well known figure skater in the United States.

NORDSBORG appeared before a meeting of the active members of the Committee and made a speech at a dinner given at Kertz Cafteria. He [redacted] heated in his denounciations of the administration and [redacted] that the President and Congress were traitors to the people of the United States and should be indicted and empeached immediately. After this speech Mr. NORDSBORG proceeded to take up a collection for the purpose of going to Washington and indicting the President and Congree. [redacted] He further stated that the Committee did not trust NORDSBORG as they did not know anything about his background but that President HAUPTLI was quite "sold" on him and very much in favor of his going to Washington for the above purpose. President HAUPTLI endeavored to get the endorsement of General WOOD for NORDSBORG but failed in this attempt. NORDSBORG returned to Dubuque several times about this meeting but did not collecte all of the pledges due to thefact that the Committee after an investigation found that he never went near Washington but had had been spending his time in California. The informant was unable to offer any further information on the background or activities of NORDSBORG.

[redacted] is of the opinion that the Committee at the present time is completely disbanded and that there is no activity whatever. Informant said that any such activity would have come to informant's notice and that there had never even been any attempts to reform the committee along any underlines or any other name.

[redacted] furnished a list exactly similar to the list of officers set out above under the interview with [redacted] This informant stated that there had been no evidence of any subversive or foreign influence brought to bear upon the committee during its brief life and that at present it has completely disbanded. [redacted]

The following information was made available by [redacted] on Mr. NORDSBORG.

ANDREW B. NORDSBORG was a financial writer and expert from Los Angeles, California, who had appeared on a great many America First Committee programs throughout the country with CHARLES A. LINDBERGH. Mr. NORDSBORG was accompanied by his daughter who is a well known roller skating champion of the United States. The informant stated that the Committee made an investigation of NORDSBORG after his collection of $1,500.00 and determined that he had at one time been a teacher in the Los Angeles Public School system. Informant said that NORDSBORG was nottrusted by the members of the Committee except President HAUPTLI and had been dropped when it was discovered that he was misusing the funds which he had collected.

[redacted] stated that in addition to NORDSBORG the following speakers had appeared in Dubuque under the auspices of the America First Committee at a large peace rally held at Loras College Stadium in June of 1941:

Arch Bishop FRANCIS BECKMAN of the Arch Diocese in Dubuque.
General ROBERT E. WOOD of Chicago.
Colonel CHARLES A. LINDBERGH.
Senator BURTON K. WHEELER.
Mrs. JANET AYER FAIRBANKS, Chicago, novelist.

This informant declared that the organization in Dubuque had been made up of townspeople well known for their pattriotism and good character. There was no outside influence brought to bear upon the committee even from other America First organizations in the State. In August of 1941 the Dubuque Chapter was very severely criticized by Chicago headquarters for not being active enough in spreading literature, and increasing membership in the committee.

Informant said that if any outside influence would have been brought to bear it would have been through President HAUPTLI who had come from Chicago or through ANDRALS NORDSBORG. THE informant was quite sure that there is no continued activities of the committee and that there are no subsidiary organizations set-up in Dubuque under another name to carry on any of its work. The informant also advised that a list of the 600 committee members could be produced with some difficulty but that if it was necessary it would be submitted. At present, HERBERT HAUPTLI has the records in his possession in the offices of the Maizewood Produts Company.

Speaking before an AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE rally in Cleveland Public Auditorium, tonight, Charles A. Lindbergh said:

There is no need for me to outline to you the seriousness of the situation we face today in America. In the past, we have gone on the assumption that our country was governed according to the will of the people. That has been taken for granted as a part of the American system of life. We were taught, even as school children, that government by the people was inseparable from the freedom and liberty for which our forefathers fought. We were taught that, as American citizens, we inherited the right to know about, and to vote upon the fundamental politics of our nation. In the past, we have elected candidates to represent us, and not to rule us. In the past, our President was responsible to our representatives in Congress. And the Supreme Court sat, incorruptibly, as a final safeguard for freedom and justice in our nation. Each one of these branches of government, the Executive, the Legislative, and the Judicial, was intended to be a check upon the others, that our American way of life might be preserved.

But now the question arises whether we any longer have a representative system of government in this country, whether we any longer have the right to know about, and to vote upon, the fundamental policies of our nation. We are faced with the stark fact that we have been carried to the verge of war against the opposition of a majority of our people -- a war not of defense, but of attack; a war not in America, but in Europe and Asia. We are faced with the realization that our President consults our representatives in Congress with less and less frequency, and that, while the direct attempt to pack our Supreme Court failed, its membership has now changed indirectly through retirements. We are faced with the knowledge that the most important issue of our generation -- that of peace or war; that of defense or attack; that of whether or not the destiny of America is to be merged with the destiny of Europe -- has not been placed before a vote of our people. That issue has been withheld from us, and withheld intentionally.

National polls show that from the time this war started in Europe, when Americans were asked whether or not we should enter it, the overwhelming majority answered "NO!" National polls, today, show that the great majority of our people still stand opposed to entering the war. But step by step we have been carried toward it. The Administration in Washington has not even tried to follow the mandate of our people to stay out of war. Many of the office holders in our Government have made every effort to evade that mandate. Instead of informing us, they have withheld information. Instead of taking steps to keep us out of war, they have taken steps to get us into war. From the repeal of the arms embargo to the occupation of Iceland, we have become more and more involved. And each step we have made toward war has been with the promise of the Administration that it was for the purpose of keeping us out.

Men and women of Ohio: While there is still time to think and speak freely, Americans must ask themselves this question -- Are we operating under a government by representation, or are we operating under a government by subterfuge? If our Government carries us to war with the majority of our people against it, are we not faced with a problem that is even more fundamental than war itself?

I fully realize that the charge of subterfuge is serious in the extreme; but let me recall to your minds a few of the facts that lie behind it. Do you remember how we were told that the repeal of the arms embargo would be the surest way to keep this country out of war? The same people who tell us now that we must go to war, told us then that it was only necessary to sell arms on a "cash and carry" basis in order to insure victory for the Allies. They were emphatic in saying that no one asked us to lend money, or to send troops abroad. It was only last spring that the "Lease-Lend" Bill was passed, again with promises that it would keep us out of war; but by that time we were informed that we had to lend arms in order to insure victory. You remember as well as I all those other steps that the Administration said were so definitely "short of war" -- the transfer of planes, and warships, and cannon; the draft of men; the expenditure of countless millions. We were never told the true meaning of the measures the Administration asked us to support. During the weeks before election we were told "again and again and again" that American boys would not be sent to fight in foreign wars. But we now find that inside of these sweetened promises of peace lay the deadly pills of war, and that we have been swallowing them one after another for many months. We find that while the American people were promised peace, the British people were given to understand that we would enter war. Only a few days ago, the Prime Minister of England confidently told his people that America is on the verge of war. British generals discuss openly when and where an American Expeditionary Force is to be sent. And our President does not renew his promise. Now that the elections are over, we in America ask in vain to be told, even once "again" that our boys will not be sent to fight in foreign wars.

These are not the only proofs of the subterfuge in our present Government. Let me cite a few more examples. Not many months ago, our President told us that "convoys mean shooting, and shooting means war". Then, a little later, when we objected to the use of convoys, we were informed that our navy was not "convoying," but that it was already being used to "patrol" the seas for an indefinite distance from our shores. The word "patrol" has been substituted for the word "convoy", and possibly the letter of the law was satisfied; but whatever may be the legal technicalities, the fact remains that the American people were misled.

The hypocrisy and subterfuge that surrounds us comes out in every statement of the war party. When we demand that our Government listen to the 80% of the people who oppose war, they shout that we are causing disunity. The same groups who call on us to defend democracy and freedom abroad, demand that we kill democracy and freedom at home by forcing four-fifths of our people into war against their will. The one-fifth who are for war call the four-fifths who are against war the "fifth column."

These interventionists, who call themselves the defenders of freedom and democracy, dare not place the issue of war to a vote of our people. They dared not let us vote on war at the last election, and they dare not let us vote on war today. They are afraid to put the issue to a referendum of the people, or to a vote of Congress. They know that the people of this country will not vote for war, and they therefore plan on involving us through subterfuge. As I said months ago, I have listened to interventionists in this country argue among themselves about what steps "short of war" would take us into war most quickly.

Men and women of Ohio: The war party's plan is clear. Since this country will not enter war willingly, they plan on creating incidents and situations which will force us into it. The interventionists know that if our defense program is extended far enough into Europe or Asia, they can get us into a foreign war under the guise of defending America. They now say, with all the power of their propaganda, that we must occupy Africa in order to defend America. They say that we must control islands lying off the coast of the Eastern hemisphere. They want us to send our soldiers to the East Indies, the Cape Verdes, the Canaries, Madeira, the Azores, Ireland, and possibly England as well. And they know that if our occupation of Iceland doesn't bring on the shooting, the occupation of these other places will.

We are told that we must fight for the freedom of mankind. But the greatest battle for freedom is being fought right here in America today. If we cannot maintain our freedom in the New World, we cannot force freedom on the Old World. What is freedom if it is not the right of a free people to vote on the issue of foreign war? Where is freedom if four-fifths of a nation can be carried to war against its will? Where is freedom when Americans ask unanswered whether or not our navy has already fought upon the sea -- whether or not our forces have already been sent abroad? Where is freedom when the American army is sent to occupy an island of Europe without our Congress even being asked? Where is freedom when it becomes disunity for citizens to meet and discuss their beliefs on the fundamental issues of their nation? Where has freedom gone when we in America are not even informed of the underlying intentions of our Government; when the agents of a foreign power are encouraged to speak and to travel throughout our land, while the same lecture halls that are open to them are closed to those of us who place the welfare and independence of our own country above the interests of any foreign power?

I will tell you where freedom lies today. It lies in the meetings of fearless men and women throughout this land -- in meetings such as we are holding here in Cleveland tonight; in hundreds of similar meetings in every section of the United States -- in cities, in villages, and on farms. Freedom for us in America lives or dies with the success of these gatherings of our citizens. Freedom for us does not lie on any Soviet battlefield, or on any coastline of Europe, Africa, or Asia. It lies today in the question of whether or not the action of our Government in America is controlled by the will of our people. If we are represented in Washington, we are free men; but if we are ruled by Washington, we are not. Freedom lies in the support we give to those patriots in Congress who still stand undauntedly opposed to war, who still listen to the voice of the people they represent. Freedom for us depends on whether or not we are ready to protect and carry it on through these days of trial and war.

The America First Committee has been organized by American citizens who are ready to fight to maintain the freedom and independence we inherited from our forefathers. We have organized to give voice and strength to the great majority of Americans who oppose this war. We have organized to make their influence - your influence - effective. We stand for the right to vote on the vital issues of our nation. We stand for the right of citizens to meet and to discuss the problems of war and peace. We stand for the right of those who do the paying and the dying, to also have a voice in the deciding. We stand for an impregnable defense and an independent America. If you stand with us, we ask you to join our Committee. We ask you to help us organize these meetings. We ask you to write to your Congressmen and Senators in Washington, demanding that they heed the voice of the people who elected them, and that they in turn demand that the people of our nation be accurately informed of the developments of this war, and of the actions and intentions of our Government.

Men and women of Ohio: For two years I have traveled through this country, speaking in opposition to our entering the war. I have said that I believe it would be disastrous, both for America and Europe, if we took part in it. But the issue today is even greater than the issue of war or peace. It is the issue of whether or not we still have a representative government; whether or not we in the United States of America are still a free people, with the right to decide the fundamental policies of our nation. This is an issue that strikes to the foundations of our way of living, our government, and our rights as citizens. This meeting tonight and the meetingslike it that are being held all over this country, are held to protest that this nation was founded on the principle of government by consent of the people - an informed people, a trusted people. These meetings are held to demonstrate our adherence to this principle. If you believe in this principle, we ask you to make your voice heard by our Government in Washington. We urge you to speak, to work, and to pray -- that representative government may not perish from this nation.

On August 11, 1941 a brief article noted that a Mrs. WILLIAM VORDERBERG, 1212 Division Street, had been named temporary chairman. On August 12, 1941, it is noted that Judge W. W. Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated September 1, 1942, at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, entitled "America First Committee, Internal Security - C".

A review of the reference report reflects the activity of a small local group of individuals who were formerly members of the America First Committee. However, their activity does not represent a continuation of that Committee in any sense of the word. Accordingly, it is requested the investigation outlined in reference report and dealing with the following individuals be reported in the future under the above caption: [redacted]

With reference to the undeveloped leads set out in reference report, it is believed many of these can be ignored as can be seen by the following examples:

NEW YORK CITY

The Polish Information Center in New York City is the semiofficial organization under the control of the Polish government in exile and puts out material favorable to Poland.

The lead dealing with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. Its very name does not indicate that it is in any way subversive.

The lead with reference to St. Joseph's Home does not appear pertinen[t] since [redacted]

CLEVELAND

It is not believed that the lead dealing with inquiries concerning th[e] should be initiated at this time, since [redacted] probably visited Lead concerning [redacted] should be ignored as this is a well-known [illegible] standing.

Honorable Herbert Hoover

Dear Sir I read an articule in the confidential Detective on the American First Committee about who constituted and who made up its rank-and-file member ship and what its source of income were. One Preacher of the full Gospil church traveled from one Tabernacle to another telling the people what a mess the President were getting the Country in, and telling what good Lindberg and Senator Wheeler could do for the U. S. A. it was the most disgusting talk I ever heard when he was here and I know some member of this domination have listed the President as the beast that the Bible speak of. Winrod the big Full Gostil preacher keep in touch with the members here.

The Preacher who cepe here is named Ham he is a nation known Evanglist

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: No information obtained that the "Staats-Anzeiger", German language newspaper in Bismarck, N. Dak., is connected with the America First Committee in any underground activities.

REFERENCE: Report of Special Agent [redacted] made at Sioux Falls, South Dakota dated 7/21/42. b7C

DETAILS: AT BISMARCK, NORTH DAKOTA:

[redacted] advised that they had, for several years past, kept rather close track of the activities of various organizations in Bismarck, and further that to their knowledge the America First Committee had never, at any time, had a committee in Bismarck.

[redacted] advised that he was able to read German and that he had read the "Staats-Anzeiger," German language newspaper in Bismarck on numerous occasions and that he had never noticed where the paper had solicited members for the America First Committee in Bismarck. He advised, however, that as he remembered, the "Staats-Anzeiger" did publish news items about the America First Committee and its activities during 1941, but that it did not publish anything more than would appear in any other newspaper in that part of the country.

He advised he had never noticed anything in the paper concerning the activities between the America First Committee and the "Staats-Anzeiger." He concluded, however, by stating he could not read, write or speak German and that he was unable to advise as to any activities engaged in on the part of the editorial or managerial staffs of the newspaper.

b7C

[redacted] that he could write, read and speak German fluently and that he read every issue of the newspaper. He stated that he had never noticed any activities on the part of the newspaper or its managerial staff to be affiliated with the America First Committee and that he had never heard anyone speak of soliciting subscriptions. He advised, however, that the managerial personnel of the "Staats-Anzeiger" were, in his opinion, all loyal Americans but were definitely non-interventionists and would be the type of persons who would have joined the America First Committee in the first part of 1941.

It should be noted that FRANK BRANDT, former owner of the newspaper, died on June 15, 1942. [redacted]

b7C

[redacted] it was ascertained that the deceased Mr. BRANDT was sympathetic to the German cause prior to Pearl Harbor. [redacted]

There being no further undeveloped leads in the Sioux Falls Field Division, this case is being referred upon completion to the office of origin. However, in the event any information is developed in the future regarding the underground activities of the America First Committee, in this Field Division, the case will be vigorously investigated and reports submitted.

TITLE: THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE

CHARACTER OF CASE: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 10-22-90 BY SP8BD/kmz

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

[redacted] b7C b7D advised that he has not been associated with the America First Committee since the middle of 1941. He stated that he had only given two speeches for the Committee, one in St. Louis and one in Washington, D. C. He stated further that the America First Committee definitely discontinued operations on December 11, 1941 and that he has had no information reflecting subsequent activity.

Letter from Washington Field Division dated June 24, 1942 to the Bureau.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

[redacted] b7C b7D advised upon interview that his association with the America First Committee had been very brief. He stated that he did not approve of the aims of the America First Committee but that he went along with the group because it had the same final goal as that of his organization, namely, keeping the United States out of war. He stated that he is a pacifist and that his record [redacted] will verify this statement. He advised that the America First Committee advocated an impregnable defense line for the United States but that he, [redacted] and as a pacifist could not support this idea.

He stated that he had been very well acquainted with General WOOD, the nominal leader of the Committee and that his acquaintanceship among the national officers and leaders of the Committee had been very widespread. He advised that he had made two speeches for the Committee, one in Washington, D. C. late in 1940 and one in St. Louis, Missouri in April, 1941. He advised that the audiences that composed these meetings were somewhat different from those which he usually addressed. He pointed out in this regard that naturally the Committee would attract to it some elements which were not conducive to the better welfare of this country.

[redacted] stated further that because of his friendship with some of the leaders of the Committee that he knows definitely the America First organization was closed down for all time, on December 11, 1941. He stated that on that date an all-day meeting was held in Chicago where a heated discussion was held whether to continue with the activities of the organization. He pointed out that it was decided to disband and that this move was prompted from sentiments received from Senators WHEELER and NYE wherein the organization was advised that this move would be the better policy. [redacted] further stated that there is no activity in Washington, D. C. at the present time by this organization as far as he knows, and there is none whatsoever on a national basis.

In view of the fact that there is no further investigation apparent in Washington, D. C. and that the America First Committee has disbanded both locally and nationally, no further inquiry is contemplated and this matter is being referred upon completion to the Office of Origin.

Mr. J.Edgar Hoover,
F.B.I.,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

In their recent book, SABOTAGE: THE SECRET WAR AGAINST AMERICA. the authors, Michael Sayers and Albert Kuhn, state that every member of the America First Committe is tied up with the Axis Fifth Column, is an Axis agent and potential saboteur. This is, also, the charge from other sources.

This fills me with alarm. If its millions of members are connected, in any way, with the Axis, why have you done nothing about it? Are you afraid, because of the high position of some of its members, like Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, her brother, Archis Roosevelt, and various men now active in Congress? The latter should be impeached, if, as charged, they are tied up with the Axis.

Rickenbacker was a member, also, but was forced to resign, I understand, because of Administrative pressure against his company. How can he be trusted, as he is, with secret missions, when he belonged to the committee and resigned against his own desires?

Then there is Lindbergh, called a copperhead, who is working on important war work in Detroit. I am afraid that , if he is an Axis agent, he will, if possible, let Hitler know all that might interest him and commit sabetage whenever feasable.

The public should know just where the America First Committee stands. Only you, and, possibly, the Dies Committee, can force a showdown on that issue. An investigation of a few of the leaders, using the lie detector, would settle matters. If traitors, they should all be sent to Concentration Camps, or some place where they could do no more harm. If found not guilty, it would not mean that they would be smeared less, but people who distrust them would learn the truth.

Perhaps you can tell me if any act of sabotage ,or treason, has been traced tothe committee.

To me, it is imperative that action should be taken, before the Axis gets all our secrets and sabotage becomes widespread, if the facts are as stated.

Hoping this will move you to a needed investigation, I remain

The Bureau, by letter dated July 21, 1942, entitled as above, advised that there was no objection to the Washington Field Office's interviewing [redacted] regarding the America First Committee and obtaining any other information believed of interest to the Bureau.

Accordingly, an attempt was made to contact [redacted] and information was received [redacted] that he is presently residing at [redacted] Street, New York, New York. His present employment is unknown.

In view of the fact that inquiry concerning the America First Committee has been discontinued in this area and there is no further basis for contacting [redacted] regarding this organization, no request is being made of the New York Field Office to interview [redacted] regarding the America First Committee. However, it is suggested that this individual might be of assistance regarding [redacted]. Any such contact with [redacted] is being left to the discretion of the New York Field Office.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Informants believe St. Louis Chapter of America First Committee is completely disbanded and that no effort is being made to keep the idea alive here. No evidence of attempt to organize a chapter of Americans for peace in St. Louis area.

DETAILS:

At St. Louis, Missouri:

On October 26, 1942 [redacted] was contacted at his office, at which time he advised that he had previously had considerable information concerning the activities of the St. Louis Chapter of the America First Committee. He advised that he had never actually been a member of this organization and that he had not been a supporter of it. He explained that the presence of his name on the list of original sponsors of the local group was entirely without his knowledge and that he certainly never appeared in court as a sponsor of the pro forma decree granting charter to the local chapter. b2 b7D

However, this informant, because of business association, is personally acquainted with several leaders of the St. Louis chapter. The informant volunteered to contact these local leaders and ascertain discreetly as to whether or not there was any local activity of the America First Committee at the present time.

Later this informant reported that he had contacted JOSEPH FORSHAW and several other former leaders of this organization and they had all assured him that there was absolutely no local activity of the group since a few days after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

[redacted] was also contacted and after discreetly consulting his sources of information advised that he is certain that the St. Louis Chapter of the America First Committee is no longer in existence.

Both of the above named informants reported that from their personal acquaintanceship with the former prominent persons in St. Louis who were affiliated with the St. Louis Committee, they are certain that these persons are now one hundred per cent for the war effort and are not in any way advocating that the United States not engage in the present war. Both of the above named informants were also questioned concerning the possibility of the organization in St. Louis of a local chapter of Americans for peace.

Although it has been previously reported that [redacted] also known as [redacted] Missouri, had volunteered to organize a local chapter of the Americans for Peace, there has been no indication that such an organization was ever started.

The reference room of the St. Louis Globe Democrat and the research bureau of the Chamber of Commerce were both checked for the possibility that such an organization had been started. All of this investigation has produced only negative results and it is felt certain that there is no such organization in the St. Louis Area at the present time.

As there does not appear to be any further investigation necessary concerning the disbanded St. Louis Chapter of the America First Committee, no further investigation will be conducted unless added information is received to indicate the necessity.

or a body affiliated with such a group in Evansville, Indiana.

On October 22, 1942 [redacted] stated that about eighteen months previous [redacted] had been talking the doctrine of the America First Committee and had some literature of that organization. Informant stated, however, that he was positive that there is no America First organization in Evansville at the present time to his knowledge.

[redacted] Evansville, Indiana stated that it was his opinion that the America First group had a couple of organization meetings in Evansville eighteen months or two years ago but that no group was at present active and could furnish no further information concerning this matter.

According to [redacted] there was several months ago a move on foot in Evansville to form a unit of the America First Committee but that such movement never got under way. In addition, inquiries were made by Special Agent [redacted] of the following individuals relative to the America First Committee. However, none of these individuals was cognizant of any existence of the America First Committee:

[redacted]

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] at Jeffersonville, Indiana:

On October 24, 1942 the following individuals were interviewed, namely, [redacted]

Each of the above individuals related that according to his knowledge there is not at present nor was there in the past any America First Committee active in Jeffersonville, Indiana.

AT NEW ALBANY, INDIANA

On October 22, 1942 [redacted] were interviewed and each of these individuals related that to their knowledge there was not presently in existence nor was there in the past an active body of the America-First

F 253

Committee of New Albany.

On October 22, [redacted] United States District Court, New Albany advised that he had heard approximately two years ago that an individual in New Albany had been somewhat interested in the movement of the America First Committee and the writer advised of the source from which information could be obtained in this respect. b7C

On October 22, 1942 [redacted] related that previous to the declaration of war between the United States and the Axis powers, he had received a letter from the headquarters of the America First Committee in Chicago, Illinois and in reply thereto had forwarded to that committee the sum of $1.00 for certain literature. The informant stated that he has at all times been interested in the preservation of peace if such were plausible, but upon the development of subsequent information he was able to understand more clearly the issues and became no longer interested in such a movement. This informant related that he was certain that no organized America First Committee was ever present in New Albany and that, in fact, at the time of the receipt of the literature from Chicago he made inquiries as to whether there were any local groups with whom further contact could be had and that inquiries and discussions with his friends failed to develop any organized group of individuals who had even become initially interested in the America First Committee. b2 b7D

The informant related that he has had no correspondence with the Committee nor any group representing it under another name since considerable time before the declaration of war and that he was positive that there were no longer any individuals in New Albany in any connected with the America First Committee or any organization which may have followed upon its dissolution.

It is to be noted that inquiry made of the above informant and from the persons previously interviewed indicated the informant to be a reliable, intelligent, and thoroughly patriotic life resident of the community concerning whom no derogatory information of any nature had ever been reported.

Since there is no further investigation to be conducted in this Field Division, this matter is being referred upon completion to the office of origin.

Dear Sir:

There are attached hereto copies of a memorandum dated October 16, 1942, received by the Bureau from the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice. It will be noted that there are thirty-five organizations mentioned

b3 [redacted]

The Criminal Division is desirous that the information secured by the grand jury with reference to the organizations mentioned therein be examined and the pertinent portions thereof included in an investigative report on each group.

In view of the specific interest in the review of the records pertaining to the German-American Bund and the German-American Vocational League, Incorporated, separate communications were addressed to you under date of November 2, 1942, relative to these groups. I would like to point out at this time that the records of the German-American Business League, the Haus Vaterland, Incorporated, and the Teutonia Publishing Company, probably should most logically be considered in connection with the case entitled "German-American Bund, Voorhis Act." This matter, however, is being left to your discretion as there may be a question of office administration involved.

reference report of Special Agent [redacted] dated May 13, 1948, there has been no indication that any such leaders or persons were making any efforts to prolong the life of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in this area. Informant stated that if any such gatherings or secret meetings had been held since the ones reported, news of them would undoubtedly have come to her, and likewise of any other activities or efforts being made to prevent the disintegration of subject organization. She stated that at present the former personnel of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in New York City is almost entirely disorganized, and those who have maintained efforts and activities in the same or similar lines, have affiliated with or are working for any number of smaller groups which have been or presently are under investigation by the New York Field Office. The names of various such organizations have previously been set forth in reference reports of the New York Office.

Informant suggested, however, that in some cases, the officers and leaders of the individual chapters in the New York City area had, upon the Declaration of War and the dissolution of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE by its national officers in Chicago, Illinois, copied or retained portions or all of such local unit membership lists for possible use by them with other organizations of a similar nature with which they might affiliate. In this line, informant pointed out that HORACE J. HAASE, chairman of the organization known as Americans for Peace in New York City, and who was formerly chairman of the Speakers' Committee in the Brooklyn, New York, chapter of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, was known by her to possess fairly complete duplicate membership files of such chapter of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, and he has used them in his efforts with his present organization, Americans for Peace. Informant also stated that it has been her observation that very probably [redacted] of subject organization, possesses, at least in part, duplicate membership records of such unit. [redacted] reported as being active now with such organizations as [redacted] in New York City. Informant also suggested that [redacted] New York City, and who now is an officer in the organization, [redacted] has indicated that she possesses in whole or in part duplicate membership records of the unit with which she was affiliated. Informant also stated that she knew that [redacted] who had organized the Post War World Council in New York City and, about the time war was declared, attempted to secure duplicate membership records of the New York AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE from JOHN T. FLYNN, New York Chairman, for use in her new organization, but it was reported that FLYNN had flatly refused to cooperate with her along such lines.

It should be noted that all organizations previously mentioned as springing up following the outbreak of war and the dissolution of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, are, with their officers, presently under investigation by the New York Field Division, in accordance with Bureau instructions.

Agent contacted [redacted] for any information in his possession which would indicate continued activities pointed toward keeping subject organization alive. When questioned concerning the individual officers and personnel of subject organization who would possibly be in a position to do such, [redacted] advised that ROBERT L. BLISS, former director of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, New York City, who was a member of the staff of the newspaper PM, is presently listed as an honorary committee member of the Citizens Defense Committee, 342 Madison Avenue, New York City. Informant had no information concerning the recent or current activities of JOHN T. FLYNN, former chairman of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, New York City; however, he furnished the following background information on FLYNN:

"John T. Flynn is an economist and writer with tremendous drive and output of economic and political literature. He was pro-Roosevelt in 1933, which later turned into a bitter hatred. His 'Country Squire in the White House' was a best seller around election time. He is Irish and anti-British. His associates [redacted] in , uncensored, 'Our Pacifist Appeasers' and [redacted] in Scripps-Howard slightly pro-Fascist. He has expressed anti-Jewish sentiments."

[redacted] further advised that EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR., former secretary of the New York AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE and generally believed to be its foremost financial backer, was reported in the NEW YORK ENQUIRER of June 1, 1942, as having been appointed Assistant to former Governor ALFRED E. SMITH of New York in the United Service Organization in its campaign to raise funds. [redacted]

[redacted] advised that his sources of information indicated that H. DUDLEY SWIM and AMOS R. E. PINCHOT, both former officers of subject organization in New York City, had given no indication of any desire or efforts to keep subject organization alive since the outbreak of war. Informant advised that SWIM apparently was connected with subject organization as treasurer only as a business proposition, and, since subject organization's dissolution, has severed all relation with its officers and personnel. Informant pointed out, however, that PINCHOT is listed as a trustee of the Committee for Constitutional Government which maintains an office in New York City but has its headquarters in Washington, D. C. Informant, however, was unable to furnish any additional information concerning subject organization or PINCHOT'S activities in connection therewith.

Concerning DOUGLAS GREGORY, formerly on the Speakers Committee of subject organization, [redacted] advised that the only activity recently noted on his part was that in support of GEORGE DYSON FRIOUS in the latter's campaign for Congress from the Brooklyn District of New York City. Informant advised that FRIOUS was also a former "America Firster" and had dropped out of the race for Congress prior to the election.

Contact was had with [redacted] New York City, and a resident of [redacted] for any information in his possession which would indicate continued activity on the part of officers or members of subject organization with a view toward keeping it alive as a unit. He advised that, although he had not made a recent investigation of the activities of the leaders of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in New York City, he has observed no further effort being made to prevent the complete dissolution and disintegration of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE as an organization in this area.

On October 6, 1942, agent contacted [redacted], whose identity is known to the Bureau. When questioned concerning any indication of sustained existence on the part of subject organization or pertinent activities on the part of its controlling personnel, he advised that, although he has not, in recent months, been in contact very much with his contacts, who formerly were officers and members of subject committee, it has been his general observation that the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in New York City is in the general process of disintegration. He has observed that the radical members who would be interested in continuing the activity along isolationist lines seem to have scattered and affiliated themselves with numerous smaller groups and organizations with similar purposes. He stated that he did not believe there was any person or group of persons still in a position to hold subject organization together in the New York City area in the absence of any definite efforts on the part of the national officers of the organization, and he doubted whether such efforts on the part of the former national officers would have much effect at the present time.

The only information concerning the former officers of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in New York City which [redacted] was able to furnish was that he had heard that ELWIN S. WEBSTER, JR. now has a government job and that Captain GEORGE SMITH is now a Major in the Air Corps and is believed to be stationed in Florida; that ROBERT L. BLISS is also in the Air Corps in Florida; and that DOUGLAS GREGORY, former head of the Speakers Committee is now back on the stage in New York City.

At the time of this contact with [redacted] he furnished a copy of a report covering an interview he had had on September 29, 1942, [redacted] copies of which report have been made available to the Bureau. Portions of such report are quoted as follows: b2 b7D

[redacted] b7C b7D

Contact was later made directly with [redacted] at which time he affirmed in effect the opinions expressed [redacted] as previously set forth in this report. He advised, moreover, that since the outbreak of war and the official dissolution of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE, he has generally lost contact with those members and officers who could be said to have been in control of the New York City organization. He stated that he felt sure that if any efforts were being made by such officers or any of the personnel of subject organization, he would have been advised of it or would at least have learned of it through his numerous friends and contacts in the organization. He ventured the opinion that possibly some efforts were made by the national and local officers in the line of throwing political support to certain candidates in the fall elections who expressed or stood for their views and the views of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE; however, he pointed out that b2 b7C there was no evidence that any political efforts, such as those which had been made, had been attempted, so far as he knew, to make use of or exploit the members of the committee as it existed prior to the declaration of war. He advised that he had not been contacted since early in the year by any of the former officers or controlling personnel of the organization, and, in his opinion, the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE as an organization is in a state of almost complete disintegration in the New York City area.

It should be noted that under date of July 6, 1942, [redacted] whose identity is known to the Bureau, submitted the following report concerning subject organization to the New York Field Office:

"Newspaper reports indicate that the New York Chapter of subject (AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE) has filed petition in the Supreme Court, Manhattan, for its legal dissolution, since its spokesmen stated that its officials wanted to erase the last legal vestige so that no one could claim it was active in any way whatsoever, although actual activity is said to have ceased immediately following December 7. This action follows dissolution of the national AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in Illinois on April 22."

Agent contacted [redacted] who advised that no information has come to his attention indicating any intent or effort on the part of those persons who were leaders in the New York AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE to prolong the life of subject organization. With the cooperation of [redacted] a complete review was made of his records which in any way concerned former officers or leading personnel of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE in New York City in an effort to determine their present affiliations and activities. The following is a complete report of such as submitted by informant to the New York Office under date of October 9, 1942:

"1. John T. Flynn was in the hospital for stomach ulcers. He is now recuperating.

2. Edwin Webster (as of June 24, 1942) is co-chairman of the Greater New York USO Joint War Appeal. He is circulating a rumor that he has an important job in Washington, believed to be one of the dollar-a-year jobs.

3. Robert Bliss [redacted] He is now training in the Air Corps in Florida. [redacted]

b7C

"4. Douglas Gregory is now sporting his America First button (September 10, 1942), talking about isolationism and saying that something must be done about the terrible trend of things. Gergory has been doing a job [redacted] He is also making a personal appearence in movie theatres and expects to get back on Broadway next month. b7C

5. Bea Bettinger has planned to move into a Government job in Washington, but received word from her sister-in-law not to come.(September 10, 1942). The report was that her former association with America First would embarrass her brother who is a Commander in the Navy. She is now working for the Jesuit Publishing Company on the periodical, 'America'.

6. Mrs. I. Pierce is working on Youth Employment in New York City. (September 10, 1942).

Mrs. I. Pierce and her husband, Colonel Pierce, are now running the Army Navy Country Club in Washington, D. C. She boasts that she finds it a good chance to spread isolationist propaganda. (October 5, 1942)

7. Captain George Smith is now Major George Smith of the Army.

8. The Brighams, (Ethel, Barbara, and Peggy) are devoting their entire time to the stage. Barbara toys with the idea of possibly working again for her political beliefs after she has made some success of her career on the stage. Right now, however, the Brighams seem to be out of political circulation.

9. Samuel Bettingill is running the Republican Finance Committee.

10. General Hammond has long been operating his plant on war orders and has taken an active Army commission again in the Ordnance Division.

11. Chester Bowles is continuing his advertising business and is as isolationist as ever. [redacted] b7C

12. Mrs. Seth Milliken is now active in the Post War World Council.

NY 100-9887

13. Mrs. Donald Budd Armstrong is also in the Post War World Council. She puts emphasis on the peace and boasts that three of her friends are in conscientious objector camps. She is also working as a volunteer in a hospital in Scarsdale, New York. [redacted] b7C

14. Doris Reed, [redacted], is operating as an investment counsel in a brokerage firm. She says that helping America First was very profitable to Edwin Webster, that coincidental to taking an active part in America First, he got a substantial volume of German and Italian security liquidating business for Kidder and Peabody. She says that he is a dollar-a-year man.

15. Amos Pinchot is recovering from an attempted suicide. The family version is that he was afraid he was getting cancer. Mrs. Ruth Pinchot, his wife, says that they are both as strongly isolationist as ever.

16. Greta Palmer (Mrs. Sanford Clark) in addition to her writing for womens magazines is very interested in the current political scene.

17. Mrs. Rose De Lucca of Queens is active in the local political campaign for 'Bennett for Governor'.

18. Gregory Mason is writing the story of the political importance of the America First Movement. He says that he is as strongly isolationist as ever and that he is doing some writing which he is confident 'will be useful when this phase of the war is over'.

19. Ernest E. Wheeler [redacted] b7D

[redacted] and is very patriotic and particularly very anti-Norman Thomas.

20. Eilene Woods, [redacted] is now studying Japanese. She says, 'Our position in America First was entirely justified. I am waiting for the turn of the tide.'

Bronx, New York, [redacted] Agent contacted [redacted] who advised that [redacted] is occupied by [redacted] FRANK PARKER, his elderly sister, Miss LUCINDA PARKER [redacted] further advised that Mr. PARKER and his wife have been separated for some years and that Mr. PARKER is a retired United States Army officer, having served in World War I. He is believed to have retired with the commission of Major. He and his family have resided at their present address for approximately fifteen years and are very well regarded in the neighborhood. [redacted] He described the whole family as people of good character, reputation, and 100 per cent Americans. He advised that Mr. PARKER has been employed by several large firms in the New York area and is an expert in economics, statistics, traffic management, and related fields; however, he was unable to state with whom Mr. PARKER is presently employed. He further advised that Mr. PARKER has been quite active in local politics, being a staunch Republican, but he knows of no organization outside of local political groups with which Mr. PARKER has ever affiliated. Informant feels certain that Mr. PARKER would not affiliate with any group which might be deemed subversive. He stated that he did not know whether or not Mr. PARKER had been a member of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE.

Concerning [redacted], the files of the New York Field Office disclosed that [redacted] attended a conference in August, 1937, at Kansas City, Missouri, entitled, "The American Christian Conference of the American Nationalist Confederation," a subversive organization which was headed by GEORGE DEATHERAGE. This information is contained in the memorandum entitled, "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES - GENERAL", prepared by the Chicago Field Division, and transmitted to all Field Divisions under date of November 27, 1939, (New York file 61-0-390).

Concerning the Polish Information Center, 151 East 67 Street, New York City, and the connection between it and subject organization, it should be noted that such an organization is the subject of a pending Registration Act case in the New York Field Division. Such investigation is based upon allegations that the publication of the Polish Information Center, namely the "Polish Review" is very similar to the former German Library of Information's publication, "Facts in Review".

It is noted that the Polish Information Center has filed registration statements with the State Department.

In view of the above information concerning the Polish Information Center, no investigation is being conducted on it in connection with this case.

Concerning the Committee for Constitutional Government, the files of the New York Field Division reflect that this organization is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, and that its headquarters are situated in the National Press Building, Washington, D. C. This organization also maintains an office at 205 East 42 Street, New York City. The officers of the organization are listed as follows:

SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL, Chairman and President;
LOUIS J. TABER, Vice-President of Advisory Council;
REVEREND NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, D.D., Secretary;
SUMNER GERARD, Treasurer.

The trustees of the organization are listed as follows:

SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL, Lawyer and Democratic member of Congress from Indiana, 1931-1939
EDWARD H. MOORE, business man, Tulsa, Oklahoma
NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, D.D., Minister, New York, New York
S. S. McCLURE, founder of McCLURE'S magazine, New York, New York
WILLIAM MacFERRAN, JR., Banker, Topeka, Kansas

FRANK R. GANNETT, Public Register, New York
SUMNER GERARD, lawyer and business man, New York, New York
LOUIS J. TABER, Master, National Grange, Columbus, Ohio
AMOS PINCHOT, attorney and publicist, New York, New York
[redacted]

b7c

There is no additional information concerning the Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., in the files of the New York Field Office with the exception of an unspecific complaint to the effect that it was believed that this organization was engaged in some sort of subversive activity. This complaint was made by [redacted] However, the files of the New York Field Division reflect that the report of Special Agent [redacted] made at Portland, Oregon, October 21, 1941, in the case [redacted] INTERNAL SECURITY - G, REGISTRATION ACT," sets forth a lead to ascertain the identity and position of the Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., 205 East 42 Street, New York City. In view of the fact that investigation is presently being conducted concerning such lead, no additional investigation is being conducted of this organization in connection with this case.

b7c
b7c

Concerning the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, 52 Vanderbuilt Avenue, New York City, the files of the New York Field Division reflect that as of September 19, 1941, a two-page pamphlet entitled, "Anti-Semitism—One America and One Christian," which condemns the anti-Semitic movements and prejudice, was put out by this organization., from the address, 297 —4th Avenue, New York City (NY file 65-2020-12149).

In a letter to the Bureau dated August 20, 1937, and captioned, "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES - GENERAL", it is stated that the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America joined with the Spanish Child Feeding Reserves of the American Friends Committee, 20 South 12 Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the Committee on Militarism in Education in a solicitation of funds for impartial relief for war-stricken children and women in Spain. (NY file 61-507-295 A).

In a letter to the Bureau under date of May 5, 1937, and entitled "SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES IN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS" (Bureau file 61-7558), there is mentioned a four-page printed leaflet entitled, "The Churches and Military Training in Schools and Colleges", with a sub-title, "Conscience and Compulsory Military Training". This is a statement adopted by the biennial meeting of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America at Dayton, Ohio, December 5, 1934. It is, in substance, a plea for the adoption of legislation freeing conscientious objectors from military training in civil educational institutions. The folder was apparently prepared by the Director of International Justice and Good Will of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, (NY file 61-506-18).

b7c The New York files further reflect that in a letter to the Bureau dated September 11, 1940, captioned, [redacted] INTERNAL SECURITY", it is stated that St. Joseph's Home, 425 West 44 Street, New York City, is a Catholic home which is operated on a basis similar to that of the Y.W.C.A. (or Y.M.C.A.). In view of this fact, it is felt that any active investigation in this line is not advisable.

Because contacts with informants mentioned in this report have failed to disclose any indication that there are any efforts being made to continue the life of the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE as an organization or group in the New York City area, no further active investigation is contemplated, and this case is being referred upon completion to the office of origin.

The Bureau is in receipt of your letter of January 5, 1943, which quotes the three versions of a [redacted] message supplied by [redacted] one of the subjects of the above case, to [redacted]. These messages have been designated in the Laboratory as number 13803.

The first message, originally written on December 14, 1942, contains certain words which would not ordinarily be used in a communication of this kind. In a search of code books in the Laboratory which use English words as their code groups reveals the fact that quite a number of these unusual words are listed in the book as having definite meanings. Even such an unusual word as the word "Cavalierly" was found present. Tests showed that, if any one of these books was being used, other groups known only to the correspondents were being employed, as decodes possible from the meanings given in the actual book did not yield good English. Failure to effect a decode makes it impossible to state whether one of these code books was being used or not. The two subsequent messages are lacking in any words which arouse particular suspicion, and are believed to be authentic although they give a great deal of personal views.

A copy of your letter, quoting the messages in question, is being retained in the Laboratory in the event that future study is deemed necessary.

DETAILS: [redacted]ortland, Oregon, provided agent b7c b7D with the bulk of the correspondence, circulars and pamphlets that he had concerning the America First Committee. A perusal of them failed to reveal anything of a pertinent character concerning the activities of the America First Committee. However, they are being retained in instant file for possible future reference.

Included in that correspondence was a circular from the headquarters of the America First Committee at Chicago, Illinois, dated December 16, 1941, addressed to all chapter chairmen and signed by R. DOUGLAS STUART, JR. This circular was addressed to DR. PAUL COTTON, Post Office Box 92, Portland, Oregon. The circular is not being set forth in detail, it being sufficient to note that it repeated that the National Committee on December 11, 1941 voted to dissolve the America First Committee and all its chapters, clubs, branches and other constituent or affiliated organizations throughout the United States. It went on to state that it was of the utmost importance that the membership lists and other records of their chapters be stored in one place under proper custody for the reasons that they anticipated various kinds of investigations and wanted to maintain their files under proper guardianship lest they fall into the hands of unauthorized persons and used for some ulterior purpose. It stated that at a meeting of the National Committee it was resolved that all the records would be impounded in the personal custody of DELMORE LESSARD, ex-state chairman of the America First Committee, is well-known to this office and investigation has revealed him to have been active in attendance at a group called the Research Club in Portland, Oregon, which club was organized by HENRY L. BEACH along the lines of the Silver Shirts program. This club has been under continual investigation by this office and its activities have been reported fully. It was discovered that their program paralleled the program of the Silver Shirts as headed by WILLIAM DUDLEY PELLEY. It is noted that [redacted] advised that LESSARD was relieved of his leadership of the America First Committee perhaps for the primary reason that his known anti-Semitism was felt to be an obstacle in the development of the America First Committee's program.

Inasmuch as the activity of instant group has apparently ceased, it is not believed that further inquiry is warranted and instant case is being some more about it.

"A. How did you hear of us?

B. Through a friend.

A. I have here a news letter in two parts. The blue part specifically will explain our stand in the matter of peace vs. war and, er -- by the way, when do you want to see peace brought about?

B. Immediately.

A. That's it. You are the type of person we are interested in-- a person who wants peace without victory. And why do you want peace right away?

B. Because I lived in Europe during the last war and the horror of it impressed me so strongly that I want no part of it.

A. Excellent. The trouble is with most people in this country-- never having experienced war first hand, they do not know the horrors of it.

B. Could you tell me what the newspapers think of this organization?

A. Most of the large newspapers have condemned us. "Life" magazine recently published a mis-statement about us and I am now dickering with them to retract it. There are a number of small newspapers that are definitely our friends, notably "The Dirt Farmer" published in California; "Farmer's Exchange" New Paris, Indiana; "Humanity" Arvada, Colorado; "Forum" Stockton, California; "The Broom" San Diego, California. "The Bromm" specifically has been condemned for Jew-baiting.

B. For Jew Baiting?

A. (Smiling archly) You ought to know that.

B. Well I know first hand the disgusting behavior of the Jews both in Russia and Germany and I feel very strongly on the subject.

A. (With an amused smile) That, of course, is your privilege and I'll let you guess at my own opinion in the matter.

B. Do you have many members in New Jersey?

A. We are well fixed in St. Louis, on the West Coast, and in New York. New Jersey, however, is rather quiet. We are now negotiating with a Mr. Palmer of Paterson, New Jersey who has a group that now belongs to a somewhat different organization but is interested in joining ours.

(He then, upon question, announced a Mrs. Amelia DuBois, who lives in a large hotel on the corner of Watchung and Grove in Montclair and who is in her 70's is a militant member of the organization.)

Furthermore, a great many people who delay in joining our organizations are afraid to because they have defense jobs or relatives in the armed forces. Our organization is a good one to belong to because we are not radical in our treatment of the subject. Coughlan has been too radical and is now out of business. We intend to keep out of jail because nowbody can accuse us of such activities. All they can do is to condemn us in gerality but cannot specifically lay their thumb on any one thing that we might say or print.

B. Well, haven't you been accused of being Hitler's willing or unwilling tools?

A (Here he smiled again in a very superior manner and extracted from his brief case another sheet of yellow paper which he handed to B, pointing out a certain paragraph which was a rather clever piece of sophistry.)

A This is our answer to such a remark.

(The paragraph read approximately as follows or at least conveyed the ensuing idea:

"The fact that peace loving Americans want peace is purely coincidental with the fact that Hitler does not want them to fight. Would you forego something that you want simply to deny Hitler something that he wants -- and furthermore, how do you know what Hitler wants anyway?"

[redacted] had no information that [redacted] had been active either in the America First or anyother organization since the attack on Pearl Harbor.

[redacted] was interviewed in his office at the [redacted] and stated that soon after the fall of France in the spring of 1940 he and his wife believed that America needed an awakening to the dangers of totalitarian power and that the best way for America to protect itself was to aid those others which had subsequently become America's allies in the present conflict. [redacted] informed the Writer that he [redacted] issued letters to a list of approximately 150 individuals requesting them to organize under this plan.

A meeting was held on July 4, 1940, and a formal organization drawn up under the name of the Niagara Frontier Committee for the defense of America. [redacted] until after the attack on Pearl Harbor, at which time it decided against any more formal meetings but to maintain the organization for use in the future in furthering America's war effort.

During the period of the organization's activity, it came into opposition with the local committee of the America First Committee. [redacted] advised that he had personally attended many meetings of the America First Committee presided over by MILLARD C. DORNTGE, the chairman of this group, and on one occasion took issue with Mr. DORNTGE over the issues presented.

The Niagara Frontier Committee for the Defense of America was the local representative of the Committee for the Defense of America by Aiding the Allies headed by WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.

[redacted] informed the Agent that he had never known or heard of MILLARD C. DORNTGE prior to the time that he was elected chairman of the America First Committee. From his observations of DORNTGE during the period he was chairman of the America First Committee, he was of the opinion that he was probably sincere in the cause he sponsored but believed the driving force behind DORNTGE was the opportunity his position presented for appearing in the public eye. The position as chairman of the America First Committee placed him in a position to meet the various prominent speakers of the America First Committee, such as SENATOR WHEELER, who appeared [redacted] the auspicies of the local committee. [redacted] informed that members of his committee had often discussed the motives behind various persons in the America First Committee but never could believe that they were disloyal to the United States.

[redacted] has heard of no activity on the part of DORETTE or his associates since Pearl Harbor but has learned that DORETTE was prominent in the Petroleum Distributors Association in regard to the rubber scrap drive [redacted] had never heard of any organization known as the Americans for Peace but expressed a willingness to inform this office of any information which came to his attention in this matter. [redacted] was warned of the discreetness necessary in making any inquiries.

Among those former members of [redacted] whom he believed might have information concerning any activity of the [redacted] deceased were [redacted] made available to the Agent a portion of a letterhead of that group which contained the names of the chairman, secretary, and the steering committee of the local chapter.

In looking over the list of prominent members of the America First Committee, he suggested the following persons could give information and whom he believed were loyal citizens and could be trusted:

GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, [redacted] Mr. PEDERSEN was formerly secretary of the America First Committee.

Professor EDWARD F. BARRETT [redacted]

JOSEPH M. BOREN [redacted]

b7C

MRS. WALTER L. LAUTZ, former executive secretary of the America First Committee.

MR. AUSTIN J. ROCHE, [redacted]

Mrs. ARCHIE THOMAS, [redacted]

b7C
b7D

DR. PAUL [redacted]

MR. KENNETH BRUCE MACDONALD, [redacted]

DR. IRA TREVETT

MR. NEIL M. WILLARD, [redacted]

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] and the Writer:

[redacted] was contacted by the Agents and advised that his only knowledge he had of MILLARD C. DORNTGE was the fact that he was formerly chairman of the America First Committee. [redacted] advised that he did not know DORNTGE prior to that time and could furnish no information concerning either Mr. DORNTGE or the America First Committee. He advised, however, that he had heard of no activities on the part of the America First Committee subsequent to the attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. [redacted] stated that he had never heard of the American for Peace or of any of the members of the America First Committee having been contacted in this regard. He stated that [redacted] had been a member of the America First Committee and felt that he was a loyal and patriotic American and would give whatever assistance he possibly could to the Agents.

He stated, however, that he was of the opinion that Mr. DORNTGE was a loyal American. [redacted] also referred the Agents to Mr. GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, [redacted]. He is of the opinion that PEDERSEN has a good reputation and believes him to be an honest man. He informed the Agents that PROFESSOR PINGATORE, [redacted] had made several speeches before the America First Committee. [redacted] could furnish no further information concerning the America First Committee.

[redacted] stated that he had expressed his views [redacted] in favor of aiding those countries that subsequently became our allies and in so doing had incurred the animosity of the America First Committee, including its chairman, MR. DORNTGE who expressed his dislike for [redacted] on numerous occasions. [redacted] informed the Agents that DORNTGE wrote letters to him criticizing his opini and the principles which he expressed [redacted] further stated that he had heard of no activity of the America First Committee since the attack on Pearl Harbor and, in his opinion, there was no activity of this organization for he felt sure had there been any he would have heard about it. He informed that he had never heard of any organization known as the Americans for Peace but should any information concerning this organization come to his attention he would gladly refer same to this office [redacted] was warned of the discreetness necessary in conducting any inquiries on this matter and he advised the Agents that they could expect his cooperation and that he was aware of the confidential nature of this inquiry.

The following investigation was conducted by the Writer:

[redacted] He informed the Agent that the local chapter of the America First Committee was organized during December of 1940 and that he had been requested to join this group by GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, [redacted] He advised the Agent that PEDERSEN had been secretary of the America First Committee for a considerable period of time. [redacted] stated that the local chapter of the America First Committee was organized by MILLARD DORNTGE and GILBERT PEDERSEN. He stated that MILLARD DORNTGE at the first meeting of this group was elected temporary chairman and remained as such up until the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor. GILBERT J. PEDERSEN was the secretary of this group and remained in that capacity up until October or November, 1941, at which time he resigned. The steering committee, which never got beyond a temporary committee, was composed of PROFESSOR PAUL CONROY [redacted] AUSTIN J. ROCHE, [redacted] REVEREND LEONARD BUSHMAN, [redacted] and BRUCE MACDONALD.

[redacted] informed the Writer that he was unable to state the membership of the America First Committee because he had never handled any of the records of that group. He stated that the America First Committee was financed by contributions and by collections at their meetings. two large meetings of the America First Committee were held at Kleinhans usic Hall, one during May of 1941 at which time Senator Wheeler was the uest speaker. On this occasion, a collection was taken up to cover the xpenses of renting the hall. Another meeting, the exact date unknown, as held at the Kleinhans Music Hall and Senator Nye and John Flynn were he guest speakers. Other than the two large meetings held at Kleinhans sic Hall, the America First Committee held bi-weekly meetings and local mbers of the committee would speak to the gatherings. The membership list of the America First Committee, [redacted] believes, is in the possession of MILLARD DORNTGE. [redacted] informed the Agent that he became inactive during the fall of 1941 but that the last meeting of the America First Committee was held December 8, 1941, at which meeting JOHN FLYNN was scheduled to speak. However, at this meeting, the Committee decided against the continuance of this organization and to the best of his knowledge disbanded entirely. [redacted] stated that he has never heard of any organization known as the Americans for Peace and that he has never approached by MILLARD DORNTGE or any of the other America Firsters relative to joining any such group. [redacted] was questioned by the Writer concerning other branches of the local chapter in this district, and he advised he thinks that there was a group organized in Rochester, New York, but that they were only getting started at the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

[redacted] informed the Writer that the sole purpose of the America First Committee during the time it was in existence was to keep the United States from becoming entangled in European wars. He stated that at one of the meetings at which Senator WHEELER addressed the committee a group of Socialists distributed handbills but that this group was in no way connected with the America First Committee. [redacted] stated that the America First Committee had always made it plain in all of their correspondence and literature that they had no connection with the Communist or Nazi parties.

[redacted] upon [redacted] member of the America First Committee [redacted] He stated that GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, a local attorney, and MILLARD C. DORNTGE were the organizers of this group. PEDERSEN was elected secretary at the initial meeting of this group and MILLARD C. DORNTGE was elected chairman. A steering committee was appointed which was composed of the following individuals: JOSEPH BOEHM, NEIL WILLARD, EDWARD BARRETT, MILLARD DORNTGE, PAUL CONROY, MRS. WALTER LAUTZ.

[redacted] was not familiar with the actual working of the group and his activities were limited to speeches which he made to the committee. He stated that the membership was approximately 1,000 to 1,200 but that the official membership list was in the possession of either Mrs. LAUTZ or DORNTGE. [redacted] further informed the Agent that DR. MAXWELL became treasurer of the America First Committee about six months before it disbanded. He stated that the America First Committee had not been active subsequent to December 8, 1941, at which time a meeting was held and it was agreed that there were no further necessities for an organization of this type.

He said that he has never been approached by DORNTGE or any of the other members relative to re-organizing the America First Committee or any other group of this nature and that he has never heard from the Americans for Peace. He said that in March of 1942, Mr. DORNTGE had told him that he had received a letter from the Americans for Peace but that he had told him it sounded insane to him and he was not going to have anything to do with it. [redacted] stated he had read the letter which DORNTGE received and that it advocated a recruited peace and wanted DORNTGE to join the organization. It declared that this war was an aggressive war on our part. [redacted] stated that the person who signed the letter was a former chairman of the America First Committee in New York City. In addition to the letter, there was mimeographed material dealing with the Americans for Peace.

[redacted] stated that he was not familiar with the activities of the America First Committee. However, he knew that MILLARD DORNTGE was chairman of this group. [redacted] informed the Writer that he had never heard of the Americans for Peace and that he felt sure that the America First Committee was inactive at this time and had been since December 8, 1941, at which time they probably announced that they were disbanding.

[redacted] named the following individuals as having been active members of the America First Committee:

JOSEPH BOEHM, [redacted]

JOHN A. [redacted]OLF, [redacted] but has a lot of contacts and should know if the America First Committee is active.

GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, an attorney [redacted]

EDWARD F. BARRETT, JR., [redacted] very active and one of the principal speakers at their meetings.

MRS. WALTER LAUTZ, whom he stated was very active in the America First Committee.

AUSTIN J. ROCHE, [redacted]

MRS. GERTRUDE HORNER, who was very active and one of the best workers of the A.F.C., [redacted] could furnish no further information concerning the America First Committee.

[redacted] former member of the America First Committee, upon interview advised that he had been a member of the America First Committee during the time this organization was in existence but that to the best of his knowledge the America First Committee had disbanded shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor and since that time there had been no further activity. [redacted] advised that he felt certain that should there have been any further activity of the America First Committee, he would have been advised of this fact or would have been approached relative to membership in the organization. [redacted] informed the Agent that should any information concerning further activities of the America First Committee come to his attention, he would immediately advise this office of these facts.

The following individuals were not contacted by the Writer in view of the fact that [redacted] informed the Agent that they were talkative individuals and, inasmuch as this investigation was of a discreet nature, it was not deemed advisable to contact these parties: [redacted].

[redacted] was contacted and he advised that he had formerly been connected with the America First Committee [redacted] A steering committee was organized which was composed of EDWARD F. BARRETT, JR., JOSEPH M. BOEHM, DR. PAUL CONROY, MILLARD C. DORNTO MRS. FRANKLIN K. GURLEY, MRS. WALTER L. LAUTZ, KENNETH BRUCE MACDONALD, DR. MAX L. MAXWELL, GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, AUSTIN J. ROCHE, DR. [redacted] stated that the America First Committee, to the best of his knowledge, was organized and formed for the purpose of keeping Ameri out of European war. He stated that the members of the America First Committee, as far as he knew, were loyal and patriotic Americans. He informed the Agent that during April of 1942 he had received a communication from the Americans for Peace containing literature concerning this organization. The Americans for Peace had requested that he join this organization and stated that they were interested in organizing local chapters of the group throughout the country. He stated that he had written a letter to the Americans for Peace, 1165 Broadway, New York City, declining their request. He stated that prior to this time he had never heard of the Americans for Peace and this was the first communication he had received from any organization of that type. He advised that the last meeting of the America First Committee was held at the Statler Hotel on December 8, 1941, at which time the Committee decided it was useless to continue in view of the fact that the country was at war. "(1) Our first duty is to keep America out of foreign wars. Our entry would only destroy democracy, not save it. 'The Path to war is a false path of freedom.'

"(2) Not by acts of war abroad, but by preserving and extending democracy at home can we aid democracy and freedom in other lands.

"(3) In 1917, we sent our American ships into the war zones and this led us to war. In 1941, we must keep our naval convoys and merchant vessels on this side of the Atlantic.

"(4) We must build a defense for our own shores, so strong that no foreign power or combination of powers can invade our country by air, land, or sea.

"(5) Aid to Britain, which we have advocated since the formation of the America First Committee, is now in progress of fulfillment. Humanitarian aid is the duty of a strong, free country at peace. With proper safeguards for the distribution of supplies, we should feed and clothe the suffering and needy people of England and the occupied countries and so keep alive their hopes for the return of better days.

HOW TO ORGANIZE CHAPTERS OF THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE

The America First Committee is a non-political, non-partisan organization of American citizens, who believe that the preservation of American liberties and the advancement of American democracy depend upon keeping out of the present conflict abroad.

The organization of the America First Committee is reaching out to every municipal ward and rural district in America. No section of the country is too small or too remote to establish a local unit that will work for the preservation and defense of our American democracy.

Every American citizen is invited to join the America First Committee and work with us. We exclude from our ranks those who have ulterior motives -- anything other than the welfare of our country. Those who are unwelcome include the Communists who really desire to destroy our Government; the Nazis and the members of the Bund, who put the interests of Germany above those of this country; those of the school of thought who call themselves or may be considered American Fascists; some ultra-pacifists who forgot the interest of their country in their desire for peace at any price.

The membership of the National Committee, under the Chairmanship of General Robert E. Wood of Chicago, is made up of men and women who are devoting their time, money and energy to the protection of what we believe to be the best interests of the United States.

PRINCIPLES AND OBJECTIVES

The principles and objectives of the America First Committee are as follows:

1. The United States must build an impregnable defense for America. With such a defense no foreign power, or group of powers, can successfully attack us.

2. With proper safeguards for the distribution of supplies and the maintenance of our neutrality, Americans should, to the limit of their ability, give humanitarian aid to the suffering and needy people of England and the occupied countries.

3. The cash and carry provisions of the existing Neutrality Act are essential to American peace and security. Within the limits of that Act Americans may properly aid Great Britain. Aid to her beyond the limitations of the present Neutrality Act would weaken our defense at home, and might well involve us in conflict. We oppose any change in the law which would permit American vessels to enter the combat zone or which would permit the American navy to convoy merchant ships through that zone, as any such course would inevitably plunge this country into Europe's war.

4. Americans should and do cherish the ideals of democracy and abhor dictatorship, but the welfare of one hundred thirty million Americans and the preservation of democracy on this continent demand that the United States keep out of foreign wars.

FUNCTIONS OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Committee is to strengthen and encourage the considerable majority of American citizens, who whole-heartedly agree with these principles and objectives as stated.

The National Committee establishes and interprets the broad policies that govern the activities of all branches of the Committee organization, and furnishes an aggressive and vigorous leadership. It provides the background for a national campaign, which penetrates into every city and state in the union.

Through its efforts the Committee's point of view and its analysis of developments in the international situation as they relate to our country are constantly being presented to the public for action. This is accomplished through a succession of messages addressed to the American people through the media of metropolitan newspapers, the three nation-wide radio networks, as well as local stations.

In addition, an intensive campaign of publicity is conducted from Chicago, New York and Washington over the three national news wire services (Associated Press, United Press and International News Service).

The national Committee is also responsible for direct liaison with members of both houses of Congress through constant personal contact and discussion.

All these activities form the basis for intensive local efforts--carrying the message to the grass roots -- which is the most vital part of the entire campaign.

Therefore, one of the most important functions of the National Committee is to stimulate and supervise the formation of local chapters through which intensive coverage of every individual community can be secured.

While local chapters are largely self-directed, their credentials must be first secured from and their chapter approved by the National Committee. They must abide strictly by the interpretations of the Committee's policies as stated from time to time by National Headquarters.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

The work of the America First Committee is directed from the national headquarters office, 141 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago. (Room 1822)

The National Headquarters stands ready at all times to guide and foster the activities of local groups so that their activity may reach maximum effectiveness in the shortest possible time. The National Headquarters is prepared to furnish literature and other desired materials at the lowest possible cost and to offer suggestions as to procedure whenever desired or necessary.

CHAPTERS

All applications to form chapters of the America First Committee must be presented to National Headquarters in writing before authorization to organize your group can be considered.

It is the aim of the America First Committee to have a chapter in every city in America. This chapter will act as the central clearing house for National Headquarters activities in your city, coordinating the work and interpreting the policies of the National Committee.

The major objective of the chapter is to clarify a bewildered public opinion by placing unbiased facts before the people. In this way, we plan to arouse American citizens to forceful action.

HOW TO MAKE APPLICATION FOR YOUR CITY CHAPTER

If you want to organize a chapter in your town, here's what you must do.

1. Send for material describing the aims and policies of the America First Committee. Read what our spokesmen have said on the subject. Thoroughly acquaint yourself with the purpose of the America First Committee. Be sure you thoroughly agree. Inasmuch as the responsibility for the local direction of our program will be centered in your Chapter, both in interpretation of National Committee policies and direction of your local program, all applications will be thoroughly investigated before approval can be granted by the National Committee. Be sure that you fill out the application form completely.

2. If you are ready to go to work, you'll need help. This is a big job. There is no room for dilettantes, publicity seekers or people with personal interests involved. There is room for real Americans who want to work hard, long hours to save an American Democracy that was not fabricated by dreamers, but built by unrelenting toil.

The most effective means for setting up a chapter is for a group of citizens, earnestly interested in our efforts, to hold a series of luncheons, at which the organization of a local chapter can be thoroughly discussed. Inasmuch as these preliminary meetings are of a "thinking-out-loud, off the record" nature, it is better that they be conducted without publicity.

Remember time is important. Get busy today!

In succeeding luncheons each of the original group should bring three or four friends who may be interested in lending their support. Try to pick people who can swing particular groups behind them once they are acquainted with what we are doing.

Discuss your program frankly. Tell what you want to do and what you want each of them to do. Pass out the material we have sent to you; ask them to read it carefully and discuss it thoroughly at succeeding meetings.

Tell each person present what his specific job is. (You chose him for his ability to organize; to raise money; to develop membership; to organize a speakers' bureau; to handle publicity; to donate office space; etc. etc.)

Experience has indicated that it is best at the first of these luncheons to discuss the physical requirements of the Chapter. Succeeding meetings can be devoted to widening the basis of leadership within the community and continuing the discussion. Do not allow your luncheon to break up without setting a time and place for the following luncheon; summarize what has been accomplished at the current luncheon and state the agenda for the succeeding one. Keep the meeting in hand -- don't let it digress from the issues -- and the problem -- to get organized immediately.

You, as Chairman, should take the lead, shaping the discussion. Show the importance of doing this work -- why this stand has been taken.

You should try to get at least five leaders in your city to join with you when you fill out your application to organize a chapter. Choose your supporting committee with thought for their ability to set your operation in motion immediately, once your charter has been granted.

As quickly as you have ascertained who they are and have your application completed, mail it in immediately. Be sure first that you agree among yourselves on our principles and methods. You must subscribe completely to the policies and aims before you can undertake the work.

Your application will be presented to the National Committee immediately upon receipt of it at Chicago. First we must check the responsibility and background of your group, and your qualifications to carry on the work must be reviewed.

After the Committee has acted upon your application you will be notified immediately. Later you will be sent your America First Committee Chapter Charter, which records your authorization to establish your Chapter, and which must be displayed in your headquarters office at all times.

HOW TO ORGANIZE YOUR CHAPTER

When authorization has been granted and you have received approval, call together the members of your Committee so that you may set up your organization and get going. This meeting is important.

It is difficult to set up a hard and fast pattern for developing your chapter functions. Conditions in different communities will vary; but we will give you the benefit from best experience to date in this direction. This suggested outline will serve as a guide.

1. Elect a Chairman.

   The Chapter Chairman will be the active head of your group, responsible to the National Headquarters for conduct of committee affairs in your city, and for the local interpretation of the Committee's policies. He will coordinate your local program with our National campaign. He should be a leader in the affairs of your city, regularly identified as an outstanding citizen of unquestioned patriotism and Americanism.

2. Elect a Treasurer.

   The treasurer shall be responsible for moneys collected by the Chapter from contributors to the program; shall see that receipts are given for all such contributions collected; shall see that an accounting is rendered for all expenditures made from donations for the work.

The operations of the chapter should be self-liquidating and no chapter shall incur expenses that will obligate the National Committee or National Headquarters. (Most chapters have found that this officer may be most effective if he is also an official of your local bank.)

3. Elect a Secretary.

The Secretary should keep minutes of your meetings; mail out notices and direct the use of your Chapter mailing lists for the distribution of material, buttons, pins, etc. He shall submit progress reports on Chapter program developments at least every two weeks to the Organization Department, National Headquarters.

4. Appoint a Publicity Chairman and Committee.

It is the duty of this Committee to keep your local newspapers informed of your Chapter growth, your meetings, forums, activities, etc. Ask them to give full publicity to this information. The Chapter publicity director will receive releases from the Publicity Department of the National Headquarters for local use. Be sure that pictures and the story of your organization, with picture and choice of officers, are told to the people in your community through your newspapers. As you grow you may wish to hire a publicity organization to help you.

5. Appoint a Speakers Bureau.

Set up a speakers bureau to develop representatives who can talk before prepared audiences (closed meetings of existing clubs in your local area before which our point of view may be presented) to discuss the America First program in forums, before church, labor, civic and school groups and study organizations; to talk on local radio programs; to address your public meetings which you will arrange under your own auspices.

6. Appoint a Membership Committee.

This committee should build up membership in your Chapter as rapidly as possible, securing mailing lists of all local groups who may have members sympathetic to our aims, who will work with us.

F28

OFFICE

After organizing your Committee you should immediately proceed to set up your Chapter headquarters office. Good store space in the downtown business section is most convenient. (More often than not, you can get it donated.) A street level office with good window space is best. Doors and windows should be suitably lettered indicating that this is the America First Committee Chapter headquarters in your city. For example:

AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE
Greater Boston Chapter.

It is here you will be rendering daily service to the man in the street. Pick a spot where you can reach him and he can find you easiest.

If your Committee cannot immediately underwrite this expense, ask one of your local banks or real estate offices friendly to our work if they can contribute space. Perhaps one of your members has real estate that is partially idle.

OFFICE PROCEDURE AND PERSONNEL

You will need a telephone installed right away and your number listed. People will be wanting to reach you, and you will be conducting telephone campaigns.

You will need a secretary-stenographer -- one girl who can do typing and handle the telephone inquiries. It is important that she be an intelligent person. She should have a pleasing telephone personality and know how to greet and handle people. She should understand our aims so that she can be articulate in discussing the principles of the America First Committee. (At first the position could be filled by a secretary contributed by a member of your committee, or possibly a volunteer worker. If you do have volunteer help, remember this is a full time job -- and there is no time for personal interests. Experience has shown that volunteer help is uncertain, often not efficient, difficult to control.)

As you progress you will need a full time office manager. Perhaps some members of your committee will want to help direct the office, doing this important contact work themselves; but a full time manager or executive secretary should be present at all times during business hours.

His duties:

1. To direct the office activities for your chapter.

2. To handle mail. See that it is answered the same day it is received.

3. To order supplies of literature, buttons, pins, etc. from National Headquarters and handle their distribution to the public.

4. To order, receive and route radio transcriptions for local stations and to handle in like manner the movie film "Which Way, America?" available in 16mm size for meetings and in 35mm size for commercial use by your local neighborhood theatres.

5. To make up weekly progress reports for your chapter and to transmit them to the Organization Department at National Headquarters.

6. To receive and post weekly bulletins from National Director of Organization. To coordinate in like manner public releases, etc. from National Headquarters.

7. To organize the mechanics of mail, telephone and telegram campaigns to Washington.

8. To receive and be responsible for contributions from visitors to your headquarters. To give a receipt for these, account for them and turn them over to the treasurer of your chapter. (This person should be bonded as a protection to your chapter.) (Books of standard receipts are available at stationery stores.)

9. To discuss the aims of the chapter - its local program, etc., with visitors - handle inquiries for speakers, etc.

SOME GENERAL NOTES

Often it is difficult to get a sound projector for the film "Which Way, America?" for showings before your meetings. Experience has indicated that some offices with large sales forces, like the Ford Motor Company, the National Cash Register Company, etc have such projectors which they may loan or rent. Very often local school Boards have them. Sometimes they are permanent installations in school auditoriums which may be available for your meetings.

In rural areas the International Harvester Company, Caterpillar Tractor Company and others may be consulted. We have no arrangements or understanding with these companies, and local inquiries must be undertaken on your own initiative.

Some of the Peace groups have asked to be associated with our work locally. This is a question for you to decide. Many of these groups do not approve our strong stand for defense, others are more practical. We do not condone any joint sponsorship with other organizations for meetings, radio broadcasts, etc., without first securing approval from National Headquarters. The America First Committee is not connected with any other existing organization.

----oOo----

The America First Committee is a temporary emergency organization, not interested in permanent anti-war organization entity, nor dues paying memberships. It is supported entirely by your voluntary contributions.

----oOo----

Chapters are instructed not to engage in advertising, conduct large mass meetings, take part in radio forums, nor undertake any publicity work where the America First Committee will be on public record without first communicating that fact to the national headquarters and getting the written approval of the America First Committee.

----oOo----

Chapters are requested not to undertake any obligations or become involved in any contractual agreements that will in any way commit the American First Committee, its officers or its national headquarters. They should incorporate under the laws of their individual states as soon as they undertake any financial obligations which require more than out-of-pocket financing.

----oOo----

Chapters should understand that there is no obligation upon them to finance the activities of the National Committee, but if they are able to, they should do all in their power to make funds available to help take care of the radio, newspaper, and general public relations campaign, which can be more effective on a national basis.

One photograph of a release of the National Headquarters of the America First Committee, 1806 Board of Trade Building, Chicago, Illinois, dated December 10, 1940, was obtained and is as follows:

> "Mr. R. DOUGLAS STUART, JR., today made the following comment on Adolph Hitler's speech: 'This is not the first time Hitler or his cohorts have screamed at the United States, and it probably will not be the last; but his threats are futile in the face of an America that is prepared and confident in its democratic institutions. If we become panicky and spend our strength and our democracy in military adventures abroad, we will be lost. We will be doing exactly what Hitler quite obviously wants us to do, but Hitler is optomistic. We will adjust our policy to our needs, not to his fist-beating boasts. We will refuse to play his game of war. We will defeat Hitlerism by making America impregnable, by keeping democracy alive and dynamic and by keeping out of foreign war.'"

One photograph of a copy of a letter dated March 12, 1941, addressed to "You, Who Are Parents" and signed by MILLARD C. DORNTGE, chairman of the local chapter of the America First Committee. This letter was sent to parents of draftees, playing upon their sympathy and love of their sons who were drafted for military service and attempting to secure their membership in the America First Committee.

One Photographic copy of a letter dated April 16, 1941, addressed to "Mothers of America" and signed by MILLARD C. DORNTGE, chairman of the local chapter. This letter advises that Miss JEANNETTE RANKIN, Congresswoman from Montana, would speak under the auspicies of the America First Committee on Saturday, April 19, at 1:45 P.M. in the Chinese Room of the Hotel Statler. Her Subject was to be "Keep Our Men Out Of Europe."

One photograph of two telegrams, one dated April 25, 1941, addressed to the America First Committee, 515 Madison Avenue, New York City, and signed by GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, Secretary of the Buffalo America First Committee, which reads as follows:

> "Local papers featuring and editorializing AP dispatch that 'Crowds cheered when Lindbergh expressed belief that England is losing war.' Did that take place? Advise circumstances. Reply Western Union immediately, so that we may make statement at tonight's meeting."

The second telegram in answer to the previously mentioned one is dated April 25, 1941, addressed to GILBERT J. PEDERSEN from EDWIN S. WEBSTER, JR., Executive Secretary of the New York chapter and reads as follows:

"AP quote correct. Crowd greeted every pause by Col. Lindbergh with applause and cheers. It was applause for him, not necessarily for the particular statement made by him."

One photograph of a letter to the America First Committee, 1412 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois, signed by GILBERT J. PEDERSEN, Secretary, dated May 6, 1941, a pertinent part of which reads as follows:

"We had a very successful rally here Saturday night; better than 7500 filled the hall. Many were turned away outside. Better than 1,000 new members were signed up. The cash response was enheartening; we took in almost $1,000."

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Preliminary inquiry indicates America First Committee no longer active in Des Moines, Iowa. Former leaders were well-known Republicans, who although strong isolationists prior to the US entry into the War, stated to be of unquestioned loyalty to the US and entirely patriotic. [redacted] stated that he is well-acquainted with the men who had been leaders in organizing a branch of the America First Committee in Des Moines and throughout Iowa prior to the United States' entry into the war. [redacted] advised that in his opinion these leaders, who were first and foremost strong Republicans and secondly ardent isolationists, were sincere in their beliefs that the United States should not become involved in the present War. He stated, however, that all of these men were in his opinion entirely patriotic and loyal American citizens, and that since the United States entered the War, any activities which might in any way interfere with the War effort were immediately terminated.

[redacted] specifically mentioned as leaders of the Committee in Des Moines ROBERT J. BANNISTER and ARMISTEAD M. PARKER, both prominent Des Moines attorneys. [redacted] advised that although these men had been very active in furthering the interests of the America First Committee, after LINDBERGH made the speech in Des Moines which received national publicity because of his criticism of the Administration, England and the Jews, they terminated their connections with the Committee.

[redacted] in order to illustrate his point that the leaders of the America First Committee were nevertheless of unquestioned patriotism, stated that HANFORD MacNIDER, who within the last year has gained recognition for his bravery and conduct in the War, is nevertheless one of the foremost leaders of the Committee in Iowa. Regarding the possibility that foreign interests or individuals cooperating with foreign interests might be taking advantage of the structure set up by the America First Committee to hinder the War effort, [redacted] stated that he had no information.

[redacted] stated that he had received from time to time in the past four or five months, communications of a scurrilous nature from various organizations who flaunt their patriotism but nevertheless criticize the manner in which the War is being conducted and speak of the War as being caused by the "International Jewery." [redacted] stated that he had thrown these communications into the waste basket, but in the future if any were received he would submit them to the Des Moines Field Division. To the best of his recollections, [redacted] advised that the early communications had been received from Chicago, while the last one had been mailed to him from Cincinnati, Ohio. [redacted] also stated that he would inform the Des Moines Field Division if he obtained information regarding such communications being received by any men who had been active in the America First Committee. [redacted] advised that the mailing list of the America First Committee might be available to organizations cooperating with foreign interests so as to interfere with our War effort.

On February 15, 1943, [redacted] submitted to the Des Moines Field Division a bulletin mailed to him from Cincinnati on February 12, 1943, and signed "The Mothers Of Sons Forum, 111 W. St. Clair Street, Cincinnati, Ohio." This bulletin which severely criticized the Administration and England and blamed the War on the "foreign interests," has been mailed to the Bureau for whatever action might be deemed appropriate.

This clipping from a Wall St. Journal was sent to me by a very dear friend whose loyalty to America cannot be questioned. But she is a most rabid Republican, very strongly anti New Deal, believes all this is true and should be read by all.

It sounds to me suspiciously like the lectures and literature of the former "America First" crowd. I dislike these extreme things, they are harmful at these times.

Is the writer of the article merely a Republican political opportunist [redacted] German agent not yet interested?

(An Editorial)

From The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times by BASIL BREWER, Publisher

On Oct. 3, 1942, the President issued an executive order REDUCING salaries of executives and others in the United States to a maximum of $25,000 after Federal taxes.

The order was issued under a bill which the President had demanded, and which Congress had passed, "TO PREVENT INFLATION."

Wages and salaries of all, except the "$25,000 class," were "frozen"; that is, in general, could not be INCREASED over a September level.

NO OTHER SALARIES OR WAGES, except this "$25,000 class," were REDUCED by the executive order.

In the same executive order, EMPLOYERS WERE FORBIDDEN to REDUCE SALARIES OR WAGES of any receiving less than $5,000 per year.

Harsh penalties were provided for violation of the order and an attempt was made, by executive decree, TO DENY THE RIGHT OF APPEAL TO COURTS.

MYSTERY OF THE ORDER

It is now clear this strange and unusual order HAD NO DIRECT CONNECTION with INFLATION CONTROL.

It is known Congress included NO SUCH AUTHORITY in the inflation bill.

Senator Brown, the President's representative in the Senate, stated the bill contained NO SUCH AUTHORITY.

On four or more prior occasions, Senate and House had refused to grant the President similar power.

The order was not a revenue measure, for it will REDUCE the Federal income—PERHAPS BY MILLIONS.

The order is UNJUST, DISCRIMINATORY, PROBABLY UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

WHY WAS IT ISSUED?

THE PRESIDENT AND C. I. O.

For a year or more, before the President had espoused the so-called "$25,000 income limitation," this had been a plank of the C. I. O. platform.

The C. I. O. had borrowed the plank from the Communist Party, whose machinery Lewis had used in organizing the C. I. O.

In the same platform of the Communist Party of 1928 was a demand for the abolition of the U. S. Senate and the U. S. Supreme Court.

From its Communist associations, past and present, the C. I. O. has taken MUCH OF ITS SOCIAL and POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY.

It also had acquired, from Communist association, propaganda technique, political talent and membership discipline.

All of these had made the C. I. O. A POWERFUL ALLY, A DIFFICULT AND DANGEROUS FOE, as the President and his advisers were quick to see.

It was no hardship, IN THE PRESIDENT'S EYES, that the C. I. O.'s supremacy was A BIT SYNTHETIC AND TAINTED.

The President himself had been known, ON NOTABLE OCCASIONS, to be opposed to taking the American Constitution "TOO LITERALLY."

Adoption of the C. I. O. "$25,000 limitation plank" by the President [illegible] with the [illegible] other things, [illegible] CLOSE RELATIONSHIP [illegible]

[illegible] saving [illegible] on the [illegible] PAUL OF THE TREASURY [illegible] income limitation."

About this time Attorney General [illegible]

The President's PRESTIGE, and SUPPORT from labor WAS AT STAKE.

But, more than these, here was the President's chance TO PUT THE SCREWS ON THOSE HE HATED MOST, the BIG BUSINESS LEADERS who had fought him and whom he had fought ALL THE NEW DEAL YEARS.

Only CONGRESS stood in the way; FIRST THE SCREWS must be PUT ON CONGRESS.

If he failed, he still had a card, which he had referred to in his inflation message.

He could take matters IN HIS OWN HANDS, in which case he said "when the war is won, the powers under which I act (those granted or not granted by Congress) will automatically revert to the people—TO WHOM THEY BELONG".

But he much preferred, he said, to put the matter through Congress the Constitutional way.

But, BEFORE THE BILL SHOULD BE PRESENTED TO CONGRESS, there must be PRESSURE from the public—on CONGRESS.

So the showmen of the Administration got together—and a good show was planned.

On Sept. 7, 1942, the Congress had heard from the President of impending disaster from inflation, OF WHICH THEY WELL KNEW.

But on the night of Sept. 7, THEY WERE STUNNED to hear CONGRESS WAS CHARGED point-blank, by the President, WITH BEING TO BLAME FOR THE IMPENDING DISASTROUS INFLATION.

Moreover, the President was taking no chances. CONGRESS WAS FLATLY TOLD THAT, while the President preferred the Constitutional process—

IF THE CONGRESS DIDN'T ACT within a dated time, HE, THE PRESIDENT, WOULD ACT.

WITH DEVASTATING "LOGIC," the President said if the country was being INVADED, the country would expect him to act, law or no law.

That, since American soldiers were fighting ON EVERY FOREIGN FRONT, it was equally important that he act WITH OR WITHOUT CONGRESS.

The stunned Congress, threatened AS HAD NEVER BEFORE been done in history, went to work on the bill.

Congress didn't make the "desperate changes in the President's bill.

But there was one little change—ENOUGH.

In a bill to freeze wages and prices "to prevent inflation" about which the President addressed the country—

There was the following clause:

Section 4:

"Provided, that [illegible] WAGES OR SALARIES [illegible] ADJUST (raise or lower) WAGES OR SALARIES in any case TO CORRECT GROSS INEQUITIES AND ALSO in the effectuation of the war."

Senator Vandenberg [illegible] Vandenberg [illegible] specifying that IT should not see the REFORMS, such as THE SENATE [illegible]

Senator Brown [illegible] then said, "I will say to the [illegible] ives OF THE TWO [illegible] EED WITH THIS [illegible]

In other words, the higher salaried executive, under the President's order, MAY BE COMPELLED TO DISCONTINUE HIS CHARITIES, DEFAULT ON HIS DEBTS and FEDERAL TAXES, DEFAULT ON LIFE INSURANCE PREMIUMS, or become A SUPPLICANT AT THE DESK OF THE COMMISSIONER, pleading for additional salary to "prevent undue hardship."

This is putting the HARD in hardship.

This is the COMPLETE CONTROL OF BIG BUSINESS in America which the New Deal HAS BEEN REACHING FOR FOR YEARS.

It controls by controlling the body and soul OF THE LEADING BUSINESS EXECUTIVES—by THE "CAT AND MOUSE" OPERATION of the so-called "HARDSHIP CLAUSES" of the salary reduction order.

No wonder the President and the C. I. O. WANTED THIS SALARY REDUCTION ORDER.

No wonder he demanded it, THOUGH IT HAD NO RELATION TO INFLATION.

No wonder he wanted the order, THOUGH IT REDUCED FEDERAL INCOME TAX RECEIPTS.

No wonder he "would not, EVEN THOUGH CONGRESS DID NOT."

BUT THIS WAS NOT ALL, NOR EVEN THE WORST.

An attempt was made, AND STILL STANDS, TO DENY THE RIGHT OF APPEAL TO THE COURTS.

With the President's approval, the director issued the following order:

"ANY DETERMINATION OF THE COMMISSIONER IS FINAL AND NOT SUBJECT TO REVIEW BY THE TAX COURT OF THE UNITED STATES OR BY ANY COURT IN ANY CIVIL PROCEEDINGS."

This was modified, inconclusively, in a provision which permits appeal to courts ON QUESTION OF LAW, BUT ON FINDING OF FACT the Commissioner's discretion and order STILL IS FINAL.

THE EXECUTIVES THUS SO UNFAIRLY AND UNLAWFULLY ATTACKED BY THE PRESIDENT INCLUDE MANY ON WHOM THE COUNTRY MUST DEPEND TO PRODUCE THE WEAPONS TO WIN THIS TOTAL WAR.

VETERANS—OF CLASS WARFARE

A PROFOUND AND TRAGIC CIRCUMSTANCE is that this war of survival was projected upon America on the heels of 10 YEARS OF CLASS WARFARE.

There can be no question of the President's sincerity or loyalty in the war effort, nor of that of his official family.

But many of the President's official family, and to some extent the President himself, ARE VETERANS OF CLASS WARFARE.

The methods and technique of class warfare DO NOT FIT—THE HATES AND PREJUDICES carried over DO NOT BELONG—in the TOTAL WAR AMERICA NOW FACES.

MORE THAN ALL ELSE COMBINED, this explains the confusion of the public mind in the war today and THE VULNERABILITY of the public mind to attack of the enemy, without and within.

TAINTED WITH NAZISM AND COMMUNISM, where it flowered, class warfare is based ON THE THESIS that most people are fools or of low mentality.

The American people, TRAINED IN 150 YEARS OF POPULAR GOVERNMENT, are neither ignorant nor fools.

It is doubtful if the New Deal class warfare program EVER deeply impressed more than A SMALL MINORITY of the American people.

With sons and daughters on every front, and casualties mounting, the people are IN DEADLY EARNEST in the war.

The familiar class warfare appeal leaves them DISTURBED AND SHOCKED.

Missing generally in the propaganda of the Administration is the thing which always has sustained America at war, A DEEPLY SPIRITUAL NOTE.

It is fair to say the American people, with sons dying on all fronts, ACHE MORE FOR FRANKNESS AND HONESTY from Washington than for anything—OR FOR ALL ELSE.

The real American people today [illegible] ADMINISTRATION ATTACKS ON "WEALTH" [illegible] for one deeply spiritual speech LIKE LINCOLN'S [illegible] HEARTFELT PRAYER such as WASHINGTON'S [illegible] [illegible] said don't let it be said the American people [illegible] OF THESE, Lincoln at Gettysburg or [illegible] WHITE, VICE-PRESIDENT WALLACE [illegible]

[illegible] should be said, in brutal frankness, THE ABSENCE OF THE SPIRITUAL NOTE in the New Deal and class warfare propaganda IS NO COINCIDENCE.

In the NAZI and COMMUNISTIC SOC[illegible] IT

...AR THEN, I REPEATEDLY urged the "$25,000 ...

...About this time [illegible] General Robin[illegible]o A RE-MARKABLE STATEMENT in the effect "THIS IS A LABOR GOVERNMENT, and YOU MIGHT AS WELL RECOGNIZE IT."

At that time WE WERE AT WAR and the Government presumably represented ALL GROUPS without DISCRIMINATION or DISTINCTION.

It could not properly be called "a labor government," for the A. F. of L. was not included.

So also had the relations of the President and the C. I. O. become, by the time of the C. I. O. Boston Convention last November, that ALMOST EVERY RESOLUTION ADOPTED, on war, political or war matters, resounded with LOYAL HOSANNAS "TO OUR GREAT LEADER, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT."

THE C. I. O. TRADE

BY MID-SUMMER the President was being catapulted into a situation of extreme gravity.

It was not entirely NOT OF HIS OWN MAKING, as history shall record.

But it was to test the WARMTH and SOLIDITY of his newly-cemented friendship with the C. I. O.

Because of the delay in needed freezing legislation, INFLATION WAS GETTING OUT OF HAND.

Responsibility, of course, WAS DIVIDED between President and Congress.

Congress, insulted by futile commitments and bitter criticism of labor strikes, from home, REFUSED FURTHER FARM PRICE FREEZING until the President would TAKE HIS HANDS OFF VETOING NEEDED LABOR and WAGE LEGISLATION.

The President, anxious as always about his labor political [illegible] WOULDN'T GIVE IN TO CONGRESS.

Caught between runaway inflation threat, on the one hand, and the need for labor co-operation on wage freezing, plus the need for political support, particularly from the C. I. O., on the other—the President MADE A TYPICALLY ROOSEVELTIAN TRADE, or "meeting of the minds," as he would call it.

Labor, WHICH MEANT THE C. I. O., the highly organized, efficiently organized group, which usually could "deliver" its membership, "WOULD CO-OPERATE" on wage freezing, IF THE PRESIDENT WOULD GIVE IT THE "SALARY LIMITATION," the "$25,000 plank from the C. I. O. PLATFORM."

That this was the trade WAS SUBSTANTIALLY ADMITTED by Economic Director Byrnes himself, IN HIS 1942 HERALD-TRIBUNE FORUM speech, in which he says the "$25,000 limitation" was necessary to SECURE LABOR'S ACCEPTANCE OF WAGE FREEZING.

This seems to be CLEARLY CONFIRMED by a much overlooked statement in the President's message to Congress of Sept. 7.

This was the speech in which the President demanded [illegible] price, [illegible] legislation from Congress BY A GIVEN DATE, with the threat of taking things INTO HIS OWN HANDS.

Only [illegible] required legislation, according to the President, "an adequate law program, and a law permitting the fixing of price ceilings on farm products at parity prices."

NUMBER THREE of the President's "SEVEN POINT" program—"stabilize the remuneration received for individuals for their work," REQUIRED NO LEGISLATION, he said.

Obviously AGREEMENT HAD THEN BEEN REACHED WITH "LABOR," the agreement which Byrnes said could not be made without "$25,000 limitation" of salaries.

OBVIOUSLY "LABOR" HERE MEANT ONLY THE C. I. O.

For the A. F. of L. was opposed to the "$25,000 limitation," President Green having declared against it in a Senate hearing.

THE SCREWS ON CONGRESS

The agreement with labor made, there could be NO SLIP-UP ALLOWED.

Co-operation of labor, the C. I. O., ON WAGE FREEZING [illegible]

RECORD, [illegible] ED TO PASS.

THE SENATE H[illegible]

Senator Brow[illegible] of the bill, accepted the amendment, [illegible] then said, cryp[illegible] Vandenberg THE [illegible] and more in one for [illegible] "I will say to the [illegible]or (Vandenberg) that [illegible]ven OF THE TWO [illegible]ARGE LABOR ORGAN-[illegible]ED WITH THE VI[illegible]W IN THE COMMITTEE [illegible]ary limitation" W[illegible]AS NOT AUTHORIZED). O. here may have be[illegible] questioning WHETHER OR NOT the President could, UNDE[illegible]R THIS CLAUSE, make good his promise on the $25,000 sa[illegible]ary limitation.

But the President was in no [illegible] quandary, he was determined to act, as he said, WHETHER OR NOT HE HAD THE AUTHORITY.

And the "regulations" may already have been prepared which WOULD [illegible] ATTEMPT TO DE[illegible] THE COURTS to anyone disposed to question THE LEGALITY of the President's order.

Both Senate and House, in reference to this clause, acted with certain naivete, including Senator Vandenberg's inconclusive "amendment," POSSIBLY STILL SOMEWHAT SHELL-SHOCKED by the President's attack.

Also, THE PURPOSES and intentions of both Senate and House being well known, AND THE PRESIDENT'S REPRESENTATIVE'S WORD GIVEN, both houses should have been able to DEPEND ON THAT WORD.

But in less than 24 hours after the bill was passed, the rules and regulations evidently DRAWN IN ADVANCE, the President issued the directive, including the "$25,000 salary reduction."

THE SCREWS ON THE EXECUTIVES

Having issued the salary order under the claim "to aid in the prosecution of the war, AND TO CORRECT GROSS INEQUITIES," the President had lost no time in PUTTING THE SCREWS on the business executives and other large salary recipients.

There is a principle of law, older than America, which says the law must be clear—THAT THE ACCUSED MAY KNOW what he has done WHICH IS CHARGED TO BE UNLAWFUL.

In the President's order, and in the Treasury regulations which followed, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for an employer to know what salary HE MAY LEGALLY PAY, nor what the employe MAY LEGALLY RECEIVE, under the "$25,000 salary reduction" rules.

The order restricts the salary, after Federal taxes and without any further credits, to $25,000.

But there is a clause in both the order and the Treasury regulations which "PERMIT" an employer to pay, and an employe to RECEIVE, additional amounts "TO PREVENT UNDUE HARDSHIP."

It is this "HARDSHIP" clause, and the regulations which follow, which really PUT THE SCREWS TO THE BUSINESS EXECUTIVES of the country, who are affected by the President's order.

Additional sums may be allowed the executive, under the regulations, for the following purposes:

CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS "under certain circumstances," INSURANCE PREMIUMS, FIXED OBLIGATIONS and FEDERAL TAXES OF PREVIOUS YEAR.

But in every case, the order says, the executive "must establish, TO THE SATISFACTION OF THE COMMISSIONER (of internal revenue) that, after resorting TO OTHER INCOME FROM ALL SOURCES, (other than salary), he is UNABLE, without the disposing of assets at SUBSTANTIAL FINANCIAL LOSS, resulting in 'undue hardship' TO MEET THE ABOVE OBLIGATIONS."

'JUSTICE' BY JUSTICE BYRNES

There is a line of thought in Washington that former Justice Byrnes was drafted from his new Supreme Court seat, with the idea he could get along with, "handle Congress," better.

This may well be, for the new Economic Director, who has charge, among other things, of the "salary reduction" order, undoubtedly is personable and popular.

SUCH WOULD BE THE TYPE OF MAN SELECTED FOR SUCH A TASK.

But Byrnes' selection DOES NOT CHANGE THE CHARACTER of the sorry task the President handed him.

Nor does Byrnes' action ADD TO HIS LUSTER as a Justice.

As Supreme Court Justice, Byrnes added his votes and vote to the newer tendency of the court TO CONSTRUE THE LAW "ACCORDING TO THE WAY CONGRESS INTENDED THE LAW TO BE CONSTRUED."

It was under this legal thesis that Byrnes voted WITH THE UNION AND AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT in the racketeering case of the U. S. Government against Local 807 of International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

This meant Justice Byrnes voted that Congress HAD NOT MEANT TO INCLUDE THE TRUCKERS or other unions in the punishment for racketeering in interstate commerce.

But, in his first act as administrator, he approved the salary reduction scheme of the President, THOUGH HE KNEW BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE HAD NOT INTENDED TO APPROVE IT—had in fact many times REFUSED.

In the same administrative act, Byrnes declared NO DECISIONS ON THE SALARY REDUCTION ORDER could BE APPEALED TO ANY COURT, not even to the Tax Court.

Later this was amended to permit limited appeal to COURTS ON LAW ONLY, NOT ON THE FACTS.

Byrnes also, of course, turned THE "CAT AND MOUSE" provisions of the so-called "HARDSHIP CASES," which are so drawn that only THE STOUTEST EXECUTIVE HEART WOULD RESIST.

Seldom has an executive administrator, even under the present Administration, attempted to construe the provisions of a bill, CONTRARY TO THE WILL OF CONGRESS, as Byrnes did in the salary reduction regulations.

Seldom, if ever, has an administrator IN ANY ADMINISTRATION OR IN ANY DEMOCRACY attempted to prevent appeal of a citizen to the courts, BY ADDING, IN THE REGULATIONS, A FORBIDDING CLAUSE.

HOW BLENDER was the excuse must be clear to the former Justice himself.

The excuse is that Congress MUST HAVE INTENDED the administrator TO FORBID APPEAL TO COURTS in the regulations, BECAUSE CONGRESS HAD NOT FORBIDDEN IT TO BE DONE.

'EQUALITY OF SACRIFICE'

In his defense of his salary reduction order, the President has said it promotes greater "EQUALITY OF SACRIFICE."

Of course, there is no such thing in war or peace, this merely is a clever propaganda phrase.

In war whoever looks for, or is appealed to, by "equality of sacrifice" is prepared NEITHER MENTALLY NOR MORALLY for ANY SACRIFICE.

The sacrifices of the American boys WHO DIED AND ARE DYING IN THE HELL HOLES OF THE SOLOMON ISLANDS, NEW GUINEA AND NORTH AFRICA, cannot be "EQUALIZED"—OR MITIGATED.

God only can equalize the sacrifices of war and only He in His own way.

THE SUREST REWARD for those who fly, and those who shall return, IS TO RETAIN—NOT TO DESTROY—THE PRINCIPLES OF DEMOCRACY, which have made America great and for which we and they fight.

THE PRESIDENT'S SALARY REDUCTION ORDER VIOLATES EVERY FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLE OF DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT.

A SACRIFICE FOR THE PRESIDENT

The President has made great sacrifices in the war.

He might well make for himself, and for the country at war, ONE MORE, PERHAPS A VERY GREAT SACRIFICE—

FORGET HIS PREJUDICES AND HATES, of class warfare days—EXORCISE HIMSELF of his genius AS A CLASS WARFARE PROPAGANDIST—

He should also remove from important posts in the country's war effort THOSE VETERANS OF HIS CLASS WARFARE, who are falling down on the job and CONFUSING and FRUSTRATING the American people.

The President has said we must arrange that the soldiers, who return from war, must have jobs.

That is important, and it must be done if humanly possible.

BUT IT WOULD BE A SAD HOAX for the returned soldier, if THROUGH A DESTROYED OR DOCTORED DEMOCRACY, the soldier returned TO A WPA JOB—

If he returned just in time TO ATTEND THE FUNERAL of [illegible]

SURVEY THE SKELETON—OF HORATIO ALGER.

Only the United States of America has an Horatio Alger—

FABLED BUT REAL SYMBOL—that from poverty through honest intelligence and hard work—American youth MAY [illegible] WHEREVER find OPPORTUNITY AND REWARD—LIMITED ONLY [illegible] THEMSELVES.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

The Lincoln Park Chapter of America First existed as a branch of the national organization until October 1941, at which time the national organization withdrew its charter because they regarded Lincoln Park Chapter to be "radical", and because Lincoln Park Chapter refused compliance with policy laid down by national organization. Subject group incorporated in Illinois through efforts of CARL SANDS, attorney, who acted as treasurer and vice president. Other officers included ALFRED W. BRUHN, Chairman, HENRY LARSON, Director and A. R. NORDSKOG, delegate sent to Washington, D.C. Membership estimated 10,000 persons, of which 65% of German descent. Three meetings held after Pearl Harbor, two of which were discussions of the possibility of keeping the chapter alive during war "to discuss the people". Third meeting held March 27, 1942 in conjunction with Midwest Monetary Federation, at which meeting JOSEPH E. [illegible]WILLIAMS was the principal speaker. The Lincoln Park Chapter associated and cooperated with MRS. ELIZABETH DILLING, "We, the Mothers Mobilize", "Citizens Committee to Keep America Out of War", PATRICK HENRY Forum, and other similar groups in exchanging speakers and supporting meetings. No activities since March 27, 1942, although corporation not dissolved.

DETAILS: AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

In the report of Special Agent [redacted] dated b7C
6-29-42, Chicago, Illinois, in the case entitled "America First, Inc., Internal Security - C", on page 23 it was set forth that the Lincoln Park Chapter of America First, Inc., was a regularly established branch of the national organization known as America First prior to September 1941. Because of radical speeches and activities carried on by this group, CLAY JUDSON, a national committee member of America First, directed a letter dated October 9, 1941, to the subject organization advising them that they no longer had authority to use the name America First or to hold meetings which appeared to be under the auspices of America First.

Notwithstanding this letter, the subject organization continued to meet, and a subsequent letter written over the signature of T. S. HAMMOND and addressed to MR. R. H. KIEHL, [redacted] then director of the b7
Lincoln Park Chapter, advised this group that complaints concerning the character of the meetings conducted by the subject organization had been received at the national headquarters. The letter continued "We must ask you that you hold no more meetings using the name America First Committee. We ask you that you return to the Chicago headquarters such stationery and supplies as have been furnished you together with your membership list. Please do not misunderstand me, this is in no way intended to control your activities. This is a friendly note, and you can do as you please, but I must remind you that the America First Committee is incorporated, and those who wish to use its name must keep within the principles approved by it."

The investigation conducted of the national America First group failed to reveal that subject organization returned its membership list, or discontinued holding meetings using the same name.

Mr. SMITH was introduced as the outstanding America Firster in the Country and he made the following statements, among others already reported, during his remarks.

"I would to God there was no need for a third political party in these United States, but when you have a family perpetrating a dynasty out of the United States treasury, it is time we took drastic action . . . . ."

"We America Firsters are the balance of power between the old parties. Neither party can win without us and we will give our vote to the GOP if they do not give us another fake like Wilkie. If they do, we will run a third party candidate . . . ."

"We have an organization in thirty-four States and are completing arrangements in the others. The ground work will be laid and if necessary we will have a separate party . . . . ."

"The best America First speech made this year was delivered by the five Senators who visited sixty-four battle fields on their world tour . . . . ."

"I tell you the aims of the America First Committee are to retire the Roosevelt dynasty . . . . ."

"Any contributions which you want to make to further the work of America First you are requested to place in the envelope and seal it."

It is also noted that Mr. SMITH stated in a Press Release, issued to him at the time of this meeting in Philadelphia, as follows:

"A permanent America First Party Committee is being formed in Philadelphia.

1. We support the war effort 100%.
2. We oppose world government.
3. We fight political Fascism.
4. We fight New Deal Communism."

It is noted that in the announcement of the aforesaid meeting, Mr. SMITH was referred to as the Director of the America First Party.

The investigation being conducted in this office concerning the Mothers and Daughters of Pennsylvania revealed that Mrs. IRENE THORN MURPHY is the editor of the "News Letter", published by that organization, copies of which are constantly being secured by this office.

TO: J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation

DATE: August 28, 1944

FROM: Perry M. Oliver, Director of Administrative Services
Immigration and Naturalization Service

SUBJECT: AMERICA FIRST, INCORPORATED.

Reference is made to your memorandum of August 1, 1944, concerning our request for information on the above named organization. It will be appreciated if a complete file review is made on the AMERICA FIRST, INCORPORATED.

Records of the Foreign Agents Registration Section, War Division, reflect that the above styled group was organized in September 193[illegible] by James True, Washington, D.C., publicist, who was later indicted for violation of the Smith Act in conspiring with others to undermine the morale of the armed forces. The Foreign Agents Registration Section advised that their records contained no information which might indicate that the AMERICA FIRST, INC., (the James True organization) had any relation with the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE although it is alleged that True, as an individual, worked with some individuals who were active in the AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE.

AMERICA FIRST, INCORPORATED

Reference is made to the communication of Mr. Perry W. Oliver, dated August 28, 1944, your reference 56211/156, requesting information concerning the captioned organization.

Another Governmental agency reported during 1936 that America First, Incorporated, National Press Building, Washington, D. C., "seems to be a clearing house for all anti-Semitic individuals and groups." 61-7559-2823

Additional information was received in 1937 from a Governmental agency representative in California in which a listing was made of "pro-Fascist and anti-Semitic groups." This list included America First, Incorporated, National Press Building, Washington, D. C., James True, President, and Michael Ahearn, Vice President. 61-7556-433

During the hearings before the Special Committee on un-American Activities, House of Representatives, on November 19, 1938, a representative of the Committee advised that considerable literature of an anti-Semitic character and also of a pro-Japanese character had been obtained and that this literature had been issued by America First, Incorporated, Washington, D. C., of which organization James True was the chairman. 61-7582, Vol. 3, p. 2342

During 1940 a confidential source advised that America First, Incorporated, was organized in August, 1934, and that the reason for its organization as stated in a "confidential statement issued by America First, Incorporated," was for the "protection of the Constitution, American industry, and individual enterprises through the dissemination of truth." This source reported that up until the winter of 1936 the organization issued Industrial Control Reports. The first few issues of these reports made no reference to Jews but later reports indicated that the organization was anti-Semitic.

There is attached hereto a photostatic copy of a "Confidential Statement" issued by the captioned organization. 61-7307-74

A confidential source has reported that on May 15, 1941, members of America First, Incorporated, the Mothers Crusade, and We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America, Incorporated, picketed a downtown hotel where Lord Halifax of Great Britain was staying. The picketing was allegedly in protest of the Administration's policy of all-out aid to England. This allegedly occurred in Chicago. 100-9132-37

During May of 1941 the American Council on Public Affairs sponsored a publication, "Organized Anti-Semitism in America" by Donald S. Strong. This book listed a group of organizations described as "quite definitely anti-Semitic," which list included America First, Incorporated, Washington, D. C., stated to have been founded in 1934 and to have become defunct in 1936. 61-7560-3-277

Mr Hoover Chief

Sir,

I want something to show that I have a clean slate. Just because I was probably the only member of the America First Committee in this vicinity was an outspoken Roosevelt criticism brave enough to stand for my convictions- there has been a continuous stream of opprobrium directed at my wife and me which has not ended since the war. Now my boy is back from Europe and I want a little peace. I am 68 years old. Your department didn't help matter any by sending a couple of youthful operatives in answer probably to an anonymous note to talk with us. How that has got out. How we don't know. We certinly didn't say anything about it. We were too ashamed. Some one is peddling it around. The least you can do is to send someone up here and see who it is that is keeping this up. I haven't many more years to live and it is contemptible to make me suffer this nerve-rending malice.

Yours truly,

Would you kindly inform me, what, if anything unfavorable, that your department has learned concerning the American First Committee?

It was my privilege to serve on this committee here previous to the war and knew the organization to be a good sound American organization. I am enclosing a leaflet describing the principles of this organization.

My purpose in asking this information of you is that some friends of mine insist that this was a Communist organization and I can not persuade them otherwise.

I would appreciate if you would let me have the findings of your department.

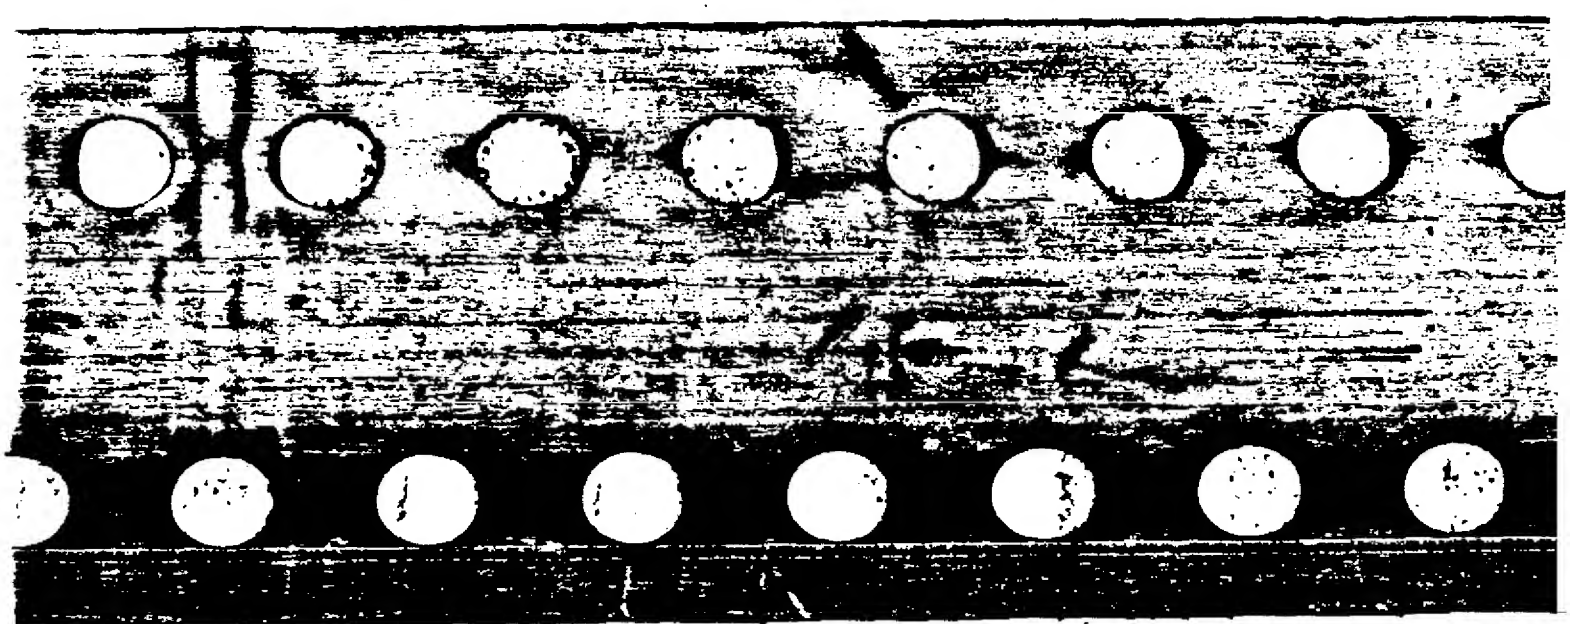
The First Purpose of Our Foreign Policy Is to Keep Out of War

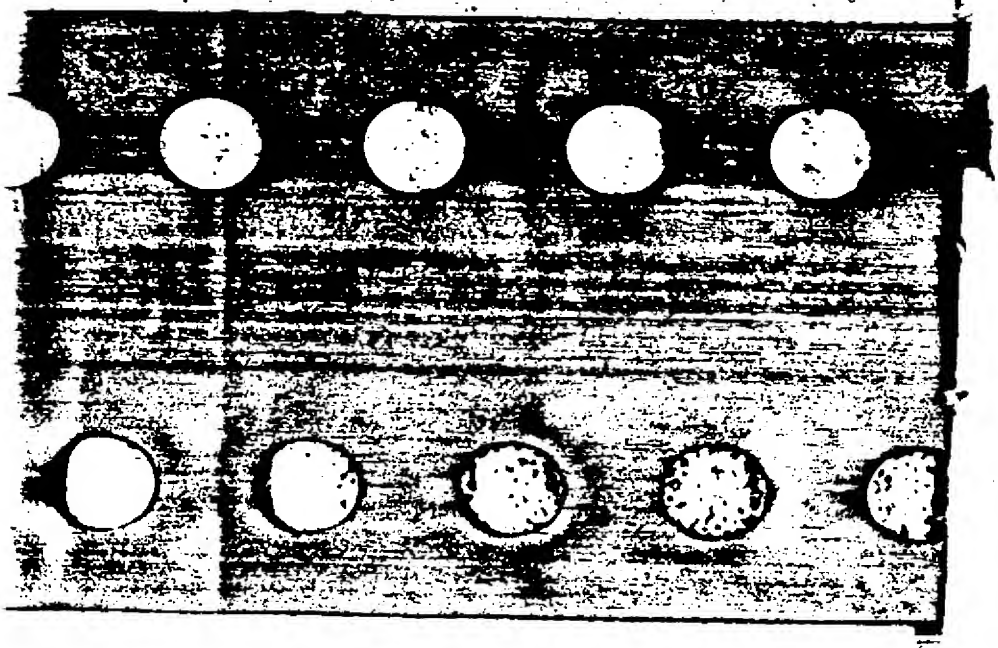
"We look at the old world of Europe today. It is an ugly world, poisoned by hatred, and greed and fear. We can see what has been the inevitable consequence of that poison — it has been war.

"And we look at this country, built by generations of peaceable, friendly men and women who had in their hearts faith —faith that the good life can be obtained by those who work for it.

"We know that we are determined to defend our country and with our neighbors to defend this hemisphere. We are strong in our defense.

"The first purpose of our foreign policy is to keep our country out of war."





Principles of the America First Cr

1. Our first duty is to keep A of foreign wars. Our entry destroy democracy, not save i path to war is a false path to f.
2. Not by acts of war abroad but serving and extending democra home can we aid democracy and freedom in other lands.
3. In 1917 we sent our American ships into the war zone and this led us to war. In 1941 we must keep our naval convoys and merchant vessels on this side of the Atlantic.
4. We must build a defense, for our own shores, so strong that no foreign power or combination of powers can invade our country, by sea, air or land.
5. Humanitarian aid is the duty of a strong, free country at peace. With proper safeguard for the distribution of supplies, we should feed and clothe the suffering and needy people of the occupied countries.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I am wondering if your office has on its books the name of [redacted] who at present is living with his wife at [redacted] He claims that he has no home office but [redacted]

He has spoken at the Kola Park Forum several times this winter on subjects that show prejudiced reading and always aims to stir up trouble among Americans. He gets quite bitter against the Jews and the negros, condems the Marshall Plan and says the Republic is in its last days. He has all the appearances of a Russian spie altho he condemns the Russians-that probably is policy. He says our government is in improper hands, etc. He is a man rather stocky, with a twichy face in his late fifties. I have talked with him and he tells me that he was with the America First during the war and went about wherever he could find Germans. He claims he is of American parantage and educated in Methodist schools. He seems just now to line up with a tall middle-aged man from Boston who will argue with anyone in the audience and togetner they challenge speakers, the management, etc. They want fight and challenge everyone except other. I have not yet learned this latter man's name. We also had a [redacted] here from Chicago who gave three lecture on capitalism saying that he was of course, for capitalism but that now that communism was in the offing we should try to understand it, etc.

All of this seems suspicious to me. The management is very easy-willing to take anyone for speakers and by professing innocence of communism make the large part of the hearers believe them but I cannot help but feel that they are doing much harm. I do not know whether we have laws that could handle their case since they may be American citizens or not. However, I thought that I should appraise you of the matter. I shall be glad to know if you know anything about these men and if there is anything that can be done about them.

Very sincerely, 100-4712-SP1

Dear Mr. Hoover: The enclosed was mailed to numerous citizens of th Palm Beaches and in discussing it with a number of persons, the gene opinion was " we don't like the tone of the letter". About this time year, every summer, certain cliques,or perhaps it is the same group, to start some kind of controversy. I did not hear Upton Close on th radio, nor have I discovered anyone who has, so don't know what his ideas were; also don't know just what he stands for. However, wouldn be influenced by anything like the enclosed, which I think is defin " rable rousing". Also understand "America First" was considered sub several years ago and "broken up". Right? Another thing we did not l about the piece, it was not signed, and that always makes one wonder, persons try to hide their identity.

Thought it over and decided the best thing to do was: not answer it send it to you, for whatever investigation or consideration you may think best to give it.

Very truly yours

UPTON CLOSE told the story (just as it is in the court records) of th false arrests and trial called the Mass Sedition Case of 1942 to 1944.

This case was a persecution of anti-communist, anti-New Deal and ar FEPC Americans by the Jewish detective bureau and agitation group call itself "Anti-Defamation League" The persecution and prosecution was sp by Walter Winchell(Weinschall) and Drew Pearson-both given medals and favors annually by said "League". Winchell used his sponsor's radio ti after four years dismissed with the scathing statement; " A travesty o justice". With the aid of every Red cell and left wing "liberal" in America, Winchell pushed into a sale of millions to his unsuspecting listeners a fraudulent book called "Under Cover", which attacks innocent and guilty persons by the "guilt by association" method. In spite of Winchell's influence and the publisher's wealth, the book was finally"brought to book", decided by Federal Judge John P.Barnes-in th City of Chicago(1946) to be..."written by a person who would write anything for a dollar, published by a publisher who would do anything for a dollar." Said Judge Barnes; "This book charges the plaintiff was di the fact. In our efforts to refrain from persecution we must not establ meaningless taboos. We must not establish the taboo that under no condi tion must we mention a person is a Jew. That will not stop persecution.

Following which, Judge Barnes cracked down on the Winchell-Carlson book. (Author and publishers admitted it was written by a man born in Armenia and who had been a communist agitator there, and who had used twenty odd aliases,ending up with the "Swedish" one in the book-"John

Senator Jack.B . Tenny, Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee of the California Legislature,says in a special report,out in May 1953;

" Officials of the Anti-Defamation League view the disproportionate number of Jews exposed in communist activities with a degree of alarm (but)..to oppose loyalty programs for fear that more Jews may be exposed in the process is extremely unrealistic...The Jews of America will find that a private Gestapo Agency such as that conducted by the small clique of the Anti-Defamation League bureaucracy tends to create the discrimination they seek to curb. The only Ghettos in America, after all, are those that are built by the Jewish bureaucracy itself and the quicker these are outlawed by American Jewry the better for American unity."

The Reds and Left-Wingers are organized, and work through racelst cliques. The manager of the radio station WWPG has related that when the left-wing Martin Agronsky, who speaks with a gutteral, Russian accent, got so "strong" the station dropped him, about six letters came indorsing the dropping; a stack a " foot and a half high" came-demanding his restoration. So-the station manager put him back although he is constantly attacking American employers and belittling business.

That happens because Americans are tolerant even of those who attack Americanism and are asleep to destructive influences. BUT MOSTLY IT HAPPENS BECAUSE AMERICANS ARE UNORGANIZED AND DON'T KNOW WHAT IS GOING ON AND WHAT THEY CAN DO ABOUT IT- WHILE THE REVOLUTIONISTS ARE ORGANIZED AND GET INSTRUCTIONS JUST WHAT TO DO. THIS SITUATION WE MUST CURE!

IT IS NECESSARY TO REVIVE "AMERICA FIRST" (which never died out) in Palm Beach County.

DEAR CITIZEN O. THE PALM BEACHES:

A radio station in our community has been told to drop a truth-telling nationally known commentator, Upton Close, whom it had invite to relate the history of American Radio comment.

The order has been reinforced under threat of asking Jewish busin esses to take their advertising away from this radio station.

From the same general source,on June 3rd, came an intolerant and interfering demand by an attorney named Harry Goodmark made on the Program Chairman of a West Palm Beach Service Club that it remove its luncheon speaker!

SUCH INTOLERANCE, INTERFERENCE AND INTIMIDATION-has become a pattern throughout the United States and Canada. It is carried on by an organized left-wing clique of Jewish professional agitators call-ing themselves " Anti-Defamation League of B'Nai Brith. (Meaning " Sons of the Covenant"). They collect,by their reports, four to six million dollars a year from Jewish merchants and professional men to "protect" Jews from what they call "anti-semitism" and negroes from "race prejudice"-(as the AGITATORS chooses to define it).

THERE HAS BEEN NO "ANTI-SEMITISM" or discrimination against Jews in this community. BUT-THERE IS AN ATTEMPT BY AN INSIDE JEWISH CLIQUE TO TELL THE PEOPLE OF THIS COMMUNITY-WHO MAY OR MAY NOT SPEAK TO THEM.

Not all Jewish business is taking part in this intolerance, interference and SUPPRESSION OF FREE SPEECH. But-JEWISH BUSINESS MEN CAN QUICKLY STOP IT IF DETERMINED. IT HAS BEEN STOPPED COLD IN OTHER COMMUNITIES!

You might like to let the Jewish merchants with whom you trade and your Jewish friends know how you feel about this- and that it is bad business to boot.

Dear Sir:

Please inform me whether or not the above-named corporation has been listed as a subversive, Fascist, or Communistic group by the Attorney General's Office or the Civil Service Commission for the United States. Also please send me a list of the recently declared additions on your list that is consolidated to determine the loyalty of government employees. I understand that 26 groups have recently been added to this group.

If you have no information on the above club, I would suggest that you investigate the club's activities in this area so that unsuspecting citizens do not get involved if there is anything wrong with it. My main purpose in asking for this scrutiny of the club is its apparent BUT VERY SECRET activities in this community recently.

I will be glad to show any agent of yours or the FBI office recent communications that I have received from this group.

[illegible] D. R.

Senator Aiken, of Vermont, which leaves him as practically the same ostrich as the cigarette smoker—So your opinion will be as good as Lord Northcliffe, who said the mentality of the American man was lower than the Chinaman—maybe he is right when you read that the American people consumed, in 1941, in nine months—128,681,966,000 cigarettes; 4,147,426,000 cigars; 284,-940,826 pounds of tobacco, 38,-626,740 pounds of snuff; and enough liquor, beer and gins to float our battleships.

On the surface it seems that America has give hogs doped to make it safe for the "UNION NOW" with England. For as you know that in most of our newspapers you will find a part of the British Aviators flying around in our beloved United States, all of the ex-Kings and Queens with their shells are being wined and dined in the Land and Lease Plan. So as Uncle Sam would say—"ARE YOU READY?"

Quality

Articles of timely interest were cancelled out this week on account of so many requests for reproduction of "A Thirsty Worm-fly" and "Grave Diggers Of Russia." Many new features will be added to our columns shortly—Paper you ought to know that others opposed passing to rock the nation. Watch for review of coming events next week.

I left my material body in the st[illegible] of the Bellaus Wood battlefield. In the new planes, we find ourselves in, the law of [illegible], however, reigns supreme and we go at will wherever the heart calls. It is therefore in an interlude of music between the spheres that I am returning to commune with you through the medium of a mortal mind. I have an important message for you as the twenty-fourth Armistice Day nears.

Across the gulf, our hearts reach out to you and to those youths who approach our years ago, twenty-four years ago. Th[illegible] stress of spirit, we sense these boys face the same peril, we did—only no one spoke for [illegible] Many of these boys are our own sons whom we have never seen.

On this Armistice Day, it all comes [illegible]ck to us as it must to you: the subtle molding of the public mind, the propaganda, and the gay-backs of the public platforms. You will recall how these vermin appeared on the [illegible] of propaganda, just before our departure on overseas transports. I hear the surge of [illegible]artial music, "And We Won't Come Back, 'Till It's Over, Over There" which of its own momentum almost propelled us across the waters. Our blood ran at fever heat. We, boys were ready and eager to offer any blood sacrifice to "Make the World Safe for Democracy." [illegible], THIS WAS THE WAY, the bloody platform in the key places of our government, had planned it when they determined to offer up youth as a blood sacrifice on the altar of [illegible]nal gold—we did not know. What dupes! we were. —And the slogans, I can [illegible] we can never forget them: "Fight this war to end all wars." "Keep the home fires burning" and "England is our first line trench."

Did some of those who returned [illegible] you that when we paraded in London, they called us "3-am'd Yanks" and hoodlums; "Why didn't you stay at home? This is not your fight." Do you know that even in the short time my comrades and I were in the trenches, the English Tommies spat in our direction, spat on us and would have nothing to do with us. I would not mention this painful incident, but that the same old dangers are being placed in your midst again by the identical mailing [illegible]tems:

"Make the World safe for the Four Freedoms." "England is our first line of defense." "England's fight is our fight." Surely, you will not be deceived again. If our supreme sacrifice and our mistakes have served to protect the boys today, then we who left materiality at the Meuse-Argonne, Belleau Wood, Chateau Thierry and St. Mihiel, did not do so in vain.

"Keep the Home." Do you know that the "Home" or rather the mothers of those "Home" noticed some of us in the Army of Occupation during our last illness and that from those good old German mothers, we had our first kind words, since we left you? "You do not cause of your own free will," said they, "neither did our sons go of their free will. We receive you not as an enemy, but in the place of the son, we lost."

Do you remember how you were told to "Send him away with a Smile" and many of you did, smiling bravely through your tears—and that was what the money changers in the key places of our government, calculated you would do. You should not have done this—instead you should have kept us laughing and living among you. Before you suffered us to be torn from your arms, had it come to that, you should have resisted steel with steel. You failed us then, but I command you, DO NOT FAIL OUR BOYS TODAY.

You sent us away to a short destruction, in Europe, or about a mile, we were killed those before we were sent into the front line trenches. Somewhere [illegible] whose Death was busily engaged [illegible] plunging his hands into our room.

We boys were not killed. We had never seen whole groups of men die at one time, much the less killed a man. At the training camps, it is true that we thrust our bayonets into bags filled with sand or into straw filled [illegible], but to plunge your bayonet into the living, warm body of a boy about your age, [illegible], who might have been your friend in another place and hour—is different—very [illegible] different.

I will never forget the cold dawn when we received orders to go—"Over the Top." —I had known for a certainty at Camp Funston that I was to die. Many of the boys had similar premonitions. I knew it as the troop train to New York and I felt it all the way over. —"Over the Top"!! Some of the boys went with a kind of bravado, some moved like frozen men and some of us shrieked and sobbed. I think I was one of them. I did not look back, but I am sure we were not far from the [illegible], when suddenly we felt it, more than twenty of us who were close together felt for—an all compelling presence, majestic and full of awe—and then it happened, a direct [illegible] hit. —In our new world of love, we know now that CHRIST IS PRESENT on every battlefield to help boys like us.

Again, I COMMAND YOU, do not fail our sons. The approaching Armistice Day, the gala Armistice Day that you will [illegible] with its gaudy trappings, martial music and accoutrements of war, will be used by [illegible] bloody plotters of yesteryear to hoot-toot you said in the interests of peace. Your ministers must preach the gospel of peace and I charge you to see to it that all Women's clubs, all Civic Clubs in your community promote the idea of peace. I want you to secure leaders of your great isolationist movement to address you and obtain Armistice Day speakers on the [illegible] who will plead for peace. I want you not only to pray but ACT in the interests of peace, DO NOT FAIL US AND OUR BOYS AGAIN.

I must now depart, but to you our [illegible] parents, our wives, our children and the sons, we never saw and to our relatives and friends, I wish to say; we have never forgotten you. We have never ceased loving you and in [illegible] constancy of our spirit's devotion, you will one day find understanding and [illegible] you will be waiting for you "In the land of our dreams, where the [illegible] ly as well as presidentially responsible for the death of the lives lost on convoyed and open merchant ship sinkings. Here is Senator Aiken's viewpoint:

"The charge of Presidential responsibility was made by Senator Aiken (R., Vt.), during debate on the question of lifting the Neutrality Act's restrictions on shipping, and Barkley immediately cried that the accusation was "unfair."

Reading in a loud voice from a prepared statement, Aiken charged that President Roosevelt, "without the knowledge or consent of Congress," had given orders to the Navy to "hunt down and sink ships of another nation with which we are not legally at war."

This was done, Aiken said, despite the fact that Congress had been given assurances that the Navy would not engage in purveying.

Then Aiken cited the torpedoing of the destroyer Kearney, with the loss of eleven lives, and the sinking of the Reuben James

"Had the President of the United States and members of his Cabinet kept their promises," Aiken went on deliberately, "the [illegible] of the United States Navy [illegible] floor today."

Had Captain "Jimmie" Roosevelt or Captain Elliott Roosevelt been on the Kearney or the Reuben James and among the 126 men and crews, where would Senator Barkley lay the blame?

The Kentucky solon cried out again that President Roosevelt had more right to outline a defense around the Western Hemisphere than Hitler did to take a pencil and draw a line 1,600 miles out in the Atlantic.

Maybe so—but Hitler's pencilline drawings did not sink cargoes and murder convoys and shipping crews.

The mothers of the nation are being appealed to for slaughter or murder charges against the chief executive for violating the U. S. Constitution and for sending American men into forbidden warzones without an authority from Congress.

land have escaped the totalitarian bag? Hitler is after the moneychangers to complete the work begun 2,000 years ago. The Jews may be the Chosen People of God —BUT THEY WILL NOT BE ENDOWED WITH THEIR PREROGATIVES AS SUCH until they use the chosen METHODS OF GOD. In fact God may be using Hitler as a rod to chastise His people for their disobedience.

If Hitler was base enough to accept a loan from Rothschild and put the head of his people back into the noose of gold, he could have peace tomorrow and be welcomed with the pomp of Picadilliy. But our "Dumb Clucks" would not understand the issue until a basket of lost sharks heads from over there would be dumped on the lawn at Hyde Park.

Eighty-five percent of the American people refuse to wreck their country in a war to uphold the freedom of the "seine." The Nudeal Administration is not the American Government on the question of war or peace for it does non reflect the will of the majority; the 85 percent opposed to entering war, constitute the American Government on this question and it is debatable if they are obligated to support executive orders like the lavesment of Iceland that are not sanctioned by Congress under the Constitution.

We need restoration of FREEDOM on AMERICAN SOIL—[illegible] doms to the Western Hemisphere in conformity with the traditions of Washington.

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT CAN BE SUED FOR KEARNY DEAD

FROM THE ROLL-CALL, NOV. 3, 1941

"If you will figure across the United States this past week that when the destroyer Kearney was hit by a torpedo in the vicinity of Iceland, she was actually participating in a battle against an alleged "world-wide" of German submarines' threat on choking the British merchant-ships carrying unarmed supplies to embattled England. The destroyer Kearney is technically at peace with Germany. However, as the United States is technically at peace with Germany. However, as the result of being attacked by a submarine torpedo, eleven American seamen were killed by a submarine torpedo, eleven American seamen were killed by a submarine torpedo, eleven American seamen were killed have been wilfully murdered—murderers are usually charged with murder—Probably somehow they [illegible] and Knox and all responsible for the untimely deaths of these seamen, can't be prosecuted for Murder as well as being made to pay damages for their families—Millions of dollars paid to the families of these boys will only bring them back to their loved ones.

Even if these warrated murders are caught being tried for murder in this world—they will never dare stand the highest Judge and when they do they will pay the supreme penalty for all of these young men whom they have caused to give up their lives—for the sake of greed for gold.

PEOPLES' FORUM

Has Gone Far Enough

Spokane, Washington
October 20, 1941

Dear Editor:

I enclose money order for two dollars for which please send me "Publicity," for two years.

I read a copy about a friend let me have and I think that you are on the right track.

I hope that you will write about the Senators and Congressmen selling that they stand behind Hiram Johnson. The President has gone [illegible] far enough. He must be stopped—if impeachment is the only way when I say IMPEACH HIM.

I believe we should have minded our own business—either ship or all connected involved in war or [illegible].

We must get rid of the rif-raff in Washington, D. C.

Hope you will be able to carry on your work for many years. I remain yours for a clean government.

Americans Awake

Lovington, Illinois
October 20, 1941

Dear Editor:

I am sending you one year's subscription to your paper and I only hope it will help wake up the American people and keep them out of that holocaust over there.

The war-mongers in this country are telling us if we don't get into the war now—we will have to fight alone.

Why do we have to fight England's battles and pay for war debts? We have always fought that it is mostly old men who are in favor of war—so that they can get any young girl they want—They make their money grafting in war materials—on the broken bones and torn flesh of our youth—If you don't believe it just look around you and see how many rich men and others not so rich—lots of professional men, have young girl wives.

The Methodist Youth Organization has a good idea and I hope they are victorious in their stand.

I wish the youth of every nation would refuse to leave their home land to fight on foreign soil, but be ready at all times to protect their country against any invader. If two rulers wanted to fight—let them fight a duel and the victorious one have to bury his victim.

If the time ever comes when the war-mongers will have to fight their own battles—then there will be no more wars.

Are the 90 per cent of the people going to let the terrible war-mongers drag our dear sons into the slaughter pens of Europe again?

After the world war, nearly every one who returned from Europe was disillusioned—Here in America—[illegible] that it be—No never again!

Now I am wondering if all these sayings were just mere sayings, or are we going to keep our word and see that the war-makers do not send our sons to any foreign country to die—mind you TO DIE not to visit the King or some high-hat—NO TO DIE! And for what—Well you know the answer.

The SPIRIT OF WAR, is the SPIRIT OF THE DEVIL!

PEACE is the SPIRIT OF CHRIST, OUR LORD.

The Spirit of Christ is for KINDNESS and JUSTICE to all—a constructive idea.

The Spirit of the Devil or War Spirit is Vindictiveness, it destroys everything good and kind in mankind.

Christian Americans! Who are we going to follow CHRIST or the DEVIL?

Very truly,
S. E. M.

Senator Pepper, the hot pad from Florida, still insists that $300,000,000,000 was cheap enough for OUR war over in Europe.

The President Says Religious Liberty Is As Free In Stalin's "Paradise" As It Is In The United States"

"Our Mother Russia Is Crucified On The Cross" Is The Caption Of A Russian Paper Over The Portrait Gallery Of Stalin's Co-Founders Of The Bolshevik Regime

The President told his press conference last week that religious liberty is as free in Russia as in the United States, and thereby baptized Stalin in the Christian religion in absentia.

Not [illegible] time has the President been so promptly and widely criticised for posing the mass murderer of Christian martyrs as the benevolent protector of religious freedom. Accordingly no time was lost at the White House to issue an amended statement of what he said—a statement that has sunk deep into the Christian conscience of America as a specious attempt to whitewash the Red Butcher of the Kremlin in order to reconcile the people to the Administration's war policy.

The reception has been one to stir the Christian element to assail the White House with indignant protests for his statement, which his apologists are now seeking to soften by saying that the Soviet Constitution provides for religious liberty, a far-fetched excuse that has not blinded the Very Reverend Harry C. Graham, among a score of other churchmen. Father Graham is the national director of the Holy Name Societies in the United States. He sent to President Roosevelt a telegram that said:

"As national director of the Holy Name Society, with a membership of 3,000,000 American citizens, I respectfully remind you that no religious toleration has ever existed in practice in the Soviet Union since 1917, notwithstanding Articles 124 and 125 of the Soviet Constitution.

"By your comparison of the American Constitution and the Soviet Constitution on the question of religious toleration, intelligent American citizens of all creeds are today pondering the possibility in the near future of the presence of articles on religious toleration in our country without permission of their practical applications."

We herewith present the readers with a gallery of the portraits of the delectable consortium who, with Stalin, founded the Soviet Republic. The portraits are copied from a Russian paper which headed the gallery with these top lines: "Evil Faces of the Grave Diggers of Russia—Our Mother Russia Crucified on the Cross—Those who Rule Russia are Internationalists—During the Last Eighteen Years all Russian Orthodox and Catholic Chur-

Los Angeles Notes

BY ELLIS O. JONES, FOUNDER NATIONAL COPPERHEADS

The "Isaacson Roosevelt" campaign is certainly gaining tremendous headway in this section. More and more people are joining and discussing it more and more aggressively and hospitably. May does this come as much from organizations' home as from the rank and file of people who want to "do something." Petitions are being passed at all meetings, petitioning to Senators and Congressmen [illegible] how many millions of praise for PUBLICITY'S fine work and the hope expressed that the paper will continue vigorously along the line it has already mapped out.

The one shining exception among the organizations here is the Friends of Progress, directed by Robert Noble. To further the movement they have arranged a mock impeachment trial to be held in the big Embassy Auditorium, in downtown Los Angeles, Saturday evening, November 15. This will undoubtedly be worth making a special effort to attend.

oo

While the impeachment sentiment is growing like the proverbial snowball rolling down hill, the "March on Washington" which certainly has a lot of merit fails to arouse much enthusiasm here. Many reasons could be cited for this, but perhaps the chief reason is that we are so remote from that citadel of corruption which we call our capital city. Marching on Washington must necessarily look quite different to the mothers of Los Angeles than to the mothers of Baltimore or Philadelphia. Another reason for the lack of enthusiasm in this section is that his guidance has not been in you like the American way, a group of peace-loving states cooperating in peace and harmony? How can you love the United States of America if you oppose the United States of Europe?

Or don't you like Hitler because he is consistently and tirelessly working for his whole people instead of a little cosmopolitan group of parasites who believe that they are better than the general run of people and who operate on the theory that the masses were created to be cheated and enslaved, who extend their greatest plaudits to the pacifistic and the politician who can utter the most plausible lies and steal the most money from the public treasury.

oo

Or don't you like the Nazis because you have been told that they "persecute" the Jews? Well, the Jews have been "persecuted" throughout the ages. Why? That is a question the Jews don't like to answer in detail. The Jews are a nation, or a race or a religious group who are schooled to hold themselves aloof from other nations and races and religions—a great incongruous stinking mass of unassimilables. In being educated from the cradle for this racial role, they are taught to be greedy, to be two-faced, to lie to each other, yes, but to combine in greater lies to those who stand outside the Jewish pale. The Jews have always been a problem wherever their numbers have been substantial. In Germany, the problem was especially critical because the international bankers, chiefly Jews, conspired to make it so. So far as the records show, Germany's present government [illegible] first to try to settle the Jewish problem in some kind of scientific manner instead of al-

SERMON NO. TWENTY-EIGHT

THE MASTERS OF LYING

In his book: "The Religion inside the Borders of mere Common sense," Kant explains the remanence of Jewry by this one sentence:

"As there cannot be imagined any religion without a belief in a future life, Jewry as such, taken in its purity, does not contain any religious belief."

The individual Jew, Kant does not deprive of a certain feeling of immortality, but this he certainly would have done, had he clearly recognized from their incomparably uniform character, without exception, that into every Jew's life there does not exist the slightest notion or feeling of that, which we Christians call Soul. Consequently, the Jew is not in a sufficient high state of spiritual development to conceive the thought of another world—hereafter, immortality. In short, the Jew's brain and mind are not able to renounce all physical or bodily matter.

Kant also failed to notice the obvious intention with which even the slightest illusion to a future life has been avoided in the Old Testament, a fact also stated Schopenhauer.

This important commission is well grounded in reason—not perhaps in the political plans of the Je[illegible] but just in the Jewish [illegible] being soulless. Therefore the Jew, Otto [illegible] smallest and meanest little Jew, who would not show decided endeavours, viz: egoistic, timely, monetary ones."

Schopenhauer says:

"On the whole, the essential of a religion (considered as such) in the conception it gives us, that our proper existence is not restricted to this life upon earth but infinite. This conviction is not given by this wretched Jewish Religion; it does not even intend to give it.

It is highly regrettable, that Jewry has become the foundation of all religions in Europe, as it is a religion without any metaphysical tendency.

Also we see from the two cited Roman classics (Tacitus and Justinian) the Jews were strongly detested at all times by all peoples, and also despised; this may partly originate from the fact that they were the only nation upon earth which did not allow existence over and but this life to anybody—and which therefore considered to be animals, was [illegible] of mankind and masters of lying."

Another witness, Voltaire can least be challenged by the Jews, as they love to quote him even today as the vanguard of enlightenment (of course, only where it suits the Jew.) In his "Notices to Pascal's Thoughts," he writes:

"Here is not more the question of the [illegible] holiness of the Christian religion, but of the immortality of the Soul, which is the foundation of all known religion, except alone the Jewish one. I repeat the Jewish one, because this dogma is not pronounced in any place of the Pentateuch, the document of the Jewish Law, so no Jewish author has been able to find a quotation in same, that could indicate such a dogma. It is not sufficient for the recognition of the existence of this very important and fundamental doctrine to pre-suppose it simple, or to attach such a meaning to a few words by forcing their natural sense; this doctrine must be pronounced in the most positive and clearest manner."

All other witnesses, of which there [illegible] amongst whom [illegible] many Jews who could be quoted may be disregarded because of the Prophecy, which

Do steal and mystify
Are murderers and thieves . . ."

The stress is upon the second line: "Do feign and do lie."

They are masters of lying.

The Jew must lie, he must lie over and over again; every moment he must lie; he is the living lie himself, because he should die, if he was but a grain less than the Lie. No people in the world would permit him another day of life, if they saw clearly what the Jew really is and what he really pretends to be, with a furious yell they would have strangled him the very next moment.

And thus the Jew must go on lying, and thus he lies and lies, and meddles and muddles, distorts and confuses; to lead people astray he starts daily abuses; he [illegible] on the people, which he literally betrays; and here he is American, in England he is English, and French he is there; each Gentile Nation he will always forswear; while buttering the throne of every empire he incites the rabble to set them on fire; to the hard working man's need he pledges good pay, but with sneers he debases their bread every day; for want of a heart his refusal is bold, yet his palms are bursting with mountains of gold; he excites the masses with anarchial shouts; but he vanishes quickly when danger's about; he lies by mouth and in type, where he has been, revolution's ripe; and can never be caught.

He can never be caught, because in each moment—if you think you just got him—he has ready to hand some "sworn evidence" to the exact contrary of that, for which you deluded yourself to have caught him red handed. He has never one meaning, he is always double dealing, nay hundredfold dealing. He is the "mysterious East" living amongst us.

Heinrich Heine again writes in his "CONFESSIONS:"

"One believes to know the Jews, because their beards have been seen; but in fact nothing has been observed but their beards. On the other hand, they were [illegible]

A [illegible]

If a Jew is told: "Look here, those followed the old method of skillfully severing a sheltered retreat with the one and only intention to palm off on us under-rogue as much pruzic acid as he could. But so do all big and small Jews in all big and small things.

Thus it is self-evident, why, in the Old Testament, in Talmud, in Schulchan Aruch, and wherever it may else appear, amongst this unspeakable baseness something really good and beautiful. This duality cannot be explained except thru knowledge of the insidiousness of the [illegible] in the Jewish Race.

Proteus, Loka, Mephisto, the Great Bjoeg; one and always the same lightning change artist; the master of lying, the Jew. Now the houndish way of the poodle, now the simple minded face of the [illegible] now [illegible] sailing Faust mendaciously playing the scholar (the Jew as professor) now as the guide with winking eyes, now as the officious minion of the emperor, feeding him up with money; now this and now that, and always one and forever the same, the Jew.

As soon as he dare to attempt, the Jew swells up:

"If you want to share the room,
Poodle, stop that yelping!
Stop your bark!
Such a disturbing fellow
I cannot stand near me.
One of us two
Must leave the room.
I hate to suspend hospitality;
The door is open, you may run free!
But what do I see?
Can that happen naturally?
Is it a shadow, reality?
My poodle does grow long and broad,
He rises powerfully,
That is not a dog's figure more)
What a ghost did I bring home.
Already he looks a hippopotamus,
With fiery eyes, with terrible teeth."

Nobody else but the Jew, Otto Weininger, points out, that Faust's poodle starts barking in that same moment when [illegible] begins to read the gospel. If he had read the Old Testament, most likely the well trained poodle would have you don't like Adolf Hitler because he came up the hard way, was once a private and a corporal and so on instead of being born with a silver spoon in his mouth? That is, do you take the same contemptuous view of him as the decadent British aristocrats whose entitled policy is to start at the top and work down, whose standard of deference is the unreasonable and arbitrary one of whether you were born before your brother or vice versa? If that is your idea, the sarcasm the well-written Algernon Lincoln, right off your list of poignant jeers.

Or don't you like it because he is creating a United States of Europe out of a conglomerate of petty principalities, a dozen of them statesmen, throughout the centuries, and in process of crushing many thousands of militarists and corrupt politicians living on parasites of their toiling people? That dream of the United States of Europe has been deliberately and systematically thwarted there all these warring decades by the British Empire. Is the open of the British democracy-wrecker, that is perhaps Hitler's chief crime. Do you feel the same way about it, Fellow American, or are you one of the victims of the tentacles of the vicious British propaganda octopus? That is, don't you like Hitler because he came up the hard way, was once a private and a corporal and so on instead of being born with a silver spoon in his mouth? That is, do you take the same contemptuous view of him as the decadent British aristocrats whose entitled policy is to start at the top and work down, whose standard of deference is the unreasonable and arbitrary one of whether you were born before your brother or vice versa? If that is your idea, the sarcasm the well-written Algernon Lincoln, right off your list of poignant jeers.

Or don't you like Hitler because he doesn't organize the Maharajah of Hyde Park every time he wants to make a decision in line with the normal development of the German nation? Is it because you share Roosevelt's pretended hysteria over the danger of attack by this raw-headed-and-bloody-bones who is leading his people out of bondage to imperialism and internationalism? Or don't you like him on the broad general grounds that he is minding his own business and rather firmly insistent upon our minding ours?

oo

Come on, Fellow American, what is it about Hitler and Nazism that you hate so much? Why not be specific? Why not act and think on the basis of facts and reason instead of on the basis of emotion and prejudice? If none of the above suggestions seemeth for your parts, why not write in and tell us? Maybe we can do something about it.

Jefferson And Lincoln

Occasionally a member of the "Young Democrat" organization casts reflection upon Publicity because this paper can fit to justly criticise the President Roosevelt's new deal war-time foreign policies.

Publicity was founded upon a Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Bryan platform of principles—our Democratic ideas would readily embrace the honest Abe Lincoln standards as well.

Everyone of these pioneer statesmen believed in peace and economy in their broader sense—both of our attitudes upon these issues are covered by that great American document—the United States Constitution a document that is referred to by the so-called new deal chief executives as an issue of the hour and many days.

America for Americans is our slogan now and always. The American way of life was good enough for our fathers and mothers who blazed the way and pioneered in the by-gone days to make this country what it should be today.

Shrewd, manipulating political disruptionist have attempted and are still attempting to rule the nation in behalf of predatory interests, in manner not acceptable to Christian Americanism.

The U. S. Constitution provided for the maintainance of this government upon a basis that would allow every man, woman and child to equal rights with special privileges to none.

But the encroachment of Jewocracy into a peace-loving domain has proved a menace to real Americanism. Their rule or ruin policies have brought this once free nation into disrepute.

When our monetary system was turned over to International Finance, Inc., Jewocracy became our masters. Stringent enactments must be resorted to if America is to survive as an American nation.

Communism and Jewocracy go hand in hand and have no place in peace loving America.

Secretary of the navy, Knox, is often referred to as a "soft headed sap." As an "all out aid" to Russia he's just apeing Roosevelt.

Alf M. Landon, Kansas, was the first victim to be tendered the navy secretary job, but he was too "Foxy" to get his tail in a crack.

OCTOZONE

The modern scientific treatment for many so-called incurable diseases, such as Arthritis, Rheumatism, High Blood Pressure, Sinus trouble, Hay fever, Diseases of Women and many other toxic diseases.

Octozone is painless, and is different from all other forms of medicine or forms of treatment. It is purely scientific, was discovered in France over 17 years ago, it has been in use in many large cities of the U. S. over 8 years, and in Wichita it has been used successfully for over two years. Many patients report amazing results after one treatment.

Octozone is made from pure oxygen with special equipment.

FREEDOM OF PRESS ATTACKED

"The liberty that the Great Americans who founded this country established it to secure, of conscience and the pursuit of happiness for all who enrolled themselves as citizens today The Star Spangled Banner.

As editor, publisher and owner of this publication, I am not allowed to experience that freedom in my own person. "Publicity," though it had no connection, near or remote, with any foreign government, and has unswervingly advocated American doctrines as they were handed down through generations from Washington and Jefferson, is not free to enjoy its Constitutional rights without hindrance.

"Publicity" is now the victim of subtle, bureaucratic interference designed to undermine its existence for expressing opinions not rubber-stamped with the O. K. of every department of the administration.

The freedom of the press is still the law of the land. That principle was engrossed in the Constitution to protect men from being sent to jail for criticising the government.

The Roosevelt Administration cannot "take" criticism, and since it cannot suppress a non-conformist newspaper, so long as the freedom of the press is still the law of the land, its emissaries endeavor to circumvent the law by resorting to spiteful, malevolent underhand methods of undermining its ability to

"Publicity," voices the opinion of eighty per cent of the American people against our being dragged in-evidently isn't very greatly interested with this self-named national g. o. p. leader.

The slogan of Defense for Democracy reads: "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands." In step with the spirit of 1941!

The congressman who will seek re-election in 1942 and who is now tampering with a neutrality act revision, is just simply "monkeying with a buzz-saw" that is very much in motion. We are telling you, fellows—better be careful.

* * *

There's but ONE reason for the Jewocratic air-time correspondence refusing "America First Committee" speakers the broadcasting privileges accorded other political individuals. THEY ARE STRICKEN WITH "JITTERS" OF FEAR!

* * *

In President Roosevelt's broadcast today he claimed the 85% opposition to his foreign war policies as the "Misguided Few." When the "smoke of the battle" between right and wrong clears away these "FEW" will have routed the FOES of real Americanism.

Congressman Johns, of Wisconsin, told a Spokane, Washington America First audience recently that he has been receiving 600 to 700 letters daily DEMANDING the IMPEACHMENT of PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and his CAMARILLA new deal government.

Attorney General Jay S. Parker, of Topeka, has launched 40 gambling and resort raids in and around Ft. Riley in the past ten days. Better have a care, General Parker—a bunch of those disciplined (?sic?) dames may take you for Hitler and GIVE YOU THE WORKS!

Loyal sons of American mothers are ready and willing to shoulder arms in HOME DEFENSE but they strenuously object to crossing 3000 miles of water to DIE on foreign soil or be torpedoed to the bottom of the briny ocean for shark bait. Real Americans feel the same way everywhere.

In this war-age the auto instructions read: "In case of emergency put on the brakes." The theory advocated by the New Deal war-mongers is: "In the case of a GREAT EMERGENCY—Open Up The Valves—appropriate another $10,000,000,000 FOR DEFENSE, or perhaps England, Russia or other communistic domains.

In order for the new dealers to be certain of controlling the British Isles and Russia in 1942 and 1944, BILLIONS of the American taxpayers cash is being poured into the tills of those blood-thirsty brutes. The Lend-Lease Bill (OBAY) will no doubt soon be adopted and Roosevelt regime—meaning OUR BILLIONS ARE GONE.

Abraham Lincoln Shultz, Topeka newspaper columnist lauds the 1935-9 western Kansas "dust-bowl" as now filled to overflowing with money-making products—that the people out there are clamoring for new automobiles, and diamond rings. The citizenship of that old "dusty district" out where the west begins and ends, is populated with God's noblemen and women, who have really earned and are fully entitled to the best of everything.

What a picture—President Roosevelt and "Windy" Willkie openly ENDORSED Fiorello La Guardia, (Republican,) in Tuesdays New York mayoralty campaign while Hon. James A. Farley, former National Democratic Chairman, lined up and endorsed the regular party nominee, Circuit Judge O'Dwyer. The chief reason, allegedly, that Roosevelt, Willkie and Dewey backed La Guardia is Jewocratically COMMUNISTIC. How far is Publicity off?

President Roosevelt in his 1940 third term pre-election campaign iterated and reiterated this solemn pledge to the mothers of American sons that if he was re-elected HE WOULD NOT FORCE their boys into any FOREIGN WAR. These trusting mothers BELIEVED the President was honest in making this PROMISE, and voted for him on November 4th, 1940. Publicity believes such pledges should be FULFILLED to the letter—or that a VIOLATOR of political promises of this sacred nature should voluntarily surrender his public office or be subjected to Impeachment without protest.

* * *

Irked by the MURDER—(nothing less)—of the sons of American mothers through the sinking of unauthorized and convoyed merchant ships and destroyers recently in the Atlantic the "Mothers of America" organization at Detroit appointed a delegation of their club members as a special reception committee to meet and greet Lord Halifax, English ambassador to America, who was billed for a speech in the Michigan state capital, on election day. These "Mothers of America" greeted the Johnny Bull representative with perfectly good cold storage hen fruit—and slogan-banners bearing these words: "Remember The Two Wars For Independence," were in evidence. They did a commendable act.

* * *

In his recent pre-election campaign Mayor LaGuardia of New York, charged his opponent, Judge Dwyer, of being financed by a Tamany Hall gang of Democrats. This, if true, is more to boast of than was the communistic and war-mongering endorsement of the mayor, though including endorsement of Roosevelt and Willkie. Even for a $25,000 a year job we'd hate to acknowledge that to be elected to a [illegible] term it would be necessary to court the support of Madam Perkins, a [illegible] ... citizens and that army of non-resident Jewocratic [illegible] recognized by new dealers as legitimate citizens for voting

Editorial

Open your eyes loyal American citizens and SEE for yourself WHERE WE ARE DRIFTING!

Vote for AMERICA First, Last and ALWAYS!

"Spend, spend, spend—Lend, lend, lend—Lose, lose, lose," is the all outstanding New Deal slogan.

From an Allen, Texas, subscriber comes this new anti-war phrase "Jew-Knighted Brass." Very good!

"Eat more and avoid INFLATION," says a newspaper headline. Why not DIET and INCREASE your WEIGHT. It would be just as consistent.

As we get it, when the "Union Now" is perfected between the British Isles and America Franklin D. Roosevelt will be crowned by Kings of the Jews.

"Maxe is a late Anti-war slogan (Chicago origin) that ... this meaning: "Christian Americans will not die to ... Judean Russia." They should NOT, but WILL they?

Senator Gerald B. Nye, of North Dakota, and Ex-Ambassador John P. Cudahay addressed a banner "America First Committee" Chapter in Philadelphia, Pa., last night.

... (Rep.,) Springfield, Missouri, classes "Windy" Willkie as a Fifth Columnist. Dewey ... the nomination here, and Vandenberg ... [illegible] ... the nominee who have been so ought-nuts about the cash ... would be repealed, behind the new ... The New Deal's ARE NOT ... for a ... vote.

The America First Committee throughout the nation ... plans on organizing local units to go on bat to each and every state and congressional district in an effort to defeat all up for re-election in 1942 who voted to repeal the neutrality act and therefore privilege President Roosevelt to convoy all "aid to England—and Russia," WITH OUR AMERICAN BOYS. More power to 'em.

While taking no part in the European inferno of HELL which WAR is defined as—Publicity does acquire Adolphus Hitler for TWO things—he and his army are fighting their own battles, PAYING their own bills AND if successful in Russia will have renovated the HOTTEST BED of COMMUNISM IN THE WHOLE WORLD (outside of Jew York, and that is covering a lot of territory.)

Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, takes an open stand that a repeal of the neutrality act means CERTAIN WAR! He is opposed to taking such a damnable chance. The arming of merchant ships and convoying the shipments, thus subjecting the lives of many innocent sons of American mothers to be sacrificed—a far greater sacrifice than FDR and Eleanor would ever think of submitting to.

The one lady member of U. S. senates, Washington, Mrs. Hattie Caraway, ArkanSAW, should have time and to spare for attending to her own household duties after the next election—she is for repealing the neutrality act and for arming merchant ships, which will subject HER OWN SON to a needless sacrifice—all as a new deal act to gratify the greed of JEWOCRACY. What a Sacrifice—WHAT A MOTHER!

One of the slogans in Philadelphia, Pa., for last Tuesday election, was: "Vote Republican and Save Democracy." This slogan was evidently based upon this point: "Should the Republicans lose it will show that the trend is distinctly toward further encroachment by the New D... This was the stand taken by the Suburban and Wayne Times, a publication that gave liberal space to the Philadelphia Chapter of the "America First Committee."

A Kansas subscriber sent in a $5.00 money order today with this admonition: "Give me credit on my Publicity subscription UNTIL THE JEWS ARE DEAD." While this good reader did not so designate, we feel certain that the JEWS he had reference to are the MONEY CHANGERS that Christ drove from the temple. Publicity cannot guarantee that this credit will ... get the worth of his remittance.

Premier MacKenzie King and the Empress, of Canada, were guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, at Hyde Park, New York, over the week end. The party attended services at that "little church 'round the corner," Sunday where they knelt at the altar and PRAYED FOR PEACE - says the news-story of their visit to the U. S., on this occasion. The reporter didn't go on to say that upon their return to the mansion of the host and hostess, the chiefs of these two warring nations went into a huddle to concoct plans to abolish the American neutrality act so as to privilege President Roosevelt to arm more merchant ships and subject more American convoys to the merciless slaughter of Hitler's brigands. Oh, what hypocrisy in the name of Newdealism.

The America First Committee meeting in New York Monday night addressed by Charles A. Lindbergh, John P. Cudahay, Senator Wheeler, Montana, and other Anti-War advocates, had an estimated audience of 32,000 within the spacious auditorium with a milling mass of more that 20,000 outside eager to get in hearing distance. This doesn't look like "FAREWELL TO LINDBERGH" as expressed by the The Jewish Veteran, (originator,) the Wichita Eagle and Beacon, along with other Jew-owned or controlled publications, nor of "court martialing and SHOOTING FOR TREASON," as would be his fate if left to Dr. H. O. Blanchett, of Wellington, just because Col. Lindbergh publicly named, in his opinion, the three chief causes for the present war status of this and other nations as "THE BRITISH, THE JEWISH AND THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION." What a PRICE TO PAY when free-born American citizens are denied the right of Free Speech and a Free Press to gratify the GREED OF JEWOCRACY.

The State of Kansas to the above named and undiscovered persons:

You and each of you are hereby notified that the plaintiff, Esther May Nollsinger, has filed her petition in the above entitled court in the above entitled action against each of you, and that you, each and all, must answer or plead to said petition on or before the 16th day of December, 1941, or all the allegations in said petition will be taken as true, and judgment will be given the plaintiff against each of you as prayed for in the petition, quieting her title in and to the following described property, and excluding each of you from all right, title, interest and estate in and to said property located in Sedgwick County, Kansas, to-wit:

West 140 feet of Lots 6 and 8 on Fourth Avenue, now St. Francis Avenue, in Duffenbaugh's Addition to the City of Wichita, Sedgwick County, Kansas; and Lots 251, 260, 261 and 262 in Richmond's Second Addition to the City of Wichita Sedgwick County, Kansas and barring you and each of you from ever asserting any claims to said property. This judgment shall bind not only the defendant persons named in the caption hereof, but shall bind their unknown heirs, executors, administrators, trustees and assigns in the alternative as is authorized by law, and shall bind the unknown heirs, administrators, executors, trustees and assigns of A. I. Hobbs, deceased, and Belle Horner, deceased.

"God Give Us Men!"

WE ARYAN AMERICANS DEMAND—strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands. Men whom the lust of office does not kill; Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinions and a will; Men who have honor; Men who will not lie; Men who can stand before a demagogue and damn his treacherous flatteries without winking! Big men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog in public duty and in private thinking. For while the rabble, with its thum-worn creeds, their large professions and their little deeds, mingle in selfish strife, lo! freedom weeps, wrong rules the land, and waiting justice sleeps. God give us men; men who serve not for selfish booty, but real men, courageous, who flinch not at duty; men of dependable character; men of sterling worth; then wrongs will be redressed, and right WILL RULE THE EARTH!

IS FDR A WAR-WAGING FANATIC OR A SHREWD WAR-USING POLITICIAN?

We still incline to the theory that he is no fanatic but one of the world's three greatest living politicians and America's all-time greatest politician. The interventionists may have been taken for a ride. What a joke this will be on FDR'S Wall Street foes of the New Deal and friends of his recent foreign policy, after they have been ruined by war taxes, war regulation and a war economy, while Britian goes under and Hitler, Stalin, FDR and John L. Lewis go marching on. Classes about to be destroyed have usually been dumb in a similar way: the Bourbons in France, the Romanoffs in Russia.

IF OUR ANALYSIS OF FDR, BASED ON ACCUMULATING CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE, IS CORRECT, EXPECT THE FOLLOWING:

1. America will not go in shooting, now or soon.
2. A negotiated peace this summer which will be the end of Britian as a great power and the beginning of the end of the British Empire and international finance capitolism.
3. FDR will, as a matter of face-saving, keep up a long range inter-hemisphere economic and talky-talky war to perpetuate:
   a. Unlimited spending---on pyramid building and circuses.
   b. Unlimited dictatorial powers. (We described it in a book called "The Coming American Fascism" written in 1935. FDR is putting it across by calling it the opposite and by saying that it is necessary to save the country from Fascism. If we had been interested in putting over Fascism, we should have misrepresented it too, realizing that deception of the public is the first secret of political success in a democracy.)

EVERY INDICATION SHOWS THAT BRITIAN IS THROUGH.

As we have insisted all along, Britian declared an offensive war she had no chance of waging or winning. We have been Britian's true friend, a true friend because a truthful friend. Those who have egged Britian oh to declare and wage what for her alone is an impossible war have not been friends of Britian.

THE HITLER PEACE OFFENSIVE.

The big quetion now is whether the British will make peace before or after they have been forced out of the Mediterranean.

For the Hitler peace offensive, Hitler's hole card is Stalin and Churchill's hole card is FDR. Stalin is rarin to go; FDR isn't. Stalin wants to go south against the British possessions and protectorates in Asia, including India. He has something to gain by fighting with the Axis. About the only easy pickings for the U. S. are the French possessions in the Americas: Martinique, Guadeloupe, French Guiana and the small island of St. Pierre off Canada. These possessions may be seized any day now by our marines with strong naval aid. Taking them would be no loss to Vichy or Berlin and no gain to Britain. Taking them would infuriate the French, especially the French in the fighting services. It would help Hitler far more than it would hurt France. Stalin's entry into the war with millions of Russian troops under German general staff strategic planning and coordination of supplies and transportation, on the other hand, would work havoc with the British. For where the Russians can strike hardest through Persia and Mosul, the British can muster little force on the defensive.

WHY HITLER NOW WANTS PEACE.

Hitler would prefer an instant end of the war to a long drawn out struggle in which he and Stalin emerged victorious over a devastated Europe and a vanquished British Empire. The reasons are simple: Germany is in a position to benefit more economically in an immediate peace allowing her to inaugurate the new order in a Europe not yet devastated than she possibly could as a co-victor with Russia in a ruined Europe. The reason relations are strained between Washington and Vichy is that Vichy does not want to do a Poland for the British cause. Those who want a five or ten year war of destruction of Europe to end Hitlerism are mostly domiciled outside the areas to be devastated for democracy.

HITLER'S PEACE TERMS IN A NUT SHELL. (We know them in some detail. See our next letter.)

Let Britain keep her fleet and most of her empire, but let her give up her main naval bases: Gilbraltar to Spain; Malta and Cyprus to Italy; Suez to an international consortium; the British West Indies to the United States; Singapore to Siam or French Indo-China. And so on.

HITLER'S CALCULATION.

Britain, without most of her key bases, cannot long maintain her present fleet. The British Empire in the new Axis world order is bound to fall apart. Hitler can make every concession, almost, to British face as long as he is allowed to keep what he and his allies now have and to consolidate the new order in Europe.

BARTER AND AUTARCHY MEAN THE END OF FINANCE CAPITOLISM AND OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE WHICH IS HELD TOGETHER BY MONEY.

THE UNITED STATES, LIKE RUSSIA, IS MADE FOR BARTER AND AUTARCHY.

The Editor has confidently predicted from the beginning of this war the inevitability of British failure and defeat. This is a war British can't win and a war the United States can't lose. The economic changes now inevitable are necessarily fatal to British and necessarily advantageous to the United States which will be forced to create a new order in this hemisphere. The United States can intervene in Europe to save British and fail in such intervention without thereby losing the war. British lost the American Revolution but won the war in Europe. Why? Because British was then riding the wave of the future which was then capitolism and industrialism. Just as British is a sure loser so are the classes in America now clamoring for intervention the loudest, perticularly those in Wall Street. It's a case of "misery loves company." The reason both British and Wall Street are do omed is that the era of a private monopoly of the creation of money is over. This does not nesessarily mean the end of private property or all private enterprise. But it mans the end of private banking as a powerful and remunerative function. Our Wall Street bundlers for British and bunglers for themselves don't realize that thy would have been liquidated in 1933 but for the grace of Government. But our Government can't put the British Empire on the R. F. C. like our banks and on the dole like our farmers and unemployed, while, at the same time, financing the same relief for Latin America and a world-wide war against Germany, Russia, Japan, Italy, France, Spain et al.

CRETE AND THE MEDITERRANEAN SITUATION HAVE CONVERTED MOST MILITARY MEN IN WASHINGTON TO A RECOGNITION OF THE HOPELESSNESS OF THE BRITISH OUTLOOK.

Up to quite recently, believing such a view to be a patriotic duty, our War Plas Division of the Army General Staff and most of the vocal members of the General Staff tried to take a bullish view of the British chances. They talked nonsense about future land operations with the aid of Balkan and other allies. Such nonsense can no longer be talked even under White House pressure. And the White House pressure to talk it has recently been deminished. Colonel Bill Donovan, our recent meddler in the Balkans and White House military expert on the war, is now in the dog-house. General Embick, recently retired and known for his realistic views about the war situation, is now a frequent adviser on military questions. Our foreign service personel, diplomatic, consular, army and navy, and our foreign correspondents and observers, since the start of the war, have deemed it a patriotic duty to avoid the wicked Axis officials and to talk only with the British and refugees. Thus they have reported to this country only or mostly nonsense and the fruits of wishful thinking. Donovan's trip through the mid-east and the Balkans was a British conducted tour. On the basis of such reports and misinformation, the President and the State, War, and Navy Departments formed wholly erroneous views. For an officer of one of these departments to disagree and talk realism was to get himself branded as a fifth columnist.

Now President Roosevelt is seeing how he has been had by the interventionist-Frankfurter school. One of the President's virtues is that he can rise above principle. He has prejudices, preferences sympathies and antipathies but few abiding principles.

IS FDR SCUTTLING THE INTERVENTIONISTS LIKE HITLER AND STALIN HAVE SO OFTEN SCUTTLED SOME OF THEIR BACKERS? PRESENT SIGNS SAY HE IS.

A short time ago it looked like an early move on Dakar and the Mediterranean. The First Dibision was expected to leave Camp Devins en route for Porto Rico and points east. A big movement of the fleet from the Pacific was reported as imminent. Now there appear to be no signs of a major troop movement and most of the fleet is still in the Pacific.

FDR WAS GAME FOR DOING A WOODROW WILSON AT VERSAILLES BUT NOT A CHURCHILL, THE GREAT EVACUATOR, IN AN AMERICAN DUNKERQUE.

THE INTERVENTIONIST WAR MONGERS ARE OUT ON A LIMB, NOT FDR.

It is amusing to us to rad the current pleas of the interventionist press, columnists, pnblege professors and preachers for leadership by the President and action by the nation, action, of course, meaning shooting. If there is an early negotiated peace the interventionists are going to be on the spot. The President, with the power of the public purse and public regulation can't be embarassed, especially when the nation has been on relief for a decade---now relief is called defense and aid to Britain. Knox and Stimson may retire in a huff if they don't get their war, but the bureaucratic army who need their fortnightly pay check won't talk back to their chief. And the American people won't rise up and call him accursed for not sending their sons to fight and die overseas. There is only one way FDR can lose the war and that is to fight it a la Britin. All he has to do now is to increase his power and raise the spending ante. If he can't get more power by statute he can take it by proceedure.

MILITARY EXPERTS HAVE TOLD FDR THAT FOR AN INTER-HEMISPHERE WAR, WHICH FDR MAY FIND IT EXPEDIENT TO TALK AND WAGE ECONOMICALLY, THE BRITISH WILL BE A LIABILITY RATHER THAN AN ASSET.

If and when the British are driven out of the Mediterranean, even though they get all their fleet out safay, which is doubtful, the British thrown back on their little island will be a militmry and an economic liability rather than an asset to the United States should we be crazy enough to wage a ten or twenty years war against sin in all the continents outside the Americas. For such a war the British will be just so many mouths to feed, so many deficiencies to be supplied out of American production. For such a war the French, or any Continental nation which could provide us with an ample base for major troop debarkations, would be most useful,--- but not the poor British. The British would be merely a target for German attack and commerce raiding. Pretty soon most of our American ship yards will be occupied in reparing Britsh ships. Now we have over a hundred. This way we are certainly getting the British Navy. But the British Navy thus crippled and laid up here for repairs is curtailing our potential output of new ships for our own defense.

THE FACT IS, OUR DEFENSE PROGRAM IS DEFENSIVE ONLY IN TERMS OF A DIALECTIC WHICH HOLDS THAT THE DEFENSE OF BRITAIN IS

THE DEFENSE OF AMERICA AND THAT IF WE NEGLECT AMERICAN DEFENSE FOR BRITISH DEFENSE, WE ARE THEREBY BETTER DEFENDING AMERICA. The British power of attack is pretty nearly gone. Four major evacuations have demonstrated their power of defense. Yet, the interventionists say we must defend them so they can defend us. STRATEGICALLY, BRITAIN IS A LIABILITY FOR AMERICAN DEFENSE.

PSCHYCOLOGICALL WEAKNESSES OF THE ANGLO-AMERICAN WAR POLICY.

Politically, economically, militarily, FDR has nothing to fear. What he does have to fear is a too rapid debunking of the war illusions he has exploited. In the case of Churchill, a negotiated peace means his retirement to write and lecture on how it happened to a paying American clientele. But FDR has four years to go. During this time he needs Fascist powers and fabulous spending. For these methods he will need a myth to replace Britain and sea power, an ideology and a large corps of propagandists. For the first few months he can get away with the line that it is all for defense against, and the ultimate overthrow of, Hitlerism abroad. But this will peter out in short order as Hitler says to America, "Accept friendship and trade with our side of the world at your pleasure: decline them if you will; but if you do, it will be your loss in an economic way."

For the immediate present, the great weakness of the Anglo-American case vis-a-vis the French and Spanish is that our present policy offers no immediate or effective military action to end the war but indulges only in a nightmare of building enough bombers to reduce western Europe to a heap of ruins over a five or ten year period on the theory that burning down the house is worth while if it gets rid of the vermin.

Even Dorothy Thompson fails to develope enthusiasm over Eden's project of a post-war British run world.

THE ONLY CONSTRUCTIVE FORCES IN WASHINGTON ARE WORKING ON THE SETTING UP OF A TOTALITARIAN DICTATORSHIP HERE.

The men in Washington with most ideas of competance and relavancy to current problems are new dealers interested in getting more power for the government, more spending by the government and more security for themselves and others. The trouble is that their social philosophy does not fit this set-up as well as it does that of Nazi Germany. Their economics don't fit this set-up. The Army and Navy have no strong men like John L. Lewis and no intellects like those working on new deal projects. Against the constructive enterprises of the Axis for a United States of Europe, Mr. Roosevelt has mobilized three old men, HULL, KNOX, and STIMSON, no one of whom has the remotest idea of what it is all about. The Frankfurter school are competant, but unrealistic in their holy war aim. The Frankfurter school are good legal strategists. FDR has no military or industrial strategists and no plan either for conquering the world from the devil or for reorganizing it after it has been conquered by the angels. His problem now is that of keeping the war under his control as a tool for domestic policies. The danger for him is that in the post-war period the war.

spirit he has evoked and used successfully thus far may get out of his control and overthrow him. Those of the Frankfurter-Episcopalian-academic, social register interventionist schools are now telling FDR that if he does not go to war soon, the war spibit will throw him. War is a fine steed for a statesman to ride, but he must have somewhere to go with it. Roosevelt rides the war horse superbly. Only, unlike each of the Axis leaders, he has nowhere to go with it except back into the never-never land of Mr. Hull's dreams and the Wall Street men's dreams. The place the New Deal Idealists want to go is a Utopia to which no war ever leads. ONE THING IS SURE: THE BRITISH AND THE AMERICAN INTERVENTIONISTS ARE GOING TO LOSE. WHO WILL WIN IS LESS CLEAR.

Criticism of the American Congress by a war-mongering visiting member of the British Parliament may force out of a Senate committee, where it has been buried for months, a resolution by Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri calling for an investigation of all foreign propagandists in the United States.

Incensed by the criticisms of Congress by Colonel Josiah C. Wedgwood, labor member of the House of Commons, and by his intemperate and rude and derogatory language in a public interview in sneering reference to Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, the Senate was in a mood today to force the Clark resolution out of committee and compel a sweeping investigation.

NYE HITS BRITON

"Colonel Wedgwood's reference to Congress as lacking in sense, and his impudent advice to Senator Wheeler to 'go soak his head', said Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota today, "isconvincing evidence that the propaganda situation in this country must be investigated.

"When the Senate meets on Thursday, I propse to bring the entire Wedgwood incident again to the floor of the Senate and demand action on the Clark resolution.

"It is obvious that this country is fairly swarming with foreign propagandists, who are carrying on a deliberate campaign to prepare the minds of the American people for war and to break down their psychological resistance to the idea of war.

"It is time the Senate learned, and told the American people, just who these propagandists are, what they are doing, how they are abusing our hospitality, and who is financing them, and to what extent.

"The Clark resolution will bring all these facts into the light, and the Senate is entitled to have this investigation."

PLAN BOTTLED UP

The Clark resolution has been bottled up for months in the Senate committee of audit and control, as it is called.

This committee is one of the most powerful, though least known, in the Senate. It controls the contingent fund of the Senate from which committee investigations are financed. If the committee refuses to act, a proposed investigation can be completely blocked.

Until he left the Senate a few days ago, the chairman of this committee was Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, the Roosevelt Administration's chief political fixer in the Senate. Mr. Byrnes for his services to the Administration, has been rewarded with an appointment to the Supreme Court.

The audit and control committee is now without a chairman, but the ranking Democrat is the acting chairman. He is Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland, who is entirely independent of New Deal pressure and influence. Thus, there is considerable hope that, now that Mr. Byrnes has left the Senate, a favorable report can be obtained on the Clark resolution and a Senatorial investigation.

This depends upon whether Senator Tyding, and Senator Tobey, of New Hampshire, the Republican member, vote in favor of the resolution.

Senator Wheeler said today he would join Senator Nye in an effort to bring the Clark resolution out. Senator Clark, author of the resolution, is absent from the city.

HOUSE MEMBERS IRATE

Colonel Wedgwood, whose intemperate language in interviews in Boston and New York, has been very damaging to the British cause in Washington, in Capitol opinion may have rendered a real service to America in bringing the propaganda menace into the open. The indignation over Wedgwood's remarks is strong at the House.

"This member of the British Parliament", said Representative Bender of Ohio, in a speech, "has the idea that we have already become a British colony. Maybe some Administration leaders have given him the idea.

"Although the American people are not aware of it, and although the Congress is not aware of it, is it true that we have already been taken over, lock, stock and barrel?

"I deplore the fact that a member of the British Parliament comes over here to this country for the purpose of telling the American Congress and the American people what to do and what not to do. I would suggest that the President send a note to Mr. Churchill and ask him to invite him back home.

URGES CONGRESS ACT

"Are we in the war? A member of the British Parliament seems to know more about it than we do. He says we are. Apparently the President of the United States is not being truthful with us. We are being maneuvered rapidly into a position in which there may be no possible alternative to war."

"I feel that the time is here," said Representative Keefe of Wisconsin, "when Congress ought to assert itself. Either we are going to war or we are not. Congress should have the right to here and now determine that question.

"If the Congress votes 'No', then these steps that are surreptitiously leading us into the war should stop and we should devote ourselves to the problem of providing for our common defense."

DID YOU KNOW

That a new and false bogey of invasion through Alaska has been invented in order to bolster the policy of aid to Soviet Russia?

THE CLAIM

"Control of eastern Siberia by either Germany of Japan; directly or indirectly, would be a source of anxiety." (Columnist Ernest K. Lindley, Washington Post, July 2, 1941)

"A deal with Russia giving American fighting planes use of the strong Soviet air bases on the Siberian tundra opposite Alaska l l is being advocated by a number of influential defense strategists here, it was learned tonight."
(New York Herald Tribune, June 30, 1941)

THE ANSWER

"In the hysteria of the moment every area has suddenly become $vital' and 'invulnerable'; even Alaska, wilderness of pine and snow, total population of 75,000 people, without a good air target in the territory, has been represented by sources that should know better as highly vulnerable to air attack."
(Hanson W. Baldwin, "United We Stand," Page 114)

SIBERIA NEW BOOGEY

Acynical old adage has it that military men, if given the chance, would build bases on Mars to defend against against invasion from the Moon. The only thing wrong with this adage is that its scope is limited to military men; it should include our present-day interventionists. This week Hitler's invasion of the Soviet Union has given new impetus to the demand for bases on Mars - in this case, Siberia. The professed reason is that a Hitler victory in the latest aggression may mean that the Luft wasse and the Reichswehr will face the U. S. from eastern Siberia, or it may mean that Japan, taking advantage of a weakened Soviet Union, will move into Siberia's Maritime provinces and Kamchatka peninsula. This is one of the justifications advanced for lease-lend aid to Soviet Russia.

THE INTERVENTIONISTS SOLUTION

In either case, the alarmists seem to expect an immediate invasion of North America via Alaska. Advance bases in Siberia, they say, constitute the only solution. Accordingly, they want a deal with the Soviet Union whereby the U. S. can take over the air bases on Siberia's East Cape, up behind narrow Bering Strait, and a number of air and submarine bases on the Bering Strait Sea which were constructed for the Soviet Union by Nazi engineers. Columnist Ernest K. Lindley, who frequently writes with semi-official sanction, has implied approval of such a move. (Washington Post, July 2, 1941)

INTERVENTIONIST ERRORS

Actually the alarmists are talking something close to nonsense. The danger they profess to see does not exist -- no mater who holds eastern Siberia. They are discounting the growing formidability of our Alaskan defenses; they are ignoring the strategic difficulty of an attack on Alaska and the strategic difficulty and expense of holding bases in Siberia.

ALASKAN DEFENSE PROBLEMS

The defense of Alaska falls into three strategic divisions; defense of the island-fringed Panhandle which extends south along the western border of Canada; defense of the Aleutian Islands which extend south and west like a necklace between the Bering Sea and the Pacific Ocean, and which flank the great circle route from Japan to the U. S. : defense of the mainland whose Seward Peninsula is only 60 miles across Bering Straight from Siberia. In the strait - a mile-and-a-half apart - lie the Soviet Union's Big Diomede Island with its airfield and weather station, and the U. S. held Little Diomede Island. ("Strategy of the Americas," by Fleming MacLiesh and Cushman Reynolds, pp. 67-71.)

THE PANHANDLE

In the frequently fog-bound Panhandle, whose southern tip is 625 miles north of Seattle, the Navy is developing an air base at Sitka, in the north (900 miles from Seattle) which will eventually service submarines too.

The Navy is developing other bases at Juneau and Ketchikan. The Army is developing and air base at Metalakatla.

THE ALEUTIAN ISLANDS

In the Aleutian Islands, the Navy has a large base under development on Kodiak Island near the mainland, and has another nearly completed at Dutch Harbor west of Kodiak on Unalaska Island, which is 2900 miles from Tokyo, 2700 miles north of Hawaii. On the other islands still farther west there are Navy "listening posts."

THE MAINLAND

On the mainland, the Army is enlarging its air base and military post at the port of Anchorage, on the south coast. Some 550 miles up the single Alaskan railroad from Anchorage the Army is building an important air base with a 10,000 foot runway for "flying fortresses" at Fairbanks, 1600 miles from the main northwestern air base at Spokane, where summer days are 24 hours long and winters are arctic. The Army is also building emergency landing fields on the frozen tundra of the north to supplement the main bases.

AIR BASES

In addition to the above, Pan American Airways has bases in the Panhandle, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration is co-operating in the development of emergency fields. What is needed to supplement these bases are some connecting air bases in western Canada which could be arranged for quite easily under the Canadian-American defense agreement. Some experts have thought that a 1 200 mile military road over which supplies could be trucked from Seattle to Fairbanks should be built through Canada. The real need for this is not so clear as the need for connecting air bases. However, the basic point is that from this network of bases (see any good map of Alaska) supplied by protected communication lines through the air or along the coast, U. S. submarines and surface raiders and Army and Navy bombers can immediately smash at any invasion attempt and bomb out any bridge head the enemy tries to establish.

ALASKA CAN'T BE INVADED

Regarding the invasion of Alaska, Hanson W. Baldwin, military expert for the New York Times, has the following to say in his recent book, "United We Stand" (pp.113-114):

"There has been much talk of 'the vulnerability of Alaska to invasion.' It is true that we cannot guard all Alaska's coast line against a landing; not all the king's horses and all the king's men could do that. But we could wish for no more ludicurous and fatal error on the part of the enemy than a linding in Alaska. The inhospitable, rugged, and difficult country and the terrible cold would make the Russian difficulties in Finland and the Italian troubles in the mountains of Greece and Albania seem like child's play. Air bases could not be quickly or easily established there by an enemy; if they were, they could be far more easily reduced by our own forces. And if any enemy ever attempted an overland campaign, striking toward Seattle, he would leave behind him a trail bleached in bones, and, in the words of one officer, the soldiers who started would not reach Seattle. Their grandchildren might reach it, but they could not be an army."

THE SIBERIAN BASES

The Siberian bases are difficult to supply from the Soviet Union or from Japan. They are not reached by railroad, but only by ships and planes. From them no vital spot in North America could be bombed by any pl and in use today. At best, they could be used as bases from which to bomb our own outlying Alaskan bases. And we can always bases forces in Alaska sufficient to beat them. If Japan is the enemy, the industrial cities of the Island Empire would soon be within the reach of our new super-bombers - the B 19's.

BULLETIN NO. 2: (Compiled from official Chicago Bulletins)

Significant of methods being employed to coerce the farmers into support of the war party is the letter below distributed by the Farm Security Administration.

Congressman Frank B. Keefe, Wisconsin, exposed this letter to the House of Representatives on June 17. (Congressional Record, June 17, 1941, page 5383)

CONGRESSMAN FRANK B. KEEFE, WISCONSIN --

..... THE ADMINISTRATION HAS LATELY SENT OUT AN S O S CALL TO GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES ASKING THEM TO GO OUT INTO THE HIGHWAYS AND BYWAYS OF AMERICA AND SELL THE CAUSE OF PARTICIPATION OF THIS NATION IN THIS WAR. I HAVE BEFORE ME NOW ACTUAL PROOF OF THE FACT THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, AND ESPECIALLY THAT PORTION OF IT KNOWN AS THE FARM SECURITY ADMINISTRATION, IN A PUBLIC DOCUMENT CIRCULATED TO THEIR AGENTS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY, HAS GIVEN DEFINITE PROOF OF THE STATEMENT WHICH I HAVE JUST MADE. LET ME READ THIS LETTER, IF YOU PLEASE, UNDER DATE OF MAY 7, 1941:

(CONFIDENTIAL: FOR ADMINISTRATIVE USE ONLY)

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, FARM SECURITY ADMINISTRATION
May 7, 1941

To: All information advisors
From: John Fischer, Chief, Information Division
Subject: Special memorandum on national defense (No.8)

.....

AND MAY I SAY TO THE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE THIS AFTERNOON THAT THERE IS NOTHING PHONEY ABOUT THIS LETTER. I HAVE HAD THIS LETTER CHECKED WITH THE FARM SECURITY ADMINISTRATION AND THEY ADMIT THAT IT WAS RELEASED BY THEM. I PRESENTED IT TO THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE THIS MORNING AT A CONFERENCE WHICH WE HAD WITH HIM, AND HE STATED THAT HE REGRETTED VERY MUCH THAT THIS LETTER HAD EVER BEEN SENT OUT. THIS IS WHAT THEY SAID:

"The Department has just received information that the British shipping situation is much more serious than most Americans have realized. While the Department has the exact figures, we cannot pass them on to you for military reasons. In general, however, the situation is this:

(1) British ships are being sunk twice as fast as they can be replaced by the combined effort of British and American shipyards--and at the last report, the rate of loss was still rising.

(2) Tonnage being landed at British ports is less than half of what it was before the war.

(3) In the last month Britain has had to cut down on her imports of armaments from the United States in order to increase imports of food.

(4) The food situation of Britain is so as serious that foundation herds of livestock and poultry are being slaughtered. Department experts emphasize that these facts do not take immediate and positive measures to see that American food and war materials are delivered at British ports.

"What a British defeat would mean to this country should by this time be obvious to all of us. Many of the best-informed people in Washington predict an invasion of the Western Hemisphere within 90 to 120 days, if Britain is defeated."

CONGRESSMAN KEEFE --

GET THIS -- I WANT THIS FACT TO SINK IN --

"The department feels that the American people -- particularly the American farmers -- do not understand these facts, and that vigorous action of the type needed, cannot be taken until this lack of understanding is remedied."

CONGRESSMAN KEEFE --

BECAUSE WE MUST HAVE THIS VIGOROUS TYPE OF ACTION AND WE CANNOT GET IT BECAUSE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE DO NOT UNDERSTAND --

"For this reason, every agency in the Department has been asked to do all it can to get these facts before the people."

CONGRESSMAN KEEFE --

NOW, LISTEN TO THIS:

"We cannot issue formal press releases or radio speeches on the subject for two obvious reasons -- it is not the official job of the Department to discuss international affairs; and indiscriminate broadcasting of these facts might play into the hands of the appeasement propaganda groups.

"We are requested, however, to carry these facts by word of mouth to as many as possible of our own officials and other key people in Agriculture such as Farm Security Administration committeemen, etc."

CONGRESSMAN KEEFE --

THERE IS A LETTER SENT OUT BY A RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT AGENCY WHICH CHARGES THAT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, AND ESPECIALLY THE FARMERS, ARE SO DUMB THAT THEY DO NOT UNDERSTAND AND CANNOT APPRECIATE WHAT THE SITUATION IS THAT IS CONFRONTING AMERICA AND, THEREFORE, THEY HAVE BEEN APATHETIC IN THEIR ATTITUDE TOWARD THE VIGOROUS STEPS WHICH IT IS NOW PROPOSED TO INITIATE TO CARRY OUT THIS WAR POLICY.

IT IS MY CONSIDERED OPINION FROM TALKS WITH THE FARM POPULATION THAT I REPRESENT THAT THEY ARE TOO SMART FOR THAT. DO NOT MAKE ANY MISTAKE, MR. SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, OR THE MEMBERS OF THIS CONGRESS, DO NOT THINK THAT THE FARM PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY DO NOT UNDERSTAND. THEY UNDERSTAND TOO WELL, AND THEY ARE NOT GOING TO BE DRIVEN BY DECEITFUL APPEALS SUCH AS THIS INTO TAKING A POSITION THAT WILL BE A REPETITION OF THE EXPERIENCE WHICH THEY HAD IN 1917 AND 1918.

At a recent meeting of the U.S.O. in Washington, plans were discussed for making the boys more comfortable at camp.

A proposal finally decided on was a project for putting copies of "TIME" and "LIFE" -- magazines which have been earning for themselves quite a reputation as interventionist propaganda -- in each army camp library.

The chairman of the meeting, by curious coincidence, was Mrs. Dean Acheson, whose husband is one of the most belligerent speakers for the Aid-to-Britain Comm.

SAY PEACE TERMS SPURNED BY ROOSEVELT-CHURCHILL

(Digest of an article appearing in the July 10th edition of the Chicago Tribune.)

SENATOR BURTON K. WHEELER CHALLENGED PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO TELL THE AMERICAN PEOPLE THIS.

WHEELER SAID: "NEW DEAL SPOKESMEN ARE SAYING WE OUGHT TO LEAVE THE QUESTION OF WHETHER WE HAVE WAR OR PEACE UP TO THE PRESIDENT. THE PRESIDENT ON MANY OCCASIONS HAS SHOWN THAT HE DOES NOT THINK THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE TO BE TRUSTED WITH INFORMATION VITALLY AFFECTING THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THEIR LIVES OR THE LIVES OF THEIR SONS ARE TO BE SACRIFICED UPON THE BATTLEFIELDS OF EUROPE, ASIA, OR AFRICA."

Inquiry disclosed that this statement (Hess' peace offers to Great Britain) was based on information possessed by Senator Wheeler and some members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with close state department contacts. According to these Senators there is no question about the truth of the story in its essentials, regardless of official denials in both Washington and London.

STORY OF HESS' PEACE TERMS

Described by United States Senators - published in the Chicago Tribune, July 10.

The story as told by the senators, follows:

"Hitler had determined to go to war with Russia and had made impossible demands on Stalin when he commissioned Hess, his pro-British anti-communist deputy fuehrer, to fly to Scotland with his peace terms.

"Hitler's desire for peace was based on his fear of a long stalemated war, with inevitable American entry on the side of Britain. He was convinced that neither side could win such a war and that the sole victor, should the western powers fight themselves to exhaustion, would be communism.

"Hitler's attack on Russia was in part military and economic, in part political. He needed the oil, the grain, the ore, and other raw materials which the Russians were not supplying in sufficient quantities, and he wished to knock out the Russian army in order to insure himself against an ultimate war on two fronts. His political purpose was to appeal to the anti-communist sentiment in both Great Britain and the United States. He shrewdly foresaw a popular revulsion in the United States against forming an alliance with communism in a crusade to establish President Roosevelt's "four freedoms" everywhere in the world.

AIMED AT INTERVENTIONIST CASE

"Hitler's peace proposals to Great Britain also were calculated to destroy the main argument for American intervention in the war, the argument that England and the British fleet constitute our first line of defense. Hess told the British that Germany wanted no part of the British Empire and no part of the British fleet. He reported that Germany intended to dominate the continent of Europe but did not wish to undertake the responsibility of maintaining order in the far east, which would be left to Britain.

"Hess bluntly told the British that they could not win the war. He gave them appalling figures on the German production of aircraft and other war munitions. The British conceded that if these figures were correct, their prospects would not be encoureging.

"Hess, on the other hand, did not boast that Germany could win the war. He argued only that continuation of the struggle would end in a victory of communism.

SECRECY KEPT BY CHURCHILL

"Prime Minister Churchill rejected all demands that he tell the house of commons and the British people about the Hess affair. Clement Attlee, the lord privy seal, and other Laborite members of the government intimated that Hitler was suing for peace because he knew he could not win, but not a word came from Churchill. He did not know what to tell the Germans, because he did not know how far he could rely on President Roosevelt for American assistance in the war.

"Accordingly, John G. Winant, American ambassador to Britain, flew home at the end of May for a series of conferences with President Roosevelt. He put the German peace proposals up to the President, and Mr. Roosevelt thereupon was required to choose between peace or war. If the war was to be carried on, Mr. Roosevelt was told, the British must have some tangible evidence of definite military participation by the United States.

ACTION FOLLOWS DECISION

"The President's decision, as the world knows, was for continuation of the war. Winant returned to London with a complete report for Churchill on June 21, but in the meantime the word had been communicated by cable. The British government and the allied refugee governments issued a joint manifesto pledging war to the end, with no peace parleys. In the meantime, also, preparations were made for the evidence Churchill demanded of American military assistance -- the landing of an expeditionary force in Iceland and the President's order for the navy to keep the Atlantic sea lanes open for the flow of munitions to Britain."

TO: ALL CHAPTER CHAIRMEN AND MEMBERS:

A great "Constitution Day" Rally, the second rally in our stepped-up program to keep the country out of war, will be held at CARNEGIE HALL next Wednesday evening, SEPTEMBER 17TH at 8:15 P.M.

This day marks the 154th signing of the Constitution.

Senator CHARLES W. TOBEY, New Hampshire, leader of the fight against convoys and member of the committee investigating propaganda in the movies, and Congressman WILLIAM B. BARRY, Queens, will speak. Ernest Wheeler, prominent New York attorney and a member of the New York Committee, will be Chairman of the meeting. John T. Flynn, Chairman of the New York Chapter will be temporary chairman.

The protection of the American Constitution from the grave threats to it by the War Party will be the major theme of the meeting. The Constitution and its role as the great bulwark of the American way of life will be featured in the decorations of the Hall.

In addition, the Rally will provide a setting for the introduction of "America First, Last and Always", the America First theme song which we have just officially adopted. This song is the work of writers who have had many national song hits, and we believe that with the spontaneous enthusiasm of our members, which it is sure to arouse, it will sweep the country.

Perhaps the most compelling reason of all for this Rally is that it will provide us with a golden opportunity for a mass demonstration as a reply to the President's speech on the air tonight. Without doubt, we are moving into the great crisis of our fight, and it is of the utmost importance that we strike back immediately and dramatically at what will be the latest and probably the most dangerous proposals of the War Party.

Box seats and reserved section seats for the Rally are being sold at $1.00 each. We are urging each Chapter to take a box, and to decorate it with their banner as at the last Carnegie Rally.* The reaction to Chapter representation at the last meeting was most enthusiastic and it is an effective way of showing our strength. In addition, we are asking Chapters to sell as many other seats, and distribute as many free tickets, as they possibly

In many respects, particularly because of the special occasion of t Rally and of its timing as a sounding board after the President's speech is the most important Rally we have yet held in New York. We therefore this call to all Chapters and members - a call for an "all-out" effort mobilize our forces for this great demonstration of the people's profou concern for safeguarding the American Constitution, and their vigorous tion to America's entry into any foreign wars.

ONE YEAR OF AMERICA FIRST-

An Amazing Story of Democracy in Actio

Exempt 3(2)(A)(2)

319.519 S98Btjbal 10-18-90

A year ago, when a conquering German army stood poised on the shores of the English Channel and when history's second invasion of the British Isles seemed imminent, the prophets of gloom in our midst were predicting that America would be at war by Christmas.

Now an aroused Congress has reconvened in Washington, and gloom has given way to optimism. The vaunted German armies are locked in a death struggle in Russia. The threat of invasion of England has passed. British shipping losses have sunk to a new low. America is not at war, and reliable word from Washington promises that America will not go to war—that Congress will not surrender its Constitutional trusteeship over this gravest of all issues.

How does it happen that America has resisted the pressure of the war party? How does it happen that millions of stout-hearted Americans have awakened from their lethargy and have told the world that the United States, strong and impregnable, shall remain free and independent—free and independent from Europe's unceasing wars?

America First Provides Needed Leadership

The answer to these questions was given one year ago when a little band of patriotic men and women came together in Chicago and announced to an awaiting Nation their faith in American democracy. America faced an emergency. It was about to be stampeded by the preachers of fear and hate. A worried people needed only leadership to find the way out. What better leaders than those who placed America first in their hearts, whose only purpose was to find fulfillment of a democracy wrought by the courage and foresight of their fathers?

There was only one name for this group, an it—America First. There was only one set

From One Room to a National Crusade

Characteristically, the idea which gave birth to America First came from a young man, R. Douglas Stuart Jr., graduate of Princeton and a student at the Yale University School of Law. The response which Stuart received to his original suggestion was all he needed. He suspended temporarily his career in the law and came to Chicago where, as National Director of America First, he has seen his [illegible] beenw into a national crusade.

The answer is that America First, through its me[illegible] is preserving our democratic traditions, the lives [illegible]sons—and now it is fighting to preserve the four[illegible] stone of our republic, the Constitution of the [illegible] States. The fight is being carried on, not by m[illegible] interests, not by a powerful minority, but by ra[illegible] file Americans, respected in their communities, w[illegible] brace no "ism" but Americanism—who firmly belie[illegible] this is still a Government of, by, and for the peopl[illegible]

"All I have" was a big investment to Robert Je[illegible] but he took no chances. He was investing in an or[illegible] tion whose business is making history. Let us see[illegible] his money is spent.

In the first place, Robert Jefferson helps to br[illegible] message of peace and preparedness to every tow[illegible] hamlet in the land. Distinguished speakers have [illegible] the country talking to overflow audiences whose [illegible] ziasm has amazed the most seasoned campaigner[illegible] long ago in New York, for instance, in the heart [illegible] so-called interventionist area, 30,000 people stood [illegible] rain outside a crowded hall, listening to Kathleen [illegible] Senator David I. These speakers are not professional lecturers. Robert Jefferson and his fellow members cannot afford to pay speaker's fees. Instead, volunteers like Philip F. La Follette, former Governor of Wisconsin; Samuel B. Pettengill, "The Gentleman from Indiana"; President Henry Noble MacCracken of Vassar College; Rev. John A. O'Brien, of Notre Dame; Mrs. Robert A. Taft; Mrs. Bennett Champ Clark; Senators Burton K. Wheeler, Gerald P. Nye, Charles W. Tobey, Bennett Champ Clark; D. Worth Clark; and Congressmen like Hamilton Fish, Karl E. Mundt, Knute Hill, Clare E. Hoffman, John A. Vorys, Dewey Short, representing all political view and parties, have given their services.

Never before has there been such a series of successful meetings sponsored by any group, outside of major political campaigns. We are reliably told that it was these meetings, more than anything, which caused the President to throw up his hands in irritation when his Congressional leaders privately told him that the country would not stand for the repeal of the provision which keeps our draftees in our own hemisphere. The meetings will continue on an increasing scale.

Committee Paying "Dividends to America"

Robert Jefferson is receiving other dividends. He helps distribute to millions of Americans the pamphlets and other materials so essential to a complete understanding of our national problems. He is now helping to support America First booths at state and country fairs where the skeptical can come and learn the true facts about the America First Committee. His money is spent on such odd items as step-ladders from which speakers address street-corner meetings nightly. He employs a cartoonist who sends material to small country newspapers which do not have the funds and facilities to compete along this line with the large metropolitan dailies. His contribution helps support a staff which arranges radio broadcasts reach millions of listeners.

Members All Loyal Americans

What does Robert Jefferson do when he bec member of the America First Committee? First, he that he is a patriotic American, opposed to a "isms"; and that he is not a Nazi, Fascist or B and that he believes in the principles of the A Constitution. He used to have to prove that he a Communist, but now that Stalin is fighting for th Freedoms," we do not have to worry about Com seeking membership in our Committee, as they are aligned behind the Administration's war policy.

Once established as a bona fide member, Robert son works with his local chapter. If he lives in Ne he may be one of the three hundred volunteers w night and day at the main headquarters in Ma or he may carry on his activity with one of thes three sub-chapters in the metropolitan area. If good talker, he may speak at small neighborhoo ings or on the street corners. If he is a writer, answer the thousands of letters his chapter receiv is artistic, he may spend his time drawing poster emblems which the Committee distributes. Chicago's latest campaign—"Call On Your Congressman Week"—thousands of Illinois citizens visited their Representatives at their homes during the recent recess. Chicago and New York tell the story of hundreds of other chapters, where the members carry on door-to-door campaigns, publish weekly chapter newspapers, hold rallies, broadcast weekly radio programs and spread the message of America First by mail, word of mouth and telephone.

What We Have Accomplished For America

Specifically, what has America First accomplished? We were told a year ago that we were on the verge of war, and we are still on the verge of war today. The answer is that America would have been in war long since had it not been for the 83 per cent who have made their voices heard.

Look at the record and see how the war party has been balked at every turn. Back in January, the President introduced his so-called Lend-Lease Bill. The time table, it is reliably reported, called for passage within a few days, and it was to be followed very soon by shooting.

But the battle of the Lend Lease Bill suddenly turned. The Nation had been prepared for just such a move as this, and they had their ready answer. Letters, telegrams and telephone calls taxed the staff in the Senate and the House Office Buildings. Senator Wheeler alone received 150,000 letters, which is far and away the greatest number ever received by one man in the history of either House. The war bill became a peace bill, because the American people wanted it that way. Amendments were written in excluding convoys and making sure that America was not to take the fatal step of "delivering the goods". After two months of debate the bill finally became law, but only after all its supporters had renounced to the American people any war-like intentions.

Every War Proposal Balked

The ink of the President's signature had not dried, however, before the convoy cries arose from the noisy little clique of "warriors" in the East. But the President had to admit that "Convoys mean shooting, and shooting means war", and it soon became clear that neither the people nor Congress would support this step.

Again the mail poured in—by the truckloads, according to the White House secretaries. The President, after postponing a heralded fire-side chat, finally addressed the nation and the expected convoy announcement was glaringly absent.

In short, the America First Committee has made clear that Congress, the elected Representatives of the people, will not tolerate our entry into the war. And so, the President, surrounded by such men as Ickes, Stimson, Knox and Hopkins, has been persuaded to take the matter into his own hands, despite the plain terms of the Constitution which vests the war power in Congress.

President Roosevelt consummated a treaty with the foreign government of Iceland, although the treaty-making rests with the Senate. By this device he sent our armed forces into the middle of the battle of the Atlantic. Worse yet, our forces now garrison Iceland jointly with the belligerent forces of Great Britain, though it was announced that the British forces would evacuate.

Then, in an announcement made in London the American people were politely informed that their President had met with Prime Minister Churchill and signed a joint statement of war aims, and this though America is still at peace!

Strength in Congress Growing

Congress would be poor Representatives, indeed, were they to ignore this totalitarian course of the Chief Executive. Already the tide of revolt is growing on Capitol Hill. When the President sought authority to send an A.E.F., he was bluntly told that such a provision could not pass. When he sought to extend the time of service of our drafted men, his measure passed by only a single vote, 203-202. The non-interventionists in the House of Representatives had gained thirty-seven more members than they had at the time of the Lend-Lease fight!

We Must Meet the Crisis Now

The will of the people is plain. We can go to war only if our Constitution and our Representative government are scrapped for the indeterminate future. Yet that is what the President proposes to do. The moment has come for Congress to reassert its historic function. It is ready to do so—but it needs the active and unswerving support of every loyal American in the land.

The America First Committee enters its second year with the crisis squarely before us. We have the organization, and we have the support of the people. Our success now, and the success of the American way, depends upon the sacrifice that each of us is willing to make. We count on you to contribute immediately as generously as you can—"all you have" or all you can afford, whether it is seventeen cents, ten, one hundred or five hundred dollars. Your investment will save the lives of American boys and the democracy and Constitution of the United States.

Congressmen, Be Warne

Text of Address Delivered by the Most Rev. Francis J. L. Beckmann, S.T.D., Archbishop of Dubuque, Over a National Hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting System Sunday, July 27.

I regret that circumstances arising in the wake of my recent broadcast have impelled me to this microphone again tonight. Oh the misfortune of controversy over vital principle which in its fury spares neither friend nor foeling, which counsels and makes of ignorance a virtue!

I am filled this evening, my dear Catholic and Christian people with an indignation akin perhaps to that which Christ the Crusader demonstrated in the Temple despoiled. In the past weeks we have witnessed an unholy merger of Christianity and Communism under the guise of military necessity; we have seen what amounts to dictatorship pseudo-officially canonized by a brother cleric; we have witnessed the beginning of the end for pledges which, however well given, had not truth for their backbone. "Strategy." what crimes are committed in thy name! The bland assurances of peace for the people it seems are so much honey on the lip. Step by step, my dear friends, just as surely as I stand before this microphone tonight, our unhappy nation is being propelled into an "honest-to-goodness blood and tears and sweat plotting war!" A war not to end wars, "forsooth," but, whether we know it or not, a war to make the world and PARTICULARLY THIS BELOVED AMERICA SAFE FOR THE NEW BOLSHEVISM!

I think at this time I might appropriately restate my position on the momentous issue of war or peace for the American people: From the beginning I have maintained that this war, however misrepresented is an ECONOMIC WAR BASED ON GREED, A STRUGGLE FOR POWER AND POSSESSIONS BETWEEN TWO DIAMETRICALLY OPPOSED SYSTEMS OF GOVERNMENT. The problem over which the warring nations have come to death-grips is simply this: Which economy shall be dominant in Europe, ours or yours? In other words, who is to exploit whom?"

Internationalists' Day

The entrenched internationalists have had their day; they financed the war; the eternal debt and milked the peoples, grinding them down into the dust of ignorance, poverty and despair. When the crimes and the horrors in human misery piled up in front them, when other nations dared to challenge their tyranny, the answer was war—war in the name of democracy and a hundred times—Yes, even war in the name of the Almighty Himself! If it suited their purpose to call it a "holy war," that was all right too. Anything to persuade the gullible millions to go out and do the fighting and the suffering and the dying that "the system" might survive!

So today the propaganda—smooth stuff it had to be this time for the American people were weary and disillusioned of "war to end wars." They had been fooled once and they knew it. Oh for a new slogan! Then out of the mysterious somewhere was born that supreme insult to the intelligence of our people, "Aid to the Allies short of war." This was a clever bait and, anxious to aid Britain, while remaining ourselves at peace, we swallowed it "hook-line-and-sinker."

Measures Short of War

A few saw into the hypocrisy of this proposition but their warnings went unheeded. In no time at all "measures short of war" had become an established axiom. The foundation was laid, the course set, and whether they liked it or not the American people once again were on the spot for Britain. A few well-chosen words to mark the gravestone of our folly; a "slimy slogan" had done it again.

Here is His Eminence the great William Cardinal O'Connell, the dean of the American Hierarchy, on slogans: "Of all the things in the world, I think what we have to be on guard against are these slimy slogans that mean nothing. They are insults to one's intelligence. And worse than that, they are dishonest. 'Make the world safe for Democracy.' 'The war to end wars.' Oh, how slick that is. It sounds so nice, 'the war to end wars.' Of course, everybody wants to end war, so they rush in to end the war that they began. We have had wars ever since. And the worst one the world has ever known has come about since this slogan was manufactured to fool the people. 'The war to end wars.' How lovely and glib it sounds on the tongue. And the poor people: what a crime it is to deceive the poor people. What a crime! To play on their generosity of heart, and even their trust in those who govern them; to play on that, that is pretty vile. To bring about what? To bring about disunion, confusion, and little by little the loss of everything they hold dear, the loss of their own children, the loss of their possessions, the loss of their civil rights."

Indictment of Deceit

People! here is a stirring indictment of deceit and a glimpse of what we may expect if as a result of our folly we get into this war unto annihilation. I reaffirm to you that the present conflict is not a "holy war," least of all a just war; but a war of one imperialism against the OTHER IN WHICH GODLESSNESS IS INCIDENTAL TO ALL BELLIGERENTS. Neither side is interested in God so much as gold or its equivalent. And there is no crusade for Christianity or democracy afoot anywhere in the world today either, all high-sounding slogans to the contrary notwithstanding.

Further, we may be sure that abroad the "four freedoms" have a phony ring. To the war-weary people of Europe this slogan is just another mask for the imperialism of the new world. Again I quote Cardinal O'Connell: "And there is one thing certain: we cannot — and we ought not try to—impose our form of government on the whole world. Why, they don't want it. If you are going to impose it on them, then you are doing an act of tyranny. I wonder if anyone really believes he could do that. If he doesn't believe it, and if he says it—I don't want to use the word. If he says what he doesn't mean, then you know what the adjective is; that is false. You can't in honesty try to deceive a whole people, much less the whole world. They know perfectly well what the American government is, and most of them, many of them, don't want it. Their traditions are all the other way. Very well; it is for them to decide, not for us. But as for our going out and trying to impose our method of life on the whole world, it is not only nonsense and impossible, but because it is utterly wrong it is tyranny."

No, my dear American friends this war is nothing more or less than a struggle to reestablish the shattered boundaries of international finance, and other things international, in countries which have had their fill of them and do not want them any more. This is a struggle which if prolonged through our efforts, but for a miracle of God, may go on interminably until universal chaos and exhaustion encompasses the warring nations.

Chaos of Communism

And chaos—there is a whirlwind for you! a wind to scatter the deadly Communism like a plague through all the world! If we in this country sanction even by our silence the hatred and revenge which dwells in the high places and relentlessly, f crumbling pledges I turn ain to the representatives people:

ress Warned

Congressmen! Be Warned! You that the people of this nation rwhelmingly opposed to be embroiled in this war. In many of you have voted on which was represented med to keep this country war. Subsequent events must have convinced you by now that the opposite appears to be true. Congressmen! The people of this nation will never forgive such lese majeste as negligence which permits the stealthy maneuvering of this beloved America into war either by the front or the back door.

God forbid, I do not wish to speak disparagingly or distrustfully of our highest magistrates. I concur that in these anxious hours of deliberation and decision they are deserving of our deepest sympathy and the comfort of our prayers. But there are powerful figures moving in the background of this picture and powerful pressure is certainly being brought to bear upon positions of responsibility. The smack of totalitarianism, of secret counsels arriving at decisions which as I have said before will affect whole generations of the unborn—these are realities we may not ignore. Remember, the stakes are high, and a few in this country would pay almost any price for the vindication of their monstrous greed, hatred and deceit—any price, that is, in the blood and treasure of the American people. These manufactured crises and prayed for incidents bear witness to the point.

And our boys—those fine young lads who are the hope and promise of this land—must they spill their blood for Britain and Bolshevism? They have a right to decent, unequivocal leadership. They will not shrink discipline nor will they hesitate to sacrifice, yes even to die if necessary in the cause of a strict defense of this nation. But the interpretation of the phrase "national defense" has lately become alarmingly broad. At this very moment only a mere pledge and an incident stand between the American people and full-fledged warfare, declared or undeclared. There is still time to circumscribe and temper the dangers which threaten us, to put on the brakes and stop for a last look around before we take the fatal plunge.

Peace-Makers Smeared

And if we but stop, look, listen, we see the strangest sights in this land of ours. Men of staunch patriotic convictions who dare to oppose our entrance into this war are immediately smeared and classified as Nazis, Bundists, yes even traitors to their country; and again I quote His Eminence: "I thought that we were all taught from our infancy that we must love America and love it more than any other nation in the world. And to bring that into question was supposed to be a rather mysterious sort of treason. And now, for saying that very thing, one is very apt to be smeared by somebody or other who, from his own reasons—God knows what they may be—seems to take offense at the fact that Americans ought to love America and ought, as it is their duty bound, to see that the welfare of America is nearest their heart."

Let no man say that the Archbishop of Dubuque has not the welfare of America nearest his heart. Every one of us who is fighting to keep this nation at peace is fighting because we love that nation. Every one of us has an abiding disgust and just hatred of Nazidom, Communism, all "isms" everywhere. But we love our country, this great America, above everything and we believe firmly that remaining at peace it has a superb destiny, a sublime mission in a world almost totally at war. "Our duty as Catholics and as Christians, is to help pacify the world," says Cardinal O'Connell, "Yet to say the word 'peace' nowadays would be almost to bring down upon your head a torrent of abuse."

Communists Coddled

Indeed; matters have come to a pretty pass with all this smearing of righteous men. And it is high time that we ask ourselves, men of the Congress, who are these people who dare to vilify decent Americans calling them Nazis and Bundists and traitors? And while we are on the subject, in this so-called great Christian democracy of ours, how can we account for the coddling of Communists in every responsible branch of our government? Truly there is something rotten here!

Again Congress! Be Warned! These unmolested Commissars are the disciples of that "new order" we may expect as masters if this country goes to war. These want war. I fear that we are already dangerously honeycombed from within; that we have been blind and criminally irresponsible in harboring these arch-enemies of Christianity. Today the mask is off: it is Communism, Communism, Communism everywhere gaining ground. We are in danger of being slowly poisoned, debilitated, and disarmed by this monstrous malady. Now in the name of the "four freedoms" all aid to Red Russia is urged upon us while Britain in desperation has allied herself with a devil. So Britain has been fighting the battle of Christianity? there is a fallacy exploded! If we go into this war now we shall be nothing more or less than a criminal nation, and let no one look to our Catholic people for comfort.

In conscience we are all bound to listen to the voice of Pius XIth who wrote in his renowned encyclical on "Atheistic Communism": "See to it, Venerable Brethren, that the Faithful do not allow themselves to be deceived! Communism is intrinsically wrong, and no one who would save Christian civilization may collaborate with it in any manner whatsoever." So there can be no collaboration for communism as far as the Catholic Church in this country is concerned! We have been pushed far enough in

MAIL MUST INCREASE

The following is a portion of a letter from a Washington representative of the Committee, received today:

> After a check-up of Congressional mail today I ascertained that letters protesting against emasculation of the Neutrality Act are not reaching Congressmen in any appreciable quantities—and it is extremely important that they do.
>
> Congressman Louis Ludlow (D) Indiana, author of the Ludlow War Referendum bill, said to me, - "A million letters and telegrams should be sent to Members of Congress this week, Congress should be buried with letters. The people should shoot them into Washington in such quantities that the people's representatives can hardly walk around in their own offices.
>
> "The people should tell their elected representatives that they are expected to keep their pre-election campaign pledges that they would do everything possible to keep our country out of foreign wars. This proposed revision of the Neutrality Act means war. The people should let their Congressmen know that the people know that this measure is about the same as a declaration of war. If enough people will tell their Congressmen this week that their constituents expect them to vote against this virtual repeal of the Neutrality Act, we can defeat this move to get America into an undeclared shooting war."
>
> And Congressman Joe Shannon (D) of Missouri, delivered a stirring address on the floor of the House, saying, "Now is the time for the people of America to rise up in their power, and push an avalanche of mail on Congress in order to save our democracy from destruction and to prevent wholesale murder of our fine American boys on bloody battle-fields all over the world and on the shores of the seven seas. As for these dukes, duchesses, counts, no-counts and discounts over here trying to get us into Europe's wars, all of these titled gentry are not worth the life of one American boy. The people must speak."

- - - - - - - - -

Chapter representatives have returned from the Washington meeting and have been assured that it is the volume of mail which will decide the issue of arming ships and sending them into the war zones. In order to win this fight the mail must increase. Thus it depends entirely upon the efforts you and your chapter make to get that mail today, tomorrow and the next day If your chapter will fight we can win.

"The following statement was issued today by General Robert E. Wood, Acting National Chairman of the America First Committee:

"The President's refusal to submit for public inspection the presumed Nazi documents, which he described with such emphasis in his Navy Day address, does not contribute to public confidence. The American people recall too well what happened when the President's message describing the Greer incident was subject to comparison with the actual facts as contained in the report of the Navy Department. If the President's description of the documents he referred to is as inaccurate as his statement on the Greer, it is not surprising that he chooses to keep these documents from public scrutiny.

"This aspect of the President's speech is no more disturbing than certain other statements contained in it. For instance, the President has thrust upon the American people a new interpretation of the word "attack". The Kearny, we now learn, was engaged in convoy duty, protecting delivery of goods to a belligerent. As the President had previously told us, 'Convoys mean shooting and shooting means war'. In accordance with this prediction, the Kearny was struck by a torpedo, yet the President now uses this invited incident as a pretext for claiming that even Illinois and California have been attacked.

"The lengths to which the President went to arouse the American people in this latest address is final proof that the Administration intends to take us into war as soon as it possibly can frighten or cajole the public into it. The test comes with the proposed revision of the Neutrality Law which would send our ships into the war zones. Already, America First chapters report that the tide of opposition to this war-like move is rising throughout the country. This is one proposal which can not be disguised as a step away from war -- it is deliberately

CLARENCE SMEDLEY THOMPSON, the author of "The British Invasion of America," has long served with distinction in the field of public relations.

He was director of publicity in the presidential campaigns of Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover. He further performed an outstanding service as founder and chairman of the American Defense Society in 1915. Certainly this entitles him to speak with authority in this hour of our national emergency.

Mr. Thompson states the European situation in unmistakable terms. Our real danger from attack, he says, lies not in troop invasion but in deceptive foreign propaganda, notably at the hands of British statesmen, who are constantly calling upon us to shoulder the burden of their imperialistic wars.

Such propaganda in America serves no purpose, says the author, except to bolster up the British Empire, and to incur for us the enmity of otherwise friendly European powers.

It was against the "insidious wiles" of such foreign influence that George Washington warned the nation.

Mr. Thompson counsels us to hold to the wisdom of the founders of our country, and to avoid foreign entanglements which are forever threatening our peace and security. In no other way, he feels, can we hope to retain our freedom and independence.

THE BRITISH INVASION OF AMERICA

by CLARENCE SMEDLEY THOMPSON

THE UNITED STATES still appears to be adolescent in its foreign relations. Witness the ease with which British statesmen turn the trick upon us in enlisting our efforts in their behalf and getting us to shoulder their imperialistic wars.

It is an old political practice with England—this idea of letting some other country remove her chestnuts from the fire. Her strength in the Balkans heretofore largely has been due to this policy—playing one country against another, while patiently waiting to take the fruits of victory.

Of late years we have been hearing much by way of London about the perfidy of the former Kaiser, Hitler, and the German people. Particularly are we reminded of Germany as the land of broken promises. It is said that the Germans are not to be trusted. Their treaties are scraps of paper. They say one thing and do another. Some of which may be all too true. But, on the other hand, how much are we to rely upon the pledges of England?

History reveals that since the United States broke away in 1776, we have failed to see any great friendship expressed by England in our struggle for democracy. We fought her in 1776. We fought her again in 1812. In 1861 England actively helped the cause of the Southern States, even to the extent of material aid, and likewise aimed bitter propaganda at Abraham Lincoln, whom they declared to be the great dictator.

Again, in 1917, England sought to make her losing fight our fight. She needed our help, and injected fear into our hearts. England needed ships and munitions, not men, said Churchill then. But no sooner had we been persuaded to get into her fight, when England demanded men; and American boys were sent overseas to make the world safe for "Democracy," which was another way of spelling Great Britain. American boys were plowed under the soil, and many were brought back to America as broken wrecks who still fill numerous veterans' hospitals in all parts of the nation; while Americans at home faced a huge war debt.

So was it in 1940. England needed our help to make the world safe for democracy — English democracy. There was no need of men. Only arms and munitions, planes and ships. So said Churchill, the man who betrayed us into sending men as well in 1918.

So it may be again, we fear, in 1941. Indeed, as late as June 1941, we have it from the lips of The President, himself. American mechanics, he says, are wanted for service in England, and Americans can enlist in the British forces in Canada without pledge of allegiance to the King! He is now recruiting not alone for the United States but directly for England. No need for our boys to fight in Europe under our flag. They can serve under the British flag!

In the meantime, what of England's broken pledges? She refused to give America credit for saving her in 1918. She called us Uncle Shylock when we requested payment of her war debt, after gaining nearly 1,000,000 square miles of new territory as a result of victory. She finally repudiated this war debt. She failed to make the world, or even Europe, safe for democracy. Our effort was in vain. Was she any different than her enemy, Germany? If so, we have failed to note the difference.

But England did not despair. In 1939 she saw the gathering war clouds. Having failed herself to prepare, she was at it again, spoon-feeding us her war propaganda—the menace of Hitlerism. No doubt, we now see the reason for the friendly visit of the King and Queen to the White House. Mr. Roosevelt was apparently sold on English propaganda. In turn, he re-sold it to the long-suffering American people, so that when Hitler struck in 1940, England looked to us for material aid. She told us it was our salvation that was at stake—the salvation of the free peoples of the world.

Fortunately, in 1940, there were many who remembered 1918—the soldiers of the American Expeditionary Forces; the mothers of the sons dead in France; the citizens who were paying the debt shouldered on us by the British statesmen; the mothers of future American soldiers; and those not yet blinded by British propaganda. They saw the futility of our being re-drawn into the wars overseas. They recalled the words of Washington and Jefferson warning us to keep out of Europe.

Some courageous Americans warned us of our fate if we re-entered the hostilities of Europe. But the British Intelligence Service stood ready to thwart such talk. They elected their American agents to accuse these men of being German sympathizers, secret agents of Hitler. The smear campaign had begun. If you said aid for America first, you were an enemy within!

Immediately the British war propaganda took effect. There was a rising tide of sentiment, British-fed sentiment, in favor of aid to England. Lord Halifax toured the United States appealing to us to enter the European conflict.

At first the English government stood ready to buy arms and munitions. But suddenly her cash assets in America began to vanish. Then came the suggestion of lending our aid. But Senator Hiram Johnson had foreseen this, and had obtained the passage of legislation refusing even credit to those European nations which had failed to pay their World War debt. However, Mr. Roosevelt circumvented this precautionary measure by the final enactment of his Lend-Lease Bill.

II.

British propagandists are well schooled in psychology. They know the value of appealing to the emotions. People are moved to act by their feelings. Fear therefore becomes the chosen British weapon for influencing American public opinion.

This subtle technique is again being employed today by Great Britain who repudiated her World War debt and yet was rich enough to finance a new war!

It was said in 1914, and again in 1940, that England is our first line of defense. England is reported holding back the enemy. England, too, is in danger; therefore we are in danger. So we are asked to stand by England in order to save our own democracy. Pure poppycock! England is simply asking us to fight her battles, in order to preserve and if possible to enlarge her empire.

Do you question what I say? If so, listen to these revealing facts, as told by Sidney Rogerson in his recently published book, "Propaganda and The Next War."

He says:

"Americans are more susceptible than most people to mass suggestion . . . yet it will be difficult to get the United States to participate in a war . . . it will need a definite threat to America, which will be brought home by propaganda to every citizen. . . . We shall as usual send our leading literary lights to put over our point of view."

Let us give thanks, then, to this distinguished English author, who so clearly exposes the hypocrisy of English propaganda and reveals us as easy prey for this foreign invasion.

Mr. Rogerson continues his optimism concerning the ease with which Americans succumb to the propagandists:

"Fortunately, in America, our propaganda is on firm ground. We can be entirely sincere, as our main plank will be the old democratic one.

We must clearly enunciate our belief in the democratic form of government. Our minor propaganda will aim at attracting the support of important sections, such as the Jews, etc.

"This should not be difficult to pursue, nor to put over to the American public."

The real point at issue is that England fought us in 1776, and she is today still fighting us and the ideals of Washington and Jefferson. Washington opposed our entry into European conflicts. His idea has been at all times opposed by England. England is, therefore, still fighting Washington. With Washington and Jefferson on the one hand, and England on the other, strangely enough we find many so-called loyal Americans siding with this European nation against the wisdom of our first President.

Another fallacy widespread in the United States is that America is safeguarded only by the British fleet. Ridiculous! Nothing could be further from the truth. If this were so, we in this country are in a sorry plight.

Let it never be said that we are too weak to defend ourselves!

Let it never be said that our American Navy is incapable of safeguarding our liberty!

III.

The Father of Our Country, soldier, patriot, statesman, lover of peace, left no doubt as to where he stood on the duty of America when it came to interference in European affairs. In the Farewell Address to his staff at Fraunces Tavern, in New York, George Washington said:

"... Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence ... the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government."

Once more, on this question of European influence, Washington declared:

"It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world. . . . Why quit our own to stand upon foreign ground? Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalship, interest, humor or caprice?"

Washington was not alone in his views on the futility of our meddling in Europe. His views were the views of another President, Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, and founder of the Democratic Party. Jefferson left no doubt as to his position, and the attitude the newly organized country should take on the question of foreign involvement.

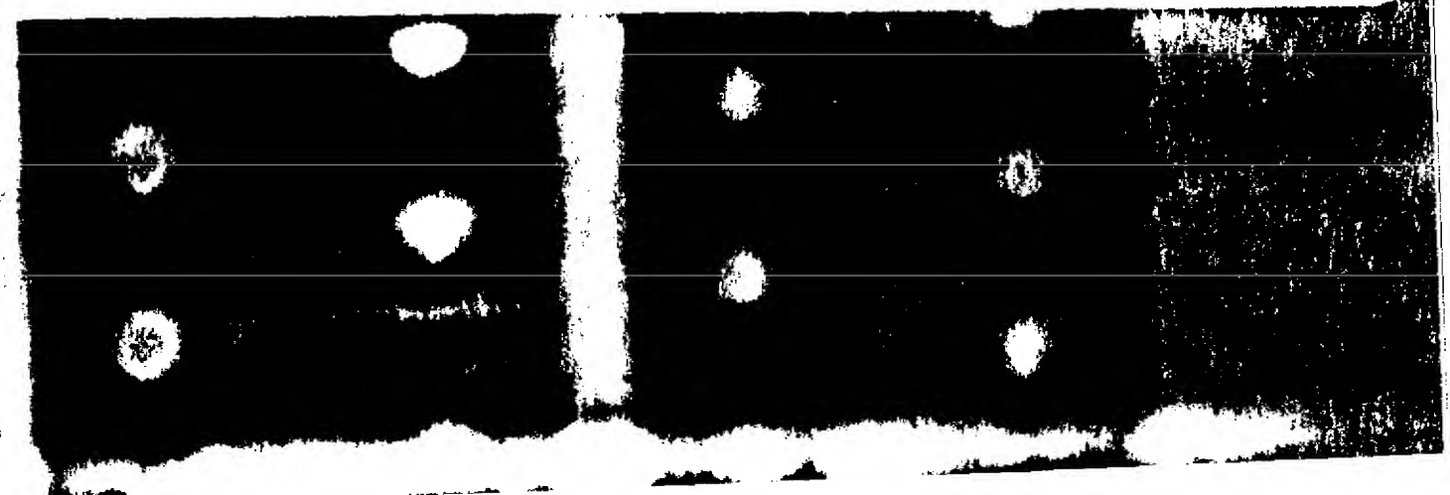
Said Jefferson:

". . . I have ever deemed it fundamental for the United States never to take active part in the quarrels of Europe. Their political interests are entirely distinct from ours. . . . They are nations of eternal war. All their energies are expended in the destruction of the labor, property and lives of their people."

And again:

"The less we have to do with the enmities of Europe, the better."



Still again:

"Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none."

In his thought of peace, Washington went even further in his Farewell Address, pointing out the need of our cultivating goodwill toward all nations:

"...Nothing is more essential than that permanent, inveterate antipathies against particular nations, and passionate attachments for others, should be excluded; and that in place of them, just and amicable feelings towards all should be cultivated."

One part of Washington's warning against taking sides in foreign quarrels seems like a prophecy foretelling the present day turmoil in America over Europe's war. How aptly these words of our first President apply :

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another, cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serves to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots, who may resist the intrigues of the favorite, are liable to become suspected and odious; while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people, to surrender their interests."

Our policy of isolation from the affairs of Europe was further established when we accepted our adherence to the so-called Monroe Doctrine, which proclaimed we would brook no interference by European nations in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere.

Ignoring this wise counsel of Washington and Jefferson, many Americans have been hoodwinked into blindly accepting all British propaganda designed to engage us in European war.

British-inspired Americans are forming war relief societies, women are knitting sweaters for British soldiers, and American parents are providing homes for British children, while Mr. Roosevelt is giving guns, ammunition, tanks, ships, planes, food and money to the British fighting forces, and training the American youth, as Senator Burton K. Wheeler says, to be sent overseas, "every fourth boy to be plowed under."

The whole situation is well summed up in a statement by George H. Cless, Jr., who writes:

"The American people, I believe, do not want to give their country away to anybody; they do not want to engage in any international piracy, no matter what high-sounding phrases the pirates may throw around themselves; they do not want to become economic, political and military slaves to the state; they do not want a repetition of the war lies and hysteria of 1917; they do not want again to try to save democracy where democracy isn't.

"The American people, I believe, do want to stand on their own feet and preserve their own free institutions; they will, if necessary, defend their own America."

IV.

Now let us ask ourselves, just how far have the British diplomats succeeded in their propaganda to enlist America in the war. The answer is given by our Vice-President, Henry A. Wallace. In a radio broadcast, Mr. Wallace declared:

"It is no longer a war for the self-preservation of the British Empire. . . . It is our war."

Support of the British cause in Washington emboldens England's propagandists.

Prime Minister Churchill, unhampered by considerations of good taste, had the impudence to publicly take a fling at Senator Wheeler for advising Americans to stay out of war.

Later, Colonel Josiah C. Wedgwood, member of the British Parliament, in Boston, where American patriots staged the historic Boston Tea Party, likewise had the temerity to assail American character and insult our Congress:

"The trouble with you Americans," he said, "is that you're afraid to assume responsibilities. . . . Why haven't you got a sensible Congress?"

Then Colonel Wedgwood proceeded to echo Vice-President Wallace:

"After all, this is your war and you are in it up to your necks."

More recently, Queen Elizabeth in a special broadcast to the women of America, said:

". . . we fight to save a cause that is yours no less than ours."

How do you like that, my fellow Americans?

Our war, indeed!

By what mental hocus-pocus?

What a display of contempt for the intelligence of the American people!

But if we are not on our guard, it is likely to become our war!

British propaganda is doing its utmost to pull us in.

In the present situation, however, one thing at least is clear. Actual danger to America lies, not overseas, but within our own borders.

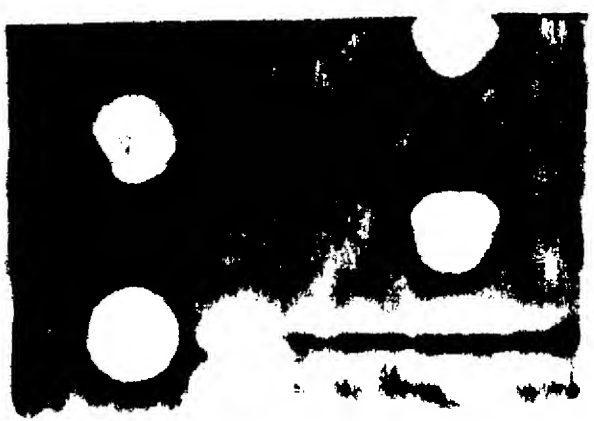
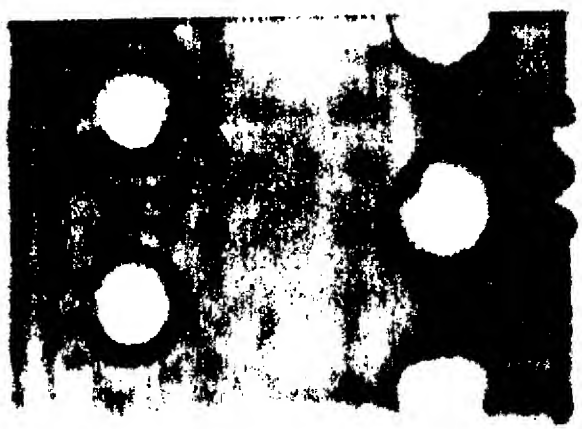
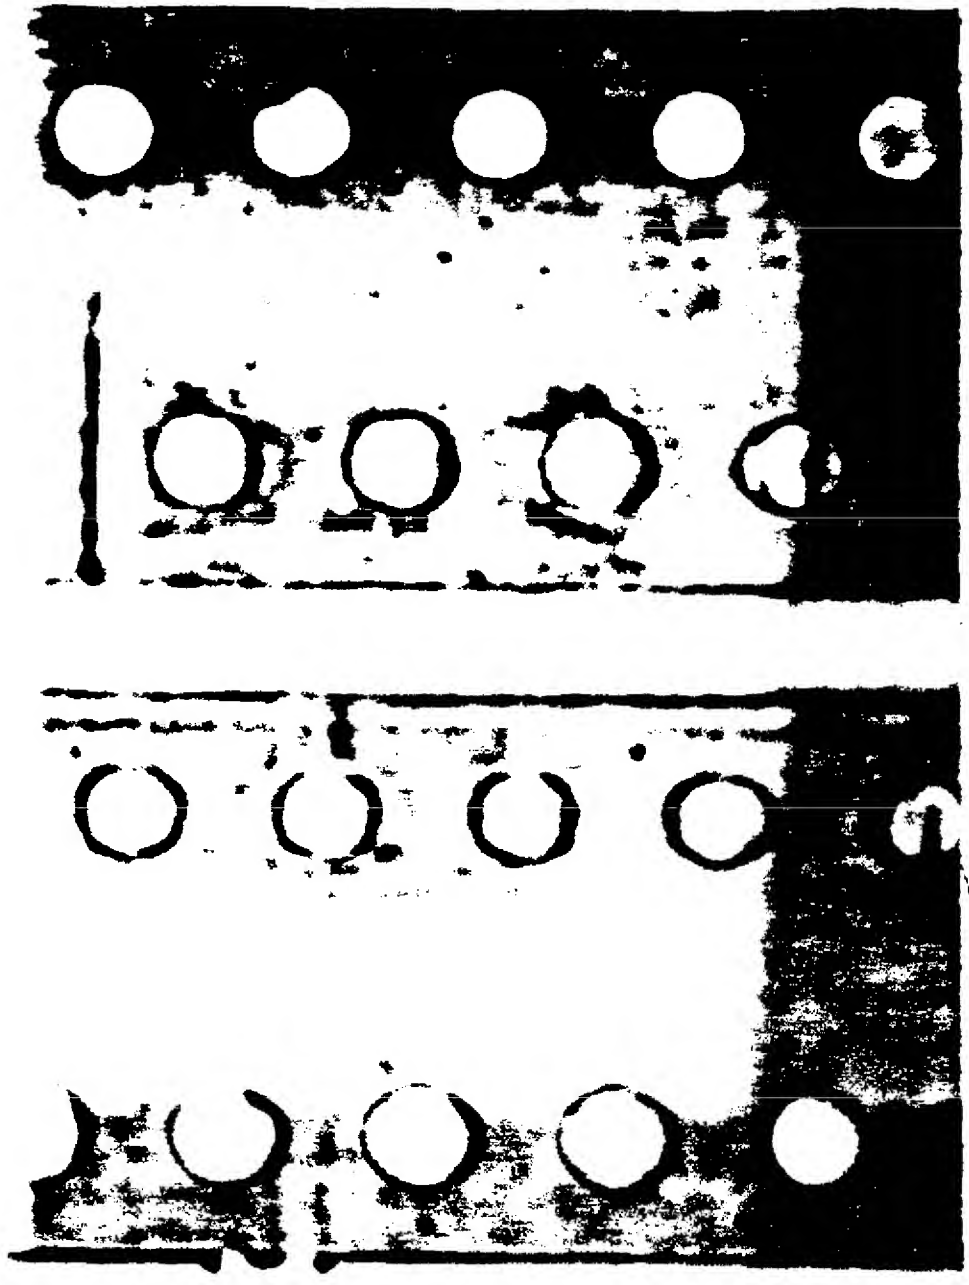
The real danger threatening our independence is the foreign invasion of the United States by British propaganda.

This is the invasion that must be repelled. Until the propagandists are defeated, there can be no peace or security for our land.







MR. CHURCHILL AND THE FREEDOMS.

The Indian council of state has adopted a resolution asking that the viceroy convey to the British government India's "deep discontent" at its present relations with the British empire. Mr. Churchill was known to have signed the Atlantic charter of freedoms with his fingers crossed. He explained in the house of commons that the problems arising out of the evolution of self-governing institutions in regions owing allegiance to the British crown were a separate matter entirely from the problems created by the Nazi subjection of European nations.

The prime minister couldn't have said much more plainly that nothing in Mr. Roosevelt's rhetoric would change the status of people in the British empire. "Everywhere in the world" does not mean everywhere in the world, and no sensible person could regard the phrase as anything but moonshine. People later, however, will convict its authors of insincerity, if not hypocrisy, in dressing a pretentious crusade up as a moral one.

These fictitious altruisms are not harmless. Mr. Wilson's high moralities proved to be evil in their after-peacemaking, and harmful just to the extent that they had been effective as war propaganda. The disillusionments caused by the actual peace terms produced a bitterness and cynicism wherever a sense of betrayal and injustice was felt.

Only over-sentimental or over-simple minded people now can be taken in by professions of universal freedom when it is apparent to the average foresight that no such millennium is in prospect.

Mr. Churchill doesn't propose to be embarrassed later by any misunderstanding now as to the position of his government. He has signed some declarations but he has hastened to qualify his signature and put himself in position later to reject the ideas as impractical, undesirable, and premature if he ever has the good fortune to sit down at a peace conference with the power to dictate the terms.

Mr. Churchill has had some experience with idealogues and, quite prudently, he puts himself on record in advance as writing his own reservations. He cannot wholly escape the reproach that he is lending himself to the promoting of false hopes and expectations of things that are not to be. America cannot impose its ideas outside the dominion of the United States, and it cannot wholly maintain them within its boundaries.

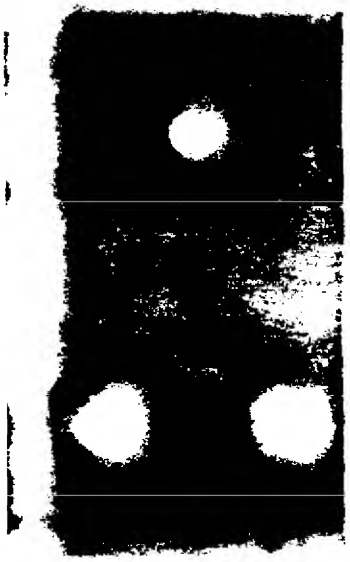
AUTHOR'S NOTE

When first issued in May, 1940, this booklet bore the title "The Truth About England"; a title which was then appropriate since the England therein described was the England of King George III and his Prime Minister Lord North, and the England of King George VI and his Prime Minister Winston Churchill. . . . In brief it was the "old" England which for 160 years had kept the world in a ferment of war and revolution for the purpose of exploitation. To the same effect the title and subject-matter of the first booklet were suited to the America of May, 1940, for at this date the American government was still a government Of, For and By the people, and in no danger of becoming a Dictatorship, as now seems inevitable. But with the fall of France,—the impending fall of England,—and the certainty of an American Dictatorship, the Author found it necessary to re-write several pages of the original text; and here re-names the present issue "The Truth About the "old" England—and (the truth about) The New Europe" . . .

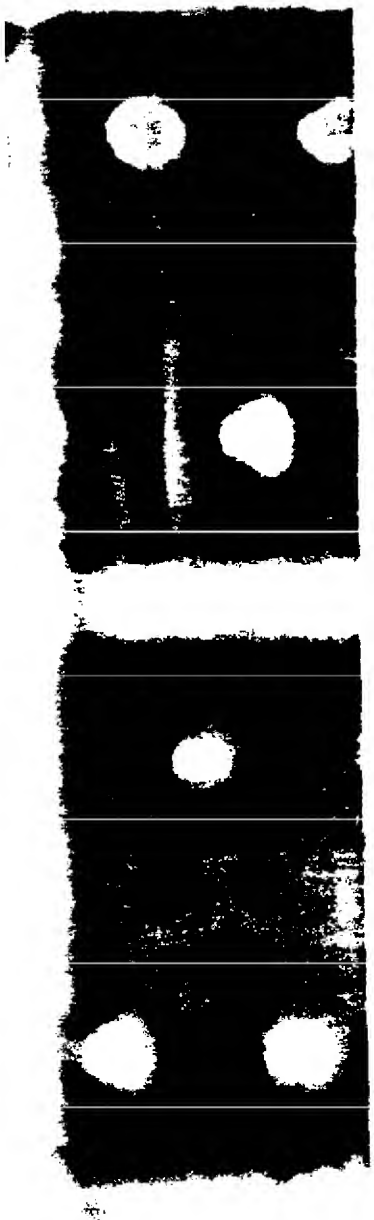


True, the "old" England is not yet completely dead nor the "new" American dictatorship completely established; but since these are consummations soon to be achieved (if not "devoutly to be wished") —and since the "old" England with its Royalty, Nobility and Aristocracy may soon remove to Canada, it is high time that the people of the United States consider seriously (1) What should be their attitude toward the "old" England then established on American soil, and (2) What should be their attitude toward the new nation that will arise in the British Isles once the British Royalty and Nobility have removed to Canada . . . ? To repeat the first question in more explicit language —"Can the people of the United States dare assume the risk of sharing the American Continent with a Royalty and Nobility that have been our economic and political enemies for 160 years?" To restate the second question in equally explicit language, "How shall we deal with the new nation soon to arise in the British Isles, when that new nation has become part of the New Europe,—the New United States of Europe?" That the issue involved in these questions will vitally affect the future of our own United States, will be immediately apparent, but to the average reader it is not yet apparent that the issue here involved was in no way affected by the result of the 1940 Presidential Campaign; since the Candidates of both major parties espoused the same Foreign Policy of "unlimited aid" to the "old" England . . . . Thus the two questions merge into one,—"How can we be friendly with the 'old' England then established in Canada, and with the 'new' England then an integral part of a new Europe dominated by Germany?"

Since both Presidential Candidates in the recent campaign carefully avoided any reference to this question, our people must answer it for themselves: And to this end the Author urges, that in his study of the following pages the reader keep always in mind this under-lying question,—

"Shall we fight FOR the 'old' England, or prepare to trade WITH the New Europe?"

THE TRUTH ABOUT ENGLAND



Foreword

When, in October, 1937, President Roosevelt startled the world with his declaration that the Democratic nations must unite to suppress the Aggressor nations, the declaration was quietly whispered throughout England and France that in "due time" America would again join the Allies in a new war against Germany. . . .

When four months later Secretary Harold Ickes broadcast throughout the British Empire (but not in America) his promise that America would aid England in any future war with Germany, the Ickes promise was also whispered throughout England and France as further proof that in due time, America would join them in another war to make the world safe for Democracy.

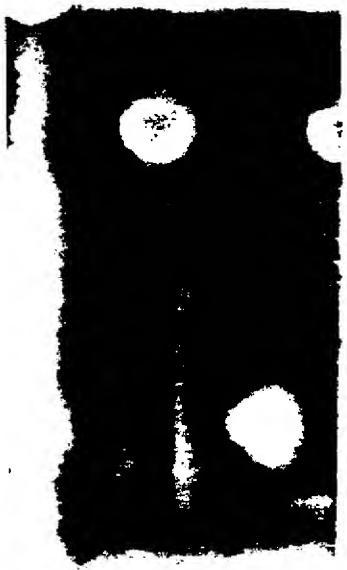
When ten months later, Secretary Cordell Hull convened the Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru, it was quietly whispered in England and France that the purpose of the Lima conference was NOT as indicated by Secretary Hull—a conference to promote commerce between the United States and the nations of Central and South America, but was instead, an attempt to destroy the commerce then existing between Central and South America, and the aggressor states, Germany and Italy. So interpreted, the people of England and France regarded the Lima Conference as further evidence that the United States was attempting to strengthen the Allies and weaken Germany, for the war soon to begin. . . .

When a few months later, in his best remembered speech, President Roosevelt declared defiantly that in the present war, the resources of America should be pledged to the Allies (short of war), his declaration was shouted throughout England and France as proof positive that in due time, American troops would fight for the Allies, as in 1917 . . . . In the light of these events, and in view of the fact that for many months our Press and Radio, Pulpits and Platforms have flooded the country with Pro-English, pro-war propaganda, while our President continued his violations of our Neutrality Act and of International Law with his unauthorized trades and pacts with the "old" England; it is now clear that the GOVERNMENT of the United States will FIGHT for the "old" England, and thus deprive the PEOPLE of the United States of their right to TRADE with the new Europe . . . Though it is now too late to resist this pro-English Policy of our Dictatorial Government, this present Booklet is offered the American reader in the hope, that AFTER the war ends, the PEOPLE of America can set to work to create a Government and a Foreign Policy, under which the people of the United States of America can unite with the people of the United States of Europe, in bringing peace and prosperity to the entire world.

But this united effort for world-union and peace cannot and will not come, until the people of America realize the stupidity of trying to save that "old" England which for 160 years has methodically robbed, plundered and betrayed the nations of the earth. . . . By the time this booklet reaches the reader that old England may be dead and buried but even so, READ THIS BOOKLET CAREFULLY, that no act of ours may contribute to a Resurrection of the "old" England, but that to the contrary, our united efforts may contribute the creation of a NEW English p[illegible] which in turn will contribute to t[illegible] tion of a new United States of E[illegible]

CHAPTER I.

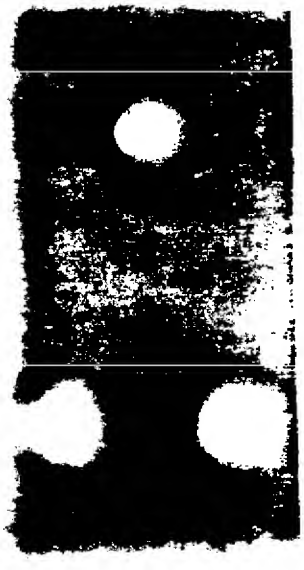
TYRANNY
By Military Power



In 1606 England granted the American Colonies their first Government Charter, and among the concessions granted in this Charter the one of greatest importance was that contained in Section X which empowered the Colonies to establish their own Banking System and issue their own colonial money . . . Because this Banking System was free from any English interference, the Colonies began to enjoy an immediate expansion of commerce, both between themselves and with foreign nations, with the result that the colonies also enjoyed a steady growth in population and prosperity . . . By 1750 with a population of approximately three million, and with their ships sailing the Seven Seas, the Colonies began to be known as the American Utopia: But in England the growth of the colonies was no longer viewed with favor. For with thousands coming to America yearly from all over Europe, the English foresaw that it would not be long until the Colonies would be more European than English, and that with their rapidly growing commerce and industry, the colonies would soon achieve Economic independence. So the merchants and bankers of England said to the Crown, "If the Colonies achieve Economic independence, it will not be long until they demand Political independence"; and at once the Crown, the merchants and bankers began conspiring to prevent Colonial independence either Economic or Political. As the first step in this conspiracy, Parliament enacted a law forbidding the colonies to trade with any nation except England, expecting this law to have three specific results:

First; Since American ships would be restricted to English ports, emigration from other lands would be greatly curtailed, and thus the population of the colonies would remain largely English: This result would benefit the Crown . . . Second; As a result of the law, the colonies would be compelled to sell their farm products to English merchants, and buy their manufactured articles from English merchants, and for such prices as the English merchants might dictate: This result would benefit English merchants and manufacturers . . .

Third: Since the balance of trade would always be in favor of England, and since this trade-balance must be paid in Gold, the colonies having no gold would be compelled to borrow it in England: This result would benefit English Bankers . . . As we can now readily understand, this English Conspiracy was a terrific blow to the colonies; prosperity and immigration came to a dead stop, hardship succeeded happiness and here and there were men who spoke of revolution . . . But here as many times later, England over-reached herself, for the colonies, unable to buy and sell to advantage in England, began solving their problem by building their own factories, and by so doing, created a market for their raw-materials, created the goods formerly purchased in England, and created employment for their workmen. . . So, fearing the success of this new threat to their domination, the English merchants and bankers compelled Parliament to further a second conspiracy by enacting a second law,—The Stamp Act of 1765. . . Under the provisions of this Law, no circular or pamphlet, no Legal Document such as Notes, Mortgages or Bills of Exchange could be circulated in the colonies without first having affixed thereto the required English "Stamp"; the Stamps ranging in cost from one penny to fifty dollars . . . As in the former case, three results were expected from the Stamp law: First: It would place such a burden on business that investment in Colonial Industry would soon end, with the result that Colonial trade would again be dominated by English merchants and manufacturers. Second: Since the "Stamps" must be paid for in English gold, and the gold borrowed in England, colonial finance would again be brought under the domination of English Bankers.



Third: Since these restrictions would prevent economic progress, the resulting hardship and poverty would render the colonies submissive; and thus greatly benefit the English Crown . . .

But in this second conspiracy England had "killed the goose that laid the golden eggs," for the Stamp Act so completely destroyed colonial business that there was an immediate and nation-wide demand for complete Independence and the end of English tyranny. . . Aware of this growing threat of Revolution, Parliament repealed the Stamp Act in 1766; but the repeal came too late, for realizing that in the two laws just described, England was attempting to hold the Colonies in economic slavery; and realizing further that there could be no real progress or expansion under English rule, the Colonies began their preparations for Revolution, and finally in 1776, issued their Declaration of Independence and began the War which later ended in the victory of 1781, with surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. . . . And so ends the first period of British-American history; the 180 year period here entitled "Tyranny by Military Power" . . . Had the England of that day possessed that Spirit of Democracy which has ever been her boast, she would have seen the folly of her tyranny, and would have realized that in forcing the colonies into war she was making the greatest mistake in human history. For this war not only cost England all the colonies had then become; it cost her all the colonies MIGHT have become, under a wise and beneficent rule . . . But though England had lost the War, she was far from through with us yet, for what she had lost at Yorktown, she now planned to recover in New York: What she had lost on the field of battle, she now planned to recover in the field of finance; —and so we come to the second chapter of English tyranny in America; a chapter we shall call,

CHAPTER II.

TYRANNY
By Conspiracy

While this period "officially" began in 1791 with the founding of "The Bank of the United States," it actually began in 1778 while the Continental Army was enduring the terrible winter at Valley Forge. Here for a time it looked as though the War for Independence would be lost for General Washington was unable to procure funds with which to equip his rapidly dwindling army; but at the psychological moment a Philadelphia merchant, Robert Morris, came to Washington's rescue by placing at his disposal more than one million dollars . . . Where or from whom Robert Morris secured this stupendous sum was not disclosed, but it is now widely believed that the money came from the same European Banker who framed the deal by which King George III had procured 15,000 Hessian soldiers from the Landgrave of Hesse two years before. That King George paid twenty million dollars for his Hessian troops, and that much of this sum was then paid to the Banker by way of commission is now well known: And it is highly probable that soon thereafter the Banker sent much of his commission to his Philadelphia agent, one Haym Salomon, who at the psychological moment, gave it to Robert Morris. If this theory is true, part of the money spent by King George for his Hessian Army was later used to equip our Continental Arm —an early instance of an International Banker financing both sides of a War. . . At any rate the theory is supported by the fact that in 1776 Haym Salomon was arrested by the British General in New York, and was later released in 1778 at the demand of the Hessian Officer commanding the Hessian troops. . . And the theory is supported by the further fact, that immediately following his release Haym Salomon came into the official family of Robert Morris, and that soon thereafter Robert Morris received the million dollars he gave to General Washington . . . But even though the origin of this million dollars remains uncertain, the purpose of the gift is now clear, for though this million-dollar gift won the war, it later caused the enslavement of the American people for a period of forty years. . .

AN ENGLISHMAN BECOMES OUR FIRST SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

Soon after making his million-dollar gift Robert Morris suggested to General Washington that he appoint a young man named Alexander Hamilton as aide-de-camp, explaining that as young Hamilton was an expert financier he could render valuable services in handling the finances of the Army. As aide-de-camp, Hamilton, who had been born a British subject and trained in British banking-and-business methods, soon won the confidence of General Washington; so completely in fact, that when eleven years later the General had become President, he appointed Hamilton as our first Secretary of the Treasury . . . Whether Morris was involved in this second Hamilton appointment is not clear, but it is clear as his later record revealed, that Hamilton was better fitted for the Treasury appointment than any other man then available. . . . During his one year in the Treasury, Hamilton placed the national credit on a sound financial basis, following closely the plans and principles long since adopted by the Treasury department of the ENGLISH government . . . But as later events revealed, Hamilton as Secretary of the Treasury did something more than establish the national credit, — he "won" the friendship of important members of Congress, who were later to repay his favors in a most substantial manner. After one year in office, Hamilton took the first step in a well-laid conspiracy, by threatening to leave the Treasury and enter private business. . . . Now, since Hamilton had planned the Treasury Department and was the one man in America who understood its intricacies, his threatened resignation caused a near-panic throughout the nation: Immediately Government finances became involved, and the Government credit impaired; and when leading businessmen and bankers announced THEIR loss of confidence, now that Hamilton no longer controlled the Treasury, a wave of fear swept the country causing a complete stoppage of the Nation's Industry and Commerce. . . Beyond question, this is exactly what Hamilton and his friends had planned and expected,—a complete undermining of the nation's Financial structure, as the first step of a conspiracy TO GAIN CONTROL OF THE NATION'S MONETARY SYSTEM.

About one year after his resignation and with conditions growing from bad to worse, Hamilton petitioned Congress for a Charter for a National Bank; urging that by no other means could national confidence be restored and the nation's financial structure preserved. . . . The petition was at first refused, but later as conditions grew worse (and his friends in Congress had done their work) the petition was granted, and Hamilton was given a Charter for "The Bank of the United States," — the said Charter to expire in twenty years. Concerning the internal organization of the new Bank, the following may prove interesting:—In form and power, it was a duplicate of the Bank of ENGLAND. The Gold which sustained its credit, had been largely advanced by the Bankers of England; Much of its stock was owned by English bankers . . . In brief, this original Bank of the United States was little other than a BRANCH of the Bank of England; as, from the day he took office as Secretary of the Treasury, Hamilton had planned it should be . . . Patterned after the Bank of England, financed with English gold, and with much of its stock owned in England, the Bank began its operations, and HOW did it operate? It operated as surgeons usually operate, by "cutting out" something: And in a few years the Bank had "cut out" the happiness and security of most of the "Americans" in America by this simple expedient:

—It restricted its Loans (1) To those merchants who would make their foreign purchases in England. (2) To those newly arrived Englishmen, who upon their arrival bought a controlling interest in existing companies, or when that was impossible started similar companies in competition. (3) Made loans to those American Tories of New York, Boston and Philadelphia who had opposed our War for Independence and who still hoped that Mother England would again dominate the colonies . . . As a result of this concentration of money and control of credit, in less than twenty years the establishment of the Hamilton Bank, the English and Pro-English completely dominated the nation's industry and commerce, while the Americans who had won the War for Independence had been driven out of business and their properties foreclosed . . . This first instance of English domination of our economic life, followed the plan used consistently by England throughout the world for the past 150 years, and always with the same result,—Great Profits for England; and Great Losses for the nations victimized . . . This Plan, conceived in Conspiracy and born of Tyranny, has been best described in the remarkable monograph "Forty Years After," published in 1931 by Pope Pius XI: Here His Holiness said, "This Power (control of Money and Credit) becomes PARTICULARLY IRRESISTIBLE when exercised by those who because they hold and control Money, are able also to govern Credit AND DETERMINE ITS ALLOTMENT." It was this fact of "allotment" that made the tyranny of the Hamilton Bank "particularly irresistible"; for since the Bank's Loans were "allotted" to the English and pro-English, while the real Americans engaged in Industry and Commerce could not obtain such loans; it was inevitable that the business and the wealth of the real Americans would soon pass to the English and pro-English,—as Hamilton had foreseen and planned. . . In brief what England had lost at Yorktown and Saratoga, she had now regained in New York and Washington: She had lost the battle with bullets, but won the battle with Gold, and again the American people, as in the days of the Colonies, were the victims of English tyranny.

True, the people still retained their boasted freedom of Speech and Assembly, but these were of no avail for Hamilton could say with Rothschild, "Give me the power to control a nation's money, and I care not who makes its laws" . . . But here again as in 1765, England had overreached herself: Too many merchants and manufacturers had been driven out of business; too many farmers had lost their land; and too many workmen were walking the streets while newly-arrived Englishmen possessed their jobs; indeed conditions had grown so desperate that the Congressmen who had granted the Charter for the Hamilton Bank, began to fear for their jobs: And so it happened that in 1811 when the Bank's Charter was about to expire, these Congressmen confided to the Bank's officials that their Charter would not be renewed, lest such renewal cause a revolution . . . At this point, England that had for twenty years dominated the Bank from behind the scenes, came out into the open, and repeated her trick of 1775, by forcing America into another war,—The War of 1812 . . . And so for the second time in our history, the International Bankers led us into war; certain that whichever side Lost, the Bankers would win; and win they did.

THE WAR OF 1812

Though England's war against America in 1812 somewhat contradicts England's claim that all her wars are fought in defense of Democracy and Christianity, the war did verify the old statement that "England never won a war or lost a Peace": For in this war, as in that of 1775, what England lost on the field of battle, she later regained in the field of finance . . . Students of history have long puzzled over the nonchalance with which England accepted the defeat of her army at New Orleans where General Packenham was routed by General Andrew Jackson, but the reason for her nonchalance is both simple and obvious,—England never expected to win the war, for at this time nine-tenths of her army was engaged in France and Spain in a war against Napoleon: What England DID expect and did accomplish in the war of 1812, was to BANKRUPT THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT . . . . As England had foreseen and planned, the war would bankrupt our Government; after which, The Bank of the United States would refuse to circulate its money or renew its loans, thus causing a nation-wide panic and depression . . . Then, after a year or two of fear and suffering, the people would permit Congress to issue another twenty-year Charter to the "Bank of the United States." As we now know, the plan worked out according to schedule, and in 1816 the new Charter was issued and the Hamilton Bank (and England) were off to another twenty years of plunder and oppression: Twenty years in which the American people would again be victimized, American merchants again driven out of business, American farmers deprived of their lands, and American workmen robbed of their jobs; and all for a gang of English stockholders and pro-English bankers, masquerading behind the title, "The Bank of the United States." . . .

When after another twenty years of loss and suffering, poverty and foreclosure, the Bank's second charter was due to expire and the Bank was preparing to petition for a third charter; Andrew Jackson, who had defeated the English in 1812, decided to defeat them again in 1832, and so in this year he ran for the Presidency, promising that if elected, he would destroy the Bank of the United States forever . . . Elected by a great majority Jackson kept his promise and the Bank was destroyed, —the Bank which Jackson knew had never been anything less or other, than a Branch of the Bank of England: But Jackson could not destroy the English Bankers who had sponsored the Hamilton Bank, and in 1872 these Bankers again appeared in America, with a different Plan, but with the same objective,—to re-establish their Tyranny by Conspiracy.

ENGLAND "CARRIES ON"

Conspiracy No. 3

In 1872, an agent of the Bank of England, one Ernest Seyd, came to America bringing with him $500,000.00 in CASH, —the half-million dollars he later used to "persuade" Congress to DE-monetize Silver . . . From the days of Andrew Jackson, Silver had been our chief medium of exchange, and because it was "coined" by the Government and not issued by bankers, it had been mainly responsible for the great increase in national wealth which we experienced between 1832 and 1872. During this forty years Silver had been "lawful money," which is to say it was good for ALL debts, both Public and private. But after 1872 when a bribed Congress DE-monetized Silver, it was no longer "lawful money" and could no longer be used for the discharge of Public debts (Government Bonds), for thereafter Government Bonds must be redeemed in Gold, gold-certificates or National Bank notes. To the average citizen this demonetizing of Silver made little difference, for the average citizen had no Government Bonds to be redeemed; but it made a great difference (and a great profit) to the bankers of England who held nearly a billion dollars in those Government Bonds which had been issued by Lincoln to finance the Civil War. After the Civil War and while our commerce and industry were still disorganized, these Bonds fell below par (perhaps were "driven" below par) and when they struck bottom, they were bought up by the English bankers for the reason that will now appear: On the face of these Bonds were printed the words "Redeemable in Lawful Money of the United States"; words which would later cause the third greatest Panic in our history, and set in motion a series of financial reverses from which we have not recovered to this day. In brief, when the bonds were issued they were redeemable in Silver which was then "lawful money"; but after 1872 the bonds must be redeemed in Gold, for Silver was no longer "lawful money" . . . Thus to put over their conspiracy the English bankers sent Ernest Seyd to America to bribe Congress to De-monetize Silver, so that later when their Civil War bonds were presented for redemption, the Government must redeem them in Gold . . . . Now there were two reasons for this conspiracy;—first, the English wanted our gold for its intrinsic value in world trade; second, and more important still, they knew that the withdrawal of this gold from America, would produce a terrible Panic, for in withdrawing our gold, they would withdraw the foundation of our monetary system . . . They further knew that as a result of this Panic (1873) the value of our corporate stocks and bonds would depreciate at least fifty per cent, and that when such depredation occurred, they could purchase our best stocks and bonds in Industry, Banks and Railroads,—and for half their actual value . . .

Their conspiracy worked out exactly as planned: Silver WAS demonetized;—the Panic DID depress our stocks and bonds to half their former value,—and then, the English stepped in to buy our banks, railroads and factories at their own price, and buy them with the profits they had made on our gold and our bonds. As a result of this third conspiracy and Panic, we suffered our usual terrific losses while England reaped her usual tremendous profits; which is to say, that while we were losing homes and farms, Banks and Railroads, our loss was England's gain. But of more importance to England than these immediate profits was the dominant position she then achieved as a result of the Panic;—a dominance she later used to demonetize Silver a second time in 1893, resulting in another disastrous Panic, and with the usual losses for America and the usual profits for England. Since both the Panics of 1873 and 1893 resulted from the demonetization of Silver we may regard them as but parts of the same conspiracy; which though conceived in England was born in America, and though born in America and suffered by America, began a period of forty-five years of English domination of America's industrial and financial system. Surrendering to English conspiracies having now become an American custom we turn to the Great conspiracy of 1917; the one that led us into war.

CHAPTER III

"The Great Conspiracy"

During the World War we extended England a loan of approximately Seven Billion Dollars;—a loan that was to bring us the greatest panic and depression in our history;—a loan that was to prove conclusively that American bankers and statesmen are boy-scouts when compared with the bankers and statesmen of England;—a loan that was to prove conclusively that when we "cooperate" with England,—we are flirting with economic suicide. . . . And here in brief, is the record and result of that loan:—

In 1923 an Agent of the Bank of England came to America, and said to President Harding somewhat as follows,—"Mr. Harding, in the political campaign of 1920 you and your party promised that if elected you would collect the war-debt owed to America by England: You are aware as we are, that for months past there has been an increasing demand that you keep your promise and collect this debt. . . . . You are also aware that behind this demand is a growing threat that if you fail to collect the debt, you and your party will be defeated at the next election . . . So we are here from England to discuss a Plan by which the debt can be paid and you and your party retained in office. . . . You will realize, Mr. Harding, that we cannot pay you in gold, for most of our gold was sent to America during the war, as payment for munitions and war-supplies, — gold which still circulates among your people . . . . You will further realize that we cannot pay you in "goods," for the reason that our goods would compete with American products of factory and farm, a policy forbidden by your tariff laws and abhorrent to the Republican Party .... However we have a Plan, which if it meets with your approval, will not only pay our debt, but will guarantee a period of great prosperity for all the American people.

"And here, Mr. Harding, is our Plan: If you will permit us to sell to your people, Seven Billion Dollars worth of English and Foreign stocks and bonds, we will agree to spend every dollar received from such sale, right here in America; and you will quickly realize, Mr. Harding, that putting seven billion dollars into the veins of American Industry and Commerce will at once generate an unequalled era of prosperity .... Most of the billions so received, we will spend for American products both of factory and farm, and thus carry a continuing wave of prosperity to those who need it most; the workmen and farmers ... We will spend the remainder so received for factory equipment and machinery, which will be installed in England and throughout the Empire. During the war, most of our factories were dismantled and became munition plants, leaving us unable to produce for foreign markets as had been our custom; but with this new machinery purchased from America, we can refurnish our factories, resume production, and thus earn the money with which to pay our war-debt, and redeem the stocks and bonds we now propose to sell in America."

MR. HARDING "AGREES"

The Plan appealed to Mr. Harding, and was later approved by President Coolidge and Mr. Mellon, and so during 1923 and 1924, English bankers sold in America,—(and mostly to people of moderate means) Seven Billion Dollars worth of English and Foreign stocks and bonds. It is a matter of record, that most of these stocks are now worthless, and most of these bonds are now in default; which is to say, that we have not only lost the original war-debt of seven billion dollars, but lost also, the seven billion dollars paid for their worthless stocks and bonds. Now, fourteen billion dollars is a terrific sum of money and to lose it is a terrific loss, even to a nation as rich as ours. But this fourteen billions is the smallest loss we suffered as a result of our loan to England,—the greater loss, approximately 200 billion dollars, — came about as follows;—and we begin with the question, "Did England keep her promise to President Harding, to spend here in America, the seven billion dollars received for her worthless stocks and bonds?" Yes, she did keep her promise,—and HOW: And this is HOW she did it: She spent 2 billion dollars (of our money) buying our GOLD; and for a reason that will later appear, she left this gold on deposit here in America. She then spent 4 billion dollars (of our money) buying our gilt-edged stocks and bonds in our biggest corporations. Most of these stocks and bonds she took to England and Europe, to use as security for further loans there. The remaining billion dollars, (Of our money) she spent in buying our latest improved MASS-PRODUCTION, BELT-LINE MACHINERY,—and here the story gets hot. In taking this machinery to England and her colonies, she took also American engineers and factory-foremen, to install the machinery and teach the English workmen how to use it. This task required about four years, but finally when the task was completed early in 1928, the British Empire, for the first time in history, was on a MASS-PRODUCTION basis; able to produce as rapidly as any nation in the world, AND FAR MORE CHEAPLY .... And now see what happened:—

In December, 1928, American salesmen who toured the world for our big corporations, began slipping back home and whispering to their employers, "We can no longer sell American goods in Foreign markets" .. When the Employers asked "Why Not?": the salesmen answered,—"Because England is selling the SAME goods and for 40% less than we can sell them: And no customer is going to pay us a dollar for an article, when he can buy the same article from England for 60 cents." And then the truth came out: Throughout the British Empire, England was making American goods, on American machines, under American factory foremen; and selling these goods throughout the world for 40% less than we could sell, because her Labor and Shipping costs were 40% less than ours; and because her MASS - PRODUCTION MACHINERY HAD COST HER NOTHING, having purchased the machinery with our money; money we had paid for her worthless stocks and bonds four years before . . . . In brief, with this trick,—and with our money and machinery, England had stolen our Foreign Markets,—To Have and Hold forever. . . . And we pause to say something every voter should remember,—"When a Candidate for Congress promises if elected, he will recover our Foreign Trade"; he is either a fool or a liar: Our Foreign Trade is gone forever, because we cannot and will not lower our standards of Living and Wages, to meet the competition of England's cheap labor. . . True, certain men in Washington have attempted to meet this competition by "Reciprocal Trade Treaties," and by lending Foreign nations the money with which to buy our goods: But these schemes are worse than absurd, for as recent history has shown, when we make these loans for the purchase of our goods; we lose both the loans and the goods; and incidentally; we lose the respect of the nations that get our loans and goods . . . .

Returning now to Dec. 1928, we take up the second phase of the conspiracy which began with our War-loan to England . . . When our big businessmen realized that our foreign trade was gone and gone forever, they determined to protect themselves by selling their stocks in those corporations which catered to the foreign trade: And to do so quietly so as not to disturb the Stock-Market. . . . So, during January and part of February, 1929, our big businessmen sold their stocks as rapidly and quietly as possible; but when the Market began to sag, the stock-market gamblers got suspicious, and when they discovered the reason why our big businessmen were selling and that our foreign trade was gone forever, they too began selling their stocks, but NOT quietly: They rushed into the Stock-market and sold their holdings for the best price obtainable; and so precipitated the stock-market crash of February, 1929. This crash was the fourth largest in our history and with it began the eleven-year depression we still enjoy . . .

A few weeks later Herbert Hoover entered the White House, and for the next eight months he used his every energy and ingenuity to avert a calamity, and did all any man could have done, to restore the nation to normalcy . . . Calling to Washington many of the nation's Industrial Leaders, Mr. Hoover revealed business conditions as dangerous, but assured these Leaders that if they would exhibit no alarm,—would keep their factories running and their employment-rolls up to standard,—business would soon improve and the country soon recover from the effects of the February Crash. This was the act of a statesman,—the act of a true American who hoped he was talking to true Americans: But as later events revealed, his plan was a failure, for most of the Industrial Leaders went home with the same resolve,—"To retrench and save themselves." . . . Thus from March to October, 1929, factory production was reduced, more and more men were discharged, more and more orders cancelled, and more and more millions of dollars went into safety-deposit boxes . . . Finally when these methods of retrenchment were exhausted and our big men had become more and more frightened, they rushed into the stock-market on Oct. 23rd, 1929, and dumped the remainder of their stocks. . . . Here was the moment for which English bankers had been waiting, since 1923; the moment they had planned six years before, the moment they knew would come,—THE MOMENT THEY COULD BREAK THE AMERICAN STOCK-MARKET and start American money fleeing to England . . . So on the following day, Oct. 24th, THEY rushed into the stock-market and dumped 4 billions in stocks and bonds, breaking the market for the greatest crash in our history . . . When and where did they get the 4 billions in American stocks and bonds, with which to break our market ? ? ? ? They bought them in 1923 and 1924,—bought them with our money,—money we had paid for their worthless stocks and bonds . . . But didn't they take a terrific loss when they sold these stocks on a falling market? NO, because the stocks hadn't cost them anything, they had bought them with OUR money.

Thus in a single year the English Bankers had completed the first two phases of the conspiracy they had begun in 1923; they had (1) Stolen our Foreign Trade, (2) Broken our Stock-Market,—and accomplished the entire feat WITH OUR MONEY . . .

And now a word as to the Third and final phase of this long-range conspiracy. Of the 7 billion dollars given our English cousins in 1923 and 24, we have accounted for 5 billions,—the one billion spent for our Mass-production machinery (and used to steal our foreign trade); and the 4 billions spent for our stocks and bonds (and used to break our stock-market): What then became of the other 2 billions?,—the 2 billions in gold, which they bought with our money? This gold has remained on deposit in American banks, AWAITING ANOTHER PSYCHOLOGICAL MOMENT.

Following the crash of October, 1929, the depression deepened and widened through 1930, 31, and 32, causing an increasing fear that we might yet be engulfed in complete bankruptcy . . . As if to further the depression and assure national bankruptcy, our English cousins began withdrawing their gold and sending it to England, the withdrawals continuing through 1931, and 32 . . . The story of these withdrawals and the disastrous effects which followed, has been graphically told in an authoritative report published in 1934. This report has been ordered by President Roosevelt, and was compiled by Mr. George Peek.

A Summary of this report may be stated as follows: Since in 1931, 32 and 33, we were still on a Gold Standard, each gold-withdrawal made by England meant the withdrawal of part of the foundation which supported our economic and financial structure . . . Which is to say, that when sufficient gold had been withdrawn, our economic-financial structure having no foundation MUST crash; and to precipitate this crash the English had continued their gold-withdrawals from Dec. 1930 to February, 1933, when the last of their gold was shipped to England . . . To avert the coming crash our American bankers of their own volition closed all the banks in the nation, — the incident being remembered as the Bank Holiday of March 3rd, to 13th, 1933 . . . Though the Bank Holiday did prevent national bankruptcy, it could NOT prevent another Stock-market crash which came near the end of March; a crash that caused greater financial losses than the more spectacular crash of Oct. '29. With this crash of March, 1933, England completed the long-range conspiracy begun ten years before in 1923, and here is a quick summary of this 10-year conspiracy:—England had stolen our foreign trade by buying our machinery with our money: She had caused us the greatest stock-market crash in our history by dumping the stocks and bonds she had bought with our money: She had given us our second-greatest stock-market crash by withdrawing the gold she had purchased with our money: She had given us an eleven-year depression which caused us a financial loss of 200 billions and set in motion a chain of sorrow and suffering, sickness and suicide costly beyond computation. . . Beyond question it was the most successful conspiracy in all history: Successful for England, but tragic, even pitiful for America . . . But as all "good things" come to an end, so in March, 1933, this conspiracy-good-thing came to an end; and from March, '33, to December, '36, England left us in peace because we had nothing left to steal . . . . The peace was enjoyable even though for millions of Americans it was the peace of the Tomb...

"PROFIT AND LOSS"

Of course England came back again in December, 1936, but before taking up that story let us sum up the "profit and loss" resulting from our effort to "cooperate": As usual it will not take us long, for England got all the profits, while we took all the losses . . . . . These losses included the 7 billions loaned England during the war, —the 7 billions we paid her for worthless stocks,—the 27 billions we spent during the war,—the 25 billions of federal debt accumulated after the war,—the 50 billions now owing by city, county and state governments,—and the 200 billions lost during the eleven years of depression,—a grand total and gross loss of 316 billion dollars paid for the privilege of "cooperating" with England "to make the world safe for democracy."

As to the profits made by England, let Mr. Lloyd George testify:—Recently while discussing the cost incurred by England during the world war, a cost of approximately 20 billion dollars, Mr. Lloyd George declared,—"the war had cost England NOTHING"; that to the contrary England had made a profit out of the war. . . . He then enumerated the items included in that profit, namely—the German Colonies, of great value,—most of the German navy, —most of the German Merchant Marine, —most of the gold and machinery remaining to Germany after the war,—most of the military equipment and Live-Stock remaining in Germany after the war,—and last but not least, an item of profit with which few Americans are familiar, — the fact that many of the neutral nations of Europe were heavily in debt to England, after the war. We are aware that the German Colonies were worth far more than the war had cost England;—aware that Germany's foreign markets over a period of twenty years might also equal the cost of the war;—aware that Germany's Gold, machinery, military equipment, Live-stock and Merchant Marine were worth billions to England. . . . These were legitimate Spoils of war, which England as victor was entitled to, even though they included Live-stock, (which meant that for twelve years thereafter German babies would have little milk, and the rest of the nation, little meat or wool.) But where we of America are most concerned, is in that final item mentioned by Lloyd George, the fact that "neutral nations were indebted to England for money borrowed during the war." "Think fast now and remember what you think."

If England was able to lend billions in Europe, including 2 billions loaned to France and Italy, why was it necessary for her to borrow American money? The 7 billions we loaned her during the war? The answer to this question illuminates one of the most startling facts in our English-American history,—and if this fact and answer fails to stir your anger, you are a poor American.

When the World War began, the rich people of England owned approximately 7 billion dollars of our American wealth, represented by Gold, Bank-deposits and securities. Had England used this 7 billions in cash and securities for the purchase of war-supplies, she would not have had to borrow in America. Why then did she borrow our 7 billion dollars? She did so for three reasons: First, because she knew her loan would never be repaid: Second, she needed money to lend to France and Italy: Third, she needed money to lend to the Neutral nations of Europe, both for the purpose of KEEPING them neutral, and to assure herself of their markets after the war. Now, if you study the financial page, and have watched the movements of European capital for the past twenty years, you are aware that during this period when England was persistently refusing to pay her debt to America, she was assiduously collecting the debts owed her by France, Italy and the said neutral nations mentioned by Lloyd George. Think of it—while our own people were hungry and many starving because of the billions we had loaned to England,—England for over twenty years has been collecting from France, Italy and the neutral nations, billions in principal and profit, on the money she loaned them during the war,—On the money she borrowed from us, but refused to repay. No wonder England recovered from war faster than we did: No wonder Lloyd George now boasts, "England made a profit out of the War": While for eleven years, our people have gone hungry and starved, England has made a profit and as usual, with our money.

And thus we end the story of 190 years of English treachery, and English hatred for America. . . . THINK OF IT,—from 1750 to 1940 this England that boasts of Democracy and Christianity, has carried on an unending conspiracy to destroy her one enemy, her one possible competitor, the United States of America: And this is the England which in 1940 an American President declared we must aid again,—to the full extent of our power "short of war" ? ?

CHAPTER IV.

HOW ENGLAND PREPARED AMERICA FOR WAR

Though the word "propaganda" did not become current in America until during the World War, the principle of propaganda is as old as history.

Never yet has a war been fought without being precipitated and maintained by the propaganda "WE are fighting for God and Country." In the past century England has changed the slogan to read "we fight for democracy and Christianity," and with certain variations it was this slogan which she used to lure America into war in 1917. Space will not permit a complete expose of all this propaganda, but since much the same stories are being told today, the same arguments presented, and the same objective sought as in the World War, it is well that we here consider the highlights of this propaganda that we may understand England's present objective. But before discussing this propaganda serially, there are two things we should remember,—(1) That England's propaganda-agency has been set up and was operating long before the war began: (2) That immediately following her declaration of war in August, 1914, England cut the telegraph-cables connecting Germany and the United States. Obviously, these cables were cut to prevent our getting news and reports from Germany, and to restrict our information as to the war, to those reports sent us from England. Of course England knew her reports and propaganda would eventually be contradicted by reports coming from Germany, but with German-American cables severed, our FIRST information would be of English origin, and England knew that in propaganda as in war, the nation that gets there first has the advantage; so she cut the cables without asking our permission and in direct violation of International Law. With these preparations made and provided, the propaganda-flood began, and began with the well-remembered

ATROCITY STORIES

These stories headlined in the press, shouted from pulpits and platforms, taught in our schools and whispered everywhere from factory to farm, reiterated for months on end the following propaganda: —(1) That hundreds of French and Belgian girls had been assaulted by German soldiers. (2) That the bodies of dead soldiers, French and Belgian, were being shipped back to Germany to be reduced to soap. (3) That hundreds of Belgian babies had been beheaded or had their hands severed by the sword of some brutal German.

Considering these stories in retrospect, it seems unbelievable that our people could have believed them, but millions did; and beyond question they had their effect in preparing the American mind to accept and believe the propaganda which followed later. But the fact that such stories were believed is not now so great a cause for shame, as the fact that when these stories were disproved and denied by nationally known war-correspondents, — our press, our pulpits and platforms made no effort to publish the expose, but to the contrary unanimously suppressed it. Since these stories were concocted purely for American consumption and were not circulated in Europe, our war-correspondents were unaware of their publication until they read them weeks later in American newspapers. After reading them for weeks and suspecting they were lies and propaganda, several of our best known correspondents decided to make an investigation. When this investigation was completed they sent the now famous telegram to the Associated Press, which read as follows: — "In spirit of fairness we unite in declaring German atrocity stories groundless, as far as we are able to observe; after spending TWO weeks accompanying German army for upward a hundred miles we report not one single incident of unprovoked reprisal. . . . No mistreatment of prisoners or non-combatants . . . numerous rumors proved groundless, . . . discipline German troops excellent . . . no drunkenness. To truth of these statements we pledge our word."

No five reporters or correspondents in American Journalism have ever achieved or retained a higher place in the esteem of the American public than these five men; four of whom are still alive to confirm their telegram. Yet this, the most sensational telegram received from Europe during the war, and sent by the five best known correspondents at the front, was NOT publicized; and why not? Because the men who dominated all channels of information didn't want our people to know the Truth,—because the men and papers subsidized by English money could not afford to let our people know the Truth. (And these were the same men who ever boast of Freedom of Speech and Press in this land of Democracy and Christianity.) And the reason is obvious; — had our people known that these atrocity stories had all been concocted in London, our people would have been less likely to swallow the other and later propaganda that led to war; and so the Truth was suppressed.

SO THE INTERESTS OF ENGLAND AND AMERICA ARE IDENTICAL?

Quick to realize the success of their Atrocity Stories, our English cousins now issued their second wave of propaganda which later became known as the "Identity of Interest Doctrine." Reduced to fewest words, this Doctrine was as follows:— "England and America are ONE people; sharing the same Language, Blood, Customs, Laws and Religion . . ." and therefore, if England lost the war "American blood, customs, laws and religion" would suffer proportionately. . . . This was a deliberate appeal to "racialism" and "religious fanaticism," and when cleverly expounded by such famous American clergymen as Henry Van Dyke, Newell Dwight Hillis and S. Parks Cadman, it had a tremendous effect. . . . Later, in a slightly different form the same doctrine was issued to American Businessmen who were told that since England had billions invested in America, and Americans had billions invested in British corporations, England's loss of the war would wreck our entire financial system causing a nation-wide wave of business and bank failures, the closing of thousands of stores and factories, and a nation-wide wave of unemployment. . . . That finally as a result of these conditions, our banks would be compelled to call in their Loans and Mortgages, causing the loss of millions of homes and farms. . . . Thus the "Identity of Interest Doctrine" was extended to include every citizen in America, and the total effect was just as England had planned, for bankers and businessmen, factory-workers and office-workers, home-owners and farm-owners, teachers and preachers, lawyers, doctors and taxpayers saw themselves engulfed by economic disaster, IF ENGLAND LOST THE WAR. As a result America became pro-English and pro-War, as we all joined the procession to "make the world safe for Democracy." . . .

But the story cannot end here, for we must follow this "Identity of Interest" doctrine down through the years that FOLLOWED the war. . . . When in the Panic of 1921, four-fifths of the Farmers of the nation went bankrupt, carrying with them into bankruptcy 5,000 Banks and 500,000 business concerns located in farm areas, there grew up an immediate nation-wide demand that England pay us the seven billion dollars she had borrowed during the war. Congressmen and Senators from agricultural states explained,—that much of this money had come from farm areas,—that millions of the boys who had fought for England had come from the farm,—that the food which had sustained England during the war had also come from American farms and that therefore, England which owed so much to the American farmer, should discharge her Moral obligation, by meeting her Financial obligation and pay her war debt. It was further urged in Congress, that since all wealth comes from and depends on the land, the payment of England's war-debt would do more than relieve distress in farm areas; it would restore the purchasing power of the farmers, and thus contriute to factory-production, store-sales, and nation-wide re-employment.

Clearly, the argument thus presented was logical both in Morality and Finance, and was widely acclaimed throughout America; but what happened when we presented the argument to MOTHER England?

Hadn't we heard? The War was OVER: England had won the war: And England had been fighting to preserve American Democracy: Pay her war-debt? Ridiculous. . . . In brief, "The Identity of Interest Doctrine" was no longer necessary; England had come out of the war with all the great profits hereinbefore enumerated by Lloyd George and had no further need of her American step-child: So for the next fifteen years from 1921 to 1936, England called us a nation of "Shylocks" whenever we suggested that due to our "Identity of Interest" England should pay her war-debt. . . .

And so we come to the third type of propaganda used to mis-lead us into the World War.—

ENGLAND ALWAYS DEFENDS DEMOCRACY AND CHRISTIANITY

This plea, immediately acclaimed and circulated by Press and Pulpit, platform and School had been prepared for, and was directed to, that section of the American people, who will believe ANYTHING, that contains the words "Democracy" and "Christianity." And when it found immediate acceptance in the "wide-open-spaces" and vacant minds, it was adopted by the Politicians, who at once became pro-English and pro-war. . . . And since today we are hearing again and will continue to hear, this same claim and propaganda—and may be again mis-led—it is well that we pause right here, and ask this pertinent question: Has England EVER defended Democracy and Christianity?

"LET THE RECORD SPEAK"

Did England defend democracy or Christianity in the America of colonial days or after? Was she propagating democracy and Christianity when with whiskey and glass beads she bribed Indian braves to slaughter farmers and settlers in the Mohawk Valley and from New England to Tennessee? Was she promoting democracy and Christianity when she attacked the Colonies in 1776 and our new Republic in 1812? Was she defending democracy and Christianity when in 1864 her warships stood in the harbours at New York and San Francisco and would have shelled both cities, but for the arrival of the Russian Navy which carried orders from the Czar, to attack the English if they dared attack America? From the story related in preceding pages, of her numerous plots and conspiracies to wreck our economic and social system, would you conclude that her treatment of America had been for the purpose of promoting democracy or Christianity? No, these acts were ENGLISH, but they were NOT Christian nor Democratic. And so we leave America for a journey around the world, to note in other lands how democracy and Christianity have been promoted by MOTHER England. And it is fitting that we stop first in INDIA, where today 350 millions of people, pray as we prayed in 1776, for Independence and the RIGHT TO LIVE.

"Democracy Comes to India"

Between 1725 and 1775, English armies under Lord Robert Clive and Warren Hastings, overran and conquered India, and when this period of fifty years of unparalleled slaughter came to an end, England with her fourteen million population, had completely enslaved a people of 200 millions. Later, to perfect her dominance and reduce the cost of maintaining an English army in India, she bribed the Rajahs and Holy Men to betray their people, and to aid in England's program of enslavement and exploitation. These Rajahs and Holy Men and their sons were taken to England, to be wined and dined, and TRAINED in the English method of colonial development. When their training was complete, they returned to "carry on" in India, and to them as much as to the English army may be attributed the success of the English method in India. For the past 170 years, more than half of the income enjoyed and the wealth accumulated by England, has come from the labor of the sorrowing slaves of India. Moreover, it was the wealth drawn from India that made it possible for England to increase her domination in other lands. But while the British Empire grew in scope and power and the British aristocracy grew in wealth and insolence, the people of India continued in poverty and slavery, with the highest death-rate from starvation of any people in the world, save China. And to this day and hour, the pious and pitiful people of this pitiful land, are shot down in droves by the gunmen from Democratic and Christian England. No wonder that Winston Churchill said the other day, "The British Empire was built by the sword, and will be maintained by the sword." Yet, as we shall now discover, England had other weapons than the sword with which she conquered India, and the Gold with which she conquered America. Weapons less brutal, but infinitely more deadly. When the Sword kills, the victim can no longer labor to produce wealth for England, but there is a way to kill, and still let the victim live, to labor and produce. This was the weapon which brought England unlimited wealth, and at little cost in men or money: And so we go to China.

"Democracy Comes to China"

Here, we need not tarry long for the story of England's subjugation and exploitation of China, may be told in a single word, Opium.

Soon after establishing trading-posts at Shanghai and Hong Kong, English traders discovered the Chinese "Poppy"; the flower from which comes most of the world's supply of Opium. A little later, other English traders made a second discovery; that by teaching the Chinese to smoke Opium, Chinese resistance to military invasion would disappear. As the Opium-habit spread up the winding rivers of China, English trade and traders followed in pursuit: More Opium sold, meant more markets opened; more markets opened, meant more Opium would be sold. And so the endless chain continued until one-third of China was under English control; the chain of Opium and markets which brought great wealth to England, and infinite tragedy to China. Still later, about 1870, other English traders began opening factories and mines in China, and soon they made a Third discovery; that Chinese labor would work long hours and for a small wage if part of that wage was paid in Opium; and much of it was. And so as a result of these three discoveries,—that Opium would conquer faster and cheaper than armies; that Opium would open markets, and that Opium would pay wages,—England in fifty years had possessed herself of a veritable Treasure House, from which she still draws treasures to this hour.

In recent years it has been the custom of English poets to speak of China as "Cathay," the land of magic and romance; and so it HAS been, for England. And we will let God and the recording angel speak for China, after a hundred years of saturation by English Opium. . . . And here ends this "short and simple annal of the poor"; one hundred years of English democracy and Christianity, in China. . . . And now we go to, AFRICA.

"Democracy Comes to Africa"

The record of England in Africa is neither better nor worse nor different than her record elsewhere, thus the story may be told in a few short sentences. . . . In approximately one hundred years, more than half the continent of Africa has been brought under English control; a control effected and maintained in the good old English fashion, and with or without English formality. According to the English historian, Briffault, uncounted millions were slain in Africa to perfect his country's control, but how many were slain by bullets and how many were slain by Opium, the author fails to state. Indeed the matter is unimportant, for since the millions slain were Negroes, who according to the English Faith, were born to be "hewers of wood and carriers of water" and servants for the most favored nation, we may dismiss England's control of Central and North Africa with a single observation: That in these areas, English democracy and Christianity have proved no more enlightening, than in China and India.

But in South Africa we find a different picture,—for in this area Opium was of no avail, and England had to win control by bullets and bayonets and general slaughter.

About one hundred years ago, a few Dutch and German farmers founded a colony on the southermost tip of Africa; a colony which grew and prospered as year by year more and more Dutch and German families emigrated from their fatherlands. For nearly a hundred years,—these Dutch and German folk lived at peace among themselves and with negro natives of the area, the colony becoming a nation, and in time the Boer Republic of South Africa. Unfortunately, it also became wealthy, partly because its ports became ports of call, for the merchant fleets and all nations, and partly because they possessed gold mines and diamond fields. But despite their rapidly growing wealth, and because of their ancestry, the Boers of South Africa remained strongly Democratic and deeply religious. But again unfortunately, their democracy and religion was not of the variety approved in England, and so about forty years ago, England decided to bring the heathen of the Boer Republic, a true democracy and true faith,—and of course, with never a thought of the gold mines or the diamond fields. The war began and almost ended in defeat for England, but finally by applying her old method of "blockade," the Boers were starved into submission, and the Boer Republic became a British colony. This of course was not "aggression"; it was merely the English way of propagating democracy and Christianity. Thus around the world "The course of Empire takes its way" and by fire and sword, whiskey and Opium, old Mother England has built her Empire. But before we end our journey and return to America, let's stop for a moment at England's door-step where just across the channel from Liverpool, just across the Irish Sea, we find a Nation which even more than America and India, China and Africa, has known the full effect of England's democracy and Christianity.

"DEMOCRACY COMES TO IRELAND"

Though with a culture and aristocracy older than England's, and proud of their history and ancestry, the people of Ireland came under English domination more than 700 years ago. Prior to the English invasion the people of Ireland were anything but war-like, and were not the "fighting Irish" they were later compelled to become in order to survive English tyranny. They had their homes and farms, their fields and streams, their culture and Faith, their laughter and songs, and so were content. But unfortunately they were a bit too prosperous, too independent. Their well kept farms produced luxuriantly and their looms gave forth the finest linen and woolen cloth in Europe. And thus as happened in South Africa, the English saw and desired these products of Irish fields and looms, and so invaded the country by surprise attack. Historically, it was a series of attacks or a series of wars, which the Irish were destined to lose to the superior numbers and equipment of the English armies. Thereafter for more than 700 years the people of Ireland endured a degree of tyranny and suffering such as no other people have known in all history; and such as no other people but the Irish could have endured and still retain their racial and cultural integrity. More poems have been written and more songs have been sung about Ireland than any other country in history; and in proportion to her population, she has given the world more first-rate poets, authors and playwrights than any other land. Which raises a question not easy to answer:—How could this people retain their freshness and vigor, their spontaneity and color, and go on century after century, producing poets and playwrights, authors and artists, when for more than 700 years England had used force and violence, taxation and starvation, to break their courage and still the soul of the nation?" I do not know the answer, unless it be found in what Nietzsche described as "The Will To Live." At any rate, though England conquered Ireland and captured its land, she never conquered the Irish people nor broke their spirit. Partially free for a generation they still fight on, singing the songs of Wolf Tone and Emmett as they look toward the day of complete deliverance.

In the early years of the English occupation, the land of Ireland was parceled out to the English aristocracy and the Army Officers who had aided in the wars of aggression. For a time this seizure of the best land satisfied England, but as the centuries passed with England always at war and with more and more English aristocrats to be provided with a living, more and more Irish land was taken to meet the need. Eventually, when no more desirable land remained, England turned to Taxation, and little Ireland, dug up much of the wealth consumed by English armies and aristocrats. Among these taxes, was a stiff tax for the maintenance of the Established Church of England, whose parishes could be found in every Irish community, and attended only by the English landlords who had stolen their lands from the Irish people. As a result of the general tyranny and oppressive taxation, thousands of Irish churches fell into disrepair and were deserted, while the Irish people slaved and saved to maintain the alien Faith of an alien people.

By 1820, as a result of her wars against Napoleon in France and Spain, the English government and many aristocrats were practically bankrupt, causing England to seize still more land in Ireland and further increase taxation. The result was a fitting climax of her 700 years of tyranny and exploitation, for between 1820 and 1850, the population of Ireland decreased from 8,000,000 to 4,000,000. Though this decrease may be partly explained by migrations to America and other lands, and by the deportation of political prisoners to Australia, the fact remains and will never be forgotten, that during this period more than one million Irish people starved to death; and starved while the English landlords and the English Army of occupation lived in luxury. But why lengthen the story or add new counts to the indictment: Whether in colonial America, or India, in China or Africa, the Boer Republic or Ireland,—the indictment stands, the evidence is irrefutable, and the verdict is clear,—and before the world, England stands convicted of the most consistent and shameless violation and perversion of that Democracy and Christianity which has ever been her boast and her masquerade. When to her violations of the past we add her recent desertions of Poland, Finland, Holland, Belgium and France, the picture is complete; and this is the England that a President of the United States has asked us to support in order to preserve "Democracy and Christianity." If we follow this advice,—

CHAPTER V.

DEMOCRACY LEAVES AMERICA

To those who make it their business to watch the trend of national and international events, it has been evident since 1936 that our Government was steadily and deliberately shifting its interest from national problems, to INTERNATIONAL affairs, and from a HOME to a FOREIGN Policy. During these last four years the urgent problems of Unemployment, Old-Age Pensions, Debt and Taxation, have been shelved as matters of secondary importance, while the Government busied itself with Reciprocal Trade-treaties, Pan American conferences and unasked-for advice to Moscow, Rome and Berlin. . . . That the welfare of the forty million Americans whom the President described as ill-fed, ill-clad and ill-housed, should be deemed of less importance than Reciprocal Trade-treaties; that the problems of the Unemployed and the Farmer should be side-tracked in favor of a Big Navy; that the thousands of hungry and starving people of Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and elsewhere could be forgotten, while we send millions of dollars to Finland, Poland and Norway,—that these things could happen in the Administration of one who promised to do something for the "forgotten man," is a pathetic commentary on the promises of public officials, and a prophecy of the eventual disappearance of what we are pleased to call Democracy. It would be bad enough if this shifting of the Government's interest from HOME to Foreign affairs had merely increased the burdens of those least able to bear them, but this is less than half of the story, for today as a result of the shift and for the first time in our history, the fate or fortune of our entire nation depends upon a FOREIGN POLICY, created and dominated by one man, and for the avowed purpose of preserving the British Empire which the President describes as "our Sister Democracy." The danger involved in such a Foreign Policy can scarcely be exaggerated. From March, 1933, to December, 1936, our Government's only policy was a HOME policy, under which we more than doubled the national income, — reduced unemployment, restored confidence, and seemed well on our way to a balanced budget. That the country approved of this HOME policy, was shown by the overwhelming vote of confidence given the President in the election of November, 1936. . . . But in October, 1937, less than one year later, the entire national picture had changed; the recovery and progress achieved during the President's first administration had totally disappeared, and we were back at the depression low-point of March, 1933. While New Dealers have excused the depression of 1937, by saying, "the President was compelled to surrender to the Wall Street demand that he stop spending money,"—and while it is true that the cessation of "spending" did reduce the purchasing power of those who had been receiving Government aid, we still confront a fact which New Dealers cannot explain, namely, — "that when Government spending was resumed in the spring of 1938, business did not respond, confidence was not restored, and the depression continued to deepen, despite the billions being spent here for munitions by England and France. If spending generated new business and confidence from 1933 to 1936, why did not even more generous spending have the same effect in 1938 and 1939? The answer is obvious,—because, from 1933 to 1936, Government spending was matched by the spending and investment of Big Business, for both the Government and Big Business were operating under a HOME policy, both seeking to expand the HOME market. But later in 1938, when the Government resumed and increased its spending,—Big Business refused to spend, and began to retrench, because Big Business and Big Bankers knew of the secret Foreign Policy of Mr. Roosevelt, and that it would be foolish for them to invest money and expand production when the President was planning to shift American welfare from a HOME policy to a Foreign policy. In other words they would not risk their money on a Policy which rendered American interests subservient to those of England. . . . When we remember that 80% of the goods made and sold in the United States are produced by 200 corporations, which in turn are controlled by 8 big banks in the city of New York, we realize what is meant when we say "the United States is a Big Business Country." It is true that this family of great corporations is in a position to earn billions in profits when America's business and political health are normal; but these great corporations because of their stupendous investments are ALSO in a position to lose billions, when as recently the Washington Government shifts its interest from HOME affairs, which are measurable, to Foreign affairs which are unpredictable, — and it may be written down as definite and final, that America's Big Businessmen will not expand their plants, production, or pay-rolls, so long as the Washington Government persists in its Internationalism and the risking of America's welfare on Foreign events. And if the reader desires confirmation of this fact, he will find it in the Stock-Market crash of May 14th, 1940. . . . And what caused this recent crash? . . . It came because speculators and investors knew that the Government's Foreign policy was predicated on an English-French victory, and that this policy would fail, if that victory did not materialize. On May 14th, they feared that this victory would not materialize and that England would not win, and so they rushed into the Market and dumped their stocks. . . .

We will not censure Big Business for assuming this attitude, but we may and should censure the Roosevelt Administration for deserting the HOME policy under which we had prospered from March, 1933, to December, 1936, and for adopting a Foreign policy destined to drive Big Business into retrenchment, and thus produce a NEW depression. . . . In brief, when the Government shifted its interest from HOME to Foreign affairs, it was to be expected (as Wall Street well knew) that the money which might have gone to the solution of Home problems and for the expansion of the Home market, would now go for the promotion of a Big Navy, Reciprocal Trade Treaties, Loans to Europe and South America,—and for what purpose? For the purpose of promoting a Plan conceived in England and born in America,—the plan to create a

BRITISH-AMERICAN UNION

For the past five years the Author of this booklet by Pen, Platform and Radio has warned our people that by enacting the "Gold Bill" of 1934 (the Bill which demonetized Gold), Congress invited a national disaster similar to that which followed the DEmonetization of Silver in 1873. . . . Among the many mysteries of the Roosevelt Administration none has been so carefully guarded as the secret of this Gold Bill. . . . In 1935, Clarence Darrow said to the Author, — "Watch that Gold Bill,—no one knows who wrote it or who sponsored it or why; but mark my prophecy, when the Truth comes to light this Gold Bill will prove the "KEY" that unlocks all the mysteries of the Roosevelt Administration." . . . Today the Truth has come to light and Mr. Darrow's prophecy has been fulfilled, for we now know that the Gold Bill is and has always been the Soul of the Roosevelt Foreign Policy. . . . Time and again during the past six years Senators and Congressmen have asked the President to explain his Foreign Policy and reveal its objective: These requests have not only been refused, but in accepting renomination by the 1940 Democratic Convention the President defiantly declared, that so long as he was President his Foreign policy would be the Foreign policy of this nation. . . . Could these Senators and Congressmen have known the Truth about the Gold Bill they would have had the KEY to the President's Foreign Policy; and here in brief is the meaning of both:—

In 1932, England helped finance the campaign which elected Hitler to power in Germany, and later in 1933, helped finance the plan for German Re-armament. That in making these financial advances England was violating the terms of the Versailles Treaty, and betraying her former allies France and Belgium, not even England would now deny. Nor can she deny that in aiding German Re-armament she expected Nazi Germany to attack Communist Russia, and had planned that when these her mortal enemies had fought to exhaustion, England would then enter the picture, seize and dominate the whole of Europe. (Was America involved in this plot?) . . . That England was later caught in her own trap when Hitler and Stalin out-smarted her is now a matter of history, and recalls the line of the English poet who said, "The best laid schemes of mice and men gang oft agley." . . . Indeed it was because she knew her plan might go astray that England then planned a way of escape, — the plan by which an American President would sponsor the Gold Bill of 1934. . . . There were two reasons why England desired the enactment of this bill; (1) Because under the terms of the bill the United States would pay $35 an ounce for Gold which England would produce for $17 an ounce: And since we have paid England a net profit of 6 billion dollars on the gold she has sold us since 1934, this phase of the Gold Bill has been a complete success, — for England. (2) England's second reason for enacting the Gold Bill was to so involve the United States in the joint-ownership of most of the world's gold, that the Foreign Policy of the United States would be inseparably joined to the Foreign interests of England. . . . Which is to say, that when the United States had 16 billion dollars invested in Gold which would have little value if England's European plans went astray, it was practically certain (as England realized in 1934) that whether her interests were involved in Europe, South America or the Orient, our heavy investment in Gold would compel us to protect England wherever her interests were endangered. . . . While these two reasons motivated England's sponsorship of Our Gold Bill-Foreign Policy, a third reason appeared in July, 1940, and came as follows:—When after the fall of France and Belgium, England realized she could not long survive the attacks of Germany, she began planning (July, 1940) to remove her Government to Canada. With the English Government then operating from Ottawa and a friendly Government in Washington, England planned to use her gold and our gold, her navy and our navy in a scheme to dominate the world by and through a British-American Union. . . . That both the British and American Governments are now promoting this Union is clear beyond argument; the first step toward world-domination having been taken when our American destroyers were "traded" for British Naval Bases. The entire Plan of this British-American Union would seem to be as follows:—(1) To fortify a ring of Naval Bases completely encircling Central and South America, from which fortified bases the combined Navies of the British-American Union will dominate the East and West Coasts of the Latin Republics. (2) The purpose of this ring of Naval Bases and Battleships is not as the propaganda declares, to keep the Totalitarian nations out of Central and South America, but to keep the Latin Republics from trading with the Totalitarian nations. . . . When we remember that 80% of the exports from these Latin Nations go to Europe and the Orient, and that if deprived of this foreign trade the Latin Republics would soon face bankruptcy and chaos, the real purpose for thus encircling Central and South America becomes apparent. . . . In brief, when the encirclement program has been completed, Central and South America will be completely at the mercy of the British-American Union, and compelled to submit to the demand then made by the Union, which will probably be as follows:—That the Latin Republics grant immediate citizenship to the 10 million Refugees to be sent from England, Europe and Africa. . . . These Refugees supplied with their own funds and with money advanced by the British-American Union, will be distributed throughout the cities of Central and South America, and in due time will become paying customers for the goods of the British-American Union. . . . Which is to say, that much the same plan as was used by England in colonizing Australia will soon be used to colonize Central and South America. . . . That such a plan would prove profitable to its sponsors,—(and the Refugees) there can be little doubt, but there is a very large doubt as to whether Central and South America will surrender as easily as the Sponsors of the plan now imagine. . . . And by this time there may be some doubt in the mind of the Reader that a plan so fantastic could be seriously considered by the Washington-London Axis. While the Author has no "documentary" evidence to prove the existence of the above described plan, he offers in the pages that follow, 13 items of "circumstantial" evidence which the Reader may now consider, as we study the "13" Steps, by which our Government, since 1937, has promoted a British-American Union, by deserting our traditional policy of "no entangling alliances" and by moving steadily and defiantly up the hangman's steps and to the Hangman's noose, —WAR.

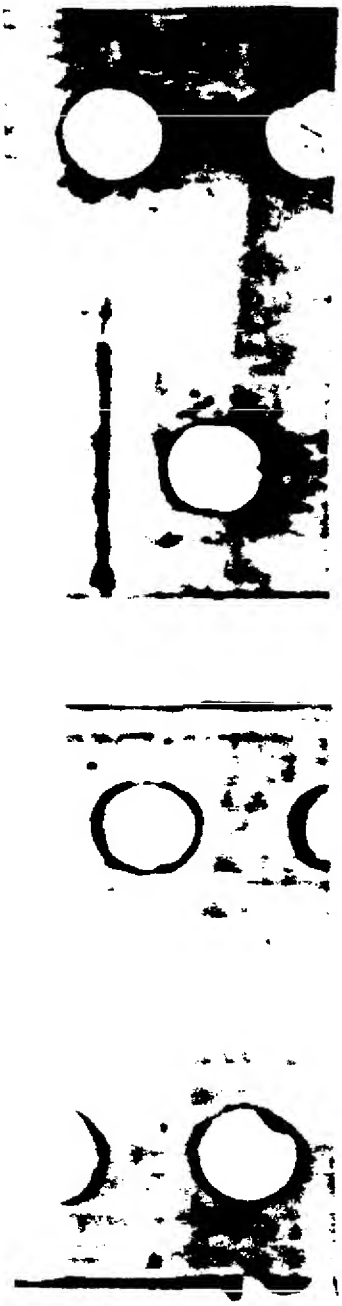
CHAPTER VI.



"THE THIRTEEN STEPS"

STEP 1.

The first step was taken in October, 1937, when in his famous speech at Chicago the President startled the nation and the world by declaring in substance, that "The Democracies (England, France and the United States) must combine to suppress the "Aggressor Nations" (Germany and Italy). The declaration came like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky and should have warned our people, that our Government was shifting its interests from HOME affairs to International affairs. We now realize that the speech was made as a "trial-balloon" to test the drift and force of American sentiment. . . . The effect of the speech was disappointing to the President, both because he received no applause, and because his declaration left our people so stunned and inarticulate that as a test of public opinion his trial-balloon was a flop. . . . For the next four months the Administration was silent as to Foreign Affairs, but when pressure was exerted by foreign influences, the Administration decided to take a second step, but to make it outside our country, and for the purpose of testing public opinion in other countries. And thus we come to the second step.

STEP 2.

In February, 1938, Mr. Harold Ickes, of the President's Cabinet, and surely with the President's approval, broadcast throughout the British Empire a second startling speech: Concerning which two things should be noted. (1) That the speech had been prepared weeks before, prepared and recorded on phonograph records (transcriptions) and the transcriptions shipped to radio stations throughout the British Empire, where on the same day the speech was broadcast to the listening public. (2) This startling speech was NOT broadcast in America, a fact which is highly significant. The reason why the American people were not allowed to hear the speech is clear when we remember what it "promised," which was substantially this,—that if England should again be involved in a European War, America would again come to her rescue as we had done in 1917. Not until two days later did the speech make the head-lines in the American Press, and by this time, it had done its work abroad; spreading consternation throughout Europe, but spreading enthusiasm and encouragement throughout the British Empire. In brief, the purpose of the speech was to assure the people of the Empire that they as well as England could expect American aid in the event of war. But the speech which was a great success in the British Empire, was again a flop in America, where it was immediately denounced in Congress and by the public at large. Don't waste any time asking "by what right did our Government promise our aid to a foreign nation," but ask instead "How did our Government KNOW, in February, 1938, two and one-half years ago, that England in 1940 would be asking American aid?"

STEP 3.

Stunned perhaps, by the indignation aroused by the Ickes speech our Government decided to cut-out speeches for awhile, and further the English cause in a manner less obvious but equally effective.

. . . A few months before, Mexico had expropriated those Mexican oil-wells owned by foreign corporations, seizing them on the theory that these oil-wells had been originally stolen from the people by the bribery of Mexican officials. Despite the effort of the American Press to make it appear that these oil-wells belonged largely to American corporations, the fact is that most of them belong to English corporations. With England preparing for war, and with this Mexican oil a vital necessity it must be recovered at any cost; but how could England recover it? To sue in Mexican courts would be a waste of time; and the Monroe Doctrine would not permit England to recover her oil by force. Then, as always, the kindly American Government solved the problem, by refusing further purchases of Mexican silver. Now, for some years past, the Mexican government had had a hard time paying expenses and had relied upon her sales of silver to the United States, more than upon any other income, to pay her current charges. So, in stopping our purchases of Mexican silver, with the implied promise that the purchases would be resumed if Mexico would release the English oil-wells, Mr. Hull had taken and completed the third step, by which we have moved toward war. And waste no time in regretting that in this attack on our neighboring Democracy we lost much trade, and the confidence of Latin America; remember only that we were fulfilling a provision of our secret foreign policy, in attempting to aid Great Britain.

STEP 4.

Following our attack on the economic and financial structure of Mexico; an attack that had little success there but caused political repercussions here, our Government decided to use Gold rather than force, in its attempt to draw Brazil into the English-American orbit. Thus the Government loaned Brazil (or the politicians of Brazil) Nineteen million dollars, with the promise of fifty-million more, if and when. At the time this step was taken, Germany was not only Brazil's best customer, but much of the products bought from Brazil were materials needed in war, such as cotton, rubber and manganese, and thus our Government had TWO good reasons for breaking up this German-Brazilian trade; we would keep Germany from getting important war-materials, and thus weaken Germany for the coming war with England; and would keep Germany from getting food products, including coffee, and thus contribute to any discontent or fear that might arise in Germany. . . . Due to Brazilian politicians (and our Gold) the step was quite successful and in a few months Brazilian shipments of food and other materials to Germany had DEcreased approximately 60%. Of course this was a hard blow to the German Government and the German people, but eventually the full effect of the blow was evaded, when Germany arranged to buy cotton and coffee, rubber and manganese in other South American countries,—and with the result to be mentioned later in Step 8.

STEP 5.

This Step,—the recall of our Ambassador to Germany, was a serious diplomatic blunder, and for two reasons: (1) It served notice to the whole world that the American Government was NOT neutral, but was co-operating with England; and as a result Germany at once began a series of conferences destined to produce the most startling alliance of modern times, the alliance between Germany and Russia. (2) It caused the people of Germany to rally unanimously and loyally to the support of their government. In brief, the result of this step was the exact reverse of what our President had planned and hoped for. Which introduces a similar step which had very similar consequences.

STEP 6.

As the preceding was a diplomatic blunder, step 6 was a blunder both diplomatic and economic. When the President raised the Tariff rates against Germany to the unheard of height of 25%, he was adding a second panel to the wall of economic-blockade which we noted when Brazil had been bribed to cease her trade with Germany. To thus prevent our importation of German goods was a terrific blow to Germany's economic and financial system; as it was intended to be; in addition it was a threat to the smaller nations of Europe, as to what they could expect if they dared co-operate with Germany. . . . But here again our Government over-reached itself, for instead of decreasing this co-operation, the smaller states of Europe entered into trade agreements with Germany on a more favorable basis than theretofore. Further, and as in the preceding step, this attempt at economic blockade rendered inevitable the Russo-German alliance which came later. As such, this step was a diplomatic blunder.

Here at home the step was an economic blunder, in that it robbed our people, particularly those of the Pacific Coast, of their best foreign market for fruits and farm products, cotton and oil. Nothing that had happened during nine years of depression had caused so much suffering to the people of the West Coast as this raising of tariff rates against Germany. Up to the present moment these western people have not fully realized the cause of their loss of this foreign trade, but they will realize it in time;—but then perhaps, Too Late.

STEP 7.

Aware of a nation-wide anger over the loss of German trade as a result of the rise in tariff rates, something had to be done to quiet this anger, and so the President and Secretary Hull staged their Pan-American Conference at Lima, Peru. . . . Though they hoped through this conference to achieve a series of "defense" alliances with the states of South America, this fact was kept in the dark; and so the conference was advertised as a move to increase trade between the United States and the states of South America. In effect, the Government said to our people, "Don't worry about the trade you have lost with Germany and Central Europe; we will get you even more business in Central and South America." But equally important, the conference was staged to show the nations of Europe that unity of thought and action could be expected between the nations of the Western Hemisphere; in other words to show Europe that Central and South America had become pro-English and pro-United States. But as is now history the conference was a flop from both angles,—it failed to deceive Europe, and it brought no increase in trade to our country. Perhaps, it was the failure of this Lima conference that caused our Government to lose its temper and sense of propriety as was evidenced by our Government's next step.

STEP 8.

This was the step in which Under Secretary of State Mr. Sumner Welles said to the world, in effect,—"that the United States regarded Central and South America as its own trade-province and that all other nations should stay out." This step which was intended seriously, at length resulted humorously, and for two reasons, —(1) The States of Central and South America said to themselves and each other, "by what right does the United States tell foreign nations to keep out of our countries? Doesn't the United States realize that in making this statement she is practically saying to South and Central America that they are no longer free to trade when and where they please? Is this Democracy, or 'economic aggression'?" Well, whatever else they decided, they decided to go on trading where and as they pleased, and still continue to do so. In this respect the Welles' speech was "funny." Later, it was funny for another reason, for it was the same Mr. Welles of whom our government said while he was in Europe, "he took with him no proposals of any kind to any government,"—a statement contradicted a few days after Mr. Welles returned to Washington, when in a world-wide broadcast in French and English, the French Premier, M. Reynaud said, "the proposal brought by Mr. Welles has been approved by the French Government." Which recalls the old couplet

"O what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive."

STEP 9.

Time and again during 1938 and 1939, United States Senators and Congressmen stated on the floor of Congress their belief that our Government had "secret" understandings with England and France. These statements made the head-lines and caused nation-wide concern: So on several occasions our Government assured the nation that no such secret agreements had been made or existed. . . . And then the truth came out. . . . In an airplane accident in Los Angeles a high official of the French air-service was killed, and though every effort was made to keep his identity a secret the effort failed,—and the country knew the Truth. . . . We did have a secret agreement with foreign nations, at least for the purchase of airplanes, and perhaps for other reasons.

STEP 10.

That the matter here described was important to the government's plan to keep its agreements with foreign nations, is clearly evidenced by the fact that our Government called a Special Session of Congress in order to take this step, — The Repeal of the Embargo Act. . . . Of course the "repeal" was sold to the country as a "peace measure," but as many of us knew then, and as everyone knows now, it was a war measure, and was taken to open the way for aiding our "Allies" with Loans and Credits and perhaps, ships and men.

STEP 11.

To those of us who had watched the unfolding of the Plan described in the preceding Ten steps, it was no surprise when the President took the Eleventh step with his startling speech in which he said in effect, "we must give England every aid within our power, short of war." To us, his declaration was convincing evidence that the "die had been cast," and that it was only a question of time until the phrase "Short of War" would be dropped and the phrase "including war" substituted.

STEP 12.

When two years ago our Pacific battle-fleet was shifted to the Atlantic Ocean, the country was encouraged to believe that due to events in Europe, our Government was afraid of an attack upon our eastern ports. Yet, strangely enough a few months later when the war-danger in Europe had increased by a hundred fold, our Government seemed to lose its fear of an attack in the East, and returned the battle-fleet to the Pacific. . . . We didn't know at the time why the fleet had been returned, but knowing our Government, we knew that something was afoot. . . . Thus, when a few months later most of our Pacific Fleet was sent to Honolulu, and part of it to the Philippines, we felt sure of the reason for the shift, and stated our opinion publicly by platform and radio. . . . Later our guess was confirmed, and for months our Navy has been in the far Pacific protecting England's Empire. In other words, our Monroe Doctrine which was formerly restricted to the three-mile limit of the seas surrounding the Western Hemisphere, has now been stretched from the Rhine to Singapore, which is some stretch even for the American Taxpayers who pay for it.

STEP 13.

Should War, whether "declared" or undeclared be the final step leading to a British-American Union and Dictatorship, 180 million Americans may say with the French King, "After us, the Deluge."

* * *

But before closing this chapter of the "13" Steps the Reader is asked to note and remember three things of infinite importance: (1) That in NOT one of these Steps has our American welfare been preeminent but to the contrary, each of these steps has been taken to strengthen England and weaken Germany and Italy. (2) That in following this Gold Bill-Foreign Policy, our people have been robbed of valuable foreign trade,—our federal debt has been increased at least 40% with no profit to our country,—and our Government has offered an unprovoked insult to the millions of German and Italian people who have ever been our most loyal, thrifty and law-abiding citizens. (3) If under the pressure and hysteria of War 30 million citizens of German and Italian descent are to be persecuted by a British-American Dictatorship how long will it be until another 100 million Americans meet the same fate?

These questions recall the prophetic words of John Quincy Adams who in his Plymouth Oration said in 1802,—"Westward the course of Empire takes its way." . . . From Babylon the course of Empire did move westward, — to Greece, then Rome, then Spain and finally to the France of Napoleon: But all these Empires came to the same inevitable end; for as Napoleon said, they were "built by the sword, maintained by the sword and died by the sword." . . . Today, the English Empire, also built and maintained by the sword, confronts its hour of destiny; but this Empire, unlike those that preceded it, seeks escape from "death by the sword" by its plan to remove to Canada, and thus comes true the prophetic words of John Adams, "Westward the course of Empire takes its way"—to America. . . . Which raises a question that the people of the United States should well consider;—"If the England herein described, has been able to wreck at will, our entire economic system while governing from London 3,000 miles away, — what may we expect when this England governs from Ottawa, and with a friendly President in Washington?"

Here the angry Reader may exclaim, "The people of the United States will not permit our nation to be joined with England either in War or a British-American Union." . . . But are you Sure? Have not the preceding pages shown that today "History Repeats Itself" as our present government follows the path of 1917, the Woodrow Wilson path that led to War? And who can say what our American people will do once "History Repeats Itself" in,—

"Propaganda"

That History is repeating itself in Propaganda is evidenced by the fact that we are again being deluged with the same flood of Hypocrisy as that which misled us into war 23 years ago. . . . Again English Lords and Ladies, preachers and politicians, authors and actors, tour America preaching the same false gospel as of 1917. Led by the Duff-Coopers, and by subsidizing our Press and pulpit, platform and Radio, they broadcast the same three doctrines which misled us into the first world war. . . . Again we are told, (1) That the interests of England and America are "identical," and so interwoven that if England suffers, we suffer. This sounded so logical in 1917 that we went to war to protect our "joint" interests, but AFTER the war, we discovered that our interests were NOT identical, for when we asked England to pay her war-debt, she not only refused, but called us "shylocks" for requesting payment. (2) Again we are told that "England is fighting for Democracy, and has ALWAYS fought for democracy, and that therefore we should again join England in defense of our common democracy." . . . But how can we reconcile THIS doctrine with the fact, that of the past 160 years, England has devoted 108 to War, never in defense of Democracy but always in the promotion of slavery, as shown hereinbefore in her treatment of China, India and South Africa, Ireland and our American colonies. . . . And now reconcile this doctrine with the recent declaration of Mr. Winston Churchill who said, "The British Empire was built by the Sword, and will be maintained by the Sword"? . . . Does this sound like Washington or Jefferson or Jackson or Lincoln?

(3) Again we are told "That England fights to preserve the independence of small nations." WHAT independence and WHAT small nations? Not Czechoslovakia,—which England gave Mr. Hitler to strengthen Germany for a war against Russia: Not Spain, which England gave Mussolini despite the English claim that Spain was a democracy: Not Ireland, held in slavery by English landlords for 700 years: Not India, held in slavery for three hundred years: Not Mongolia, given to Japan, in the hope of saving England's investments in Shanghai and Hong Kong: Not Norway, which in time of battle England deserted, leaving the troops of Norway without food or munitions: Not Holland or Belgium or France, which England urged to war and then deserted. . . . WHAT "small" nations has England defended? None as yet, but of course she may defend Australia and the Dutch East Indies, provided the United States Navy does most of the defending. Be this as it may, these three types of English propaganda, aided by a friendly American Government, are again being broadcast throughout our nation with a zeal unequalled even during the first World War. Which raises a final question,—

"Who Pays for This Propaganda, and Why?"

We answer this question by citing documentary evidence, found in our Congressional Record, and here restated as follows:—Seven years ago, one of our bravest Statesmen, an American of and for America, Congressman Tinkham of Massachusetts, delivered in Congress, February 3rd, 1933, one of the greatest speeches ever heard by that body. Parts of that speech are here reproduced. Mr. Tinkham said:—"The time is here to fully disclose to the American people, the iniquitous intrigue against public safety and the sovereignty of the United States. . . . Andrew Carnegie was alien born and alien minded and what his plans and aims were, may be seen from the following statements.... In his book, 'Triumphant Democracy' (Mr. Carnegie said), 'I crave permisssion to address some consideration in support of my belief, that the future is certain to see a reunion (of England and America) and once again a common citizenship. Some day therefore, delegates from the now separated branches will meet in London, and readily agree upon, and then report for approval and verification, a basis for restoration of an indissoluble and indestructible union. Let men say what they will, therefore I say, that as sure as the sun in heaven once shone upon Britain and America united, so surely is it one morning to rise, shine upon, and greet again the reunited state, 'The British-American Union'." (end of quotation from Mr. Carnegie). Congressman Tinkham continues,—"As may be seen from his own statement, Mr. Carnegie never believed in American Independence, American Sovereignty, American Neutrality. When in 1910, Mr. Carnegie determined to enter the American political field and to dictate American Foreign Policy; and established for this purpose a 10 million dollar Endowment, he chose to name it the 'Carnegie Endowment for International Peace,' and not the 'Carnegie Endowment for the Abolition of American Independence.' . . . It can be proven that nearly all the agitation and vast expenditures made for the propaganda for American adherence to the League of Nations, were directed and managed by this organization. . . . It organized and financed International Clubs, it publishes International literature, it imports foreign propaganda speakers and lecturers, and pays American Professors and students liberal amounts for the promotion of the political policies of the Endowment. . . . We, the descendants of old Americans, refuse to submit to these dictators of the Foreign Policy of the United States, whose purpose is to denationalize the United States, to destroy her independence, to involve her in European political affairs by entering first the Court of International Justice of the League of Nations, and to abolish her neutrality. . . . We the descendants of those who established civilization upon this continent; fought the Battle of Bunker Hill; died at Valley Forge, saw the rising of the sun at Yorktown and drew up the Constitution of the United States:—We whose ancestors flew the American flag upon the seven seas in 1812, are ready here and now to fight the battle of the Republic, without quarter and without cease, by all the means that lie within our power, to expose the plotters against American Independence, American Sovereignty, American Neutrality and American safety. . . . A Congressional Investigation of the Carnegie Endowment and its allies, will insure preservation of American Independence and American Neutrality. The Congress of the United States can save the Republic, by this investigation of its enemies within our gates." (end of quotations from speech of Congressman Tinkham).

"Is America a Nation of Sheep?"

Yes, if we act like sheep and follow the "big fellows" over the fence and into the War. And here's the evidence: In 1915, when the English and French armies in the West, were being defeated on every battlefield, and England was fighting with her back to the wall, Winston Churchill said to his fellow-Cabinet-Officers, — "Locked in the deadly struggle with the danger of Russian collapse staring them in the face, and with their very existence at stake, neither Britain nor France was inclined to be particular about the price they would pay for the accession to the alliance, of a new first class power." Reduced to plain English, Mr. Churchill meant that conditions were so desperate they would pay ANY price for another first class ALLY. We do not charge that the "Lusitania" was a part of the price, but it did do much to draw America into the war. But this fact is certain. At about the same time, 1915, Lord Northcliffe, England's great publisher and propagandist, was sent to America, "to find out just what particular type of propaganda Americans would be most likely to swallow." After interviewing numerous Editors, College professors and politicians, Lord Northcliffe returned to London, and said to his friends, two things we should never forget: — "The American people Look alike, Think alike, Dress alike, they are a nation of sheep." Which is to say, we would believe ANY kind of propaganda, including the kinds mentioned in this booklet. Think of it: Lord Northcliffe comes here to get our aid at a time when England was fighting for her life; then goes home and says to his friends, "the Americans are a nation of sheep," they will believe anything. Well, Lord Northcliffe was right 23 years ago; what about today?

The other statement by Lord Northcliffe was equally startling, and will explain why some of our leading citizens are today pro-English and pro-War, said he,—"I left 150 million dollars in America, for propaganda purposes." Think that over. . . . Finally, to show his final contempt for the people of America, Lord Northcliffe said,—"So far as exercising real independence of judgment and action, with respect to the war, I can think of only one people with whom to compare the Americans,—namely, the Chinese." And think that over.

"We Sum-up the Evidence"

And now, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Jury:—The Case of England VS. America is before you: Evidence supported by incontrovertible Facts has been submitted to prove,—That by bribes and favors England has corrupted our Legislative Assemblies: That by conspiracy she has subverted our Chief Magistrates: That by propaganda and intrigue she had deceived and misled the American People to their sorrow: That for 150 years England has used her every power to destroy the Peace and Security of these United States:—And now that the Defendant England can make no defense, the Prosecution rests.

"The Verdict"

Upon YOU, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Jury, now rests the duty of rendering a Verdict,—A Verdict that will seal the Fate or Fortune of these United States for generations to come. . . . And as you now retire to consider your verdict remember this:—The England charged in this Indictment is NOT the rank and file, the Common People of the British Isles,—it is instead an England of Political Parasites and Financial Pirates, who have robbed and betrayed their own people, as they have robbed and plundered the nations of the earth. In brief, that England, that Government which now plans to desert its Land and People, to continue its evil tradition on American soil.

CHAPTER VII.

The Coming
UNITED STATES OF EUROPE

To paraphrase the words of Lincoln,—"In 1781 our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all Americans should enjoy equally, an enduring freedom from economic and political tyranny." Our fathers did achieve INDEPENDENCE, at Yorktown in 1781, but not until 1789, eight years later, were they able to adopt the CONSTITUTION and found the NATION described by Lincoln. . . . Our history-books have carefully omitted the REASON for these eight years of disunity and chaos but the facts are as follows:—Though the English had lost the war at Yorktown they did not lose the hope that eventually the Colonies would be forced to return to the English Crown; for as they well knew, the economic life of the colonies was still dominated by English Aristocrats, Agents and Bankers who would use their every power to prevent the establishment of an Independent nation. . . . For eight years after Yorktown, these English Agents and Bankers said to each of the thirteen colonies, "You dare not join a confederation or Union of States, for if you do, some ONE STATE will dominate the other twelve." To the people of Virginia and other southern colonies they said, "Do you want to be dominated by the large and rich New York colony?" To the people of New York and New England they said, "Do you people who pay wages in commerce and industry want to be dominated by the southern colonies which produce and transport by 'slave labor'?" . . . As a result of these and similar arguments the colonies were kept in chaos and disunity for eight long years; but finally, when disunity threatened them with destruction, they agreed to bury their individual ambitions and unite under one Flag and in one Nation, The United States of America.

At this very moment the 250 million people of the several states of Europe, are seeking a method by which to escape the chaos, poverty and tyranny, which DISunity has forced upon them for many centuries past. . . . But in the Europe of today as in the America of 1781-89, English Agents spread their favorite propaganda, "The Fear of Domination," to each of the small states of Europe they bring the same argument, — "You dare not join a United States of Europe, for if you do, you will be dominated by a rich and powerful Germany." . . . In brief, it is the same old argument England has used for more than two hundred years, to maintain her "Balance of Power" and her control of Europe. . . . But at last there has come to Europe the same certainty of destruction as that which threatened our American colonies in 1789, and the states of Europe now realize that they MUST unite, or die: And UNITE they will; regardless of anything England or the United States of America can do to prevent it. . . .

Suppose Germany does dominate the New Europe for the next 25 or 40 years, what of it? Does not New York City dominate the economic life of the 48 states of Our Union? Are not the daily "Bank clearances" of New York City, greater than all the rest of the Nation's banks combined? Do not the 200 great corporations that dominate the industrial and commercial life of our nation maintain their main offices in New York City? And what of it? Is it not inevitable that some one city or state should serve as the Center of a nation's economic life? Is there any state in America better qualified to be our economic center than the State of New York? Why then should not Germany be the economic center of a New Europe, since for fifty years Germany has been the one country from which all Europe drew its Culture, its medicine, its chemicals and machinery, and has been the one market that could absorb the surplus products of the several states of Europe? Could the small states of Europe have sent their surplus food-products and raw materials to France or England or the United States of America? Of course not; England and France got these products from their colonies, and we had an annual surplus of our own. . . . Only Germany could and did afford a continuing market for these surplus products, and only Germany can continue to afford such a market for the new United States of Europe. . . . Because this Law of Economic Necessity must take its course, the peoples of all Europe desire Economic Union with Germany and will gladly surrender all nationalistic ambitions to this end, rather than longer endure the poverty and chaos which England's Balance-of-Power has forced upon them for more than 200 years. . . . Could the people of Europe vote on the question tomorrow, they would vote unanimously for a United States of Europe with Germany as the economic center, for they not only realize that they prosper only when Germany prospers; they know that in a single generation, with peace throughout Europe and with all tariff-barriers removed, every nation on the Continent would be lifted to the high plane of modernization and prosperity that characterized Germany before the World War.

And what prevents the coming of this United States of Europe? For a time it was prevented by those crooked politicians who later deserted Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Holland, Belgium and France, who fled to England taking with them most of the gold of their respective nations. Now that Carol has fled from Rumania, nothing prevents a European Union, save the still more crooked politicians, who operate in and from England and the United States of America. . . . But for the opposition of these politicians and hypocrites who clothe their opposition with sanctimonious phrases about Democracy and Christianity, the United States of Europe would be functioning smoothly within six months.

And why do these English and American politicians still oppose a European Union? Because they fear they may lose their 20 billions in Gold, should the New Europe adopt some medium of exchange which would not require Gold as a base or foundation. . . . As a matter of fact no such medium of exchange is either planned or desired by Germany or the rest of Europe: They not only desire enough Gold to render their currency stable in all world markets; they would gladly give abundant security if English and American bankers would make such Gold available. . . . In brief, due to the stupidity and greed of English and American bankers, Europe and America confront the greatest crisis in all history:—the Old Balance-of-Power-theory has run its course, and must now give place to International co-operation if either Europe or America shall endure.

Soon, the English Government, together with England's Royalty, nobility, aristocracy and money, will have removed to Canada, and a new Government, favorable to a United States of Europe will arise in England. Whether this happens as a result of a Hitler victory or because of a revolution within England, will make no difference whatever. . . . IT WILL HAPPEN. . . . What THEN should be the attitude of the American people? Where then will our interests lie? We have been told that our interests are identical with those of England,—Will they still be identical when a "new" England has joined the new European Union? Roosevelt and Churchill would say NO.—That America should unite with the "old" England then sojourning in Canada. While this may be the answer of Roosevelt and Churchill, what is the answer of the PEOPLE of America? Where do OUR interests lie?

> "Shall we fight for the 'old' England, or shall we TRADE with the 'new' Europe?"

Can anyone doubt that this United States of Europe would bring us a thousand-fold more profitable trade than we have yet had from that Continent? Can anyone doubt that peaceful commerce between the European Union and the American Union is the hope and dream of every leading statesman on the Continent? Such questions answer themselves, for as Solomon said,—"Wisdom is better than many weapons" and Trade is better than War. But alas and alack the Washington-London Axis does not agree with Solomon nor with the People of America and Europe. And so when English Royalty and Nobility have removed to Canada and the Washington-London Axis has become the British-American Union, we may find ourselves involved in a new World War, in which our Rulers seek to prevent a United States of Europe, and to the sorrow of the United States of America.

Even though we lose our fight to keep America out of the new World War, the Author re-issues this Booklet in the hope,—that AFTER the war ends, the people of America may produce a Government and a Foreign Policy under which we can unitedly support the hopes and plans and dreams of the people of Europe;—that thereafter the United States of America may join a United States of Europe, in bringing peace and prosperity to all the world. . . . But this united effort cannot come, until the people of America see the hopelessness and stupidity of trying to save the "old" England. . . . By the time this booklet reaches your hand, this "old" England may be dead and buried, but even so, let us fervently pray that America may not participate in any resurrection, and that our people may decide wisely this all-important question:—

"SHALL WE FIGHT FOR THE 'OLD' ENGLAND OR SHALL WE TRADE WITH THE 'NEW' EUROPE?"

"Words to the Wise"

TO THE FARMER: For months you have been encouraged to believe that the NEW war would bring you the same prosperity as you enjoyed during the first Word War. You were deceived. England buys her food and farm products from her Colonies; she has to, to get the "boys" of her colonies into the front trenches. Today, your farm products sell for less than a year ago,—while your taxes go higher and higher.

TO BANKERS, BUSINESSMEN AND INVESTORS: In the last seven years, your benevolent government has purchased nearly 10 billion dolars worth of Gold from England. England produced this gold for approximtely $15.00 per ounce, and sold it to Uncle Sam for $35.00 per ounce, making an approximate profit of 6 billion dollars. How will this transaction affect YOUR investments, with 6 billion dollars withdrawn from legitimate trade-channels? In 1935, Clarence Darrow said to the author; "Watch that Gold Bill, no one knows who wrote it or who sponsored it or why; but mark my prophecy when the Truth comes to light, the Gold Bill will prove the 'KEY' that unlocks all the mysteries of the Roosevelt Administration." Mr. Darrow's prophecy DID come true and the Truth did come to light; This Gold Bill is and has ever been the soul of the Roosevelt Foreign Policy: In brief, it was a Bill to give England a 6 billion dollar war-chest, at our expense.

TO CONGRESSMEN: When England now has approximately 6 billion dollars, in cash and securities, on deposit in this country, why should the Johnson Act be repealed, and more taxpayers' money loaned to England?

TO THE AMERICAN CITIZEN: When on May 9th, 1940, Mr. Jerome Frank, Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, reported through the Press, that if we go to war, the Government will raise 20 billion dollars per year for war purposes, over and above and in addition to the other billions we must raise for legitimate purposes, Relief, Public Works and current expenses; and when the Chairman states that this 20 billions will be raised by restricting our purchases of automobiles, furniture, electrical-goods, machinery, office equipment and "consumer-goods",—AND by forcing us to buy Government bonds,—WHERE WILL THE AVERAGE CITIZEN get off?

TO LABOR: When the Chairman states that in the event of war, our Government will adopt the "Keynes Plan," under which Labor will be told, when to work, where to work, and at what Hours and Wage: And when Maj. Gen, George Strong, says to a Congressional Committee, "We cannot get ready for war with a 32 hour week, but must repeal the Wages and Hours law, and set up a 60 hour week, with no time-and-a-half for Overtime: In other words that Labor will be Conscripted.—Where Will Labor Get Off? They Won't!

TO THE PRO-WAR, pro-ENGLISH AMERICANS: If we go to war and thereby double our unpayable debts and treble our then unpayable taxes; resulting in more unemployment, more suffering and sorrow, and THEN, an enraged people start looking for a "goat," and start organizing to punish those who forced us into war, WHERE WILL YOU GET OFF?

TO THE VOTER: From the days of Thomas Jefferson, the theory of "Government by Political Parties" has been permanently established in our country, and for 150 years the Ballot-Box has been the keystone of American Liberty. To Washington and Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, "The Right to Vote" was the one Guard and Bulwark which would guarantee our Constitutional Liberties, and the one Constitutional Right which should ever remain inviolable.

Only twice in 150 years has an effort been made to violate this Right to Vote or abridge the power of the Ballot-Box: Once, during the administration of Woodrow Wilson, when Foreign-language newspapers and Free-speech in any language were suppressed: and recently, when the Roosevelt administration by its indirect censorship of Radio and its threat to suppress Foreign-language newspapers, has made and threatens to make it impossible for millions of our voters to vote INTELLIGENTLY. Nor should we fail to note the fact, that both of these violations of our most sacred right and privilege were made by Democratic Administrations which were openly Pro-English and Pro-War.

The greatest danger now confronting this nation, is NOT "an invasion by some foreign power,"—it is this invasion of our Constitutional Rights of Freedom of Speech, Press and Assembly, through which alone the Voter can vote intelligently.

If the Voter will think this over, he will realize that the Totalitarian Theory of Government,—the ONE PARTY, One Man Theory of Government is already here, threatening to destroy the Republic bequeathed us by Washington and Jefferson. This is the real Trojan Horse, the real Fifth Column, the real "enemy within our Gates."

TO THE POLITICIANS AND PUBLIC OFFICIALS: "Watch Your Step." The American people are going to watch you, from now on.

Dear Fellow Peace Worker:

"History was made and we were there." That was the reaction of all those who came together in answer to the call sent out by "We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America, Inc."

We who labor for peace have felt the need of getting together and talking things over, measuring our strength, counting our resources, hefting our weapons, and setting our course.

We met, clasped hands, looked into each other's eyes, and our courage revived. We talked together, each putting forth the result of individual effort and the accumulation of knowledge gained through experience.

There was such an outpouring of enthusiasm as the result of this contact that when we met in final conference there was a demand that we not part on this high note without definite plan. By unanimous vote the conference was turned into a convention. A tentative plan of federation was drawn up to be submitted to the constituency of each delegate. A copy of this plan accompanies this letter. Your organization is asked to pass on this at once and return to our Headquarters their decision. If they are in accord with this action will they at once fulfill the conditions as set down. The permanent organization must be completed as soon as possible. The election of permanent officers is necessary as We, the Mothers, Mobilize must be relieved of this obligation.

With the report of the Committee on Organization there are also the reports of the Resolution Committee, the Action Committee, and the Minutes of the Meeting.

This meeting was a "mountain top" experience, demonstrating that women love their sons and their country beyond every other consideration. Personal feelings and petty hindrances were put aside, generous gestures of burying differences of opinion were made, for these women are big enough and fine enough to realize that they must stand together, walk together, fight together if they are to win the great battle that is before them. Wounded feelings are not a soldier's equipment and we are militant mothers, consecrated to the service of humanity and Christianity.

We are grateful that you came. We cherish the memory of your presence. We look forward to meeting you again. Meanwhile may we each march separately but rhythmically toward our common goal—"an ever swelling symphony of mother feet".

Yours for Peace and harmony,

Lyrl Clark Van Hyning

REPO OF PROCEEDINGS OF CONFERENCE
Held in Lincoln Room, La Salle Hotel - Sept. 27th and 28th, 1941.

The purpose of this conference as stated in the call sent out was to plan a nationwide Congress or convention of women, the purpose of which was the preservation of peace for this nation and the defense of our Constitution.

The actual program began with registration at the Hotel at 10:30 A.M. The following delegates and representatives were present. (list attached) Informal conferences were held in the assembly room until lunch time.

The first public meeting - the formal opening of the conference began at 2:00 P.M.

Rev. H. G. Brodt, pastor of Peace Memorial Church, gave the invocation.

Greetings and messages from individuals and groups not present, including a number of telegrams, were delivered by Grace Koore.

The opening address "This is Women's Business" was delivered by Lyrl Van Hyning.

At 4:30 the meeting adjourned in order to give the delegates an opportunity to discuss questions designated, covering the following topics:

Neutrality Act.
Impeachment.
Repeal of Lease Lend Bills.
Repeal of Conscription.
No1 A. E. F.
The truth about Jewish influence.
No foreign alliance
Boycotting
Suspension of 1942 elections

Informal discussion brought out many interesting views and a stimulating exchange of ideas.

The second public meeting was held in the large assembly room at 8:00 P.M.

Laura Ingalls, the noted flyer and writer, here from Burbank, California was the principal speaker of the evening. "Mothers Militant" was the title of her address. Extemporaneous talks from the floor followed.

The meeting adjourned with the call set for 9:30 A.M. Sunday morning for all delegates to be in the conference rooms to formulate the program or plan of organization and action for which this conference was called.

Sunday, Sept. 28th, 1941.
The delegates met in the conference rooms at 10:00 A.M. and proceeded to consider the business in hand.

The first consideration was the question of holding a convention as previously planned. It was generally felt that time was too short, and that it was imperative to produce a plan of action immediately, rather than wait on the slower movements of a large convention. Inasmuch as the majority of women's peace groups from different parts of the nation were represented, and many others had signified their intention to abide by whatever program we might formulate, the matter of turning the conference into a convention was put to a vote, and adopted with one dissenting vote.

Proceedings of Conference.

The next consideration was the form of organization which could best effect concerted action of the groups represented.

Beatrice Brown of Women United of New York presented a motion to federate the different groups so that united action could be effected. It was proposed that a committee be formed to bring in a reporton such a proposal, and Miss Brown was asked to head this committee.

Committees were formed for "Resolutions" and "Action"

The conference dissolved into Committees who retired to consider the subjects assigned. Reports were to be presented in the open meeting at 2:30 P.M.

The closing session of the conference began at 2:30 P.M.
Mrs. Van Hyning presided.
FAther Willford of St. Peter's Church prounounced the invocation.

The "Star Spangled Banner was sung and the Pledge of Allegiance recited.

A paper "Government by Law" was read by Mabel Willard.

Father Borgon of St. Andrew's Church delivered a stirring address on the awful stupidity and ghastly cruelty of war. Paraphrasing the saying that "The Bourbons of France never forgot anything and never learned anything", he said the administration in W ashington "forgot everything and learned nothing.

Reports of the Committees were read. Resolutions adopted. Telegrams were sent to Col. Lindbergh, Congressman Sweeney, The Republican National Chairman, Joe. Martin, and the Democratic National Chairman, Edward Flynn and Senator MacKellar.

The Battle Hymn of the Republic was sung by all.

The conference closed.

Resolutions adopted:

We mothers, representing the various mothers organizations throughout this nation, assembled in Chicago this twenty seventh day of September, 1941, herewith reaffirm and declare our belief in the rights and principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, and

Whereas, the Declaration of Independence affirms that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, and

Whereas, the preamble of the Constitution states these principles: "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to OURSELVES AND OUR POSTERITY, do hereby brdain and establish this Constitution, and

Whereas, the Constitution incorporates the principle that, "An act done by an official body in excess of his or its legal competence, is simply void and should be so regarded by even the meanest citizen," and

Whereas, we believe this war to be [redacted], a struggle for power for a few and slavery for the many, and

Whereas, the President and Congress of the United States are elected and paid by the people, and under oath, are bound to represent them, and

Whereas, the President and his administration while proclaiming their intention of exporting the four freedoms to the rest of the world, are consistently denying them and abridging them here in the United States,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, mothers of the United States, in association with the rest of the patriotic citizens, are duty bound to regain our representative form of government provided by the Constitution, and

Be it further resolved that we hereby demand that Congress refuse to repeal the Neutrality Act, that Congress refuse further appropriations under the Lend-Lease Bill,

Congress stop further action on the Search and Seizure Act and any other measure giving dictatorial powers to the President.

That Congress repeal the Unconstitutional, iniquitous Lend-Lease Bill.

That Congress repeal the shameful Conscription Act, or the Selective Service Act, as it was termed to mislead the people.

That Congress banish from our Capitol all British propagandists and foreign agents and the arrogant foreign nobility, who lacking the courage to remain with their people and fight for their liberation, are striving to push their responsibilities upon the American people, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of these resolutions be sent to the Congressmen in the respective districts represented by the delegates to this conference.

Report of Resolutions Committee - Sept. 28th.

We mothers and women of America, assembled here in the City of Chicago, Illinois this 28th day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1941, after due deliberation and discussion, have formally and unanimously adopted the following resolutions: -

Whereas, the Constitution of these United States and the independence of our country have been jeopardized by the overt acts of our Chief Executive, the President of the United States, and

WHEREAS, our American boys have in time of peace, been conscripted and placed in camps unsuited to their safety and welfare, contrary to the Constitution which reserves to the States alone the power of draft and then only for insurrection or invasion, and

Whereas, our friendly relations with other peoples of the world have been unduly jeopardized and the neutrality of these United States, has been unduly destroyed, and

Whereas, our navy, our merchant ships, our airplanes, tanks, guns and other implements of war have been given to a foreign government under the guise of defense, thus leaving our own shores unprotected from an invader and without due process of law, and for other and various breaches of oath of office,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Congress of the United States shall by this demand of the people bring impeachment proceedings against the President of these United States for high crimes and treason, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that American boys shall at once be marshalled out of service and returned peacefully to their homes; that all men now in foreign lands be at once returned to these shores, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we, women and mothers of America, motivated solely by the welfare of our country, do admonish the Congress to proceed at once and without delay to the fulfillment of these resolutions.

Report of Committee on Action.

Members.
Mrs. E. V. Dodge, Chicago, Ill, Chairman.
Laura Ingalls - Burbank, California.
Mrs. Marie Randby - Women United, New York, N. Y.
Mrs. Philip Monreal - United Mothers of America, Cleveland, Ohio.
Mrs. Grace Keefe - We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America, Chicago, Ill,
Mrs. Young - Service Mothers of America, Indianapolis, Ind.

It is generally recognized that the main purpose, the most valuable result to be achieved by this conference is CONCERTED ACTION.

The action involved in this program must, of necessity, take place on two fronts-
THE WASHINGTON FRONT, where thousands possibly, will operate.
THE HOME FRONT, where millions of members are available.

ACTION IN WASHINGTON.

A march on Washington is to be started - 500 women from the East are prepared to be in the Capitol not later than October 10th. This will be the vanguard of a mighty army.

To carry out such an undertaking successfully, headquarters must be established in the Capitol. A line of communication must be established to keep THE HOME FRONT advised. It is proposed to issue a daily bulletin "Light" from the Capitol to be sent to the heads of the various groups.

In Washington activities will include:
Visits to Congressmen, bringing messages from constituents.
Assembly in caucus rooms in Capitol, which can be secured by favorable Congressmen.
Trail Congressmen, wearing black veils, particularly outstanding warmongers, Pepper, Glass, Knox, Stimson, etc.

"Nationwide Prayer in the Public Square"
Assemble on Capitol steps to kneel and pray, led by clergyman.
Simultaneously throughout the nation, the HOME FRONT will join in prayer.
Word will go out to all members to assemble in key places, block traffic if necessary and join in this nationwide prayer.

Headquarters will keep groups advised of possibilities for testifying at Committee hearings. Much valuable work can be done in these hearings.

ACTION ON THE HOME FRONT

First we considered the weapons at our disposal.
We control enormous purchasing power - 85% of the spending done by women.
We have the ballot.
We are informed - knowledge is power.

1st - Purchasing power - this can be withheld or used to advance our cause.
A silent strike is advocated on one day of the week; we will neither buy nor go out of doors on this day, except when absolutely unavoidable; if necessary, we will fast.
A taxpayers' strike - refuse to pay taxes or buy bonds.
Why should we pay the salaries of a Congress that has abdicated, to give financial support to the program of this administration is to endorse their program of exploitation, draining this nation of its wealth and ultimately its manhood. This weapon must be used.

2nd - Political power - the ballot - focus attention on Congressional Districts. We cannot exercise this power immediately but it is a most effective threat. Put pressure on political leaders to take a stand with us or be defeated in April.

3. Knowledge is Power.

"Education and Action" or "Light and Action" was our conference slogan. The lamp and the broom were pictured on our badges, symbolic of Light and Action. The education must be continuously carried on. Study clubs should be encouraged and books giving valuable facts combating current propaganda should be read and discussed at meetings.

Handbills should be distributed at churches, street corners, meetings, and door to door missionary work done.

Many vital facts can be brought to the public attention through these special pieces of literature - facts about our soldiers, conditions in camps, food prices, and exposures of graft and subversive activities. This is a way of reaching many people at little cost as thousands of handbills can be printed at very little cost.

Put pressure on clergymen - our spiritual leaders sometimes need to be informed - send them all the literature you get out.

Telegrams, Letters, TELEPHONE CALLS should be kept pouring into Washington. Long distance calls are most effective.

Picketing is often effective - particularly picketing homes of Congressmen. It is advisable to secure police protection in certain localities.

In order to keep lines of communication open between groups working for peace, we suggest the use of the weekly paper "The Chicago Leader" which now carries news of the activities of We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America. This paper will carry news of any groups who report their activities. Through the office of We, the Mothers, this material will be edited and sent in for weekly publication.

4. Numbers are essential.

Study your state - keep a map whereon you can indicate the progress of the peace groups in your State. Every Congressional District should have some active organization. Endeavor to get the cooperation of these groups in the plan proposed by this convention. Study methods of increasing attendance at your meetings; music is inspiring; peace groups can utilize the power of music as well as the militarists. Try and get local bands to furnish music at your meetings. Encourage the young people to take part in your meetings or form groups of their own.

We cannot emphasize too strongly the absolute necessity of loyal cooperation in this program for CONCERTED ACTION. Through the use of the weapons at our disposal, we can force the will of the people on the recalcitrant servants in Washington. Anyone, who holds that a great people must stand helpless before a handful of public servants, who will submit to having their sons sent to slaughter and their children bound to slavery under a despotic dictatorship, is not worthy the name of American or the heritage of freedom bequeathed her.

THE WOMEN OF AMERICA CAN AND WILL STOP THE WAR MAD MINORITY THAT IS TRYING TO LEAD THIS NATION TO DESTRUCTION!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

STATEMENT BY GENERAL R. E. WOOD, NATIONAL CHAIRMAN OF THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE

The rising tide of opposition to the President's war policy was never more clearly demonstrated than by the vote in the House of Representatives on revision of the Neutrality Law.

In order to prevent a vote of no-confidence, administration leaders were forced to apply every available type of political pressure. The narrow margin by which their so-called victory was achieved is eloquent proof that the American people will not stand for broken pledges and government by subterfuge much longer. Congress has served clear notice that the President must go slowly from now on or suffer repudiation from the people's representatives.

The result was so close that a shift of ten votes would have defeated the bill. A more important fact, however, is that those voting against the bill represented districts embracing approximately 50% of the voters of the United States.

Another significant aspect of the House vote is found in the fact that anti-war sentiment is spreading not only numerically but geographically. For the first time the opposition has made important inroads into the Democratic south, enlisting even such traditional southern Democrats as Hatton Sumners, of Texas, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and Robert L. Doughton, of North Carolina, Chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee. The determination of the American people to stay out of the European war is not restricted to any particular area.

The President's last-minute interference in the House debate by means of his letter to Speaker Rayburn was the greatest confession of weakness he has made to date. The message showed concern only with the reaction in foreign capitals --with never a thought for the American people. This letter was read to the assembled Representatives and was intended for public consumption. However, the American public is also entitled to know what information the President gave to those Democratic Congressmen who were so hurriedly called by the White House before the vote. Did the President tell them facts which he was unwilling to reveal to the other members of the House and to the people? If so, what is the justification for withholding this information from all but a select few.

The President can do much to restore public confidence by revealing the substance of these conversations immediately. The ugly rumor that the purpose was to obtain support by promises of federal jobs and patronage is having an unfortunate effect upon the nation. The mere suggestion that the Administration would use public funds as a means of influencing votes on an issue which involves life or death for millions of Americans is so repugnant that it should be authoritatively denied at once.

On behalf of the America First Committee, which represents the millions of Americans who wish to stay out of this war, I congratulate those Representatives who had the courage to vote in accordance with their conscience and will of the electorate. Their stout refusal to succumb to political pressure and manufactured hysteria gives new hope to the millions who have nothing to offer except their gratitude and their votes.

The America First Committee has worked against heavy odds. With yesterday's vote we attained a new height in solidarity. To that growing group of Congressmen who put their obligation to the people above obligation to anyone else we pledge our unswerving support. And to that dwindling number who persist in putting partisanship and politics above their pledges to the people we say: "We will meet you at the polls."

WE ARE AT OUR GREATEST STRENGTH

Thursday, Nov. 13, 1941 the House of Representatives voted to repeal the Neutrality Act 212 to 194.

It was the greatest division of Congressional opinion on a war involvment question that this country has ever seen.

The switch of ten men would have meant repudiation of the Administration's foreign policy.

Actually the number of Representatives who opposed this war measure was 200. There were 6 paired against the repeal. (The entire vote against the Lend-Lease Bill, including pairs, was 167. We have gained 33 Congressmen.)

For the first time in this fight the solid south has cast votes against a war measure. Votes from eight southern states were recorded.

The Democratic Chairmen of three important House Committees broke with the Administration and voted against repeal. They are Hatton Sumners, Chairman of Judiciary Committee, Robert L. Doughton, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and Joseph Mansfield Chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

According to reliable Washington sources the pressure exerted on wavering Congressmen by the Administration Wednesday night and Thursday was terrific. The statement of Representative Tinkham, Mass., given out before the vote, was typical of the thought and conversation circulating about the Capital: "They may be able to persuade enough members to vote against their honest convictions. They are using every kind of White House pressure. We hear they are promising judgeships, postermastorships and all sorts of things to win votes."

Still by your letters, wires and phone calls 200 men voted with us.

The day proceeding the vote the volume of mail delivered to Congress was reported to be a nine year high. The day of the vote the number of telegrams received smashed all records.

We are now at our greatest strength both among the people and in Congress!

The fight for American freedom has just begun!

TO ALL CHAPTER CHAIRMEN:

Due to the outstanding success of our Columbus Day efforts, when better than 100,000 persons heard speeches espousing the non-intervention cause and millions listened to "our side" through radio broadcasts in strategic centers of the nation, we have decided to launch an "all out" campaign culminating on Armistice Day.

Since on that day bands will be playing, airplanes roaring overhead, etc., it is imperative that we launch a counter offensive — so please — without further delay — apply now to all your local radio stations for time on that date.

Have a member of your committee, some prominent businessman or outstanding member of the clergy make the address. We will send you a suggested speech but act now. Contact your station managers.

In the meantime, appoint a committee and have them contact the secretary of every civic club in your city to arrange for a speech — even if its only 10 minutes — at one of their luncheons between now and November 11th. Issue press releases (to papers and radio stations alike) after each speech is made.

If you encounter too much difficulty let us know and we will do everything to help — But act now — There must not be a second Armistice Day for these United States. # # #

THE AMERICA FIRST COMMITTEE IS BENDING EVERY EFFORT TO MAKE THIS ARMISTICE DAY CONVEY THE POWERFUL MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF AMERICA THAT WE MUST KEEP OUT OF THIS PRESENT EUROPEAN WAR.

What efforts has your chapter made to prepare an Armistice Day program?

Have you arranged for a city rally with a nationally prominent speaker?

Have you arranged district rallies with local speakers?

Have you arranged for radio time on all local stations for non-interventionist speakers in your city? (Prepared Armistice Day radio script will be furnished to chapters.)

Have you contacted your local friendly American Legion Post in order to plan a joint celebration? (Ex. laying of wreath on memorial to war dead plus non-intervention speech.)

Have you prepared your copy for a newspaper advertisement to be run in local papers on Armistice Day?

Have you written your "spot announcement commercials" to be run on local radio stations?

PLEASE KEEP US INFORMED OF YOUR PREPARATIONS FOR THIS DAY. WE WILL BE HAPPY TO ASSIST YOU IN ANY WAY POSSIBLE.

THE FOLLOWING IS A LETTER WE SUGGEST YOU SEND ONLY TO THE LEADING CLERGYMAN IN EACH CHURCH IN YOUR CITY OR DISTRICT. IT IS ONLY CONSISTENT WITH THE DIGNITY OF THESE MEN THAT YOU MAKE INDIVIDUAL COPIES OF THIS LETTER.

Dear Father, Reverend, or Mr._____:

In times of national confusion caused by calamitous social upheavals, it is necessary for the people more than ever to turn to their leaders for guidance. On all sides men in public office have been found guilty of wholesale betrayal of public confidence, of public trust, of public well-being. It is becoming increasingly evident that the people no longer know to whom they can turn. This grave situation occasions an obligation incumbent on the clergy of our nation - the leaders of our spiritual welfare who yet have the full confidence of the people. It is the obligation to speak out and tell the people what they must do in these times of national stress.

The world has gone far from the ideals of Christ. Therein lies the explanation for our present state of universal catastrophe - the greater has been the retreat from Christ, the greater has been the retreat from civilization, from culture, from the principles of goodness, of truth, and of justice. If there is to be salvation of mankind, it will be through a return to the principles of Christianity, and it is your responsibility as leaders to lead us back.

Soon the Christmas season will be here. There will be little significance in this event unless it is given real significance by you, our leaders. As true Americans, needing, begging guidance, we ask you to make a special effort during this time to instruct the people what they must do in these times. Reason has been lost, war hysteria has torn charity from men's hearts - our leaders must keep their heads and their hearts, guide them by example, show them the inherent fallacy of seeking peace by inviting destruction.

There is an old axiom which sums up well what people must be told: "Operatio sequitur esse." Unless we have preserved the principles of Christianity here, the principles of justice and charity, unless we forego destruction and wholesale mass slaughter, then we shall never be able to lead others back to peace, to Democracy, nor to Christ.

A PLATFORM TO WHICH EVERY AMERICAN CAN SUBSCRIBE

The America First Committee was formed by a group of citizens gravely concerned over our country's alarming drift toward war.

Every member shares the firm conviction that the preservation of American liberties and the future of democracy itself depend on keeping out of foreign wars.

NOTE: The principles of the America First Committee heartily approve all possible aid to Britain permitted under the provisions of the Neutrality Act, but we oppose aid beyond the limits of that Act, sometimes miscalled "aid short of war".

HOW TO TELL THE ROPAGANDA

If it makes you so mad you want to get into the war at once—

—just remember that's the very kind of stuff the clever propagandist is trying to send out.

In these critical weeks, the Interventionists lead us step by step closer to actual warfare—with its disastrous consequences, sure to affect the lives of every living American.
